I. Summary:

SB 932 is drafted by the Division of Law Revision and Information of the Office of Legislative Services to adopt the Florida Statutes 2014 and designate the portions thereof that are to constitute the official statutory law of the state. This adoption act amends ss. 11.2421, 11.2422, 11.2424, and 11.2425, Florida Statutes, and provides a 1-year window for finding errors and making changes before statutory material becomes the best evidence of the law.

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: ss. 11.2421, 11.2422, 11.2424, and 11.2425.

II. Present Situation:

The 2014 adoption act will adopt all statutes material passed through the 2013 Regular Session and printed in the 2014 edition. Material passed in a session occurring since publication of the 2013 edition must wait 1 more year before being adopted, and the session law form of that material will remain the best evidence of the law for that material.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The adoption act amends ss. 11.2421, 11.2422, 11.2424, and 11.2425, Florida Statutes, and provides a 1-year window for finding errors and making changes before statutory material becomes the best evidence of the law. The 2014 adoption act adopts as the official statute law of the state those portions of the 2014 Florida Statutes edition that are carried forward unchanged from the edition published 1 year previously (2013). Portions carried forward from the 2013 edition are the official law of the state and, therefore, constitute the best evidence of the law. The portions resulting from sessions occurring subsequent to the publication of the 2013 edition are prima facie evidence of the law in all courts of the state; for this material, the enrolled acts stand as the best evidence of the law. Any "statute of a general and permanent nature" enacted before publication of the 2013 Florida Statutes that does not appear in the 2014 edition, or is not recognized and continued in force by reference therein or in s. 11.2423 or s. 11.2424, Florida

Statutes, stands repealed, both by the logic of the system and by operation of s. 11.2422, Florida Statutes. See National Bank v. Williams, 28 Fla. 305, 20 So. 931 (1896).
