I. Summary:

SM 1422 urges Congress and the President of the United States to pass and enact new economic sanctions against Iran should that nation be found to be in violation of the Joint Plan of Action (JPOA) or fail to reach an acceptable agreement by the dates set forth in the November 2014 extension of the JPOA.

II. Present Situation:

In a 2006 resolution, the United Nations Security Council<sup>1</sup> (Security Council) noted with serious concern that Iran's nuclear program could have a military nuclear dimension.<sup>2</sup> The Security Council also noted that the International Atomic Energy Agency<sup>3</sup> (IAEA) has been unable to conclude that there are no undeclared nuclear materials or activities in Iran.<sup>4</sup> Since then the Security Council has published eight additional resolutions determining that Iran's proliferation of weapons of mass destruction, as well as their means of delivery, continued to constitute a threat to international peace and security.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The United Nations Security Council has primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security. The council also takes the lead in determining the existence of a threat to the peace or act of aggression. The Security Council is composed of five permanent members (China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States) and 10 non-permanent members elected for two-year terms by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

In an effort to perpetuate diplomatic negotiations, the five permanent members of the Security Council (known as the P5) in partnership with Germany convened to negotiate an agreement with Iran to prevent the development of nuclear weapons in Iran. An initial agreement was reached in November 2013 that outlined measures to be taken by all parties within a six month time frame. This initial agreement called for the P5+1<sup>6</sup> and Iran to also finalize within six months a mutually-agreed upon long-term comprehensive solution that would ensure Iran's nuclear program will be exclusively peaceful.<sup>7</sup>

Joint Plan of Action

On November 24, 2013, the P5+1 and Iran formalized their agreement by signing the Joint Plan of Action (JPOA). The JPOA is an interim agreement and is the first step towards a long-term solution to stop the advance of Iran's nuclear program. Both the P5+1 and Iran are held to a series of voluntary measures for a duration of six months with the option to extend the JPOA, if necessary.<sup>8</sup> The JPOA has since been renewed and extended twice, first on July 19, 2014, and again on November 24, 2014.<sup>9</sup>

Voluntary Measures Committed to by Iran

As part of the JPOA, Iran agreed to implement the following measures beginning January 20, 2014:<sup>10</sup>

- Halt production of enriched uranium<sup>11</sup> and disable the centrifuges<sup>12</sup> used to produce the material;
- Dilute and reduce the enriched uranium stockpile;
- Limit safeguarded research and development;
- Provide access for the International Atomic Energy Association (IAEA) to verify compliance on the technical understandings of the JPOA;
- Be transparent about its nuclear program by allowing access to its facilities, equipment, surveillance information, and other infrastructure; and
- Permit IAEA inspectors to conduct scheduled and unannounced inspections.<sup>13</sup>

<sup>6</sup> Germany is recognized as an additional partner (“+1”) for the P5 in diplomatic negotiations with Iran.

Voluntary Measures Committed to by the P5+1

In order to continue negotiations, the P5+1 agreed to temporarily suspend the following sanctions involving Iran's:

- Purchase and sale of gold and other precious metals;
- Export of petrochemical products;
- Automotive industry; and
- Certain associated services regarding each of the foregoing.<sup>14</sup>

Additionally, the P5+1 committed to:

- Establish financial channels to facilitate Iran's import of certain humanitarian goods to Iran;
- Payment of medical expenses incurred by Iranians abroad;
- Payment of Iran's UN obligations;
- Payment of $400 million in governmental tuition assistance for Iranian students studying abroad;
- License certain transactions related to the safety of Iran's civil aviation industry;
- Pause efforts to further reduce Iran's crude oil exports; and
- Enable Iran to access $4.2 billion in Restricted Funds.<sup>15</sup>

These voluntary measures may be revoked at any time should Iran fail to comply with the JPOA.<sup>16</sup>

International Atomic Energy Association

The International Atomic Energy Association (IAEA) is designated by the United Nations' Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (NPT)<sup>17</sup> as the authority responsible for the implementation of a safeguards system intended to prevent the diversion of nuclear material for weapons use.<sup>18</sup> The IAEA has been the authority on nuclear inspections since the inception of the NPT in 1968.

<sup>15</sup> The term "Restricted Funds" refers to: any existing and future revenues from the sale of Iranian petroleum or petroleum products, wherever they may be held, and any Central Bank of Iran (CBI) funds, with certain exceptions for non-petroleum CBI funds held at a foreign country's central bank.

<sup>17</sup> The Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons (NPT) is a binding, multilateral treaty to the goal of preventing the spread of nuclear weapons and weapons technology, to promote cooperation in the peaceful uses of nuclear energy and to achieve nuclear disarmament and general and complete disarmament. More countries have ratified the NPT than any other arms limitation and disarmament agreement. See <https://www.iaea.org/publications/documents/treaties/npt> (last visited March 19, 2015).

As member states of the United Nations, the P5+1 and Iran delegated the IAEA as the investigative authority for determining Iran's compliance with the provisions of the JPOA. The IAEA is tasked to verify that Iran:

- Is not enriching uranium in centrifuges at its major nuclear facilities;
- Limits its centrifuge production to those needed to replace damaged machines, so Iran cannot stockpile centrifuges;
- Does not construct additional enrichment facilities;
- Does not go beyond its current enrichment research and development practices;
- Does not operate, produce or test fuel, install additional components, or transfer material to the Arak<sup>19</sup> reactor; and
- Does not construct a facility capable of reprocessing.<sup>20, 21</sup>

The IAEA remains concerned about the possible existence in Iran of undisclosed nuclear-related activities involving military-related organizations, including activities related to the development of a nuclear payload for a missile.<sup>22</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The memorial urges the Congress and the President of the United States to pass and enact new economic sanctions against Iran should that nation be found to be in violation of the Joint Plan of Action (JPOA) or fail to reach an acceptable agreement by the dates set forth in the November 2014 extension of the JPOA.

Copies of this memorial will be dispatched to the President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Florida delegation to the United States Congress.
