COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 596 increases the number of factory sealed containers of distilled spirits that a craft distillery may sell directly to consumers by providing that a craft distillery may sell no more than two of each branded product or up to four individual containers, whichever is greater, in face-to-face transactions with a consumer per calendar year. For example, if a craft distillery has five different branded products that are distilled on the premises, then that distillery could sell a maximum of ten factory-sealed containers (two containers for each branded product) to each customer per calendar year. However, if the craft distillery has one branded product, the craft distillery could sell four containers to each customer per calendar year. Under current law the distillery is limited to the sale of no more than two containers of distilled spirits to each customer per calendar year.

The bill defines the term branded product to mean the distilled spirit product manufactured on site, which requires a federal certificate and label approval by the Federal Alcohol Administrative Act or regulations.

The bill also limits direct-to-consumer sales of distilled spirits to craft distilleries. However, a licensed distillery that produces more than 75,000 gallons of distilled spirits on its licensed premises per calendar year could not sell distilled spirits in its souvenir gift shop for off premises consumption.

The bill provides that craft distillery may only sell and deliver distilled spirits to consumers within the state in a face-to-face transaction at the distillery property.

The bill provides that a craft distillery may be affiliated with another distillery that produces 75,000 or fewer gallons on each of its premises in this state or in another state, territory, or country.

II. Present Situation:

In Florida, alcoholic beverages are regulated by the Beverage Law.¹ These provisions regulate the manufacture, distribution, and sale of wine, beer, and liquor through manufacturers, distributors, and vendors.² The Division of Alcoholic Beverage and Tobacco (division) within the Department of Business and Professional Regulation is the agency authorized to administer and enforce the Beverage Law.³

Section 565.01, F.S., defines the terms “liquor,” “distilled spirits,” “spirituous liquors,” “spirituous beverages,” or “distilled spirituous liquors” to mean:

that substance known as ethyl alcohol, ethanol, or spirits of wine in any form, including all dilutions and mixtures thereof from whatever source or by whatever process produced.

Section 565.03(1)(b), F.S., defines the term “distillery” to mean a manufacturer of distilled spirits. Section 565.03(1)(a), F.S., defines the term “craft distillery” to mean a licensed distillery that produces 75,000 or fewer gallons of distilled spirits per calendar year on its premises. The distillery must have also notified the division in writing of its status as a craft distillery.

Distilleries licensed to distill, rectify,⁴ or blend distilled spirits pay a state license tax of $4,000 for each plant or branch operating in the state.⁵ Licensed liquor manufacturers may also rectify and blend spirituous liquors in addition to distilling liquors without paying an additional license tax.⁶

According to the Florida Craft Distillers Guild, there are 15 distilleries that are located in Florida and are members of the guild.⁷

The labels of distilled spirits containers must be approved by the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau⁸ within the U.S. Department of Treasury pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act.⁹

Three Tier System

In the United States, the regulation of alcohol, since the repeal of Prohibition, has traditionally been through what is termed the “three-tier system.” The system requires that the manufacture, distribution, and sale of alcoholic beverages be separated. Retailers (vendors) must buy their products from distributors who in turn buy their products from the manufacturers. Manufacturers cannot sell directly to retailers or directly to consumers. The system is deeply rooted in the perceived evils of the “tied house” in which a bar is owned or operated by a manufacturer or the manufacturer exercises undue influence over the retail vendor.¹⁰

In the three-tier system, each license classification has clearly delineated functions. For example, in Florida, distributors are licensed to sell and distribute alcoholic beverages at wholesale to persons who are licensed to sell alcoholic beverages at retail.¹¹ Only licensed vendors are permitted to sell alcoholic beverages directly to consumers at retail.¹² Vendors are limited to purchasing their alcoholic beverage inventory from licensed distributors, manufacturers, or bottlers.¹³ Licensed manufacturers, distributors, and registered exporters are prohibited from being licensed as vendors.¹⁴ In addition to being prohibited from having an interest in a vendor, manufacturers are also prohibited from distributing directly to a vendor other than to a vendor licensed under s. 561.221(2), F.S.¹⁵ However, a manufacturer of wine may be licensed as a distributor.¹⁶

There are some exceptions to this regulatory system. The exceptions include allowing beer brew pubs to manufacture malt beverages and to sell them to consumers,¹⁷ allowing individuals to bring small quantities of alcohol back from trips out-of-state,¹⁸ and allowing in-state wineries to manufacture and sell directly to consumers.¹⁹

Vendor Licenses

Section 561.20, F.S., limits the number of alcoholic beverage licenses that permit the sale of liquor along with beer and wine that may be issued per county. The number of licenses is limited to one license per 7,500 residents within the county. These limited alcoholic beverage licenses are known as “quota” licenses. New quota licenses are created and issued when there is an increase in the population of a county. The licenses can also be issued when a county initially changes from a county which does not permit the sale of intoxicating liquors to one that does permit their sale. The quota license is the only type of alcoholic beverage license that is limited in number.

Section 565.02(1)(a)-(f), F.S., prescribes the license taxes for vendors who are permitted to sell any alcoholic beverages, including beer, wine, and distilled spirits, regardless of alcoholic content.

Exception for Vender-Licensed Distilleries

Section 565.03(2), F.S., permits craft distilleries and all other licensed distilleries to sell the distilled spirits it produces on their manufacturing premises to consumers for off premises consumption. The sales must occur at the distillery’s souvenir gift shop that is located on private property contiguous to the licensed distillery premises, and included on the sketch submitted with the license application.²⁰ The division must approve any subsequent revisions to a craft distillery’s sketch to verify that the retail location operated by the craft distillery is “owned or leased by the craft distillery and on property contiguous to the craft distillery’s production building.”

Section 565.03(2)(c), F.S., prohibits craft distilleries and licensed distilleries from selling distilled spirits except in face-to-face transactions with consumers making the purchases for personal use and not for resale. The distillery may sell no more than two individual containers to the consumer. The container must comply with the container limits in s. 565.10, F.S.²¹ The distillery must submit any beverage excise taxes under the Beverage Law in its monthly report to the division with any tax payments due to the state.²²

Section 565.03(2)(c)1., F.S., requires the craft distillery to report to the division within 5 business days after it has reached the 75,000 gallon production limitation. The craft distillery must cease making sales to consumers on the day after it reaches the production limit.

Section 565.03(2)(c)2., F.S., provides that a craft distillery may ship, arrange to ship, or deliver distilled spirits to manufacturers of distilled spirits, wholesale distributors, bonded warehouses, and exporters.

²⁰ See s. 561.01(11), F.S., which defines the term “licensed premises” to include the area embraced within the sketch that appears on, or is attached to, the application for the license.

²¹ Section 565.10, F.S, prohibits the sale and distribution of distilled spirits in any size container in excess of 1.75 liters or 59.18 ounces.

²² Section 565.03(5), F.S.

Section 565.03(2)(c)3., F.S., prohibits the transfer of a craft distillery license, including the transfer of an ownership interest in the license, to any individual or entity with a direct or indirect interest in another distillery.

Section 565.03(2)(c)4., F.S., permits a craft distillery to have its ownership interest affiliated with another distiller if the other distiller produces 75,000 gallons or fewer of distilled spirits on its licensed premises per calendar year.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 565.03(1)(a), F.S., to define the term branded product to mean any distilled spirit product manufactured on site, which requires a federal certificate and label approval by the Federal Alcohol Administrative Act or regulations.

The bill amends s. 565.03(2)(c), F.S., to increase the number of factory sealed containers of distilled spirits that a craft distillery may sell directly to consumers by providing that a craft distillery may sell no more than two of each branded product or up to four individual containers, whichever is greater, in face-to-face transactions with a consumer per calendar year. For example, if a craft distillery has five different branded products that are distilled on the premises, then that distillery could sell a maximum of ten factory-sealed containers (two containers for each branded product) to each customer per calendar year. Under current law the distillery is limited to the sale of no more than two containers of distilled spirits per calendar year.

The bill also amends s. 565.03(2)(c), F.S., to limit direct-to-consumer sales of distilled spirits to craft distilleries. However, a licensed distillery that produces more than 75,000 gallons of distilled spirits on its licensed premises per calendar year could not sell distilled spirits in its souvenir gift shop for off premises consumption.

The bill amends s. 565.03(2)(c)2., F.S., to provide that craft distilleries may only sell and deliver distilled spirits to consumers within the state in a face-to-face transaction at the distillery property.

The bill amends s. 565.03(2)(c)4., F.S., to provide that a craft distillery may be affiliated with another distillery that produces 75,000 gallons or fewer on each of its premises in this state or in another state, territory, or country.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2015.
