SUMMARY ANALYSIS

HB 5A passed the House on June 19, 2015 as SB 2512-A.

The Florida Retirement System (FRS) is a multi-employer, contributory plan that provides retirement benefits to 622,089 active members and 363,034 retired members and beneficiaries, and 38,058 members of the Deferred Retirement Option Program. It is the primary retirement plan for employees of the state and county government agencies, district school boards, state colleges and universities. The FRS also serves as the retirement plan for employees of cities and independent special districts that have made an irrevocable election to participate.

Members of the FRS have two plan options available for participation: the defined benefit plan, also known as the pension plan; and the defined contribution plan, also known as the investment plan.

Section 121.031, F.S., requires that an annual actuarial study of the FRS be provided by the administrator of the system (the Department of Management Services) and for the results to be reported to the Legislature by December 31 of each year. Thereafter, the Legislature uses the report in establishing the uniform contribution rates in law during the next regular legislative session.

Section 112.363 F.S., provides for a retiree health insurance subsidy (HIS). The subsidy is paid to eligible retirees of the FRS. The amount of monthly subsidy is $5 for each year of service in the FRS, not to exceed $150. The subsidy is funded through FRS employer contributions. The current contribution rate is 1.26 percent of member salaries. Under the current contribution rate, the fund is expected to deplete its reserves by August 2015.

The bill revises s. 121.71, F.S. to adjust the employer contribution rates for the FRS based on the 2014 Actuarial Valuation, and revises applicable sections of law to increase the employer contribution rate for the HIS from 1.26 to 1.66 percent. The bill provides that a proper and legitimate state purpose is served, which includes providing benefits that are managed, administered, and funded in a sound actuarially manner.

The bill has a significant negative fiscal impact to the state and local governments: $15.4 million in General Revenue (state, district school boards, state colleges and universities) and $4.7 million in trust funds; $68.3 million to local governments (county agencies, certain municipalities and special districts.)

The bill was approved by the Governor on June 23, 2015, ch. 2015-227, L.O.F., and will become effective on July 1, 2015.

A. EFFECT OF CHANGES:

Background

Florida Retirement System

The Florida Retirement System (FRS) was established in 1970 when the Legislature consolidated the Teachers' Retirement System, the State and County Officers and Employees' Retirement System, and the Highway Patrol Pension Fund. In 1972, the Judicial Retirement System was consolidated into the pension plan. Prior to 1975, members of the FRS were required to make employee contributions. Regular Class members contributed four percent of their salary while Special Risk Class Members contributed six percent. The 2011 Legislature reinstated employee contributions whereby all Class members contribute three percent of their salary.

The Florida Retirement System Act¹ governs the FRS, which is a multi-employer, contributory plan that provides retirement income benefits to 622,089 active members, 363,034 retirees and 38,058 members of the Deferred Optional Retirement System (DROP)². It is the primary retirement plan for employees of the state and county government agencies, district school boards, community colleges and state universities. The FRS also serves as the retirement plan for 186 municipalities and 262 independent special districts that have irrevocably elected to participate³.

The membership of the FRS is divided into five membership classes⁴:

- Regular Class⁵: 543,395 members (87.36 percent)
- Special Risk Class⁶: 68,593 members (11.03 percent)
- Special Risk Administrative Support⁷: 58 members (0.01 percent)
- Elected Officer Class⁸: 2,187 members (0.35 percent)
- Senior Management Services Class⁹: 7,793 members (1.25 percent)

Each class is funded separately based upon the costs attributable to the members of the class.

Members of the FRS have two plan options available for participation:

- The defined benefit plan, also known as the pension plan.
- The defined contribution plan, also known as the investment plan.

Investment Plan

In 2000, the Legislature created the Public Employee Optional Retirement Program (Investment Plan), a defined contribution plan offered to eligible employees as an alternative to the FRS defined benefit plan. The investment plan was available for participation as of July 1, 2002.¹⁰ Benefits under the investment plan accrue in individual member accounts funded by employer and employee contributions. Investments are employee-directed into State Board of Administration (SBA) approved investment providers. Members of the investment plan contribute three percent of their salaries to their accounts¹¹. The remainder of the allocation comes from employer contributions.

⁸ Members include holders of specified elected offices in either state or local government.

⁹ Members are high level executive or legal staff as provided by law.

¹⁰ Part II, chapter 121, F.S.

¹¹ Section 121.71, F.S.

A member vests in the investment plan after one-year with an FRS employer. Vested benefits are payable upon termination of employment or death as a lump-sum distribution, roll-over distribution, or periodic distribution. The investment plan also provides disability benefits, which is essentially an option to collect disability benefits as provided in the defined benefit plan.

The SBA is primarily responsible for administering the investment plan.¹² The SBA is comprised of the Governor as chair, the Chief Financial Officer and the Attorney General.

Pension Plan (Defined Benefit Plan)

The pension plan is administered by the secretary of the Department of Management Services through the Division of Retirement. Investment management of retirement funds is handled by the State Board of Administration.

Participants of the pension plan are required to contribute three percent of their salary.¹³

Contribution Rates

FRS employers are responsible for contributing a percentage of a member's monthly salary to the FRS Contributions Clearing Account Trust Fund in the Division of Retirement to fund the program. The employer contribution is a "blended contribution rate" set by statute¹⁴, as amended by the Legislature based on an annual actuarial valuation. The rate consists of a blending of the actuarially determined contribution rates necessary to fund the pension plan's normal cost and the allocations being made into investment plan accounts. The purpose of the blending is to establish the same employer contribution rates regardless of whether an employee participates in the pension plan or the investment plan.

Retiree Health Insurance Subsidy (HIS)

Section 112.363, Florida Statutes, provides for a retiree health insurance subsidy. The subsidy is paid from the Retiree Health Insurance Subsidy Trust Fund to eligible retirees in the FRS. The amount of the payment is $5 a month for each year of service in the FRS, not less than $30 a month or more than $150.

The subsidy is funded through contributions from participating FRS employers. The current contribution rate is 1.26 percent of employees' salaries. The contribution is paid to the Division for deposit in the Retiree Health Insurance Trust Fund. The program has been historically funded on a pay-as-you go basis with minimal reserves being maintained. Sections 121.052, 121.055 and 121.071, F.S, also set forth the employer contributions for the HIS.

Information provided by the Division of Retirement to staff¹⁵ indicated that under current administration and law is projected to deplete its reserves by August 2015. After that date, the trust fund may not have sufficient funds to pay the full monthly benefit to retirees.

Effects of the Bill

The bill establishes the employer contribution rates for the normal costs and the unfunded actuarial liability (UAL) of the FRS, as determined by the July 1, 2014 Annual Valuation, necessary to adequately fund the program. The normal and UAL rates were 'blended' with the investment plan allocations and salaries to establish employer contribution rates. The proposed employer contributions for fiscal years 2015-2016, compared to rates currently in effect, are contained in the table below.

DROP	4.30%	4.10%	6.72%	7.12%	11.02%	11.22%

In addition, the bill increases the employer-paid contributions for the HIS from 1.26 to 1.66 percent of salaries. This increase will be sufficient to appropriately fund the HIS in an ongoing manner.
