6 However, a local government may approve a change to a
7 development of regional impact provided that the approved change
8 has the effect of reducing building height, density, or 9 intensity of the originally approved development; is a change
10 that is contemplated by the development order; or clarifies

11 existing development order language. Such approval shall not 12 affect rights, as protected by s. 163.3167(5), to complete the 13 development with the approved change. This provision is also not 14 intended to limit the scope of changes which may be recognized
15 as minor or not otherwise deviating from the general development
16 scheme as authorized by the development of regional impact 17 development order. The approved revised development order shall 18 retain the same protection as afforded by s. 163.3167(5) to the 19 original development order.
