COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1216 creates the “Department of Economic Opportunity Cybercrime Prevention Act.” The bill provides the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles the authority to issue reproductions of images and signatures from driver’s licenses to the Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) for the purpose of facilitating the detection of fraud and identity theft in reemployment assistance claims.

The bill increases the penalties required to be imposed when an individual is found to have knowingly made a false or fraudulent representation in order to receive reemployment assistance benefits the individual would not otherwise be entitled to. Specifically, if the representation is made in furtherance of any state or federal felony crime relating to identity theft or inappropriate use of personally identifying information, the individual will be disqualified as follows:

- 5 years from the date of the conviction of the individual for such state or federal felony crime and until any amount received due to the representation is repaid; and
- 10 years from the date of the second or subsequent conviction of the individual for such state or federal felony crime and until any amount received due to the representation is repaid.

The bill amends the definition of “racketeering activity” to include false or fraudulent representations made in violation of the Reemployment Assistance Program.

The bill takes effect upon becoming law.

II. Present Situation:

Reemployment Assistance Program

The federal Unemployment Insurance Program provides unemployment benefits to eligible workers who are unemployed through no fault of their own (as determined under state law) and who meet the requirements of state law.¹ The program is administered as a partnership of the federal government and the states.²

Florida's unemployment insurance program was created by the Legislature in 1937.³ The program was rebranded as the "Reemployment Assistance Program" in 2012.⁴ The Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) is responsible for administering Florida's reemployment assistance laws, primarily through its Division for Workforce Services.⁵

An unemployed individual must apply to the DEO for benefits using Florida's Online Reemployment Assistance System.⁶ To receive benefits, a claimant must meet certain monetary and nonmonetary eligibility requirements and provide proof of identification.⁷ Key eligibility requirements involve a claimant's earnings during a certain period of time, the manner in which the claimant became unemployed, and the claimant's efforts to find new employment. A notice of claim is sent to a claimant's most recent employer and all employers whose employment records are liable for benefits.⁸

Fraudulent Claims

In 2014, the DEO implemented the Fraud Initiative and Rules Rating Engine (FIRRE) program in order to detect fraud and identity theft within public-assistance programs.⁹ In the first year of implementation, the FIRRE program detected over 70,000 fraudulent claims for reemployment assistance benefits.¹⁰

In order to identify falsely filed claims, the FIRRE program cross matches identification information with external entities, including the claimant's social security and driver's license information.¹¹ To cross match driver's license information, the DEO has been provided limited access to the information database used by the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (HSMV).¹² The DEO's current access does not provide digital images contained in

Penalties and Disqualification

Under current law, any person who establishes a fictitious employing unit¹⁵ by submitting fraudulent documents through a computer system, by alteration or destruction of computer files, or by theft of financial instruments, data, and other assets for the purpose of enabling any person to receive benefits under the reemployment program commits a felony of the third degree.¹⁶ Establishment of a fictitious employing unit in violation of the Reemployment Assistance Program is considered racketeering activity under Florida law.¹⁷

Any person who makes false or fraudulent representations for the purpose of obtaining benefits contrary to the Reemployment Assistance Program commits a felony of the third degree.¹⁸ Each false or fraudulent representation constitutes a separate offense.¹⁹ A person who makes such representation is subject to a disqualification of benefits, beginning with the week in which the false or fraudulent representation is made.²⁰ The disqualification may be imposed for a period of up to 1 year following the date the DEO discovers the false or fraudulent representation and until any overpayment of benefits resulting from such representation is repaid in full.²¹ The duration of disqualification for false or fraudulent representations in other states is comparable to Florida's current penalty, as the disqualification time period in most states is 52 weeks.²²

A disqualification may be appealed in the same manner as appeals of determinations and redeterminations.²³ However, a conviction of an offense prohibited by s. 443.071, F.S., is conclusive upon the appeals referee and the commission of the making of the false or fraudulent statement.²⁴

¹⁴ Section 322.142(4), F.S., provides access to the digital images contained in DAVID to the Department of Business and Professional Regulation, the Department of Health, the Department of State, the Department of Children and Family Services, the Agency for Health Care Administration, and the Department of Financial Services.

¹⁵ An employing unit means "an individual or type of organization, including a partnership, limited liability company, association, trust, estate, joint-stock company, insurance company, or corporation, whether domestic or foreign; the receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, trustee or successor of any of the foregoing; or the legal representative of a deceased person; which has or had in its employ one or more individuals performing services for it within this state." Recovery for Overpayment

Any person who receives benefits by fraud, to which he or she is not entitled, is liable for repaying those benefits to the DEO.²⁵ Florida law also allows the DEO to impose a penalty equal to 15 percent of the amount overpaid.²⁶

Upon discovery of an overpayment, the DEO makes a determination of the amount of overpayment and attempts to make recovery of the payment. To enforce this provision, the DEO must find the existence of fraud through a redetermination or a decision within 2 years after the fraud was committed. Any recovery or recoupment of benefits must be commenced within 7 years after the redetermination or decision.²⁷ The DEO is required to collect the repayment of benefits without interest by the deduction of benefits through a redetermination of benefits or by a civil action.²⁸

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates the “Department of Economic Opportunity Cybercrimes Prevention Act.”

Section 2 amends s. 322.142, F.S., to provide the HSMV authorization to make and issue reproductions of color photographic or digital imaged licenses and signatures of licensees to the DEO. The DEO will be able to use such reproductions for the purpose of facilitating the validation of reemployment assistance claims and the identification of fraudulent or false reemployment assistance claims. Allowing the DEO access to the HSMV database will likely increase the number of false or fraudulent claims detected by the DEO.²⁹

Section 3 amends s. 443.101(6), F.S., to increase the time period for which an individual can be disqualified from receiving reemployment assistance benefits when the individual is found to have made false or fraudulent representations in violation of the Reemployment Assistance Program. Specifically, the bill provides that if the representation is made in furtherance of any state or federal felony crime relating to identity theft or inappropriate use of personally identifying information, the individual will be disqualified as follows:

- 5 years from the date of the conviction of the individual for such state or federal felony crime and until any amount received due to the representation is repaid; and
- 10 years from the date of the second or subsequent conviction of the individual for such state or federal felony crime and until any amount received due to the representation is repaid.

Section 4 amends s. 895.02(1)(a)7, F.S., to provide that “racketeering activity” includes additional actions found to violate the Reemployment Assistance Program. Specifically, the bill includes the crime of making a false or fraudulent representation in order to receive reemployment assistance benefits, which is chargeable under s. 443.01(1), F.S.

Section 5 provides that the bill is effective upon becoming law.
