SUMMARY ANALYSIS

CS/CS/HB 1355 passed the House on March 4, 2016, and subsequently passed the Senate on March 8, 2016.

Gainesville Regional Utilities (GRU) is a municipal utility system governed by the Gainesville City Commission. GRU provides electric, natural gas, water, wastewater, and telecommunications services. This local bill provides for a referendum for the qualified electors of the City of Gainesville (City) to determine whether to amend the City's charter to establish the Gainesville Regional Utilities Authority (Authority) to govern GRU. The bill details the Authority's governance and leadership structure, as well as duties and powers. In summary of its main components, the bill:

- Establishes the Authority as a unit of city government, but free from the direction and control of the city commission and city charter officers, for the purpose of governing the utilities operated by GRU.
- Establishes the powers and duties of the Authority.
- Provides that the Authority will consist of 5 members appointed by the city commission, to include at least one member from outside the City boundaries.
- Sets qualification requirements and term limits for Authority members.
- Staggers the terms of the initial Authority members and provides for four year terms thereafter.
- Provides an annual salary of $18,000 for members of the Authority, to be adjusted over time by the consumer price index.
- Provides that an Authority member may be removed or suspended by the city commission for cause under general law.
- Provides for the continued service of GRU personnel under the CEO/GM.
- Requires the performance of all acts necessary to ensure an orderly transition of GRU governance to the Authority.
- Repeals Section 3.06 of the current City charter relating to the general manager for utilities.

This bill would have taken effect subject to approval by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the City voting in a referendum to be held in March 2017, in conjunction the City's municipal elections, except that sections 4 and 5 would have taken effect upon becoming law; however, this bill was vetoed by the Governor on March 25, 2016.

I. SUBSTANTIVE INFORMATION

A. EFFECT OF CHANGES:

Present Situation

Municipal Utilities

Pursuant to article VIII, section 2(b) of the Florida Constitution, municipalities have the governmental, corporate, and proprietary powers to enable them to conduct municipal government, perform municipal functions, and render municipal services, and may exercise any power for municipal purposes except as otherwise provided by law. The legislative body of each municipality has the power to enact legislation on any subject upon which the state Legislature may act, with certain exceptions.<sup>1</sup>

Under their home rule power and as otherwise provided or limited by law or agreement, municipalities may provide utilities to citizens and entities within the municipality's corporate boundaries, in unincorporated areas, and even other municipalities. Current law provides that municipalities or an agency of a municipality may be a "joint owner of, giving, or lending or using its taxing power or credit for the joint ownership, construction, and operation of electrical energy generating or transmission facilities with any corporation, association, partnership or person."<sup>2</sup> Additionally, municipalities are expressly authorized by general law to provide water and sewer utility services.<sup>3</sup> With respect to public works projects, including water and sewer utility services,<sup>4</sup> municipalities may extend and execute their corporate powers outside of their corporate limits as "desirable or necessary for the promotion of the public health, safety and welfare" to accomplish the purposes of chapter 180, F.S.<sup>5</sup> Current law requires municipalities providing telecommunication services to abide by certain requirements.<sup>6</sup> Municipal utilities are subject to limited oversight by the Public Service Commission (PSC).<sup>7</sup> PSC regulation of municipal electric utilities is limited to oversight of safety, reliability, territorial, and rate structure issues.<sup>8</sup> PSC regulation of municipal natural gas utilities is limited to territorial issues.<sup>9</sup> Municipal utilities that provide water and/or wastewater service are exempt from PSC regulation.<sup>10</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Pursuant to s. 166.021(3)(a)-(d), F.S., a municipality may not enact legislation on the following: the subjects of annexation, merger, and exercise of extraterritorial power, which require general law or special law; any subject expressly prohibited by the constitution; any subject expressly preempted to state or county government by the constitution or by general law; and any subject preempted to a county pursuant to a county charter adopted under the authority of the State constitution.

<sup>3</sup> Pursuant to s. 180.06, F.S., a municipality may "provide water and alternative water supplies;" "provide for the collection and disposal of sewage, including wastewater reuse, and other liquid wastes;" and "construct reservoirs, sewerage systems, trunk sewers, intercepting sewers, pumping stations, wells, siphons, intakes, pipelines, distribution systems, purification works, collection systems, treatment and disposal works" to accomplish these purposes.

<sup>4</sup> s. 180.06, F.S., authorizes other public works projects, including alternative water supplies, maintenance of water flow and bodies of water for sanitary purposes.

<sup>5</sup> s. 180.02(2), F.S. However, a municipality may permit any other municipality and the owners of lands outside its corporate limits or within the limits of another municipality to connect with its water and sewer utility facilities and use its services upon agreed terms and conditions. s. 180.19, F.S.

<sup>6</sup> See s. 166.047, F.S. (setting forth certain requirements for municipal telecommunication services); s. 350.81, F.S. (providing conditions under which local governments may provide telecommunications services).

<sup>7</sup> See s. 366.011(1), F.S. (exemption for municipal utilities); s. 367.022(2), F.S. (exempting governmental entities that provide water and/or wastewater service from PSC regulation).

<sup>8</sup> ss. 366.04(2), (5), and (6), F.S. As of December 2014, there were 34 municipal electric utilities subject to this limited jurisdiction. PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, Facts and Figures, published April 8, 2015, available at

<sup>9</sup> s. 366.04(3), F.S. As of December 2014, there were 27 municipal natural gas utilities and 4 special gas districts subject to this limited jurisdiction. PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, Facts and Figures, published April 8, 2015, available at

Most municipal utility systems are governed by the municipality's governing body (i.e., the city commission). Six municipal electric utility systems<sup>11</sup> in Florida are governed by separate utility boards, or "authorities," which are typically appointed by the municipality's governing body.<sup>12</sup> These utility authorities vary in structure, though the charter documents for each generally address the powers and duties of the authority (including terms related to rate-setting, financing, acquisitions, and eminent domain), the selection process for authority members (including qualifications and terms of office), the management and personnel of the authority, the transfer of revenues from utility operations to the municipality, and the degree of continuing oversight by the municipal governing body.

Gainesville Regional Utilities

Gainesville Regional Utilities (GRU) was established in 1912 as a city-run electric utility.<sup>13</sup> It is the fifth largest municipal electric utility in Florida, serving approximately 93,000 retail and wholesale customers in the City of Gainesville (City) and surrounding areas.<sup>14</sup> GRU offers electric, natural gas, water, wastewater, and telecommunications services. An audit for 2012-2013 states that GRU in September 2013 had $1.2 billion in capital assets, and budgets of $77.2 million and $95.2 million in 2014 and 2013, respectively.<sup>15</sup> An audit for 2013-2014 states that GRU's capital assets as of September 2014 increased to $2.2 billion, noting that the 82% increase in net capital assets was primarily due to a capital lease related to a biomass plant.<sup>16</sup> According to the audit, GRU's net financial position increased by $16.8 million in 2012 but decreased by $1.7 million and $14.1 million in 2014 and 2013, respectively.<sup>17</sup>

There are 34 municipal electric utilities in Florida.<sup>18</sup> GRU's residential electric utility rates in December 2015 were the highest in the state among municipal utility providers.<sup>19</sup>

The City's charter provides that the city commission appoints an at-will general manager for utilities who is responsible to the city commission and who is responsible for the efficient administration of the utility system.<sup>20</sup> The city commission is comprised of seven members: four elected from single member districts, two elected at-large, and one who is elected as mayor.<sup>21</sup>

The charter sets forth the general manager's powers and duties, which provide that the general manager is:<sup>22</sup>

<sup>11</sup> These utility authorities include: OUC (City of Orlando), JEA (City of Jacksonville), Kissimmee Utility Authority, City of New Smyrna Beach Utilities Commission, Keys Energy Services Utility Board (City of Key West), and Fort Pierce Utilities Authority. Some of these authorities also govern utilities systems other than the municipal electric utility.

<sup>12</sup> The Keys Energy Services Utility Board is the only utility authority in the state with elected board members.

- Responsible for and has exclusive management jurisdiction and control over operating and financial affairs of the utility system including, but not limited to, the planning, development, production, purchase, sale, exchange, interchange, transmission and distribution of all electricity; the planning, development, purchase, sale, exchange, interchange, transmission and distribution of all natural gas; the planning, development, supply, treatment, transmission, distribution and sale of all potable water; and the planning, development, collection, treatment, disposal and billing of all wastewater now or hereafter provided by the city;
- Required to submit to the city commission for its consideration a yearly budget for the operation of the utility system;
- The purchasing agent for all equipment, materials, supplies, and services necessary for operating and maintaining the utility system subject to policies promulgated by the city commission;
- Required to propose ordinances to designate the job titles of subordinates that are to be considered directors of departments;
- Required to appoint and, except as otherwise provided in the charter, remove all directors of departments at will;
- Required to recommend to the city commission all measures necessary and expedient for the proper governance and management of the utility system;
- Required to keep the city commission fully advised as to the management, governance and needs of the utility system; and
- Required to perform all other duties prescribed by law, this charter, ordinance, or direction of the city commission.

The charter also prohibits the city commission from disposing of, or agreeing to dispose of, in whole or part, the City's electrical or water production or distribution facilities so as to materially reduce the City's capacity to produce or distribute electrical energy or water, except by ordinance with the prior approval of a majority vote of the qualified electors of the City.<sup>23</sup>

The City's Code of Ordinances provides for an Energy Advisory Committee comprised of 9 members appointed by the city commission.<sup>24</sup> The committee has the following duties, functions, powers, and responsibilities:

- Serve as a communications channel between the city commission, utility staff, and the citizens of the City, in order to understand and solve the many complex problems relating to energy;
- Promote public access to information on the City's facilities, services, policies, and programs concerning energy, and consider the future energy needs of the community with respect to the utilities as well as general government;
- Assist utility staff by suggesting and reviewing policies affecting programs and services that affect acquisition, delivery, or utilization of energy resources within the community; and
- Perform any other duties which may be within the purview of the committee which may be assigned by the city commission.

There also is a Regional Utilities Committee, containing three city commissioners and an ex-officio member representing Alachua County.<sup>25</sup>

Chapter 27 of the City's Code of Ordinances sets forth regulations pertaining to each municipal utility system.<sup>26</sup>

In November 2013, the Gainesville Area Chamber of Commerce and Council for Economic Outreach submitted a report to the City.<sup>27</sup> The study was conducted by a 12-member Energy Study Group, led by Representative N. David Flagg, who is a former Mayor of Gainesville, and Dr. David A. Denslow, Jr., a retired University of Florida economist.<sup>28</sup> According to the report, Gainesville is a unique city with about 58% of property off the tax rolls.<sup>29</sup> The city commission has directly governed GRU for over 100 years.<sup>30</sup> According to the report, GRU’s combined municipal utility system operation is composed of five Enterprise Funds (Electric System, Water System, Wastewater System, Gas System, and Telecommunications/GRUCom).<sup>31</sup>

The report provides four policy recommendations for the City “to help Gainesville remain a competitively advantaged community for sustainable economic development as it relates to overall energy costs.”<sup>32</sup> The fourth recommendation provides that the method of governance be changed to an appointed utility authority.<sup>33</sup> The report notes that JEA (formerly known as Jacksonville Electric Authority), is the largest municipal utility in Florida.<sup>34</sup> It has a governance structure under which the board is appointed by the Mayor of Jacksonville, subject to confirmation by the Council.<sup>35</sup> The report also notes that the Orlando Utilities Commission board appoints its own members from a pool of candidates identified by a city nominating committee,<sup>36</sup> and that Lakeland Electric has a Commission/Customer Committee Hybrid.<sup>37</sup> The report states that the City of Tallahassee has a city commission governance model.<sup>38</sup> According to the report, Florida cities with an appointed utility authority “are more competitive than Gainesville in commercial and industrial customer class electricity costs,” noting that Jacksonville, Orlando, Kissimmee, Fort Pierce, and New Smyrna Beach each have an appointed utility authority and that “[c]ommercial and industrial customer class electricity costs in those cities are significantly lower than in Gainesville.”<sup>39</sup>

Effect of Changes

The bill provides for a referendum to be held in March 2017 at which the qualified electors of the City of Gainesville will determine whether to amend the City’s charter to create a utility authority to govern GRU’s utilities systems. If approved by a majority of those voting in the referendum, Article VII will be added to the City’s charter to establish the Gainesville Regional Utilities Authority (Authority) as set forth in the bill. The following chart summarizes the provisions of the charter amendment.

7.10(7)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Requires the Authority to develop an ethics policy and code of business conduct policy and review those policies at least biennially.</li> </ul>

In addition, if approved by a majority of those voting in the referendum, Section 3.06 of Article III of the City's charter<sup>41</sup> will be repealed. This section authorizes the city commission to appoint a general manager for utilities. Because the charter amendment makes the selection of the general manager for GRU a power of the Authority, this section of the charter would become obsolete. As noted above, the bill creates Section 7.09(1) of the charter which provides that the current general manager appointed by the City shall be retained as the CEO/GM absent action by the Authority.

The bill provides that the chair of the Authority or his/her designee is authorized to execute documents required for the transition from the current management structure to the one implemented by the charter changes of the bill.
