2135 established under any of the following circumstances:

2136 (d) When the parent of a child is incarcerated and either:

2137 1. The period of time for which the parent is expected to 2138 be incarcerated will constitute a significant portion of the 2139 child's minority. When determining whether the period of time is 2140 significant, the court shall consider the child's age and the 2141 child's need for a permanent and stable home. The period of time
2142 begins on the date that the parent enters into incarceration;

2143 2. The incarcerated parent has been determined by the court
2144 to be a violent career criminal as defined in s. 775.084, a
2145 habitual violent felony offender as defined in s. 775.084, or a 2146 sexual predator as defined in s. 775.21; has been convicted of 2147 first degree or second degree murder in violation of s. 782.04
2148 or a sexual battery that constitutes a capital, life, or first 2149 degree felony violation of s. 794.011; or has been convicted of 2150 an offense in another jurisdiction which is substantially
2151 similar to one of the offenses listed in this paragraph. As used 2152 in this section, the term "substantially similar offense" means 2153 any offense that is substantially similar in elements and 2154 penalties to one of those listed in this subparagraph, and that 2155 is in violation of a law of any other jurisdiction, whether that 2156 of another state, the District of Columbia, the United States or 2157 any possession or territory thereof, or any foreign 2158 jurisdiction; or

2159 3. The court determines by clear and convincing evidence
2160 that continuing the parental relationship with the incarcerated
2161 parent would be harmful to the child and, for this reason, that 2162 termination of the parental rights of the incarcerated parent is 2163 in the best interest of the child. When determining harm, the 2164 court shall consider the following factors:

2165 a. The age of the child.

2166 b. The relationship between the child and the parent.

2167 c. The nature of the parent's current and past provision 2168 for the child's developmental, cognitive, psychological, and 2169 physical needs.

2170 d. The parent's history of criminal behavior, which may 2171 include the frequency of incarceration and the unavailability of 2172 the parent to the child due to incarceration.

2173 e. Any other factor the court deems relevant.

2174 Section 9. For the purpose of incorporating the amendment
2175 made by this act to section 782.04, Florida Statutes, in a
2176 reference thereto, paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section
2177 63.089, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

2178 63.089 Proceeding to terminate parental rights pending
2179 adoption; hearing; grounds; dismissal of petition; judgment.—

2180 (4) FINDING OF ABANDONMENT.—A finding of abandonment
2181 resulting in a termination of parental rights must be based upon 2182 clear and convincing evidence that a parent or person having 2183 legal custody has abandoned the child in accordance with the 2184 definition contained in s. 63.032. A finding of abandonment may 2185 also be based upon emotional abuse or a refusal to provide
2186 reasonable financial support, when able, to a birth mother
2187 during her pregnancy or on whether the person alleged to have 2188 abandoned the child, while being able, failed to establish 2189 contact with the child or accept responsibility for the child's 2190 welfare.

2191 (b) The child has been abandoned when the parent of a child

2193 state, or county correctional institution and:

2194 1. The period of time for which the parent has been or is 2195 expected to be incarcerated will constitute a significant 2196 portion of the child's minority. In determining whether the 2197 period of time is significant, the court shall consider the 2198 child's age and the child's need for a permanent and stable
2199 home. The period of time begins on the date that the parent
2200 enters into incarceration;

2201 2. The incarcerated parent has been determined by a court
2202 of competent jurisdiction to be a violent career criminal as 2203 defined in s. 775.084, a habitual violent felony offender as 2204 defined in s. 775.084, convicted of child abuse as defined in s.
2205 827.03, or a sexual predator as defined in s. 775.21; has been 2206 convicted of first degree or second degree murder in violation
2207 of s. 782.04 or a sexual battery that constitutes a capital, 2208 life, or first degree felony violation of s. 794.011; or has 2209 been convicted of a substantially similar offense in another
2210 jurisdiction. As used in this section, the term "substantially 2211 similar offense" means any offense that is substantially similar 2212 in elements and penalties to one of those listed in this 2213 subparagraph, and that is in violation of a law of any other
2214 jurisdiction, whether that of another state, the District of 2215 Columbia, the United States or any possession or territory
2216 thereof, or any foreign jurisdiction; or

2217 3. The court determines by clear and convincing evidence
2218 that continuing the parental relationship with the incarcerated
2219 parent would be harmful to the child and, for this reason,
2221 in the best interests of the child.
