SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) must expunge a nonjudicial arrest record of a juvenile who has successfully completed a diversion program for a misdemeanor offense. Moreover, a juvenile who successfully completes a diversion program for a first-time misdemeanor offense may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge his or her participation in a diversion program and the expunction of a nonjudicial arrest record, unless the inquiry is made by a criminal justice agency for specified purposes.

HB 615 (2020), to which this bill is linked, authorizes FDLE to expunge a juvenile's nonjudicial arrest record following the successful completion of a diversion program for any offense, including a felony. A juvenile who successfully completes a diversion program for any offense, including a felony or subsequent misdemeanor, may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge his or her participation in a diversion program and the expunction of a nonjudicial arrest record, except when the inquiry is made by a criminal justice agency for specified purposes.

HB 1173, which is linked to the passage of HB 615, creates a public records exemption for the nonjudicial arrest records of a minor who has successfully completed a diversion program for a felony or subsequent misdemeanor. Under the bill, such records are confidential and exempt from public disclosure, except that the record must be made available to criminal justice agencies only for the purpose of:

- Determining eligibility for diversion programs;
- A criminal investigation; or
- Making a prosecutorial decision.

This bill is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and stands repealed on October 2, 2025, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

The bill may have a fiscal impact on agencies responsible for complying with public records requests and redacting confidential and exempt information prior to releasing a record.

The bill will become effective on the same date that HB 615 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

Article I, section 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption; thus, it requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Public Records

Article I, section 24(a) of the Florida Constitution sets forth the state's public policy regarding access to government records. This section guarantees every person a right to inspect or copy any public record of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government. The Legislature, however, may provide by general law for the exemption of records from the requirements of article I, section 24(a) of the Florida Constitution.¹ The general law must state with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption and must be no more broad than necessary to accomplish its purpose.²

Public policy regarding access to government records is addressed further in s. 119.07(1)(a), F.S., which guarantees every person a right to inspect and copy any state, county, or municipal record, unless the record is exempt. Furthermore, the Open Government Sunset Review Act³ provides that a public record or public meeting exemption may be created or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose. In addition, it may be no more broad than necessary to meet one of the following purposes:

- Allow the state or its political subdivisions to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, which administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption.
- Protect sensitive personal information that, if released, would be defamatory or would jeopardize an individual's safety; however, only the identity of an individual may be exempted under this provision.
- Protect trade or business secrets.⁴

The Act also requires the automatic repeal of a public record exemption on October 2nd of the fifth year after its creation or substantial amendment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.

Juvenile Diversion Expunction

Diversion Programs

Diversion is a program designed to divert a juvenile from entering the juvenile justice system by placing him or her on a less restrictive track that affords more opportunities for rehabilitation and restoration.⁵ The goal of diversion is to maximize the opportunity for success and minimize the likelihood of recidivism.⁶ The decision to refer a juvenile to a diversion program is at the discretion of either the law enforcement officer who interacts with the juvenile at the time of the offense or the state attorney who is referred the case. Examples of such programs are Community Arbitration, Juvenile Alternative Services Program, Teen Court, Intensive Delinquency Diversion Services, Civil Citation, Boy and Girl Scouts, Boys and Girls Clubs, mentoring programs, and alternative schools.⁷

A juvenile may have the opportunity to participate in either a prearrest or postarrest diversion program. A prearrest diversion program is an intervention program that holds a juvenile accountable for their behavior, while diverting them from any court proceeding or formal arrest record.⁸ A postarrest diversion program is a similar intervention program, but diverts the juvenile from further court proceedings after an arrest.⁹ While prearrest diversion diverts a juvenile before an arrest record is ever created, in postarrest diversion an arrest record is created and maintained pending the juvenile's participation and completion of the diversion program. Upon successful completion of a postarrest diversion program, the juvenile's charges are dismissed.

Expunction

Generally, expunction is the court-ordered physical destruction or obliteration of a criminal history record or portion of a record by any criminal justice agency having custody of the record.¹⁰ A juvenile who completes one of the following diversion programs may petition for juvenile diversion expunction:¹¹

- Civil citation or a similar prearrest diversion program;¹²
- Prearrest or postarrest diversion program;¹³
- Neighborhood restorative justice;¹⁴
- Community arbitration;¹⁵ or
- A program to which a state attorney refers the juvenile.¹⁶

FDLE is required to expunge a juvenile's misdemeanor nonjudicial arrest record after successfully completing a diversion program, if the juvenile:

- Submits an application for prearrest or postarrest diversion expunction;
- Participated in a diversion program based on the commission of a misdemeanor;
- Has not committed any other criminal offense or comparable ordinance violation;
- Participated in a diversion program that expressly allows for such expunction; and
- Submits certification from the state attorney that the juvenile meets the expunction qualifications.¹⁷

Juvenile diversion expunction has the same effect as court-ordered expunction of criminal history records¹⁸ except that:

- FDLE may make an expunged juvenile diversion criminal record available to:
 - Criminal justice agencies for the purpose of determining eligibility for diversion programs;
 - When the record is sought as part of a criminal investigation; or
 - When making a prosecutorial decision;¹⁹ and

- Local criminal justice agencies in the county in which an arrest occurred must seal instead of destroy any relevant records.²⁰

A juvenile who successfully completes a diversion program for a first-time misdemeanor offense may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge his or her participation in a program and the expunction of a nonjudicial arrest record, unless the inquiry is made by a criminal justice agency²¹ for the purpose of:

- Determining eligibility for diversion programs;
- A criminal investigation; or
- Making a prosecutorial decision.²²

HB 615 (2020)

HB 615 (2020), to which this bill is linked, requires FDLE to expunge a juvenile's nonjudicial arrest record following the successful completion of a diversion program for any offense, including a felony. The bill permits a juvenile who has successfully completed a diversion program for any offense, including a felony or subsequent misdemeanor, to lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge his or her participation in a program and the expunction of a nonjudicial arrest record, except when the inquiry is made by a criminal justice agency for specified purposes.²³

Effect of Proposed Changes

HB 1173, which is linked to the passage of HB 615, creates a public records exemption for certain juvenile offender records. Specifically, the bill provides that the nonjudicial arrest records of a minor who has successfully completed a diversion program are confidential and exempt from public disclosure, except that the record must be made available to criminal justice agencies for specified purposes.

This bill provides a public necessity statement as required by article I, section 24(c) of the Florida Constitution. The public necessity statement provides that the purpose of diversion programs is to redirect youth from the justice system and this purpose will be undermined if the nonjudicial arrest record is not confidential and exempt.

This bill provides for repeal of the exemption on October 2, 2025, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

The bill will become effective on the same date that HB 615 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1: Amends s. 943.0582, F.S., relating to diversion program expunction.

Section 2: Provides a public necessity statement as required by the Florida Constitution.
