COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1662 allows a totally and permanently disabled veteran, or his or her surviving spouse, who acquires legal or beneficial title to property between January 1 and November 1, to receive a prorated refund of the ad valorem taxes paid for the newly acquired property as of the date of the property transfer. To receive the refund, the veteran or surviving spouse must have received the homestead exemption for totally and permanently disabled veterans authorized in section 196.081, Florida Statutes, on another homestead property in that tax year.

Although current law provides a full property tax exemption for homestead property owned by veterans who sustained a total and permanent service-connected disability, tax-exempt veterans may incur some tax liabilities when selling their prior homestead property and purchasing a new homestead property. The bill would allow a veteran or surviving spouse to obtain a refund of a portion of the taxes paid.

The Revenue Estimating Conference has determined that the bill will reduce local property taxes by $2.9 million in Fiscal Year 2020-2021, increasing to $3.9 million by Fiscal Year 2024-2025.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2020.

II. Present Situation:

General Overview of Property Taxation

The ad valorem tax or “property tax” is an annual tax levied by counties, municipalities, school districts, and some special districts. The tax is based on the taxable value of a property as of January 1 of each year.¹ The property appraiser annually determines the “just value”² of property within the taxing authority and then applies relevant exclusions, assessment limitations, and exemptions to determine the property’s “taxable value.”³ Tax bills are mailed in November of each year based on the previous January 1 valuation and payment is due before April 1.⁴

The Florida Constitution prohibits the state from levying ad valorem taxes⁵ and limits the Legislature’s authority to provide for property valuations at less than just value unless expressly authorized by the Constitution.⁶

Homestead Exemptions

Every person having legal or equitable title to real estate and who maintains a permanent residence on the real estate is eligible for a $25,000 tax exemption applicable to all ad valorem tax levies, including levies by school districts.⁷ An additional $25,000 exemption applies to homestead property value between $50,000 and $75,000.⁸ This exemption does not apply to ad valorem taxes levied by school districts.⁹

Annual Application

Each person or organization meeting the criteria for an ad valorem tax exemption may claim the exemption if the claimant held legal title to the real or personal property subject to the exemption on January 1.¹⁰ The application for exemption must be filed with the property appraiser on or before March 1, and failure to make an application constitutes a waiver of the exemption for that year.¹¹ The application must list and describe the property for which the exemption is being claimed and certify the ownership and use of the property. The claimant must reapply for the exemption on an annual basis unless the property appraiser (subject to approval by a vote of the governing body of the county) has waived the annual application requirement for a property after an initial application is made and the exemption granted.¹²

¹ Both real property and tangible personal property are subject to tax. Section 192.001(12), F.S., defines “real property” as land, buildings, fixtures, and all other improvements to land. Section 192.001(11)(d), F.S., defines “tangible personal property” as all goods, chattels, and other articles of value capable of manual possession and whose chief value is intrinsic to the article itself.

² Property must be valued at “just value” for purposes of property taxation, unless the Florida Constitution provides otherwise. FLA. CONST. Art VII, s. 4. Just value has been interpreted by the courts to mean the fair market value that a willing buyer would pay a willing seller for the property in an arm’s-length transaction. See Walter v. Shuler, 176 So. 2d 81 (Fla. 1965).

Veterans with Total and Permanent Service-Connected Disability

The homestead property of a veteran who was honorably discharged with a service-connected total and permanent disability is exempt from taxation.¹³ To qualify for this exemption, the veteran must be a permanent resident of the state on January 1 of the tax year for which exemption is being claimed or must have been a permanent resident of this state on January 1. If the veteran predeceases their spouse, the spouse may continue to receive the exemption as long as the property remains the homestead property of the spouse, and the spouse is unmarried.¹⁴

The just value and the use of the property on January 1 are used by the property appraiser for purposes of the tax bill issued the following November.¹⁵ Thus, when property is sold mid-year, the new owner's November tax bill is determined by the just value and the prior owner's use of the property on the prior January 1. This treatment also applies when a disabled veteran that receives the full homestead exemption provided in s. 196.081, F.S., purchases a new homestead; the tax bill received in November will not reflect the disabled veteran exemption because the veteran did not use the new property as a homestead on January 1 of that year – he or she purchased the property after that date.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends ss. 196.011 and 196.081, F.S., to allow a totally and permanently disabled veteran, or his or her surviving spouse, to receive a prorated refund for homestead property taxes paid on the newly acquired property, if legal or beneficial title to the property is acquired between January 1 and November 1. To qualify for the refund, the veteran or the surviving spouse must have received the homestead exemption for totally and permanently disabled veterans authorized in s. 196.081, F.S., on another property in that tax year.

Upon finding an applicant is entitled to the homestead exemption, a property appraiser must immediately make entries on the tax rolls of the county to allow the prorated refund of taxes for the previous tax year.

Veterans and spouses who qualify for the refund will receive the reimbursement in the tax year following the acquisition of a new property.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2020.

IV. Constitutional Issues:A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

Article VII, s. 18(b) of the Florida Constitution provides that except upon the approval of each house of the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of the membership, the Legislature may not enact, amend, or repeal any general law if the anticipated effect of doing so would be to reduce the authority that municipalities or counties have to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989. However, the mandate requirement does not apply to laws having an insignificant impact,¹⁶ which for the Fiscal Year 2019-2020 is forecast at approximately $2.2 million.^{17, 18}

The mandate provision may apply because the bill requires counties to issue a prorated refund of ad valorem tax to qualified disabled veterans under certain circumstances. If the bill does qualify as a mandate, the final passage must be approved by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the Legislature.
