I. Summary:

CS/SB 292 creates loss run reporting requirements for all admitted and nonadmitted insurance carriers.

The bill requires an insurance carrier to provide a loss run statement to the insured within 15 days of receipt of a written request submitted by the insured. For personal lines of insurance, carriers may instead provide information on how to obtain a loss run statement at no charge through a consumer reporting agency. The loss run statement must be provided electronically or made available through an electronic portal, and the insurance carrier must notify the agent of record at the time the statement was provided.

The bill requires the statement to include a loss run history for the preceding 5 years or, if the history is less than 5 years, a complete loss run history with the insurance carrier.

The bill prohibits an insurance carrier from charging a fee for preparing or annually providing one loss run statement.

The bill takes effect January 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Loss Run Statements

A loss run statement¹ is a report generated by an insurance carrier showing the claims history of an insured.² Some insurers have existing loss runs systems that allow their insureds to log into a portal to obtain their own detailed reports on claims.³ Insurance carriers may use loss run statements for purposes of underwriting and issuing policies.⁴ The statement will usually provide the following information:

- Name and policy number of the insured;
- Date of each loss and claim;
- A brief description of the claim;
- Amounts paid to the insured or on reserve; and
- Whether the claim is open or closed.⁵

Loss Run Reporting Requirements in Other States

Currently, Florida does not have an existing statutory framework regarding when and how insurers are required to provide loss run statements to insureds. Among states that have adopted loss run reporting requirements, insurance carriers are generally required to provide a report within 10 to 30 days following receipt of a written request made by the insured or insured's agent.⁶ Further, the length of historical data required to be included in the provided report ranges 3-5 years. State examples include:

State	Reporting Timeframe	Amount of Data Required
California ⁷	10 days	3 years
Kentucky ⁸	20 days	5 years
Louisiana ⁹	30 days	3 years
Oklahoma ¹⁰	30 days	Unspecified
Tennessee ¹¹	10 days	3 years

There is variance among states as to which lines of insurance are subject to the reporting requirements. Some states require reporting compliance of all insurance lines, whereas other states require reporting compliance of specific insurance lines only. Similarly, there is variance

¹ Loss run statements are also referred to as “loss runs” or “loss run reports.”

among states as to penalties for insurance carriers that fail to provide the requested reports. Some states, like Oklahoma and Tennessee, consider such failure a violation of their respective states' Unfair Trade Practices Act.¹² Others, like Kentucky, provide penalties either per each individual failure to comply or for each day that the report is not provided.¹³

Public Sources of Loss Run Statements

The majority of personal auto and personal property insurers participate in the Comprehensive Loss Underwriting Exchange (CLUE)¹⁴, a central database of claims information whose report is used by insurers to assist in making underwriting and rating decisions.¹⁵ Developed by the consumer reporting agency, LexisNexis Risk Solutions, the CLUE report contains 7 years of personal auto and personal property claims history associated with an individual.¹⁶ The report includes date of loss, loss type, and amount paid.¹⁷ Under the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions Act of 2003, LexisNexis Risk Solutions and other consumer reporting agencies must provide one free copy of the consumer's file per year upon request of the consumer.¹⁸

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill requires an insurance carrier to provide a loss run statement to an insured within 15 days following receipt of a request submitted by the insured. For personal lines of insurance, an insurance carrier may instead provide the insured with information on how to obtain a loss run statement at no charge through a consumer reporting agency. The insurance carrier must notify the agent of record that the statement was provided electronically or made available through an electronic portal. The statement must include a loss run history for the preceding 5 years or, if the history is less than 5 years, a complete loss run history with the insurance carrier. The bill specifies that an insurer is not required to provide loss reserve information as part of a loss run statement. The insurance carrier may not charge a fee for preparing or annually providing one loss run statement.

The bill creates the following definitions:

- “Loss run statement” means a report containing the policy number, period of coverage, number of claims, paid losses on all claims, and date of each loss¹⁹; and

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

The bill in creating s. 626.9202(2), F.S., and s. 627.444(2), F.S., provides that for personal lines of insurance, the insurer may either provide a loss run statement or provide “information on how to obtain a loss run statement through a consumer reporting agency.” The bill then states that “this section does not prohibit an insured from requesting a loss run statement after receiving information from a consumer reporting agency.” The section makes it unclear if a personal lines insurer itself must provide a loss run statement, and if so, at what point they must provide it.

None.

This bill creates the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 626.9202 and 627.444.
