I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Middle Grades Career Planning

Present Situation

Before a middle grades student can successfully be promoted to high school, one of the required courses a student must complete is a career and education planning course during grades 6, 7, or 8.<sup>1</sup> The required course must be Internet-based and result in a personalized academic and career plan for the student that may be revised as the student progresses; must emphasize the importance of entrepreneurship and employability skills; and must include information from the DEO's economic security report.<sup>2</sup> The required personalized academic and career plan must inform students of high school graduation requirements, the requirements for each scholarship in the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program; State University System (SUS) and Florida College System (FCS) institution admission requirements; and available opportunities to earn college credit in high school.<sup>3</sup> The course may be implemented as a stand-alone course or integrated into another course or courses.<sup>4</sup>

The DOE, outlines the eight course standards of the career and education planning course which ensures that a student is able to do the following:

1. Describe the influences that societal, economic, and technological changes have on employment trends and future training.
2. Develop skills to locate, evaluate, and interpret career information.
3. Identify and demonstrate processes for making short and long term goals.
4. Demonstrate employability skills such as working in a group, problem-solving and organizational skills, and the importance of entrepreneurship.
5. Understand the relationship between educational achievement and career choices/postsecondary options.
6. Identify a career cluster and related pathways through an interest assessment that match career and education goals.
7. Develop a career and education plan that includes short and long-term goals, high school program of study, and postsecondary/career goals.
8. Demonstrate knowledge of technology and its application in career fields/clusters.<sup>5</sup>

For the 2020-2021 school year, the DOE identified 79 approved middle grades courses for career and education planning.<sup>6</sup> In addition, the DOE publishes an educator's toolkit, providing resources such as classroom activities, lesson plans, and additional resources to assist teachers in career and education course planning.<sup>7</sup>

Notification of Student Acceleration Options

Present Situation

- Advanced Placement (AP);<sup>10</sup>
- International Baccalaureate (IB);<sup>11</sup>
- Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE);<sup>12</sup>
- Dual enrollment;<sup>13</sup>

- Options for early graduation.<sup>15</sup>

Additionally, each high school is required to advise each student of courses through which the student could earn college credit, including AP, IB, AICE, dual enrollment, early admission, and career academy courses and courses that lead to industry certification, as well as the availability of course offerings through virtual instruction.<sup>16</sup> Students must also be advised of early graduation options.<sup>17</sup>

The notification must also include information on the following:

- career and professional academies;

- the career and technical education (CTE) pathway option to earn a standard high school diploma;
- work-based learning opportunities, including internships and apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs; and
