Present Situation:

Applied Behavior Analysis Services

Behavior Analysis measures outcomes through data collection and the direct observation of behavior.¹ Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) is the use of principled methods of behavior analysis to bring about meaningful changes in socially important behaviors.² ABA is best known for its success in treating individuals with autism spectrum disorder and other developmental disabilities.³ Florida law defines ABA as “the design, implementation, and evaluation of environmental modifications, using behavioral stimuli and consequences, to produce socially significant improvement in human behavior, including but not limited to, the use of direct observation, measurement, and functional analysis of the relations between environment and behavior.”⁴

ABA Service Providers and Certification

Florida’s Agency for Persons with Disabilities (APD) is required to recognize a non-profit corporation for the certification of behavior analysts. The non-profit corporation is required to:⁵

- Adhere to the national standards of boards that determine professional credentials; and
- Have a mission to meet professional credentialing needs identified by behavior analysts, state governments, and consumers of behavior analysis services.

Further, the certification procedure recognized by the APD must undergo regular psychometric review and validation, pursuant to a job analysis survey of the profession and standards established by content experts in the field.⁶ The APD recognizes the certification awarded by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board, Inc.,⁷ which certifies the three provider types: Board Certified Behavior Analysts, Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analysts, and Registered Behavior Technicians.

The Behavior Analyst Certification Board’s requirements for certification are outlined below:

- Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBAs):⁸
 - At least a master’s degree in applied behavior analysis or a closely-related field;
 - Completion of 270 hours of graduate-level instruction in specified behavior analysis topics;
 - Completion of specified hours of supervised experiential training in ABA; and,

ABA Services in Florida’s Public Schools

In an educational setting, behavior analysis provides a scientific approach to designing, implementing, and evaluating instruction based on analyzing interactions between what the teacher does and student learning.¹²

Section 1003.572, F.S., was created in 2013,¹³ to encourage cooperation and coordination of services for students with disabilities through public and private instructional collaboration. Private instructional personnel who are hired by or contracted by parents to collaborate with public instructional personnel must be permitted to observe the student in the educational setting, act as a team with instructional personnel in the educational setting, and provide services in the educational setting.¹⁴ Private instructional personnel must undergo a background screening, and the student’s public instructional personnel and principal must consent to the time and place.¹⁵

Section 1003.572, F.S., defines term “private instructional personnel” to include:¹⁶

- Individuals certified under s. 393.17, F.S., (a Board Certified Behavior Analyst) or individuals licensed under ch. 490, F.S.,¹⁷ or ch. 491, F.S.,¹⁸ for applied behavior analysis services.
- Speech-language pathologists licensed under s. 468.1185, F.S.
- Occupational therapists licensed under part III of ch. 468, F.S.
- Physical therapists licensed under ch. 486, F.S.
- Psychologists licensed under ch. 490, F.S.
- Clinical social workers licensed under ch. 491, F.S.

The statute does not expressly address other behavior analysis professionals, such as BCaBAs or RBTs.

II. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 1003.572(1), F.S., to expand the definition of “private instruction personnel” for purposes of allowing such personnel to provide services in public schools. The
