8 of attorney fees; providing an effective date.

11 admitted to the emergency room at Hendry Regional Medical Center

13 Hospital Authority, and was diagnosed with perforated 14 diverticulitis, and

15 WHEREAS, general surgeon Dr. Ramon Leonard Carroll, Jr., an 16 HRMC employee, ordered treatment with intravenous (IV)

19 nonsurgical care plan, and

21 Rodriguez's pelvis and abdomen showed evidence of a perforated

24 intraperitoneal air around the colon, evidencing a perforated 25 diverticulum, and

HB 6523

26 WHEREAS, after 2 days of antibiotic treatment, Dr. Charles 27 sought a surgical consult with Dr. Carroll, advising him that 28 the IV antibiotics were not working to treat the perforated
29 diverticulum, and the doctors made the joint negligent decision 30 to treat Mr. Rodriguez expectantly with nonsurgical care, and

31 WHEREAS, a second CT scan of Mr. Rodriguez's abdomen and 32 pelvis revealed a 100 percent perforation with fistula formation
33 and no resolution of the infection, and Dr. Charles and Dr.
34 Carroll agreed to continue to treat Mr. Rodriguez nonsurgically, 35 even though Dr. Charles recommended immediate surgical 36 intervention in his progress notes, and

37 WHEREAS, Dr. Charles transferred Mr. Rodriguez's care to 38 hospitalist Dr. Prashant Barakoti, an HRMC employee, while 39 noting in his progress reports that a CT scan was done on

41 centimeters with a prominent air fluid level in the pelvis, and

42 WHEREAS, despite Mr. Rodriguez having a continuing
43 infection that required ongoing medical treatment, Dr. Carroll
44 discharged Mr. Rodriguez from HRMC to his home without operating 45 on or draining the pelvic abscess, and after only 3 days, Mr.
46 Rodriguez was readmitted to the emergency room at HRMC with 47 complaints of severe middle back pain, abdominal pain, and a 48 fever, and

49 WHEREAS, Dr. Barakoti transferred care back to Dr. Charles, 50 who continued medical management and still did not recommend

51 surgical intervention, and

52 WHEREAS, Dr. Carroll performed a surgical consult, noting 53 Mr. Rodriguez's complaints of lower back pain and fever, and 54 determined that Mr. Rodriguez had a ruptured diverticulum with 55 small abscess formation in the pelvis, and

56 WHEREAS, Dr. Carroll decided to go along with Dr.
57 Barakoti's plan of care to merely monitor Mr. Rodriguez, failing 58 to recommend draining the abscess and surgically repairing the 59 ruptured diverticulum, and

60 WHEREAS, Mr. Rodriguez's blood cultures obtained while in 61 the emergency room were found to be positive for Klebsiella
62 pneumoniae, but Dr. Charles failed to recommend draining the 63 abscess and surgically repairing the ruptured diverticulum or to 64 transfer Mr. Rodriguez to another hospital for drainage and 65 surgical intervention, even with the overwhelming evidence that 66 surgical intervention was necessary, and

67 WHEREAS, Dr. Charles ordered Mr. Rodriguez to be started on 68 IV Rocephin, a broad-spectrum antibiotic, and Dilaudid every 4
69 to 6 hours for severe back pain and ordered additional blood

71 the time, Mr. Rodriguez's white blood cell count was elevated at 72 16,400 with increased polys, and

73 WHEREAS, on October 20, 2007, Mr. Rodriguez started to 74 complain of bilateral inner thigh pain, difficulty walking, and 75 incontinence, and showed signs of a worsening neurological

76 | condition, and

77 |       WHEREAS, a magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) machine, which
 78 | would have revealed the presence of the early stages of an
 79 | epidural abscess, was unavailable, but Dr. Charles continued to 80 | treat Mr. Rodriguez medically rather than transfer him to
 81 | another hospital with an available MRI and surgical staff who
 82 | could have surgically intervened, and

83 |       WHEREAS, Dr. Charles failed to perform any motor or sensory
 84 | testing and, despite suspecting spinal stenosis, failed to
 85 | recommend an immediate surgical intervention or transfer Mr.
 86 | Rodriguez to a medical center with an orthopedic spine surgeon
 87 | or neurosurgeon, and

88 |       WHEREAS, Mr. Rodriguez developed neck and lower back pain
 89 | despite receiving narcotic pain medications and was suffering
 90 | from loose and bloody bowel movements, and Dr. Charles advised
 91 | Mr. Rodriguez that he would need to be transferred to another
 92 | facility but failed to arrange the transfer, and instead
 93 | dictated a discharge summary, planning to send Mr. Rodriguez
 94 | home with white blood cells at 19,000, a temperature of 100.6
 95 | degrees, and an inability to stand or walk, and

96 |       WHEREAS, hospitalist Dr. Lopez-Cespedes, another HRMC
 97 | employee, was present when Mr. Rodriguez felt no sensation from
 98 | the umbilical area down, was unable to move his lower
 99 | extremities, and had weak upper arm movements, and Dr. Lopez-
 100 | Cespedes noted that Mr. Rodriguez had decreased muscle strength

105 complaining of a tingling sensation in both hands, and Dr.

107 legs and continued to have significant decreased sensation to 108 the level T10-T11, and

109 WHEREAS, an MRI of Mr. Rodriguez's lumbar spine was finally 110 performed, showing an epidural collection anteriorly to the 111 thecal sac in the thoracic spine and lumbar spine, and Mr.
112 Rodriguez was finally transferred and admitted to Jupiter
113 Medical Center under the care of orthopedic surgeon Dr. Katzman, 114 who diagnosed Mr. Rodriguez with an epidural abscess and an 115 unoperated perforated sigmoid colon, and

116 WHEREAS, Mr. Rodriguez underwent a decompressive

124 disability who lives in his trailer with him and who has no
125 medical training, and

2022

126 WHEREAS, a tort claim was filed on behalf of Mr. Rodriguez
 127 in the Circuit Court for the 20th Judicial Circuit in and for
