I. Summary:

SB 1052 provides that a totally and permanently disabled veteran or their surviving spouse who acquires property between January 1 and November 1 may receive a prorated refund of taxes paid in the year of acquisition if he or she applies for and receives an ad valorem tax exemption for totally and permanently disabled veterans in the subsequent tax year. The veteran must have qualified as having had a service-connected total and permanent disability as of January 1 of the year of acquisition.

Current law provides such a refund only when the property owner actually received such exemption for a different homestead property in the year of acquisition.

The Revenue Estimating Conference has estimated the bill will reduce local government revenue by $200,000 beginning in Fiscal Year 2024-2025.

The bill first applies to the 2024 tax roll, and takes effect July 1, 2023.

II. Present Situation:

General Overview of Property Taxation

The ad valorem tax or “property tax” is an annual tax levied by counties, municipalities, school districts, and some special districts. The tax is based on the taxable value of a property as of

January 1 of each year.¹ The property appraiser annually determines the “just value”² of property within the taxing authority and then applies relevant exclusions, assessment limitations, and exemptions to determine the property’s “taxable value.”³ Property tax bills are mailed in November of each year based on the previous January 1 valuation.⁴ If a taxpayer furnishes the outstanding taxes within 30 days after the tax collector mailed the tax notice, the taxpayer will receive a 4 percent discount on the total amount of taxes due.⁵ The full amount of taxes is due by March 31 of the following year.⁶

The Florida Constitution prohibits the state from levying ad valorem taxes,⁷ and it limits the Legislature’s authority to provide for property valuations at less than just value, unless expressly authorized.⁸

The Florida Constitution prohibits the state from levying ad valorem taxes⁹ and limits the Legislature’s authority to provide for property valuations at less than just value unless expressly authorized.¹⁰

Homestead Exemptions

The Florida Constitution establishes homestead protections for certain residential real estate in the state in three distinct ways. First, it provides homesteads, property owned and maintained as a person’s primary residence, with an exemption from taxes.¹¹ Second, the homestead provisions protect the homestead from forced sale by creditors.¹² Third, the homestead provisions delineate the restrictions a homestead owner faces when attempting to alienate or devise the homestead property.¹³

Every person having a legal or equitable title to real estate and who maintains a permanent residence on the real estate is deemed to establish homestead property. Homestead property is eligible for a $25,000 tax exemption applicable to all ad valorem tax levies, including levies by school districts.¹⁴ An additional $25,000 exemption applies to homestead property value between

¹ Both real property and tangible personal property are subject to tax. Section 192.001(12), F.S., defines “real property” as land, buildings, fixtures, and all other improvements to land. Section 192.001(11)(d), F.S., defines “tangible personal property” as all goods, chattels, and other articles of value capable of manual possession and whose chief value is intrinsic to the article itself.

² Property must be valued at “just value” for purposes of property taxation, unless the Florida Constitution provides otherwise (FLA. CONST. art VII, s. 4.). Just value has been interpreted by the courts to mean the fair market value that a willing buyer would pay a willing seller for the property in an arm’s-length transaction. See Walter v. Shuler, 176 So. 2d 81 (Fla. 1965).

$50,000 and $75,000. This exemption does not apply to ad valorem taxes levied by school districts.¹⁵

Annual Application

Each person or organization meeting the criteria for an ad valorem tax exemption may claim the exemption if the claimant held legal title to the real or personal property subject to the exemption on January 1.¹⁶ The application for exemption must be filed with the property appraiser on or before March 1, and failure to make an application constitutes a waiver of the exemption for that year. The application must list and describe the property for which the exemption is being claimed and certify the ownership and use of the property. The claimant must reapply for the exemption on an annual basis unless the property appraiser (subject to approval by a vote of the governing body of the county) has waived the annual application requirement for a property after an initial application is made and the exemption granted.¹⁷

Exemption for Veterans with Total and Permanent Service-Connected Disability

The homestead property of a veteran who was honorably discharged with a service-connected total and permanent disability is exempt from taxation.¹⁸ To qualify for this exemption, the veteran must be a permanent resident of the state on January 1 of the tax year for which exemption is being claimed or must have been a permanent resident of this state on January 1 of the year the veteran died. If the veteran predeceases their spouse, the spouse may continue to receive the exemption as long as the property remains the homestead property of the spouse, and the spouse is unmarried.¹⁹

A totally and permanently disabled veteran, or his or her surviving spouse, who acquires legal or beneficial title to property between January 1 and November 1, may receive a prorated refund of the ad valorem taxes paid for the newly acquired property as of the date of the property transfer provided they were eligible for and granted the exemption on another homestead property in the previous tax year.²⁰

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 196.081, F.S., to provide that a totally and permanently disabled veteran or their surviving spouse who acquire property between January 1 and November 1 may receive a prorated refund of taxes paid in the year of acquisition if he or she applies for and receives an ad valorem tax exemption for totally and permanently disabled veterans in the subsequent tax year. The property owner must have qualified as having had a service-connected total and permanent disability as of January 1 of the year of acquisition.

¹⁹ Section 196.081(3), F.S.

²⁰ Section 196.081(1)(b), F.S.

Current law provides such a refund only when the property owner actually received such exemption for a different homestead property in the year of acquisition.

The bill first applies to the 2024 tax roll, and takes effect July 1, 2023.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

Article VII, Section 18(b) of the Florida Constitution provides that, except upon the approval of each house of the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of the membership, the Legislature may not enact, amend, or repeal any general law if the anticipated effect of doing so would be to reduce the authority that municipalities or counties have to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989. However, the mandate requirement does not apply to laws having an insignificant impact,²¹ which for Fiscal Year 2022-2023 is forecast at approximately $2.3 million.²² As the Revenue Estimating Conference has estimated the bill will reduce local government revenue by $200,000 beginning in Fiscal Year 2024-2025, the mandates provision likely does not apply.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

None.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

²¹ FLA. CONST. art. VII, s. 18(d).

²² An insignificant fiscal impact is the amount not greater than the average statewide population for the applicable fiscal year times $0.10. See Florida Senate Committee on Community Affairs, Interim Report 2012-115: Insignificant Impact, (Sept. 2011), available at <http://www.flsenate.gov/PublishedContent/Session/2012/InterimReports/2012-115ca.pdf> (last visited Mar. 15, 2023).

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:A. Tax/Fee Issues:

The Revenue Estimating Conference has estimated the bill will reduce local government revenue by $200,000 beginning in Fiscal Year 2024-2025.²³

B. Private Sector Impact:

The bill may positively impact property owners who take advantage of the granted refund.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill may negatively impact local governments who furnish the refund to newly eligible property owners.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends section 196.081 of the Florida Statutes.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

None.

B. Amendments:

None.
