 - Include in the alignment of university missions, and in its strategic plan, economic development needs of the state and nondegree credential attainment, respectively.
- Modifies personnel policies at each university by:
 - Assigning hiring authority to the president, who may delegate authority to the executive team or individual deans.
 - Prohibiting a pledge or oath in the admissions or personnel process except those to state or federal law, or the State or United States Constitution.
 - Specifying that the faculty grievance process terminates with the university president.
 - Requiring the university president to present to the university board of trustees evaluations and salaries for personnel earning over $200,000.

- Modifies the general education program to:

- Require a periodic review of general education core courses.
- Specify standards for general education core course. Require a college or university board of trustees and its state-level governing board to approve general education courses at the institution.

Creates the Institute for Risk Management and Insurance Education, and modifies the purpose, goals, or authorized activities of the Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education, Florida Institute of Politics, and the Adam Smith Center for the Study of Economic Freedom.

- Specifies that a required change in accreditation for public postsecondary institutions is a one-time-only change, and prohibits an accrediting agency from compelling an institution to violate state law.
- Modifies the “buy one, get one free” tuition waiver program to include up to two state-approved teacher preparation programs, and specifies that students may not lose the tuition waiver if the program is removed from the approved list after enrollment.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2023.

II. Present Situation:

The Present Situation is included in the Effect of Proposed Changes section of the analysis.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Board of Governors

Present Situation

Powers and Duties

The State University System (SUS) is composed of 12 public universities. The Board of Governors (BOG) is responsible to operate, regulate, control, and be fully responsible for the management of the whole SUS. Fourteen of the 17 members of the BOG are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.¹

For each constituent university, the BOG, is responsible for cost-effective policy decisions appropriate to the university’s mission, the implementation and maintenance of high-quality education programs within law, the measurement of performance, the reporting of information, and the provision of input regarding state policy, budgeting, and education standards.² The BOG is, among other duties, responsible for defining the distinctive mission of each constituent university, accounting for expenditures, adopting a strategic plan for the university system and each university, and taking action on proposed or current degree programs.³

Tenure Review

The Board of Governors may adopt a regulation requiring each tenured state university faculty member to undergo a comprehensive post-tenure review every 5 years. The board may include other considerations in the regulation, but the regulation must address:

³ Section 1001.705(2), F.S.

- Accomplishments and productivity;
- Assigned duties in research, teaching, and service;
- Performance metrics, evaluations, and ratings; and
- Recognition and compensation considerations, as well as improvement plans and consequences for underperformance.⁴

On March 29, 2023, the BOG approved its regulation requiring each university BOT to adopt policies regarding a post-tenure faculty review.⁵

According to Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System, in Fall 2021, there were 12,435 individuals with faculty status at Florida public universities, of those, 5,652 are tenured, 2,058 are on a tenure track, and 4,725 are not on a tenure track or are at an institution without a tenure system.⁶ Florida Gulf Coast University and Florida Polytechnic University do not have a tenure system.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Powers and Duties

The bill modifies s. 1001.706, F.S., to require the BOG, in its alignment of the mission of state universities to specified goals, include the existing and emerging economic development needs of the state. Similarly, the bill requires the BOG to include in its strategic plan criteria and metrics for non-degree credentials.

Tenure Review

The bill modifies s. 1001.706, F.S., to require, rather than authorize, the BOG to adopt a regulation requiring each tenured state university faculty member to undergo a comprehensive post-tenure review every 5 years.

Personnel

Present Situation

University Board of Trustees

Each local constituent university is administered by a board of trustees (BOT) composed of 6 citizen members appointed by the Governor and 5 citizen members appointed by the Board of Governors (BOG), all confirmed by the Senate.⁷ The BOG establishes the powers and duties of the boards of trustees. The university president serves as the chief executive officer to the board of trustees and is responsible to the board of trustees for all operations of the university.⁸

Responsibilities of a university BOT include:

⁵ Board of Governors Regulation 10.003.

⁶ Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System. Statistical Tables: Fall 2021; (Report on file with Senate Committee on Education).

⁷ FLA. CONST., art. IX, s. 7(c).

⁸ Board of Governors Regulation 1.001.

- Administration of the university in a manner that is dedicated to, and consistent with the university's and system's mission.
- Preparing a workplan to outline strategic directions and specific actions, and performance expectations and outcomes for institutional and systemwide goals.
- Adopting university regulations regarding degree programs, access, academic performance standards, student activities, and student code of conduct.
- Establishing a personnel program for all employees of the university.
- The financial management of the university.
- Compliance with all applicable laws, rules, regulations, and requirements.⁹

Each board of trustees establishes the powers and duties of the university president. The university president serves as the chief executive officer to the board of trustees and is responsible to the board of trustees for all operations of the university.¹⁰

Pledges and Oaths

Nearly one in five professors are now being selected based on not only academic merit but also their commitment to a particular ideological vision.¹¹ In a 2020 survey, most college students believe efforts at diversity and inclusion “frequently” (27%) or “occasionally” (49%) come into conflict with free speech rights.¹²

At the University of North Carolina, the board of trustees recently approved a change to its policy regarding political activities, to read:

[T]he University shall neither solicit nor require an employee or applicant for academic admission or employment to affirmatively ascribe to or opine about beliefs, affiliations, ideals, or principles regarding matters of contemporary political debate or social action as a condition to admission, employment, or professional advancement. Nor shall any employee or applicant be solicited or required to describe his or her actions in support of, or in opposition to, such beliefs, affiliations, ideals, or principles. Practices prohibited here include but are not limited to solicitations or requirements for statements of commitment to particular views on matters of contemporary political debate or social action contained on applications or qualifications for admission or employment or included as criteria for analysis of an employee's career progression.¹³

The U.S. Supreme Court (Court) has repeatedly held that the right to free speech protected by the first amendment to the constitution protects an individual from being compelled to speak. “If there is any fixed star in our constitutional constellation, it is that no official, high or petty, can prescribe what shall be orthodox in politics, nationalism, religion, or other matters of opinion or force citizens to confess by word or act their faith therein.”¹⁴ Stated even more plainly, the Court has held that free speech principles prohibit the government from telling people what they must say.¹⁵ Additionally, an individual is also protected from being compelled to host or accommodate the speech of another.¹⁶

The Court has consistently struck down mandatory political loyalty oaths, particularly in the education setting.¹⁷ The Court established a four-part test for reviewing the constitutionality of such oaths, requiring that:

- The oath may not infringe on First or Fourteenth Amendment rights;
- Employment may not be conditioned on an oath that one has not engaged in, or will not engage in, protected speech activities;
- Employment may not be conditioned on an oath denying past or avoiding future associational activities protected by the Constitution; and
- The oath may not be so vague that a person of ordinary intelligence must guess at its meaning.¹⁸

Grievance Procedures

Each public employer and bargaining agent is required to negotiate a grievance procedure to be used for the settlement of disputes between employer and employee, or group of employees, involving the interpretation or application of a collective bargaining agreement. The grievance procedure must have as its terminal step a final and binding disposition by an impartial neutral, mutually selected by the parties. If an employee organization is certified as the bargaining agent of a unit, the grievance procedure then in existence may be the subject of collective bargaining, and any agreement which is reached shall supersede the previously existing procedure. All public employees shall have the right to a fair and equitable grievance procedure administered without regard to membership or nonmembership in any organization.¹⁹

Effect of Proposed Changes

Hiring and Personnel Authority

The bill creates s. 1001.741, F.S., to assign final authority for hiring the provost, deans, and full-time faculty to the president of the university. The president may delegate hiring authority to individuals on the university’s executive management team, to the provost, or to individual deans; however, the bill specifies that the president or the person delegated hiring authority is not bound by the recommendations or opinions of faculty or other individuals.

¹⁸ Cole v. Richardson, 405 U.S. 676 (1972).

¹⁹ Section 447.401, F.S.

The bill specifies that the president has an ongoing duty to assess the performance, productivity, and employment practices of the university's provost and deans. The president of the university is encouraged to engage in faculty recruiting as appropriate, and shall provide a regular report and recommendations on employment practices to the university board of trustees at least twice annually.

The bill requires each state university board of trustees to have procedures for the review of the president's selection and reappointment of each member of the university's executive management team, and his or her respective contract and annual salary, before such contracts and salaries become effective, in accordance with the personnel program established by the Board of Governors.

Finally, the bill requires each university president to annually present to his or her board of trustees for review the results of performance evaluations and associated salaries of all evaluated personnel earning an annual compensation of $200,000 or more, regardless of fund source.

Pledges and Oaths

The bill prohibits a state university from requiring any statement, pledge, or oath other than to uphold general and federal law, the United States Constitution, and the State Constitution as a part of any admissions, hiring, employment, promotion, tenure, disciplinary, or evaluation process.

Grievance Procedures

The bill replaces the requirement in law regarding grievance procedures to specify that personnel actions or decisions regarding faculty, including in the areas of evaluations, promotions, tenure, discipline, or termination, may not be appealed beyond the level of a university president or designee. Such actions or decisions must have as their terminal step a final agency disposition, which must be issued in writing to the faculty member, and are not subject to arbitration. The filing of a grievance does not pause or delay the action or decision of the university, including the termination of pay and benefits of a suspended or terminated faculty member.

Requirements for College and University Programs and Expenditures Present Situation

A recent statement by the presidents of the Florida College System (FCS) addressed discrimination in instruction, training, and policies, which states in part:

In the development of knowledge, research endeavors, and creative activities, a college faculty and student body must be free to cultivate a spirit of inquiry and scholarly criticism, and to examine ideas in an atmosphere of freedom and confidence, free from shielding and in a nondiscriminatory manner.

The FCS presidents remain committed to developing campus environments that uphold objectivity in teaching and learning and in professional development and that welcome all voices—environments in which students, faculty, and staff can pursue their academic interests without fear of reprisal or being “canceled.”

To be clear in this environment, the FCS presidents, by and through the FCS Council of Presidents (COP), will ensure that all initiatives, instruction, and activities do not promote any ideology that suppresses intellectual and academic freedom, freedom of expression, viewpoint diversity, and the pursuit of truth in teaching and learning. As such, our institutions will not fund or support any institutional practice, policy, or academic requirement that compels belief in critical race theory or related concepts such as intersectionality, or the idea that systems of oppression should be the primary lens through which teaching and learning are analyzed and/or improved upon.

Critical Theory is a philosophical and social theory originating from several generations of German philosophers and social theorists in the Western European Marxist tradition known as the Frankfurt School. It involves an examination of social structures to seek “human emancipation” in circumstances of domination and oppression.²⁰ Critical theorists maintain that a primary goal of philosophy is to understand and to help overcome the social structures through which people are dominated and oppressed.²¹ Examples of Critical Theory are feminist theory, critical race theory, postcolonial theory, and Marxist theory.

On December 28, 2022, the Executive Office of the Governor directed the colleges and universities to provide a comprehensive list of all staff, programs and campus activities related to diversity, equity and inclusion and critical race theory. The list must include costs associated with the administration of each program or activity, including a description of the activities, paid positions and how much of the money is provided by the state. The results of the survey for the State University System indicated that state universities spend approximately $34.5 million on such activities, with about $20.7 million from state funds.²²

Florida Educational Equity Act

The “Florida Educational Equity Act” prohibits discrimination in any program or employment condition on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, religion, or marital status against a student or an employee in the state system of public K-20 education.

Included in the prohibition on discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, or sex is subjecting any student or employee to training or instruction that espouses, promotes, advances, inculcates, or compels such student or employee to believe any of the following concepts:

- Members of one race, color, national origin, or sex are morally superior to members of another race, color, national origin, or sex.
- A person, by virtue of his or her race, color, national origin, or sex, is inherently racist, sexist, or oppressive, whether consciously or unconsciously.
- A person’s moral character or status as either privileged or oppressed is necessarily determined by his or her race, color, national origin, or sex.

- Members of one race, color, national origin, or sex cannot and should not attempt to treat others without respect to race, color, national origin, or sex.
- A person, by virtue of his or her race, color, national origin, or sex, bears responsibility for, or should be discriminated against or receive adverse treatment because of, actions committed in the past by other members of the same race, color, national origin, or sex.
- A person, by virtue of his or her race, color, national origin, or sex, should be discriminated against or receive adverse treatment to achieve diversity, equity, or inclusion.
- A person, by virtue of his or her race, color, sex, or national origin, bears personal responsibility for and must feel guilt, anguish, or other forms of psychological distress because of actions, in which the person played no part, committed in the past by other members of the same race, color, national origin, or sex.
- Such virtues as merit, excellence, hard work, fairness, neutrality, objectivity, and racial colorblindness are racist or sexist, or were created by members of a particular race, color, national origin, or sex to oppress members of another race, color, national origin, or sex.²³

Effect of Proposed Changes

University Mission and Accountability

The bill modifies s. 1001.706, F.S., to require the BOG to periodically review the mission of each constituent university and make updates or revisions as needed. Upon completion of a review of the mission, the BOG must review existing academic programs to ensure alignment with the mission. The BOG must include in its review a directive to each constituent university to examine its programs for any violation of the Florida Educational Equity Act in s. 1000.05, F.S., or that are based on theories that systemic racism, sexism, oppression, and privilege are inherent in the institutions of the United States and were created to maintain social, political, and economic inequities.

Prohibited Expenditures

The bill adds to current spending restrictions in law for memberships or good and services from any organization that discriminates on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, or religion.²⁴ The bill modifies s. 1004.06, F.S., to specify that a Florida College System institution, state university, Florida College System institution direct-support organization,²⁵ or state university direct-support organization may not expend any funds, regardless of source, to promote, support, or maintain any programs or campus activities that:

- Violate the concepts in Florida Educational Equity Act in s. 1000.05, F.S.
- Are based on theories that systemic racism, sexism, oppression, and privilege are inherent in the institutions of the United States and were created to maintain social, political, and economic inequities.

However, the bill exempts from this provision programs required for compliance with federal laws or regulations; for obtaining or retaining institutional or discipline-specific accreditation; for securing or retaining research contracts, grants, and cooperative agreements; or access programs for military veterans, Pell Grant recipients, first generation college students, nontraditional students, “2+2” transfer students from the Florida College System, students from low-income families, or students with unique abilities.

²³ Section 1000.05(4)(a), F.S.

²⁴ Section 1004.06, F.S.

²⁵ Direct-support organizations (DSOs) are statutorily created private entities that are generally required to be non-profit corporations, and are authorized to carry out specific tasks in support of public entities or public causes.

The bill authorizes the SBE and BOG to adopt rules and regulations to implement these provisions.

Preeminent State Research Universities Program

Present Situation

The Preeminent State Research University program is a collaborative partnership between the Board of Governors (BOG) and the Legislature to elevate the academic and research preeminence of Florida’s highest performing state research universities.²⁶ A state research university that meets at least 11 of the 12 academic and research excellence standards specified in law is designated as a preeminent state research university.²⁷

The academic and research excellence standards are:

- An average weighted grade point average of 4.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale and an average SAT score of 1200 or higher on a 1600-point scale or an average ACT score of 25 or higher on a 36 score scale, for fall semester incoming freshmen.
- A top-50 ranking on at least two well-known and highly respected national public university rankings using the most recent rankings.
- A freshman retention rate of 90 percent or higher for full-time, first-time-in-college (FTIC) students.
- A 4-year graduation rate of 60 percent or higher for full-time, FTIC students.
- Six or more faculty members at the state university who are members of a national academy.
- Total annual research expenditures, including federal research expenditures, of $200 million or more.
- Total annual research expenditures in diversified nonmedical sciences of $150 million or more.
- A top-100 university national ranking for research expenditures in five or more science, technology, engineering, or mathematics fields of study.
- One hundred or more total patents awarded by the United States Patent and Trademark Office for the most recent 3-year period.
- Four hundred or more doctoral degrees awarded annually, including professional doctoral degrees awarded in medical and health care disciplines.
- Two hundred or more postdoctoral appointees annually.
- An endowment of $500 million or more.²⁸

A state university that meets at least 6 of the 12 academic and research excellence standards is designated as an “emerging preeminent state research university.”²⁹

²⁶ Section 1001.7065(1), F.S.

²⁷ Section 1001.7065(3), F.S.

²⁸ Section 1001.7065(2), F.S.

²⁹ Section 1001.7065(3)(b), F.S.

In the most recent State University System Accountability Plan, Florida State University, the University of Florida, and the University of South Florida are designated as preeminent state research universities. Florida International University and the University of Central Florida are designated as emerging preeminent state research universities.³⁰

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill amends s. 1001.7065, F.S. to add another criteria to the academic and research excellence standards for designation as a preeminent or emerging preeminent state research university. The bills adds the total annual STEM-related research expenditures of $50 million or more, which includes federal research expenditures.

Accordingly, because the bill increases from 12 to 13 the total number of standards, the bill modifies the total number of standards that an institution must meet to be designated as a preeminent or emerging preeminent state research university. The bill specifies that an institution must meet 12 standards for a preeminence designation, and 7 standards for an emerging preeminent designation.

General Education

Present Situation

Associate in Arts (AA) degrees at an FCS or SUS institution to be no more than 60 semester hours of college credit and include 36 semester hours of general education course work. A baccalaureate degree must be no more than 120 semester hours of college credit, unless prior approval has been granted by the BOG or the SBE, as applicable, and include 36 semester hours of general education coursework.

General Education Core

Students initially entering an FCS or SUS institution in 2015-2016 and thereafter, are required to complete at least one identified general education core course in each of the subject areas of communication, mathematics, social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences. All public postsecondary educational institutions are required to accept these courses as meeting general education core course requirements. Beginning in 2022-2023, the general education core course requirement is extended to students in an associate in applied science and associate in science degree program.³¹

General education core course options consist of a maximum of five courses in each identified subject area, but may exceed that limit with SBE or BOG approval. The general education core courses are established in SBE rule³² and BOG regulation³³ and include the following courses:

- Communication:

³⁴ Rule 6A-14.0303, F.A.C. and Board of Governors Regulation 8.005.

Transfer of General Education Courses

Each public postsecondary institution must accept in transfer general education core courses taken at another institution. After completing the general education core course requirements, the remaining courses and credits that fulfill the total 36-hour general education requirement for an associate in arts or baccalaureate degree are at the discretion of the FCS or SUS institution.³⁵

General education programs in Florida, while consistent at the general education core requirements and the total of 36 hours for completion, vary in the selection of institutionally-required courses. Students who transfer with an AA or associate in science (AS) degree, or who have completed their block of 36 general education hours do not have to meet the receiving institution's general education program requirements. If a student does not complete the total 36-hour general education curriculum prior to transfer, each course, outside of courses taken as general education courses, will be reviewed individually to determine if it meets the general education requirements of the new institution.³⁶

Articulation Coordinating Committee

The Commissioner of Education, in consultation with the Chancellor of the State University System, establishes the Articulation Coordinating Committee (ACC), whose primary role is to recommend statewide articulation policies. Specifically, the ACC must monitor articulation between education systems, propose guidelines for articulation agreements, publish lists of general education and common prerequisite courses, establish dual enrollment course equivalencies to high school credit, and annually review the Statewide Articulation Agreement.³⁷ The Office of K-20 Articulation within the Florida Department of Education provides administrative support to the ACC.³⁸

Statewide Course Numbering System

The Florida statewide course numbering system (SCNS) is a taxonomy of courses offered by participating postsecondary institutions in order to improve program planning and communication among all delivery systems, and facilitate student acceleration and the transfer of students and credits between public school districts, public postsecondary educational institutions, and participating nonpublic educational institutions.

Any student who transfers among participating postsecondary educational institutions must be awarded credit by the receiving institution for equivalent courses satisfactorily completed at the previous institution. Courses are considered equivalent if they are judged by the appropriate SCNS faculty committees to be academically equivalent, and are then assigned an equivalent course number. Credits awarded for equivalent courses must satisfy institutional requirements on the same basis as credits awarded to native students.³⁹

General Education Core Course Options

The bill modifies s. 1007.25, F.S., to require revisions to the general education core course options by faculty committees appointed by the State Board of Education (SBE) and Board of Governors (BOG). Faculty committees must, by July 1, 2024, and each four years thereafter, review and recommend to the Articulation Coordinating Committee (ACC) and the SBE and BOG changes to the core course options.

The bill establishes conditions and standards for the content and identification of courses as general education core, which include the following:

- General education core courses may not distort significant historical events or include a curriculum that teaches identity politics that violates Florida Educational Equity Act, or that are based on theories that systemic racism, sexism, oppression, and privilege are inherent in the institutions of the United States and were created to maintain social, political, and economic inequities.
- General education core courses must meet the following standards:
 - Communication courses must afford students the ability to communicate effectively, including the ability to write clearly and engage in public speaking.
 - Humanities courses must afford students the ability to think critically through the mastering of subjects concerned with human culture, especially literature, history, art, music, and philosophy, and must include selections from the Western canon.
 - Social science courses must afford students an understanding of the basic social and behavioral science concepts and principles used in the analysis of behavior and past and present social, political, and economic issues.
 - Natural science courses must afford students the ability to critically examine and evaluate the principles of the scientific method, model construction, and use the scientific method to explain natural experiences and phenomena.
 - Mathematics courses must afford students a mastery of foundational mathematical and computation models and methods by applying such models and methods in problem solving.

The bill requires each public postsecondary institution to offer at least one general education core course in each of the identified subject areas, and accept all such courses, whether or not the receiving institution offers that course.

The bill also protects a student who has completed a general education core course from having to take an additional core course in that subject area if the course is later removed from the identified list.

General Education Courses

The bill creates s. 1007.55, F.S., to specify general education course principles, standards, and content. The bill asserts that every undergraduate student of a Florida public postsecondary educational institution should graduate as an informed citizen through participation in rigorous general education courses that promote and preserve the constitutional republic through traditional, historically accurate, and high-quality coursework. General education courses should provide broad foundational knowledge to help students develop intellectual skills and habits that enable them to become more effective and lifelong learners. Courses with a curriculum based on unproven, speculative, or exploratory content are best suited as elective or specific program prerequisite credit, not general education credit.

The bill specifies that general education courses must meet the following criteria:

- Meet the course standards as provided in law.
- Whenever applicable, provide instruction on the historical background and philosophical foundations of Western civilization and this nation's historical documents, such as the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution, the Bill of Rights and subsequent amendments, and the Federalist Papers.

The bill specifies that public postsecondary educational institution boards of trustees (BOT) and presidents are responsible for annually reviewing and approving, at a public meeting, general education course requirements.

The following information must be included for each general education course record on the list for approval by the institution BOT:

- The general education distribution area;
- The number of state universities that offer the course and the number of Florida College System institutions that offer the course; and
- The course level.

Once the institution BOT has approved its general education list, each public postsecondary educational institution must annually submit to the Board of Governors or the State Board of Education, as applicable, the institution's listing of approved general education courses, which must include the information included on the BOT list of courses. The applicable state board must approve the institution general education course lists.

The bill requires public postsecondary educational institutions to report courses meeting institutional general education subject requirements to the department by their statewide course number, which is a current practice of the statewide course numbering system.

Public postsecondary educational institutions that fail to comply with the requirements of this section are not eligible to receive performance-based funding.

Finally, similar to the general education core courses, the bill specifies that an institution may not require a student who has completed a general education course from having to take an additional core course in that subject area if the course is later removed from the institution's identified list.

Institute for Risk Management & Insurance Education

Present Situation

Risk management and insurance is a major industry in Florida with a concentration in Volusia County. Like many others, the insurance industry is being revolutionized by integration of technology, predictive analytics, and data science, and becoming more complex given its exposure to transformative trends in the economy and the environment.

In Florida, the insurance industry is facing a capacity crisis given the state's population growth, attractiveness to business relocation, and multifaceted economic development. As risk valuations and comprehensive insurance solutions become more complex, the industry's workforce must be well versed in transformative technological, economic, and environmental trends, and develop a holistic set of skills in sales, service, negotiations, finance, economics, data analytics, and systems-level problem solving.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill creates the Institute for Risk Management & Insurance Education within the College of Business at the University of Central Florida. The bill requires that institute be located in Volusia County to best serve the partner industries, which are concentrated in that area. The purpose of the institute is to respond to the ever-evolving insurance and risk management industry and present and emerging needs of the state of Florida and its residents. The bill establishes following goals of the institute:

- Pursue technological innovations that advance risk valuation models and operational efficiencies in the insurance industry.
- Drive the development of workforce competencies in data analytics, system-level thinking, technology integration, entrepreneurship, and actuarial science.
- Leverage the University of Central Florida's world class assets in data science, artificial intelligence, computer science, engineering, finance, economics, and sales.
- Take advantage of the University of Central Florida's robust portfolio of academic program offerings and draw on faculty and industry experts in diverse fields, including actuarial science, computer science, economics, engineering, environmental science, finance, forensics, law, management, marketing, and psychology.
- Develop and offer risk management and insurance education, including education that recognizes risks in areas such as the environment, pandemic disease, and digital security.
- Offer programs, workshops, case studies, and applied research studies that integrate technology and artificial intelligence with soft skills while preparing students and professionals for the technology-enabled insurance industry of the future.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill modifies s. 1004.6496, F.S., to authorize, until July 1, 2024, the UF BOT to use charitable donations to establish and fund the center. The bill specifies that funds appropriated to the center may not be used for any other purpose, but UF may provide additional funding to the college.

The bill includes in the goals of the center educating university students on the Great Books of Western civilization. Also, the bill provides additional authorization to the center to:

- Hire necessary faculty and staff, pursuant to university president hiring authority specified in the bill;

Accreditation

Present Situation

In order for students to receive federal student aid from the U.S. Department of Education (USDOE) for postsecondary study, the institution must be accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting agency, be authorized by the State in which the institution is located, and receive approval from the USDOE through a program participation agreement.⁵¹

To gain or renew accreditation, an institution must be evaluated through a set of procedures established by an accrediting agency. Many of the procedures are guided by federal requirements.

The Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACSCOC) is the body for the accreditation of degree-granting higher education institutions in the Southern states. It serves as the common denominator of shared values and practices primarily among the diverse institutions in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Latin America and certain other international sites approved by the SACSCOC Board of Trustees that award associate, baccalaureate, master's, or doctoral degrees.⁵²

SACSCOC accredits 74 Florida public and private colleges and universities,⁵³ including 12 universities that make up the State University System of Florida, 28 institutions in the Florida College System, and 34 private colleges and universities.

The Board of Governors and the State Board of Education must identify accrediting agencies or associations best suited to serve as an institutional accreditor for state universities and Florida College System institutions, respectively. Such accrediting agencies or associations must be recognized by the database created and maintained by the United States Department of Education. A public postsecondary institution may not be accredited by the same accrediting agency or association for consecutive accreditation cycles. In the year following reaffirmation or fifth-year review by its accrediting agency or association, each public postsecondary institution is required to seek and obtain institutional accreditation from an accrediting agency or association identified by the BOG or SBE, respectively, before its next reaffirmation or fifth-year review date.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill modifies s. 1008.47, F.S., to clarify that a public postsecondary institution is not required to change accrediting agencies each accreditation cycle, but that the change in accreditation required in law is restricted to a one-time change, prior to the expiration of this requirement on December 31, 2032.

⁵³ Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges, SACSCOC Accredited and Candidate List (July 2021), available at <https://sacscoc.org/app/uploads/2019/11/Institutionswebmemlist.pdf>.

The bill also prohibits an accrediting agency or association from compelling any public postsecondary institution to violate state law, and specifies that any adverse action on the institution based upon the institution's compliance with state law constitutes a violation that may be enforced through the cause of action in law, which may result from agency retaliatory or adverse actions taken against the institution. The bill provides an exception to the consequences for specified accrediting agency actions to the extent that state law is preempted by a federal law that recognizes the necessity of the accreditation standard or requirement.

Buy One, Get One Free Tuition Waiver

State universities must provide a "buy one, get one free" (BOGO) tuition and fee waiver on upper-level courses in one of ten science, technology, engineering, or math (STEM) programs of strategic emphasis (PSE), as adopted by the Board of Governors (BOG). Specifically, for every course in a qualifying PSE in which a student is enrolled, a state university must waive 100 percent of the tuition and fees for an equivalent course in such program. To be eligible, a student must:

- Be an resident for tuition purposes;⁵⁴
- Earn at least 60 semester credit hours towards a baccalaureate degree within two academic years after initial enrollment at a Florida public postsecondary institution; and
- Be enrolled in one of 10 STEM PSE.⁵⁵

On June 22, 2021, the BOG adopted eight programs for the BOGO fee waiver: Civil Engineering, Computer + Information Science, Computer Engineering, Electrical + Electronics Engineering, Information Technology, Management Information Systems, Mathematics, and Physics.⁵⁶

Beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year, students are eligible to receive the tuition and fee waiver in two additional PSE, finance and accounting,⁵⁷ as adopted by the BOG.⁵⁸

The tuition and fee waiver is applicable only for upper-level courses and for up to 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree program for which the student is enrolled.⁵⁹ For example, for a 120-credit hour state university baccalaureate degree program, the waiver is applicable unless the student has earned an excess of 132 credit hours.

⁵⁴ A student who is classified as a "resident for tuition purposes" is a student who qualifies for the in-state tuition rate. Section 1009.21(1)(g), F.S.

⁵⁹ Section 1009.26(18)(b), F.S.

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill modifies s. 1009.26, F.S., to add to the eligible programs under the tuition and fee waiver a state-approved teacher preparation program identified by the BOG. The bill specifies that beginning in the 2023-2024 academic year, a student may receive the waiver for enrollment in one of two state-approved teacher preparation programs identified by the BOG.

The bill clarifies that the criteria provided for the BOG to select a program for eligibility for the tuition waiver must apply only at the time the BOG approves the list.

Finally, the bill protects students from losing the waiver based on a change to an approved program. The bill authorizes a student to continue receiving the waiver until he or she graduates, exceeds the number of allowable credits, or exits the program, regardless of whether the program is removed from the approved list subsequent to the student's enrollment.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2023.
