BILL: SB 54

INTRODUCER: Senator Rodriguez

SUBJECT: Expunction of Criminal History Records

DATE: December 4, 2023

REVISED: _____

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION

2.	_____	_____	FP	_____

I. Summary:

SB 54 amends s. 943.0585, F.S., to permit a person who has had one prior expunction granted for an offense that was committed when he or she was a minor to have another eligible record expunged. If the prior expunction was for an offense in which the minor was charged as an adult, the person is not eligible for a subsequent expunction. This bill also provides that the record is exempt from the 10 year sealing requirement.

Additionally, this bill specifies that a person is not eligible for expunction if the indictment, information, or other charging document in the case giving rise to the criminal history record was dismissed pursuant to s. 916.145, F.S., or s. 985.19, F.S., which provides statutory guidelines for the dismissal of charges when a defendant is adjudicated incompetent to proceed due to mental illness.

This bill may generate additional workload and IT costs for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE), which may be offset by revenues from processing fees. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

This bill is effective July 1, 2024.

II. Present Situation:

There are multiple types of relief that may be sought in order to seal or expunge a criminal history record. The public will not have access to a criminal history record that has been sealed or expunged. Certain government or related entities have access to records even after they are sealed. Most of the entities who have access to sealed records also have access to see whether a person has had an expunction. However, those entities do not have access to the expunged criminal history record without a court order.¹

Sealing and Expunction of Criminal History Records

A criminal history record includes any non-judicial record maintained by a criminal justice agency² that contains criminal history information.³ Criminal history information is information collected by criminal justice agencies and consists of identifiable descriptions of individuals and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, informations, other formal criminal charges, and criminal dispositions.⁴

Expunction of a Criminal History Record

A person may have his or her criminal history record expunged under certain circumstances.⁵ When a record is expunged, the criminal justice agencies possessing such record must physically destroy or obliterate it. The FDLE maintains a copy of the record to evaluate subsequent requests for sealing or expunction, and to recreate the record in the event a court vacates the order to expunge.⁶ The criminal history record retained by the FDLE is confidential and exempt.⁷ Once the record is expunged, a person may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests covered by the expunged record, subject to exceptions.⁸

Certificate of Eligibility

Before petitioning a court to expunge a criminal history record, a person must apply to the FDLE for a certificate of eligibility for expunction. The FDLE must issue a certificate of eligibility for expunction to a person who is the subject of a criminal history record if that person:

- Is eligible for expunction, as described above;
- Has submitted to the FDLE a written certified statement from the appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor which confirms the criminal history record complies with specified criteria;⁹
- Has submitted to the FDLE a certified copy of the disposition of the charge to which the petition pertains; and

² Section 943.045(11), F.S., provides that criminal justice agencies include a court, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE), the Department of Juvenile Justice, components of the Department of Children and Families, other governmental agencies that administrate criminal justice, and the investigations component of the Department of Financial Services.

- Pays a $75 processing fee to the FDLE.¹⁰

A certificate of eligibility for expunction is valid for 12 months after the date stamped on the certificate when issued by the FDLE.¹¹

Court Ordered Expunction

A court, in its discretion, may order the expunction of a person's criminal history record if the FDLE issues the person a certificate of eligibility for expunction.¹² The FDLE must issue a certificate of eligibility for court-ordered expunction to a person meeting all criteria.¹³ Generally, a person is eligible for expunction if:

- An indictment, information, or other charging document was not filed or issued in the case giving rise to the criminal history record.
- An indictment, information, or other charging document was filed or issued in the case giving rise to the criminal history record, but was dismissed or nolle prosequi by the State, was dismissed by the court, a judgment of acquittal was rendered, or a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

Sealing of a Criminal History Record

When a criminal history record is sealed, it is preserved so that it is secure and inaccessible to any person who does not have a legal right to access the record or the information contained within the record.²³ A court may order a criminal history record sealed,²⁴ rendering it confidential and exempt from Florida's public records laws.²⁵ Only the following entities may access a sealed criminal history record:

- The subject of the record;
- His or her attorney;
- Criminal justice agencies for criminal justice purposes;
- Judges in the state courts system for assisting in their case-related decision-making responsibilities; and
- Certain enumerated entities²⁶ for licensing, access authorization, and employment purposes.²⁷

Certificate of Eligibility

To seal a record, a person must first apply to the FDLE for a certificate of eligibility, which the FDLE must issue to a person who:

- Has submitted a certified copy of the charge disposition he or she seeks to seal;
- Is not seeking to seal a criminal history record relating to a violation of certain enumerated offenses;
- Has never, prior to filing the application for a certificate of eligibility, been either:
 - Adjudicated guilty of any criminal offense or comparable ordinance violation; or
 - Adjudicated delinquent of any felony or certain enumerated misdemeanors as a juvenile.
- Has not been adjudicated guilty or delinquent for committing any of the acts stemming from the arrest or alleged criminal activity to which the petition to seal pertains;

Court Ordered Sealing

Upon receiving a certificate of eligibility from the FDLE, a person must petition the court to seal the record.²⁹ A complete petition contains both a valid certificate of eligibility, issued within the previous 12 months, and a sworn statement from the petitioner attesting to his or her eligibility.³⁰ It is solely within the court's discretion to grant or deny a petition to seal.³¹

Upon sealing of a criminal history record, the subject of the record may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests covered by the sealed record, with exceptions for certain state employment positions, professional licensing purposes, purchasing a firearm, applying for a concealed weapons permit, seeking expunction, or if the subject is a defendant in a criminal prosecution.³²

Dismissal Incompetence to Proceed Due to Mental Illness

Section 916.145, F.S., provides that the charges against a defendant who has been adjudicated incompetent to proceed due to mental illness must be dismissed without prejudice to the state if the defendant remains incompetent to proceed for 5 continuous, uninterrupted years after such determination, unless the court in its order specifies:

- Its reason for believing that the defendant will become competent to proceed within the foreseeable future; and
- The time within which the defendant is expected to become competent to proceed.

The court may dismiss charges against a defendant who has been adjudicated incompetent to proceed due to mental illness 3 years after such determination, unless the charge is for a specified offense.³³

The state may refile any charge that was dismissed pursuant to s. 916.145, F.S.

³³ Section 916.145(1)(a)-(u), F.S.; Specified offenses include: arson; sexual battery; robbery; kidnapping; aggravated child abuse; aggravated abuse of an elderly person or disabled adult; aggravated assault with a deadly weapon; murder; manslaughter; aggravated manslaughter of an elderly person or disabled adult; aggravated manslaughter of a child; unlawful throwing, projecting, placing, or discharging of a destructive device or bomb; armed burglary; aggravated battery; aggravated stalking; a forcible felony as defined in s. 776.08, F.S.; an offense where an element of the offense requires the possession, use, or discharge of a firearm; an attempt to commit any offense listed herein; an offense allegedly committed by a defendant who has had a forcible or violent felony conviction within the 5 years immediately preceding the date of arrest for the nonviolent felony sought to be dismissed; an offense allegedly committed by a defendant who, after having been found incompetent and placed under court supervision in a community-based program, is formally charged by a state attorney or the Office of the Statewide Prosecutor with a new felony offense; or an offense for which there is an identifiable victim and such victim has not consented to the dismissal.

Section 985.19, F.S., provides the process for a finding of incompetency in juvenile delinquency cases. The court retains jurisdiction for up to two years after a child is found incompetent. If the court determines at any time that the child will never become competent to proceed, the court may dismiss the delinquency petition. The court must dismiss a delinquency petition if, after the two years following the order of incompetency, the child has not attained competency and there is no evidence that the child will attain competency within a year.³⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 943.0585, F.S., to permit a person who has had one prior expunction granted for an offense that was committed when he or she was a minor to have another eligible record expunged. If the prior expunction was for an offense in which the minor was charged as an adult, the person is not eligible for a subsequent expunction. This bill also provides that the record is exempt from the 10 year sealing requirement.

Additionally, this bill specifies that a person is not eligible for expunction if the indictment, information, or other charging document in the case giving rise to the criminal history record was dismissed pursuant to s. 916.145 F.S., or s. 985.19, F.S., which provides statutory guidelines for the dismissal of charges when a defendant is adjudicated incompetent to proceed due to mental illness.

This bill is effective July 1, 2024.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

As of August 31, 2023, the Computerized Criminal History (CCH) repository contains 243,474 unique individuals with 348,497 criminal history events (totaling 471,868 charges) that occurred while they were under the age of 18 and treated as juveniles and were not adjudicated delinquent, received an adjudication withheld, or adjudicated guilty. These individuals also did not have an adjudication of guilt anywhere on their criminal history record maintained within the CCH repository.³⁵

The above totals do not take into account individuals whose qualifying charge does not appear on their CCH record maintained in the repository. Charges are outside of CCH due to the individual not being fingerprinted for the event (typically being issued a notice to appear). As such, there is not a means of quantifying the additional number of individuals who may be eligible. Due to the added workload and complexity of the research required, the FDLE reports it will need 2 FTE Criminal Justice Information Analyst II, totaling $139,530 in recurring and $9,364 in nonrecurring.³⁶

There are approximately 3,306 criminal history records in the CCH repository for juvenile offenses that have been granted relief through a court-ordered expunction under s. 943.0585, F.S. This number does not account for those charges that are not maintained within CCH due to CCH only retaining fingerprint-based offenses. Those individuals would now be potentially eligible to receive additional relief for an adult charge under s. 943.0585, F.S.³⁷

The FDLE estimates that if programmatic changes are required, the analysis, design, programming and testing will total approximately $35,000 (non-recurring) and an estimated 5 weeks to complete.³⁸

TOTAL FISCAL AS REPORTED BY THE FDLE: $183,894 ($44,364 non-recurring).
