SUMMARY ANALYSIS

State law authorizes legislative designations of transportation facilities, such as bridges, interchanges, or portions of roads, for honorary or memorial purposes or to distinguish a particular facility. Legislative designations do not change the official names of the facilities and do not require local governments and private entities to change street signs, mailing addresses, or 911 emergency telephone system listings to account for the designations. The Department of Transportation (DOT) may not erect markers for a designation unless the appropriate city or county commission enacts a resolution supporting the designation.

The bill designates the “Dylan Roberts Memorial Crosswalk” in Alachua County. Under the bill, DOT must erect suitable markers for the designation.

The bill will have an insignificant negative fiscal impact to the State Transportation Trust Fund associated with erecting suitable markers for the designation. The cost can be absorbed within DOT’s existing resources.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2024.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Present Situation

Transportation Facility Designations

Under current law, the Legislature may designate a transportation facility, such as a bridge, interchange, or portion of a road, for honorary or memorial purposes or to distinguish a particular facility. Legislative designations do not officially change the existing names of the facilities and do not require local governments or private entities to change street signs, mailing addresses, or 911 emergency telephone-number system listings to account for the designations.¹

Regarding the naming of state buildings and other facilities, state law provides that except as specifically provided by law, state buildings, roads, bridges, parks, recreational complexes, and other similar facilities may not be named for a living person.²

Transportation Facility Markers

When the Legislature establishes transportation facility designations, the Department of Transportation (DOT) is required to place a marker at each terminus or intersection of the highway segment or bridge designated and may erect other markers it deems appropriate for the designated transportation facility.³ Markers may not be erected until the appropriate city or county commission passes a resolution in support of the particular designation. Additionally, if the designated facility is located in multiple cities or counties, each affected local government must pass a resolution in support of the designation before DOT can install the markers.⁴

Dylan Roberts

On October 27, 2021, four-year-old Dylan Roberts was struck by a car while he was crossing University Avenue to return home from Fred Cone Park. To honor his memory, a crosswalk was installed across East University Avenue between Northeast 26th Terrace and Southeast 26th Terrace in Alachua County.⁵

Effect of the Bill

The bill designates the pedestrian-activated lighted crosswalk on that portion of East University Avenue/S.R. 26 between Northeast 26th Terrace and Southeast 26th Terrace in Alachua County as “Dylan Roberts Memorial Crosswalk”. The bill directs DOT to erect suitable markers.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

DOT estimates a cost of $1,800 per designation for the appropriate markers, which provides for two signs per designation at $900 per sign.⁶ Therefore, the bill has an estimated negative fiscal impact of $1,800 to the State Transportation Trust Fund. This cost can be absorbed within existing DOT resources.⁷

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

None.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

None.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. This bill does not appear to affect county or municipal governments.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

None.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

None.
