SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Baker Act provides legal procedures for voluntary and involuntary mental health examination and treatment, while the Marchman Act addresses substance abuse through a comprehensive system of prevention, detoxification, and treatment services.

Currently, all Baker Act petitions for voluntary and involuntary mental health treatment, court orders, and related records filed with a court are confidential and exempt from public record requirements. Similarly, all Marchman Act petitions for involuntary assessment and stabilization, court orders, and related records are confidential and exempt from public record requirements. Under both Acts, the clerk of court is prohibited from posting personal identifying information on the court docket or in publicly accessible files and may only release confidential and exempt documents to specified individuals. Current law retroactively applies the exemption to all documents filed under both Acts to a specified date, but does not expressly apply the exemption to pending or filed appeals.

The bill makes hearings under the Baker Act and under Parts IV and V of the Marchman Act confidential, absent a judicial finding of good cause or the respondent's consent. The bill expands the exemption from public record requirements to include a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and applications for voluntary mental health examinations or treatment and substance abuse treatment. The bill also adds service providers to the list of individuals to whom the clerk of court may disclose confidential and exempt pleadings and other documents. In addition to applying to documents that were previously filed with a court, these new exemptions also apply to appeals pending or filed on or after July 1, 2024. The bill creates a narrow exception that allows courts to use a respondent's name in certain instances.

The bill provides that the public record and public meeting exemptions are subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and will stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless the saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature. The bill also provides the constitutionally required public necessity statements.

The bill may have an indeterminate, but likely insignificant, negative fiscal impact on the State Courts System.

The bill will become effective on the same date that CS/CS/HB 7021 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof, and becomes law.

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly-created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record and public meeting exemption; thus, it requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Open Government

The Florida Constitution sets forth the state's public policy regarding access to government records and meetings.<sup>1</sup> Every person is guaranteed a right to inspect or copy any public record of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of government.<sup>2</sup> All meetings of any collegial public body of the executive branch of state government or any collegial public body of a county, municipality, school district, or special district, at which official acts are to be taken or at which public business of such body is to be transacted or discussed, must be open and noticed to the public.<sup>3</sup> The Legislature, however, may provide by general law an exemption<sup>4</sup> from public record or meeting requirements provided that the exemption passes by a two-thirds vote of each chamber, states with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption, and is no broader than necessary to meet its public purpose.<sup>5</sup>

Pursuant to the Open Government Sunset Review Act,<sup>6</sup> a new public record or meeting exemption or substantial amendment of an existing exemption is repealed on October 2nd of the fifth year following enactment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.<sup>7</sup>

Public Records

Current law also addresses the public policy regarding access to government records, guaranteeing every person a right to inspect and copy any state, county, or municipal record, unless the record is exempt.<sup>8</sup> Furthermore, the Open Government Sunset Review Act provides that a public record exemption may be created, revised, or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose and the "Legislature finds that the purpose is sufficiently compelling to override the strong public policy of open government and cannot be accomplished without the exemption."<sup>9</sup> An identifiable public purpose is served if the exemption meets one of the following purposes:

- Allow the state or its political subdivisions to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, which administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption;
- Protect sensitive personal information that, if released, would be defamatory or would jeopardize an individual's safety; however, only the identity of an individual may be exempted under this provision; or
- Protect trade or business secrets.<sup>10</sup>

Public Meetings

Current law also addresses public policy regarding access to government meetings, further requiring all meetings of any board or commission of any state agency or authority, or of any agency or authority of any county, municipality, or political subdivision, at which official acts are to be taken to be open to the public at all times, unless the meeting is exempt.<sup>11</sup> The board or commission must provide reasonable notice of all public meetings.<sup>12</sup> Public meetings may not be held at any location that discriminates on the basis of sex, age, race, creed, color, origin, or economic status or that operates in a manner that unreasonably restricts the public's access to the facility.<sup>13</sup> Minutes of a public meeting must be promptly recorded and open to public inspection.<sup>14</sup> Failure to abide by public meeting requirements will invalidate any resolution, rule, or formal action adopted at a meeting.<sup>15</sup> A public officer or member of a governmental entity who violates public meeting requirements is subject to civil and criminal penalties.<sup>16</sup>

Mental Health and Mental Illness

Mental health is a state of well-being in which the individual is able to cope with the normal stresses of life, realize his or her abilities, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to contribute to his or her community.<sup>17</sup> The primary indicators used to evaluate an individual's mental health are:<sup>18</sup>

- Emotional well-being- Perceived life satisfaction, happiness, cheerfulness, peacefulness;
- Psychological well-being- Self-acceptance, personal growth, including openness to new experiences, optimism, hopefulness, purpose in life, control of one's environment, spirituality, self-direction, and positive relationships; and
- Social well-being- Social acceptance, beliefs in the potential of people and society as a whole, personal self-worth and usefulness to society, and sense of community.

Mental illness is collectively all diagnosable mental disorders or health conditions that are characterized by alterations in thinking, mood, or behavior (or some combination thereof) associated with distress or impaired functioning.<sup>19</sup> Thus, mental health refers to an individual's mental state of well-being, whereas mental illness signifies an alteration of that well-being. Mental illness affects millions of people in the United States each year. Nearly one in five adults lives with a mental illness.<sup>20</sup> An estimated 49.5% of adolescents aged 13-18 have a mental illness.<sup>21</sup>

The Baker Act

The Florida Mental Health Act, otherwise known as the Baker Act, was enacted in 1971 to revise the state's mental health commitment laws.<sup>22</sup> The Act provides legal procedures for mental health examination and treatment, including voluntary and involuntary examinations. It additionally protects the rights of all individuals examined or treated for mental illness in Florida.<sup>23</sup>

Voluntary Admissions

Under current law, an adult may apply for voluntary admission to a facility for observation, diagnosis, or treatment by giving their express and informed consent.<sup>24</sup> The facility may admit the adult if it finds evidence of mental illness, the adult to be competent to provide express and informed consent, and that the adult is suitable for treatment.

A facility may also receive a minor for observation, diagnosis, or treatment if the minor's guardian applies for admission.<sup>25</sup> If the facility finds there is evidence of mental illness, and the minor is suitable for treatment at that facility, then they can admit the minor, but only after a clinical review to verify the voluntariness of the minor's assent.<sup>26</sup>

A voluntary patient who is unwilling or unable to provide express and informed consent to mental health treatment must either be discharged or transferred to involuntary status.<sup>27</sup> Additionally, facilities must discharge a patient within 24 hours if he or she is sufficiently improved such that admission is no longer appropriate, consent is revoked, or discharge is requested, unless the patient is qualified for and is transferred to involuntary status.<sup>28</sup>

Involuntary Examination

Individuals in acute mental or behavioral health crisis may require emergency treatment to stabilize their condition. Emergency mental health examination and stabilization services may be provided on a voluntary or involuntary basis.<sup>29</sup> An involuntary examination is required if there is reason to believe that the person has a mental illness and because of his or her mental illness:<sup>30</sup>

- The person has refused voluntary examination after conscientious explanation and disclosure of the purpose of the examination or is unable to determine for himself or herself whether examination is necessary; and
- Without care or treatment, the person is likely to suffer from neglect or refuse to care for himself or herself; such neglect or refusal poses a real and present threat of substantial harm to his or her well-being; and it is not apparent that such harm may be avoided through the help of willing family members or friends or the provision of other services; or
- There is a substantial likelihood that without care or treatment the person will cause serious bodily harm to himself or herself or others in the near future, as evidenced by recent behavior.

The involuntary examination may be initiated in one of three ways:<sup>31</sup>

- A court may enter an ex parte order stating that a person appears to meet the criteria for involuntary examination, based on sworn testimony. The order of the court shall be made a part of the patient's clinical record.
- A law enforcement officer must take a person who appears to meet the criteria for involuntary examination into custody and deliver the person or have him or her delivered to an appropriate, or the nearest, receiving facility for examination. The officer shall execute a written report detailing the circumstances under which the person was taken into custody, and the report shall be made a part of the patient's clinical record.
- A physician, a physician assistant, clinical psychologist, psychiatric nurse, an advanced practice registered nurse, mental health counselor, marriage and family therapist, or clinical social worker may execute a certificate stating that he or she has examined a person within the preceding 48 hours and finds that the person appears to meet the criteria for involuntary examination and stating the observations upon which that conclusion is based. The report and certificate shall be made a part of the patient's clinical record.

Involuntary patients must be taken to either a public or private facility which has been designated by the Department of Children and Families (DCF) as a Baker Act receiving facility. The purpose of receiving facilities is to receive and hold, or refer, as appropriate, involuntary patients under emergency conditions for psychiatric evaluation and to provide short-term treatment or transportation to the appropriate service provider.<sup>32</sup> The examination period must be for up to 72 hours.<sup>33</sup> A minor patient must be examined by the receiving facility within 12 hours following his or her arrival at the facility.<sup>34</sup>

Involuntary Outpatient Services

A person may be ordered to involuntary outpatient services<sup>35</sup> upon a finding of the court that by clear and convincing evidence:<sup>36</sup>

- The person is 18 years of age or older;
- The person has a mental illness;
- The person is unlikely to survive safely in the community without supervision, based on a clinical determination;
- The person has a history of lack of compliance with treatment for mental illness;
- The person has:
  - At least twice within the immediately preceding 36 months been involuntarily admitted to a receiving or treatment facility, or has received mental health services in a forensic or correctional facility; or
  - Engaged in one or more acts of serious violent behavior toward self or others, or attempts at serious bodily harm to himself or herself or others, within the preceding 36 months;
- The person is, as a result of his or her mental illness, unlikely to voluntarily participate in the recommended treatment plan and either he or she has refused voluntary placement for treatment or he or she is unable to determine for himself or herself whether placement is necessary;
- In view of the person's treatment history and current behavior, the person is in need of involuntary outpatient services in order to prevent a relapse or deterioration that would be likely to result in serious bodily harm to himself or herself or others, or a substantial harm to his or her well-being;
- It is likely that the person will benefit from involuntary outpatient services; and
- All available, less restrictive alternatives that would offer an opportunity for improvement of his or her condition have been judged to be inappropriate or unavailable.

A petition for involuntary outpatient services may be filed by a receiving or treatment facility's administrator.<sup>37</sup> The petition must allege and sustain each of the criterion for involuntary outpatient services and be accompanied by a certificate recommending involuntary outpatient services by a qualified professional and a proposed treatment plan.<sup>38</sup>

The petition for involuntary outpatient services must be filed in the county where the patient is located, unless the patient is being placed from a state treatment facility, in which case the petition must be filed in the county where the patient will reside.<sup>39</sup> When the petition has been filed, the clerk of the court shall provide copies of the petition and the proposed treatment plan to DCF, the managing entity, the patient, the patient's guardian or representative, the state attorney, and the public defender or the patient's private counsel.<sup>40</sup>

Once a petition for involuntary outpatient services has been filed with the court, the court must hold a hearing within five working days, unless a continuance is granted.<sup>41</sup> The state attorney for the circuit in which the patient is located is required to represent the state, rather than the petitioner, as the real party in interest in the proceeding.<sup>42</sup> The court must, within one court working day of the filing of the petition appoint the public defender to represent the person who is the subject of the petition, unless that person is otherwise represented by counsel.<sup>43</sup>

At the hearing on involuntary outpatient services, the court shall consider testimony and evidence regarding the patient's competence to consent to treatment; if the court finds that the patient is incompetent to consent to treatment, it shall appoint a guardian advocate.<sup>44</sup> If the court concludes that the patient meets the criteria for involuntary outpatient services, it must issue an order for involuntary outpatient services.<sup>45</sup> The order must specify the duration of involuntary outpatient services, up to 90 days, and the nature and extent of the patient's mental illness.<sup>46</sup> The order of the court and the treatment plan shall be made part of the patient's clinical record.<sup>47</sup>

If, at any time before the conclusion of the initial hearing on involuntary outpatient services, it appears to the court that the person does not meet the criteria for involuntary outpatient services but, instead, meets the criteria for involuntary inpatient placement, the court may order the person admitted for involuntary inpatient examination.<sup>48</sup>

Involuntary Inpatient Placement

A person may be placed in involuntary inpatient placement for treatment upon a finding of the court by clear and convincing evidence that:

- He or she is mentally ill and because of his or her mental illness:
  - He or she has refused voluntary placement for treatment after sufficient and conscientious explanation and disclosure of the purpose of placement for treatment; or is unable to determine for himself or herself whether placement is necessary; and
  - He or she is manifestly incapable of surviving alone or with the help of willing and responsible family or friends, including available alternative services, and, without treatment, is likely to suffer from neglect or refuse to care for himself or herself, and such neglect or refusal poses a real and present threat of substantial harm to his or her well-being; or
  - There is substantial likelihood that in the near future he or she will inflict serious bodily harm on himself or herself or another person, as evidenced by recent behavior causing, attempting, or threatening such harm; and
- All available less restrictive treatment alternatives which would offer an opportunity for improvement of his or her condition have been judged to be inappropriate.<sup>49</sup>

A receiving or treatment facility's administrator must file a petition for involuntary inpatient placement in the court in the county where the patient is located.<sup>50</sup> Upon filing, the clerk of the court must provide copies to DCF, the patient, the patient's guardian or representative, and the state attorney and public defender of the judicial circuit in which the patient is located.<sup>51</sup>

The court proceedings for involuntary inpatient placement closely mirror those for involuntary outpatient services.<sup>52</sup> However, unlike an order for involuntary outpatient services, which statute makes part of the patient's clinical record, nothing in the laws governing involuntary inpatient placement makes the court's order part of the patient's clinical record.

Confidentiality of Service Provider Records in Baker Act Proceedings in Florida

In 2019, the Legislature created a public record exemption for certain information filed with a court under the Baker Act.<sup>53</sup> Specifically, all petitions for voluntary and involuntary admissions for mental health treatment, court orders, and related records that are filed with or by a court under the Baker Act are confidential and exempt<sup>54</sup> from public record requirements. However, the clerk of the court may disclose the pleadings and other documents to:<sup>55</sup>

- The petitioner;
- The petitioner's attorney;
- The respondent;
- The respondent's attorney;
- The respondent's guardian or guardian advocate, if applicable;
- In the case of a minor respondent, the respondent's parent, guardian, legal custodian, or guardian advocate;
- The respondent's treating health care practitioner;
- The respondent's health care surrogate or proxy;
- DCF, without charge;
- The Department of Corrections, without charge, if the respondent is committed or is to be returned to the custody of the Department of Corrections from DCF; or
- A person or entity authorized to view records upon a court order for good cause.

Currently, a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and applications for voluntary and involuntary admission for mental health examinations are not part of the public record exemption, meaning this information is subject to public disclosure under current law.

However, the clerk of court is prohibited from publishing personal identifying information on a court docket or in a publicly accessible file.<sup>56</sup> This means that a court may not use a respondent's name to schedule and adjudicate cases, which includes transmitting a copy of any court order to the parties.

The 2019 public necessity statement<sup>57</sup> for the exemption provides that the Legislature finds that:<sup>58</sup>

A person's mental health is ... an intensely private matter. The public stigma associated with a mental health condition may cause persons in need of treatment to avoid seeking treatment and related services if the record of such condition is accessible to the public. Without treatment, a person's condition may worsen, the person may harm himself or herself or others, and the person may become a financial burden on the state. The content of such records or personal identifying information should not be made public merely because they are filed with or by a

<sup>54</sup> There is a difference between records the Legislature designates exempt from public record requirements and those the Legislature designates confidential and exempt. A record classified as exempt from public disclosure may be disclosed under certain circumstances. See WFTV, Inc. v. Sch. Bd. of Seminole, 874 So.2d 48, 53 (Fla. 5th DCA 2004), review denied, 892 So.2d 1015 (Fla. 2004); State v. Wooten, 260 So. 3d 1060, 1070 (Fla. 4th DCA 2018); *City of Riviera Beach v. If the Legislature designates a record as confidential and exempt from public disclosure, such record may not be released by the custodian of public records to anyone other than the persons or entities specifically designated in statute. See Op. Att'y Gen. Fla. 04-09 (2004).

court or placed on a docket. Making such petitions, orders, records, and identifying information confidential and exempt from disclosure will protect such persons from the release of sensitive, personal information which could damage their and their families' reputations. The publication of personal identifying information on a physical or virtual docket, regardless of whether any other record is published, defeats the purpose of protections otherwise provided. Further, the knowledge that such sensitive, personal information is subject to disclosure could have a chilling effect on a person's willingness to seek out and comply with mental health treatment services.

The exemption applies to all documents filed with a court before, on, or after July 1, 2019.<sup>59</sup> Current law does not expressly apply the exemption to pending or filed appeals.

Pursuant to the Open Government Sunset Review Act, the exemption will repeal on October 2, 2024, unless reenacted by the Legislature.<sup>60</sup>

Substance Abuse

Substance abuse refers to the harmful or hazardous use of psychoactive substances, including alcohol and illicit drugs.<sup>61</sup> Substance use disorders occur when the chronic use of alcohol or drugs causes significant impairment, such as health problems, disability, and failure to meet major responsibilities at work, school, or home.<sup>62</sup> Repeated drug use leads to changes in the brain's structure and function that can make a person more susceptible to developing a substance use disorder.<sup>63</sup> Brain imaging studies of persons with substance use disorders show physical changes in areas of the brain that are critical to judgment, decision making, learning and memory, and behavior control.<sup>64</sup>

According to the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition, a diagnosis of substance use disorder is based on evidence of impaired control, social impairment, risky use, and pharmacological criteria.<sup>65</sup> The most common substance use disorders in the United States are from the use of alcohol, tobacco, cannabis, stimulants, hallucinogens, and opioids.<sup>66</sup>

The Marchman Act

In the early 1970s, the federal government furnished grants for states "to develop continuums of care for individuals and families affected by substance abuse."<sup>67</sup> The grants provided separate funding streams and requirements for alcoholism and drug abuse.<sup>68</sup> In response, the Florida Legislature enacted ch. 396, F.S., (alcohol) and ch. 397, F.S. (drug abuse).<sup>69</sup> In 1993, legislation combined chapters 396 and 397, F.S., into a single law, entitled the Hal S. Marchman Alcohol and Other Drug Services Act (Marchman Act).<sup>70</sup> The Marchman Act supports substance abuse prevention and remediation through a system of prevention, detoxification, and treatment services to assist individuals at risk for or affected by substance abuse.

<sup>70</sup> Chapter 93-39, L.O.F., codified in Chapter 397, F.S. Reverend Hal S. Marchman was an advocate for persons who suffer from alcoholism and drug abuse. Supra note 67.

An individual may receive services under the Marchman Act through either voluntary or involuntary admission.

Voluntary Admissions

The Marchman Act encourages individuals to seek voluntary substance abuse impairment services within the existing financial and space capacities of a service provider. Any individual who wishes to enter treatment may apply to a service provider for voluntary admission. Within the financial and space capabilities of the service provider, the individual must be admitted to treatment when sufficient evidence exists that he or she is impaired by substance abuse and his or her medical and behavioral conditions are not beyond the safe management capabilities of the service provider.<sup>71</sup>

Under the Marchman Act, a minor's consent to services has the same force and effect as an adult's.<sup>72</sup>

Involuntary Admissions

The Marchman Act establishes a variety of methods under which substance abuse assessment, stabilization, and treatment can be obtained on an involuntary basis.<sup>73</sup> There are five involuntary admission procedures that can be broken down into two categories: non-court involved admissions and court involved admissions. Regardless of the nature of the proceedings, an individual meets the criteria for an involuntary admission under the Marchman Act when there is good faith reason to believe the individual is substance abuse impaired and, because of such impairment, has lost the power of self-control with respect to substance use; and either has inflicted, attempted or threatened to inflict, or unless admitted, is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or herself or another; or the person's judgment has been so impaired because of substance abuse that he or she is incapable of appreciating the need for substance abuse services and of making a rational decision in regard to substance abuse services.<sup>74</sup>

Non-Court Involved Involuntary Admissions

The three types of non-court procedures for involuntary admission for substance abuse treatment under the Marchman Act are:

- Protective Custody: This procedure is used by law enforcement officers when an individual is substance-impaired or intoxicated in public and is brought to the attention of the officer.<sup>75</sup>
- Emergency Admission: This procedure permits an individual who appears to meet the criteria for involuntary admission to be admitted to a hospital, an addiction receiving facility, or a detoxification facility for emergency assessment and stabilization. Individuals admitted for involuntary assessment and stabilization under this provision must have a physician's certificate for admission, demonstrating the need for this type of placement and recommending the least restrictive type of service that is appropriate to the needs of the individual.<sup>76</sup>
- Alternative Involuntary Assessment for Minors: This procedure provides a way for a parent, legal guardian, or legal custodian to have a minor admitted to an addiction receiving facility to assess the minor's need for treatment by a qualified professional.<sup>77</sup>

Court Involved Involuntary Admissions

The two court-involved Marchman Act procedures are involuntary assessment and stabilization, which provides for short-term court-ordered substance abuse services, and involuntary services,<sup>78</sup> which provides for long-term court-ordered substance abuse treatment.

Involuntary Assessment and Stabilization

Involuntary assessment and stabilization involves filing a petition with the clerk of court.<sup>79</sup> Once the petition is filed with the clerk of court, the court issues a summons to the respondent and the court must schedule a hearing to take place within 10 days, or can issue an ex parte order immediately.<sup>80</sup>

After hearing all relevant testimony, the court determines whether the respondent meets the criteria for involuntary assessment and stabilization and must immediately enter an order that either dismisses the petition or authorizes the involuntary assessment and stabilization of the respondent.<sup>81</sup>

If the court determines the respondent meets the criteria, it may order him or her to be admitted for a period of 5 days<sup>82</sup> to a hospital, licensed detoxification facility, or addictions receiving facility, for involuntary assessment and stabilization.<sup>83</sup> During that time, an assessment is completed on the individual.<sup>84</sup> The written assessment is then sent to the court. Once the written assessment is received, the court must either:<sup>85</sup>

- Release the individual and, if appropriate, refer the individual to another treatment facility or service provider, or to community services;
- Allow the individual to remain voluntarily at the licensed provider; or
- Hold the individual if a petition for involuntary services has been initiated.

Involuntary Services

If the individual has previously been subject to at least one of the four other involuntary admissions procedures within a specified period, a court may require the individual to be admitted for treatment for a longer period through involuntary services.<sup>86</sup>

Similar to a petition for involuntary assessment and stabilization, a petition for involuntary services must contain identifying information for all parties and attorneys and facts necessary to support the petitioner's belief that the respondent is in need of involuntary services.<sup>87</sup> A hearing on a petition for

<sup>78</sup> The term "involuntary services" means "an array of behavioral health services that may be ordered by the court for a person with substance abuse impairment or co-occurring substance abuse impairment and mental health disorders." S. 397.311(22), F.S. SB 12 (2016), ch. 2016-241, Laws of Fla., renamed "involuntary treatment" as "involuntary services" in ss. 397.695 – 397.6987, F.S., however some sections of the Marchman Act continue to refer to "involuntary treatment." For consistency, this analysis will use the term "involuntary services."

<sup>80</sup> S. 397.6815, F.S. Under the ex parte order, the court may order a law enforcement officer or other designated agent of the court to take the respondent into custody and deliver him or her to the nearest appropriate licensed service provider.

<sup>82</sup> If a licensed service provider is unable to complete the involuntary assessment and, if necessary, stabilization of an individual within 5 days after the court's order, it may, within the original time period, file a request for an extension of time to complete its assessment. The court may grant additional time, not to exceed 7 days after the date of the renewal order, for the completion of the involuntary assessment and stabilization of the individual. The original court order authorizing the involuntary assessment and stabilization, or a request for an extension of time to complete the assessment and stabilization that is timely filed, constitutes legal authority to involuntarily hold the individual for a period not to exceed 10 days in the absence of a court order to the contrary. S. 397.6821, F.S.

<sup>83</sup> S. 397.6811, F.S. The individual may also be ordered to a less restrictive component of a licensed service provider for assessment only upon entry of a court order or upon receipt by the licensed service provider of a petition.

<sup>84</sup> S. 397.6819, F.S. The licensed service provider must assess the individual without unnecessary delay using a qualified professional. If an assessment is performed by a qualified professional who is not a physician, the assessment must be reviewed by a physician before the end of the assessment period.

<sup>85</sup> S. 397.6822, F.S. The timely filing of a Petition for Involuntary Services authorizes the service provider to retain physical custody of the individual pending further order of the court.

involuntary services must be held within five days unless the court grants a continuance.<sup>88</sup> If the court finds that the conditions for involuntary substance abuse treatment have been proven, it may order the respondent to receive involuntary services for a period not to exceed 90 days.<sup>89</sup> However, substance abuse treatment facilities other than addictions receiving facilities are not locked; therefore, individuals receiving treatment in such unlocked facilities under the Marchman Act may voluntarily leave treatment at any time, and the only legal recourse is for a judge to issue a contempt of court charge and impose brief jail time.<sup>90</sup>

Confidentiality of Service Provider Records in Marchman Act Proceedings in Florida

In 2017, the Legislature created a public record exemption for certain information filed with a court under the Marchman Act.<sup>91</sup> Specifically, all petitions for involuntary assessment and stabilization, court orders, and related records that are filed with or by a court under the Marchman Act are confidential and exempt from public record requirements. However, the clerk of the court may disclose the pleadings and other documents to:<sup>92</sup>

- The petitioner;
- The petitioner's attorney;
- The respondent;
- The respondent's attorney;
- The respondent's guardian or guardian advocate, if applicable;
- In the case of a minor respondent, the respondent's parent, guardian, legal custodian, or guardian advocate;
- The respondent's treating health care practitioner;
- The respondent's health care surrogate or proxy;
- DCF, without charge;
- The Department of Corrections, without charge, if the respondent is committed or is to be returned to the custody of the Department of Corrections from DCF; or
- A person or entity authorized to view records upon a court order for good cause.

Under current law, a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and applications for voluntary and involuntary substance abuse treatment are not part of the public record exemption. However, as in the Baker Act, the clerk of court is prohibited from publishing personal identifying information on a court docket or in a publicly accessible file.<sup>93</sup>

The 2017 public necessity statement for the exemption provides that the Legislature finds that:<sup>94</sup>

A person's health and sensitive, personal information regarding his or her actual or alleged substance abuse impairment are intensely private matters. The media have obtained, and published information from, such records without the affected person's consent. The content of such records or personal identifying information should not be made public merely because they are filed with or by a court or placed on a docket. Making such petitions, orders, records, and identifying information confidential and exempt from disclosure will protect such persons from the release of sensitive, personal information which could damage their and their families' reputations. The publication of personal identifying information on a physical or virtual docket, regardless of whether any other record is published, <sup>89</sup> S. 397.697(1), F.S. If the need for services is longer, the court may order the respondent to receive involuntary services for a period not to exceed an additional 90 days.

<sup>90</sup> Supra, note 67. If the respondent leaves treatment, the facility will notify the court and a status conference hearing may be set. If the respondent does not appear at this hearing, a show cause hearing may be set. If the respondent does not appear for the show cause hearing, the court may find the respondent in contempt of court.

defeats the purpose of protections otherwise provided. Further, the knowledge that such sensitive, personal information is subject to disclosure could have a chilling effect on a person's willingness to seek out and comply with substance abuse treatment services.

The exemption applies to all documents filed with a court before, on, or after July 1, 2017.<sup>95</sup> Current law does not expressly apply the exemption to pending or filed appeals.

Effect of the Bill

The bill makes hearings under the Baker Act and under Parts IV and V of the Marchman Act confidential, absent a judicial finding of good cause or the respondent's consent.

The bill expands the public record exemption for Baker petitions for voluntary or involuntary admissions to include a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and all applications for such admissions. The bill also requires that admissions for mental health examinations be kept confidential and exempt from public record requirements.

The bill expands the public record exemption for certain Marchman Act petitions for involuntary assessments and stabilization to include voluntary assessments. The information held confidential and exempt is expanded to include a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and all applications for substance abuse treatment or assessment and stabilizations. The bill also expands the scope of the exemption to cover information filed with a court under Part IV of the Marchman Act.

The bill also adds service providers to the list of individuals to whom the clerk of court may disclose confidential and exempt pleadings and other documents.

The bill maintains the current prohibition against a clerk of court publishing personal identifying information on a court docket or in a publicly accessible file, but creates a narrow exception that allows courts to use a respondent's name to schedule and adjudicate cases. In addition to applying to documents that were previously filed with a court, these new exemptions also apply to appeals pending or filed on or after July 1, 2024.

The bill provides statements of public necessity as required by the Florida Constitution, specifying that the exemptions protect sensitive personal information, the release of which could cause unwarranted damage to the reputation of an individual.

The bill provides that the public record and public meeting exemptions are subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and will stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless the saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

The effective date of the bill is the same date that CS/CS/HB 7021 or similar legislation takes effect, if such legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof, and becomes law. The effective date of CS/CS/HB 7021 is July 1, 2024.

2. Expenditures:

The bill has an indeterminate, but likely insignificant, negative fiscal impact on the State Courts System.<sup>96</sup>

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. This bill does not appear to require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take action requiring the expenditures of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or reduce the percentage of state tax shared with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:

Vote Requirement

Article I, section 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly-created or expanded public record exemption or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record and public meeting exemption; thus, it requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

Public Necessity Statement

Article I, section 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a public necessity statement for each newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record and public meeting exemption; thus, it includes statements of public necessity. The statements provide that the Legislature finds, in part, that the mental health or substance abuse impairments of a person are medical conditions, which are intensely private matters that should be protected from public disclosure.

Breadth of Exemption

Article I, section 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a newly created or expanded public record exemption or public meeting exemption to be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the law. The bill makes hearings under the Baker Act and under Parts IV and V of the Marchman Act confidential and expands current exemptions from public record requirements to include a respondent's name, at trial and on appeal, and applications for voluntary mental health examinations or treatment and substance abuse, none of which appear broader than necessary to accomplish their purpose.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

The bill does not create new, or expand existing rulemaking authority.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

None.

IV. AMENDMENTS/COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE CHANGES

On February 22, 2024, the Health and Human Services Committee adopted an amendment and reported the bill favorably as a committee substitute. The amendment links the bill to HB 7021 and makes the bill effective on the same date that HB 7021 or similar legislation takes effect.

This analysis is drafted to the amendment as approved by the Health and Human Services Committee.
