Carrying a Concealed Weapon or Concealed Firearm While Off-Duty

When a law enforcement officer is not on duty, he or she is authorized to carry a concealed weapon or concealed firearm under several provisions of state and Federal law. For purposes of specifying when a law enforcement officer may carry a concealed weapon or a concealed firearm when he or she is off-duty, a “law enforcement officer” means a person who holds an active certification from the Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission¹² (CJSTC) and who:

- Whose primary responsibility is the prevention and detection of crime or the enforcement of the penal, criminal, traffic, or highway laws of the state.

The term “law enforcement officer” includes all certified supervisory and command personnel whose duties include, in whole or in part, the supervision, training, guidance, and management responsibilities of full-time law enforcement officers, part-time law enforcement officers, or auxiliary law enforcement officers but does not include support personnel employed by the employing agency. The term also includes a special officer employed by a Class I, Class II, or Class III railroad pursuant to s. 354.01, F.S.¹³
