SUMMARY

Effect of the Bill:

The bill reduces the fine assessed against an ambulatory surgical center (ASC) found to be in violation of the requirement to provide patients, and their health insurers, a good faith estimate of anticipated treatment charges prior to receiving scheduled, nonemergency treatment. The bill reduces the fine from $1,000 per day to $250 per day, with a maximum total fine of $2,500 instead of $10,000. The bill delays enforcement and the levying of such fines until the Federal Government promulgates certain rules.

Fiscal or Economic Impact:

The bill would have an indeterminate, likely insignificant, negative fiscal impact to the Health Care Trust Fund. See Fiscal Impact.

ANALYSIS

EFFECT OF THE BILL:

The bill reduces the fine assessed against an ambulatory surgical center \(ASC\) found to be in violation of the requirement to provide patients, and their health insurers, a good faith estimate of anticipated treatment charges from $1,000 to $250 per day, with a maximum total fine of $2,500 instead of $10,000. The deadlines for providing a good faith estimate under current law remain unchanged. (Section 1)

Under the bill, changes made to the fine structure and amounts are not effective until the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the United States Department of Labor, and the United States Department of the Treasury issue a final rule pertaining to good faith estimates required by the Public Health Services Act. Further, the bill requires the Agency for Health Care Administration to notify the Division of Law Revision when the final rule is promulgated. (Section 2)

The bill is effective upon becoming law. (Section 3)

FISCAL OR ECONOMIC IMPACT:

STATE GOVERNMENT:

The bill would have an indeterminate, likely insignificant, negative fiscal impact to the Health Care Trust Fund within AHCA, to the extent that the minimum fine reduction to ASCs results in reduced revenues to the trust fund.

SUBJECT OVERVIEW:

Ambulatory Surgical Centers \(ASCs\)

An ASC is a facility, that is not part of a hospital, the primary purpose of which is to provide elective surgical care, in which the patient is admitted and discharged within 24 hours.¹

ASCs are licensed and regulated by the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) under the same regulatory framework as hospitals.² Currently, there are 542 licensed ASCs in Florida.³ There were 3,414,113 visits to Florida ASCs between September of 2024 and September of 2025, which resulted in $22,825,416,687 in total charges. The average charge per visit was $6,686.⁴

Florida Price Transparency Requirements

Hospitals and ASCs are required to provide patients a customized good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for treatment of the patient's specific condition, prior to receiving scheduled, nonemergency treatment.⁵ A facility must provide the estimate of charges to the patient within three business days of receiving the request from the patient.⁶

Facilities are also required to submit the estimate of charges to a patient's health insurer or plan at least three business days before a service is to be furnished, according to the following schedule:

- In the case of a service scheduled less than 10 business days in advance, no later than one business day after the service is scheduled.
- In the case of a service scheduled 10 or more business days in advance, no later than three business days after a service is scheduled.

AHCA is authorized to fine a hospital or ASC $1,000 per day for failure to timely provide the estimate. The facility will continue to accrue $1,000 fines each day until the hospital or ASC provides the estimate to the patient and the health insurer, but the total fine per patient estimate may not exceed $10,000.⁷

⁵ S. 395.301\(1\), F.S.

⁶ Ch. 2024-183, Laws of Fla., establishes new price transparency standards for hospitals and ASCs, which align Florida law with the Federal No Surprises Act, enacted in 2020 (P.L. 116-260). However, those changes will not go into effect until the United States Department of Health and Human Services, the United States Department of Labor, and the United States Department of the Treasury issue a final rule pertaining to good faith estimates required by section 2799B-6 of the Public Health Services Act (See s. 395.301, F.S. footnotes A. and B.).
