I. Summary:

SB 210 amends s. 119.0714, F.S., to create a public records exemption for petitions, and the contents thereof, for injunctions for protection against serious violence by a known person if the petition is dismissed without a hearing, dismissed at an ex parte hearing due to failure to state a claim or lack of jurisdiction, or dismissed for any reason having to do with the sufficiency of the petition itself without an injunction being issued.

Additionally, the exemption applies to any information that can be used to identify a petitioner or respondent in a petition for an injunction against serious violence by a known person until the respondent has been personally served with a copy of the petition for injunction, affidavits, notice of hearing, and temporary injunction.

The bill provides a statement of public necessity as required by the State Constitution, and because it creates a new public records exemption it requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting in each house of the Legislature for final passage.

The bill takes effect on the same day as SB 32 or any similar legislation. As filed, SB 32 takes effect on July 1, 2026.

II. Present Situation:

Access to Public Records - Generally

The Florida Constitution provides that the public has the right to inspect or copy records made or received in connection with official governmental business.<sup>1</sup> The right to inspect or copy applies to the official business of any public body, officer, or employee of the state, including all three branches of state government, local governmental entities, and any person acting on behalf of the government.<sup>2</sup>

Additional requirements and exemptions related to public records are found in various statutes and rules, depending on the branch of government involved. For instance, s. 11.0431, F.S., provides public access requirements for legislative records. Relevant exemptions are codified in s. 11.0431(2)-(3), F.S., and adopted in the rules of each house of the Legislature.<sup>3</sup> Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.420 governs public access to judicial branch records.<sup>4</sup> Lastly, ch. 119, F.S., known as the Public Records Act, provides requirements for public records held by executive branch and local government agencies.

Open Government Sunset Review Act – Exceptions for the Judicial Branch

The “Open Government Sunset Review Act” contained in s. 119.15, F.S., provides for the review and repeal or reenactment of an exemption in the 5th year after the enactment of a new exemption or substantial amendment of an existing exemption. However, these requirements do not apply to an exemption that is required by federal law or that applies solely to the Legislature or the State Court System.<sup>5</sup> As such, public records exemptions enacted by the Legislature which apply solely to the State Court System are not subject to the 5 year review.

Injunctions for Protection

Though there are several causes of action for injunctions under Florida law, for example, an injunction for protection against stalking<sup>6</sup> and an injunction for protection against exploitation of a vulnerable adult,<sup>7</sup> there does not appear to be a protective injunction for all acts of violence.

Under s. 784.046, F.S., there are three protective injunctions a person may petition for certain types of violence:<sup>8</sup> an injunction for protection in cases of repeat violence,<sup>9</sup> an injunction for protection in cases of dating violence,<sup>10</sup> and an injunction for protection in cases of sexual

<sup>8</sup> “Violence” means any assault, aggravated assault, battery, aggravated battery, sexual assault, sexual battery, stalking, aggravated stalking, kidnapping, or false imprisonment, or any criminal offense resulting in physical injury or death, by a person against any other person. Section 784.046(1)(a), F.S.

<sup>9</sup> “Repeat violence” means two incidents of violence or stalking committed by the respondent, one of which must have been within 6 months of the filing of the petition, which are directed against the petitioner or the petitioner’s immediate family member. Section 784.046(1)(b), F.S.

<sup>10</sup> “Dating violence” means violence between individuals who have or have had a continuing and significant relationship of a romantic or intimate nature. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the consideration of certain factors. Section 784.046(1)(d), F.S.

violence.<sup>11,12</sup> However, this section is limited dependent on the nature of the relationship or the act of repeated or sexual violence.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 119.0714, F.S., to create a public records exemption for petitions, and the contents thereof, for the cause of action for a protective injunction for serious violence by a known person (created in SB 32), if the petition is dismissed without a hearing, dismissed at an ex parte hearing due to failure to state a claim or lack of jurisdiction, or dismissed for any reason having to do with the sufficiency of the petition itself without an injunction being issued.

Additionally, the exemption applies to any information that can be used to identify a petitioner or respondent in a petition for an injunction against serious violence by a known person, is confidential and exempt until the respondent has been personally served with a copy of the petition for injunction, affidavits, notice of hearing, and temporary injunction.

The bill provides a statement of public necessity as required by the State Constitution, and because it creates a new public records exemption it requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting in each house of the Legislature for final passage.

The bill takes effect the same day SB 32 or any similar legislation does, if it is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof. As filed, SB 32 takes effect July 1, 2026.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not appear to require the cities and counties to expend funds or limit their authority to raise revenue or receive state-shared revenues as specified by Art. VII, s. 18 of the State Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

Vote Requirement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a bill creating or expanding an exemption to the public records requirements. This bill enacts a new exemption for records pertaining to an injunction for protection against serious violence by a known person; therefore, the bill requires a two-thirds vote of each chamber for enactment.

Public Necessity Statement

<sup>11</sup> “Sexual violence” means any one incident of: sexual battery, lewd or lascivious act committed upon or in the presence of a person younger than 16 years of age, luring or enticing a child, sexual performance by a child, or any other forcible felony wherein a sexual act is committed or attempted. Section 784.046(1)(c), F.S.

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires a bill creating or expanding an exemption to the public records requirements to state with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption. Section 2 of the bill contains a statement of public necessity for the exemption.

Breadth of Exemption

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires an exemption to the public records requirements to be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the law. The purpose of the law is to protect victims of serious violence by a known person, and the bill exempts only records pertaining to a petition, and the contents thereof, from the public records requirements. The exemption does not appear to be broader than necessary to accomplish the purpose of the law.
