BILL: SB 394

INTRODUCER: Senator Leek

SUBJECT: Reinsurance Intermediary Managers

DATE: January 14, 2026

REVISED: _____

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION

I. Summary:

The bill exempts from reinsurance intermediary manager licensing requirements an underwriting manager who manages assumed facultative risks for a reinsurer, if the facultative reinsurance business managed by the underwriting manager is less than 10 percent of the assumed annual gross written premium of the reinsurer.

The bill is not anticipated to have a fiscal impact on state or local government.

The bill is effective July 1, 2026.

II. Present Situation:

Reinsurance

Reinsurance is basically insurance for insurers. Insurers rely on reinsurance to finance the payment of losses and make them better able to withstand major catastrophes, like hurricanes.¹ Reinsurance is a major driver in the cost of insurance. As much as 40% of the premium a consumer pays goes to purchase reinsurance.² The Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) directly regulates authorized reinsurers domiciled and licensed in Florida as well as reinsurers licensed in Florida but domiciled in a foreign state.³

The main types of reinsurance are treaty and facultative, which are further categorized into proportional and non-proportional. Treaty reinsurance is a standing agreement covering a group of policies without evaluating each risk separately, offering efficiency and stability for insurers managing large volumes of similar policies. Facultative reinsurance is a one-time deal for individual, specific risks, allowing the reinsurer to assess and accept or reject each policy, making it ideal for large or unusual exposures requiring tailored coverage.⁴ Within these, proportional reinsurance shares both premiums and claims in a set ratio, and non-proportional reinsurance covers losses exceeding a specific, predetermined amount.⁵

When an insurer cedes business to an accredited reinsurer, the insurer may under statutory accounting rules recognize a reduction in its liabilities for the amount of ceded liabilities, without a regulatory requirement for the reinsurer to post collateral to secure the reinsurer's ultimate payment of the reinsured liabilities.⁶ An accredited reinsurer is one that:

- Files with the OIR evidence of its submission to the jurisdiction of Florida;
- Submits to Florida's authority to examine its books and records;
- Is licensed or authorized to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state or, in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through, licensed, or authorized to transact insurance or reinsurance in at least one state; and
- Files annually with the OIR a copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance department of its state of domicile and any quarterly statements if required by its state of domicile or such quarterly statements if requested by the OIR, and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement; and
 - Maintains a surplus as regards policyholders in an amount not less than $20 million and whose accreditation has not been denied by the OIR within 90 days after its submission; or
 - Maintains a surplus as regards policyholders in an amount not less than $20 million and whose accreditation has been approved by the OIR.⁷

A reinsurer must pay the actual costs and expenses incurred by the OIR to review a reinsurer's request for accreditation and subsequent reviews.⁸ If the reinsurer fails to pay the actual costs and expenses promptly when due, the OIR may refuse to accredit the reinsurer or may revoke the reinsurer's accreditation.⁹

Regulation of Reinsurance Intermediaries

Chapter 626, F.S., governs the regulation of insurance field representatives, navigators, insurance administrators, unauthorized insurers and surplus lines, viatical settlements, structured settlements, and operations. Part I of this chapter contains general provisions with respect to insurance agents, insurance agencies, managing general agents, insurance adjusters, reinsurance intermediaries, viatical settlement brokers, customer representatives, service representatives, and agencies. Section 626.7492, F.S., provides for the regulation of reinsurance intermediary brokers and reinsurance intermediary managers.

A “reinsurance intermediary broker” is “any person, other than an officer or employee of the ceding insurer, who solicits, negotiates, or places reinsurance cessions or retrocessions on behalf of a ceding insurer without the authority or power to bind reinsurance on behalf of the ceding insurer.”¹⁰

A “reinsurance intermediary manager” is “any person who has authority to bind, or manages all or part of, the assumed reinsurance business of a reinsurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office, and acts as a representative for the reinsurer whether known as a reinsurance intermediary manager, manager, or other similar term.”¹¹ However, the following persons are not considered a reinsurance intermediary manager for licensure purposes:

- An employee of the reinsurer;
- A manager of the United States branch of an alien reinsurer;
- An underwriting manager which, pursuant to contract, manages all the reinsurance operations of the reinsurer, is under common control with the reinsurer, subject to the holding company act, and whose compensation is not based on the volume of premiums written.
- The manager of a group, association, pool, or organization of insurers which engage in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance and who are subject to examination by the insurance regulatory authority of the state in which the manager’s principal business office is located.¹²

The Division of Insurance Agent and Agency Services within the Department of Financial Services (DFS) licenses and appoints individuals and entities authorized to transact insurance in Florida, including those for reinsurance intermediaries. The Division receives and reviews applications for insurance licenses and oversees the examination, licensing, and continuing education of licensees. The Division also conducts investigations of alleged violations of the Florida Insurance Code and refers suspected criminal violations of the Florida Insurance Code to the Division's Bureau of Insurance Fraud within the DFS or other law enforcement agencies as appropriate.¹³ Prior to July 1, 2023, the DFS provided a separate license for reinsurance intermediary brokers and managers, but it was discontinued.¹⁴ Firms wanting to act as a reinsurance intermediary now must hold an insurance agency license and either a reinsurance intermediary broker appointment or a reinsurance intermediary manager appointment.¹⁵

A reinsurance intermediary broker must be a licensed producer in Florida or in another state, is a licensed producer in Florida or in another state having a law substantially similar to this section, or the reinsurance intermediary broker is licensed in Florida as an insurance agency and appointed as a reinsurance intermediary.¹⁶ A reinsurance intermediary manager must be a licensed producer in Florida or another state having a law substantially similar to Florida’s law.¹⁷

The DFS may require a reinsurance intermediary manager to file a bond in an amount acceptable to the DFS for the protection of the reinsurer and to maintain an errors and omissions insurance policy in an amount acceptable to the DFS.¹⁸ A reinsurance intermediary is subject to examination by the DFS and must allow the DFS access to all books, bank accounts, and records of the reinsurance intermediary.¹⁹ A reinsurance intermediary manager may be examined as if it were the reinsurer.²⁰ An attorney licensed in Florida, when acting in a professional capacity, is exempt from the licensure requirements.²¹

- The reinsurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the reinsurance intermediary manager. The reinsurer may immediately suspend the authority of the reinsurance intermediary manager to assume or cede business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause of termination.
- The reinsurance intermediary manager must render accounts to the reinsurer, accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the reinsurance intermediary manager, and must remit all funds due under the contract to the reinsurer at least monthly.

 - If such contract is placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that such reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.
- The reinsurer shall have access to and the right to copy all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary manager related to its business in a form usable by the reinsurer.
