RELEVANT INFORMATION

SUBJECT OVERVIEW:

The Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees

The Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees (Code of Ethics)<sup>1</sup> establishes ethical standards for public officials and is intended to ensure that public officials conduct themselves independently and impartially, not using their offices for private gain other than compensation provided by law.<sup>2</sup> The Code of Ethics pertains to various ethical issues, such as receiving gifts, voting conflicts, disclosure of financial interests, standards of conduct. The Commission on Ethics (Commission), a nine-member body, is an independent entity “responsible for investigating and issuing public reports on complaints of breach of the public trust by public officers and employees.”<sup>3</sup>

Under the Code of Ethics, political subdivisions and agencies are permitted to impose additional or more stringent standards of conduct and disclosure requirements upon their own officers and employees.<sup>4</sup> However, such standards of conduct or disclosure requirements may not conflict with the Code of Ethics.<sup>5</sup>

Disclosure of Financial Interests

All elected constitutional officers, as well as candidates for such offices, are required by the Florida Constitution to file “full and public disclosure of their financial interests.”<sup>6</sup> The term “full and public disclosure of financial interests” means the reporting individual must disclose his or her net worth and the value of each asset and liability in excess of $1,000.<sup>7</sup> The disclosure must be accompanied by either a copy of the filer’s most recent federal income tax return or a sworn statement that identifies each separate source and amount of income that exceeds $1,000.<sup>8</sup> The Commission has created by rule CE Form 6 (Form 6) to be used to make the required full and public financial disclosure.<sup>9</sup> Reporting individuals must file Form 6 annually with the Commission by 11:59 p.m.<sup>10</sup> on July 1.<sup>11</sup> Additionally, candidates for a constitutional office must make a full and public disclosure of their financial interests at the time of qualifying.

Current law requires a less detailed disclosure of financial interests using the Commission’s CE Form 1 (Form 1) for specified state officers<sup>12</sup> and employees,<sup>13</sup> certain local officers,<sup>14</sup> as well as specified appointive officers.<sup>15</sup> Form 1 requires those individuals to disclose their primary sources of income, other than their public position, secondary sources of income, real property, intangible personal property, liabilities, and interests in specific businesses. Although no specific dollar values of incomes, property or liabilities are required to be reported, the filer must report which assets or liabilities exceed certain dollar thresholds.<sup>16</sup> Form 1 filers must disclose all sources of income in excess of $2,500, excluding public salary, all sources of income from a business entity that the filers had a material interest in where their gross income was in excess of $5,000 and in excess of 10 percent of the business’ gross income. Form 1 filers must also disclose any property, except for their residence or vacation home, in which the person owns more than 5 percent of the value of the property, as well as any intangible property in excess of $10,000 and any liability in excess of $10,000.<sup>17</sup> Form 1 must be filed annually with the Commission by 11:59 p.m.<sup>18</sup> on July 1.<sup>19</sup>

Relatives under the Code of Ethics

The Code of Ethics provides several exceptions to its requirements for relatives of public officers and employees. A “relative” is defined to mean a person who has one of the following relationships with the public officer or employee:<sup>20</sup>

Brother	Sister	Uncle	Aunt

The term “relative” also includes a person engaged to be married to the public officer or employee or who otherwise holds himself or herself out as or is generally known as the person whom the public officer or employee intends to marry or with whom the public officer or employee intends to form a household.<sup>21</sup> Lastly, the term includes any natural person having the same legal residence as the public officer or employee.<sup>22</sup>

Gift Ban and Relatives

Public officers,<sup>23</sup> state agency employees, local government attorneys, and candidates for office are prohibited from soliciting or accepting anything of value, including a gift,<sup>24</sup> loan, reward, promise of future employment, favor, or service, based upon an understanding that their vote, official action, or judgment would be influenced.<sup>25</sup> An individual who has to disclose his or financial interests on a Form 1 or a Form 6 and procurement employees<sup>26</sup> are prohibited from receiving, directly or indirectly, gifts from certain individuals—lobbyists lobbying his or her agency, vendors doing business with his or her agency, political committees—if he or she reasonably knows that the gift has a value of more than $100.<sup>27</sup> However, reporting individuals and procurement employees are permitted to receive gifts having a value in excess of $100 if the gift is received on behalf of a governmental entity or a charitable organization, provided the gift is promptly transferred to the intended entity or organization.<sup>28</sup>

Despite these general prohibitions, a reporting individual (or procurement employee) is permitted by law to accept gifts of any value from relatives without being required to disclose those gifts or their value to the Commission.<sup>29</sup>

Gift Disclosure Requirements and Relatives

All reporting individuals (those filing Form 1 and Form 6) and procurement employees who receive a gift that is not prohibited and is worth more than $100 must report such information by submitting a Quarterly Gift Disclosure to the Commission (CE Form 9)<sup>30</sup> no later than the last day of a calendar quarter following the quarter in which the gift was received.<sup>31</sup> Gifts from relatives are not required to be reported to the Commission.<sup>32</sup>
