CALL TO ORDER

The Senate was called to order by outgoing Senate President Don Gaetz at 9:00 a.m. A quorum present.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Senior Pastor Scott George, Pine Castle United Methodist Church, Orlando:

“I will lift my eyes to the hills, where does my help come from? My help comes from The Lord, the maker of heaven and earth.” Psalm 121

Heavenly Father, on this joyous day of celebration and honor, our first request is for your presence to be with us today. We humbly and reverently call upon your name for wisdom and strength as we embark on a new day. We clearly recognize that without your presence and strength we can do nothing apart from you.

We ask that you will give these servants standing before you today the integrity and character to use resources wisely and well; to represent all members of our communities fairly; to make decisions that promote unity and common good; and to honor you in their words and actions.

Bless their efforts with clear insight; their deliberations with character; their work with clarity; and their decisions with impartiality.

We recognize our responsibility to the past and the future so we ask you today to give them the courage to dream new dreams and see new possibilities; give them the compassion to honor the least, forgotten, and overlooked; give them the ears to hear the cries of the poor; give them hearts to bring hope to the hurting; give them the voice to speak with conviction; give them hands that are strong to humbly serve; and give them feet that are quick to walk with those in need.

We call upon your name and ask that we might be instruments of your peace, sowing love where there is hatred, pardon where there is injury, union where there is discord, faith instead of doubt, hope not despair, light to cast away darkness, and where there is sadness, joy.

The Lord bless and keep you. The Lord make his face to shine upon you and be gracious to you. The Lord lift up his countenance upon you and give you peace.

In your name we pray, Amen.

HONOR GUARD

At the direction of the President, the Sergeant at Arms opened the doors of the chamber, and the Adjutant General’s Honor Guard marched into the chamber bearing flags of the United States of America and the State of Florida.

The Honor Guard included the following members of the Florida Army National Guard: Sergeant Major Thomas Aycock; Sergeant First Class James Reddick; Staff Sergeant Curtis Miller; and Specialist Andrew Bowen; and the following members of the Florida Air National Guard: Senior Master Sergeant Kerrie Warren; Senior Master Sergeant Michael Haynes; and Staff Sergeant Christopher Jones.

PLEDGE

Sergeant at Arms Donald Severance was joined by several children present in the chamber in the center aisle and led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

SPECIAL PERFORMANCE

COMMUNICATION

The Honorable Don Gaetz, President
The Florida Senate

November 7, 2014

Dear President Gaetz:

As you are aware, on November 10, 2014, I will be embarking on a new phase of public service as President of Florida State University. Accordingly, I would like to tender my resignation from the Florida Senate, District 6, effective midnight November 9, 2014.

It has truly been my pleasure and honor to serve the constituents of District 6 and to serve with you, Mr. President, as well as many fine elected legislators over so many years. I am grateful for the many opportunities afforded me during my time in the Senate. Particularly, the appointment as Chair of the Senate Committee on Rules for the last four years has been a unique privilege. I understand the significance of such a responsibility and am humbled to have been asked to serve the Senate in this capacity.

I have also been honored to work with an extremely talented and experienced staff in District 6. Led by Kelly Williams, a long-time member of the Senate professional staff, this team has been serving the communities of the district for a number of years pre-dating my service and is well-equipped to continue management of constituent services in my absence. I respectfully request that the District 6 office in St. Augustine remain open and that Kelly Williams, J.J. Whitson, and Darla Kubacki be retained until a new Senator is elected.

Respectfully,
John Thrasher
Senator, District 6

ELECTION OF SECRETARY

The President announced that nominations would be received for Secretary of the Senate for a term of two years and recognized Senator Montford who placed in nomination the name of Debbie Brown.

Senator Montford: Thank you, Mr. President. I rise in great admiration to nominate Debbie Brown as Secretary of the Senate. Friends and colleagues, it would be very difficult to express to you and to you, Debbie, how much we appreciate your work here. Your work is known to be that of an expert. Quite frankly, we are always amazed at how you can keep everything going, especially keeping the President straight. She does a wonderful job. But also, Mr. President, it is a personal privilege of mine because Debbie is one of my constituents. She happened to grow up on the banks of the Apalachicola River, which we also know is the home of the Garden of Eden. If you don't know about that, Debbie and I both can explain that to you. I have known Debbie for a long, long time. I could almost call her a lifelong friend, but I am a little bit older than Debbie. But I have known her for many years, and I can tell you that what you see today is a true, true Floridian. She is a true servant. She is a servant of the people, and we all know, Debbie, how important you are to this body and to this state.

Mr. President and colleagues, it is my honor and privilege to nominate Debbie Brown as Secretary of the Senate.

By unanimous consent of the membership, Debbie Brown was elected Secretary of the Senate for the 2014-2016 term.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

Secretary Debbie Brown was administered the oath of office by the Honorable Jorge Labarga, Chief Justice, Florida Supreme Court.

RECOGNITION OF SERGEANT AT ARMS

The President recognized Senator Latvala, who thanked Donald Severance, Senate Sergeant at Arms, for his dedication and service to the Florida Senate. Senator Latvala also recognized Tim Hay as the newly appointed Sergeant at Arms who will serve concurrently with Sergeant Severance.

Senator Latvala: Donald Severance began his employment with the Florida Senate in 1976, as a Support Services Assistant, commonly known as a sergeant's man. John Melton was the Senate Sergeant at that time; Senator Dempsey Barron was President. Donald was promoted throughout the years and on February 1, 1998, was named the Deputy Sergeant at Arms under Wayne Todd. Donald became the Senate Sergeant on August 11, 1999, under President Toni Jennings. Donald retired from the Florida National Guard where he was a member of the Rifle and Pistol Team from 1972–1994. He is a veteran of the First Gulf War, having served during Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm.

Donald remains an active member of the Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary and the National Legislative Services and Security Association. He is married to Sherry and has one daughter, Chelsey. Donald will retire on November 30, 2015, after 39 years of continuous service to the Florida Senate. He will have served under 21 Senate presidents, serving nine as the Sergeant at Arms.

The Senate listed the position for 60 days and received more than 20 applications from candidates in several states. The initial pool of applicants was narrowed to eight who answered a written questionnaire. Four finalists were selected and interviewed by a bipartisan senatorial selection committee. The committee unanimously recommended the appointment of Tim Hay as the new Senate Sergeant at Arms. Tim will serve under Sergeant Severance for the next year and become our new Senate Sergeant on December 1, 2015. Tim Hay began his employment with the Florida Senate on November 11, 2011, as OPS session staff. He was hired by Sergeant Severance into a full-time position on February 13, 2012. Tim has served as a reserve deputy with the Leon County Sheriff's Office since March of 2011.

SPECIAL GUESTS

The President introduced Governor Rick Scott, Lieutenant Governor Carlos Lopez-Cantera, Attorney General Pam Bondi, former Senate President and Chief Financial Officer Jeff Atwater, and Commissioner of Agriculture Adam Putnam.

The President introduced Florida Supreme Court Chief Justice Jorge Labarga and Justice Charles T. Canady.

The President recognized former Senate Presidents Mike Haridopolos, John McKay, Jim Scott, and John Vogt; and former Speaker of the House of Representatives, Dean Cannon.

The President recognized former Senators J.D. Alexander, Ron Silver, Alex Diaz de la Portilla, Al Lawson, Nan Rich, Alex Villalobos, Curt Kiser, Van Poole, Ronda Storms, Steve Geller, and John Thrasher.

The President recognized President-Designate Andy Gardiner, wife Camille Gardiner, children Andrew, Jr., Joanna Lynn, and Kathryn Lucille; parents Bill and Linda Gardiner; and Camille's parents, Richard and Joanne Wood. The President recognized the following family members: Grace Jorgensen and Helen Werba, aunts of President-Designate Gardiner; Brenda Thomas, Leslie Gruen, Jim Werba, Jonathan Werba, Tatiana Gruen, Ryan Werba, Shawn Norton, and Natalie Werba, cousins of President-Designate Gardiner; and friends who traveled from Senator Gardiner's district who were present in the gallery.

Senator Richter recognized the spouses of the Senate.

ORGANIZATION

The Senate proceeded to the organization of the body.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT

The President announced that nominations would be received for President of the Senate, pursuant to Article III, section 2 of the Constitution, for a term of two years.

The President recognized Senator Garcia who placed in nomination the name of Senator Andy Gardiner of the 13th Senatorial District.

Senator Garcia: Mr. President, thank you very much. Senators, Governor, and Cabinet, and the Gardiner family, it truly is an honor and privilege to be here today to nominate a friend, Andy Gardiner, as Senate President for the 2014-2016 Session. When I embarked on this mission to give this speech, to be honest with you, this is the second most important speech I have given. Second only to the Catholic Conference of Women, and only because that's my key to heaven. Sorry, buddy. Sorry, Senator Gardiner.

I did go down to Orlando. First of all, as you all know, I would take a bullet for this man because he is truly an outstanding individual, a true family man. But instead of hearing that from me, I went down to Orlando and spoke to a couple of folks. Let's see what they had to say.

[video]

So you all can know, the first instruction that I was given was no videos. Oops, sorry. There goes that chairmanship, right? Anyway, the truth is, I could not have said it any better than they all did. Everyone that I spoke to in Orlando had something to say about his family, his mother, his father, his brother, and what a great family they come from. It's very evident in the family that he has now. Camille, it's your fault too, because you helped. Camille and those children you have, they are a beautiful family. I tell people in the State of Florida, the Senate is in really good hands, folks. The State of Florida is in incredible hands because Senator Gardiner will put families first before politics. That's what we need in the Senate and in the State of Florida.

So, Mr. President, guests, it is with a deep, humbled honor that I nominate Senator Andy Gardiner as our Senate President for the 2014-2016 Session.

The President recognized Senator Smith who seconded the nomination of Senator Gardiner.

Senator Smith: Thank you. I would first like to say I don't have any videos to show so I will take Senator Garcia's chairmanship if it is offered.

Ladies and gentlemen, today I am so proud to second the nomination of a good friend. Someone I feel will be a servant-leader to the Florida Senate. A servant-leader. In the Christian-Judeo tradition, servant-leader was best coined in the 1970 essay by Robert Greenleaf when he said a "servant-leader is servant first." It begins with a natural feeling that one wants to serve first. We all know about the leadership of Senator Gardiner. We have seen leadership from the eighth grade; leadership on his baseball team; leadership in college as he served as president of his fraternity's chapter; leadership within the community culminating in him being elected in 2000 to the Florida House of Representatives. We all saw the leadership from day one when he arrived in the House. But, what makes Andy special is the servant-leadership aspect of that. The servant-leadership. To be a servant you must have love. You must truly have love.

We have seen from the people that have come from Orlando and all the family that are here that Andy grew up with love. He has always loved; he is very close to his family. He grew up in Orlando as third generation, and he has always had love. But 17 years ago, he thought he had really found love when he met Camille at Stetson University. So, Andy did really have this big ball of love in him, but that didn't make him a servant. That is not the love that made him a servant. The love that made him a servant was the gift from God eleven years ago. Eleven years ago he truly saw what it meant to love. He truly saw what it meant to have a transformative love when God gave him a special gift to show him how to love and how to be a servant, as we see in the playbook of life in Romans 3:4. Not only that, but we also see glory and tribulations, knowing that tribulations produce perseverance; perseverance character; and character hope. When he got that gift eleven years ago, he truly embodied love, and that has made him a special person, a special man, and a special servant-leader.

As President of the Senate, he is going to need that leadership because all of us in the Senate think the same thing. We all want a better education system, home ownership for everyone, access to healthcare. We all want jobs, safe neighborhoods, clean and abundant water. But we are all different in the Senate. We all come from different races, sexes, religions, regions, economic backgrounds, ages, and communities. So we are all trying to get to those things, but we all see different paths of getting to them. I am so proud that we are going to have a traffic cop helping us get there. As we discuss education, I am glad we are going to have that servant-leader as a traffic cop saying, "Okay, Senator Hays, come up a little bit, okay wait a minute; Senator Bullard, come over a little bit." As we talk about health care, "Senator Thompson, okay, you go here and you go here." He is going to be that great traffic cop in between because he realizes that we all want the same thing for Florida, and it is going to take that love of a servant-leader to get us there; to be that traffic cop helping us get there. He will possess the grace that is needed in those trying times the last days of session; that grace that was given to him as a gift from God in the form of his family, all of his family.

So, as we would say down in my district, I am honeymoon happy and peacock proud to nominate my good friend, my friend Andy Gardiner as President of the Florida Senate.

MOTION

On motion by Senator Galvano, nominations for President were closed.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

Senator Gardiner was joined by his family at the bar of the Senate where the oath of office was administered by the Honorable Jorge Labarga, Chief Justice, Florida Supreme Court. Senator Gardiner then proceeded to the rostrum where he joined President Gaetz.

President Gaetz presented the gavel to President Andy Gardiner, the 86th President of the Florida Senate since statehood.

PRESIDENT GARDINER PRESIDING

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT

President Gardiner: I have some prepared remarks, and I’m going to start that in a minute. There are a couple of things that I want you to know. You saw a father down here very proud; I did not know that Joanna was going to sing today. So, Secretary Brown and Camille were a part of a conspiracy. That was truly an incredible thing to see, and Joanna, I’m so very proud of you.

Thank you to Speaker-Designate Crisafulli, Attorney General Bondi, Chief Financial Officer Atwater, Commissioner Putnam, and Chief Justice Labarga. I said to the Chief Justice, “Just don’t make me cry.” We got through it pretty good. To the members of the House, my family, and friends, thank you. This is truly an honor. I know that Governor Scott and Lieutenant Governor Lopez-Cantera already had to leave and head over to the House, but I can’t tell you how happy I was to see Governor Scott here today.

I especially want to thank Senator Garcia. We were a part of that class of 2000, and it is truly an honor for you to nominate me. I did leave one request: no videos. We had a video, but it was good to see some friends that I have not seen in a long time, especially Wayne Groover, who taught me in sixth grade at Blankner Elementary.

To Senator Smith, thank you. Being up here, there is one thing I am going to miss and that is sitting in front of Senator Smith and cracking jokes. We have been friends for a very long time. It really means a lot to me that you nominated me. Thank you.

To the Senate and to our leaders, our Majority Leader Bill Galvano, I look forward to your leadership as our Majority Leader. I’ve walked in your shoes. I’ve lived it. Your job will be to make sure the majority has every opportunity to be successful in the Florida Senate. You will handle their agenda. You will be the occasional shoulder to cry on. You will be the one to lead our Majority Caucus, and for that, I’m forever grateful. Thank you, Senator Galvano.

Leader Joyner, we’ve known each other for many, many years, and we go back to the House. I’m excited about you and I starting this last chapter in our political careers in the Senate. We will be partners in this process, and, as I mentioned yesterday, the Senate is only as strong as the influence and the power of the minority. We are a family in the Senate, and we look forward to working with you and the members of the Democratic Caucus as we shape the future of Florida.

To my colleagues, my Senators, and my friends, this is beyond humbling. This morning, as I was getting prepared to be here—as you can imagine having three young kids, it can be a little hectic, especially at seven o’clock in the morning—Camille asked me, “Are you nervous?” I said, “No, I’m not nervous at all. This will be fine.” I got dressed with my suit, tie, and everything on, and I’m getting ready to leave. I forgot to shave. I obviously was a little distracted.

It is hard to believe that in two short years when I head back to Orlando I will have been a part of this process for more than 20 years. As a legislative aide, a member of the House, and a member of the Senate, to see that this journey will end in this way is incredible and very humbling. As a young legislative aide in the House, I remember watching President Jennings. Later as House Majority Leader, I remember observing President Lee, who I now have the opportunity to serve alongside. Who can forget Senate President Jim King? I’ve learned a lot from each leader that sits here today. I do want to briefly touch on President King. If you were in the House, you will understand this story. When you go into the Florida House and you’re elected as a freshman, usually you have three or four days of orientation, or as we called it, indoctrination. You learn about the House. You learn about what you do and how you do it and all those great things. When I came to the Senate, President King, who had finished being presiding officer, was asked by Jeff Atwater to handle the new member orientation. I went in to meet Jim King, and Senator King’s orientation lasted about thirty seconds. Jim King said to me, “Son, you’re not in the House anymore. You’re in the Senate. Are there any questions?” That pretty much summed it up. I also remember another story. There was a point in my very early career in the Senate when my name was being bounced around as maybe leaving and running for Congress. It wasn’t being bounced around by me, but by others. I still recall Senator King who sat right down here by Senator Dean. Jim King called me over and said, “I hear you might leave.” I said, “Well, there is some discussion.” He said, “Well, I’ve watched you. If you stick around, I think you’ve got a chance to be president.” That’s a conversation I’ve never forgotten. President King was a great president. I hope Linda King is here. There is President King’s wife, Linda King.

There are so many people I want to recognize and thank. First and foremost, I would not be here, I would have never served in the House, I never would have met my wonderful wife if it had not been for the personal relationship that I have with Christ, my God. He has guided me every step of the way, and for that, I am forever grateful. We all fall short of the Glory of God, and I know I have many times in my life. It has truly been an honor, and it means so much for what God has provided to our family.

We also have a special guest that Senator Bradley introduced last year with us today, Charlotte Yates. Her husband, Pastor Yates, was involved in my very early learning of my religious beliefs. There’s Charlotte, right up there.

I also want to thank the residents of Senate District 13 and the residents of House District 40 prior to that. It is beyond humbling to think the community that I grew up in, where I rode my bike, played Delaney Park Little League, went to Blankner, Howard, and Boone—to think that they have sent me here to represent them is unbelievable. In that first campaign, we knocked on doors, and I’d see former teachers, and I would say, “I’m running for the Florida House.” They would say, “You’re running for the Florida House?" Every day, I just thank God for this opportunity to be here.

I also want to thank my adopted hometown, Apopka. If it were not for the leaders of Apopka, and David Rankin was on that video, I certainly would not be having this opportunity. In 1999, there was an opportunity to run for the Florida House, and I was working for the Apopka area Chamber of Commerce. While it sounded like a good idea to me and a couple of others, there were people in the community who didn't think it was a good idea. David Rankin and Derwin and Ray McLeod were the group of leaders in Apopka. I think David even wrote a letter to the editor that this would be a good thing for Apopka. For that, in my ten years that I spent in Apopka, it will always be my adopted hometown. Whatever I accomplish and wherever I go, it will be because of what the City of Apopka provided for me. I was there for ten years. They rode with me through the journey in the House. I see David Rankin and Commissioner Bryan Nelson up there in the gallery. It's a very special place for me.

I also want to recognize my colleagues at Orlando Health. They are all right up here in the gallery. They have covered for me. We have all worked together for many years, and the running joke now is, "Who is that guy that just walked in the door?" I've traveled a lot, but I truly appreciate your support and help through all of this. Thank you all for being here.

I look in the gallery, and I see some friends from home. A couple of them over here who probably could have had some different videos and some that the press may have preferred. When this journey is over, these will still be my buddies, and they'll still be my friends. I know that, and I'm truly grateful for them to be here.

I also want to thank Reynold Meyer, our Chief of Staff, and the Senate staff. I want to thank Debbie Brown, even though she conspired against me, for making this transition so easy. I am truly blessed, and we all are. As you know, this is a fleeting moment. Most of us, this afternoon, will go back home. People like Reynold Meyer, Katie, and Tony, this is their home. I call them lifers. We all go, but they love this institution just as much as we do. You all have made this transition so easy, and I have thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to work with you.

To my mom and dad, thank you for everything. Thank you for just being my mom and dad.

My mother-in-law and my father-in-law, Joanne and Richard Wood, the most recent residents of District 13. They moved up from South Florida. Thank you for your support. I know that at times, with my mom and dad too, that you've gotten calls at the last minute about some political event that I did not tell Camille about, so we did not have a babysitter. We appreciate you being here as well, so thank you so much.

To my children, to Kathryn, "KK Wiggle Wiggle" as we like to call her, she's only four. I've commented that if you know Kathryn, she's got a little bit of an edge to her. I said to President Gaetz one time, "I think she's either going to be a ballerina or a sniper. We're not sure yet." I know that when we talked about today, it may be hard to understand all that is going on. The first question that she asked was, "Does this mean you get the big office?" I said, "Yes, I get the big office." Kathryn, I love you so much, and I hope there will be a lot of pictures over the next couple of years and maybe one or two nice articles in the paper that, as you get older, you will understand why Daddy traveled and missed a few things. To Joanna Lynn, it never occurred to me that I would have a daughter. After Andrew was born, Camille and I did not find out what we were having. When the doctor said, "Congratulations, you have a daughter," I was scared to death. You have brought more joy in our lives. Your smile is unbelievable, and I am so proud of you. I'm so glad you're my daughter. To Andrew, I'm proud that you're my son. When we pray, we pray for passion. We pray for passion, because I want you to have passion every day of your life. It's my job as your dad to help you and to be with you. There isn't a day that will go by, as Senator Smith mentioned, it's been 11 years, that I don't think about what we can do in this Legislature to help you and others. I love you, son. I'm so proud that you're my son.

This is a unique time for the Senate. With the exception of Senator Thrasher's departure for FSU, we have the exact same Senate returning for the new term. We have worked together for years. Many of us were together in the House. We know each other. We know each other's family members. Some of us have watched our children grow up together. We have celebrated with joy at the birth of a new child or grandchild, or shared the grief of losing a parent. We know our colleagues' strengths, weaknesses, and passions.

My hope is that we will use this unique time in the Senate, and the knowledge we have gained from our years of service together, to work hand in hand on important issues of the day. We certainly have the opportunity to hit the ground running. I expect to announce committee assignments in early December, and committee meetings will begin after the first of the year. Some Senators have subject-area expertise that has been a great benefit to the body over the last several years. I appreciate and respect that institutional knowledge. For that reason, some Senators will be asked to resume work in familiar policy or budget areas. Others, however, will be asked to lead in new areas. In appointing chairs and assigning committees, I will give great deference to your preferences, but I will ask you to take responsibility for those policy and budget areas in which you have requested a leadership role. My job is to put the right people in the right places and then allow those Senators to drive the agenda.

Over the last two years, we have seen very few bills withdrawn from committees of reference, also known as the famous blue cards. This is a new tradition for the Senate, started by President Gaetz, and one I intend to continue.

Chairs will decide the fate of bills assigned to their committees. Amendments will be reviewed thoroughly and, if substantive changes have been made, whether it is week one or week seven, bills will be re-referenced for further debate and discussion. Upon our return in January, we will have no time to waste. Bills will need to start moving, and chairs will need to deliberately plan their agendas to allow for the expected workload. My hope is to have Senators sit on fewer committees, providing each Senator more time to delve into the big issues of the day. This means committees will be smaller; more Senators will be empowered—and expected—to take on leadership roles.

You already know many of the issues that are important to me. But there are other significant issues this body will need to address over the next two years. The long-range financial outlook, a constitutionally-required three-year look at our state budget, takes into account current levels of general revenue, increases in critical and high priority needs, as well as our state reserves. These factors indicate our revenues will exceed our obligations by approximately $336 million. This number reflects significant ongoing investments we, along with Governor Scott and our colleagues in the House, have made over the last two years as our economy has started to recover. We funded K-12 education at unprecedented levels; we appropriated nearly a half billion dollars in teacher raises; we passed the first raise for state employees in six years; we delivered the historic creation of a dedicated funding stream for education construction; and, we set aside more than $500 million in broad-based tax relief.

As a result of these investments, there will be less new money available as we develop our budget and contemplate new programs or enhanced spending in current initiatives. As we develop our priorities for the coming session, this Senate will also have the historic responsibility to plan the implementation of Amendment 1.

Preparing for today's session, I read the remarks made by Senate President Jim King during the 2002 Organization Session, which followed Governor Bush's re-election. President King said, "Election night yielded nine new constitutional amendments, which we will have to enact into law. One of the most demanding is the class size amendment, which, while I believe it to be a noble goal, is also the largest unfunded mandate in our state's history. It will require us to make some very tough decisions, but today you swore an oath to accept the responsibility of carrying out the will of the voters, and together we must find a solution." President King's words certainly ring true.

Whether we agree with Amendment 1 or not, the people of Florida have spoken, and Amendment 1 was added to our constitution. That is our reality. Amendment 1 requires the Legislature to set aside one-third of documentary stamp revenue into the Land Acquisition Trust Fund to be spent on a variety of environmental initiatives. The challenge with Amendment 1 is not spending more money on the environment.

We already spend hundreds of millions of dollars of doc stamp revenue and other state revenues on many initiatives that benefit Florida's environment and natural resources. The challenge facing this Senate is the impact Amendment 1 will have on transportation, affordable housing, and economic development, and other priorities which also receive doc stamp funding. In this new reality, as we work to apply this new portion of our constitution and faithfully implement the will of the voters, there is going to be some pain.

There is no question implementing this amendment will be a challenge. When it is all said and done, we have the opportunity at this time in history as the legislature closest in time to the passage of this amendment, to make a significant impact on the future of water and natural resources policy in our state. That is a significant honor, an immense responsibility, and a mission I look forward to each of you being a part of.

Not long ago, the Legislature was faced with significant budget shortfalls necessitating budget after budget of challenging cuts. Fortunately, Florida's economy has drastically improved and over the last four years, we have been in a position to invest heavily in areas greatly impacted by the recession. As we look to the future, we have every reason to be optimistic. Florida's economy is strong and growing as the private sector continues to create the jobs that fuel Florida's families. Our challenge is to remain deliberative and to responsibly plan for Florida's future.

The work doesn't stop when we leave Tallahassee. We need to be working on issues, talking with constituents, and drafting bills. As I said, when we return in January, we will hit the ground running. In my designation, I mentioned that this is a chapter, the final chapter of my Senate career that has not been written yet. Each of you will be an author, as I will be the author of yours. You have my commitment to truly be as best as I can to serve as leader. When you come see me, there may be times when I say, "Do what you want; you're in charge." I do that because I trust you, I believe you, and I know that this Senate will make it happen. I am truly beyond words and humbled. I will do everything I can to make you, my family, and my mom and dad proud. Thank you.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President announced that nominations would be received for President Pro Tempore of the Senate for a term of two years.

The President recognized Senator Gaetz who placed in nomination the name of Senator Garrett Richter of the 23rd Senatorial District.

Senator Gaetz: Thank you, Mr. President. In President Pro Tempore Garrett Richter, we have a man who does not want to give up his VIP parking place. Or his office. Or his place on the floor. If we elect him, he will be the first Senator in memory chosen twice for this high office. I know what's behind this. In May, on this floor, this Senate gave the outgoing President a valuable, precious, meaningful, expensive, historic gift and gave the President Pro Tempore a golf bag and a beer sign. You want a second shot at a nice gift. Of course, under Senate rules, the Senate Pro Tempore assumes the presidency if the President dies. Look at him; look at me. You've had your best shot.

So, what really is the case for Garrett Richter? After the recent election, I was watching late night public TV; I do a lot of that, now. No one calls anymore, and I have a lot of time. I can tell you about the Canadian moose and their mating calls. But, after the recent election, I was watching a panel of historians who were opining on why two-thirds of the American people chose not to vote. Many of the ones who did vote in the recent election were unenthusiastic about the people that they voted for. The biggest turn off to voters, these historians concluded, was a lack of authenticity. People didn't think many of these candidates of either party were genuine or real. We are hip deep in manufactured leaders made for politics, and then they fade to gray when they are not in office anymore. What Americans and Floridians seem to want and don't find often enough are authentic leaders. Women and men who already made their bones outside politics; who already earned respect in real life. Whose importance comes not from the titles they temporarily hold, but from the character they permanently embody.

That's why I respect our Minority Leader, Senator Joyner. Civil rights is not a bullet point on a mailer for her. The struggle for justice defines her life. Arthenia Joyner is authentic.

So is Garrett Richter. Garrett Richter does not come to the debate about minimum wage by listening to somebody else's story or testimony. He worked as a janitor, and he rode public transportation to get to his job. He knows where the rungs on the ladder start, because he gripped the bottom rung and then worked his way up. He doesn't decide his position on veteran's legislation because it's popular back home to be for veterans. Garrett Richter earned the Bronze Star for combat bravery as an Army recon tunnel rat. When he came home, and when those who were in that war came home, there were no parades or Florida GI bills. So he knows. He knows what it's like. He fulfilled his military obligation and then some. Then he joined the Air Force.

He's real, he's genuine. Media blogs don't drive his vote on tax policy, or insurance costs, or small business regulation, because he's started and run and struggled with small businesses. He knows what it's like to pay taxes and to pay premiums and to wonder if he can meet the payroll at the end of the week. He founded businesses largely on his own reputation. He built them largely on his own sweat equity. By January, one of those businesses will be a billion dollar bank. That's pretty good.

Leader Joyner spoke yesterday of a wall. Garrett Richter knows what it takes to climb that wall. From the janitor's closet in the basement where he held a mop to the CEO's corner office where he holds a billion dollars in trust and in value.

Garrett doesn't have to wonder what's right and wrong about public ethics and private integrity. The sign on his bank is two hands clasped in trust and in friendship. Garrett Richter's handshake is the best contract you will ever get, because his handshake is the full faith and credit of an authentic man. That's why every time he has offered himself to his neighbors to be their advocate, their State Representative, their Senator, he has been elected without opposition. Every time. Not too many people in politics can say that. He is authentic and the force multiplier for his authenticity is sitting right next to him, Diana Richter. Garrett Richter is not important because he is a Senator. He is a Senator because he's important; important to his community, important to his state, important to his country. Garrett Richter was a made man before he ever stepped into this building, before he ever sat on this floor.

Mr. President, you chose well. The guidance and support he will give you won't come from a focus group, but from a life authentically lived. He will be your lifeline to the real economy; where women and men work hard to earn better jobs, where young families risk it all to start a business, where a returning soldier steps back onto American soil, and all he wants is a chance to build a life here. He can be your lifeline to them, because Garrett Richter is them. Mr. President, Senator Richter will tell you when something is wrong, and he will help you make it right. He will stand in the breach for you, even if he stands alone. He will never, ever let you down. He is authentic. That is why I ask the Senate to confirm your choice, and I nominate Senator Garrett Richter for President Pro Tempore.

The President recognized Senator Montford who seconded the nomination of Senator Richter.

Senator Montford: Thank you, Mr. President. It is often said that President Gaetz and I look alike, we sound a little bit alike, and I am amazed at how well we think alike. Either that or he stole my notes this morning and just read from them. So, some of this may be a little repetitious, but bear with me.

First of all, I would like to say what, indeed, an honor this is to be able to second this nomination because Garrett is just a really, really special person. I remember the first time I met Senator Richter; we walked into an establishment nearby, and he and Senator Bennett were standing there, and somebody said let me introduce you to these two Senators that are really powerful. They know what is going on, and you need to get to know them. So I walked over and began to introduce myself, and Garrett said, "We know who you are, and we know where you are from, now don't mess it up. We like you, so don't mess it up," and then Senator Bennett said a few things I can't repeat here. Then they said, "We want you to go to the ballgame with us tonight," and I said, "Well, I may have other plans." They said, "Whatever plans, they are not as important as spending the evening with the two of us." So, I go with them and I learn quickly the difference between Mike Bennett and Garrett Richter.

Let me say just a couple of things, though. Senator Richter has followed a path of service in all of the positions that he has been in. President Gardiner, you mentioned a couple years ago when you were recognizing Senator Richter that he was a tunnel rat, as Senator Gaetz had just said, in Vietnam, and he searched those tunnels that were built by the Viet Cong in eliminating the enemy for the safety of his friends upstairs. The courage to crawl through the unknown danger for the sake of those you fight beside is not something that can be done for appearances or rewards. It is done simply out of selfless service and true love for those who are waiting aboveground. He served our nation fearlessly, but he also served those who fought beside him in a very loving way, his colleagues and his comrades. As many of you know, and as Senator Gaetz explained here this morning, he started out his job as a custodian and worked his way up. What impressed me about that when I first heard it, and quite frankly I have used that example many times, Garrett, when talking to young people throughout the state. I have used you as a good example of what life can mean and what a good example of what hard work and dedication will do. We know too, Garrett, that your father had tremendous faith in you, and that faith your father had in you was not unfounded, and it is obvious to everybody in here today what your father saw in you. And you, my friend, we have unquestionable faith in you.

Senator Richter once spoke on the floor about importance of political civility, and I can't think of a better person in this chamber than Senator Richter himself as an example. We know the profound impact that Senator Richter can have on anybody's day, just the simple smallest interaction. And it shouldn't go unnoted, Senator Richter, that one of my Senate aides said recently, "He is the nicest guy. You should watch him because he always speaks to me when I walk down the hall. You need to do that, Senator Montford." So, I am going to be watching, okay? I can say, quite frankly, we all see you as our partner. But I can think of no better partner for the Florida Senate than Senator Garrett Richter and our Senate President. You are going to make a dynamic duo. I also know that Floridians are looking more closely at the Florida Legislature, including the Senate, than they ever have before. I know that with President Gardiner and with you, my friend, Florida will be served exceptionally well because Senator Richter knows the importance of decency among his colleagues, and he fosters that culture of collaboration with all of us on this floor.

So finally, I want to say the last thing, and probably the most important, Garrett, is that you set such a good example of a family man, of how important family is. Without talking to you or Diana very long, we know how important your children are and your grandchildren as well. We were together last evening, and we looked like two grandfathers where we both pulled out our phones, and we started showing each other pictures of our grandchildren. Of course, I couldn't get mine to work, and Garrett took my phone and showed me how to do it. We quickly came to realize that we both had grandchildren, boys and girls. Each of us has one granddaughter. We also quickly realized that, we believe, Mr. President, Florida State President, both of them are going to be cheerleaders at Florida State University. We figured that out last night because they are so beautiful. But I can't think of a better honor for myself, personally, than to be able to stand here today and call you my friend and my colleague, and I trust you with my life. Thank you, Mr. President.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Richter: Thank you, President Gaetz, and thank you, Senator Montford. I cherish your friendship, and I admire your values. You are both men that are extremely comfortable in your own skin and confident in your beliefs. I believe in you, and I thank you for the very kind words you expressed on my behalf. Thank you.

Thank you, President Gardiner. Thank you for your confidence in me. When I told Diana that you selected me as your Pro Tempore, like she did two years ago, she asked, "Why did President Gardiner select you?" I told her you said that it was because of my warm personality. Well, she went to the bookshelf and removed the dictionary. After opening the dictionary, she looked at me and said, "Garrett, it says here that the definition of warm is not too hot!"

President Gardiner, I am extremely honored to serve as your Pro Tempore. I look forward to working with you and making a positive difference in Florida over the next two years. Two years ago, I was honored to accept this position, and, in my remarks, I referred to David Walker's book, The Comeback of America. In his book, he wrote about the decline of the Roman Empire. Two of the reasons he stated that the Roman Empire collapsed were: first, a loss of political civility and, second, a central government that was fiscally irresponsible and out of control.

Each and every Senator in this room can stand proud of your accomplishments in our last session. The budget that each of you passed was a balanced and fiscally responsible budget for the State of Florida. It passed with a 40 to 0 vote. A loss of political civility? Not in the Florida Senate!

That Senate is all gathered here again for the next two years, everybody but our good friend Senator John Thrasher. Senator Thrasher, collectively, we wish you the greatest success. I know that you will take the same energy to FSU that you brought to the Florida Legislature. Each Senator gathered here this morning will play a significant role in the State of Florida, and the citizens in our state can be proud of the men and women they've elected to represent them in Tallahassee!

Two years ago, I gave a "shout out" to my tremendous staff: Becky Kokkinos, Sandy Mummert, and Michael Nacheff. These three dedicated individuals are still with me, serving our constituents, researching issues, providing valuable insights, and keeping me on schedule. Becky, Sandy, and Michael have a passion for excellence, an unquenchable thirst for quality, and a motor that never stops running. They complete every journey they embark on, and they complete it with first class results. Becky, Sandy, and Michael, thank you for your loyalty, your professionalism, and your friendship. I am proud of each one of you.

Two years ago when I accepted this nomination, I told you that Diana and I had recently celebrated our 38th wedding anniversary. Well, I'm glad to report that Diana has put up with me for two more years and that last month we celebrated our 40th wedding anniversary! Our 40 years together have been filled with adventure, opportunity, new roads, and fantastic memories. Our three children are adults. They are achieving their goals in life, and they are making a difference. Our daughters, Melissa and Elizabeth, each married wonderful men and each have two children, Santiago and Ignacio and Ian and Leah. Diana and I are "Mimi" and "Pop Pop." There is no better sound in the world than the sound of running feet and a voice hollering out, “Mimi, I love you,” or “Pop Pop, I love you,” as they run into your arms. Our son Rob is navigating the international business arena. His wisdom and tenacity make his mom and me proud as can be.

Diana, thank you for standing behind me when I needed a push, thank you for standing in front of me when I needed guidance, and thanks for standing beside me when I needed advice. I love you, and I’m proud to be your husband.

Speaking of pride, each of you know the look of pride when you see it. It smiles a smile that is bigger than life. It carries a grin that can never be wiped off. It causes one to stand taller, smile brighter, hold their stomach in, and push their chest out. I witnessed the greatest vision of pride last session right here in this chamber. A young man could hardly contain himself as his father was recognized. He was jittery with excitement. He was beaming with pride. Each and every time his father’s name was mentioned, he grew taller and taller. He patted his mother on the back and hugged her dearly as he watched his dad be honored. That young man stood taller than anybody in the chamber that day. That young man’s pride brought tears to my eyes. His pride was overwhelming. That young man is Andrew Gardiner, Jr. I watched him as he sat next to his dad on the floor, and I watched him the times he sat with his mom in the gallery. Camille, the love that you and President Gardiner have instilled in your family will give you each the strength and endurance to conquer any challenge, to overcome any obstacle, and to cross every finish line with a huge smile on your faces. Joanna Lynn, Kathryn Lucille, and Andrew, Jr., will make you proud of them because of the memories you give them and the pride they have in their mom and dad.

President Gardiner, your values will define your term as President. Your values include your family, your faith, your “Golden Rule” approach to people, your passion for good policy, and your commitment to doing what’s right for Florida. These are the values that you hold high. These are the values that give every Senator in this chamber the ability to stand tall, to hold in their stomach, and to push out their chest as we are all proud to serve Florida with your leadership. Thank you for selecting me as your President Pro Tempore. I’m extremely honored, and I accept!

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

President Gardiner recognized Senator Galvano from the 26th District as the Majority (Republican) Leader for the 2014-2016 term.

CERTIFICATE RECEIVED

By direction of the President, the Secretary read a certificate from the Minority (Democratic) Party certifying the name of Senator Arthenia Joyner as Minority Leader and Senator Oscar Braynon II as the Minority Leader Pro Tempore for the 2014-2016 term.

Senator Joyner: Thank you, Mr. President. On behalf of the Senate Democratic Caucus, let me offer you our sincere congratulations and best wishes for a successful two years as President of this esteemed body. We each come from different parties and different approaches, but we’ve traveled this path together, you and I. At the end of the day, we’ve had the same goal at heart: the well-being of Floridians and our beautiful state. As we continue this journey, let us follow that mission once again and, when it is time to pass the gavel to our successors two years hence, know that our friendship will always endure. Thank you, Mr. President.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

On motion by Senator Bradley that a committee be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate was convened for the purpose of organization, the President appointed Senators Brandes, Sachs, Hukill, and Braynon, with Senator Bean acting as Chair. The committee was excused.

The Secretary shall number each bill to provide identity and control until a permanent number can be affixed.

~~(4)(3)~~ Between regular sessions of the Legislature, bills may be filed by delivery to the Secretary.

3.8—Filed bills; consideration between regular sessions

(1) A filed bill complying with these Rules shall, in anticipation of the next regular session, be serially numbered in accordance with the permanent system required by these Rules.

(2) The Secretary shall provide each such numbered bill to the Presquorumst (1st) or only committee of reference. The Journal shall reflect the committee reference and the report of the committee. ~~All requirements for the referencing of bills to and the consideration of bills by Senate committees shall be deemed to have been met and discharged if the jurisdictional requirements of this Rule have been complied with as to each of such bills.~~

~~(4) Notwithstanding these Rules, a Senator may, during the day of introduction of filed bills, but no later than under the Order of Business of "Motions Relating to Committee Reference" on the second (2nd) day on which the Senate sits, move for reference to a different committee or for removal from a committee. This motion may be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.~~

~~(4)(5)~~ Prior to the introduction of a bill on the first (1st) day of the regular session, a Senator may give written notification to the Secretary to withdraw his or her bill from further consideration of the Senate.

3.9—Copies of bills

When filed, bills (including committee bills and committee substitute bills) shall be published by the Secretary for the information of the Senate and the public. The absence of a published copy shall not delay the progress of a measure at any stage of the legislative process. Sufficient copies of the general appropriations bill proposed to be introduced by the Appropriations Committee shall be made available to the members and, upon request, to the public, at the Office of the Secretary and at the committee's office, no less than two (2) hours prior to the time the Appropriations Committee meets to consider the proposed committee bill.

3.10—Identification of bills

Bills and other measures requiring legislative action shall be introduced in the order they are received by the Secretary. They shall be serially numbered with even numbers as introduced, without differentiation in number as to type. The Secretary shall mark the original copy of each measure to ensure its identification, and each page thereof, as the item introduced in order to prevent unauthorized or improper substitutions. This identification may be made by any device to accomplish the purpose of this Rule. Such device shall be in the custody of the Secretary, and its use by any person not authorized by this Rule is prohibited.

3.11—Companion measures

(1) When a Senate bill is reached on the calendar of the Senate for consideration, either on second (2nd) or third (3rd) reading, and there is also pending on the calendar of the Senate a companion measure already passed by the House, it shall be in order to move that the House companion measure be substituted and considered in lieu of the Senate measure. Such motion may be adopted by a majority vote of those Senators present, provided the House measure is on the same reading; otherwise, the motion shall be to waive the Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present and read such House measure.

(2) A companion measure shall be substantially the same and identical as to specific intent and purpose as the measure for which it is being substituted. Differences between the Senate bill and the House bill shall be explained by the mover prior to a vote on a substitution motion.

(3) A House bill residing in a Senate committee that is a companion of a bill under consideration in the Senate may be withdrawn from such committee without motion, unless a Senator requests a vote on such a withdrawal action.

~~(4)(3)~~ At the moment the Senate passes the House companion measure, the original Senate measure shall be regarded as automatically tabled. Recommitment of a Senate bill shall automatically carry with it any House companion measure then on the calendar.

3.12—Introducers of bills; co-introducers; introducers no longer Senators

(1) Bills shall be approved for introduction by a Senator whose name is affixed to the original, or by any committee with the name of the committee and the name of the chair of the committee affixed to the original. A bill may be co-introduced by any Senator whose name is affixed to the original.

(2) A Senator who is not seeking or is ineligible for reelection and, therefore, will not be a Senator at the next regular session of the Legislature may not file a bill for that session. Once a Senator is no longer in office, any bill filed by that Senator for a current or future session of the Legislature shall be deemed withdrawn from further consideration of the Senate unless the bill has a co-introducer who, within seven (7) days, agrees to become the introducer of the bill.

3.13—Fiscal notes

(1) Upon being favorably reported by a committee, all general bills or joint resolutions affecting revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liabilities of state or local governments shall be accompanied by a fiscal note. Fiscal notes shall reflect the estimated increase or decrease in revenues or expenditures. The estimated economic impact, which calculates the present and future fiscal effects of the bill or joint resolution, must be considered. The fiscal note shall not express opinion relative to the merits of the measure, but may identify technical defects.

(2) Fiscal notes on those bills affecting any state retirement system shall be prepared after consultation with an actuary who is a member of the Society of Actuaries, and the cooperation of appropriate state agencies for necessary data shall be solicited.

(3) Fiscal notes shall be regarded as memoranda of factual information and shall be made available to Senators.

(4) If a bill or joint resolution is reported favorably by a committee without a fiscal note or economic impact statement, as defined in this Rule, a Senator may at any time prior to final passage raise a point of order, and the President shall order return of the bill or joint resolution to the committee. A fiscal note prepared for a Senate bill or joint resolution shall be presumed as prepared also for its House companion for the purposes of point of order.

See Rule 1.2—The President calls the Senate to order.

4.2—Quorum

A majority of the Senate shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as it may prescribe. A Senator at any time may question the existence of a quorum.

See FLA. CONST. art. III, s. 4 Quorum and procedure.

4.3—Daily Order of Business

- (1) The Daily Order of Business shall be as follows:
  - (a) Roll Call
  - (b) Prayer
  - (c) Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America
  - (d) Reports of Committees
  - (e) Motions Relating to Committee Reference
  - (f) Messages from the Governor and Other Executive Communications
  - (g) Messages from the House of Representatives
  - (h) Matters on Reconsideration
  - (i) Consideration of Bills on Third (3rd) Reading
  - (j) Special Order Calendars
  - (k) Consideration of Bills on Second (2nd) Reading
  - (l) Correction and Approval of Journal
  - (m) Unfinished Business

(2) The Secretary shall prepare and distribute, on each session weekday, a calendar corresponding to the Daily Order of Business; and within each order of business, matters shall be considered in the order in which they appear on such daily calendar. Local bills may be omitted from the formal calendar and may be distributed to Senators by the Secretary separately. Weekend calendars may be prepared when necessary to provide notice of meetings on Saturday or Sunday.

See Rule 4.16—Consideration out of regular order.

(3) Certain messages from the House of Representatives may be withheld from the Daily Order of Business pursuant to Rule 1.18 or on order of the President. Notwithstanding Rule 4.3(1), the Senate may, at the direction of the President, take up messages from the House at any time.

See Rule 1.18—The Secretary receives and delivers for reading messages from the House of Representatives; summaries of House amendments to Senate bills.

(4) Unless read during a sitting, first (1st) reading of a bill shall be accomplished by publication of the title thereof in the Journal pursuant to Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution.

See FLA. CONST. art. III, s. 7 Passage of bills.

(5) Except by unanimous consent of those Senators present at a sitting, no bill shall be considered by the Senate if the bill or a companion measure has not been first reported favorably by at least one (1) Senate committee.

4.4—~~Repealed~~ Committee of the Whole

~~By a majority vote of those Senators present, the Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole and, when thus constituted, may consider any question whether formally introduced in the Senate or not. The Senate may, however, restrict the subject matter to be considered by the Committee of the Whole, or its jurisdiction, by resolving itself into a Committee of the Whole for a specific and limited purpose. The President shall preside and maintain order and decorum. The Senate Rules relating to standing committees shall govern when applicable. The Committee of the Whole may consider and report, by majority vote of~~

~~those committee members present, on any bill or question not formally introduced in the Senate and any bill on which all standing committees of reference have rendered a favorable report. A bill on which committee action has been taken by the committee or committees of reference or on which an unfavorable committee report has been filed may be considered only by a two thirds (2/3) vote of those committee members present. Such vote shall also be required to favorably report any such bill to the Senate. A bill thus originating in a Committee of the Whole shall, when introduced as contemplated by the State Constitution, receive no further reference to committee. A favorable report by a Committee of the Whole on a bill having theretofore received an unfavorable report by a standing committee of reference shall not have the effect of withdrawing such bill from the table. Consideration by the Senate of such a bill shall be preceded by the adoption of the appropriate motion during a sitting of the Senate. Bills considered by a Committee of the Whole shall be read once, debated, amended, and acted on as a standing committee function. The body of a bill formally introduced shall not be interlined or defaced, but all amendments denoting the location shall be entered on a separate paper by the Secretary of the Committee of the Whole. The same shall be agreed to by the Committee of the Whole, and the report filed as otherwise provided in these Rules for committee reports. After report, the bill or other matter may be again debated and shall be subject to be again amended by the Senate. The quorum for a Committee of the Whole shall be the same as for the Senate, and when the Committee of the Whole shall rise, the roll shall be called to ascertain the presence of a quorum of the Senate.~~

4.5—Conference committee report

(1) The report of a conference committee appointed pursuant to Rule 1.5 shall be read to the Senate after which at two (2) consecutive sittings, ~~and on the completion of the second (2nd) reading~~ the vote shall be:

- (a) on the adoption or rejection of the conference report and, if adopted, the vote shall then be
- (b) on final passage of the measure as amended by the conference report.

~~During the last five (5) days of a regular session and during any extension thereof, the report shall be read only once.~~ Copies of conference committee reports shall be available to the membership twelve (12) hours prior to the time such report is scheduled to be taken up on the Senate floor.

(2) The report must be acted on as a whole, being adopted or rejected.

(3) Each report shall include a statement sufficiently explicit to inform the Senate of the effect of the report on the measure to which it relates.

(4) Except when the Senate is voting on a proposition, reports of conference committees shall always be in order.

4.6—Reference generally

(1) All bills, including those that are strictly local in nature, shall be referred by the President to appropriate committees and standing subcommittees. General appropriations bills, appropriations implementing bills, trust fund bills, and appropriations conforming bills introduced by the Appropriations Committee may be placed on the calendar without reference.

(2) The sequence of the President's reference actions shall indicate which standing committee will receive the report of a standing subcommittee.

~~(3)(2)~~ Bills received by the President during a regular session and within three (3) weeks next preceding the convening of a regular session shall be referred within seven (7) days. Upon failure of the President to reference such bills within this limitation, they shall be referred to committees as may be recommended by the introducer. In the event of extended absence of the President or the President's disability or incapacity, the President Pro Tempore shall assume the duty of referring bills.

~~(4)(3)~~ When the Legislature is not in session, the President may change or correct a bill reference by notice to the Secretary and the bill introducer.

(5)(4) The review of a bill that appears to be local in nature shall be performed by the Secretary to determine whether such measure is local in nature for reference purposes and whether it responds to the legal requirements of a local bill.

(6)(5) A bill is local in nature for referencing purposes if it does not substantially alter a law of general application throughout the state and it either affects no more than one (1) county or relates to a special district that is located wholly within no more than two (2) counties.

(7)(6) When the Secretary, through staff review, has determined that the bill is not local in nature for referencing purposes, the Secretary shall report such determination to the President, who shall refer such bill to an appropriate standing committee for hearing. Such report shall be made within fifteen (15) days from date of receipt by the Secretary. When the Secretary, through staff review, has determined that a bill is local in nature for referencing purposes and that it responds to the legal requirements of a local bill, the bill shall be available for the calendar on local bills notwithstanding Rule 4.3(5).

4.7—Reference to more than one committee; effect

(1) When a bill receives more than one (1) reference, it shall be considered by each committee separately in the order in which the references are made. However, if any committee to which the bill is referred makes an unfavorable report on said bill, that report shall be filed with the Senate and no further consideration given by other committees except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present while sitting.

(2) If a committee reports a bill favorably with committee substitute or with any amendment which substantially amends the bill, the President may change or correct the reference of the reported bill. Notice shall be given to the Secretary and the introducer of the bill.

4.8—Review and reference of bills affecting appropriations, revenue, retirement, or county or municipal spending

(1) All bills authorizing or substantially affecting appropriations or tax revenue shall be referred to the appropriate revenue or appropriations committee.

(2) All bills substantially affecting a state-funded or state-administered retirement system shall be referred to the Governmental Oversight and Accountability Committee.

(3) A bill containing a local mandate as described in Article VII, Section 18 of the State Constitution shall be referred to the Community Affairs Committee.

(4) A bill that is amended to substantially affect appropriations or tax revenue, a state retirement program, or expenditures or revenues as set forth in Article VII, Section 18 of the State Constitution may, before being placed before the Senate for final passage, be referred by the President along with all amendments to the appropriate revenue or appropriations committee.

4.81—Claim bills

(1) Claim bills are of two (2) types: excess judgment claims filed pursuant to section 768.28(5), Florida Statutes, and equitable claims filed without an underlying excess judgment.

(2) All claim bills shall be filed with the Secretary on or before August 1 in order to be considered by the Senate during the next regular session, except that Senators elected to the Senate during a general election or a special general election may have sixty-two (62) days from the date of that election to file a claim bill. Senators currently serving who are re-elected during a general election are not subject to the immediately preceding provision relating to sixty-two (62) days. A motion to introduce a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline shall be referred to the Rules Committee for a hearing and a determination as to the existence of an emergency reasonably compelling consideration of a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline. A House claim bill which does not have a Senate companion claim bill timely filed under this Rule shall not be considered by the Senate. Any motion to consider a House claim bill which does not have a timely filed Senate companion bill shall be referred to the Rules Committee for a hearing and a determination as to the existence of an emergency reasonably compelling consideration of a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline. The determination by the Rules Committee shall be reported back to the Senate. Upon a determination by the committee that an emergency does exist, the motion may be considered by the Senate and must be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(3) If the President determines that a de novo hearing is necessary to determine liability, proximate cause, and damages, a special master shall conduct such hearing pursuant to reasonable notice. Discovery procedures shall be governed by the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure and the Florida Evidence Code, as applicable. The special master shall administer an oath to all witnesses, accept relevant documentary and tangible evidence properly offered, record the proceedings, and prepare a final report containing findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendations. The report shall be signed by the special master who shall be available, in person, to explain his or her report to the committees and to the Senate.

(4) All claim bills shall be referred by the President to one (1) or more committees for review. On receipt of the special master's report and recommendations, if any, the Secretary shall, upon the President's reference, deliver each claim bill with the report attached to the committee or committees of reference.

(5) Stipulations entered into by the parties are not binding on the special master, the Senate, or its committees.

(6) The hearing and consideration of a claim bill shall be held in abeyance until all available administrative and judicial remedies have been exhausted; except that the hearing and consideration of a claim that is still within the judicial or administrative systems may proceed where the parties have executed a written settlement agreement. This subsection does not apply to a bill which relates to a claim of wrongful incarceration.

(7) All materials provided by litigants and others in connection with claim bills shall be submitted in a digital form prescribed by the Secretary.

4.9—Reference of resolutions

(1) Substantive resolutions shall be referred by the President to a standing committee.

(2) Resolutions that may be considered without reference to a committee include those addressing:

- (a) Senate organization,
- (b) condolence and commemoration that are of a statewide nonpolitical significance, and
- (c) concurrent resolutions pertaining to a legislative joint session, a session extension, joint rules, procedure, organization, recalling a bill from the Governor, Governor's office, adopting Joint Rules of the Legislature, extending a session of the Legislature, or setting an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor's veto.

The resolutions listed in subsection (2) may be considered and read twice on the same day on motion and adopted at time of introduction without reference, except that resolutions of condolence or commemoration that are of a statewide nonpolitical significance may be shown as introduced, read, and adopted by publication in full in the Journal.

~~(3) A joint resolution setting an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor's veto may be considered on motion and introduced without reference.~~

4.10—Reference to different committee or removal

(1) After the President has referred a bill, the Rules Chair may move for reference to a different committee or for removal from any committee after the introducer of the bill has filed a request with the Rules Chair signed by the chair of the affected committee, the Rules Chair, and the President. This motion may be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(2) Notwithstanding these Rules, a Senator may, during the day of introduction of filed bills, but no later than under the Order of Business of “Motions Relating to Committee Reference” on the second (2nd) day on which the Senate sits, move for reference to a different committee or for removal from a committee. This motion may be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

4.11—Papers of miscellaneous nature

Papers of a miscellaneous nature addressed to the Senate may, at the discretion of the President, be read, noted in the Journal, or filed with an appropriate committee. When there is a demand to read a paper other than one on which the Senate is called to give a final vote and the same is objected to by any Senator, it shall be determined by a majority vote of those Senators present. A two-thirds (2/3) vote shall be required to spread remarks upon the Journal.

4.12—Reading of bills and joint resolutions

Each bill or joint resolution shall receive three (3) separate readings on three (3) separate days previous to a vote on final passage unless decided otherwise by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present as provided in Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution.

See FLA. CONST. art. XI, s. 1 Proposal by legislature.

4.13—Reading of concurrent resolutions and memorials

(2) Concurrent resolutions pertaining to a legislative joint session, a session extension, joint rules, procedure, organization, recalling a bill from the Governor, Governor’s office, adopting Joint Rules of the Legislature, extending a session of the Legislature, or setting an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor’s veto may be read a first (1st) and second (2nd) time, and adopted on the same day.

4.14—Reading of Senate resolutions

Unless referred to a standing committee, on introduction, each Senate resolution shall be read two (2) times on the same day by title only before the question is put on adoption by voice vote.

4.15—Referral or postponement on third (3rd) reading

On the third (3rd) reading of a bill or joint resolution, it shall not be referred or committed (except as provided under Rule 4.8) or amended (except a corrective or title amendment) except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present, nor shall the vote on passage be postponed to a day certain without the consent of a majority of those Senators present.

4.16—Consideration out of regular order

A bill shall be considered out of regular order on the calendar on unanimous consent of those Senators present obtained in the following manner: prior to the consideration of the motion, the Senator moving for unanimous consent of those Senators present shall orally give the membership not fewer than fifteen (15) minutes’ notice of his or her intention to move and shall specify the number of the bill and its position on the calendar. On entertainment of the motion, the moving Senator shall be allowed one (1) minute to explain his or her purpose, and unanimous consent of those Senators present shall be given or refused without further debate.

4.17—Procedure to establish Special Order Calendars and Consent Calendars

(1) Commencing fifteen (15) days prior to a regular session and continuing through any extension thereof, the Rules Chair, Majority Leader, and Minority Leader shall together submit a Special Order Calendar determining the list of bills for consideration by the Senate. The President shall determine the order in which such bills appear on the published Special Order Calendar.

(2) A Special Order Calendar submitted for the first (1st) day, second (2nd) day, or last fourteen (14) days of a regular session shall be pub-

- (a) Bills that had been scheduled for a Special Order Calendar for a previous sitting may be included in the next Special Order Calendar. No other bills shall be considered until this Special Order Calendar has been completed by the Senate.
- (b) A bill appearing on a Special Order Calendar may be stricken by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.
- (c) A bill appearing on the calendar of bills on second (2nd) reading may be added to the end of the Special Order Calendar by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of Senators present.
- (d) All bills set as Special Orders for consideration at the same hour shall take precedence in the order in which they were given preference.
- (e) A Special Order Calendar may not be submitted by the Rules Chair, Majority Leader, and Minority Leader and considered by the Senate on the same day.

(3) A two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present shall be required to establish a Special Order except as provided in this Rule.

(4) Notice of date, time, and place for the establishment of the Special Order Calendars shall be published in at least one (1) Senate calendar or by announcement from the floor.

(5) The Rules Chair, with the approval of the President, may submit a Consent Calendar, to be held in conjunction with the Special Order Calendars.

Any member of the delegation for the local area affected by a bill on the Local Bill Calendar may request that the bill be removed from such calendar.

4.19—Order after second (2nd) reading

(1) After a Senate bill has been read a second (2nd) time and amended and all questions relative to it have been disposed of, it shall be referred to the engrossing clerk to be immediately engrossed. It shall then be placed on the calendar of bills on third (3rd) reading to be considered during the next Senate sitting.

(2) Amendments filed with the Secretary, but not formally moved, shall not be construed as pending and shall not deter advancement of a bill to third (3rd) reading.

(3) A bill shall be available for its third (3rd) reading when it has been read a second (2nd) time on a previous day and no motion left pending.

(4) Bills calendared for second (2nd) or third (3rd) reading shall not be considered on such reading until reached in the proper order and read by title as directed by the President.

RULE FIVE

VOTING

5.1—Taking the yeas and nays

The President shall declare all votes, but, if five (5) Senators immediately question a voice vote by a show of hands, the President shall take the vote by yeas and nays or electronic roll call. When taking yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used and shall have the force and effect of a roll call taken as provided in these Rules. This system may also be used to determine the presence of a quorum. When the Senate is ready to vote on a question requiring roll call and the vote is by electronic roll call, the President shall state: "The Secretary will unlock the board and Senators prepare to vote." When sufficient time has elapsed for each Senator to vote, the President shall say: "Have all Senators voted?" And, after a short pause, shall state: "The Secretary shall now lock the board and record the vote." When the vote is completely recorded, the President shall announce the result to the Senate; and the Secretary shall enter in the Journal the result. When the Senate is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

See FLA. CONST. art. III, s. 4(c) Quorum and procedure.

5.2—Change of vote; votes after a roll call; vote verification

(1) After the result of the vote has been announced by the President, a Senator with unanimous consent of those Senators present may change his or her vote or cast a late vote on the matter.

(2) Records of vote change and after the roll call requests shall be available at the Secretary's desk throughout the day's sitting.

(3) The original roll call shall not be altered, but, if no objections are raised before the close of business that day, timely filed changes of votes and votes after the roll call shall be accepted and recorded under the original roll call in the Journal.

(4) No such change of vote or vote after the roll call request shall be accepted if such vote would alter the result of the vote on final passage of the matter until the matter shall first have been returned to the desk and reconsidered.

(5) On request of a Senator before considering other business, the President shall order a verification of a vote.

5.3—Casting vote for another

(1) No Senator shall cast a vote for another Senator unless the Senator is present in the Chamber area and requests the casting of said vote, nor shall a person not a Senator cast a vote for a Senator.

(2) A Senator who shall, without such authorization, vote or attempt to vote for another Senator may be punished as the Senate may deem proper.

(3) A person not a Senator who votes in the place of a Senator shall be excluded from the Chamber for the remainder of the session.

5.4—Repealed

5.5—Explanation of vote

No Senator shall be permitted to explain his or her vote during a roll call but may submit his or her explanation in writing and file it with the Secretary. This explanation shall be entered in the Journal.

5.6—Election by ballot

In all cases of ballot, a majority of the votes cast shall be necessary to an election. If, however, no one is elected on the first three (3) ballots, the names after the top two (2) in number of votes received on the third (3rd) tally shall be dropped, and the Senate shall ballot on the two (2) names remaining.

RULE SIX

MOTIONS AND PRECEDENCE

6.1—Motions; how made, withdrawn

(1) Procedural motions may be made orally. On request of the President, a Senator shall submit his or her motion in writing. After a motion has been stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Senate and, without a second, shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate.

(2) The mover may withdraw a motion, except a motion to reconsider, as hereinafter provided, at any time before the same has been amended or before the vote shall have commenced.

6.2—Motions; precedence

(1) When a question is under debate, the President shall receive no motion except:

- (a) To reconsider and leave pending a main question
See Rule 6.4—Reconsideration generally.
- (b) To adjourn
  - 1. At a time certain
  - 2. Instantly
See FLA. CONST. art. III, s. 3(e) Sessions of the legislature.
- (c) To recess
- (d) Questions of privilege
See Rule 8.11—Questions of privilege.
- (e) To proceed to the consideration of executive business
- (f) To reconsider
See Rule 6.4—Reconsideration generally.
- (g) To limit debate
See Rule 8.6—Limitation on debate.
- (h) To temporarily postpone
See Rule 6.11—Temporarily postpone.
- (i) To postpone to a day certain
- ~~(j) To commit to the Committee of the Whole~~
~~See Rule 4.4—Committee of the Whole.~~
- ~~(j)(4)~~ To commit to a standing committee
- ~~(k)(4)~~ To commit to a select committee
- ~~(l)(4)~~ To amend
See Rule 7—Amendments.
- ~~(m)(4)~~ To postpone indefinitely
See Rule 6.9—Motion to indefinitely postpone.

which shall have precedence in the descending order given.

(2) A motion to discharge Senate conferees and to appoint or instruct said conferees as set forth in Rule 2.19 is a motion of the highest privilege and this motion shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to adjourn or recess and questions of privilege.

(3) The President shall present all questions in the order in which they are moved unless the subsequent motion is of a higher precedence.

(4) When a motion is under consideration, but prior to the commencement of the vote, a substitute motion shall be in order. Only one (1) substitute shall be considered concurrently and the substitute shall be in the same order of precedence.

(5) Motions for the previous question and to lay on the table shall not be entertained.

6.3—Division of question

(1) A Senator may move for a division of a question when the sense will admit of it, which shall be decided by a majority vote.

(2) A motion to delete and insert shall be deemed indivisible; a motion to delete, being lost, shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to delete and insert.

6.4—Reconsideration generally

(1) When a main question (the vote on passage of a measure, including a vote on a veto message, confirmation of executive appointments, removal or suspension from office) has been decided by the Senate, a Senator voting with the prevailing side may move for reconsideration of the question on the day the matter was decided or on the next day on which the Senate sits.

- (a) If the question has been decided by voice vote, any Senator may move for reconsideration thereof.
- (b) When a majority of those Senators present vote in the affirmative on the question but the proposition is lost because it is one in which the concurrence of more than a majority of those Senators present is necessary for adoption or passage, any Senator may move for reconsideration.

(2) Such motion to reconsider may be made prior to or pending a motion to recess or adjourn.

(3) Consideration of a motion to reconsider shall be a special and continuing order of business for the Senate at its next sitting and, unless taken up under the proper order of business on that day by motion of any Senator, shall be deemed abandoned. If the Senate shall refuse to reconsider or, on reconsideration, shall confirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order except on unanimous consent of those Senators present.

(4) During the last five (5) days of a regular session, a motion to reconsider shall be made and considered on the same day and time it is offered.

6.5—Reconsideration; vote required

The affirmative votes of a majority of those Senators present shall be required to adopt a motion to reconsider.

6.6—Reconsideration; debate

Debate shall be allowed on a motion to reconsider only when the question which it is proposed to reconsider is debatable. When the question is debatable, no Senator shall speak thereon more than once or longer than five (5) minutes.

6.7—Reconsideration; collateral matters and procedural motions

A motion to reconsider a collateral matter must be disposed of during the course of the consideration of the main subject to which it is related, and such motion shall be out of order after the Senate has passed to other business. Reconsideration of a procedural motion shall be considered on the same day and at the same time it is made.

6.8—Reconsideration; Secretary to hold for period

The Secretary shall hold all bills for the period after passage during which reconsideration may be moved. The adoption of a motion to waive the Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present and immediately certify any bill to the House shall be construed as releasing the measure from the Secretary's possession for the period of reconsideration and shall, thereafter, preclude reconsideration. Unless otherwise directed by the President, during the last ~~fourteen (14) five (5)~~ calendar days of a regular session and during any extensions thereof, or during a special session, the bills shall be immediately transmitted to the House. Messages relating to Senate action on House amendments or to conference committee reports shall be transmitted by the Secretary forthwith.

See Rule 6.4—Reconsideration generally.

6.9—Motion to indefinitely postpone

The adoption of a motion to indefinitely postpone a measure shall dispose of it for the duration of the legislative session and all extensions thereof. A motion to postpone consideration to a time beyond the last day allowed under the State Constitution for the current legislative session shall be construed as a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to indefinitely postpone shall not be applicable to collateral matters.

6.10—Committee substitute; withdrawn

Once a bill has been reported as a committee substitute, it may be withdrawn from further consideration only by motion of the introducer and unanimous consent of the Senators present.

6.11—Temporarily postpone

(1) The motion to temporarily postpone shall be decided without debate and shall cause a measure to be set aside but retained on the desk.

(2) If a main question has been temporarily postponed after having been debated or after motions have been applied and is not brought back up during the same sitting, it shall be placed under the order of unfinished business on the Senate calendar. If a main question is temporarily postponed before debate has commenced or motions have been applied, its reading shall be considered a nullity and the bill shall retain its original position on the order of business during that sitting; otherwise, the bill reverts to the status of bills on second (2nd) or third (3rd) reading, as applicable.

(3) The motion to return to consideration of a temporarily postponed main question shall be made under the proper order of business when no other matter is pending.

(4) If applied to a collateral matter, the motion to temporarily postpone shall not cause the main question to be carried with it. After having been temporarily postponed, if a collateral matter is not brought back before the Senate in the course of consideration of the adhering or main question, it shall be deemed abandoned.

RULE SEVEN*AMENDMENTS*7.1—General form; notice; manner of consideration

(1) No amendment to a bill on any Senate calendar shall be considered by the Senate unless the amendment was prepared in proper form and filed with the Secretary no later than 5:00 p.m. the day before it is to be offered at a sitting. Copies of such amendments shall be made reasonably available by the Secretary before the sitting, upon request, to the Senators and to the public. The consideration of all amendments not timely filed in accordance with this Rule, requires a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present, if any Senator requests that such vote be taken.

(2) Amendments shall be filed with the Secretary on forms prescribed by the Secretary but shall be considered only after sponsors gain recognition from the President to move their adoption, except that the chair of the committee (or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair or any member thereof) reporting the measure under consideration shall have preference for the presentation of committee amendments. An amendment shall be deemed pending only after its sponsor has been recognized by the President and has moved its adoption. Amendments that have been filed with the Secretary but have not been formally moved for adoption shall not be deemed to be pending.

(3) No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted in the form of an amendment.

(4) The following bills are out of order and shall not be admitted or considered in the form of an amendment to a bill on the calendar and under consideration by the Senate:

- (a) Bills that have received an unfavorable committee report.
- (b) Bills that have been withdrawn from further consideration by the introducer.
- (c) Bills the substance of which have not been reported favorably by all committees of reference.
- (d) Bills that have not been published in at least one (1) daily calendar under Bills on Second (2nd) Reading.

Amendments covered by this Rule shall be substantially the same and identical as to specific intent and purpose as the measure residing in the committee or committees of reference.

(5) Reviser's bills may be amended only by making deletions.

7.2—Adoption

(1) On second (2nd) reading, amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of those Senators present.

(2) On third (3rd) reading, amendments and amendments to amendments, including substitute amendments and amendments to the substitute, shall be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(3) Amendments to the title or corrective amendments may be decided, without debate, by a majority vote of those Senators present on third (3rd) reading.

7.3—Sequence of amendments to amendments

(1) An amendment to a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of, no other motion to amend will be in order, except a substitute amendment or an amendment to the substitute. Such amendments are to be disposed of in the following order:

(Amendment chart, as adopted, is not shown here but is included in the published Senate Rules Manual.)

- (a) Amendments to the amendment are acted on before the substitute is taken up. Only one (1) amendment to the amendment is in order.
- (b) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on.
- (c) The substitute then is voted on.

(2) The adoption of a substitute amendment in lieu of an original amendment shall be treated and considered as an amendment to the bill itself.

(3) ~~The following third (3rd) degree amendments are out of order: Amendments of the third (3rd) degree are out of order.~~

- (a) A substitute amendment for an amendment to the amendment.
- (b) A substitute amendment for an amendment to the substitute.
- (c) An amendment to an amendment to the amendment.
- (d) An amendment to an amendment to the substitute amendment.

7.4—Deleting everything after enacting clause

A proposal to delete everything after the enacting clause of a bill, or the resolving clause of a resolution, and insert new language of the same or related subject as stated in the original title shall be deemed proper and germane and shall be treated as an amendment.

7.5—Amendment by section

The adoption of an amendment to a section shall not preclude further amendment of that section. If a bill is being considered section by section or item by item, only amendments to the section or item under consideration shall be in order. The President, in recognizing Senators for the purpose of moving the adoption of amendments, shall endeavor to cause all amendments to section 1 to be considered first, then all those in section 2, and so on. After all sections have been considered separately, the entire bill shall be open for amendment.

7.6—Printing in Journal

All amendments taken up by the Senate unless withdrawn shall be printed in the Journal, except that an amendment to the general appropriations bill constituting an entirely new bill shall not be printed until the filing of the conference committee report. All item amendments to the general appropriations bill shall be printed.

7.7—Senate amendments to House bills

A House bill may be amended in the same manner as a Senate bill. If a House bill is amended, the same shall be noted by the Secretary on the jacket before it is transmitted to the House.

7.8—House amendments to Senate bills

(1) After the reading of a House amendment to a Senate bill, the Senate may consider the following motions in order of their precedence:

- (a) Amend the House amendment,
- (b) Concur in the House amendment,
- (c) Refuse to concur in the House amendment and ask the House to recede, or
- (d) Request a conference committee.

(2) The adoption of any of the foregoing motions shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

7.9—House refusal to concur in Senate amendment

(1) If the House shall refuse to concur in a Senate amendment to a House bill, the Senate may consider the following motions in order of their precedence:

- (a) Recede,
- (b) Insist that the House concur and request a conference committee, or
- (c) Insist that the House concur.

(2) The adoption of any of the foregoing motions shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

RULE EIGHT*DECORUM AND DEBATE*8.1—Decorum and debate

(1) When a Senator desires to speak or present a matter to the Senate, the Senator shall rise at his or her seat and address himself or herself to “Mr. or Madam President” and, on being recognized, may address the Senate from his or her desk or from the well of the Senate and shall confine any remarks to the question under debate, avoiding personality.

(2) A Senator shall not address or refer to another Senator by his or her first name. A Senator shall use the appellation of “Senator” or such appellation and the district number of the Senator being addressed, or a Senator may also use such appellation and the surname of the Senator referred to or addressed.

8.2—Presiding officer’s power of recognition

When two (2) or more Senators rise at once, the presiding officer shall recognize the Senator who is to speak first.

8.3—Interruptions; when allowed

(1) No Senator shall be interrupted by another without the consent of the Senator who has the floor, except by:

- (a) Rising to a question of privilege;
- (b) Rising to a point of order requiring an immediate ruling;
- (c) Rising to appeal a decision of the presiding officer concerning a point of order (if the appeal is made immediately following the decision);
- (d) Rising to make a parliamentary inquiry requiring an immediate reply; or
- (e) Rising to question the existence of a quorum.

(2) The presiding officer shall strictly enforce this Rule.

8.4—Senator speaking, rights

(1) When a Senator is speaking and another Senator interrupts to request recognition, the presiding officer may permit the person rising to state why he or she desires the floor. If the question the Senator desires to raise is entitled to precedence, the Senator originally speaking shall relinquish the floor until the question having precedence is disposed of. The Senator then is entitled to resume the floor.

(2) The Senator making a debatable motion or the introducer of a bill shall have five (5) minutes in order to close debate.

8.5—Limit on speaking

No Senator shall speak longer than thirty (30) minutes without yielding the floor, except by consent of a majority of those Senators present.

8.6—Limitation on debate

When a matter is under debate by the Senate, a Senator may move to limit debate, and such motion shall be decided without debate, except the introducer of the matter on which debate would be limited shall have five (5) minutes to discuss said motion. If, by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present, the question is decided in the affirmative, debate shall be limited accordingly. Debate may be further extended by a majority vote.

8.7—Points of order, parliamentary inquiry, definitions

(1) A “point of order” is the parliamentary device used to require a deliberative body to observe its own rules and to follow established parliamentary practice.

(2) A “parliamentary inquiry” is a request for information from the presiding officer:

- (a) About business pending or soon to be pending before the Senate; or
- (b) A device for obtaining a predetermination of a rule or a clarification thereof which may be presented in hypothetical form.

8.8—Questioning decision not to abstain

A point of order questioning the decision of a Senator not to abstain from voting on account of a conflict of interest may be raised after the vote has been recorded and before the result is announced.

See Rule 1.20—Attendance, voting, and disclosure of conflicts.

See Rule 1.39—Disclosure of conflict of interest and prohibition on voting thereon.

8.9—Appeals

Taking exception to a ruling of a presiding officer shall be by appeal. An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer must be made promptly before debate has concluded or other business has intervened. A point of order on any other question is not in order while an appeal is pending, but a point of order relating to the appeal may be raised; and, if the determination of the appeal is dependent on this point, it may be decided by the presiding officer. This second (2nd) decision is also subject to appeal.

8.10—Appeals debatable

An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer on a point of order is debatable even though the question from which it arose was not debatable.

8.11—Questions of privilege

- (1) Questions of privilege have two (2) forms:
  - (a) Privilege of the Senate—Those affecting the rights of the Senate collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; and
  - (b) Privilege of a Senator—The rights, reputation, and conduct of Senators individually, in their representative capacity only.
- (2) These shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to adjourn or recess. A question of privilege affecting either house collectively takes precedence over a question of privilege affecting an individual Senator.

RULE NINE*LOBBYING*9.1—Those required to register

All persons (except those specifically exempted) who seek to encourage the passage, defeat, or modification of legislation in the Senate or before its committees shall, before engaging in such activity, register as prescribed by law and the Joint Rules of the Florida Legislature.

9.2—Obligations of lobbyist

(1) A lobbyist shall supply facts, information, and opinions of principals to legislators from the point of view from which he or she openly declares. A lobbyist shall not offer or propose anything to improperly influence the official act, decision, or vote of a legislator.

(2) A lobbyist, by personal example and admonition to colleagues, shall uphold the honor of the legislative process by the integrity of his or her relationship with legislators.

(3) A lobbyist shall not knowingly and willfully falsify a material fact or make any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation or make or use any writing or document knowing the same contains any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements or entry.

9.3—Lobbyists’ requirements

A lobbyist shall adhere to the statutory requirements for lobbyists provided by law and the Joint Rules.

9.35—Contributions during sessions

During a regular legislative session, and during an extended or special session as further provided for in Rule 1.361(2), a lobbyist may not directly or indirectly contribute to a Senator’s own campaign, or to any organization that is registered, or should have been registered, with the Rules Committee pursuant to Rule 1.361(3).

9.4—Advisory opinions

(1) A lobbyist, when in doubt about the applicability and interpretation of Rule Nine (9) in a particular context, may submit in writing a statement of the facts involved to the Rules Committee and may appear in person before said committee.

(2) The Rules Committee may render advisory opinions to any lobbyist who seeks advice as to whether or not the facts in a particular case will constitute a violation of these Rules. All opinions shall delete names and be numbered, dated, and published in the Journal.

9.5—Compilation of opinions

The Secretary shall compile all advisory opinions of the Rules Committee.

9.6—Violations; investigations, penalties

(1) Any person may file a sworn complaint with the Rules Chair alleging a violation of the Rules regulating the conduct and ethics of lobbyists. The complaint shall be based on personal knowledge, shall state detailed facts, shall specify the actions of the named lobbyist which form the basis for the complaint, and shall identify the specific Rule alleged by the complainant to have been violated by the lobbyist. Upon a determination by the Rules Chair that the complaint states facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be referred to a special master. Upon a determination by the chair that the complaint fails to state facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed. The special master shall conduct an investigation, shall give reasonable notice to the lobbyist who is alleged to have violated the Rules, and shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard unless the investigation fails to reveal facts supporting a finding of probable cause. A special master’s report and recommendation is advisory only and shall be presented to the chair as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation. If the special master’s report and recommendation conclude that the facts do not support a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed by the Rules Chair. If the complaint is not dismissed, the Rules Committee shall consider the special master's report and recommendation, shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard, and shall develop its own recommendation. If the Rules Committee votes to dismiss the complaint, the Rules Chair shall dismiss the complaint. Otherwise, the special master's report and recommendation and the recommendation of the Rules Committee shall be presented to the President. The President shall present the committee's recommendation, along with the special master's report and recommendation, to the Senate for final action.

(2) Any person determined to have violated the requirements of Rule Nine (9) shall be censured, reprimanded, placed on probation, or prohibited from lobbying for the duration of the session and from appearing before any Senate committee. Such determination shall be made by a majority vote of the Senate, on recommendation of the Rules Committee.

9.7—Committees to be diligent

Committees shall be diligent to ascertain whether those who appear before them, in other than an obviously individual capacity, have conformed to the requirements of Rule Nine (9), the Joint Rules, and any other applicable law, and shall report violations. No committee member shall knowingly permit an unregistered lobbyist to be heard.

9.8—Lobbyist expenditures and compensation

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, amends existing provisions of the law relating to legislative lobbying at the state level in Florida and adds new and substantial obligations, prohibitions, and requirements.

This Rule provides assistance to persons seeking to comply with the letter and spirit of the new law as it applies in the legislative context by refining the law and providing Interim Lobbying Guidelines and answers to 25 Frequently Asked Questions. It also is intended to provide guidance to the legislative committees that will participate in enforcing the new law.

Part One of the Guidelines refines and applies the new prohibition, with ten clearly stated exceptions, so that Senators and Senate employees can no longer directly or indirectly take any "expenditure" from a lobbyist or principal in either the public or private sector.

Part Two of the Guidelines refines and applies the underlying core requirement that "lobbying firms" must publicly disclose the compensation they receive for lobbying activities, and does so in a way that is narrowly tailored, furthers the state's compelling governmental interest in regulating legislative lobbying at the state level, and employs the least intrusive means available to do so.

This Rule sets out general principles. Outcomes depend heavily on underlying fact patterns that can vary greatly from case to case. Full disclosure of the operative facts must be provided and considered before a proper and correct answer can be derived.

A Senator may request an informal advisory opinion from the Senate General Counsel regarding the application of the new law and this Rule to a specific situation, on which the legislator may reasonably rely.

The houses of the Legislature are responsible for the administration and enforcement of the legislative lobbying portions of the new law. The legislative lobbying expenditure prohibitions are not part of the Florida Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees. Neither the Florida Commission on Ethics nor the Florida courts have jurisdiction to interpret these internal matters of the Legislature.

Part One—Expenditures

(1) General Guidelines

a) The Expenditure Prohibition

The new law contains a prohibition against lobbyists and principals making direct or indirect lobbying expenditures for legislators and legislative employees. It provides:

[N]o lobbyist or principal shall make, directly or indirectly, and no member or employee of the Legislature shall knowingly accept, directly or indirectly, any expenditure.... (emphasis added).

The new expenditure prohibition applies only to expenditures made by lobbyists and principals. It applies whether or not the lobbyist, principal, legislator, or legislative employee is in Florida. Florida's gift law, section 112.3148, Florida Statutes, continues to apply to gifts to legislators and legislative employees from others.

Example: A legislator may accept a subscription to a newspaper or periodical that is neither published by, nor paid for, nor provided by a lobbyist or a principal.

Example: A legislator may not accept a free health screening or other personal service provided on behalf of an association that is a principal.

Example: A legislator may, as either a member or an invited guest, participate in meetings of, and partake of the food and beverage provided by a civic organization if the organization is not a principal.

The practical effect of this law is to prohibit expenditures for attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature, and it is not designed to prohibit expenditures made in attempting to influence legislative action or non-action through oral or written communication.

b) Definitions

"Expenditure" is defined, essentially, as anything of value made by a lobbyist or principal for the purpose of lobbying.

"Lobbying," in turn, means: (1) influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication ("active lobbying"); or, (2) attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature ("goodwill").

"Goodwill expenditure" is a gift, an entertainment, any food or beverage, lodging, travel, or any other item or service of personal benefit to a legislator or legislative employee.

Goodwill expenditures include contributions or donations from a lobbyist or a principal to a charitable organization that is, directly or indirectly, established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof.

A "lobbyist" is a person who is employed and receives payment, or who contracts for economic consideration, for the purpose of lobbying, or a person who is principally employed for governmental affairs by another person or governmental entity to lobby on behalf of that other person or governmental entity.

"Personal benefit" means a profit or gain pertaining to, directed toward, or affecting a person.

A "principal" means the person, firm, corporation, or other entity that has employed or retained a lobbyist. When an association has employed or retained a lobbyist, the association is the principal; the individual members of the association are not principals merely because of their membership in the association.

c) Honorarium-related Expenses

It is no longer permissible to accept from a lobbyist or principal, directly or indirectly, payment or reimbursement of expenses for travel, food, lodging, or beverage, related to speaking engagements or other honorarium-type events.

d) Indirect Expenditures

An indirect expenditure is an expenditure that is not made directly to a legislator or legislative employee, but is made to another with the purpose that the expenditure be used for the personal benefit of a legislator or legislative employee.

The new expenditure prohibition expressly prohibits any lobbyist or principal from directing prohibited lobbying expenditures through a surrogate or through any person who by his or her actions or activities is obligated to register as a lobbyist but has failed to do so. Third-party intermediaries, such as employees, members of associations and others, cannot be used to make prohibited expenditures.

Where an item or service (anything of value) is provided to a person other than a legislator or legislative employee by a lobbyist or principal and the item or service or the benefit attributable to the item or service ultimately is received by the legislator or employee, and where the item or service is provided with the intent to benefit the legislator or employee, such item or service constitutes a prohibited indirect expenditure to the legislator or employee.

Factors to be considered in determining whether a prohibited indirect expenditure has been made are set out on the following page in the joint functionality test:

TEST FOR DETERMINING LEGALITY OF AN INDIRECT EXPENDITURE

(1) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the lobbyist or principal indicating the lobbyist's or principal's intent to make or convey the item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the intervening third person;

(2) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the intervening third person indicating the intent to make or convey the lobbyist's or principal's item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the third person;

(3) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the lobbyist or principal and the third person, independent of the relationship between the lobbyist or principal and a legislator or employee, that would motivate the transfer to the third person;

(4) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the third person and a legislator or employee that would motivate the transfer;

(5) Whether the same or similar items or services have been or are being provided to other persons having the same relationship to the lobbyist or principal as the third person;

(6) Whether, under the circumstances, the third person had full and independent decision-making authority to determine whether a legislator or employee, or another, would receive the items or services, or a personal benefit attributable to the items or services;

(7) Whether the third person was acting with the knowledge or consent of, or under the direction of, the lobbyist or principal;

(8) Whether there were payments or the intention for any payments or bookkeeping transactions between the third person and the lobbyist or principal, reimbursing the third person for the items or services;

(9) The degree of ownership or control the lobbyist or principal had over the third person; and

(10) Whether a lobbyist or principal knew, or should have known, that an item or service provided to a third party would be used to provide a personal benefit to a legislator or employee, such as for the funding of a legislative reception or an event to be attended by legislators or employees.

The following examples illustrate some of the applications of the foregoing indirect expenditure criteria:

Example 1: A law firm which lobbies the Legislature invites all of its attorneys to attend a weekend retreat. The attorneys are encouraged to bring their spouses or significant others at the firm's expense. Legislator C is married to an attorney in the firm and has been asked by her spouse to attend the retreat. The lodging provided to Legislator C for the retreat, food and drink, firm t-shirts, and the like would be considered a gift to her from her spouse and thus not a prohibited indirect expenditure, because the firm's invitation was extended to Legislator C's spouse by virtue of his employment with the firm.

Example 2: Legislator D hosts a fox hunt attended by legislators and lobbyists. Lobbyists give money to a third person, who is not a legislator or a legislative employee, to pay for the food and beverages which will be served at the fox hunt. The third party orders and prepares the food and beverages. The money provided to the third person by the lobbyists would be a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator D because it was given with the intent of benefiting him and his guests at the fox hunt.

Example 3: Legislator N and spouse have arranged to take a vacation trip together. A legislative lobbyist meets with Legislator N's spouse and offers to pay for the spouse's travel expenses. The lobbyist and Legislator N's spouse know each other only through the lobbyist's involvement with the legislator. This would constitute a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator N under the new law.

e) Equal or Greater Compensation

An expenditure is not prohibited when equal or greater value is given contemporaneously by the recipient to the donor.

Therefore, it is not an expenditure if:

1. The fair market value of the event, meeting, or other activity, including any food, beverage, transportation, lodging, or any other thing of value, can readily be determined, and

2. The legislator or legislative employee pays his or her pro rata share of the total fair market value to the person or organization hosting the event contemporaneously with the time of attending or participating in the event.

Thus, if a lobbyist or principal provides $35 worth of goods or services to a legislator or legislative employee but the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides equal or greater consideration, the lobbyist or principal has not provided anything of value, thus, there is no "expenditure."

f) Valuation

The law is silent as to the valuation of goods and services. Fair market value is the proper and applicable standard of valuation.

The retail price of an item or service is presumed to be its fair market value so long as it is reasonable in relation to the value of the item or service and the amount is not subsidized by a lobbyist or principal.

In valuing an expenditure, you may exclude the amount of additional expenses that are regularly required as a condition precedent to the donor's eligibility to make the expenditure if the amount expended for the condition precedent is primarily intended to be for a purpose other than lobbying, and is either primarily for the benefit of the donor or is paid to a charitable organization. Initiation fees and membership fees are examples of additional expenses that are regularly required as conditions precedent for eligibility to make an expenditure. Transportation expenses incurred to bring a member to an out-of-town event are not.

Entrance fees, admission fees, or tickets are normally valued on the face value or on a daily or per event basis. The portion of a ticket attributable to a charitable contribution is not included in the value. Conversely, if the ticket is subsidized by contributions of lobbyists or principals, the pro rata subsidized amount must be attributed to the face value.

A person providing transportation in a private automobile shall be considered to be making an expenditure at the then-current statutory reimbursement rate, which is currently 29 cents per mile. The value of transportation provided in other private conveyances must be calculated on its fair market value.

g) Exceptions

1. Relatives

A relative is an individual who is related to the member or employee as father, mother, son, daughter, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, husband, wife, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, grandparent, grandchild, great grandchild, step grandparent, step great grandparent, step grandchild, or step great grandchild; any person who is engaged to be married to the member or employee or who otherwise holds himself or herself out as or is generally known as the person whom the member or employee intends to marry or with whom the member or employee intends to form a household; or any other natural person having the same legal residence as the member or employee.

This definition of “relative” is taken from former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(b), and has operated historically as an exception to the presumption that things of value given to a legislator or employee by a lobbyist or principal are intended for the purpose of engendering goodwill.

Example: A legislator is permitted to accept a Christmas gift from an aunt, even if she is a lobbyist. The gift is not deemed an expenditure made for the purpose of lobbying because of the family relationship between the donor and the donee.

2. Employment-related Compensation and Benefits

Salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with the recipient’s employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization are not prohibited expenditures so long as they are given in an amount commensurate with other similarly situated employees, officers, or directors.

These sorts of expenditures are currently also excepted from the definition of a gift in section 112.312(12)(b), Florida Statutes, and are a necessary exception in order for many legislators to continue their employment or continue their service on boards and continue to serve in Florida’s citizen Legislature.

Example: A legislator who is on the board of directors of an organization that has a lobbyist is nevertheless permitted to partake of food and beverage provided to the board members by the organization at its board meetings.

3. Political Organizations and Entities

An expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes, or its federal law counterpart; campaign-related personal services provided without compensation by individuals volunteering their time; any other contribution or expenditure made by a chapter 106 entity such as a candidate campaign, political committee, organization making electioneering communications, political party, or committee of continuous existence; or an entity qualified under section 501(c)(4) or section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Members are cautioned that these organizations or entities may not be used as a vehicle for skirting the new lobbying expenditure law. To the extent that funds come from lobbyists or principals, one should exercise great care that the expenditures are legal and appropriate for that particular organization or entity.

4. Communications Expenses

The expenditure prohibitions in the new law do not reach expenditures made by a lobbyist or principal for items such as “media advertising,” “publications,” “communications,” and “research.”

Expenditures for researching, gathering, collating, organizing, providing, or disseminating information for the exclusive purpose of “active lobbying” (influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication) are necessary for Floridians to be able to “instruct their representatives.”

5. Office and Personal Expenses of Lobbyists and Principals

“Office expenses” and personal expenses of the lobbyist or principal for “travel,” “lodging,” and “food and beverages” as those items were defined in former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(c) are exempt from the prohibition on lobbying expenditures. This category does not include any expenses for legislators, legislative employees, or persons whose expenses would be attributed to them.

6. Government to Government Expenditures

Real property or a facility owned or operated by a state or local public agency or entity that is a lobbying principal and transportation to, from, and at the location provided by that agency or entity may, with the prior approval of the respective state legislative presiding officer or his or her designee, be used without payment, by a member, committee, or staff of the Legislature for a public legislative purpose. Such purposes include publicly noticed legislative committee meetings and site visits to operations conducted by the public agency or entity. Allowable free uses also specifically include legislative district offices and sub-offices and the normally attendant utilities, parking, janitorial services, building maintenance, and telecommunications equipment and services common to a government building in which the office is located. Allowable free use does not extend to sports or entertainment venues; does not include food, beverages, or entertainment; and does not include free parking privileges at any location other than a district office or sub-office.

7. Free and Open Public Events

Expenditures directly associated with events that are held within the Capitol complex, out-of-doors or under temporary shelter, open to the general public, widely and publicly noticed, free to all, not ticketed, and for which equal and totally unobstructed access to the general public is provided, are not prohibited expenditures made by lobbyists or principals, or when accepted by legislators or legislative employees.

Example: Atlas County, Florida, is holding Atlas Day in the plaza between the Capitol and the Historic Capitol. Lunch is served to all comers. The event was widely publicized and access to the event and the food and beverage is totally unobstructed. Legislators may partake as well.

8. Regional and National Legislative Organizations

The prohibition does not apply to expenditures made directly or indirectly by a state, regional, or national organization that promotes the exchange of ideas between, or the professional development of, governmental officials or employees, and whose membership is primarily composed of elected or appointed public officials or staff to members of that organization or to officials or staff of the Legislature. This exception does not include extracurricular activities, entertainments, or items or services provided at conferences that are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal.

9. Monetary Value Impossible to Ascertain

The value of some items is truly impossible to quantify at the time of the expenditure. Expenditures for which a monetary value is not ascertainable at the time of the expenditure are not prohibited. Examples are: appearing on a news show or having a feature article about a legislator in a trade magazine or other medium, applause received by a legislator at an event, obtaining priority seating in a crowded restaurant or priority for obtaining services where there is an established queue, or the pro rata portion of a host’s monthly or annual membership in an exclusive supper club.

10. Plaques and Certificates

The prohibition does not apply to personalized wall plaques, personalized photographs, or personalized certificates that have no substantial inherent value other than recognizing the donee’s public, civic, charitable, or professional service.

h) Effect of Other Laws and Rules

To the extent that an expenditure is excluded or exempt from the new lobbying prohibition in section 11.045, Florida Statutes, it is still subject to the restrictions and requirements in other statutes: most notably, the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes) and the campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

LEGISLATIVE EVENTS/RECEPTIONS

1. Question: Can a county legislative delegation or delegation office sponsor an annual event in Tallahassee on public grounds or in quarters belonging to either the Senate or the House of Representatives (i.e., “Flavors of Hillsborough”)?

ANSWER: A county legislative delegation may host an annual event in Tallahassee provided that no free food, beverages, or other personal benefits to a legislator or legislative employee are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal, either directly or indirectly.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the delegation as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the delegation may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph (1)–g)7. above.

2. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee go up to the 22nd floor of the Capitol and partake of free food and drink provided by an organization hosting a luncheon or event at the Capitol?

ANSWER: It depends. Yes, provided the organization hosting the event is not a principal and none of the food and beverages are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal. Otherwise, the legislator or legislative employee could attend the event but could not partake of the free food or beverages or they can pay the fair market value of what they consume.

3. Question: Can “legislative days” that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees during the session and are hosted by counties, cities, universities, and others that employ a lobbyist continue?

ANSWER: “Legislative days” and other legislative events funded by lobbyist or principal dollars may continue provided no free food, drink, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee, either directly or indirectly. Any such benefit would be a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph (1)–g)7. above.

4. Question: Can a not-for-profit organization host receptions and events for legislators that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees through contributions solicited from lobbyists or principals who sponsor the reception or event?

ANSWER: The charity may host a reception or event for legislators and legislative employees provided that no free food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee from the funds of lobbyists or principals.

Legislators and legislative employees may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph (1)–g)7. above.

5. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal host an event with food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit for legislators or legislative employees and collect from each legislator or legislative employee, a flat, per-person entrance fee based on the total cost to plan, produce, stage, and clean up after the event, divided by the number of persons reasonably expected to attend?

ANSWER: Yes.

6. Question: Each year, a few associations host legislative receptions/BBQs and invite their members as well as legislators. They usually pass out campaign funds at these events to those who support their industry. Would it now be legal to host this event if it were called a “fundraiser”? Could legislators then accept free food and beverages at the event?

ANSWER: Senate Rule 1.361 precludes a senator, and House Rule 15.3 precludes a representative, from accepting a campaign contribution during a regular or special session, in addition to prohibiting them from accepting contributions on behalf of a section 527 or section 501(c)(4) organization, a political committee, a committee of continuous existence, a political party, or the campaign of any other senatorial candidate or candidate for representative, respectively. Thus, any fundraiser held during a regular or special session would violate the rules of each house.

Fundraisers not held during a regular or special session are outside the purview of the expenditure prohibitions in the new law. A goodwill lobbying expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes. However, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that calling the event a “fundraiser” is merely an artifice for lobbyists or principals to provide free gifts, food, beverages, and other items or services of personal benefit to a legislator, not associated with influencing the results of an election, then the fundraiser would violate the expenditure prohibition of the new law. Note, also, that fundraisers remain subject to the contribution restrictions and requirements of Florida’s campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

HONORARIA EXPENSES

7. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal continue to pay or reimburse a legislator’s or legislative employee’s expenses for such items as food and beverages, travel, and lodging associated with an honorarium event?

ANSWER: No.

GIFTS TO LEGISLATORS

8. Question: Can a school child give a legislator a painting that he or she has made?

ANSWER: Yes. The prohibition against lobbying expenditures only applies to lobbyists and principals, and those acting on their behalf.

9. Question: Can a school student whose parent is a lobbyist or principal give a scarf that was purchased by the child’s parent to a legislator as a gift?

ANSWER: It depends. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all gifts from lobbyists or principals to legislators, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot use a third-party intermediary to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition. Thus, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that the scarf is an indirect gift from the lobbyist or principal to the legislator, it would be prohibited.

10. Question: Can a legislator accept rent-free office space and associated building services from a city, county, or community college in his or her district that employs or retains a lobbyist?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph (1)–g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

11. Question: Can a legislator or legislative staff accept transportation services from another governmental entity?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph (1)–g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

12. Question: Are there any value limitations on the exceptions in the new law for “floral arrangements or other celebratory items given to legislators and displayed in chambers on the opening day of a regular session”?

ANSWER: Yes. All opening day flowers and floral arrangements are subject to the limitations and requirements of the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes). No other celebratory items will be allowed in either chamber on opening day of the regular session.

FOOD AND BEVERAGES/GIFTS

13. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse have dinner with a lobbyist friend the legislator or legislative employee has known for 30 years at the lobbyist’s home, whether or not active lobbying occurs?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides the lobbyist with the pro rata share of the total fair market value of the cost of the food and beverages provided to the legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse, either in cash or barter (i.e., bottle of wine, flowers). Otherwise, the expenditure for food and beverages would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure, irrespective of the extent of the legislator’s and lobbyist’s friendship.

14. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and legislator or legislative employee have dinner at a public restaurant?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the dinner is “Dutch treat.”

15. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and a legislator or legislative employee have dinner “Dutch treat” at the Governor’s Club?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee pays the total cost of all food and beverage that he or she was served or consumed, or that was served to or consumed by a person whose expenditures are attributed to the legislator or legislative employee.

16. Question: Can a lobbyist’s business partner, employee, spouse, or child, who is not a registered lobbyist, accompany the lobbyist and legislator or legislative employee to dinner and pay for all the food and beverages if the partner, employee, spouse, or child does not actively lobby?

ANSWER: No. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all food and beverages provided by lobbyists or principals to legislators or legislative employees, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot utilize a third-party intermediary to channel gifts to legislators to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition.

17. Question: If someone offers a legislator or legislative employee a drink at a bar, or any other gift or personal benefit, does the legislator or legislative employee have a duty to inquire if the donor is a lobbyist or principal?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee is liable for knowingly accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, or someone acting on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. “Knowingly” has many statutory definitions, including that a person: (1) has actual knowledge of the information; (2) acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information; or, (3) acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information. Therefore, prudence dictates that the legislator or legislative employee, at a minimum, make reasonable inquiry as to the source of the proposed expenditure to determine whether it is prohibited. Reasonableness will turn on the facts and circumstances of each individual situation.

For example, a legislator receiving an invitation to an event to be held the next week, from an organization he or she is not familiar with would likely require that the legislator, at a minimum, consult the online directory of legislative principals and lobbyists, and perhaps make further inquiry if facts or circumstances come to light indicating that the organization might be making the expenditure on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. Similarly, a legislator offered a drink from someone he or she doesn’t know in a Tallahassee bar or restaurant generally known to be frequented by lobbyists would probably be required, at a minimum, to ask whether the person is a lobbyist or principal or affiliated with a lobbyist or principal. On the other hand, a Miami legislator on personal holiday with his or her spouse at Busch Gardens in Tampa, who strikes up a friendship with a couple they don’t know visiting from Colorado and who subsequently offers to pay for the legislator’s and spouse’s dinner probably has less of a duty to inquire whether either member of the couple is a Florida lobbyist or principal.

CHARITIES

18. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee raise funds from lobbyists or principals for charitable causes?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the charity for which funds are sought is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof. Otherwise, such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

19. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee establish or operate a charitable foundation that relies on lobbyist or principal support?

ANSWER: No. A legislator or legislative employee may establish or operate a charitable organization but none of the money contributed or donated to the charity may be from lobbyists or principals. Such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

20. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee sit on the board of a charitable organization that is not established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof? Can he or she accept free food and beverages provided by the charity and be reimbursed by the charity for expenses associated with the work of the charity (i.e., travel, lodging)?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee may sit on the board of a charitable organization that receives donations and contributions from lobbyists, and may partake of free food, beverages, and other personal benefits provided by the charity to board members in connection with their service, including reimbursement of personal expenses incurred by board members in furtherance of the charity’s work. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator’s or legislative employee’s employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization. However, any such salary, benefit, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses cannot be from funds earmarked by lobbyists or principals to the charity for such purpose and must be received only for the legislator’s or legislative employee’s service as a member of the board.

21. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a non-profit group raise funds from lobbyists for its charitable causes?

ANSWER: It depends. If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is no.

If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, or operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is yes.

22. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a non-profit group host its own charity golf tournament funded by lobbyist or principal “sponsors” at a private club, where the cost of sponsorship buys an opportunity to play golf with a member of the caucus, and to make a presentation to the caucus before and after the event?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, and the legislators and legislative employees pay their own golf fees and the per-person cost for food and beverage.

OTHER

23. Question: What happens when a legislator is married to, related to, or living with a lobbyist? Can the lobbyist pay for meals, lodging, etc.?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the lobbyist does not use the expenditure to actively lobby the legislator. Expenditures by “relatives” of a legislator for food, lodging, travel, and the like are specifically exempt from the definition of a goodwill expenditure.

24. Question: Can a legislator be employed by a lobbyist or principal? Can a legislator go to the employer’s retreat and partake of food and beverages?

ANSWER: Yes. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator’s or legislative employee’s employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization.

25. Question: Where a lobbyist or principal leaves a gift, such as a box of chocolates, in a legislator’s office, what should the legislator do with the item?

ANSWER: When a legislator or legislative employee receives an item that they believe violates the prohibition against accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, the item must either be sent back to the donor or delivered to the Sergeant at Arms for disposal.

Part Two—Compensation

(1) General Guidelines

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, for the first time, requires the reporting of compensation received by lobbying firms for each calendar quarter, both in the aggregate and for each individual principal. Much of the reporting is done in dollar categories; however, if compensation from a single principal is $50,000 or more in a calendar quarter, the lobbying firm must report the specific dollar amount of the compensation, rounded to the nearest $1,000.

A “lobbying firm” is any business entity with a lobbyist, or an individual contract lobbyist, who gets paid to lobby for a principal. It is the lobbying firm that must report, not the individual lobbyists in the firm (except in the case of an individual contract lobbyist, where the lobbyist also comprises the entire lobbying firm).

Reports are due no later than 45 days after the end of each calendar quarter. Compensation reports must be filed electronically using the online filing system of the Office of Legislative Services.

The new law requires the senior partner, officer, or owner of the lobbying firm to certify to the veracity and completeness of each compensation report. This requirement is designed to discourage the mischaracterization and thus omission of reportable compensation through designations such as “media fees,” “consulting services,” “professional services,” “governmental services,” and other such artifices.

For example, if a law firm were paid a lump sum for rendering multiple types of services to a client, only one of which is lobbying, then the person certifying the report is responsible for properly and reasonably allocating the portion of the total fee received for lobbying activities and for activities other than lobbying. Only the compensation received for lobbying activities is to be reported on the compensation form.

The Legislature will use random audits supplemented by the lobbyist disciplinary process to hold the person certifying the compensation report and the lobbying firm accountable for making a true, complete, properly allocated report as required by law. In addition, the certification brings every compensation report filer within the scope of potential criminal penalties in section 837.06, Florida Statutes, for culpable violations.

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

1. Question: Is an in-house, salaried lobbyist for an association, a governmental entity, or a corporation that does not derive income from principals for lobbying required to report compensation?

ANSWER: No. An association, a governmental entity, a corporation or other business entity that does not derive income from principals for lobbying, and its employee lobbyists, are not a “lobbying firm” as defined in section 11.045(1)(g), Florida Statutes. Only “lobbying firms” must report compensation as provided in section 11.045(3)(a), Florida Statutes.

2. Question: Does the prohibition against providing compensation to an individual or business entity that is not a lobbying firm mean that in-house lobbyists must either become a lobbying firm or cease lobbying?

ANSWER: No. The provision in question merely clarifies that reportable “compensation” under the law must be provided to a “lobbying firm,” and not contracted or subcontracted through some “straw man” to circumvent compensation reporting requirements. The provision in question clarifies and emphasizes the statutory definition of “compensation” in section 11.045(1)(b), Florida Statutes, as “anything of value provided or owed to a lobbying firm.”

RULE TWELVE

EXECUTIVE SESSIONS, APPOINTMENTS, SUSPENSIONS, AND REMOVALS

PART ONE—EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

12.1—Executive session; authority

The business of the Senate shall be transacted openly and not in executive session except under conditions pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution.

12.2—Executive session; purpose

Pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may resolve itself into executive session for the sole purpose of considering appointment, removal, or suspension. ##### 12.4—Executive session; work product confidentiality

PART TWO—APPOINTMENTS, SUSPENSIONS, AND REMOVALS

12.7—Procedure; generally

Any such committee, subcommittee, or special master shall make inquiry or investigation and hold hearings, as appropriate, and advise the President and the Senate with a recommendation and the necessity for deliberating the subject in executive session. Reports and findings of the committee, subcommittee, or special master appointed pursuant hereto are advisory only and shall be made to the President. The report of the committee, subcommittee, or special master may be privileged and confidential. The President may order the report presented to the Senate in either open or executive session, or the President may refer it to the Rules Committee for its consideration and report. When the report is presented to the Senate during an open sitting or received by the Rules Committee, the report shall lose its privileged and confidential character.

12.8—Procedure on executive appointments

(1) Upon receipt of a request from the Governor or other appointing official or authority for the return of the documentation of an appointment, which appointment has not been acted upon by the Senate, the Secretary, upon consultation with the President, shall return the appointment documentation and the return shall be noted in the Journal. The appointee whose appointment was returned continues in office until the end of the next ensuing regular session of the Legislature or until the Senate confirms a successor, whichever occurs first.

(2) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority’s predecessor, the appointee shall not be subject to the provisions of section 114.05(1)(e) or (f), Florida Statutes, during the period of withdrawal.

(3) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority requesting the return, for purposes of section 114.05(1)(e) and (f), Florida Statutes, the returned appointment shall be treated as if the Senate failed to consider the appointment.

12.9—Procedure upon receipt of an executive suspension

(1) Unless suspension proceedings are held in abeyance, the committee, subcommittee, or special master shall institute action by transmitting a notice of hearing for a prehearing conference or a hearing on the merits within three (3) months after the Secretary of the Senate receives effective date of the suspension order. The Governor and the suspended official shall be given reasonable notice in writing of any hearing or prehearing conference before the committee, subcommittee, or special master. If the Governor files an amended suspension order, the attention of the Senate, committee, subcommittee, or special master shall be directed at the amended suspension order.

(2) An executive suspension of a public official who has pending against him or her criminal charges, or an executive suspension of a public official that is challenged in a court shall be referred to the Ethics and Elections Committee, other appropriate committee, or special master; however, all inquiry or investigation or hearings thereon shall be held in abeyance and the matter shall not be considered by the Senate, committee, subcommittee, or special master until the pending charges have been dismissed, or until final determination of the criminal charges at the trial court level, or until the final determination of a court challenge, if any, and the exhaustion of all appellate remedies for any of the above. The committee, subcommittee, or special master shall institute action within three (3) months after the conclusion of any pending proceedings. In a suspension case in which the criminal charge is a misdemeanor, the committee, subcommittee, or special master and the Senate may proceed if the written consent of counsel for the Governor and of the suspended official is obtained.

(3) The committee, subcommittee, or special master may provide for a prehearing conference with counsel for the Governor and the suspended official to narrow the issues involved in the suspension. At such conference, both the Governor and the suspended official shall set forth the names and addresses of all the witnesses they intend to call, the nature of their testimony, photocopies of all documentary evidence, and a description of all physical evidence that will be relied on by the parties at the hearing. Each shall state briefly what each expects to prove by such testimony and evidence. The suspended official may file with the Secretary, no later than ten (10) days prior to the first (1st) prehearing conference, or no later than the date set by the committee, subcommittee, or special master if no prehearing conference is held, all written defenses or matters in avoidance of the charges contained in the suspension order.

(4) When it is advisable, the committee, subcommittee, or special master may request that the Governor file a bill of particulars containing a statement of further facts and circumstances supporting the suspension order. Within twenty (20) days after receipt of the Governor's bill of particulars, the suspended officer shall file a response with the committee, subcommittee, or special master. Such response shall specifically admit or deny the facts or circumstances set forth in the Governor's bill of particulars, and may further make such representation of fact and circumstances or assert such further defenses as are responsive to the bill of particulars or as may bear on the matter of the suspension.

(5) The Senate may act on the recommendations of the committee, subcommittee, or special master at any time it is sitting but shall do so no later than the end of the next regular session of the Legislature.

(6) Within sixty (60) days after the Senate has completed final action on the recommendation of the committee, subcommittee, or special master, any party to the suspension matter may request the return, at that party's expense, of any exhibit, document, or other evidence introduced by that party. After the expiration of sixty (60) days from the date the Senate has completed final action, the committee, subcommittee, or special master may dispose of such exhibits or other evidence.

See FLA. CONST. art. IV, s. 7(b) Suspensions; filling office during suspensions.

12.10—Adjudication of guilt not required to remove suspended officer

For the purposes of Article IV, Section 7(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may find that the suspended official has committed a felony notwithstanding that a court may have withheld adjudication of guilt upon which the suspension order is based in whole or in part.

12.11—Special master; appointment

The President may appoint and contract for the services of a special master to perform such duties and make such reports in relation to suspensions and removals as he or she shall prescribe.

12.12—Special master; floor privilege

With consent of the President, the special master may have the privilege of the Senate floor to present and explain the report and answer questions as to the law and facts involved.

12.13—Issuance of subpoenas and process

The committee, subcommittee, and special master shall each have the authority to request the issuance of subpoenas, subpoenas duces tecum, and other necessary process under Rule 2.2. The committee chair, subcommittee chair, and special master may each administer all oaths and affirmations in the manner prescribed by law to witnesses who shall appear to testify on matters pending before the committee, subcommittee, or special master.

12.14—Rule takes precedence

In any situation where there is a direct conflict between the provisions of Rule Twelve (12) and part V of chapter 112, Florida Statutes, Rule Twelve (12), derived from Article III, Section 4(a) of the State Constitution, shall take precedence.

SCR 2-Orig—A concurrent resolution establishing the Joint Rules of the Florida Legislature for the 2014-2016 term.

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida, the House of Representatives Concurring:

That the following joint rules shall govern the Florida Legislature for the 2014-2016 term:

JOINT RULES

Joint Rule One—Lobbyist Registration and Compensation Reporting

1.1—Those Required to Register; Exemptions; Committee Appearance Records

(1) All lobbyists before the Florida Legislature must register with the Lobbyist Registration Office in the Office of Legislative Services. Registration is required for each principal represented.

(2) As used in Joint Rule One, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

(a) "Compensation" means payment, distribution, loan, advance, reimbursement, deposit, salary, fee, retainer, or anything of value provided or owed to a lobbying firm, directly or indirectly, by a principal for any lobbying activity.

(b) "Legislative action" means introduction, sponsorship, testimony, debate, voting, or any other official action on any measure, resolution, amendment, nomination, appointment, or report of, or any matter that may be the subject of action by, either house of the Legislature or any committee thereof.

(c) "Lobby" or "lobbying" means influencing or attempting to influence legislative action or nonaction through oral or written communication or through an attempt to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature.

(d) "Lobbying firm" means any business entity, including an individual contract lobbyist, that receives or becomes entitled to receive any compensation for the purpose of lobbying and where any partner, owner, officer, or employee of the business entity is a lobbyist. "Lobbying firm" does not include an entity that has employees who are lobbyists if the entity does not derive compensation from principals for lobbying or if such compensation is received exclusively from a subsidiary or affiliate corporation of the employer. As used in this paragraph, an affiliate corporation is a corporation that directly or indirectly shares the same ultimate parent corporation as the employer and does not receive compensation for lobbying from any unaffiliated entity.

(e) "Lobbyist" means a person who is employed and receives payment, or who contracts for economic consideration, for the purpose of lobbying or a person who is principally employed for governmental affairs by another person or governmental entity to lobby on behalf of that other person or governmental entity. An employee of the principal is not a lobbyist unless the employee is principally employed for governmental affairs. The term "principally employed for governmental affairs" means that one of the principal or most significant responsibilities of the employee to the employer is overseeing the employer's various relationships with government or representing the employer in its contacts with government. Any person employed by the Governor, the Executive Office of the Governor, or any executive or judicial department of the state or any community college of the state who seeks to encourage the passage, defeat, or modification of any legislation by personal appearance or attendance before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, is a lobbyist.

(f) "Lobbyist Registration and Compensation Reporting System (LRCRS)" means the online application that serves as the system of record for the Lobbyist Registration Office in the Office of Legislative Services and consists of the electronic registration system and the electronic filing system.

(g) "LRO" means the Lobbyist Registration Office in the Office of Legislative Services.

(h) "Office" means the Office of Legislative Services.

(i) "Payment" or "salary" means wages or any other consideration provided in exchange for services but does not include reimbursement for expenses.

(j) "Principal" means the person, firm, corporation, or other entity that has employed or retained a lobbyist. When an association has employed or retained a lobbyist, the association is the principal; the individual members of the association are not principals merely because of their membership in the association.

(k) “Unusual circumstances,” with respect to any failure of a person to satisfy a filing requirement, means uncommon, rare, or sudden events over which the person has no control and which directly result in the failure to satisfy the filing requirement.

(3) For purposes of Joint Rule One, the terms “lobby” and “lobbying” do not include any of the following:

(a) A response to an inquiry for information made by any member, committee, or staff of the Legislature.

(b) An appearance in response to a legislative subpoena.

(c) Advice or services that arise out of a contractual obligation with the Legislature, a member, a committee, any staff, or any legislative entity to render the advice or services where such obligation is fulfilled through the use of public funds.

(d) Representation of a client before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, when the client is subject to disciplinary action by the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof.

(4) For purposes of registration and reporting, the term “lobbyist” does not include any of the following:

(a) A member of the Legislature.

(b) A person who is employed by the Legislature.

(c) A judge who is acting in that judge’s official capacity.

(d) A person who is a state officer holding elective office or an officer of a political subdivision of the state holding elective office and who is acting in that officer’s official capacity.

(e) A person who appears as a witness or for the purpose of providing information at the written request of the chair of a committee, subcommittee, or legislative delegation.

(f) A person employed by any executive or judicial department of the state or any community college of the state who makes a personal appearance or attendance before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, while that person is on approved leave or outside normal working hours and who does not otherwise meet the definition of a lobbyist.

(5) When a person, regardless of whether the person is registered as a lobbyist, appears before a committee of the Legislature, that person must submit a Committee Appearance Record as required by the respective house.

(6) The responsibilities of the Office and of the LRO under Joint Rule One may be assigned to another entity by agreement of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives for a contract period not to extend beyond December 1 following the Organization Session of the next biennium, provided that the powers and duties of the President, the Speaker, the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, and any legislative committee referenced in Joint Rule One may not be delegated.

1.2—Method of Registration

(1) Each person required to register with the LRO must register through the LRCRS and attest to that person’s full legal name, business address, e-mail address, and telephone number; the name, business address, e-mail address, and telephone number of each principal that person represents; and the extent of any direct business association or partnership that person has with any member of the Legislature. In addition, if the lobbyist is a partner, owner, officer, or employee of a lobbying firm, the lobbyist must state the name, address, and telephone number of each lobbying firm to which the lobbyist belongs and the e-mail address of the employee responsible for the submission of compensation reports. Registration is not complete until the LRCRS receives the principal’s authorization and the registration fee. Any changes to the information existing in the LRCRS must be updated online in the LRCRS within 15 days from the effective date of the change.

(2) Any person required to register must do so with respect to each principal prior to commencement of lobbying on behalf of that principal. The LRCRS will request authorization from the principal with the principal’s name, business address, e-mail address, and telephone number to confirm that the registrant is authorized to represent the principal. The principal or principal’s representative shall also identify and designate the principal’s main business pursuant to a classification system approved by the Office, which shall be the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) six-digit numerical code that most accurately describes the principal’s main business.

(3) Any person required to register must renew the registration annually for each calendar year through the LRCRS.

(4) A lobbyist shall promptly cancel the registration for a principal upon termination of the lobbyist’s representation of that principal. A cancellation takes effect the day it is received by the LRCRS. Notwithstanding this requirement, the LRO may remove the name of a lobbyist from the list of registered lobbyists if the principal notifies the LRO in writing that the lobbyist is no longer authorized to represent that principal.

(5) The LRO shall retain registration information submitted under this rule.

(6) A person required to register under Joint Rule One shall be considered a lobbyist of the Legislature for the purposes of ss. 11.045, 112.3148, and 112.3149, Florida Statutes.

1.3—Registration Costs; Exemptions

(1) To cover the costs incurred for the administration of Joint Rule One, each person who registers under Joint Rule 1.1 must pay an annual registration fee to the LRO. The annual period runs from January 1 to December 31. These fees must be paid at the time of registration.

(2) The following persons are exempt from paying the fee, provided they are designated in writing by the agency head or person designated in this subsection:

(a) Two employees of each department of the executive branch created under chapter 20, Florida Statutes.

(b) Two employees of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.

(c) Two employees of the Executive Office of the Governor.

(d) Two employees of the Commission on Ethics.

(e) Two employees of the Florida Public Service Commission.

(f) Two employees of the judicial branch designated in writing by the Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court.

(3) The annual fee is up to $50 per each house for a person to register to represent one principal and up to an additional $10 per house for each additional principal that the person registers to represent. The amount of each fee shall be established annually by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The fees set must be adequate to ensure operation of the lobbyists’ registration, compensation, and reporting functions. The fees collected by the LRO under this rule shall be deposited into the State Treasury and credited to the Legislative Lobbyist Registration Trust Fund specifically to cover the costs incurred in administering Joint Rule One.

1.4—Reporting of Lobbying Firm Compensation

(1)(a) Each lobbying firm shall file a compensation report with the LRO through the LRCRS for each calendar quarter during any portion of which one or more of the firm’s lobbyists were registered to represent a principal. The report must include the:

1. Full name, business address, and telephone number of the lobbying firm;

2. Registration name of each of the firm's lobbyists; and
3. Total compensation provided or owed to the lobbying firm from all principals for the reporting period, reported in one of the following categories: $0; $1 to $49,999; $50,000 to $99,999; $100,000 to $249,999; $250,000 to $499,999; $500,000 to $999,999; or $1 million or more.

(b) For each principal represented by one or more of the firm's lobbyists, the lobbying firm's compensation report must also include the:

1. Full name, business address, and telephone number of the principal; and
2. Total compensation provided or owed to the lobbying firm for the reporting period, reported in one of the following categories: $0; $1 to $9,999; $10,000 to $19,999; $20,000 to $29,999; $30,000 to $39,999; $40,000 to $49,999; or $50,000 or more. If the category "$50,000 or more" is selected, the specific dollar amount of compensation must be reported, rounded up or down to the nearest $1,000.

(c) If the lobbying firm subcontracts work from another lobbying firm and not from the original principal:

1. The lobbying firm providing the work to be subcontracted shall be treated as the reporting lobbying firm's principal for reporting purposes under this paragraph; and
2. The reporting lobbying firm shall, for each lobbying firm identified as the reporting lobbying firm's principal under paragraph (b), identify the name, business address, and telephone number of the principal originating the lobbying work.

(d) The senior partner, officer, or owner of the lobbying firm shall certify to the veracity and completeness of the information submitted pursuant to this rule; certify that no compensation has been omitted from this report by deeming such compensation as "consulting services," "media services," "professional services," or anything other than compensation; and certify that no officer or employee of the firm has made an expenditure in violation of s. 11.045, Florida Statutes.

(2) For each principal represented by more than one lobbying firm, the Office shall aggregate the reporting-period and calendar-year compensation reported as provided or owed by the principal. Compensation reported within a category shall be aggregated as follows:

(3) The compensation reports shall be filed no later than 45 days after the end of each reporting period. The four reporting periods are from January 1 through March 31, April 1 through June 30, July 1 through September 30, and October 1 through December 31, respectively. The reports shall be rendered in the identical form provided by the respective houses and shall be open to public inspection.

(4) A report filed pursuant to this rule must be completed and filed through the LRCRS not later than 11:59 p.m. of the day designated in subsection (3). A report not filed by 11:59 p.m. of the day designated is a late-filed report and is subject to the penalties under Joint Rule 1.5(1).

(5) Each person given secure sign-on credentials in the LRCRS is responsible for protecting the credentials from disclosure and is responsible for all filings made by use of such credentials, unless and until the Office is notified that the person's credentials have been compromised. Each report filed by electronic means pursuant to this rule shall be deemed certified in accordance with paragraph (1)(d) by the person given the secure sign-on credentials and, as such, subjects the person and the lobbying firm to the provisions of s. 11.045(8), Florida Statutes, as well as any discipline provided under the rules of the Senate or House of Representatives.

(6) If the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives jointly declare that the electronic system is not operable, the reports shall be filed in accordance with instructions on the LRCRS website which will be posted for a reasonable period of time.

1.5—Failure to File Timely Compensation Report; Notice and Assessment of Fines; Appeals

(1) Upon determining that the report is late, the LRCRS shall immediately notify the lobbying firm by e-mail as to the failure to timely file the report and that a fine is being assessed for each late day. The fine shall be $50 per day per report for each late day, not to exceed $5,000 per report.

(2) Upon submittal of the late-filed report by the lobbying firm, the LRCRS shall determine the amount of the fine based on the submittal date shown in the electronic receipt issued by the LRCRS.

(3) Such fine shall be paid within 30 days after the notice of payment due is transmitted by the LRCRS, unless an appeal is made to the LRO. The moneys shall be deposited into the Legislative Lobbyist Registration Trust Fund.

(4) A fine may not be assessed against a lobbying firm the first time the report for which the lobbying firm is responsible is not timely filed. However, to receive the one-time fine waiver, the report for which the lobbying firm is responsible must be filed within 30 days after the notice of failure to file is transmitted by the LRCRS. A fine shall be assessed for all subsequent late-filed reports.

(5) Any lobbying firm may appeal or dispute a fine, based upon unusual circumstances surrounding the failure to file on the designated due date, and may request and shall be entitled to a hearing before the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, who shall recommend to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their respective designees, that the fine be waived in whole or in part for good cause shown. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their respective designees, may, by joint agreement, concur in the recommendation and waive the fine in whole or in part. Any such request shall be made within 30 days after the notice of payment due is transmitted by the LRCRS. In such case, the lobbying firm shall, within the 30-day period, notify the LRO in writing of the firm's intention to request a hearing.

(6) A lobbying firm may request that the filing of a report be waived upon good cause shown, based on unusual circumstances. The request must be filed with the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, who shall make a recommendation concerning the waiver request to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may, by joint agreement, grant or deny the request.

(7)(a) All lobbyist registrations for lobbyists who are partners, owners, officers, or employees of a lobbying firm that fails to timely pay a fine are automatically suspended until the fine is paid or waived and all late reports have been filed or waived. The LRO shall promptly notify all affected principals, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of any suspension or reinstatement. All lobbyists who are partners, owners, officers, or employees of a lobbying firm are jointly and severally liable for any outstanding fine owed by a lobbying firm.

(b) Such lobbyist may not be reinstated in any capacity representing any principal until the fine is paid and all late reports have been filed or waived or until the fine is waived as to that lobbyist and all late reports for that lobbyist have been filed or waived. A suspended lobbyist may request a waiver upon good cause shown, based on unusual circumstances. The request must be filed with the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services who shall, as soon as practicable, make a recommendation concerning the waiver request to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may, by joint agreement, grant or deny the request.

(8) The LRO shall notify the coordinator of the Office of the failure of a lobbying firm to file a report after notice or of the failure of a lobbying firm to pay the fine imposed.

1.6—Open Records; Internet Publication of Registrations and Compensation Reports

(1) All of the lobbyist registration forms and compensation reports received by the LRO shall be available for public inspection and for duplication at reasonable cost.

(2) The LRO shall make information filed pursuant to Joint Rules 1.2 and 1.4 reasonably available on the Internet in an easily understandable and accessible format through the LRCRS. The LRCRS must include, but not be limited to including, the names and business addresses of lobbyists, lobbying firms, and principals; the affiliations between lobbyists and principals; and the classification system designated and identified with respect to principals pursuant to Joint Rule 1.2.

1.7—Records Retention and Inspection and Complaint Procedure

(1) Each lobbying firm and each principal shall preserve for a period of 4 years all accounts, bills, receipts, computer records, books, papers, and other documents and records necessary to substantiate compensation reports and registration documentation.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint based on the personal knowledge of the complainant made pursuant to the Senate Rules or the Rules of the House of Representatives, any such documents and records may be inspected when authorized by the President of the Senate or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as applicable. The person authorized to perform the inspection shall be designated in writing and shall be a member of The Florida Bar or a certified public accountant licensed in Florida. Any information obtained by such an inspection may only be used for purposes authorized by law, Joint Rule One, the Senate Rules, or the Rules of the House of Representatives, which purposes may include the imposition of sanctions against a person subject to Joint Rule One, the Senate Rules, or the Rules of the House of Representatives. Any employee who uses that information for an unauthorized purpose is subject to discipline. Any member who uses that information for an unauthorized purpose is subject to discipline under the applicable rules of each house.

(3) The right of inspection may be enforced by appropriate writ issued by any court of competent jurisdiction.

1.8—Questions Regarding Interpretation of Joint Rule One

(1) A person may request in writing an informal opinion from the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services as to the application of Joint Rule One to a specific situation involving that person's conduct. The General Counsel shall issue the opinion within 10 days after receiving the request. The informal opinion may be relied upon by the person who requested the informal opinion. A copy of each informal opinion that is issued shall be provided to the presiding officer of each house. A committee of either house designated pursuant to section 11.045(5), Florida Statutes, may revise any informal opinion rendered by the General Counsel through an advisory opinion to the person who requested the informal opinion. The advisory opinion shall supersede the informal opinion as of the date the advisory opinion is issued.

(2) A person in doubt about the applicability or interpretation of Joint Rule One with respect to that person's conduct may submit in writing the facts for an advisory opinion to the committee of either house designated pursuant to s. 11.045(5), Florida Statutes, and may appear in person before the committee in accordance with s. 11.045(5), Florida Statutes.

1.9—Effect of Readoption and Revision

All obligations existing under Joint Rule One as of the last day of the previous legislative biennium are hereby ratified, preserved, and reimposed pursuant to the terms thereof as of that date. The provisions of Joint Rule One are imposed retroactively to the first day of the present legislative biennium except that provisions new to this revision are effective on the date of adoption or as otherwise expressly provided herein.

Joint Rule Two—General Appropriations Review Period

2.1—General Appropriations and Related Bills; Review Periods

(1) A general appropriations bill shall be subject to a 72-hour public review period before a vote is taken on final passage of the bill in the form that will be presented to the Governor.

(2) If a bill is returned to the house in which the bill originated and the originating house does not concur in all the amendments or adds additional amendments, no further action shall be taken on the bill by the nonoriginating house, and a conference committee shall be established by operation of this rule to consider the bill.

(3) If a bill is referred to a conference committee by operation of this rule, a 72-hour public review period shall be provided prior to a vote being taken on the conference committee report by either house.

(4) A copy of the bill, a copy of the bill with amendments adopted by the nonoriginating house, or the conference committee report shall be furnished to each member of the Legislature, the Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and each member of the Cabinet. Copies for the Governor, Chief Justice, and members of the Cabinet shall be furnished to the official's office in the Capitol or Supreme Court Building.

(5)(a) Copies required to be furnished under subsection (4) shall be furnished to members of the Legislature as follows:

1. A printed copy may be placed on each member's desk in the appropriate chamber; or

2. An electronic copy may be furnished to each member. The Legislature hereby deems and determines that a copy shall have been furnished to the members of the Legislature when an electronic copy is made available to every member of the Legislature. An electronic copy is deemed to have been made available when it is accessible via the Internet or other information network consisting of systems ordinarily serving the members of the Senate or the House of Representatives.

(b) An official other than a member of the Legislature who is to be furnished a copy of a general appropriations bill under subsection (4) may officially request that an electronic copy of the bill be furnished in lieu of a printed copy, and, if practicable, the copy may be furnished to the official in the manner requested.

On motion by Senator Gaetz, SCR 2-Org was read the second time by title, adopted, and by two-thirds vote immediately certified to the House.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

The President recognized former Senator John Thrasher for his service with the Florida Senate and congratulated him for being chosen as President of Florida State University. A video was shown in his honor.

Senator Gaetz: First, Mr. President and members of the Senate, let me acknowledge that it was President Gardiner who insisted that his day be shared with John Thrasher. Now that's vintage Andy Gardiner; gracious and thoughtful. I appreciate, Mr. President, your asking me to speak about Senator Thrasher. For these years that he and I have served together, he's been like a brother to me, a much older brother. Much, much older brother. There's a great deal of feeling here on the Senate floor about you, Senator Thrasher. In fact, I was touched yesterday; I stopped by your office, and I saw Senator Latvala there helping you pack. Go ahead, that settles in after awhile.

I suspect that you will miss the Senate, as this Senate will miss you, and we'll surely miss Jean, the new First Lady of Florida State University. Jean Thrasher, stand up, Jean. There are consolations, Senator Thrasher, in your not being able to move a bill on this floor today, because if you tried, in view of Saturday's game, I'm not sure that you would do well with the Miami delegation. We all saw, Senator Bradley, how much the University of Florida is paying its new president. Set a high water mark. When you came in today, one of the envelopes on your desk was a draft of the Preeminent University President's Pay Equity Act which we will ask the President to allow us to take up instanter.

On November 6, I did receive a letter from Senator Thrasher. He had just been reelected, but it turns out that he had been interviewing for another job at the same time. Who knew? Something to do with global warming and evolution, that's what I read. Mr. President, this is the letter that I wrote back on behalf of the Senate to Senator Thrasher. It turned out to be the last letter I signed as Senate President. "The Honorable John Thrasher, President of the Florida State University. Dear Mr. President. Your letter of resignation from the Florida Senate has been received. I hope you will understand that my first inclination was to seek a general counsel's opinion as to whether I could reject it. I know I speak for your colleagues here when I say we would want you to have both jobs. Your acceptance of the presidency of your beloved Florida State University diminishes the Senate. It hollows out the corridors of this Legislature, which you have led with such distinction and effectiveness. It creates a lonely place on the Senate floor where you stood as the model of what a Senator should be; a lion of the Senate. Remember, the Senate is always your home. Today is a historic day for your university. I envy your new colleagues at Florida State the opportunity they will have to learn from you, to be inspired by you, and to follow you to greatness. The Senate sends you Godspeed."

Senator Smith: Thank you, Mr. President. Earlier today, we were having trouble. I know Senator Gaetz and I have been having trouble thinking of what to call Senator Thrasher. We can call him Representative, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chair, Senator, and President. You can call him all those things, but I'll tell you what I will call him. I will call him in January for tickets to the national championship game. I'll pay face value for them. Honestly, I like calling him my friend.

When we were coming into the House, we couldn't have been more opposite from where we've come from. From every part, even our political thought, a lot of times, we were opposites. We've always been friends. He's always been a true gentleman. Now that he's leaving, I guess I'm the chair of the Calendar Committee and chair of Rules, since you were the Rules chair before. I was vice chair.

The great thing about John Thrasher is even though he would disagree with you on issues, he would always try and work with you to at least make sure everyone got something. The one thing I want to bring out is last year, I had a bill that was near and dear to my heart: the Safe Neighborhoods bill. We passed it out of this Senate. Over in the House they were jamming it up. I go over to the House, and Senator Thrasher is already on the House floor. He's arguing about something else. I go in and he says, "Smith, what are you doing over here?" I said, "My Safe Neighborhoods bill." He said, "Didn't we pass that?" I said, "Yeah." He said, "What are they doing over here?" I said, "Don't be jamming it up." He goes, "I voted for it, right?" I said, "Yeah." Then, he turns around and he goes to Republican leadership, and he goes full Thrasher. We all know what full Thrasher means. It just meant a lot that an issue that was near and dear to me, he really didn't have a lot invested in the bill, but because he considers you a friend, because you are a Senator, he turned around and went to bat for me in the Florida House. After ignoring you since I got elected in '98, and you were my first Speaker, I have never been so proud as that moment when you turned around, and you went to bat for me. I'll always remember that. Thank you, and Godspeed.

Senator Thompson: Thank you, Mr. President. Senators, as a member of the Seminole Caucus, which during my tenure in the Senate has been chaired by Senator Thrasher, I rise today to congratulate him. We have had an opportunity to talk, and he is committed obviously to the continued preeminence of our alma mater, Florida State University, but also to all of the other institutions within the State University System. So, Senator Thrasher, I congratulate you and intend to see you, and we will share the tomahawk chop. Congratulations.

Senator Negron: Thank you very much, Mr. President, and just to follow up briefly on Leader Smith talking about Thrasher going "Thrasher." It reminds me of Chris Rock who said, "The tiger didn't go crazy. The tiger went tiger." So, I just want to tell two quick stories about Senator Thrasher that come to mind when I think about his time in the Senate. I think it was Senator Benacquisto, Senator Simmons, Senator Richter, who was chairing the Insurance Committee, and I was tagging along. We had an issue on an insurance bill where we had a difference of opinion with the House. It was getting towards the end of session, and we weren't making progress. So I remember we all kind of gathered here at the back. For some reason, he was about four steps ahead of all of us, and it was like Moses parting the Red Sea. He was marching as if he was in the military or on a mission. We got into the House, and, when we walked in, there were these three startled young men that were members of the House. John Thrasher looked at them and said, "Boys, we are going to work this out," and we did. He just had that aura to say this is what is going to happen, and we are going to get it done. The House got something, we got something, and it worked out.

This second story, I can't give you all of the details or verify because I didn't actually see it happen, although I saw the consequences of it happening—kind of like the wind. We were working on another bill that Senator Benacquisto had, an insurance bill. Our friends on the fourth floor who are retained to redress grievances, and we respect their role in the process, but they were acting in a way that the Speaker didn't think was appropriate. So, apparently, there was a little get together out in the hallway. I wasn't there. I didn't see it. Apparently, they received some information from Senator Thrasher on how would be the best way to act in this particular situation, and, about ten minutes later, all kinds of things started happening. So, I thought that is how leaders get things done. Sometimes they control, sometimes they persuade, and sometimes just their accumulated goodwill and respect that people have for them is able to get things done. We appreciate all the work that you did for all of us to help us achieve our priorities, and we know you are going to take that same zealous leadership to your next venture, so congratulations.

Senator Benacquisto: Thank you, Mr. President. You know each of us on this floor could give a little story about how you have touched our lives and how you made a difference for them, and we are all forever blessed by having you in our lives. I just want to share the thing you taught me that has served me very well, and it is to take on the fight even if you know you are going to lose. You fight because you believe in something or someone or an ideal or a purpose, but it is what we came here for. We came here to govern, to lead, to enact policy, to change the world, and make things better. I remember, on the bad end of a 19-19 vote, you patted me on the back and said, "That was worth everything. Even though we lost, you stood tall and strong for what you believed in." That is the legacy that even when you are gone we will look at that chair and no one will ever be able to fill the shoes, the seat, the chair, the legacy. But what you have given to us, because your name has been called to a higher purpose (Go Gators). We will miss you terribly, but your legacy, your friendship, your guardianship of the traditions of the Senate will live on, and we are forever blessed for you. Thank you.

COMMITTEE RECEIVED

A committee from the House of Representatives composed of Representatives J. Diaz, Adkins, Ray, Renuart, Roberson, Tobia, Van Zant, Mayfield, Moskowitz, Kerner, and Edwards was received and informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was convened for the purpose of organization. The committee then withdrew from the chamber.

COMMITTEE DISCHARGED

The committee appointed to notify the House of Representatives appeared at the bar of the Senate and reported to the President that its duty had been performed. The committee was thanked for its service and discharged.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Recognition of former Senator Thrasher continued with Senator Lee's remarks.

Senator Lee: Thank you, Mr. President. Congratulations, again to you, sir, and to Camille and your family. What a wonderful day this must be in your lives. We're looking forward to two great years. President Gaetz, thank you for the past two years. It's been a real privilege serving under you. Welcome back to the battleground here on the floor of the Senate. We look forward to having you as a partner back here in debate.

These organization sessions, Mr. President, are always quite ceremonial and sometimes they don't seem too substantive, but we do learn a few things. I wasn't surprised to learn that you were good with the ladies. Well, Camille seemed a little shocked that it happened to come out. I was pleasantly surprised to see that Joanna has such a beautiful voice and is so composed to be able to sing the national anthem before this Senate. That had to be a real moment of pride in your life. I'm still trying to recover from the visual of Senator Montford's musings of having been in the Garden of Eden with our esteemed Secretary. What's up with that? I suppose a man can dream. I had a bit of trepidation when he rose to second the nomination of Senator Richter, but we got through that.

Senator Thrasher, when I came to the Senate in 2012, I knew you as a fierce, competitive Speaker of the House of Representatives when I was a member of the Senate. I knew you as a lobbyist. When I came here serving on the leadership team for President Gaetz, along with you, I got to know you as a father, as a grandfather, as a husband, and, man, do I like that guy better. It's not easy in this process with family. It's a competitive process that we have. It's not easy to rise to the top of your game. It's a heck of a lot harder to stay there. Over the course of your history in this Florida Legislature, you've cut a big swath through this town. You've done a lot for people whose names will never be mentioned here, who are now populating this town, agencies, the lobbying corps, and the staff of this institution. We all owe you a debt of gratitude for your career of service to this Legislature in the House and in the Senate.

We wish you so very, very well going forward as President of FSU. I am admittedly agnostic as to this whole FSU/Gator thing. I just want to see us win national championships here in Florida, but, like Senator King, I know that your heart has always been at FSU. Jean, you're going to make a wonderful, wonderful First Lady, and there's nothing that does us more pride than to see our own go on to bigger and better things beyond this institution. Thank you for your friendship, thank you for your mentorship, and we wish you Godspeed. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator Flores: Thank you, Mr. President. I was just going to say, "thank you," but I have a story. You guys know I have lots of stories. What I really want to say is thank you for a lot of times over the years saving myself from myself, and so this story is titled, "Why you figured out that you had to kind of take me under your wing." I am not going to give the full details, but you guys will figure it out. So, my first year in the Senate when I first came into the Senate, I was the youngest for a brief moment, and then this guy came and beat me by a month. So I was younger, and Senator Thrasher has always been someone that I looked up to. He took care of me, I would say, like a big brother, right? Not a dad because we are very close in age as well. I was asked by President Haridopolos for my opinion on a certain piece of legislation that was moving forward. I had some concerns with this legislation. I was asked my opinion, and, unfortunately, I gave my opinion. This is kind of the way the story goes. We were sitting around the table, and there were people around the table who were also Senators. I will just say I am a young, Hispanic woman, and the people who were around the table were not that. And so someone said, "So, what do you think about this legislation?" I said, "Well, I have a little bit of a concern because I think that if this legislation were to move forward, the legislature is going to look less like having young, Hispanic women." That is not actually what I said. So think about what the opposite of that is, and that is what I said to this group. Senator Thrasher turned to me, and he said, "You know you see around the table, they are not young, Hispanic women here." That will teach you guys to think of the opposite of young, the opposite of Hispanic, and the opposite of a woman and that is what I said. I think that is when he said, "I am going to have to mentor her a little bit more. Even when your opinions are asked, maybe just temper them down just a little bit." I haven't done a great job of that always, but I have gotten better at it. So I want to thank you for guiding me, for counseling me, for calming me down when I get a little nervous at the end of session. You have always taken care of me. There really wasn't a need to, I mean right, like I said, we are very similar, both obviously young, Hispanic women here, and so you didn't need to take me under your wing, but you did. I appreciate it, and I will miss you very, very much.

Senator Bradley: Thank you, Mr. President. Obviously President Thrasher is well known throughout the state as the Speaker of the House and powerful Senate Rules Chairman, and now FSU President. But where I come from, Clay County, he is known as "John and Jean." Before he made such an incredible and indelible mark on the history of our state, after his military service, he was very well distinguished, and had a very successful stint in the private world. He started his public service on the Clay County School Board and also served in the Clay County Commission. His name is on our Performing Arts Center in Clay County. So while he grew up in Jacksonville and went to Lee High School, he is a son of Clay County, and we are very proud to call him that.

Jean and John, it is such an honor for you to be such a mentor and friend in your family. We are so blessed to have known you. Congratulations so much on this new endeavor. This Gator is proud of these Seminoles. Thank you.

Senator Joyner: Thank you, Mr. President. I didn't know John Thrasher as a Speaker. I wasn't here. I knew him by reputation. He didn't lobby me. There were no issues that he lobbied that he needed my vote. We never met until he was elected to the Florida Senate. As a freshman Senator, they put his office right next door to mine. That's when we met, and out of that gratuitous meeting grew a relationship which is now a friendship. We, as you all know, have had our differences.

I tell you, at the end of the day, there has been the greatest friendship that one could realize. Now, people said, "Oh, you can't. I know how you feel about Thrasher after what happened." I said, "He's my friend. This is a civil body. This is the place where you express your opinion, and we all are not going to agree on many issues." When it's over, as good lawyers do, we realize that we win some, and we lose some. At the end of the process, John and Arthenia are friends, and we will remain that way. When he was in the process of applying for and getting his most recent job, there was much talk, and I just said, "I got my money on Thrasher." Congratulations, Mr. President.

Senator Montford: Thank you, Mr. President. The first time I met Senator Thrasher, I heard about him a long time before. Being in education, first of all, Senator, thank you for your true and genuine interest in public education. You are to be commended for that. He was well known in education circles as being sometimes opinionated. That was before I was a Senator when I was a school superintendent. There was a bill that was rather controversial. I got some calls from around the state that said, "You need to go around and talk to that Thrasher guy." I said, "Look, I don't know Senator Thrasher that well." They said, "Go talk to him anyway." So, being the smart guy that I am, I told my secretary to wait until 5, 5:30 and call, and maybe he'll be gone home. So she did and waited. Much to my surprise, the secretary came in and said, "He's just leaving, but he'll wait for you." So I said, "Gosh, he's going to wait for me. Okay." So I go down and I walked in and I said, "I'm here to talk about this bill." And you said, "Well, I'm here to listen." And he did. He said, "You got any suggestions?" And I did. He even took one. He didn't take the rest of them, but he did take that one. So, thank you for that. You had no reason to do that, but that's just the kind of man you are.

But that's the past. I want to talk about the future. As a graduate of Florida State University, I am just so doggone proud and happy. I can't wait until you get in there and stir it up because, I'll tell you what, if I was a graduate of any other school, especially one that used to play football, I would really be concerned. I'm going to put my money, Senator Joyner, on John Thrasher as well. I'm proud of you.

Senator Altman: Thank you, Mr. President. You know John Thrasher has been a phenomenal public servant. He has been the chairman of our party, he has been the Speaker of the House, and he has been our Rules Chair here in the Senate. He has run a very successful business representing Brevard County, and I can tell you he did phenomenally well. When I really got to know the real John Thrasher though was when I watched him in committee. I have never seen a member that was so intent in making sure that every individual in that committee room, whether it be a member or whether it be the public speaking, had their day. Incredibly courteous, he always listened, he was never distracted, he was never late, he always paid attention to the speaker and gave them complete and due respect whether he was chairman or just a simple committee member. That is when I saw the greatness of John Thrasher—an incredible humility, concretely dedicated to the sanctity of this body and how we deal with the public. As busy as he is, and as big a man and as many accomplishments he has ever had, when a member of the public was speaking before that committee, they were number one. He never forgot the people. It certainly has been a great honor to serve with John Thrasher and take him as a role model of what it means to be a representative of the people.

President Gardiner: President Thrasher, you and I have traveled this state together, this country. Camille and I have thoroughly enjoyed our time together. We have shared a lot of laughs, and as men and brothers, we've shared a lot of tears. When you informed me this may happen, I think I shed a few tears in that meeting. Today is a very special day, but, in my heart, I'm losing one of my favorite senators. I'm going to miss looking down and seeing you on this floor, but know that you will always be welcome here. Keep your phone on, because things will happen where I will call you. I'm just so happy for you and Jean. Everything that you have given to this state, a lot of us watched that interview process and what you and Jean went through. I think Republican and Democrat alike looked at that and some of the comments that were made and were just appalled because we have seen what you have done. You are the right person at the right time for Florida State University. Camille and I went to Stetson University, so like Senator Lee, we don't get caught up in the Florida/Florida State process. I'm probably going to have to be a Florida State fan now. I'm really excited about the house you have. My three children are going to get to stay there during session for 60 days. President Thrasher, congratulations, and Jean, congratulations.

MOTION

On motion by Senator Gaetz, Florida State University President John Thrasher, former Senator, was invited to address the Senate.

FSU President Thrasher: Thank you, Mr. President. I'm almost moved, by everything that was said, to stay. Not really, Jack, not really. I promise you I'm leaving. I promise. Mr. President, thank you for allowing this, first and foremost. Thank you all for staying, secondly. I didn't expect this and certainly don't deserve it. I don't deserve the arthritis in my knee, either, but I am honored that you would do this and appreciate everything that was said. Congratulations, Mr. President. Congratulations, Mr. President Pro Tempore to you here. You all are going to be an incredible team to lead this great body.

One thing you said when you talked about Andrew, I know you were talking about a lot of other folks. One of my daughters is upstairs, Julie, and her husband Mark, who is a Gator. They share something with you and Camille, and Mason and Andrew have gotten to be great friends. It's something I'll never forget. I know that you will work passionately and continue the good work that you have started on behalf of all those kinds of children who need some support from this great state.

President Gaetz, thank you for the honor of being your Rules Chairman for the last two years. As I've told you before, I have no brothers or sisters, but if I had one, a brother, it would be Don Gaetz. I promise you. You're an incredible man. You're an incredible voice for this body. To have you back on this floor and already hear you, I'm sure that some folks are starting to have some trepidation about where they stand on certain issues. I've been around a long time, and there's nobody who is a better advocate for the things he believes in than President Don Gaetz. To have your friendship and to have Vicky's for Jean and me is just an immeasurable honor. Thank you very much.

Mr. President, I'm going to use one of your lines and that is, I'll be short. I promise to be short. I do want to recognize, first and foremost, the First Lady of Florida State University, my wife, Jean. I know, Garrett, you've mentioned the fact that you all have had 40 years together. This December, Jean and I will have been married 50 years. As she likes to say, at least 25 of them have been pretty good. So, thank you, darling, for everything you've done for me and your support and your continued support. I have signed a new prenuptial agreement because of the FSU deal.

David Simmons, you're going to be the new Rules Chairman, and you're going to be a great one. I told David at one point that I was going to send my FSU contract over to him to review, but I'm afraid if I had, I would still be waiting to be President of Florida State University. Good job this morning, and your brevity was incredibly effective, just so you remember that.

I have had a great staff for five years, Mr. President. I'd like to say hello to them and have you all acknowledge them. Kelly Williams has worked for five or six Senators in the State of Florida, going back to Bill Bankhead, Ander Crenshaw, Jim King, Jim Horne, and then she inherited me. Kelly has been with the Florida Senate for 30 years and is an incredible public servant. Kelly, thank you for everything. I appreciate it. J.J. Whitson, whose father ran my first campaign for the House. J.J. was ten years old and went around handing out things. He's come back, and he's been with me for the last four or five years. I appreciate your service to the state and what you've done. Thank you, J.J. Darla Kubacki has been with me the entire time I've been here also. Thank you very much, Darla, for everything. I appreciate it. And last, but not least, David, you are going to inherit an incredible staff led by the incomparable; one of the great public servants that I have known in my lifetime. Somebody who is a mentor, a friend, and I mean a close friend, and that's the Honorable John Phelps. I thank you for your service and the great staff that we've had for the last five years.

Somebody asked me, Mr. President, "How has it been to be President of Florida State University?" I said, "Well, I've only been there a week or so. But I can already tell you a good day at Florida State University is when I don't hear from the Athletics Director." I haven't heard from him this morning, I might add. I also heard, Mr. President, you had a little extra money, and I know your love for higher education. The Governor said keep tuitions low, but I think he also said keep preeminence high. We're going to do that.

I go back very quickly to 1970, when I walked on the Senate floor for the first time as an intern in the Senate Commerce Committee working for Senator Fred Karl. I always wanted to be in this place. I've had my chance. I've been here five years, and it's been an incredible journey. The friendships, the love and admiration I have for each and every one of you, I'll never forget. God bless you. Thank you very much. I appreciate it.

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT

President Gardiner: I wanted to briefly describe the gavel. I saw Speaker Crisafulli and he gave me a gavel. The history of this gavel is that his father actually went and found the wood to make this gavel. The head of the gavel is from an orangewood tree that was planted in the 1930s, and the base was from an orangewood tree that was planted in the 1940s. I will use this today, and I will do everything I can to not break it over the next two years. I especially want to thank the Speaker. It's very fitting given how I feel about family that this came from his grandfather's property. His dad went and picked out the wood and he made it.
