ELECTION OF NEW SENATOR

The Department of State notified the Secretary of the Senate that Senator Annette Taddeo, Miami, had been elected on September 26, 2017, in a special general election as a member of the Senate, filling the vacancy in District 40.

Senator Taddeo was administered the oath of office by The Honorable Peggy Quince, Florida Supreme Court Justice, in the Senate Chamber on October 10, 2017.

The President appointed Senator Taddeo to the Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government; Banking and Insurance; Environmental Preservation and Conservation; Military and Veterans Affairs, Space, and Domestic Security; and Transportation.

EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATION

By Executive Order Number 17-288, a special general election for Senate District 31 was set for April 10, 2018, by Governor Rick Scott.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Father David Killeen, Rector, St. John's Episcopal Church, Tallahassee:

Accept, O Lord, our thanks and praise for all that you have done for us. We thank you for the splendor of the whole creation, for the beauty of this world, and for the wonder of life.

Give us wisdom and reverence to use the resources of your creation that no one may suffer from our abuse of them and that generations yet to come may continue to praise you for your bounty. Open our ears and hearts to the cries of the poor and give us courage to care for those in need.

In our Capitol, districts, and hometowns, we thank you for setting us at tasks that demand our best efforts and for leading us to accomplishments that satisfy and delight us. We thank you, also, for those disappointments and failures that lead us to acknowledge our dependence on you alone.

Grant that we may not rest until all the people of this land share the benefits of true freedom and gladly accept its disciplines. For yours is the kingdom, O Lord, and you are exalted as head above all. Amen.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT JOE NEGRON

Well, good morning again, Senators. It's great to see everyone back for the 2018 Legislative Session. I would like to begin today by addressing a very important issue that faces not only the Florida Senate but also our counterparts in Congress, the entertainment industry, employers large and small across the country, and our culture in general. Let me be clear: the Florida Senate has zero tolerance for sexual harassment or misconduct of any kind against any employee or visitor. State government should lead by example in instituting policies that ensure employees feel safe when they come to work and comfortable to confidentially report inappropriate behavior by any person.

As public and private entities around the country review their own policies related to sexual and workplace harassment, the Senate is also participating in this important dialogue. Led by Chair Benacquisto, the Senate is working to update its administrative policy on sexual and workplace harassment to make it even more abundantly clear to employees and anyone else that they can and should report sexual or workplace harassment to anyone they feel comfortable speaking with. During my six years in the Florida House and my service here in the Florida Senate, it has been my experience that a vast majority of elected officials, professional staff, and visitors to the Capitol conduct themselves with a high standard of professionalism and dedication. In fact, in the Florida Senate, as you know, we are blessed with some of the most qualified and dedicated professional staff I have ever had the pleasure of working with. Many of our professional staff members have served this body for decades before us, and they will be here long after our public service comes to an end. I want every Senate employee to hear me when I say that as your President, I am committed to ensuring that we all have a safe workplace environment to do the people's business.

One of the most important issues affecting the people of Florida is addressing the recent hurricanes that have impacted our state. Let's start with Hurricane Irma. In the Senate, we have had 14 Senate committees that have held hearings on response, recovery, and lessons learned. We are reviewing the impacts to state parks and beaches, to utility infrastructure—an issue that is important to Senator Simmons—and fuel supply. Now while many parts of our state were hit by the hurricane and are still recovering, I think we can all agree that the Florida Keys were especially hard hit. They have shown a remarkable resiliency and, while there are workplace needs and there are businesses that are still getting back to full steam, I, for one, admire the resiliency that our fellow citizens in the Keys have shown getting that important part of our state back and functioning. In addition, Senator Galvano and Senator Grimsley are both working on comprehensive legislation to help our agriculture industry, particularly citrus, get back on its feet. One, and there are many, of the sad parts of Hurricane Irma was that our citrus industry was just on the verge of having probably their best year in a decade. With all of the challenges from greening and other challenges from overseas competition that they have faced, I've talked to many citrus owners and other employees who work in the citrus industry. They are 100 percent committed to getting back on their feet and to continuing to make Florida a place like we all grew up with. There are certain iconic symbols in Florida—the grapefruit, the orange—those are important parts of our state along with many other agricultural products that are grown in Florida. I am looking forward to their work.

Senator Stargel, Senator Book, and others are working to address issues surrounding the electricity outages that occurred throughout the state but particularly at our nursing homes. Most of you who know me know that I have been a long-time supporter, promoter, and believer in our nursing homes. I have visited nursing homes in my district and all over Florida. Some of you have heard this before, and it's ok, it is a good reminder for all of us. We know from demographics that the composite resident of a nursing home is an 85-year-old woman. Many of you have had the opportunity, as I have, to visit these women in their nursing homes and to see the character that they bring to our state, and have the same affection and feeling of responsibility toward them that I have. I always give credit to people to the best of my ability when they come up with a good way of saying something. I have to give credit to Senator Benacquisto for this statement because she told this to me and it's stuck with me all of these years: "These are the women who have shaped our communities." When you see them, they raised families, they worked, and many of them volunteered during World War II. I think it's critically important that every senior in a nursing home—men and women—are cared for with the highest level of safety and dignity. That will be one of our priorities this session.

A couple of final thoughts on hurricane recovery: I think an issue that I see as I travel throughout Florida is the need for removal of displaced vessels. I know that the Florida Wildlife Conservation Commission has taken a leadership role in that. We want to make sure that we give them the tools that they need. I think that is a very important part for safety and for the condition of our state. Senator Stargel, Senator Passidomo, and Senator Young have filed legislation for us to consider for a hurricane sales tax holiday. The Governor, our entire state, Senator Torres, and all of us welcome the tens of thousands of our fellow citizens from Puerto Rico who have chosen to make their new home in Florida. We will welcome them, and we will take whatever steps we need to in conjunction with the Governor regarding policy and budget to make sure that we welcome them as our fellow citizens to the State of Florida.

Next, I'd like to talk a couple of minutes about the opioid crisis. This is an area where Senators organically have been addressing in their own districts. I personally have attended some, but I attended one particularly in my home area. I represent western Palm Beach County. Senator Rader co-hosted a forum on the opioid crisis in Palm Beach County. We have heard many things from everyone involved in that issue. Obviously, our hearts go out to families and individuals who have been affected by this issue. I have another phrase I want to give credit for and this goes to Senator Brandes. He and I were talking about this issue a couple of months ago, and this was the first time I had heard this phrase directed toward this issue. He said, "We need to have a multi-disciplinary approach to the opioid crisis." I think that really sums it up well. Senator Benacquisto is carrying the Governor's proposal, which will also include her personal policy recommendations. Senator Bean has a bill that addresses prescribing limits and what our policy should be in that regard. I know Senator Passidomo is very passionate. She has researched and gotten visits from personal knowledge on the pediatric aspects and the neonatal aspects of this issue both of which are so important. Senator Garcia has really been a passionate advocate on substance abuse and mental health treatment long before this particular issue arose, and I'm looking forward to contributions that he will make and continue to make on that idea. Senator Garcia, thank you for your leadership and many, many years on both substance abuse and mental health.

For people who are selling and trafficking in opioids, to me, that is a criminal law issue. We will do everything we can to support law enforcement to track down—do everything we can to stop the sale and distribution of opioids. At the same time, for those who are struggling with addiction, who want help, who reach out for help, to me, that is more of a public health issue. I think it is important that men and women who come forward to seek help, that we have appropriate solutions for them, that we have appropriate treatment, including medication-assisted treatment, to give them every opportunity to overcome their addiction. I'm very gratified that law enforcement policies are increasingly recognizing addiction as a medical issue and not simply as an issue for law enforcement to deal with. To me, there is a delicate balance. We need to respect the doctor-patient relationship. I don't think we should intrude unreasonably into the doctor-patient relationship. At the same time, we should and we will do everything we can to prevent addiction from happening in the first place.

Now, many of you will remember about two years ago—actually just more than a few years ago—I was here for a designation ceremony. I talked to you. Some people said, "Just talk about general things." I said, "No, I worked three and a half years to get this position, and I put 50,000 miles a year on my car. It was a long journey, and I'm going to talk about issues that I personally care about, that I know Senators care about because I've been to their districts and talked to them about it." I laid out some very specific goals. Just like in the classroom, we are now at the halfway point. This is a good time to review our progress and see what kind of scorecard we can have. My kids hear about this they'll like it because we have a thing in Martin County called Pinnacle. In the Martin County School District, it's a way for parents to conduct surveillance on their grades and academic progress of their students, and I am notorious for monitoring Pinnacle very closely for all three of our students who grew up. Now, we have an opportunity to do that with some things that I talked about and I know all of us care about.

What you will remember is number one: Let's make our good universities great. So how are we doing? The University of Florida, for the first time ever in the history of the university, ranked in the top ten for national public universities. I think we should all be proud of that accomplishment by the University of Florida. Florida State University is up ten spots in the rankings in the last two years. I think we are just getting started, and I want to set a goal for all of us. Some of our terms will expire by then, but I think we should set a goal as a state for the next five years that the University of Florida will be a top five national university, and Florida State University will be in the top 20. I think we can achieve that goal if we all work together with our universities and with our students. When you hear some information about some of the students we've brought here today, I think that goal is very attainable.

We accomplished over an 80 percent increase in need-based aid, our goal being every student, regardless of financial background. They may have to work. Their parents can contribute as they can. I would never want any student in Florida to be unable to attend the university or college to which he or she was admitted because of a financial barrier. We funded 109,000 previously unfunded college and university students for a total of 234,000 students receiving need-based aid in Florida. One of the pinnacles was when I got on a bus with several Senators and we went around the state. Most of you met us at one stop. I just kept talking about how we are going to get Bright Futures back to 100 percent of tuition, fees and $300 per semester for books because that's what it used to be. I am very proud of the Senate for leading the way and, obviously, for Speaker Corcoran, the House, and the Governor, that this is not now planned, this isn't something we're talking about doing. As we are here today, Bright Future academic scholars in Florida are receiving 100 percent of tuition and fees, $300 a semester for books, and one summer school. I give credit to Governor Scott. I was at an education conference in Orlando. He is the first official who suggested, or recommended, that we pay for a summer through Bright Futures and we incorporated that into the Senate plan. We have over 40,000 students and families who are receiving that. Universities are currently using the increases that we provided to do many things. Hundreds of top-notch new faculty members have been hired and are on our campuses. We've reduced class size, upgraded aging infrastructure and research facilities, we have improved our law, business, and medical schools. One of the key factors, and one of the key initiatives for me in this, is that our universities are committed to a four-year graduation rate rather than a six-year rate for full-time students. Of course, we all understand that many students attend part-time. Students sometimes have a medical situation or a home situation where they have to take some time off from school. We understand that and the law takes that into account. For a typical student who arrives on a university campus, enrolls full-time, and is on or near campus and living there, we expect and we will work with students to make sure that they are able to graduate in four years. As Governor Scott mentions, the amount of money that this saves the families and the students is important, but also it helps our universities as they are striving to be the best that they can be. Students and families deserve certainty as they plan for the financial commitment of a university or college education. That leads me to Senate Bill 4 by our President Designate, Senator Galvano. We hope to take that bill up on Thursday. Among other things, Senate Bill 4 will make permanent the academic scholar benefits that I just previously described.

Additionally, we will raise the medallion level of Bright Futures to 75 percent of tuition where it used to be. Senator Bradley's idea was to provide them with the same one summer to make sure that they can graduate in four years if they need to get a few extra credits. Now, sometimes I have the media and others ask me, "Why is this an issue of rankings and improving our universities and this commitment to have national elite destination universities in Florida, like the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill?" This is not about bragging rights. This isn't about being able to look at a ranking in the U.S. News and World Report or some other publication. It's beyond dispute that how our universities are perceived around the country and around the world have a direct effect on the prospects for our students. Obviously, there will be some students going to graduate school and that's fine. But for the majority of students, they are going to go into the workforce. They are going to get a job just like all of us have a job. My goal not only as a legislator, but as a parent as well, is that we want every student to march across the graduation stage and have a diploma in one hand and have a job offer in the other hand. We are seeing that more and more at our universities and colleges. I have talked to presidents, I have talked to those who are responsible for linking students with jobs and with internships, and we are seeing a significant increase in the number of companies and employers from around the country that are interviewing for our best and brightest students here in Florida.

Nowhere has our impact been more dramatic than with National Merit Scholars. Many of you remember, and I have talked about this before, Senator Benacquisto came to me back in 2013, when I was chairing the Appropriations Committee. She talked to me about the importance of trying to set some policies so that National Merit Scholars who are Floridians and are being recruited by other states with tremendous offers. Many of them were leaving Florida—not because they wanted to. I actually think it is good to export some of our best talent so that Florida is represented around the country. Some students were choosing to go to schools in other states strictly because of financial reasons, and that, I don't think, is something that we would want. This is the only part of statistics in this speech, but I am passionate about this issue. In 2013, Florida was ranked number nine in the United States among public universities for the number of National Merit Scholars. Fast forward to today. This is a good example of how legislators can make a difference, and make a difference a lot more quickly than you might think. We went from number nine in 2013. Today, we are number three—only Texas and Oklahoma are ahead of us. I believe that if we pass Senate Bill 4 and it is signed into law by the Governor, we will then be able to recruit out of state National Merit Scholars to come to Florida. That will leave Oklahoma behind because Oklahoma has all kinds of benefits to attract National Merit Scholars from many states, and a lot of Floridians are attending the University of Oklahoma. Texas, of course, is a much larger state than Florida, but I am so proud of the fact that we have gone from number nine to number three with our National Merit Scholars.

Now let's talk about freshmen coming into our universities. In 2013, we had 163 National Merit Scholars who enrolled as freshmen in our universities. In the 2018-2019 year, our estimate is we expect 401 freshmen to enroll as National Merit Scholars in our universities, so we have more than doubled it. All told, right now, our best estimate, including this coming year, is that we will have over 1,000 Benacquisto National Merit Scholars enrolled in our universities and colleges. Senator Benacquisto, thank you for a great idea, and I'm so proud that we were able to accomplish that together with everyone else here. Thank you.

I'd also like to take just a moment to thank the Board of Governors Chair, Tom Kuntz, and Chancellor Marshall Criser. They have completely bought into the efforts of the Senate to raise the standings of our public universities. They've given us great ideas. They were gracious enough to have members of the Board of Governors, at least one representative, sometimes more, at every university stop when we visited all of our universities. I want to thank both of them for working with us because, obviously, it takes all of us together, a legislature with funding and policy but also the Board of Governors and other university leaders to join us. Now, before I introduce the students who have been personally impacted by your efforts and my efforts, I want to take a moment as a sports fan. I like to say, "If there is a ball involved and they keep score, the Negrons are interested." I want to congratulate the University of Central Florida for their undefeated, 13-0 football team. They beat Auburn, as most of us were watching, I was, in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl. It was the second most-watched Peach Bowl of all time because it was a great game. Those of us who root for UCF, we had a great conclusion to the game. Congratulations to them on an undefeated season.

Now, as promised, I want to introduce you to some students who are our fellow citizens here in Florida who have benefited from the extraordinary changes that we have made in funding initiatives in higher education. Ryan Aponte is a junior at the University of North Florida who moved to Florida when he was just eight years old. Ryan's dad is a retired New York City firefighter, and his mother is a neonatal nurse practitioner. Ryan is following in her footsteps by pursuing a career in nursing. Ryan is a recipient of the Academic Scholarship and a scholarship from the Air Force that will help him with his expenses. He is expected to graduate and be a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Air Force. Welcome.

Let me go to Gabriela Parpia. Gabriela is a junior at the University of Central Florida, majoring in interdisciplinary studies with a minor in business administration. Gaby was named a National Merit Finalist and a Benacquisto Scholarship recipient in 2015, and decided to stay here in Florida and follow in her mother's footsteps as a second-generation Knight. Gabriela was selected to participate in the highly selective Burnett Medical Scholars BS/MD Award. She is the Vice President of the campus Pre-Dental Student Association and has conducted mission trips to Panama and Nicaragua with the organization. She plans to attend a professional school and be a dentist like her mother. Welcome Gabriela. We will come back to our third introduction in just a moment.

But halfway through the academic year, on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of students who were realizing their dreams of a college or university education, I want to once again, thank you for your support. I look forward to seeing Senate Bill 4 signed into law in short order so that students and families can be confident in their planning for the upcoming school year.

Number two: Stop the discharges from Lake Okeechobee. Many of you will remember the issue of blue-green algae that was caused by discharges from Lake Okeechobee, both to the east to the St. Lucie River and then out the Caloosahatchee River to southwest Florida. This was a horrific situation and had an adverse effect on many other areas of South Florida. Our Senate worked together, and as a result, we were able to pass an historic piece of legislation: Senate Bill 10. Senate Bill 10 was fully funded. It is ahead of schedule; it provides for what is an indispensable component to reduce, and ultimately eliminate, discharges, and that is increased storage south of Lake Okeechobee. The bill provides for 100 billion gallons of dynamic storage, and I am proud to report, this is not an idea; this is not something we are workshoping, having meetings. It is being fully implemented and has been embraced by Governor Scott, by the Department of Environmental Protection, and by the South Florida Water Management District. Everyone involved put this in real-time on the website; they are committed to making this a reality so that at some point, we will look back and say, "It was a period of time where we had these discharges, but we took steps, which, by the way, have been agreed upon by scientists, by elected leaders, by community leaders, by expert scientists in the field." What has been agreed to for 18 years was just always put at the end of the process. There was always a reason to keep postponing it: 2016, 2018, 2021. If you postpone something long enough, you can keep it from happening. And so as a result of what the Senate did, and what the Governor signed into law, we are moving forward with additional storage north of the lake, which we need. We need septic to sewer conversions. There are lots of components to this. We tackled the most difficult issue, which is southern storage, and I'm so pleased that the Water Management District, DEP, and the Governor are so committed to making sure that it's implemented in a very timely manner. I want to thank a few people who made that happen: Senator Bradley, the sponsor, who worked the bill and got the bill passed through the Senate; Senator Latvala, who shepherded the bill through the appropriations process; Senator Book, who is the Chair of our Environmental Appropriations Committee and made significant contributions to Senate Bill 10; and, finally, I would like to thank Senator Stewart for her contributions to the bill as well. She is the Vice Chair of the Environmental Preservation Committee. I want to thank everyone who has worked so hard on behalf of the millions of citizens who are directly affected, but all of us, as a state, are affected if we have pollution occurring in any part of Florida.

Number three: Let's not criminalize adolescence. The Senate passed legislation, as you know, to increase the use of civil citations. Senator Brandes, Senator Bracy, Senator Powell, and others are working with our colleagues in the House this session to find common ground on some efforts to increase our efforts and making sure, again, taking off of the table serious wrongdoing and criminality violence by young people—we cannot and will not tolerate that. On the other hand, we all know when there are mistakes in judgment that are made and we don't want young people to have a permanent record or to seriously and adversely affect their future because of a mistake they made when they were a teenager.

Number four: I said, "Let's embrace the Constitution." I want to briefly mention three areas where I think we made tremendous progress in that effort. Number one: Senator Baxley had a bill we passed, it's now law, protecting religious freedom in our public schools. Senator Baxley's legislation, now law, specifies that a school district may not discriminate against a student, parent, or school personnel on the basis of a religious viewpoint or religious expression. Freedom of religion is a central right protected by our Constitution. The government should not impose a religion, and I don't support that. Our Constitution is very clear about that. All too often, we see the other extreme where we are taking away people's right to free speech and their right to practice their faith, or to practice no faith, in a way that they believe is appropriate. Students of any faith or no faith have a right to free speech. I am proud that the Senate took the steps necessary to protect this important constitutional right of public school students, parents, teachers, and school administrators. Thank you, Senator Baxley.

Senator Baxley also sponsored and helped pass a bill on eyewitness identification. This bill didn't get a lot of attention. It was passed without great fanfare, but it's an issue that I think is very important to all of us who are committed to accountability and committed to the rule of law. We know from research, and I was a member of the Innocence Commission, appointed by President Haridopolos. We had many members from the judiciary and law enforcement determine what we could do on the issue of wrongful convictions. Because wrongful convictions are a tragedy, not just for the person who is wrongfully convicted. It's also a tragedy for the victim because the person who is actually responsible has not been held accountable. We learned from research that there are two primary reasons why we have wrongful identifications; they're never done intentionally. One is because you put so much pressure on a person, and all of us could imagine if you were in this situation, where they're brought into the sheriff's department, shown a lineup to try to determine who may have committed the crime. The research shows that creates so much pressure on an individual that they feel obligated to pick someone because otherwise they're concerned that the investigation is not going to proceed. Sometimes, inadvertently, they select the wrong person. That's the first part of the bill. It simply says we are going to give a cautionary instruction to any person who is picking someone from a photo lineup, or from an actual lineup, that says, "Number one, this investigation will continue after this procedure regardless of what happens today, and secondly, the person who is a perpetrator may or may not be in this particular lineup." We know from research that this dramatically decreases the number of misidentifications. Secondly, we provide that the officer who is directly on the case and who knows who the suspect is, that we have another officer to conduct the lineup so that there isn't any inadvertent cue because the officer has knowledge that the other person doesn't have. I believe the passage of this law will, over time, prevent dozens and dozens of wrongful convictions and also make sure that people who have committed crimes are held accountable.

The third bill that I think also carries forward, and needs our obligation to protect the Constitution, was Senator Bradley's stand-your-ground defense. It clearly puts the burden of proof on the state to prove the guilt of any individual. I have said before that if the State of Florida wants to put a citizen in prison, the State of Florida should have the burden of proof at each and every stage of the proceeding to prove that a person is guilty. When it comes to the trial, they prove them guilty beyond and to the exclusion of every reasonable doubt.

Those are three very important bills that I believe met our goal to follow the Constitution. When I look back at last session, I see promises made and promises kept. In higher education, when I was thinking about this and talking to many of you about this as we were preparing for last session, the progress that we have made in higher education, in building reputations of our universities, and in providing benefits for students so that they're not struggling with financial insecurity, is way beyond the expectations that even I had, and how quickly we've been able to make a difference. I want to thank all of you for your efforts in making that happen.

Before I conclude on higher education, let me go back and complete the introductions. We introduced you to Gabriela. I now want to introduce you to Ryan Aponte. Ryan, will you stand? I made one mistake I want to correct. Ryan is a junior at the University of North Florida, as I said, who moved here when he was eight years old. His dad is a retired New York City firefighter. He is following in his mother's footsteps. You notice two out of three of our students—you don't think mothers are important—two out of three of our students are following their mothers' careers. He is pursuing a career in nursing, and he is a recipient of the Academic Scholar Award. He tells us—we had a chance to visit before we came to the floor today—that the Bright Futures Scholarship that he's received has made it possible for him to graduate without taking on any student loan debt. So, welcome Ryan, and congratulations on your career!

Jack Northrup is in his second year at the University of West Florida. He earned a Medallion Scholar Award and a National Air Force High School Scholarship. Jack is majoring in supply chain logistics. With the alignment of his academic program for Air Force ROTC and his major in the College of Business, Jack will graduate in four years, having earned his Bachelor's Degree and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Air Force. Welcome Jack, and thank you for your service to the United States and to Florida!

Another promise we made to our constituents was the return of some of their hard-earned dollars. In recent years, as you know, we passed back-to-school sales tax holidays; we have reduced the corporate income tax; we permanently lowered sales tax with the business rent tax charged on commercial leases; we permanently eliminated the sales tax on machinery and manufacturing equipment; we permanently decreased the communications services tax on Floridians' phones and television services; we also provided a reduction in vehicle registration fees for every Floridian who registers a car or truck; and we eliminated the sales tax charged to returning service members and their families who have purchased a vehicle overseas. Last year, we sponsored and passed legislation by Senator Lee that gives voters the opportunity to increase the homestead property tax exemption by $25,000. This year, Senator Stargel will sponsor legislation that gives the people of Florida the opportunity to require a super majority of the Legislature to approve any future tax increase. The Senate record on tax relief is broad-based and bipartisan. It reflects the ideas and suggestions of Senators from every corner of Florida. I look forward to continuing that effort this session.

I want to talk a moment about Amendment 1. Amendment 1 was passed by over 70 percent of the vote, that exceeds the percentage of votes that many of us were elected by, myself included. This is an issue I think we must continue to work to keep our promise to the voters to fully implement Amendment 1—not only the spirit of Amendment 1, but also the intent of Amendment 1, and the actual language of Amendment 1. It is our responsibility to faithfully implement that amendment.

Among other issues that we will look at in that regard is legislation by Senator Bradley, who has legislation for $100 million for Florida Forever; I believe Senator Hukill will have a bill that will create a permanent funding source for beach renourishment. I want to talk about an issue that Senator Gibson and I both care deeply about, and I don't know anyone in the chamber that is more committed to our military; we have members of the military obviously all throughout Florida, and we appreciate and respect each and every one of them. I have to say as someone who has traveled Florida, northwest Florida—and I would put in this category and several other areas—but Jacksonville, they appreciate the military in Jacksonville. And it is such an important part of that community. We have a strong bipartisan record of support for our active duty members of the military, including veterans and their families. We passed the Florida G.I. Bill, which waives out-of-state tuition for honorably discharged veterans. We've also dedicated funds to armory revitalization and to base buffering efforts that protect Florida's military bases from encroachment. Again, this year, we have many opportunities to honor the service and sacrifice of our active duty military and veteran families who call Florida home. Senator Gibson has done a tremendous job in leading this effort as Chair of our Military Committee, and I want to personally thank you.

Senator Gainer and Senator Broxson are working on legislation authorizing Florida colleges to waive certain fees for active duty members of the armed forces. Senator Young is sponsoring legislation to provide statewide, dedicated behavioral health care referral services to veterans and their families through Florida's existing 211 network. Senator Steube has a bill to eliminate the fee a veteran must pay to have the word "Veteran" displayed on an identification card for driver's licenses. Senator Baxley is working to create a veteran identification card to be used by veterans as proof of their veteran status. This identification card can be used to obtain discounts or fee waivers, and it would be available to veterans who have been honorably discharged. I am hopeful that these good bills, and other bills under consideration, will help solidity Florida's reputation as the most veteran-friendly state in the nation.

I want to talk about a couple of proposals from Governor Scott that I look forward to working on with him this session. I hope all of you will give close attention to the requests the Governor has made for additional pay raises for state law enforcement. The Senate has been on the forefront of this issue, as you know, and we have always focused our efforts as a strategic approach to look at where we have unfilled vacancies, where we have high turnover, and where we have high demand. I look forward to consideration of that proposal. As I mentioned earlier, I am committed, and I have talked with many of you and know that we are all committed, to supporting our fellow citizens from Puerto Rico who have come to Florida and intend to make Florida their home. I look forward to working with the Governor on many of the proposals that he has put forward, but I wanted to highlight those two.

The Speaker of the House, Speaker Corcoran, has some priorities that I think will be well received by the Florida Senate and they're priorities that I support and have supported. I think we will see initiatives come from the House that continue to move our state in a direction of school choice. I firmly believe that parents should make decisions of what is best for their students. Some students want to attend, and their families would like them to attend, a traditional public school, or would like to attend a charter school, and some would like to attend an independent or religious school. Some parents choose to homeschool their children. I don't love my children enough to homeschool them, but I respect the decision of families to homeschool. I know families that have one student who is homeschooled, one student who attends a charter school, and one who goes to a traditional public school. Every student is different, and parents are in the best position to make those decisions. I had the privilege, because of Speaker Feeney, in 2001 as a House member, to do the very first bill that we had done in Florida in many years to establish corporate tax scholarships. I think it was a little over $50 million at the time. It was something very new that had not been done around the country; that program has grown. I have talked to many of you who support the program and who see students in their district whose lives have been uplifted by the program. So, this is nothing new to me, nothing new to the Senate. I support school choice, and I look forward to consideration of school choice proposals that will come from the House.

On direct primary care, President Gaetz used to say, "Nothing happens in medicine until a patient sees a doctor." I have great respect for the doctor-patient relationship. I think Senator Lee has the bill in the Senate. I expect we will get a bill from the House on direct primary care that eliminates some of the regulation barriers and other obstacles that right now create problems when doctors want to enter into direct relationships with their patients without the intervention of third parties. I think that all of us want to support our positions and we want to do everything we can to make sure that people who have actually gone to medical school, completed medical school, completed residencies, and have a license, practice medicine. Let's make sure they are the ones making the decisions on your health care, my health care, and our families' health care, and not people who are paying for that procedure. They have an important role to play. It is not the practice of medicine. It is the payment of claims. We should have the practice of medicine done by women and men with the credentials to do that. At the forefront and at the helm of that leadership are the medical doctors around our state. Thank you, doctor, for being here. A family doctor is someone who sees patients every single day and knows the look in a parent's eyes when an 11-year-old child has a fever and doesn't know whether it is spinal meningitis or just a cold. You know that and it is important that we value that relationship of doctors and patients.

I want to mention one other idea that was brought to me by several Senators, organically, over the past several months. It is an issue that we are all committed to and we have all worked on. We have all voted in favor of legislation, but it deserves another look. That is the reality that many of our smart, talented, gifted high school students are going to choose to receive specialized training whether at a state college or through some other mechanism that will lead them to industry certifications and specializations to go directly into the workforce without formally attending a university—sometimes without even formally attending a state college. We value and honor those students. Intelligence comes in all different forms. I remember when I was in first grade and I got a report card that came home to my parents. It said, "Joe talks too much in class and has difficulty stringing beads." Now, we have a term for students who can't string beads in the first grade. It is called "not smart," "not having spatial skills," "not likely to become an orthopedic surgeon," and "not likely to be able to deal with the complexities of an automobile, or to do things in the construction industry." I may have been better at some other things, but that is a gift, it is a talent, it is an intelligence. We respect those students and their accomplishments, even though sometimes we only talk about students and SAT scores and these different things. There are so many gifted, intelligent students who have gotten these industry certifications that are brilliant at what they do. They can create. I know Senator Gainer, Senator Stargel, Senator Baxley, and several others of you have talked to me about this, and so I hope this session that we will explore ways to promote and enhance these programs in our high schools. Of course, we want to give President Gaetz credit and all of us who worked on expanding industry certification, of which we now have tens of thousands of students who are taking advantage. But let us see what we can even do better so that we make sure that all students have opportunities and regardless of what you decide to do—to go straight to work, go in the military, or go to a college or university—eventually you are going to have to have some responsibilities with regards to money management. Senator Hukill, this is going to be the year, hopefully, for financial literacy. I know it will be in the Senate. That is an important issue with student loans and everything that hits students and hits people that go into the workforce—to make sure that they have a basic understanding of finances. I am looking forward to that bill moving forward.

As you can see, there are a number of great proposals from the House. There are proposals from the Senate, from both political parties. We have ideas and recommendations from the Governor. One thing I know is that it doesn't matter at all to the Floridians we represent where these ideas originate. They are worried about taking care of their families, getting their students to ballet practice, to little league practice, and, in the Negro family, to meetings at church that occur on Wednesday night. Whatever it is that you are doing, families are busy trying to survive and prosper. They don't care about this home and away football game mentality that some have. I am happy to do school choice; I am happy to help our medical profession; and I am happy to protect consumers, protect patients, improve our universities and our colleges; and improve our K-12 system. We want ideas from everyone. I want to conclude with a quote by Ronald Reagan: "There is no limit to the amount of good you can do if you don't care who gets the credit." I look forward to working with each of you during the 2018 Session as we continue to represent the citizens of Florida in this place. Thank you all very much. Thank you.

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR RICK SCOTT

Good morning. I am honored to deliver my final state of the state today. I would first like to recognize: Speaker of the House Richard Corcoran. Speaker, I appreciate your commitment to cutting taxes and for fighting to make sure every Florida student can get a great education. Senate President Joe Negron. President, your focus on Lake Okeechobee and Florida's environment will benefit countless Floridians and visitors for generations.

Lieutenant Governor Carlos Lopez-Cantera. Thank you for all you do for our great state and for joining me in the fight for freedom and democracy in Cuba and Venezuela. Attorney General Pam Bondi. You have been a true advocate for crime victims and have been a leading voice in our fight against the opioid epidemic. There's no doubt that your efforts have saved lives. Chief Financial Officer Jimmy Patronis. I was proud to appoint you as CFO and in a very short time, you have done so much to help Florida families. Thank you for all you are doing to support our brave firefighters. Commissioner of Agriculture Adam Putnam. Thank you for always fighting for Florida's critical agriculture community and for all you have done to help Florida's citrus industry after Hurricane Irma. Chief Justice Labarga and members of the Florida Supreme Court. Thank you for your service to our state.

I would like to thank my wife, Ann. There isn't a day that goes by that I am not thankful for your unwavering support. As First Lady, you have done so much to help Florida families. From visiting schools, to promoting literacy and helping find forever homes for kids in foster care, I am so proud of all you have done. You took a chance on me 45 years ago, a skinny kid without a penny in his pocket, who talked too fast, with only a dream. You have believed in me every day since then, including the day I told you I wanted to run for Governor. When no one else thought I had a shot, you stood by me. I love you. I would like to also recognize my son-in-law Pierre and my oldest grandson, Auguste. Auguste wants to either be a paratrooper like his great-grandfather or a police officer when he grows up.

I know how disappointed you all must be that you won't get to hear me give another great speech like this, try to hold back the tears. Putting jokes aside, I stand here today, at the beginning of my last year as Governor, thankful for the opportunity that we have all had to help our beloved State of Florida. I am thankful that in 2010, with the amazing support of my family, the people of Florida gave me the chance to turn our state around. This has been the most rewarding job.

There were the naysayers who told us there was no way that a businessman with no experience in politics or government could possibly be successful at helping to turn Florida's economy around. Fortunately for all of us, the naysayers were wrong.

When I was in business, I would see politicians come and go and always make promises that they would be business-friendly, cut taxes and reduce regulations. And usually, it was all just talk. Nothing much ever happened. I have done business in almost every state, and when I brought an issue about permits or licensing to government leaders, they would often just repeat their same promises and reassure me that they would get back with me. Of course, they rarely ever did.

In 2010, when I ran for Governor, I promised to change the status quo and create an environment where businesses can succeed and create jobs for Florida families. And the results speak for themselves: Working together, we've created an environment where our private sector has added nearly 1.5 million jobs; our GDP has grown 26 percent; home values have skyrocketed; we've decreased state debt by $9 billion; and our unemployment rate has dropped from over 10 percent when I took office to a more than 10-year low of 3.6 percent—even lower than the national rate.

Those are some great statistics, but this is not about statistics. It's about real people. Like many people, I grew up in poverty and I can tell you firsthand having a job is not something we should ever take for granted. Florida has experienced this incredible economic revival because we have worked hard to cut taxes over 80 times, which has saved Florida families more than $7.5 billion. Working together, we have taken billions of dollars out of the government's hands and given it back to Floridians.

Like many of you here, this is my last year in this position. This is my last session to cut taxes. And, we must acknowledge that, unfortunately, at some point, there will be politicians sitting in this chamber who are not as fiscally responsible as we are today.

I am sure there will be people who hold our jobs down the road who will want to increase taxes, otherwise known as taking more money from hard working Floridians. Decades ago, Florida voters approved an amendment to the constitution that prohibited a state income tax. The skeptics warned that bad things would happen—the skeptics were wrong.

I want 2018 to be the year that Florida voters pass a constitutional amendment that makes it harder for politicians to raise taxes. My proposal would require 2/3 of the legislature to vote on a tax increase for it to become law. Some have asked if this proposal would be in effect during a financial emergency or another national recession, and my answer is clear—ABSOLUTELY.

It is during times of economic downturn where this proposal is needed the most. It will force leaders to contemplate living within their means rather than taking the easy way out and just sticking it to the public by raising taxes on families and job creators.

I ask all of you to join me in this fight and ensure we do all we can to not let future politicians undo the hard work we have done to grow Florida's economy and create jobs. We need to secure a strong economy for our children and grandchildren.

I also have put forward a tax cut package this year that will truly benefit every single Floridian. Before I took office, everyone who had a driver's license faced a massive fee increase. This year, I want to reduce those fees back to pre-2009 levels by cutting the fee for the renewal of a regular drivers license by more than 58 percent from $48 to $20; I want to cut the fee on an original regular driver's license by more than 43 percent from $48 to $27; and I want to cut the fee on an original Commercial Driver's License by more than 10 percent. My dad was a truck driver and if he had extra money back in his pocket, that would have been a big deal.

My tax cut proposal also includes sales tax holidays to help families prepare for the school year and hurricane season. After the storms we experienced last year, we need to have a longer sales tax holiday so people have time to buy the supplies they need like generators, batteries and flashlights. My proposal extends the current one-week sales tax holiday to three weeks over a three-month period to ensure people have ample time to get the goods they need before the start of hurricane season. I don't think anyone in this room could have predicted the mammoth storm Hurricane Irma would become. There wasn't a portion of our state that was safe from Irma. We saw it shift, turn, and literally cover our entire state. It was like a scene from a movie.

But, Floridians came together and faced Hurricane Irma head on. As I traveled around the state, I heard story after story of families helping one another and communities standing together. The response and solidarity that was shown by our state was one of the proudest moments that I have had as Governor. And when I was urging people to get prepared for the storm and to evacuate, so many of you were there to help raise awareness in your communities. Thank you.

And after the storm, we showed up. From handing out water, to working at food banks, so many Floridians and many of you in this room helped your neighbors in need. And I believe Florida has come back even stronger.

Florida demonstrated to the entire world how to prepare and respond to a natural disaster, and two heroes who helped Florida prepare and respond to Hurricane Irma are with us today. I would like to introduce you to Lauren and Michael Davis from Jacksonville. Lauren and Michael both serve in the Florida National Guard and were deployed along with thousands of our brave National Guard members during the storm. However, their deployment was at a very inconvenient time for the young couple. Their wedding was set in Jacksonville Beach the same week as the hurricane was impacting Florida.

So, instead of postponing getting married, Lauren and Michael decided to exchange vows in full uniform in front of their fellow guardsmen at the Orange County Convention Center as they prepared for post-storm response. Lauren and Michael chose to put "service before self," a trait we should all strive to have. Lauren and Michael, thank you for your sacrifice to protect your fellow Floridians. And please be sure to give all these legislators the details on your wedding registry.

Just when we thought we got through Irma, Maria was quickly approaching Puerto Rico. While we are so blessed Florida was spared, sadly our fellow Americans in Puerto Rico were devastated. Like many of you in this room, I have been focused on helping Puerto Rico recover and rebuild. I have visited Puerto Rico twice following the storm. I saw firsthand the devastation on the island and I have tried to help the people of Puerto Rico any way I could. We have had hundreds of thousands of Puerto Ricans come to Florida since Maria and my goal is that Florida be the most welcoming place for people displaced by the storm. We have set up centers to help Puerto Ricans get connected to services and resources, made it easier for students to get enrolled in our schools and removed barriers for professional licenses so people can quickly get to work in our state.

But, there is still more we can do together to help Puerto Ricans displaced by the storm. This year, I am proposing $12 million in funding to establish the English Language Learners Academy. This program will focus on reading improvements and making sure students displaced by Hurricane Maria have access to important learning programs. And, I ask that you join me in supporting this important program this year.

As we saw throughout this entire hurricane season, our first responders came to the rescue of so many. Not only did our first responders and National Guard do an outstanding job during Hurricanes

Irma and Nate here in Florida, but they came to the rescue of our friends outside of Florida. Following Maria, 50 Florida Highway Patrol members deployed to Puerto Rico to help with security and traffic control in San Juan. And following Hurricane Harvey in Texas, more than two dozen Florida Fish and Wildlife officers helped rescue more than 500 people trapped in flooded areas. While they are not here with us today, please join me in a round of applause to thank these brave men and women.

Our law enforcement have done an incredible job protecting Florida families and I hope each of you will support my proposed pay raise of $30 million for all state sworn officers this year. I am also proud to support a measure that is going through the Constitutional Revision Commission to give free tuition to the families of fallen first responders, state law enforcement officers, and military members who have lost their lives in the line of duty.

Since I have taken office, 41 officers have tragically been killed in the line of duty. These brave men and women died as heroes and it is important that the state does everything possible to take care of the families who lost a loved one who was working to protect our communities. When you think about it, it's the least we can do. The last thing our military men and women and first responders need to be thinking about when they go to work every day is, "Will my family be taken care of if I am gone?"

Two of those heroes that died in the line of duty last year are Sergeant Sam Howard and Officer Matthew Baxter. They were senselessly shot while on patrol in Kissimmee. Sergeant Howard's wife and daughter, Billie Jo and Unique, are here today. Officer Baxter's wife, Sadia, is also here and was recently sworn in as a special agent for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. Billie Jo, Unique, and Sadia, we will continue to do all we can to honor Sam and Matthew.

Another incredible hero who was tragically killed in the line of duty is Lieutenant Deborah Clayton. She was executed in cold blood and I have fought hard to ensure that her accused killer is prosecuted to the absolute fullest extent of the law. I will stop at nothing to fully support the families of fallen police officers like Deborah Clayton. That is why I removed cases from a prosecutor last year who refused to seek justice for fallen law enforcement officers.

I want to be very clear—in Florida we have zero tolerance for anyone who attacks our law enforcement officers and I will fight to make sure justice is swift and these killers are prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

That doesn't stop with law enforcement. We have to take care of all crime victims in our state. No one in Florida who has been a victim of crime should feel ashamed. Victims of crime or harassment deserve to have their voices heard. Last year, I was stunned to learn that state employees who reported incidents of sexual harassment did not have their identities protected in many circumstances. If you were a state employee who was the victim of sexual harassment and you filed a complaint with your agency, your name and other identifying information was not always confidential. I have daughters and learning that there was not a public records exemption for this really bothered me, so I vowed to change the law. With the help of all of you in this room, we passed a law to protect state employees who were victims of sexual harassment. Working together, we took a step forward to protect those in state government who were victimized. But, it is clear that more must be done.

Last month, I signed an executive order that outlines the process for sexual harassment training, reporting, investigating, and recovery for victims at all of my agencies. I urge both chambers and all of the cabinet agencies to follow our lead and do the same. I also want to take a step further and encourage the Legislature to pass a bill that protects state employees who witness their colleagues being harassed or victimized. I want to ensure the identities of these brave individuals are protected so they feel encouraged to participate in investigations.

Unfortunately, we have seen this play out all over the country, including Tallahassee. Things have got to change, and it starts right here in this building. The people of Florida deserve better than what they are reading about in the news. We all must join together and send a very strong message: Florida stands with victims.

I now want to turn to another serious topic that I believe, by working together, we must combat in our state. Like so many families, I have had to watch a loved one struggle with drug abuse. It is hard and so painful. When I first took office, I worked with General Bondi and many of you in this chamber to crack down on pill mills. We fought hard to get pills off our streets, but as we have seen with the national opioid epidemic, our fight against drugs is not over.

I would like to introduce you to Sarah Sheppard. Sarah is a Parent Partner at Healthy Start, a non-profit organization in Daytona Beach, that is one of our many state partners in the fight against the opioid epidemic. After overcoming her own addiction seven years ago, Sarah now dedicates her time to helping parents during the challenging recovery process so that they can be reunited with their children. Overcoming addiction requires incredible strength and bravery and we must make sure that resources are available to help people get the treatment they need.

This year, I have proposed to invest $53 million to fight opioid abuse in Florida. I have also proposed legislation to prevent drug addiction on the front end, reduce the ability for dangerous drugs to spread in Florida's communities, give vulnerable Floridians the support they need, and ensure law enforcement officers have resources to protect those impacted by opioids. I ask that all of you support these measures this session so we can help Sarah in this important work she and so many others do in our state each day. Thank you, Sarah.

I know I talk about jobs numbers a lot, to the point where the reporters all roll their eyes, but there are some other statistics that are pretty impressive and show great strides in our state.

Since 2011, 20,000 children in foster care have been adopted. Think about that, 20,000 more kids are in a home with a loving family in just the last seven years. One of those thousands of families is with us today.

I would like to recognize recent new mom, Erica Ford, from Tallahassee. Erica is a Child Protective Investigator with the Department of Children and Families, who has also worked to help children in need by serving as a foster parent. In 2015, Erica was asked to foster a baby boy named Adam. She quickly fell in love with him and when his younger brother, Avery, was born the next year, she also began caring for him. Erica wanted to do all she could to give them both a better life, and she made the decision to permanently open her heart and home to these children by officially adopting the two young brothers as a proud single mother. Erica, thank you for changing the lives of these precious children. Your profound actions will no doubt inspire more Floridians to adopt.

I am also proud that since 2013, I have awarded nearly 13,000 Florida veterans with the Governor's Veterans Service Award. And one of these recipients is here today. Let's welcome Paul Huszar. Paul is the owner of VetCor, a restoration company in Tampa. He is also a veteran and served more than 20 years in the military. As a small business owner, Paul has seen the result of our efforts to cut taxes first hand.

He has been able to invest in his company and create more than 20 new jobs in just five years. Paul's business is also one of the many job creators that have worked to hire Florida veterans through the Veterans Florida Employment and Training Services program. I am proud that we've worked together to make it easier for businesses like Paul's to create jobs so more Florida veterans can support their families. Thank you, Paul.

Before I close, we must also recognize the larger role Florida plays globally. Over the past few years, we've seen the conditions deteriorate drastically in Venezuela. As I have travelled the state, I have heard from Floridians who are worried about the situation the Maduro Regime has created in Venezuela. Make no mistake—Maduro and his gang of thugs pose a problem for the entire world, especially for us here in Florida. Florida is home to a vibrant Venezuelan population and many of our friends and neighbors still have family there.

There is no free speech, people like Leopoldo Lopez are imprisoned or put under house arrest for fighting for democracy and there is limited access to food and medicine. The people of Venezuela deserve better. They deserve freedom and democracy. To do our part, I proposed to ban state investments going to benefit the Maduro Regime. And, last year, the entire Florida Cabinet supported this effort. Thank you. Now, I am fighting for legislation that takes this important step further by blocking state agencies from doing the same. I ask all of you to join us in this fight and pass this important legislation.

I would like to introduce you to Sebastian Ghiragossian and Mariana Cortez from Miami who desperately want to see change in Venezuela. In 2011, Sebastian escaped the crisis in Venezuela by moving to Miami, where he met his wife Mariana. Together, they opened Bunnie Cakes, a vegan bakery that employs more than 20 Floridians. Sebastian is one of the many people who had to flee their home in Venezuela for freedom and opportunity. While we are proud to have him here in Florida, we must continue to stand with the people of Venezuela against the Maduro dictatorship. Sebastian and Mariana, I am going to fight to make sure Florida does everything possible to bring freedom and democracy to Venezuela.

I have spent every day since taking office fighting to grow our economy and ensure we have the most prosperous state for generations to come. I am proud of the work we have accomplished together to secure Florida's future by creating an environment where Floridians of all ages have the tools they need to succeed in our state. But, our work is not done.

We must secure our future by investing record funding in our environment, our education system and our transportation infrastructure. We must secure our future by helping those with disabilities have access to great jobs. We must secure our future by ensuring we remain the most military and veteran-friendly state in the nation. And, we must secure our future by making sure Florida remains the global destination for jobs.

We have a finite amount of time left in these positions. Let's all fight together until our last minute in office to secure Florida's future for every family. Thank you, God bless you and God bless the great State of Florida.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR AND OTHER EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

VETOED BILLS 2017 REGULAR SESSION

Secretary Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State
Florida Department of State
500 South Bronough Street
Tallahassee, FL 32399

May 24, 2017

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objections to Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 106, enacted during the 119th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2017 and entitled:

An act relating to vendors licensed under the beverage law...

The bill makes several changes to the alcohol and beverage laws, primarily allowing grocery stores, retailers, and certain gas stations to sell spirits in the same space as other products. Currently, spirits must be sold in a location with a separate entrance.

Since becoming Governor in 2011, I have repealed almost 5,000 regulations to reduce unnecessary burdens on Floridians. From the day I took office, I have been committed to eliminating regulations that impose duplicative and unnecessary requirements on Florida's citizens and businesses. I carefully reviewed this bill and I have met with stakeholders on both sides. I listened closely to what they had to say and I understand that both positions have merit. Nevertheless, I have heard concerns as to how this bill could affect many small businesses across Florida. I was a small business owner and many locally owned businesses have told me how this bill will impact their families and their ability to create jobs.

For the reasons stated above, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 106 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Rick Scott
Governor

The bill, together with the Governor's objections thereto, was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Secretary Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State

Tallahassee, FL 32399

June 14, 2017

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objections to Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 374, enacted during the 119th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2017 and entitled:

An act relating to postsecondary education...

State and community colleges have played a tremendous role in my life and the lives of countless Florida families, providing them with an opportunity to succeed. When I was growing up, my family struggled to make ends meet. Before my service in the Navy, I was able to attend community college while my wife, Ann, worked to support us. After I returned from serving in the Navy, Ann was also able to continue her education at our local community college.

Each year, hundreds of thousands of students attend one of Florida's 28 state colleges, which are consistently rated amongst the best in the country for providing affordable access to higher education. For the last four years, we have held the line on tuition, keeping higher education affordable for all Florida families. Additionally, our State College System, as it currently functions, provides the flexibility and adaptability to respond to our communities' unique education and workforce needs. This legislation impedes the State College System's mission by capping the enrollment level of baccalaureate degrees and unnecessarily increasing red tape. This interference impedes the ability of state colleges to meet the needs of the communities and families they serve. In addition to this legislation, the total budget of the State College System was cut by $24.7 million during the 2017 Regular Session.

While the bill makes positive changes to several State University System programs, and there are many provisions I think would be good for students, it does so at the expense of the Florida College System. In fact, the expansion of Bright Futures Scholarships outlined in this Legislation will still occur in Fiscal Year 2017-2018. Because this important expansion currently exists in the budget and proviso language in SB 2500, Florida's students will still benefit from this critical program. I urge the Legislature to pass legislation that revisits these issues and expands Bright Future Scholarships permanently while recognizing the importance of both our state colleges and universities in the 2018 Legislative Session.

For the reasons stated above, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 374, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Rick Scott
Governor

The bill, together with the Governor's objections thereto, was referred to the Committee on Rules.

Secretary Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State
Florida Department of State
500 South Bronough Street
Tallahassee, FL 32399

June 2, 2017

Dear Secretary Detzner:

As Governor, I have the privilege of traveling our great state and hearing firsthand from Florida families on what matters most to them. Nearly every family I meet has the same three priorities: getting a great job, making sure their children receive a top-notch education in great schools and keeping their family safe. Each year I have the opportunity to work with the Florida Legislature to deliver on these priorities and this year I'm proud of the great progress we've made for the families in our state.

Last week, I was proud to sign into law a comprehensive tax cut package that continues to lessen the burden of taxes on Florida's families and businesses by cutting more than $180 million and encouraging job growth for future generations of Floridians.

While I am vetoing the lines associated with the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP), I am also vetoing General Revenue funds which I believe should be allocated to our students in public schools. This action can be accomplished without changing the Required Local Effort (RLE), previously authorized and agreed upon by the Florida Legislature in the budget.

Today, I have announced a special session for June 7-9, 2017 where I am calling on the Legislature to fund our schools at a higher rate. It is my goal that an additional $215 million more is allocated to the FEFP which is a $100 per student increase over current year funding. Our students are the future of our great state and I know President Negron and Speaker Corcoran are committed to our students, parents, and teachers, and ensuring Florida offers a world-class education at all levels.

Earlier today, I announced that I intend to veto HB 5501 relating to Enterprise Florida and VISIT FLORIDA. I believe very strongly in both of these programs and their ability to bring more jobs to Florida. Florida's tourism industry supports 1.4 million jobs and $50.7 billion in related income for Florida's families, and generates $24.3 billion in tax revenue to support important public programs. According to the Legislature's Office of Economic and Demographic Research, for every dollar invested in VISIT FLORIDA, Florida taxpayers see a return of $3.20. I was deeply concerned that VISIT FLORIDA's budget was cut by over 60 percent and there was no funding from the legislature for economic incentive tools. During the special session, I am calling on the Florida Legislature to consider new legislation that funds Visit Florida at $76 million, which is the funding level I recommended for tourism marketing earlier this year. Additionally, I am proposing to establish the Florida Job Growth Grant Fund at $85 million to promote public infrastructure and individual job training which will encourage more businesses to choose Florida as a destination to grow jobs. Like the Legislature, I strongly believe in transparency and accountability for any taxpayer dollars used and I believe with this new program, we can compete with other states and nations for new jobs. While I was in business, I learned that when there are differences, you figure out a solution to fix it. I believe the new Florida Job Growth Grant Fund will be a great tool we can use to grow our economy.

We have made great strides to protect our environment, and I am proud that we have invested more than $3.6 billion to protect Florida's agricultural and natural resources. I applaud the Florida legislature for their incredible efforts this year to find solutions to protecting our lands and waterways. President Negron championed SB 10, a piece of transformational legislation regarding Lake Okeechobee. I was proud to stand with him just a few weeks ago in Palm Beach County to sign this historic bill which provides $64 million for the planning and construction of the C-51 Reservoir and a reservoir south of Lake Okeechobee. This legislation is a game changer for our state.

Over the past year, our state was tested like never before and I have seen that Floridians are fighters. We successfully battled the Zika virus in South Florida, experienced the horrific terror attack at Pulse Nightclub in Orlando and fought to recover from the first two hurricanes we've experienced in more than a decade. I'm proud that together with the Florida Legislature, we are making critical investments to keep Florida headed in the right direction to ensure our families stay safe and healthy.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides nearly $1 million for an additional 15 epidemiologists in Florida's County Health Departments. State epidemiologists serve as one of the first lines of defense in protecting Floridians from emerging threats related to disease outbreaks like Zika.

We are also making important investments in strengthening law enforcement around our state to keep Florida families safe. Along with a robust investment of $5.8 million and 46 positions for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) to strengthen counterterrorism operations, I intend to sign SB 7022 which provides much deserved pay raises to our state law enforcement and correctional officers. These brave men and women put their lives on the line every day to keep Florida's communities safe and I am proud to reward them for their life saving work.

Since December of 2010, we have fought hard every day to make Florida the best place to get a great job, receive a world-class education and raise a family. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget builds on our years of success and I look forward to seeing the significant impact these important investments have on families across our great state.

Fighting for Florida's Future Budget Highlights

Fighting to Cut Taxes for Florida's Future—$180 Million in Tax Cuts

Governor Scott is committed to reducing the burden of taxes on Florida families and ensuring taxes are cut for Florida's future generations. The Governor signed House Bill 7109 which cuts taxes by more than $180 million. Florida's per capita state tax burden is the second lowest among all states at $1,806, and Governor Scott is committed to continuing to cut every possible tax to help Florida's future generations.

These tax cuts will encourage both large and small businesses to create more jobs and build opportunities for generations of Floridians.

Governor Scott's signing of House Bill 7109 cuts taxes by $180 million and includes:

- Decreasing the Tax on Business Rents by $61 Million—Florida is the only state that has a tax on commercial leases which unfairly targets small businesses. This legislation reduces the tax on commercial leases by 0.2 percent in 2018, saving Florida businesses $61 million a year.
- Sales Tax Holidays to Save Families $37.9 Million—The tax cut package includes two sales tax holidays, which will save Florida families an estimated $37.9 million in the upcoming fiscal year. These sales tax holiday savings include:
 - o $33.4 million from a 3-day back-to-school sales tax holiday (August 4-6, 2017).
 - o $4.5 million from a 3-day disaster preparedness sales tax holiday (June 2-4, 2017). For more information visit www.floridarevenue.com.
- Exemption for Feminine Hygiene Products: $11.2 Million—HB 7109 creates a sales tax exemption on the purchase of feminine hygiene products.
- Cutting Taxes for Low-Income Floridians and Florida Seniors: $32.7 Million.
 - o $6.9 million by expanding the property tax exemption for Assisted Living Facilities beginning in 2017.
 - o $25.8 million by providing a 50 percent discount in property taxes to certain multifamily, low-income housing projects.
- Cutting Agricultural Sales Tax for Florida Farmers: $2.6 Million—Governor Scott is cutting $2.6 million in sales tax for Florida farmers by signing into law an exemption for agricultural health products and products used in aquaculture. Eliminating this tax will help create additional jobs in Florida's agriculture industry.
- Exemption for the Resale of Admissions by Tax Exempt Entities: $3 Million—Governor Scott is putting into effect an exemption saving Florida charities $3 million in sales tax on the resale of admissions, which they can further invest in their core missions.
- Sales Tax Exemption for Data Center Materials: $2.6 Million—Governor Scott is putting into effect a sales tax exemption for materials for data centers. This $2.6 million tax cut will help attract high paying technology jobs to the state.
- Sales Tax Exemption for Construction Materials in Rural Areas of Opportunity: $1.9 Million—An exemption for purchases of construction materials in rural areas of opportunity from the sales tax, promoting growth and jobs in small and rural counties in Florida. This is expected to save Florida businesses $1.9 million.

Fighting for Florida's Future Students

Governor Scott remains committed to ensuring every Florida student has the opportunity to receive a great education that leads to a successful job. To be first in the nation for jobs, Florida must have a diverse and educated workforce.

Educational Sectors	Total Funding
Florida College System	$1.2 billion
State University System	$4.95 billion

K-12 School Capital Funds—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $50 million for maintenance at K-12 public schools, $50 million for charter schools, and $15.5 million for the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind and public lab schools, which includes $7.5 million for Florida State University Lab School to construct a new arts and sciences building.

K-12 Rural School District Construction and Renovation—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $50.8 million for five rural school districts' Special Facility Construction projects. This funding will provide new school buildings and major renovations in Taylor, Hamilton, Liberty, Dixie and Jackson counties.

Excellence in Early Learning—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $396.8 million for the Voluntary Pre-Kindergarten Program. The total funding in the Fighting for Florida's Future early learning budget is more than $1 billion—an increase of $12.9 million over last year's funding.

The budget also maintains $15.5 million for the early learning performance funding program for child care instructors who continually provide quality education.

School Readiness—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget includes an increase of $25 million in federal funding to allow more than 4,600 additional children access to School Readiness programs. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget includes funds for the following early learning initiatives:

- The T.E.A.C.H. Program—$3 million for early childhood teacher scholarships.
- Performance Funding—$15.5 million to reward child care providers and instructors for improving School Readiness program outcomes.
- Help Me Grow—$1.9 million to connect children and families with information, resources, and developmental services to enhance health, behavior, and learning in the development of young children.
- Home Instruction Program for Preschool Youngsters (HIPPY)—$1.4 million to deliver high quality School Readiness curriculum directly to parents so they may strengthen the cognitive and early literacy skills of at-risk children.

Excellence in Higher Education—Governor Scott continues to champion an affordable, accessible, high quality education that leads graduates to great jobs without incurring mountains of debt.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget does not include any higher education tuition increases and provides historic total levels of funding for state universities—$4.95 billion, an increase of $173.5 million over last year. A record $520 million in performance funding will reward institutions for excellence and improvement in student success tied to keeping higher education affordable and ensuring students get high-wage jobs.

Keeping Florida's Higher Education Affordable—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $397.3 million to the Bright Futures Scholarship Program and fully covers 100 percent of tuition and fees for Bright Futures Academic Scholars (FAS) students, including summer courses. These students will also receive a $300 book stipend during both the fall and spring semesters. This funding will help more than an estimated 94,000 Florida students, including approximately 50,000 FAS students who will now receive increased scholarship amounts.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget increases funding to the First-Generation Matching Grant Program to $10.6 million, doubling the state's match to private dollars raised. This program provides scholarship opportunities for economically disadvantaged students whose parents were unable to attend college so they can attain a higher education.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $14.3 million for scholarships for National Merit Scholar and National Achievement Scholar students.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $125.4 million to the Effective Access to Student Education grant program (formerly Florida Resident Access Grant program), and increases the award amount students receive from $3,000 to $3,300.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $500,000 to create the Florida Farmworker Student Scholarship Program. This new program will provide up to 50 higher education scholarships to children of farmworkers.

Targeted Investments in State Universities—Since 2011-12, total funding for Florida's universities has increased by $1.5 billion or 41.9 percent. This impressive increase comes while Governor Scott has held the line on tuition for four consecutive years, providing students an affordable education.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $50 million to state universities through the State University Professional and Graduate Degree Excellence Program to make targeted investments that enhance the quality of graduate and professional degree programs in medicine, law, and business.

The budget also provides $70.6 million to state universities through the World Class Faculty and Scholar Program to elevate the national competitiveness of Florida's universities through recruitment and retention of faculty and research scholars.

College and University Construction and Building Maintenance—In order for Florida's colleges and universities to continue to have world-class facilities, the Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $69 million for Florida College System facilities and $103.7 million for State University System facilities. The budget also provides $38.1 million for maintenance and repair at state colleges and $45.6 million for maintenance and repair at state universities.

Industry Certifications—$10 million in industry certification funding for the Florida College System. Colleges will receive earn $1,000 for each industry certification that a student earns.

Fighting for Florida Jobs

Since being elected in 2010, Governor Scott's top priority has been to ensure everyone in Florida who wants a job can get a job and the result of this unrelenting focus has been incredible. In a little over six years, Florida has created 1,355,700 private-sector jobs. April 2017 marked the 81st consecutive month of positive over-the-year job growth, and Florida's annual job growth rate has exceeded the nation's annual job growth rate for five consecutive years. The unemployment rate has been cut by almost 60 percent since December 2010, from 10.7 percent to 4.5 percent, and as of April 2017 was at its lowest level since September 2007. In April 2017, there were over 244,000 job openings in Florida.

Supporting Job Growth in Florida

Enterprise Florida, Inc. (EFI), the state's public-private economic development partnership, has been instrumental in bringing high-wage jobs to Florida and marketing the state as the best place to live, work, and raise a family.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $925.6 million for the Department of Economic Opportunity. This funding includes:

- $281.9 million for Florida's 24 regional CareerSource Boards;
- $15 million for Quick Response Training;
- $12.5 million for Space Florida;
- $7 million for aerospace industry financing; and
- $3.2 million for space, defense, and rural infrastructure projects.

Investing in Florida's Future Workforce—Governor Scott is committed to making Florida the best state in the nation for workforce development so Florida's economy can continue to diversify and attract more businesses. Since 2011, Governor Scott has directed investments of more than $1.6 billion for communities to ensure the best workers are available for Florida's job creators.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $281.9 million for Florida's 24 regional CareerSource Boards responsible for providing workforce services directly linked to job seekers and businesses. This includes job placement, recruitment assistance and skills training. The Florida workforce system helped place more than 413,000 Floridians in jobs during 2016, including almost 20,000 Florida veterans.

Quick Response Training—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests an additional $3 million in Quick Response Training for a total of $15 million to continue diversifying Florida's economy. This increase will build on the program's success by providing businesses in targeted industries, both large and small, with matching funds related to specific training activities for workers who will be moving into new jobs created in Florida.

Fighting for Great Transportation for Florida's Future

Since 2011, Governor Scott has overseen the investment of more than $63 billion in funding for roads, bridges, airports and seaports. In fact, under Governor Scott's leadership, Florida has increased its investment in transportation by $4 billion, or 57 percent, over the past six years. Continued investments in Florida's infrastructure and transportation is essential to supporting economic growth and ensuring that Florida's more than 20.7 million residents and more than 112 million visitors are able to move safely and efficiently throughout the state. Florida remains at the leading edge of transportation innovations and has been recognized for inventive funding solutions to enhance capacity of transportation infrastructure.

The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $10.1 billion to fully fund the Department of Transportation's (FDOT) Work Program to keep Florida's transportation and infrastructure among the best in the nation. The five-year program is locally driven to ensure communities have input in what projects receive state funding and includes the following investments:

- $4.1 billion to expand transportation capacity;
- $648.3 million for resurfacing projects;
- $307.8 million for scheduled bridge construction;
- $263.5 million for aviation improvements;
- $687.1 million for investment in transit;
- $175.7 million for safety initiatives;
- $89.3 million for bike and pedestrian trails; and
- $178.2 million in investments in seaports.

Fighting to Improve Seaports and Increase Trade

Since 2011, Governor Scott has championed priority investments in Florida's 15 world-class seaports exceeding $1.2 billion to help solidify Florida as the trade capital of the world. Port infrastructure investments support and build upon the 103 million tons of cargo worth $49.8 billion, and the 15.2 million cruise passengers that passed through the state's ports in 2015. According to the Florida Ports Council, Florida's 15 seaports have created 200,000 new jobs across the state since 2012, and are also responsible for $117.6 billion in economic activity; supporting nearly 900,000 jobs, $40 billion in personal income and $4.3 billion in state and local tax revenue.

Additionally, Florida's proximity to Latin America and the Caribbean remains critical to the state's major role in the nations' trade, accounting for 25.2 percent of all U.S. waterborne exports and 19.1 percent of all U.S. waterborne imports to and from this growing region in 2015. Improvements such as completing the deepening of the Port of Miami and planned deepening at JAXPORT are vital to Florida being able to accommodate the large cargo ships traveling through the recently widened Panama Canal.

To date, Florida's port investments have resulted in an economic value of more than $117 billion—a $15 billion increase since 2012. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget includes $178.2 million investments in seaports through FDOT's Work Program to continue the state's commitment for the development and enhancement of Florida's ports.

Fighting to Protect Florida's Environment for Future Generations

Florida's diverse natural resources include world-class beaches, pristine waterways and the nation's best state parks. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget continues Governor Scott's commitment to protecting Florida's environment for future generations and invests more than $3.6 billion to protect Florida's agricultural and natural resources.

Everglades—The Florida Everglades is one of the world's most treasured natural resources and Governor Scott has made protecting it a top priority. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests more than $202 million in Everglades restoration projects, designating $167.6 million for the Comprehensive Everglades Restoration Plan (CERP) and other related projects, and setting aside $35 million for the Northern Everglades and Estuaries Protection Program.

Additionally, SB 10, signed by Governor Scott on May 9, 2017, provides $64 million for the planning and construction of the C-51 Reservoir and a reservoir south of Lake Okeechobee. Under Governor Scott's leadership, Florida has invested more than $958 million for Everglades restoration.

Under Governor Scott's leadership, an historic $880 million water quality plan was created to protect the Everglades and more than $2 billion has been invested in the CERP.

Protecting Florida Springs—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget continues Governor Scott's commitment to protect Florida's springs and once again provides $50 million in funding for springs restoration projects. To date, Governor Scott has provided more funding for springs restoration projects—nearly $200 million—than any Governor in Florida's history.

Land Acquisition and Increased Land Management—In addition to the approximately $100 million the Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests in land management, the budget also invests more than $13 million for land acquisition, including:

- o $10 million for Rural and Family Lands;
- o $1.2 million for land acquisition in Lake County through the United States Fish and Wildlife Service;
- o $850,000 for land acquisition along the Homosassa River; and
- o $1.1 million for acquisition of the Hamm Parcel in the Martin County East Ridge Reserve.

Protecting the Florida Keys—Governor Scott has fulfilled his promise to help the Florida Keys complete the repair of their wastewater treatment facilities. This important project helps ensure that South Florida's reefs and waters are protected for the local communities, fish and wildlife that depend on these resources. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget recognizes the importance of preserving and protecting the Florida Keys by providing $13.3 million for additional water quality improvement projects, such as stormwater infrastructure improvements and canal restoration.

State Park Facility Improvements—Visitors from around the world are attracted to Florida because of its state parks and the Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $24.8 million for repairs and renovations to these nationally recognized facilities. This includes $14.5 million for park repairs and enhancements across the state and $4.8 million for facility improvements at Fakahatchee Strand and Lovers Key State Parks. The budget also includes $5.5 million to manage the land, protect natural resources, market and improve access for state parks.

Beach Restoration—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $63.3 million for beach and dune restoration, nourishment and regional sediment management. This includes $13.3 million for the state's share of needed restoration based on the latest hurricane damage assessment and $50 million for statewide beach and dune restoration, beach renourishment and other coastal restoration projects. On January 27, 2017, under Executive Orders 16-230 and 17-16, Governor Scott announced $15.8 million in state funds for emergency beach restoration projects in response to the damage caused by Hurricane Matthew in St. Johns, Flagler, Volusia and Brevard counties. This funding immediately addressed critically eroded beaches where imminent threats to beachfront structures, such as roadways, homes and businesses, were identified. Like Florida's state parks, Florida's beaches regularly rank as the best in the nation and are a driving force behind the state's record tourism numbers.

Wastewater Treatment Facility Construction—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $142.6 million for the construction of wastewater treatment and stormwater management systems, including collection and transmission sewers, reclaimed water systems, and a variety of other facilities and programs through the Clean Water State Revolving Fund.

Water Projects—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides more than $40 million for local water projects to assist communities in the enhancement and protection of local water resources.

Citrus Industry—The Florida First budget invests more than $19 million in citrus research and programs to protect Florida's citrus industry. This investment will help growers continue to combat the serious problem of citrus greening, a bacterial disease that greatly reduces citrus production and kills citrus trees.

Ensuring Florida's Future Generations Are Safe

Governor Scott's Fighting for Florida's Future budget builds on the state's 45-year low in crime by investing $4.9 billion in public safety that will help ensure that Florida remains a safe place to raise a family. This includes a pay increase to support Florida's sworn law enforcement officers, a comprehensive pay plan for correctional officers that will make Florida's prisons safer, re-entry program funding that will reduce recidivism and increase funding for prevention programs targeting at-risk youth.

Supporting Law Enforcement—Governor Scott recognizes that the brave men and women who serve Florida as members of state law enforcement agencies work hard to make Florida a safe place to live and deserve to be rewarded for their lifesaving work. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $12.7 million to provide these men and women a five percent pay increase.

Protecting Floridians and Visitors—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $5.8 million and 46 positions for the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) to strengthen counterterrorism operations. These funds will allow the Department to work more closely with local, state, and federal intelligence agencies on domestic security issues.

The budget also provides over $3 million to upgrade FDLE's Sexual Offender and Predator Registry and to ensure sexual assault kits are quickly processed. These investments will improve public safety by better identifying and tracking sexual offenders.

Continuing Investments to Improve Safety in Florida's Prisons—Over the past two years, Governor Scott has invested more than $104 million to help improve the Florida prison system including addressing staffing levels, ensuring vehicles are safe, and better maintaining the state's facilities. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget continues this by investing more than $56 million in Florida's Department of Corrections (FDC). The budget provides $43.7 million to increase the base rate of pay for correctional officers, authorizes the increase of pay to certified mental health correctional officers, and authorizes the FDC to provide a hiring bonus to correctional officers at institutions with high officer vacancy rates. This funding enhances the safety and security of Florida's correctional institutions by ensuring that these facilities are appropriately staffed. The budget also provides $6.5 million to maintain and make critical repairs at prison facilities.

Improving Inmate Mental Health and Medical Care—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides 104 positions and $14.4 million to fund a residential mental health unit at the Wakulla Correctional Institution. These funds will allow FDC to more effectively treat inmates with mental health disorders. The budget also provides an additional $18 million to provide comprehensive health services to state inmates.

Safer Communities through Reduced Recidivism—Evidence-based re-entry programs help reduce recidivism, which means that fewer inmates return to prison. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $8.4 million in re-entry programs to further reduce Florida's recidivism rate. This includes:

- o $3.7 million for job training and placement for current and newly-released inmates through Operation New Hope,

Ready4Work Hillsborough, Bethel Ready4Work, Reentry Alliance Pensacola, RESTORE Initiative, and the Broward County Sheriff's Inmate Portal Reentry program;

- o $3 million for the Continuum of Care program;
- o $1 million for workforce education programs; and

In recognition of these benefits, the Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides additional funding to expand prevention programs for at-risk youth. Some of these investments include the following:

- o An investment of more than $1.3 million to draw down an additional $3.6 million in federal funds for the Florida Youth Challenge Program, which is an alternative residential high school for at-risk youth at Camp Blanding.

Fighting for a Healthier Future

Governor Scott's Fighting for Florida's Future budget continues his commitment to helping Florida's most vulnerable citizens by making important investments in substance abuse and mental health treatment services, the child welfare system and adoption services, and human trafficking victim support services. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget also supports Floridians with developmental disabilities, provides care for Florida's seniors and strengthens Florida's defense against infectious diseases and other mosquito borne illnesses like Zika.

Governor Scott knows that raising a family begins with ensuring good health and the Fighting for Florida's Future budget makes important investments so individuals and families have the support they need to stay healthy for years to come.

Investing in Floridians Behavioral Health Needs

Governor Scott understands that every individual struggling with mental health or substance abuse is somebody's son, daughter, mother, father, sister, brother or friend. Each case leaves loved ones searching for answers and praying for help. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests over $126 million through the Department of Children and Families for substance abuse and mental health treatment and continues to invest in programs to better care for those dealing with behavioral health issues.

Opioid Crisis Grant—This spring, Governor Scott directed the Department of Children and Families, the Department of Health, and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement to host workshops across the state to help identify additional strategies to fight rising opioid usage cases in Florida. Following the completion of these workshops, which provided significant feedback and input from impacted communities, Governor Scott signed an executive order declaring a statewide public health emergency due to the opioid epidemic.

Consistent with Governor Scott's executive order, the Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $27.1 million for direct treatment and services to individuals who struggle with opioid use. This funding will expand services that are currently provided and fill gaps throughout the state. DCF will continue to work closely with impacted communities to ensure funds are distributed based on where there is the greatest need for treatment. Additionally, the Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $3.5 million for life-saving medication for those struggling with opioid use.

Behavioral Health Services—Governor Scott understands the importance of addressing the needs of those with mental illness and better aligning services to serve individuals in their own communities instead of hospitals. The Fighting for Florida's Future budget includes $10 million to fund community-based programs. These programs provide better care coordination and comprehensive treatment to individuals and their families. This follows Executive Order 15-175, signed by the Governor in July 2015, which directed the Department of Children and Families to develop and implement best management practices based on community care coordination.

Family Intensive Treatment Teams (FIT)—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $10.2 million to support FIT Teams. These teams implement evidence-based practices that are family focused for treating parent's mental health and substance abuse disorders that potentially put children at risk.

Children's Community Action Treatment (CAT)—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget invests $19.5 million in total funding, with an increase of $2.25 million, to add three new additional CAT Teams. These teams provide community in-home services to severely mentally ill children and their families. These teams focus on treating Floridians in their communities rather than in institutional settings. The new teams will provide services in Charlotte, Volusia, Flagler, Leon, Gadsden and Wakulla counties.

Florida Assertive Community Treatment (FACT)—The Fighting for Florida's Future budget provides $39.7 million, an increase of $1.5 million, to expand FACT teams to Putnam and St. Johns counties. This means 39 Florida counties are served by 33 FACT teams that focus on ensuring immediate frontline services are available to adults with severe and persistent mental illness.

This is the first time that employment services are supported by state funding at the Department of Children and Families. Funds will be used to enroll new providers and continue statewide coordinated dental services, which will improve the health of those served.

Fighting for Veterans Future in Florida

As a proud Navy veteran, Governor Scott is committed to making Florida the most military and veteran-friendly state in the nation. Prior to release of the funds by the department to the school districts, each school district shall certify to the Commissioner of Education an expenditure plan for the purchase of instructional content and technology. If the district intends to use any portion of the funds for technology, the district must certify that it has the instructional content necessary to provide instruction aligned to the adopted statewide benchmarks and standards. To participate, districts must be eligible for federal Impact Aid funding under Section 8003, Title VIII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. The amount allocated for each eligible school district shall be recalculated during the year, using actual student membership, as amended, from the most recent February survey and the tax-exempt valuation from the most recent assessment roll. Upon recalculation, if the total allocation is greater than the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act, it must be prorated to the level of the appropriation based on each district's share of the total recalculated amount.

One of Florida's most important resources is water. The Department of Environmental Protection and the state's five water management districts provide funding to protect the quality and quantity of Florida's water supply. These agencies work to ensure that Floridians' tax dollars are spent in a manner that will provide a demonstrable improvement statewide through an open and public process. While some water projects may also contribute to a statewide objective, not all projects demonstrate an ability to clearly contribute to a statewide investment. The following projects are vetoed because they did not provide a clear return for the investment.

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objection to Senate Bill 2512, enacted during the 119th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2017 and entitled:

An act relating to Capitol Complex Advisory Council...

Florida’s capitol buildings not only serve as the center for state government, but also host thousands of visitors each year. It is vitally important that all building repairs and maintenance be made in the most cost-effective and efficient manner. This bill would create requirements that are duplicative of current processes and would add an unnecessary layer of red tape and bureaucracy. It is imperative that improvements to enhance the safety and access of Florida’s capitol buildings progress in the most efficient way possible to avoid unnecessary disruption or delay.

For the reasons stated above, I withhold my approval of Senate Bill 2512, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Rick Scott
Governor

SECRETARY OF STATE

[Referred to the Committee on Ethics and Elections.]

The Honorable Joe Negron
President of the Senate
409, The Capitol
Tallahassee, FL 32399-1100

January 9, 2018

Re: Suspension of:
ANDERSON, Robert John
Lehigh Acres Fire Control and Rescue District Commissioner

Dear President Negron:

The Committee on Ethics and Elections submits this final report on the matter of the suspension of Robert John Anderson.

By Executive Order Number 17-202 filed with the Secretary of State on July 17, 2017, and pursuant to Article IV, section 7(a) of the Florida Constitution, the Honorable Rick Scott, Governor, suspended Robert John Anderson as a Lehigh Acres Fire Control and Rescue District Commissioner in Lee County, Florida, alleging that he committed one count of Grand Theft, in violation of s. 812.014(2)(c), F.S., and one count of Scheme to Defraud in violation of s. 817.034(4)(a)3., F.S. Those allegations arise out of felony charges pending against Mr. Anderson in Case Number 2017-CF-016830 in the Circuit Court of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, in and for Lee County, Florida. In that same court, Mr. Anderson was convicted of Grand Theft, a third degree felony, in Case Number 2016-CF-00327, on December 14, 2017.

Because Mr. Anderson was convicted of a felony, he is ineligible to hold public office unless or until his civil rights have been restored. A convicted felon may not have his or her rights restored until at least 5 years after the completion of any sentence imposed by the court. Mr. Anderson's term of office runs through the election for that seat in the year 2020. In light of the foregoing, Mr. Anderson would not be eligible to apply for restoration of rights until after the expiration of his term of office. Therefore, this matter is moot.

Based on the foregoing, I advise and recommend that the Senate take no action on the above-named suspension during the 2018 Regular Session of the Florida Legislature, and consider the matter closed.

Sincerely,

Keith Perry
Chair

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

The following certificate was received:

No. SC17-1936

IN RE: CERTIFICATION OF NEED FOR ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

[November 22, 2017]

PER CURIAM.

This opinion fulfills our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional judges in fiscal year 2018/2019 and to certify our "findings and recommendations concerning such need" to the Legislature.¹ Certification is "the sole mechanism established by our constitution for a systematic and uniform assessment of this need." In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 889 So. 2d 734, 735 (Fla.

2004). In this opinion, we are certifying a need for two additional circuit court judges, two additional county court judges, and none in the district courts of appeal as discussed below. We are also decertifying the need for thirteen county court judgeships.

TRIAL COURTS

The Florida Supreme Court continues to use a weighted caseload system as a primary basis for assessing judicial need for the trial courts.² Using this objective threshold standard, we have examined case filing and disposition data, analyzed various judicial workload indicators, applied a three-year average judicial need, and considered judgeship requests submitted by the lower courts including all secondary factors identified by each chief judge for support of their requests. We have also incorporated a rigorous judicial workload per judge threshold analysis and an allowance for administrative time spent by chief judges and county court time spent on county election canvassing boards. Applying this methodology, this Court certifies the need for four additional judgeships statewide, two of which are in circuit court and two in county court. See Appendix. We are also decertifying thirteen county court judgeships. See Appendix.

As noted in previous opinions, our judges and court staff continue to work diligently to administer justice, promptly resolve disputes, and ensure that children, families, and businesses receive the proper amount of judicial attention for their cases. They do so despite a demonstrated need for additional judges since 2007 and with a smaller staffing complement.

Our most recent analysis of trial court statistics from fiscal year 2015/2016 to preliminary data for fiscal year 2016/2017 indicates a ten percent increase in county civil filings (excluding civil traffic infractions), a five percent increase in circuit civil filings (excluding real property/mortgage foreclosures), a three percent increase in probate filings, and a two percent increase in dependency filings. At the same time, criminal traffic filings (including driving under the influence) declined by 16 percent, civil traffic infractions declined by six percent, county criminal filings declined by five percent, juvenile delinquency filings declined by five percent, and felony filings experienced a two percent decline.

Similar downward filing trends are occurring nationally and we continue to closely monitor filing trends throughout the state as filings relate to judicial case weights and influence workload analysis. It is notable, however, that the opioid epidemic is severely impacting communities in Florida and across the country. Ninety-one Americans die every day from an opioid overdose.³ This epidemic has influenced Florida's child welfare system and has resulted in an increased number of dependency court cases throughout the state. Many trial courts have established Early Childhood Courts for families affected by the opioid epidemic by offering a continuum of evidence-based services, including Child-Parent Psychotherapy—an intervention aimed at healing trauma. According to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, Florida Medical Examiners Report, in 2016, six of the seven Florida counties with the most opioid-related deaths have an Early Childhood Court in place.⁴

Notwithstanding the decreases to some filing categories, our judicial workload-per-judge analysis indicates that additional circuit court and county court judgeships are necessary in some areas.

Chief judges have identified many workload trends that are affecting court operations throughout the state. Several of the chief judges cited the additional workload associated with the continuing expansion of problem-solving courts (e.g., Adult Drug Court, Veterans' Court, Mental Health Courts, and Early Childhood Courts). We recognize that various studies have shown that well-conducted problem-solving courts, such as drug courts, have been shown to reduce recidivism and provide better outcomes for participants.⁵ Yet, these courts also require significantly more judicial time on the front end due to more frequent status hearings and multidisciplinary team meetings, typically over an extended period of time. Other chief judges noted the impact of complex civil litigation, high jury trial rates, and self-represented litigants. Collectively, these factors affect court time and court resources.

The chief judges have also noted that the number and frequency of court interpreting events protract case disposition times. Florida is an ethnically and culturally diverse state with thousands of non-English speaking residents who access our courts each year. This demand is expected to increase in coming years. This Court is mindful of the demographic changes occurring in Florida and has implemented rigorous steps to ensure that the quality of court interpreting services remains high by requiring credentialed interpreters to provide interpreting services⁶ and also by implementing video remote interpreting services in ten circuits using credentialed interpreters which we would like to expand further. The application of this technology demonstrates the court system's commitment to cost containment, innovation, and improved service delivery, while meeting due process of law requirements.

Similar efforts are occurring using software applications such as Open Court and the Integrated Case Management System developed by the Eighth Judicial Circuit. Both software platforms are open source and have tremendous potential for cost containment and the avoidance of vendor dependency issues associated with the purchase of specialized technology. We encourage the Legislature to favorably consider our Legislative Budget Request⁷ for technology as it demonstrates the judicial branch's commitment to apply technology in our service delivery staffing models, to help minimize our requests for additional full-time equivalent positions.

Nevertheless, chief judges advise that the lack of sufficient support staff positions contributes to slower case processing times, crowded dockets, and longer waits to access judicial calendars. Additional case management staff is a priority for the judicial branch. Accordingly, we fully support the trial courts' Legislative Budget Request⁸ that seeks additional funding for case managers, as these positions are integral to case disposition, docket management, and pending caseload reduction.

On a related matter, chief judges have advised us that because in-court administrative staff, both case managers and in-court clerk's office staff, has been either reduced or eliminated due to budget reductions, many trial court judges are now performing in-court administrative duties such as managing the court record, handling exhibits, swearing witnesses, filing documents, and making notations in the case management systems. Judges performing ministerial and administrative functions is not the best use of judicial time and supports the need for additional case management assistance that is best supplied by case managers.

Several of the chief judges also advised that they are experiencing difficulty in securing senior judges to serve within their circuits. While the Court believes that our senior judge day allotment may be sufficient, there simply are not enough senior judges available to take the assignments. We remain concerned that the one-year sit-out provision for retiring judges is therefore impeding the court system's ability to secure senior judges in different regions throughout the state. We encourage the Legislature to revisit the one-year sit-out requirement, as it is detrimental to Florida's court system and the administration of justice.

Our analysis, using the previously described judicial workload per judge threshold methodology, indicates that there is a positive need for additional circuit court and county court judgeships. In those circuits and counties where the need exceeds the current number of authorized judicial positions, the workload impact can vary depending on the total number of judges in a circuit available to absorb the excess work. Our threshold methodology suggests a judicial need when the ratio per judge is greater than 1.10. In practical terms, this means that judges must share excess workload, leaving each judge with a total of 1.10 full-time equivalent of judicial work prior to a circuit court or county court being considered for a new judgeship.

The analysis also revealed that judicial need is less than the current number of authorized positions among county court judgeships. That determination is made through an examination of quantitative and qualitative secondary factors. A reduction in judicial need is initially presumed to occur in any court where the workload per judge is below 0.90. Judicial positions should be subtracted until the ratio is at or above 0.90. To better assess whether we should decertify any trial court judgeships, we conducted an analysis of secondary factors identified by the chief judge of each affected county. The factors that might weigh against decertification included geography, number of branch court-houses, access to justice concerns, and other factors listed in the Florida Rules of Judicial Administration.⁹ After careful consideration of all factors, we are certifying the need for two additional circuit court judgeships in the Ninth Judicial Circuit and two additional county court judgeships in Hillsborough County.

Applying these same factors, we are also decertifying county court judgeships in the following counties: one county court judgeship in Alachua County, three county court judgeships in Brevard County, one county court judgeship in Charlotte County, one county court judgeship in Collier County, one county court judgeship in Escambia County, one county court judgeship in Leon County, one county court judgeship in Monroe County, two county court judgeships in Pasco County, one county court judgeship in Polk County, and one county court judgeship in Putnam County. With the exception of Monroe County, where we are decertifying only one of the two county court judgeships that could potentially be decertified, the decertification includes counties we monitored last year that continue to demonstrate a negative need for two consecutive review cycles. Due to the impact of Hurricane Irma in Key West and the uncertainties related to litigation expected to occur in its aftermath, we will monitor the county court workload in Monroe County for an additional year as that county recovers and stabilizes.

Over the next twelve months, we will be closely monitoring the judicial workload of one circuit and nine counties¹⁰ that demonstrate a negative need, but also identified supplemental factors recognized in rule 2.240, which influence against decertification, to determine whether additional decertifications should occur in next year's certification of need opinion.

It is important to note that we did not certify the need for an additional county court judgeship in three counties where they were requested (Citrus, Flagler, and Lee) and we certified only two county judgeships in Hillsborough, rather than the three requested, even though in all four requesting counties the judicial workload per judge demonstrates a need. We recognize that those county judges are currently shouldering what our data indicate to be more than a full-time judicial workload. Citrus, Hillsborough, and Lee counties demonstrated a current need, but were not certified additional judgeships, or in Hillsborough's case is being certified one fewer judgeship than requested, due to the continued decline in each county's judicial workload when compared to last year. Citrus County workload declined by fourteen percent, Hillsborough County workload declined by four percent, and Lee County workload declined by seven percent. Considering the possibility that this downward trend will continue, if this Court certified the need for an additional county court judgeship this year, we might be obligated to decertify the same county court judgeship in the near future. In Flagler County, the county court judicial workload per judge increased two percent when compared to last year. However, if an additional county court judgeship were certified this year, Flagler County's judicial workload per judge would fall below the 0.90 threshold, thus putting this Court in the position of potentially decertifying the same county court judgeship in next year's opinion.

The Court does not take these steps lightly; rather, we do so recognizing that we must remain consistent in our application of the workload methodology and our obligations under Article V, section 9, of the Florida Constitution.

DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL

In keeping with our policy of not requesting judgeships unless qualified and requested by the chief judge of a district court, we do not certify the need for any additional district court judges.

In the fiscal year 2017/2018 certification opinion, the Court expressed a concern with the judicial workload indicating possible overstaffing in the Third District Court of Appeal. See In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 206 So. 3d 22, 36 (Fla. 2016). In addition, the Court requested input from the Third District Court of Appeal regarding staffing since that court does not employ a central staff model. Id.

We appreciate the thorough response to our inquiries from the chief judge of the Third District Court of Appeal. According to that response, the judicial workload within the Third District Court of Appeal includes a large amount of complex cases. The court handles multiple appeals and petitions involving complex business litigation, class actions, forum non conveniens, tobacco liability cases, bad faith insurance claims, and public development. Forum non conveniens cases are often difficult because they include competing legal opinions regarding the law of foreign countries.

The percentage of cases heard at oral argument in the Third District Court of Appeal was also double the figures for the other district courts of appeal, as documented by OPPAGA in its report issued in February of this year.¹¹ Additionally, Miami-Dade has been a primary destination for immigrant juveniles for the last two fiscal years. These cases present the judges in the Third District Court of Appeal with substantive legal questions and due process issues that merit and receive additional time and attention.

CONCLUSION

We have conducted both a quantitative and qualitative assessment of trial court and appellate court judicial workload. Using the case-weighted methodology and the application of other factors identified in Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.240, we certify the need for four additional trial court judges in Florida, consisting of two in circuit court and two in county court, as set forth in the appendix to this opinion. We are also recommending the decertification of thirteen county court judgeships, also identified in the appendix, and we certify no need for additional judges in the district courts of appeal.

It is so ordered.

LABARGA, C.J., and PARIENTE, LEWIS, QUINCE, CANADY, POLSTON, and LAWSON, JJ., concur.

Determination of number of judges.—The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria for the determination of the need for additional judges except supreme court justices, the necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If the supreme court finds that a need exists for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits, it shall, prior to the next regular session of the legislature, certify to the legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

COMMUNICATION

November 1, 2017

Mr. President,

Effective today, I hereby resign from the Florida Senate.

Jeff Clemens
District 31

The Honorable Joe Negron, President
The Florida Senate
404 S. Monroe St., 405 Capitol
Tallahassee, FL 32399

December 20, 2017

Dear President Negron:

It has been my honor to serve my constituents in the Tampa Bay area in the Florida Senate for 15 of the last 23 years. I have worked hard and tried to do what I thought was in their best interests and those of the State of Florida. I have never intentionally dishonored my family, my constituents or the Florida Senate.

Our country has been caught up in a movement to shine a spotlight on behavior that dishonors women. Even though I have spent my entire career helping women advance in public service, such as the 14 current female judges in the Sixth Circuit whose campaigns I ran, my political adversaries have latched onto this effort to rid our country of sexual harassment to try to rid the Florida Senate of me. As a husband, father, and grandfather of women, I have been steadfast in my efforts to promote them professionally, but perhaps I haven't kept up with political correctness in my comments as well as I should have.

I have maintained that the charges in the original complaint are fabrications and say that still today. Unfortunately, except in the one instance where there were third party witnesses, the Special Master took the word of the accuser over mine on every count. He also went outside the realm of the original complaint and unknown to me introduced an entirely new issue into the process that I had no ability to challenge or rebut.

That was followed this morning by supposed leaders in the Republican Party calling for me to resign. All of this occurs today even though we still have anonymous accusers with no opportunity for me to have the privilege our U.S. Constitution affords to confront our accusers in cross examination.

But, I have had enough. If this is the process our Party and Senate leadership desires, then I have no interest in continuing to serve with you. I, therefore, will resign my seat in the Florida Senate at midnight, January 5, 2018.

I regret that my district will not be represented during the session but the timing has not been mine. I feel that if I avail myself of the constitutional protections that all Americans believe we have, the session will end up accomplishing nothing else for all other Floridians.

May God Bless us all!

Yours truly,

Jack Latvala
District 16

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Cliff Long of Orlando, former Senior Pastor of Greater Works Christian Ministries:

Heavenly Father, we come to you today, in your name, thanking you for all you have done for us. Thank you, Lord, for the power, honor, and responsibility you have given us. Thank you for giving us this opportunity to stand and to govern such a mighty people. Now, Lord, we ask for your wisdom, your strength, and your guidance as we go through this particular session. Father, we know the Bible is your inspired word and it is your word. Lord Jesus, we also know that what we do, we do it in your name and for your glory. We ask that as we govern, as we look at these laws, and as we look at these things, let us do so with an intent to please you. Let us ask before we pass a bill or pass a law, "How does our God look at this? Would this please him?" Father, we ask that you guide every word that we speak. We ask that you look at our hearts and touch our minds, Lord, so that whatever we do, we do in your name and to your privilege and your pleasure.

I ask that you bless our leadership. Bless the President of this mighty Senate, so that he may have the wisdom to see and to hear what the spirit is saying, and he can discern it and put it into action. I ask that you bless all of these members from the crowns of their heads to the soles of their feet. I ask that you bless our first responders. Those are the first ministers out there we should look out for. Bless our military, not just the ones abroad, but the ones here that are serving. Allow us to make sure we look out for laws, make sure they have food to eat, and they can continue to guard this mighty country. I ask that you bless our President. Truly, Lord, you ask us to pray for our leaders. It does not matter how we feel, only that we bless them. Now, Lord Jesus, we speak blessings on our government whether it be in Washington or here in Florida.

We love you, we praise you, and we honor you. In your name we do pray. Amen.

January 12, 2018

The Honorable Richard Corcoran
Speaker of the House of Representatives
420 The Capitol
Tallahassee, FL 32399-1300

Dear Mr. President and Mr. Speaker:

The Joint Select Committee on Collective Bargaining convened on January 12, 2018, in the Pat Thomas Committee Room (412 Knott Building), at 8:00 a.m. The purpose of the meeting was to provide all parties involved in collective bargaining disputes with the State of Florida the opportunity to present their positions to the Florida Legislature, consistent with the provisions of section 447.403, Florida Statutes, and the open meeting provisions of Article III, section 4 of the State Constitution.

The parties presented their positions and indicated they are continuing to negotiate the issues at impasse. We recommend that negotiations continue and that the appropriate legislative committees be kept abreast of the issues agreed upon by the parties as well as the issues that remain at impasse or require legislative action to resolve.

Copies of presentations and other pertinent materials have been retained by staff and, for purposes of future public inquiry, are available through the Senate Governmental Oversight and Accountability Committee and the House Oversight, Transparency & Administration Subcommittee.

Respectfully submitted,

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by LaQuisha Persak, an employee with the Senate Majority Office:

Heavenly Father, we thank you for your continued guidance, protection, support, and mercy. We give you thanks because you have promised never to leave us nor forsake us, and we have the confidence that when we call on your name, you hear us.

Lord, I lift up each Senator in prayer and ask for your continued guidance and wisdom over them as they make important decisions that are in the best interest of the State of Florida. Let your word be a lamp unto their feet and light unto their path. Our prayer is that your will be done in all things and regarding any decision that may come before them.

In 2 Chronicles 18:4, Jehoshaphat gave us a model for prayer before making any big decision. He said, "But before you do anything, ask God for guidance." So, Lord, we are asking. We know that if we ask, we shall receive. Thank you for providing the guidance and the answers to our prayers. Bless each Senator, their families, and every constituent they represent. In your name I pray. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Silancia Deliverance of Orlando; Alanna Brophy of Valrico; Erin Brophy of Valrico; and Emma Merlini of Ponte Vedra, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Apostle Ronald Ssali, Power Evangelism Ministries, West Palm Beach:

To our Heavenly Father, creator of heaven and earth, we exalt and honor your name. Be glorified today as this body of legislators and leaders from all constituents represented here today work earnestly to govern our communities in the State of Florida. Be glorified in the name of Jesus. Guide them by your spirit as they liaise and dialogue on bills, ideas, and viewpoints presented, and in tackling issues concerning their constituencies in the State of Florida.

I ask that you grant them wisdom and strategies to enhance unity, peace, and prosperity in this great State of Florida. As your word says in James 3:17, "If we ask for wisdom, you will give it to us freely." Let these great leaders function in your wisdom. Guide them and bless them. Bless their families. Bless the State of Florida. Let it prosper mightily and experience your glory. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Hukill—

By Senator Hukill—

SR 1906—A resolution celebrating the 150th anniversary of the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse on May 11, 2018.

WHEREAS, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse has been of vital importance to the safe navigation of seafarers to Cape Canaveral and, today, serves as a beacon of light, shining brightly from Cape Canaveral across the Atlantic Ocean, and

WHEREAS, in 1848, the first completed lighthouse, which was built of brick and stood just 65 feet high, was built near the tip of Cape Canaveral and was visible for only 10 miles at sea, and

WHEREAS, construction of the current lighthouse, with its brick lining inside a cast iron exterior, was approved in 1858 and completed on May 11, 1868, after history intervened, halting progress as the Civil War raged, and

WHEREAS, a first-order Fresnel lens, developed by French physicist Augustin-Jean Fresnel in 1822, was installed and first lit on May 11, 1868, and the light, fueled by whale oil, could be seen for 22 miles at sea, and

WHEREAS, in 1873, the new lighthouse was painted with its "day-mark" black and white horizontal bands to make it easier to identify as a navigation point during daytime hours, and

WHEREAS, in 1893, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse and its keepers' cottages were dismantled as part of an 18-month relocation project and hauled by mule to their present-day location along specially constructed tracks to avoid corrosion from the encroaching sea, and

WHEREAS, in 1939, ownership of the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse and approximately 900 acres of land were granted to the United States Coast Guard, and

WHEREAS, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse is universally recognized as the historical basis for the location of the United States Air Force's Cape Canaveral Air Force Station and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Kennedy Space Center, and

WHEREAS, the advancement of automation in the 1960s eliminated the need for a lighthouse keeper, and, thereafter, the keepers' cottages were vacated and later demolished in the 1970s, and

WHEREAS, in 1967, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse's first-order Fresnel lens was automated and, in 1993, was replaced with a high-power search light, which is operated by the United States Coast Guard, and

WHEREAS, in 2000, ownership and maintenance of the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse was transferred to the United States Air Force's 45th Space Wing, making it the only operational lighthouse ever owned and maintained by the United States Air Force, and

WHEREAS, in 2002, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse Foundation was established to support the United States Air Force's 45th Space Wing in its efforts to preserve, restore, interpret, and exhibit the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse, and to inform and educate the public on its historical significance, and

WHEREAS, the efforts of both the 45th Space Wing and the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse Foundation ensure that this landmark remains a guiding beacon or "living light" amongst mighty metal giants supporting rockets that explore the vastness of space, and

WHEREAS, as rockets soar from the Cape and astronauts head for the Moon, Mars, and beyond, the evening skies are illuminated by a strong beacon of light still shining brightly from the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse across the Atlantic Ocean, and

WHEREAS, the State of Florida recognizes the tremendous efforts of individuals past and present to preserve and maintain the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse and the importance of educating the public on its historical significance to the Florida Space Coast, this state, and this nation, and that these efforts have helped protect what is known today as the oldest standing structure on the Cape, visited and admired by many, and

WHEREAS, on May 11, 2018, the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse will celebrate its 150th anniversary as a navigational aid, charting its shining course through the history of sea and space, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the 150th anniversary of the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse is celebrated.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution, with the Seal of the Senate affixed, be presented to the Cape Canaveral Lighthouse Foundation as a tangible token of the sentiments of the Florida Senate.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Father Reginald Jean Mary, Notre Dame d'Haiti Catholic Church, Miami:

Almighty God, source of all beings, we come before you this afternoon in the opening session for the year 2018 of the Florida Senate to express our gratitude to you for the gift of life, the gift of one another, and the gift of our elected officials, civic and community leaders, and servants who are present. We thank you for the gift of service, and we thank you for who you are and what you have accomplished in us, through us, and with us to the benefit of others.

As we open the Florida Senate Session for the year 2018, we ask you in the spirit of humility to bless all of us so that we can remain true to who we are, what you have called us to be, and so that we can become your servants. Grant us the spirit of wisdom and kindness of heart so that we can continue to look at the well-being of all. Let us not be driven by the love of power, rather by the power of love. Let us not strive for individual achievements, rather for collective achievements. Bless us not to seek success in our mission, rather to remain faithful to our calling and our constituents. Grant good health to your servants who are present so that they will be fit mentally, psychologically, and spiritually to carry out their duties. We commit every minute of this opening session into your hands. Let your glory shine, not just here, but everywhere; not just today, but tomorrow and forever; and everybody says, "Amen."

SR 1900—A resolution recognizing September 2018 as "Spinal Cord Injury Awareness Month" in Florida.

WHEREAS, the central nervous system is made up of two parts, the brain and the spinal cord, and

WHEREAS, the spinal cord is considered the information super-highway of the body because it contains bundles of neurons that carry signals to and from the brain, controlling many bodily functions, and

WHEREAS, after a spinal cord injury occurs, damaged neurons can no longer emit signals to or from the brain, and the injured person suffers permanent sensory loss and loss of muscle control, and

WHEREAS, in 2017, an estimated 285,000 individuals in the United States were living with a spinal cord injury, and

WHEREAS, it is estimated that the number of new cases involving spinal cord injury in the United States is approximately 17,500 each year, and

WHEREAS, the average age at injury for victims is 42 years, with men accounting for about 81 percent of all new spinal cord injury cases, and

WHEREAS, the National Spinal Cord Injury Statistical Center's 2017 data sheet shows that the four leading causes of spinal cord injury for both men and women were auto accidents, falls, acts of violence, and sports- and recreation-related activities, and

WHEREAS, the same report shows that the average annual cost of care for individuals who had a spinal cord injury ranged between about $352,000 and $1.08 million the first year after injury, with an estimated lifetime cost of between about $1.6 million and $4.8 million, depending on the severity of injury and the age of the individual at the time of injury, and

WHEREAS, over the past two decades, scientists have made major breakthroughs in understanding how to stimulate the regeneration of damaged neurons, restore function, and improve the quality of life for patients with spinal cord injuries in such areas as infertility and pain management, and

WHEREAS, scores of local, regional, and national organizations and researchers, doctors, volunteers, and others across this state are dedicated to improving the quality of life of people with spinal cord injuries and their families, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That September 2018 is recognized as “Spinal Cord Injury Awareness Month” in Florida.

SR 1902—A resolution recognizing May 2018 as “American Stroke Month” in Florida.

WHEREAS, stroke is a leading cause of serious long-term disability and the fourth leading cause of death in the United States, annually killing more than 130,000 people nationwide and 29,600 in Florida, and

WHEREAS, stroke prevalence is projected to increase by 20.5 percent between 2016 and 2030, and the direct medical costs for treating stroke are expected to almost triple during that period, from $71.6 billion to $184.1 billion, and

WHEREAS, nearly 80 million Americans have high blood pressure, a major controllable risk factor for stroke, including 44 percent of African-American adults, an incidence that is among the highest percentage of hypertension in any population in the world, and

WHEREAS, 58 percent of Americans do not know they are at risk for stroke, and one in three cannot recall any stroke warning signs or symptoms, which may include sudden numbness or weakness of the face, arm, or leg, especially on one side of the body; sudden confusion or difficulty in speaking or understanding; sudden difficulty in seeing in one or both eyes; sudden difficulty in walking; dizziness; loss of balance or coordination; and a sudden severe headache with no known cause, and

WHEREAS, the most common signs and symptoms of stroke can be remembered by the acronym F.A.S.T., which stands for face drooping, arm weakness, speech difficulty, and time to call 9-1-1, and

WHEREAS, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, atrial fibrillation is a common type of arrhythmia, an abnormal heart rhythm, and risk factors for atrial fibrillation include many of the same risk factors as stroke, including high blood pressure, heart failure, diabetes, advanced age hyperthyroidism, and heart disease, and

WHEREAS, those with atrial fibrillation have a risk of stroke that is five times greater than those without, and 15 percent to 20 percent of all people who have strokes also have atrial fibrillation, and

WHEREAS, atrial fibrillation is a serious health issue that warrants greater community awareness, which can improve the likelihood that people with atrial fibrillation will seek the treatment they need before suffering the devastating consequences of a stroke, and

WHEREAS, on May 1, 2018, the American Stroke Association will celebrate its Day of Action as part of American Stroke Month and as part of its year-round initiative, “Together to End Stroke,” launched in collaboration with the American Heart Association, which celebration brings stroke awareness to the forefront of Americans’ minds and encourages people to memorize and share the stroke warning signs and call 9-1-1 at the first sign of a stroke, and

WHEREAS, new and effective treatments have been developed to treat and minimize the severity and damaging effects of strokes, but much more research is needed, NOW, THEREFORE,
