PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Reverend Kyle Peddie, Corinth Baptist Church, Hosford:

Good morning, Lord. As our Florida Senate begins another week of decision-making for our great state, we pause just a moment and remember our neighbors in Bay and Calhoun Counties that are continuing to deal with wildfires this morning. We humbly ask for protection and provision for those in harm’s way and a very special blessing for those on the ground and in the sky, fighting those fires around the clock. May each firefighter make it home after the fires are extinguished.

We are grateful today for the opportunity to call on you for great discernment as this session winds down. I am personally grateful for our leadership in this great chamber today who have taken the time to listen to the needs of the people they represent. Help us always to remember your word says to set up the governments and institutions of man. Help us always to never forget about your divine presence in this process today. I ask a special blessing upon each Senator, their families, and their homes while they are here serving their constituents and servicing our state. Please grant them the wisdom and discernment they desire to make those most important decisions regarding laws and the state budget. We are also told in scripture to pray for those in leadership over us, so help us to always be found faithful in that endeavor. So today, we pray for President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris. We pray for Senators Rick Scott and Marco Rubio. We pray for Governor Ron DeSantis and Lieutenant Governor Jeanette Nuñez. We pray for Speaker of the House, Chris Sprowls, and we pray for Senate President, Wilton Simpson. Give them the wisdom of your son in making decisions today as they serve the great people of our state and nation.

Father, we ask for a lot of things every time we pray. You tell us in your word to ask. But I just want to stop and say, “Thank you.” Thank you for your love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance. May we demonstrate these fruits in our daily lives of leadership and citizenship. Thank you for allowing us the breath of life as we acknowledge today that you do not owe us one thing. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me; bless his holy name, the wonderful, matchless name of Jesus in whose name I pray. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Macie Butcher of Jacksonville; Hannah Dyal of Macclenny; and Matthew Mitchell of Middleburg, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

—was read the third time by title.

Pursuant to Rule 7.1, there being no objection, consideration of the following late-filed amendments was allowed:

Senator Brandes moved the following amendments which failed to receive the required two-thirds vote:

Amendment 1 (849842) (with title amendment)—Delete lines 83-148 and insert:

involving a weapon used violence against another any individual. The court may continue to extend the period of secure detention care in increments of up to 21 days each by conducting a hearing before the expiration of the current period to determine the need for continued secure detention of the child. At the hearing, the court shall make the required findings in writing to extend the period of secure detention. If the court extends the time period for secure detention care, it must ensure an adjudicatory hearing for the case commences as soon as is reasonably possible considering the totality of the circumstances. The court shall prioritize the efficient disposition of cases in which the child has served 60 or more days in secure detention care.

(c) A prolific juvenile offender under s. 985.255(1)(f) shall be placed on supervised release detention care with electronic monitoring or in secure detention care under a special detention order until disposition. If secure detention care is ordered by the court, it must be authorized under this part and may not exceed:

1. Twenty-one days unless an adjudicatory hearing for the case has been commenced in good faith by the court or the period is extended by the court pursuant to paragraph (b); or
2. Fifteen days after the entry of an order of adjudication.

As used in this paragraph, the term “disposition” means a declination to file under s. 985.15(1)(h), the entry of nolle prosequi for the charges, the filing of an indictment under s. 985.56 or an information under s. 985.557, a dismissal of the case, or an order of final disposition by the court.

(d) A prolific juvenile offender under s. 985.255(1)(f) who is taken into custody for a violation of the conditions of his or her supervised release detention must be held in secure detention until a detention hearing is held.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (2), a child may not be held in detention care for more than 15 days after following the entry of an order of adjudication.

~~(4)(a) The time limits in subparagraph (2)(a)2. subsections (2) and subsection (3) do not include periods of delay resulting from a continuance granted by the court for cause on motion of the child or his or her counsel or of the state. Upon the issuance of an order granting a continuance for cause on a motion by either the child, the child’s counsel, or the state, the court shall conduct a hearing at the end of each 72-hour period, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, to determine the need for continued secure detention of the child and the need for further continuance of proceedings for the child or the state.~~

~~(b) The period for supervised release detention care under this section is tolled on the date that the department or a law enforcement officer alleges that the child has violated a condition of the child’s supervised release detention care until the court enters a ruling on the violation. Notwithstanding the tolling of supervised release detention care, the court retains jurisdiction over the child for a violation of a condition of supervised release detention care during the tolling period. If the court finds that a child has violated his or her supervised release detention care, the number of days that the child served in any type of detention care before commission of the violation shall be excluded from the time limits under subsections (2) and (3).~~

(7) Any electronic monitoring ordered by a court as a condition of supervised release detention care under this section may be supervised by the department, a law enforcement agency, or the department and a law enforcement agency working in partnership. However, this subsection does not require a law enforcement agency to supervise a child placed on electronic monitoring, and it does not authorize a law enforcement agency to charge a child, or a child’s parent or guardian, for electronic

On motion by Senator Passidomo, by two-thirds vote, the following remarks were ordered spread upon the Journal.

Senator Burgess: Energy. Energy. One word to describe you, sir. Energy. It's contagious. We've spoken a lot about contagions lately in the last couple of years. Let me tell you about a good contagion—it's that man. He impacts all of us with that infectious smile, with his love, and with his genuine heart. You listen. You help. Every time we recognize somebody on the floor—I don't know if you've noticed—Senator Bean goes around and pats them on the back. He's like, "You did a great job. You made that person feel special today." You make every single person you come into contact with feel good and feel special. My wife reminds me all the time, she's like, "Danny, I know you've met with 15 people and you're really tired but this person here, this is their one meeting for the day so you need to make sure you make them feel special." I don't think you've ever had to be reminded of that. You always take time for people, and that's something that we all notice, we all see, we all watch, and we all love about you and your family. And boy, what a void there's going to be without you here, sir. We love you so much. Thank you for bringing your passion, your energy, your love, and your heart to these chambers and to this process.

Senator Harrell: A-A-Ron Bean—oh my God. How do you describe A-A-Ron Bean? Some of you may know that I have a bit of a propensity for alliteration. Senator Passidomo—President Passidomo—and the P's of the process and her passion for it. So, I'm going to use that technique just a little bit today to describe Aaron Bean. I've been so blessed to know you, Aaron, for 22 years. You saw the pictures up there. We were elected together in 2000 in the largest class—63 of us. Had we known our power, we could have elected our own Speaker. But, we didn't. However, the Bean presence was always there. When I first saw him, I saw that beaming smile, that boyish face. If you want to see the boyish face, there it is, and of course, that was sans the bushy beard that he has now and the bright eyes that never missed a thing. That whole month-long orientation we spent in Tallahassee, as you remember, and we were all captivated with his big-hearted nature and his bubbly personality and his boundless energy. He certainly was never bashful and rarely brief. We were all bewitched, bewildered, and besmitten with Aaron Bean. But you also have to note that Senator Bean has some big, brilliant, bodacious ideas. He was very much a part of brainstorming the program for Medicaid Reform if you remember back in 2004 and 2005 and he was truly the big boss of the Health and Human Services Council, which combined both Healthcare Committee and Appropriations Committee under Speaker Rubio, as we just saw. He was a very bold part of the implementation of Medicaid Reform and where we were in 2012 and 2013 as we moved forward. So, he was truly the big boss of the whole Medicaid Reform movement. But, did you know that some people may consider him a bully? When he brainstormed The Biggest Loser Contest so that everybody could become as buff as he is. However, there were some who subconsciously felt bugged by that, especially when they were given these big Bean bars of chocolate candy. They were concerned that they may have to become bulimic to counter the Bean bars. In honor of your Biggest Loser, I have a Beanie Baby named Buff for you, and I wish you the very best, A-A-Ron. I am so blessed to have you as part of my life for 22 years. You are certainly the best there is daily.

Senator Jones: I call him A.B.—to Aaron Bean: First, I want to start off with Abby. Abby, I'll never forget last year. We talked for two hours in Orlando and that's how you and I connected even before I really just sat down and got to know who Aaron Bean was, realizing I knew Senator Bean prior to him coming over to the House. To the Bean Sprouts—I think that is a good name to call you all. Let me tell you, your dad is amazing. You have an amazing dad and thank you for sharing him with us. My first time meeting Senator Bean was when I was a freshman. He was over here in the Senate, and he came over to do The Biggest Loser. Never having met him, I just knew he had all this energy. I said, "Hell, I wonder what this guy's drinking?" He was just so full of life. Just come to find out, when I asked, "Who is this guy?" everyone was like, "This is Aaron Bean—he's always like this." It's true. You have been consistent since 2012, and so that's how I know, when Aaron Bean comes in the room, that's who you are. When I had the opportunity to come here to the Senate and was placed over on Health Policy Appropriations, just to know you were the Chair of that committee. You were consistent. You were the same. I don't care how I was or the committee was, you had that same type of energy when you walked over here. You will be missed. Not just in this chamber, but you will definitely be missed in this building because even if we had a dull day within the chambers, when you get to the rostrum, you always seem to neutralize the spirits here within this room. Abby, thank you for sharing him with us. We'll definitely miss you, brother, but I'm sure we'll see you sprouting up somewhere else. Thank you so much.

Senator Cruz: BLAB BLAB BLAB BLAB—that is what I learned! "Be Like Aaron Bean!" That's what BLAB is about, Aaron. I want you to know that my first encounter, too, with Senator Bean was in 2010 in the House. Along comes this man with more energy than I've ever seen, walking down the aisle of the House talking about who lost the most pounds and who the winner was. Then, I looked forward every year to your chocolate bars. Because what you do, what you've done, and what you will always do is add levity to this process. I want to thank you for always making me feel like I counted. I want to thank you for your respect towards the process. I also want to thank you for your ability to make everyone love you so much. You're such a special man and I want to Be Like Aaron Bean—BLAB. I want you to move forward for the next 30 years and make this the time of your life. I want you to know that these halls will not be the same without Aaron Bean, so I'm going to do my best to "Be Like Aaron Bean." Thank you.

Senator Farmer: Abby, please stop, because you're going to make me cry. I wanted to get up early because I know this is going to be really hard. You know, making a difference is what it's all about. It's what it's all about. It's, I think, what drives us. I've talked about it before. Why do you want to run for office? You want to help people. You want to make a difference, and I can't think of anybody who has exemplified that more than Aaron Bean. There's a special gift to make people feel special, and what Senator Burgess said is so right. For us, it's meeting after meeting after meeting. It's encounter after encounter after encounter. It's repetitive. We say some of the same things over and over again. But for that person, that constituent, that advocate that maybe drove hours to get here, took time off of work to get here, it means so much to them. Aaron would remind people of that. But he didn't have to remind them of it because he lived it. You guys know what I'm talking about. We have this special blessing and honor of being Senators that can kind of inherently make us feel special. But even we have bad days, and Aaron would come along and he would make you feel special, maybe, when you needed it. He did that for me recently and it meant the world to me. And it's personified in what we saw a couple of times, "I'll be your host." He wasn't just a chair. He wasn't just somebody leading a meeting. He was your host. The host with the most—the most compassion. Look what he has done in the field of health care in particular. It has been a life's mission. We worked on some things together this year that I will never forget, that mean so much to me. The host with the most energy—we've all talked about that. That's going to be the theme of this thing. Red Bull tried to patent this guy and sneak in and get some genetics out of him to make their energy drink better. But really the most love for everyone he came in touch with, everyone he worked with, making you feel special and making you feel important. Look at these galleries—all these people here, all these lives that you've helped in some way or another. Diverse groups, diverse interests, diverse anything, but there's one common thread—how special you are. You may have compiled also—well I assume you or your family had some say in it—that may have been the best musical compilation we've ever had in a going away video. Abby, if that was you, gosh, you hit it. The Green Day song is one that's always been special for myself and my daughter, Abby. There's one verse, "So take the photographs and still frames in your mind, hang it on a shelf in good health and good time, tattoos of memories and dead skin on trial, for what it's worth it was worth all the while." Man, it's been a long "all the while for you," Senator Bean, and every minute was so impactful and so special to everyone around you. And yeah, you don't have to go home, but you can't stay here. I know you're going to do something special because you are special. In closing, I'm just going to say, "Farmer loves Bean." Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator Albritton: You know, when we get elected, we're given an opportunity, and that opportunity is to do something with the influence and the authority—or some would call the power—that we have. It's been very interesting to me. Some of you, sometimes you'll catch me—and over the years you'll continue to do this—I like to just sit and watch people. You can learn so much about somebody the way they respond after something happens or who they go to when something encouraging happens to them and who they go to to share that. I have paid close attention to you. I would expect everybody in this room and everybody within the sound of my voice would say this would be true of you, and that is one of your superpowers—authenticity. What I mean by that is that you're Aaron Bean every minute of every day. We've all seen people who will behave differently around different crowds. They'll say one thing over here to make this group happy and one thing over here to make this group happy, even though they're in conflict. And you, you don't do that. I would say your greatest strength is authenticity because in the world, to make an impact, what you know, and we all know, that's a necessary first step. The second thing that I've noticed about you—it has been mentioned a little bit here on the floor here today—but how you have an impact on other people's lives. I think that's because, at least for me, I think it's because you're a known quantity, and what I mean by that is, in this process, it's always difficult to fully let your guard down. Let's be honest, right? Somebody telling me the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. How's my action going to be perceived or how's it going to impact my ability to influence others or is this going to hurt me? Is this going to help me? What's this going to do? But with you, what I have found is it's exceptionally easy to let my guard down because I know your second superpower is that you have my best interest at heart every day. You're about goodness; you're about truth; you're about others. You are the epitome of what love with skin on looks like. That's the greatest compliment that I can come up with to share with you and to thank you, Aaron Bean. I'm better because of you. Love you.

Senator Book: I'm going to go real quick here because I don't want to ugly cry on the floor any more because A-A-Ron says that's not a good look for me. I call him A-A-Ron because Leader Braynon taught me that's how you refer to A-A-Ron. You're the heart and soul of this place. When things go real bad, we look to you to bring it up. What you don't know about Aaron Bean—I'm gonna tell you something you don't know—okay, cool. You know how to tell when Aaron Bean is mad—do you know? Does any one of you know how to tell when Aaron Bean is mad? How? Do you know? No? You gotta look at his tie; you gotta look at his tie, members. Let me tell you, there are only two times I've seen Aaron Bean mad. He was wearing his skull and crossbones tie and his spider tie. Those are the only two times. I looked at him that day, and I said, "Aaron, what's going on, what is wrong?" And he goes, "How do you know?" I said, "It's the tie—it is a black tie with skull and crossbones." That's how you know. Because the truth is, Aaron is always happy, and you're always bringing everybody up. Not only do you make Senator Albritton better, you make all of us better. I have enjoyed learning from you. I have enjoyed getting to spend time with you. You give so much of yourself. One of my favorite memories with Aaron was when we did this crazy thing where we walked for 42 hours straight in the Capitol—I don't advise it—on a treadmill all night. Who came at one o'clock in the morning when I was tired? Aaron Bean. He walked for an hour on that treadmill, put on his clothes, and came and did it. Nobody was around—nobody knew. But you care. You care about each and every one of us. You care about this process, and we're all better for you. You are my friend. You always will be, and you are the heart and soul of this place.

Senator Boyd: So many things have been said, Mr. President Pro Tempore, that I agree with you and I think everyone in here agrees with you. Senator Jones said he remembers you from the House when you used to come up on the floor and do The Biggest Loser. That's probably my first memory of you. I didn't know who this guy was and what the heck was going on here, but that grew to be my favorite day on the floor of the Florida House. You would come over, and it was just like, don't stop, this is so much fun. You came across, as a young freshman over there to me in the House, as a guy that was just about the process, about doing what's right, but having fun as well. Two quick things I want to say. One—you have time for everyone. You never act busy, you never act like you're in a hurry, and you never push a freshman off because you got bigger, and probably more important, things to do. I appreciate that, and I know my colleagues do as well. I don't want to presume to speak for the freshman class, but I think everyone in our class would agree—you took us under your wing when we got here. We had those Monday night meetings that were informative—very helpful—but also a lot fun. We even had graduation—you gave out gifts. It was a time that meant a lot to me and meant a lot to our class and just kind of helping us get acclimated to the Senate way. Forever we will be indebted to you for that, but so happy to have shared a part of my legislative life with you and what you meant to me and others. I'll never forget. Thank you so much.

Senator Bradley: Now I have had the pleasure—oh, this is off to a good start—of having Aaron in my life and my family for such a long time. I hit the brother-in-law jackpot. I remember the very first time that I met you. Rob and I were at UF. Almost 35 years ago, it doesn't seem possible, but Rob and I were at UF. We were driving home for the day to meet his parents and his sister, Abby, and her then boyfriend, Aaron. We pulled in to the house and on the front lawn were Abby and Aaron, both cheerleaders—not surprising—from JU. They were on the front lawn, and they were doing lifts. Aaron had Abby up in the air, and they were doing lifts. Before long, Rob and I had gotten out and joined them, and they were encouraging us to try the same lifts that we had no business doing. And thank goodness, there was no cell phone video. I might have been inclined to think that was just a one off particularly fun day, and then I realized that's every time we're together with the Beans. A few years later, your public service started. I remember waving signs for you on the corner of 14th Street when you ran for City Commission, and your rise in public service has been meteoric. You've gone from City Council, to the State House, to the Senate, to Pro Tempore, and I will tell you that you are the same man today that I met all those years ago. Relentlessly positive, never about power, always about people, and never a cynic because you live by a simple truth—kindness matters. It matters even when you don't agree; it always matters. That was the heart of your public service. It was making sure that you lift up your community and lift up the state. You've been the state's cheerleader for the last 25 years. They say that you really know a person's heart, not by looking at a person's checkbook, but by looking at their calendar. I've never known anyone whose calendar looks the way Aaron Bean's does. It's every weekend. It's every night of every weekend. And it may be the local football banquet, emceeding the Rotary dinner, doing the business club, or hosting some of the state's largest fundraising galas for wonderful causes. Your generosity with your time is unmatched, and I admire it so, so much. That doesn't happen without a team, and you crisscrossing the state with three special boys, always including a half of the day to stop at a state park or an arcade or a go-kart track in a minivan with Abby packing snacks and making it fun. Abby has been your biggest cheerleader. We don't know what the future is, but I know that it will be fun. I know that it will be meaningful. I know that your family is so ready for you to be home to love you.

Senator Hooper: It dawns on me this morning that, when the video came on, there are people in the gallery and in this chamber that had never seen you without a beard. You're a pretty handsome dude, and you still are. It also was interesting—the video opened with an exchange between Speaker, now Senator Rubio and yourself. For those of you who weren't here in 2007 and 2008 in the House, no matter how hectic—well, the House is always hectic, let me rephrase that—at its most hectic times, at the end of the session, there was always the Thought of the Day, presented by Representative Aaron Bean. As bad as an issue that we ever debated, we ever argued about, we got mad about, even reading the bills in full, we ended that session with something that made everybody feel better, because of you. So that was a reflection to me that, there's something wrong with this guy. He's not right. I was going to say "As a young freshman," but I can't. As an old freshman in the House, I was punished by being put on the Health and Human Services Appropriations Subcommittee chaired by Representative Bean. I thought at the time that was punishment. Those of you that have ever served on that subcommittee know that you're going to be a failure every session. You cannot meet the needs of the most frail. We could never meet the needs that we needed to do and it's like, "How depressing!" some days, to me. I feel like a failure because I know the needs are great and the solutions are not going to come. Maybe next session. But somebody's got to lead that parade. You got the short straw in both chambers, obviously. There were days like, how is Representative or Senator and President Bean going to make this tolerable? I'm going to give you one example in the House that, in the tough times, the tough discussions, the tough decisions, we sit down and call the meeting to order and in front of the dais is this giant bowl. Representative Bean's instructions to the audience were like, "Here's the deal—if you keep your comments under three minutes, we've got a free Moon Pie in this bowl and you're welcome to come on down, get yourself a Moon Pie, enjoy it. As long as you keep your comments under three minutes." It's just something so simple. One day it was giving away toothbrushes. Aaron Bean made Health and Human Services Appropriations tolerable—a pretty tough skill, my friend. You will be missed. I appreciate you and I appreciate Abby. My wife has gotten to know Abby very well. They're probably watching you on TV. She's way somewhere—they're back there. We love you guys and we will see each other after this session is over. Thank you for everything you've helped me do.

Senator Perry: I was a sophomore in the House and this guy comes in on The Biggest Loser and you're sitting back there. I'd never met Senator Bean at the time, but you're thinking, "Who is this larger-than-life person? Who is this person that kind of dominates and takes over just by speaking about this thing?" But then you get to know him and you really understand who he is. He's genuine. He's thoughtful. He's skilled—a skilled negotiator. He understands what he's doing, although he does have one fault. We have a little group that we play cards with—it's called the Fight Club. I don't know why we call it the Fight Club. Someone raises 25 cents and it's all this moaning going on, but we still call it the Fight Club. One thing that Bean doesn't have—he doesn't have a poker face. You can tell when he's smiling. You're saying, "You can't get away with that." One skill—you've got a lot of other skills—that's one you don't have. They say imitation is the best form of flattery. I tried. You know, I gave it a chance. I gave it a shot, but there's no one like Aaron Bean. You've been a blessing. It's great to get to know you on a personal level and your family. He's just a great guy to be around. You've blessed this institution. You've blessed the Senate. You've blessed everybody around here and it doesn't mean that you're going to stop blessing—it just means you're moving on to another group to bless them. Thank you.

Senator Stargel: Aaron and Abby Bean are probably our oldest, longest friends in this process. My husband was elected and he got the honor of sitting next to Aaron Bean on the floor. He came home every day telling me about how Aaron Bean this, Aaron Bean that. So Aaron Bean was a legend before I even got here. Plus, I had the chance of watching and hanging out with Abby. There's a saying that says people will often forget what you've said, but they'll never forget how you made them feel, and I would say that you're the feeling of this chamber and you will be missed. There are going to be pages for years who served this time and they sat back there and didn't do anything, but you always go around and push the buttons. Because you weren't sitting here thinking about—I mean you were thinking about the things we were doing that were heavy—but you were thinking about these kids that are in the back who, this was their day up here and they wanted to have an opportunity to stand up. Every time you go to the guard shack, when you're going in the evening after hours, you're just loading them up with candy to the point that they're having a hard time doing their job because they've got all these candies and snacks in their hands. Because you're thinking about the person in the guard shack more than what was coming and going. There are so many people in this process who say, "Do you know who I am?" But for you, when you leave this process, they are going to know who you were and they are going to remember the things that you've done. They will have forgotten me and probably most of us in this room. But looking back, people will be telling Aaron Bean stories of what you've done, how you've impacted, how you made them feel. I just think that's a legacy bigger than any other legacy we've got going on. I know, Senator Book, you said you can tell when he's having a bad day. Aaron Bean does have bad days. But the difference between Aaron Bean's bad days and my bad days or others' bad days is that he doesn't let his bad day affect my day. You've never done that. You're right beside us. Things are tough; things are challenging. I will say, most of all, when we had COVID, this was a tough time for our state. Things we had never done before—closing down the Capitol, people couldn't be here. There was a lot of uncertainty, a lot of anxiety and having you in that rostrum with your levity and your excitement and your enthusiasm was the perfect thing at the perfect time and you were the perfect one to do it. I know, previous time, people would say you didn't take it seriously enough or you would kind of get chastised for that—you were perfect. You were the perfect man to do that job in that time and I think our chamber is better, our state is better, and you are absolutely going to be missed.

Senator Broxson: Aaron came over to the Panhandle, and one of my constituents said—because Aaron can be shocking when you first meet him—said, "Who is this guy? Can you describe him?" I said, "He is indescribable." Too extraordinary to be described. Aaron, I cannot think of any person that God shined down on more than you to give you a ninth and tenth year in this chamber because your star came out and it shined brightly. We will miss you greatly, my friend. God bless you.

Senator Ausley: As Senator Harrell has said, there were four of us in here that started in that class of 63 and others who were connected with us. If you think about it, this is when term limits first took effect. This is the first time that so many of us were coming in. We didn't know our power, clearly—where some of us have gone: four presidents of the Florida Senate, a United States Senator, a former lieutenant governor, and a CFO in that class, multiple mayors, and members of Congress. But, there is only one Aaron Bean in that class. So, I know you've been looking at the tapes, and the video was amazing. We were really good friends back then. I remember that—maybe you don't. We've been to your house. I've seen Travis—we did a triathlon. You all had made meals for a huge number of us. You all have been to our home many times, and Bill and I consider y'all great personal friends. What we haven't talked about today, though, is some of these hard policy decisions that you've had to make. We really got to know each other when I was the ranking Democrat on the Healthcare Council. I think we called it back then. We're swimming in money right now. There were some years where it was really, really, really rough. When you're starting to make the type of cuts that we were making in health care, we are really impacting people's lives. That's not to say that everything we do in here doesn't impact people's lives, but when you remember the rally of probably thousands of families of people with disabilities with umbrellas, it's a rainy day, telling us to use that rainy day fund. That's a memory I won't forget. And all of the debates and battles we had around Kid Care, but through all of that—the cuts, the hard, tough decisions—you never lost a heart for the people of Florida. That's what shines through—you have a heart for the people of Florida. You have a heart for your community. You have a heart for the State of Florida. So to the one Aaron Bean, I am so grateful I had the chance to work with you for those eight years. What a special privilege for me to have been able to spend my first two years in the Senate with you, and to see the culmination of the work for the State of Florida and your heart for the State of Florida. Thank you.

Senator Rouson: Aaron Bean. A-A-Ron. A-B-Bean. Many different little nicknames, but one human being. Chair Stargel said moments ago that people will never forget how you make them feel. This can be a tough process. Votes can be excruciating. The preparation leading up to the votes can be excruciating. But you made me feel like a respected human being in this process. Last year, on the day of my anniversary, March 17th, the day I celebrated 23 years of sobriety, we were hearing a bill in your committee, and you acknowledged that publicly. You had everybody on the committee stand up and give me a standing ovation. What you didn't realize, and what I didn't realize, is that we weren't doing that for me. We were doing it for those that were struggling with addictions, those who were struggling with recovery. The text messages that came after that—I should have shown them to you—thanked me for standing up for them, but I had to thank you for making us feel like we were a part of and not separated. You have spiced this process with humor and with passion. Your body language gives you away. You were presenting a bill one day in committee, and I noticed that you looked burdened—and it touched me. I came up to you afterward and said, "Bean, are you feeling this?" and you thanked me for recognizing that you too get burdened in the process. But you come back another day to fight on and that's what I've learned from you in this process. I want to thank you for being who you are to me, to every other Senator, and to those we represent because we are not here by accident. We're not here by chance. We're here because it was a part of the design to give back and help others, and I'll never forget how you make me feel. Thank you.

Senator Wright: I became a Senator, as you all know that are in this body, in very short order. Three weeks after Dorothy Hukil passed away, I was nominated to be the Senator. I came to this body like a deer in the headlights not knowing anybody. I mentioned it the other day when we were honoring Chair Stargel, that the first event I went to was at The Moon, I believe it was called. Aaron and Abby Bean asked me to sit with them, and I thought, "Things are going to be alright. These are great people." You two made it happen. So I watched you, as Senator Albritton has said, I've been watching you and thinking, "I just need to do what he does and I'm going to get every bill passed." But Senator Perry has already taken that role and is doing a fine job at it, if I have to say so myself. One thing I like to kid you about a little bit is when I was growing up, as the oldest of four boys, if my mother used my name, Tom Wright, I knew I was in trouble. So who comes into the breakroom and I'm in there—Senator Bean. And what do I hear? "Tom Wright!" You don't know the chills that went down my back. I thought, "What have I done now?" You made me feel so special and I appreciate you. I hope to be anywhere as half as good as you as a Senator. Thank you, sir.

Senator Pizzo: Everyone has made appropriate mention of what a larger-than-life personality you are. But, I do want to draw attention to something you'll all know and you'll all acknowledge. It's not just the power and how jovial you are and the energy that you bring—it's also what you're able to absorb. You absorb a lot of people's pain and discomfort, anxiety, and as much energy as your project, it's what you absorb. Four days after the collapse at Surfside, you said, "Hey, I want to come down. I don't want to get in the way. I don't want to bother anybody. I don't want any fanfare. I don't want anything. Is there anything I can do?" I said, "Come." Because I know that power of not just, you know, IDFs here. You're like, "Hey, Pizz, who's this guy?" I'm like, "That's the Consulate General of Israel." You're like, "Okay, all right. Cool." And you and Abby came, it was June 28th, four days after. I took you up to the sixth floor at 8701 to look down. I brought you up there, selfishly, for me, because you can absorb people's pain as well. I also wanted to bear witness to that pile that you were staring at, and you were blown away—you were, my goodness. I don't know how much time you'll ever need. I don't know how you exercise cathartic behavior, but what I appreciate about you most is, even when your mom passed away, you reached out to tell me what a great job I was doing on constituent services and unemployment. Your energy is matched only by your power, also, to quietly assume others' pain, and that's what I'm most appreciative about. And to know you.

Senator Diaz: President Bean, like others have mentioned, the first time I kind of met you was when you walked into the House Chamber and the first thought that came to my mind was, “Where did they get this crazy guy? Where did he come from and what is he selling?” Somehow along the way, after being over here, you wrangled me into being your co-sponsor on The Biggest Loser. I don’t even know how that happened. I will tell you, we’re going to miss you for all the reasons that have been mentioned. I’m sure some of the Chairs, and I’m sure President Designate Passidomo, are thinking right now, who are we going to put in when we need to speed up an agenda, cut people off, and not have them feel like they’re cut off? Who are we going to put in at these committee meetings that is going to present the bill, basically, for the sponsors without them even knowing that you’re doing that? It’s been an incredible honor to serve with you, and everything that’s been said is true. I thank you for being available. On days when things get rough here, all you have to do is have a conversation with Aaron Bean and somehow, somehow, he just makes you feel better about the day. I know you care. Thank you for your service. Thank you for what you have brought to this body. We will be looking for you in Miami so we can have some pan con tomate, you and Abby. Thank you.

Senator Baxley: Wow, what a ride! I was on that original bus. The Bean family knows we didn’t know what we were getting into, really, when 62 freshmen showed up. You’ve heard some of that recap, and it is exciting to think what’s happened in your world and mine, and in our world over that period of time. You know, when I see Beanman, I always think of one thing—fun! Let’s make it fun! He makes anything fun, even if his house just burned down, even if his mother died, he makes life fun for everybody that comes around him. He chooses joy, and much of that, I know, is Abby. Abby is the secret sauce, the weapon of how to hold all this together. Once I discovered the Bean/Bradley cabal and realized people really care. Whole families care what happens in this place and in this state. You’re an inspiration that we could do more than we ever thought we could do, and yet he has this humility as he does great accomplishments. One of the things that was so precious to me—and he’ll probably kill me for even telling this story—but when we came, it was chaos! They weren’t used to having 62 new freshmen in the Florida House. Some time later he said, “You know, the whole first week I was here, I parked at Kleman Dome. I didn’t realize I had a reserved parking place in the building!” That’s how selfless he was. He didn’t think he deserved a special parking place. He’s over there parking at Kleman with all the folks. That just typified that innocence and joy of engaging people, and that he would even tell that story on himself because most of us are too prideful to even share something like that. Yet, it was funny because it showed you how down to earth he is, how reachable he is, and how he wants to be that encourager to someone else. We had a great experience of having a study together here. It started here in the Florida House and I’m not sure who all was combined in that—but it was Rick Warren’s book about The Purpose Driven Life. Why am I here? Even on the planet. We even had Rick Warren come, and he was in the Capitol and talked to all kinds of people. We had this little meet-up. We called it “Forty Days of Purpose in Sixty Days of Chaos” and we made it through and it strengthened us. We had this follow-up and came together to debrief and I just said, “What happened here?” It was quiet. I mean, it was so serious you could have heard a pin drop in that room and finally, Bean says, “It’s not about me. It’s not about me.” Everything here will tell you it’s all about you, and he had his feet on the ground. This experience reminded him that the purpose-driven life is not about me—it’s about others. I want to thank you for giving that example to all of us and choosing joy—that we don’t have to wallow in our sorrows and that we can take on tough tasks if we but follow the path God has for us. Thank you, Beanman.

Senator Brodeur: So I’m starting to run for the House in 2010, and prior to that, friends had said, “What do you want to do with your service?” I said, “I would love to do health policy and health appropriations.” They said, “There’s only one guy in history who’s ever done that. His name is Representative Bean—you should look to emulate that guy. But he’s on a little bit of a gap now so if you get elected you’ll get to meet him in the future.” Then 2012 rolls around, President Bean makes it into the Senate, and like everybody else, he comes bounding down the hallway doing The Biggest Loser, and I was like, “I got to follow that guy? How on earth am I going to have any kind of career following that? That’s how you do it?” As we’ve gone through the years, you start to think, “Man, this has got to be an act; this can’t be real.” As we go through the process, we start to meet family members and we go, “Hey, is he like this all the time?” And family members go, “Yes, he is.” I said, “What’s it like in the morning? Before I have my first cup of coffee I’m a little bit grumpy.” And they said, “No, no. He comes right down.” [Impersonating Bean] “A good morning to you! Who wants a cup of orange juice? It’s fresh from Florida. It’s traveled a long way to be here. It is delicious!” Abby, bless you. Bless you for loaning him to us and for letting him be a part of this process. I wish you all the best of luck when he comes back. I will tell you—from the beginnings of the health care policies, to our freshman orientation, to the tips that he’s given, to the career he’s had. I’ve gotten the chance to work with a lot of members in this process—House and Senate, a lot of leadership—but I think the member whose career and spirit I would be most honored to emulate is President Bean. If I got out of here and somebody said, “You did it a lot like Bean,” that would be a full career for me, sincerely. Although he’s number four in your district handbook, he’s number one in your heart—Senator Bean!

Senator Gibson: Turnabout is fair play, and I’m pretty sure I saw a couple of hairstyles or haircuts in that video. Natural or unnatural, your hair was different. People in the gallery missed it because they weren’t here last year. I came into the House in 2002. I still didn’t really get to know Aaron then. I don’t know why that is, but he was still telling the same jokes and energizing at the end of our session. I’m just excited to have had the opportunity to get to know you better in the Senate and build a relationship. I personally don’t think you’ve ever had a bad day—if you have, it’s very much disguised. Your energy level is really therapeutic in my opinion. It takes the air out of the chamber—the bad air—when we’re having those controversial bills. I don’t know if you all noticed—you probably didn’t—last week in the video, the food bank event that was on the video, Senator Bean was there too. We partnered doing that food distribution. Democrats and Republicans can partner and can be friends and work in the same direction, and I appreciate that. I appreciate your leadership. I was so excited for you when I learned that you were going to be President Pro Tempore and very proud for the home boy to be in leadership. I’ve appreciated you very much. I know we’re going to do some other things back in Jacksonville too, and I look forward to our continued relationships. Abby, you’ve always been such a sweetheart—always welcoming and hugging, and I appreciate you. I think you’re the Steady Eddie in the relationship, in the marriage, or Steady Earlene or whatever your name needs to be. I don’t know how you live every day with Aaron. I don’t know how you do it. I’m not even sure he sleeps at night—does he? Oh, okay, I got that answer. Thank you so much Senator Bean. You don’t really say no, you say, “Mm, not sure.” So I appreciate that too. Thank you for being a friend and a colleague.

Senator Gruters: Obviously, listening to all of these people today—all of our colleagues—you could tell there is a lot of love for you, a lot of love for Abby, and a lot of love for your family. Thank you, on behalf of Florida and everybody, for your service. When I first came up to this process, I saw this car driving around in the parking lot and I said, “Who is this guy with a ‘Choose Life’ license plate instead of a legislative tag?” Small things like a license plate, you would think, “What’s going on?” But to me, that told me you were committed. You were committed to the issue. Senator Perry talked a little bit about our weekly get together and being in the Fight Club. The worst thing about you leaving is that I won’t have gas money every week ever again. He is literally the worst poker player. Now his wife, Abby, is probably the best player. She came in this last year and started cleaning everybody’s clock and did a real good job. What I want to say about you, Bean—we’ve had so many discussions about the process. I always see you in the morning, first thing at breakfast—you bring everybody up. You’re one of the nicest people that I know in the process. You’re committed to the issues you care about. You’re committed to everybody in this room, and that’s why you can feel the love with what everybody is saying. I love you as a person. I love you, Abby. I love your whole family. You guys are absolutely incredible people. I know that no matter where you go after this, the sky is the limit. Thank you so much for your service.

Senator Rodrigues: I’ll be brief because I’m sure there are still others that wish to speak. One of the things I most appreciate about President Bean was the orientation he put together for the freshmen coming into the Senate. A lot of us come over here from the House and we think we’ve been in this process for eight years—we know what we’re doing. But the Senate is a whole different animal than the House is. To have someone like Senator Bean put together an orientation that brought us together—it was the Democrat and the Republican freshmen who went through that orientation and learned what it means to be a Senator in the Florida State Senate. It’s something that I will always treasure, and I've kept the materials that you'd given us and still refer to them. The other thing that I think really sets you apart, and others have alluded to this, is how you make each of us feel special. I remember in my first session as a Senator. I got an envelope on my desk and I opened it up and it was a newspaper clipping. It was a clipping of me in other areas of the state reporting on a bill I'd presented, and it was from you. You said, "Congratulations, you've done something I haven't been able to do in twenty years—you've gotten covered in my local paper." A. You took the time to find that and send it to me speaks to the fact that you make us feel special, and B. You have the confidence to be so self-deprecating it speaks to your character. You—and I've heard others say this, but they haven't said it on the floor so I'm going to be the first—are the poster child for why term limits are a bad thing. We're going to miss you.

Senator Berman: I met you through The Biggest Loser like everyone else and you gave us those candy bars to sabotage all of us. Everything everybody said is so true. What I love about you is I would see you with constituents or on a Zoom call, and you would always make sure to compliment me, and that was so appreciated and often doesn't happen here in this process. That's what makes you so special because you do care about other people. The other thing I want to say as someone who doesn't get to be on the rostrum, but we get to see you on the rostrum and you're amazing and I know that the staff—and some of us even—take bets how long it'll take to finish the session. The over/under is always good when you're up there. Thank you so much for everything. You will leave a big hole here.

Senator Passidomo: I actually wrote some notes down here because I didn't think I could get through it. Aaron Bean would give you the shirt off his back, and actually, when you see the photos, that might not have been bad 20 years ago. Aaron's sincerity combined with his larger-than-life personality are unique in this chamber. He's been a great partner to the shy and retiring President—taking on such important issues and time-consuming tasks as The Biggest Loser, new member training, the ought-to-be-a-bill Page Mock Session training. Any of you who walk behind the chamber when Senator Bean was doing that training, it's just a joy to see the pages presenting bills and Aaron Bean acting as President during that process is unbelievable. He's done so much more. I got to sit next to him for two years and it was just two of the best years that I've had in this body because we talked about every bill. Everything that was being presented and the people presenting them. It was just a really unique experience for me to be next to Senator Bean. Your departure will leave a huge hole in the heart of the Senate family. And I personally, will miss your wit, your humor, your enthusiasm, and your style. There will be no replacement for Aaron Bean. However, I am interviewing, right now, for my Aaron Bean. All applications are welcome, and I noticed several of you were trying out today. Aaron, thank you so much. Abby, thank you for sharing Aaron with us. You may be gone, but you will not be forgotten.

Senator Mayfield: There's really not a whole lot that I can add to what people have said, Aaron. You know they say behind every successful man is a dedicated wife and partner, and you could not have had a better dedicated partner and wife than Abby Bean. We all love you and we all love Abby more. You know, I do remember, it was the Class of 2000, you guys came in and you were so kind to my family when Stan was diagnosed. You invited us to your house. My kids still talk about that. We did a tour of a nuclear sub, which has never happened again, and we did paintballing in your yard. My kids still talk about that. "Let's go back to Aaron Bean's house!" I have said this before and I don't think we really realize that we all grow up in this process. Our kids grow up in this process, and when you look at how young your children were when you started this process, and you look at them now as grown men—the time just goes by so fast. You are loved by so many. To have Governor Bush do a piece for you and then to have Speaker, now Senator Rubio, do a piece for you, that is just a testament to how much you are loved and thought about. I could just go on and on of things you have done for us, but I am not going to do that. We probably should have taken an intermission in this presentation, Mr. President.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

On behalf of the Senate, Majority Leader Mayfield presented President Pro Tempore Bean with a plaque and a photo album covering his years of service in the Senate and the House.

On behalf of the Senate, the President presented Senator Bean with a framed ceremonial copy of CS for SB 60 (2017) Children Obtaining Driver Licenses, ch. 2017-8, Laws of Florida, which he sponsored that became law during his legislative career.

Senator Bean: Mr. President, thank you, and the Florida Senate, you are way too kind. Abby did that video. I didn't call Jeb Bush. I didn't call Marco Rubio, and so, thank you, Abby. That was spectacular. Thank you, so much, for your kind remarks, Florida Senate. I'm no good at goodbyes. I'm no good at all. I thought about getting Senator Perry to do this speech for me. I also thought about the Irish goodbye, where you just disappear, but President Simpson said both of those were not options for me. The Beans have a code that if we're ever at a party or an event and we want to politely tell the others in our family that we're out, we'll say, "I've got to get something out of my car," or, "I need to get something out of my car." If a family member says that, "I need to get something out of my car," they can say anything else—"I'll be right back," or, "I'll be" whatever it is—we know they're not coming back.

I want to thank the voters of Senate District 4 who gave me this opportunity. Ten years ago, many did not know me at all, and our last poll says 46 percent still don't, but it has been a great honor of my life. You see, I was never supposed to win. I was never supposed to reach any political mountain. Every first time climbing elected office, I was always told there was no pathway—no way I could win. When I ran for local office in the City of Fernandina Beach, I was told I was way too young and needed to wait four or five years at least. I became the youngest mayor in our city's history. When I ran for the Florida House, it was, "Can't win," because the other party's registration was twice that of my own, but I became the first Republican to win that House seat since the Civil War. When I ran for the Senate it was, "Can't win," because you come from little teeny tiny Nassau County which only has 14 percent of the seats. And yet now, here we are. Thank goodness, I didn't listen to naysayers. I listened to cheerleaders—my mom, Speaker Allan Bense, and Marco Rubio were early cheerleaders. Senators Jim King and Don Gaetz were too. Senator Rob Bradley and Senator Jenn Bradley, or as we know them, Uncle Rob and Aunt Jenn, cheered us on from the very beginning. Sherpa D.J. Johnson, Peret Pass, Scott Dick, Buddy Jacobs, John and Kelli Stargel, and President Simpson all encouraged me along the way and many still are. We all need to be cheerleaders as much as we can.

Senators, I'm so fanatical about cheerleaders I married one. You all know my wife Abby, and as Aunt Jenn already told you, we were cheerleading partners at Jacksonville University. I am so blessed to have her as my life partner and my biggest cheerleader ever since. Abby, I love you. Thank you. Thank you for getting us here, Abby. That's what I want to say. As important as all the work we do here, it pales in comparison to raising a child. Abby and I have three sons. When we were elected to the House, two were in diapers and our oldest was six and they were known as the Bean Sprouts. Although today all of them are taller than I am now. Our youngest, Walker, is a senior at the University of Florida and is part of the—Senator Burgess, you'll like this—R.O.T.C. Fighting Gator Battalion. He graduates this year with a degree in Construction Management and will serve in the United States Army as did Senator Brandes. Our other sons, Gray and Bradley, are here today. Gray, stand up my friend. He's a UF graduate, lives in Miami, and, how about this, is recruiting foster care families and is a comedian. I think he gets that from his mom. But Gray Bean, welcome, my friend. Commissioner Bradley Bean, please stand, is a UF graduate and current Fernandina Beach City Commissioner. He's an engineer at one of our pulp mills. He has a chance this fall to beat his old man's record. How about that? To become the youngest mayor of Fernandina Beach. So Bradley, we're encouraged and we wish you well. Bradley, stay standing because there's more. Wait, there's more. That is because we're going to have a wedding this fall. How about that? Bradley is engaged to Alexia Dawes. Alexia, please stand. We couldn't be more excited. Thank you. Thank you. As many of you know, I'm one of nine kids. I'm the baby of nine. My sister, who was supposed to join me today, is watching right now on The Florida Channel. She'll tell you that she was my second mom and she's absolutely right. So Diane, I love you. I know you're watching. I also want to salute my godson and nephew, Davis Bean. Davis, you can stand, my friend. Davis is a former, how about this, President of the UF Student Senate. So Davis, we're glad to have you here, my friend. Proud of you. Proud of you.

Senators, things go fast here in the Florida Senate and the Legislature. You can spend your session wondering, "What just happened?"

as it already ended. I took a chance and just went back for the last ten years and compiled some numbers. Bean and the Senate for the last ten years and here are the numbers. Two Senate chambers. Five Senate presidents; 23 sessions—eight Regular, five Organization, and eight Special Sessions; 27 talks with Senate pages; 44 mock sessions; 102 chaired committees; over ten years, 229 bills filed, or about what Senator Gruters files every session. 186 and one half round trips from Fernandina Beach to Tallahassee. 5,758 Bean candy bars. $26,500 raised for local Tallahassee charities via The Biggest Loser Contest. And speaking of which, we've lost, so far—we still haven't released this week's results—but 3,675 pounds lost. It became bigger than just us. You know it started out being just a fun little contest among legislators, but now every year, I get people that stop me in the hallway, or will send me a letter or text, "Senator Bean, I played along with you and I lost fifty, sixty, seventy pounds." Congrats this year, Noah, Terri, and Peter.

It's been quite a journey, but one thing the numbers don't convey is the relationships that we have. Like many of you, and you've already heard, I started out in the House. We had the largest class with Senator Ausley and Mayfield, Senator Baxley, and then there was Senator Mayfield's husband, Stan. We've had so many things in that class happen, and as already mentioned, four Senate presidents, a lieutenant governor, two Senate pro tempores, that's the one I like, several congressmen and a U.S. senator so far, but who knows where that class is going in twelve years. I came in a much smaller class. We had Stargel and Brandes and Simpson. Hukill was also there with us, and thanks to a special election, Senator Gibson beat us by a session. We all took Senate orientation together that year. One presenter actually said to us, "The Senate is not a place to have fun. It's the saucer and no fun shall be had here as we have very serious business to do." I wish I would have paid attention to the rest of the stuff he said because it was my responsibility eight years later to lead the freshman class orientation of 2020 and boy, what a great privilege it was. Thank you, Passidomo and President Simpson. We did a lot. And those Senators, Ausley, Boyd, Bradley, Brodeur, Burgess, Garcia, Jones, Polsky, Rodrigues, and Rodriguez—I just couldn't be more proud of them. We did a lot. I watched each of you—I still do—I watch and I'm just so proud of you. We did a little thing we never told you about, but we had a bottle of champagne ready to go so when they passed their very first bill on the floor or their first floor amendment on the floor, we snuck in a bottle of champagne and had a little celebration right at their desk three times. Senators, did you see me do it? Three times I did it from the rostrum. Got the Sergeant, "I need Senator Jones at the rostrum," and "Whoa! What did I do?" We came out there and we presented—that was just a tremendous honor. I'm proud of you, and I know that, going forward, our body is in just great hands.

I want to thank you all for the privilege of being your Pro Tempore. You make me feel like Number 1 by being your Number 2. Ten years later I still have the same feeling of awe every time I walk on this floor, every time the quorum call is made, and especially every time you trust me with the gavel. I get excited when Albritton, Broxson, Wright, Hooper, or Gainer asks, "When are you going up there?" It gets my heart beating when Hutson and Diaz give the signal of, "We need warm up in the bullpen" to get ready to go to the rostrum. And yes, I still get scared up there, but only when I get that look from Mayfield or Passidomo. That's what really gets me scared up there. You know we have fun but we never lose sight of the important work we have to do before us each and every day with the awesome responsibility we have serving our State of Florida. Let me tell you what happened two weeks ago. Two weeks ago I was called a name, a bad name, in committee by an angry constituent. I'm not going to lie to you, it's a hard moment—but let me tell you what happened. What happened right after that was Senator Pizzo. Senator Pizzo said, immediately, "For the record, Senator Bean is a lot of things, but that bad word you just said, he is not one of them." It was one of my proud moments of the bond that we all share here in the Senate. Even on the other side of the aisle, Leader Book, Taddeo, Berman, Farmer, Bracy, Stewart, Rouson, Cruz, Torres, and Powell—I'm honored to call each of you my friend. And I know this—I know if I broke down in any of your districts, anyone here would recommend a very good hotel that I could stay in, in your district.

Over the last decade I've been blessed with great staff. We say in our office, in our office we say this: Every day here is a big day. We started ten years ago with James Kotas. James, are you here? James, thank you for coming. James flew in from Atlanta this morning to be with us. James, it's so good to see you. Ten years ago. Where did it go? Where did it go? I started, also, with Dee Alexander. Dee, I need you to stand as well. Dee has stayed with me for ten years. Dee, thank you for ten great years. We've had so many others—Henry Mahler is there, Chad Corcoran, and now Austin Nicklas, Joe Endicott, Meghan Tarsitano have been great assets along the way on the Bean Team and help make every day big. Senators, we've also had great committee staff, a team of professionals behind the scenes making us all look good. I want to thank Kathy Mears and the President's team. They just do a tremendous job. Sergeant Kelly and the entire Sergeant's Office—there's nothing they can't do. A button came off my jacket. Where do I go? Sergeant's Office. They have a sewing kit—put it right back on, no problem. The Appropriations teams—Tonya Money, Tim Sadberry. There are none better. None better in our state. Secretary Brown and her team up here. The magic happens. Secretary Brown, you're going to be leaving. We're going to miss you tremendously. And then there's, in the corner, keeping us going, John Phelps. John Phelps and the Rules team keeping us on track. We're going to miss you, John Phelps, too. Hopefully, we'll see you somewhere down the road on the other side. And then to all those advocates, many are in the gallery right now. The great team of professionals who advocate, as Senator Gibson said, advocate, lobby, and are passionate for what they're doing. I just want you to know you play a critical role in the process. Raise your hand if I have a relationship with you or if we've crossed paths. I appreciate you more than you know. The information—you know, sometimes you get a bad rap—but the information that you provide us, let me tell you, helps make hard choices, sometimes, a little bit easier. I want to apologize to each of you because in the last week I haven't been able to meet with many of you. But, I've got good news. Good news. Next week my calendar is wide open! So hey, call me.

I want to leave you, Senators, I want to leave you with this. This is one of my favorite quotes. It's by Marion Williamson, and it is this: "Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are more powerful beyond measure. It's our light, not our darkness that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, 'Who am I to be brilliant, talented, fabulous?' Actually, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. You're playing small. When you play small it doesn't serve the world. We're all meant to shine as children do. As we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same." Every minute on this floor and in this process has been a gift. I'll forever cherish it. I'll look forward to seeing each of you, each of you, watching as a private citizen. You'll find me climbing another mountain. It will be scary because it will be steep and I've never climbed it before, and I'm sure along the way—you know what they're going to say? They'll say I'm too old. I'm not credentialed enough or I'm too slow. But Senators, I'm going to be okay because I'll have a cheerleader with me.

Mr. President, I need to get something out of my car.

President Simpson: Okay, A-A-Ron, now I've got to follow that. At one o'clock today, I think the Irish exit—I've got to get something out of my car. I'm not joking on that one. Okay, A-A-Ron. We've been roommates for at least seven years, maybe eight. That's interesting. We told a lot of fact patterns about that last time. What we didn't say is the victim in Homosassa, Gray? [Senator Bean: It's Walker.] Walker! I had to tell this story. If you really want to get to know folks, you generally spend time with them outside of this process. This has been at least six years ago, when they were Bean Sprouts and we had some Bradley Sprouts there, also. We went to Homosassa, went out in the springs, and we got a lot of scallops and came in. We had scallops and all kinds of things back at the camp. We got to the springs that day and it was 100 degrees out on the water and we're coming in, and in the springs it's 70 degrees year-round. It's about 68 but we call it 70. So the Beans are there, the Bradleys were there, and one of the Bradley kids almost got in the way—Sweet Caroline did. And Walker says, "Hey, look at that steam coming off that water." You know, we'd been out on the ocean and it was hot. So we get there and I said, "Oh yeah, that's steam because it's like a bath there. It's probably 95 degrees." Caroline, sweet Caroline jumps up and, "No, no..." She was going to tell him that it was cold and I'm like, "Zip it, kid!" It's not time for science or chemistry or whatever you're studying in Clay County! Walker cannonballs off the front of the boat at about the time Senator Bean says, "Hey, he hates cold water." When he hit that water he was like in the cartoons—he only had his feet in the water a second later. He was all hanging on the side of the boat. Anyway, that was a fun time but it was a good time to be with the Bean Sprouts and the Simpsons in Homosassa. We had a great time.

We've talked about the wolfpack and we've talked about accomplishments and all kinds of numbers. At the very first meeting with Senator Bradley, myself, and Aaron Bean we said, “Hey, we’re going to make this wolfpack.” We weren’t even elected to the Senate yet. Then we added members of the wolfpack and out of that—here’s some statistics for you—two presidents, a president pro tempore, and two budget chairs. Think about that combination that started ten years ago. It’s been a real honor to be a part of that. I’ve made foolish notes because I don’t prepare anything, but I do better this way. Aaron Bean, besides, you know, we cannot ever find the Mean Bean. We say, “Aaron Bean, you’ve got to be mean on this one.” He comes in and tells me in the morning, “I’m going to be the Mean Bean today.” I’m like, “Great, this is going to turn out really well for us. That means Kelli Stargel won’t have to do what she does!” About six hours later, the Mean Bean is back in the office and saying, “You know, I think Senator Stargel is going to have to take care of some of this—I may have said…” What was the comment? “This may not have been the right time.” So there’s no Mean Bean. We try to have him show up sometimes but he does not exist. The first time Senator Bean came up here I said, “Hey,” this was last year, in the middle of the pandemic and about my third or fourth day up here, I was just getting used to this because this is nerve-wracking when you first come up here. And by the way, everybody that’s out there that’s sniffing around, I have to do this after I’m watching y’all do that, so be careful a little more for me. I tell Bean, “Come on up here,” and I show him where we are and get started and he said he almost passed out. Am I right? You almost fainted that day. It’s that way. It’s the pleasure of serving with the Senate and the extreme honor that it is to be a President Pro Tempore and run the meetings. For me, it’s kind of like I go out there and everybody gets happy. “Good morning, Senators! We have an amendment that we’re going to take up today! Are we going to pass this amendment or no?” I cannot imitate Bean. The first time we came here together, I had never served anywhere. That’s how Bean started that morning. He gets up, and I think President Gaetz—one of them was here—and he was introducing the freshman class and you know how he does. “Good morning, Senators!” And loud, and I thought, “Oh, that’s different than I thought it would be.” It’s the infectious personality that is Aaron Bean. Not to keep going, we’re probably going to do the “Wild Thing” one more time out of the bullpen. Not today, we’ve got a lot of serious work, but it’s been a real honor to serve with you, Wingman. Congratulations.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION OF PRESIDENT SIMPSON

At the direction of Senator Bean, the Senate proceeded to the recognition of President Wilton Simpson, honoring his years of service to the Senate as he approaches the completion of his term for the 10th Senate District and President of the Senate.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Senator Bean introduced President Simpson’s wife, Kathy; son, Wilton Simpson, Jr. and his wife, Caroline and her parents, Jerry and Ginger Storch; daughter, Lauran Monbarren and her husband, Kenten; and grandchildren, Addy and Emy Monbarren, who were present in the chamber.

Senator Bean introduced President Simpson’s friends, Tim Yaeger and Bonnie Bell Yaeger, who were present in the gallery.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

A video tribute was played honoring President Simpson.

On behalf of the Senate, Majority Leader Mayfield and Minority Leader Book, having previously given the President tickets to a George Strait concert in Las Vegas, presented President Simpson with a guitar signed by George Strait, King of Country, and a photo album covering his years of service in the Senate and the House.

On motion by Senator Passidomo, by two-thirds vote, the following remarks were ordered spread upon the Journal.

Senator Mayfield: You know, the song, Mr. President, “Stand for Something” is exactly what you have done in this process. You have stood for something. I have seen a lot of Speakers. I’ve seen a lot of Presidents during my time in Legislature. I’ve had the opportunity to watch you up close and personal. You are a man of integrity, you are a man of principle and, more so, you’re a man of your honor. I cannot tell you how much it meant to me to be a part of your leadership team. And you’re not going to say what else you called us, but we were “the women” in those meetings. It was truly just a blessing to us, and we are going to miss you. We are going to miss you tremendously. With your humor, sometimes we couldn’t tell if you were serious or not, but we’re going to miss it. We wish you luck in your next venture. I will tell you, the kids—as you saw one of the grandchildren come over and sit in their Paw-Paw’s lap—he loves you more than anything, and he is so proud of you guys. Now he gets to come home, maybe for a little while, and spend time with you. Mr. President, we love you dearly and good luck.

Senator Book: I’m going to make this very fast because the President told me I had to. Darth—let me tell you—you’ve taught me a lot. This process means a lot, but the most important thing is your family. You have taught me that from the very beginning, when I was pregnant and we were sitting in Goodies. You also taught me hakuna matata when things are very stressful. One of the most important things that I think about is something I gave you, and it’s on your wall. “Don’t mistake my kindness for weakness.” I’m kind to everybody, everyone, but when someone is unkind to me, weak is not what you’re going to remember about me. I think about the times you have stood up for the members of this body when people weren’t so kind to some of the members. You always do the right thing. I want to thank you. I want to thank you for being a man of your word, and I want to thank you for standing up for each and every one of us. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator Polsky: President Simpson, I’m sorry I’ve only known you for these two years that I’ve been in the Senate, and I’ve only seen you up there. It’s funny to see you in a committee, presenting a bill, because I didn’t know you then. But in the short time I’ve known you, I’ve really come to respect you and appreciate our relationship. You called me when I won my primary, which was a really classy thing to do because I still had a general to get through. You welcomed me to the Senate, and you’ve been nothing but welcoming. I know on behalf of the freshman class, that setting us up with Bean and what you did for us really helped usher us into the Senate and make us feel very welcome. I really appreciate it. I will never forget what you did for me when I needed you the most, and you supported me, and I will always appreciate that. I look forward to continuing to work with you in this process. Thank you.

Senator Albritton: Mr. President, I’ve had the opportunity now to serve in this process for six presiding officers. It’s interesting, the differences between each one, right? There’s been some that were maybe a bit more intellectual than others or some that are more process driven than others and some—they just handled themselves differently or their priorities are different and the way they deal with people. But, you’re exceptional. I’m going to give you a reason why. I’m going to give you a couple of reasons why. I’ve never served underneath a presiding officer that had an interest in solving problems more than treating symptoms more than you. You know, there are symptoms that go on in this process all the time, and treating symptoms actually is popular. But, getting to fully understand the core of a problem and actually understanding what you’re doing, knowing why you’re doing it, knowing what you’re doing and why that matters—you're a problem solver like I've never seen, like I've never seen. I hope to emulate. The second thing that is profound about you. You couldn't give a red rat's butt about power or status. Not at all. Anybody that believes for a second that either of those two things motivate you to do anything that you do, they don't understand you at all, not at all—which would be incredibly sad. But it's been refreshing to have somebody that has as much authority and power as a Senate President that instead of hoarding that up—instead of just using it for whatever you believe to be right or wrong, you took the opportunity to show value in all of us—I've never seen a presiding officer share power like you've shared it. Sometimes, to the most liberal of our Democratic colleagues and sometimes to the most conservative of our Republican colleagues. But that, to me, in my observations, show me that those two things don't matter to you. You understand—which may be your superpower—you understand that when you are dealing with people, letting them have a voice when it's your choice, showing them deference or showing them what sharing power looks like—is a big deal. You care about every one of us, every single one of us. And you've shown us all, every single one, that we matter to you. That's just a huge deal. The last thing I'm going to say to you is this, Mr. President. Tell me where the train's coming from, tell me when it's going to be here, and I'm standing in front of it for you.

Senator Perry: What an honor I tell you. I got to know Wilton—I may have mentioned this before to some of you guys—we have similar backgrounds in a lot of areas. I'm not quite as successful, I'm not quite as smart, but it was an honor—you asked me to nominate, second your nomination, and it was such an honor after getting to know you. I looked up a quote. If you remember that quote I looked up—you know, what would be appropriate—and it was a quote by Aristotle that says, "We are what we repeatedly do; therefore excellence is not an act but a habit." You are what you repeatedly do; therefore, excellence is not an act but a habit. I looked it up, and I remembered it because that's who you are—your dedication to every single thing you do. If you know his background, giving up a scholarship to play D1 football program in the SEC. Why? For his business, his plans that he had. You do that with everything. You make a commitment and you give it your all. We are blessed for that. I know I am. May God bless you in all your future endeavors.

Senator Jones: Mr. President, the first time that you and I connected with each other was after my election. Just like Senator Polsky made mention of, you made that phone call and you said, "Welcome to the Florida Senate." I thought that was just the ceremonial thing to do for the President to call and congratulate you. But you continued that same graciousness even once we got here when we started the freshman orientation with Senator Bean. You came into the room with all the freshmen, and you said something that stuck with me even to this day. You said, "Now you're in the Florida Senate. This is the place where you respect each other, respect each other's ideas, respect each other's values." You stuck to that. And it continued even after that. When I came and shared with you a bill that I had and you said, "Is it important to you?" I said, "It is." And he said, "Go see Kathy." I did go see Kathy. Everything is a "Go see Kathy." So I went to see Kathy and Kathy wrote a note and Mr. President just as sure the next week, it was off. It was up in committee. Then, I get a congratulations message from someone that said, "Congratulations Mr. Vice Chair." I said, "Vice Chair of what?" And they said, "Oh, you're the Vice Chair of the Education Committee." I said, "Let me go look." I went to look on my email—that would have never happened in the House. Then I called you and I said, "Can you give me 120 seconds?" and you called me. You said, "About me is not about politics. It's about who knows it best. I've heard about you, and I've placed you in that position." So, Mr. President, I want to tell you that it has been a pleasure to be in this body. You put us before yourself. I know your family is very proud of you. Every last one of us in this chamber is proud of you. I know as you are climbing higher, wherever that is, I know the same values that you have instilled in this chamber, you will do it elsewhere. Wherever you go, wherever you land, they will be lucky to have you. Also, the State of Florida will be too. Thank you.

Senator Harrell: Continuing my love for alliteration, I think we'll play with some S's today. I'd like to say a few sentences today about President Simpson. I only had the opportunity to serve with you and really get to know you here in the Senate. During my time in the House, I really did not know you. But it has been an incredible experience as I really have learned so much about you. I soon learned that you were not just a small town farmer—you were actually a very self-confident and successful entrepreneur. I've also seen the solidarity that you've built in the Senate. I think Senator Polsky alluded to that. I've also come to admire your very straightforward approach to everything, that savvy approach; in Senator Albritton's terms, your solving of problems. You are solution oriented. You are a very strategic thinker who can probably outsmart just about anybody in the process. But you know, I just saw those little children come across here—you can also be very sentimental. When those little sweetie pies come and jump in your lap, that smile across your face is just truly amazing. Speaking of that smile, that spontaneous smile is contagious. When you come up to me and you smile, and I know exactly what you're going to say, "You wearing red for Ed again today, Senator Harrell?" And of course I say, "Yes sir, of course." In fact, today, in your honor, I am wearing my red sparkle shoes given to me by President Simpson. Thank you so much. But you have also really challenged me to stretch myself, to stretch what I do and what I know. Making me Chair of the Transportation Committee when having no background—never served on a transportation committee in 16 years or 20 years—to make me Chair, I've certainly had to study a lot in order to be successful. But you have given me that spark to do what I needed to do to be successful. I just know that as you move on to the next stage, you are going to make that song that we just heard "Stand for Something" very much happen. Continue to be the star that you are—the superstar of the Senate. Thank you for everything you do.

Senator Stargel: I'm going to go quick because I have a feeling that Senator Simpson is going to shut this down at some point and say, "Nobody talk about me." So I wanted to hurry and jump in early. We were flagging down Senator Bean, going, "Please pick me so I can get what I wanted to say out." I think it needs to be said. As I said the other day, when you come into this, as Senator Bean had said, you're underestimated. You can't do it; you won't achieve. I'm not going to cry, but, sorry, I am going to cry. There's not a person in this process who has catapulted me, stood behind me, and supported me in this process more than Senator Simpson. A lot of people say that they'll have a woman on the team, and they joke about me being the token woman in the wolfpack. If he's not teasing you, by the way, that means he probably doesn't like you, so you want to be teased by President Simpson. Sometimes it's a little interesting where he teases and the things that he says. Some people don't know him, know the relationships, and know what's been developed as friendships. Well, here's something to go, "Oh my gosh, I can't believe he just said that." All of us know Senator Simpson and we know the heart of who he is, and we know what he means by those comments. I remember when I was first in the wolfpack, and I saw Kathy and I talked to her at some point. I said, "I'm a woman with these guys. It's going to be interesting, but I will make sure to keep them honest, keep them proud, and do everything that I can as a woman in that group." I can tell you, Kathy, I've never been around him when he's ever behaved in any way that would make you not proud to be his wife and stand beside him. He's always very respectful. He may say weird things, but trust me, he is. One of the things that he said to me that was probably the most special—I wrote it in that book—is when he picked me to be the Appropriations Chair. I felt like I was the token woman on the team. He called me one day and he said, "You know if Senator Latvala, Senator Alexander, Senator Bradley, or Senator Lee were in this chamber, I would still pick you as my Appropriations Chair. You're qualified, you can do this job, and you're the person I want in the room to do it." You can hear similar things from Senator Passidomo; you could hear it from Senator Mayfield; and you can hear it from all the people that are around him. He doesn't just say that he's going to have you on the team—he empowers you on that team. You're an actual person on that team. Iron sharpens iron. Believe me, we all tell him what we think all day long. I'm just really honored to have served with you. I'm very honored for what you have done for me in my career. What you do for your children—I can go on and on and I don't want to go into all of that. I am so excited for what your future can hold. I think it's going to be great to see all that can be accomplished. All I have to say for people who underestimated this man—there were many of them who said he didn't know what he didn't know—we had an amazing session last year. We're having an amazing session this year. And I just ask you, how do you like him now?

Senator Gibson: I'm not going to talk about your hairstyles. I think it's still the same. I want to first say thank you, Mr. President. Anyone who hasn't really sat down and talked to you for a pretty good length of time—as long as Kathy allowed them to stay—would know that you're a gentleman who believes in your values. Your background is very diverse. We can talk about anything. It has nothing to do with party. It has nothing to do with race. It has everything to do with experiences. The President is the President that he is because of his experiences. If you've never talked to him about growing up and family and the experiences that he went through, you wouldn't know how much he has in his heart. His presidency is all about his heart and helping people. I really appreciated our time. You've been extremely fair and caring. You have a wonderful, infectious smile, and then a little sinister one. I really have enjoyed serving with you. I wish I would've met you sooner actually. I've appreciated the time that you've taken to talk to me at length about others, and the process the way you wanted it to be. I know you'll be coming through Jacksonville so don't forget to call me when you're fundraising in my town. I wish you all the very best. Thank you so much for your passion and your compassion and standing for something. Thank you, Mr. President.

Senator Pizzo: Jeff Brandes likes to joke. Not joke, I think he actually means it. He says, "I sort of gauge individuals that we serve with by whether or not I would hire them in their profession." It's sort of an amazing litmus test, and the bottom line is that we came into 2020 in the most hyperpolarized, hyperpartisan atmosphere. I was up here for other reasons, and you asked if I was available to swing by. We had submitted our list of committee preferences of where we wanted to be. I was all set, not thinking of the man but thinking of the situation, the environment that we found ourselves in, the dynamic we found ourselves in—all prepared to make my case as to why I should not be removed from the Criminal Justice Committee, that I wanted to stay on. I go in his office and we sit down, and he said, "Hey, got your list, your preferences," and he's like, "I see you've been a member on Criminal Justice for two years. Yeah, I don't see you as a member anymore." I was like, "Wilton." He says, "No, I don't see you as a member." And he didn't let me come at him so hard before he said, "Congratulations, Mr. Chair." I stopped for a second, and I said, "I have a condition, and I have a question." He said, "Condition and question? I just made you the Chair." I said, "I have a condition and a question out of respect for you." He said, "Well what's the condition?" I said, "Please make sure that all members on both sides are prepared when they show up at that podium in that committee." He said, "Fair enough." He said, "What's the question?" I said, "Does the Governor know that you're appointing a Democrat, that you're appointing me?" He goes, "The Governor will find out when the public finds out, but you might want to call your wife and your father and tell them you're the Chair of Criminal Justice." I have ad nauseum used your line about how we should agree on the 85 percent. The 85 percent is that which is not controversial; which we can set aside our differences to the extreme left or the extreme right and just get the people's work done. Because the overwhelming majority of people are just worried about their home, their business, and their family, and those that they love—and we should work on that stuff. I've said it ad nauseum. You have always kept your word. The greatest compliment I can give you is that I would do business with you. My father would and my grandfather would, which is the biggest compliment I could give you. And to date, you've always kept your word, and you've always done the right thing. And to Senator Polsky's point, which I know you appreciate—I have a crazy sister. I'm the youngest of four, and she's a pain, man. I mean she is such a pain—even up until this morning, she is such a pain. My brother and I just rail on her—we come at her, we come at her, and we come at her. But no one outside my family is allowed to say a word about my sister. And that's how you treat us in the Senate. That's the insulation and feeling of family. I appreciate you.

Senator Cruz: Mr. President, I don't get emotional very often, but I want you to know that we are more alike, sir, than we are different. We both appreciate, and we stand up for, our great resolve for our party beliefs. We fought against each other, and we rose above the process because we respect it. But we've always made our priorities quite clear when we are more like each other than we are different. We are both—I'd like to think—honorable. I think of you as a man of great integrity. I know that you look for answers and don't accept excuses. I know that you put family above everything, as do I. You put family at home above everything, and you put your Senate family above everything. You told them clearly that they did not have permission to hurt us or to hurt her, and I thank you for that. We both come from working families—we've talked about that. We know the value of hard work—we knew that whether it's painting a house, working in the gypsum plant for ten hours a day, or running the Florida Senate. We know, and we were taught, that hard work is honorable. It's achieved through your preparation, putting your head down, and getting the work done. We also know that a good team makes us successful both here and at home. I know Mr. President, that this job doesn't define us. If it all went away tomorrow, we would all be fine. What matters to me more than anything is the family that I've built, the husband that I love, and the children that I've raised. I just want you to know that you remind me that it's the person that you are when no one is watching that truly matters. Thank you, Mr. President, for all that you did for me. I will miss you greatly.

Senator Broxson: Mr. President, it's been an honor to serve with you. I think we all ask the question, why do we run for office? I'm not sure most of us could answer that. But why would a 44-year-old entrepreneur, who resurrected a family business to great success, plus created many other successful businesses? I think we find the answer—it's in your first election—without holding an office prior to this, you're one of two modern Senators who ever entered an open Senate race and had no opposition. That says volumes about who you are and who you are in your area. When you feel the urge to run for office, normally you need permission from at least one person. Normally that's your spouse, maybe your children and, in some cases, maybe your business. You see, we all know this. When we make a vow to someone like our spouse, and we make a big decision in our life, we have to get permission that we're getting ready to do something extraordinary. I would have liked to have been there when you explained to Kathy that you would be gone. You'd always get home on Thursday night; you were just going to be over here just three or four months during the year; that it was going to be fairly easy, and your life would continue. What you didn't tell her is that you would spend thousands of hours on the telephone, always returning every member's call almost instantly, or get back with them very quickly. What people have forgotten is—and I know that Senator Pasidomo was the major decision—because she knew she'd have to give up four years of her life in becoming the next President. But you gave up six years of your life—you and President Galvano co-ran elections, and you did that for four years. Really, if you consider what you've done in the last two years, you've done it six years. Then you went on serving and making public policy. You are a unique person. I'm glad. I'm glad for you, Kathy, that you gave him permission to adjust the vow that he gave you and give it to us and the State of Florida, because we are a better place because of Wilton Simpson. Thank you, sir.

Senator Rouson: Mr. President, thank you first of all, for your loyal warrior, Kathy Mears, who has a work ethic much like yours. I want to thank you for the respect and the dignity that you placed in each individual Senator to work with their issues, work with their visions, and to help them represent their constituents to the best of their ability and the best that this Senate can offer. I want to thank you for trusting me with leadership—elevating me to the Chair of not just any committee but the Agriculture Committee, a committee that is important to you—even though I had to be redirected once or twice. We always said in joke and jest for each other that we can disagree without being disagreeable. You've shown that. You've proven that. It's been an incredible experience. You found a way to make things that were important to me policy-wise happen with Ag—with the passage of the Urban Agriculture bill last session and with policy matters concerning food deserts and insecurities, this session—an issue very important to the African American community of folks that we all represent. I want to thank you for the trust of leadership. I want to thank you for being the President that you've been in standing up for each individual Senator and making each one of us feel respected and dignified as a human being and as a member of this Florida Senate. Thank you.

Senator Ausley: There is no secret for us to get here, we have to go through elections. Some of those elections are tougher than others. And after, I would say, a bruising election cycle, I also received one of those phone calls. It was before eight o'clock in the morning the day after the election. Much like Senator Polsky and Senator Jones, President Simpson said, "Welcome to the Florida Senate." From that moment forward, it has been a pleasure to work with you. As everyone has said, you have been a man of your word. You have stood up for every one of us. You have helped me be a better Senator for the eleven counties that I represent and, for that, I am so grateful. Thank you, sir.

Senator Boyd: President Simpson, I will try to be brief. I know everyone on the floor says that, but I will try. I remember the first part of 2019. I left the House in 2018. I watched you from across the rotunda and how successful you were and what a principled man you were. I was really wrestling with whether to run for the Senate or not. I didn't completely tell you that as you were talking to me. You started reaching out, "What are you going to do, Boyd? I want to help you and support you." I said, "We're about there, Mr. President." So that went through May, June, and July. About August you said, "Boyd, I'm moving on if you don't give me an answer, so let's go." So that's the reason I decided at that point. I was really wrestling with it I can tell you. Most of my good friends here in the process know that. Not that the Senate wouldn't be the same without me, but the reason I decided in the end to run was because I would be able to serve under a leader like you. First of all, your commitment to God and your commitment to your family—I saw that and we all see that. What means the most to you in life are those two things. I thought, you know, I want to serve under that man. So I have absolute excitement about the two years that we've served together. You've been so helpful, so kind, and so selfless. One last story. I can remember like it was yesterday. I was just on the other side of Perry coming up here last session after we had a potential disaster at Piney Point. You called me and you said, "Senator Boyd." And I said, "Yes sir?" "I've got good news for you and great news for you." I said, "Well, let's go with either one; that sounds pretty good." And you said, "The good news is, we're going to fix Piney Point." The second thing you said was, "We're going to commit $100 million to fixing Piney Point forever, and you're going to get the credit." Nobody does that. Nobody does that in this process. Myself and my community are forever grateful. I've really enjoyed these two years and I look forward to supporting you in whatever you do.

Senator Wright: Some of you have given some of your stories working with him in the House, and as you know, I was never in the House. On October 11th, 2018, I was nominated by six committee members to represent the Republican Party as hopefully the next Senator. They said to me, "Tomorrow you're going to be over in Tampa, and you're going to meet the President, Bill Galvano." I said, "How will I know what he looks like?" They said, "You don't know Bill Galvano?" I said, "I don't know anybody in the Senate." So I went over to that restaurant, and I'm sitting there and this nice gentleman approached me and said, "Are you Tom Wright?" I said, "Yes, sir. And you?" He said, "I'm Wilton Simpson, and the President will be with you shortly." I was like, oh, okay, this seems like a nice man. I calmed down immediately. So that was my first time meeting you, and the first person that I met that represented anything to do with Tallahassee. There have been a couple of times since you've been President that, you know, I have been way off the track, ready to pack up and say forget about it. Both times, you have brought me back to my senses, and I appreciate that; talked me through it. I'm at the point in my life—I'll be 70 in May—a self-made man. Like I don't need this. Thank God, you've taught me don't, because I'm proud of the achievements that we have all made. I look forward to hopefully being reelected and having four more years to make a difference in the State of Florida. When we had bad weather approaching in my side of the state in the Daytona Beach area, who calls more than once and says, "Things go bad, call me. We'll be there to take care of you." No one else does that but him. He's the real hero. The last thing I want to remind everyone—the door is always open with him. "You need something, call me, we'll get you in." So I can't thank you enough, sir, for all that you've meant to me. Thank you very much.

Senator Hooper: First of all, President Simpson, I want to thank you for making Senator Harrell wear red for me every day. I so much appreciate your encouragement to her. Second of all, you and I had a chat some years ago about when you were first contemplating running for this chamber. A former member told you in certain terms that you had no chance to get elected—you're from Trilby. Who the hell knows anybody from Trilby? Somehow, in spite of that good encouragement, you have squeaked through every election cycle since then. Congratulations for staying until the bitter end and pulling those close elections out without opposition—I might add all of them. Another thing that a lot of people in this chamber—they may not think it's important—but you've had some pretty darn nice events at Simpson Farms. I'll speak for me. I have enjoyed being invited to those events and met some incredible people and entertainers. I thought I saw Brooks Timmons eyeing that guitar very closely. Those of you that don't know much about guitars, that's a Taylor. That's the top of the line acoustic guitar that's made anywhere in the world. That did not come from Sears and Roebuck. Folks, that's a quality guitar. I'm kind of eyeing it myself now that I think about it. It would look good in my office. Senator Simpson, you have an incredible family. You're an incredible businessman. I know the spouses have extremely enjoyed these two years of getting to know Kathy. They have a whole lot more fun than we do, by the way. We should swap to let them do this and let's go to Thomasville, go shopping, and do some of that stuff. It would be a better day. I'll never forget your encouragement as I was running for this office. Your help and your advice—I'll never forget those words of encouragement. Probably most important of all, thank you for allowing Senator Burgess and me to have all your former constituents—Senator Rodrigues' new drawings of districts. We are truly blessed, and we'll never uphold the level that they are accustomed to, but we'll do the best we can. I appreciate very much getting to serve with you for two years.

Senator Burgess: There is no limit to what you accomplish if you don't care who gets the credit. That's a trait that's kind of hard to come by in this process, and it's not something that you see very often. But it's something that Wilton Simpson lives by. Your heart has always been in Trilby, but your fingerprints are everywhere across the entire State of Florida. You're right. A lot of people probably didn't know Trilby outside of maybe you, me, and a couple of others—but I guarantee everybody in this darn state knows Trilby, Florida, now. And they're better for it. Wilton doesn't care who gets the credit—that's humility, and that's one of the most amazing character traits that an individual can have, especially one of his success and his background. Back home, there isn't a part of our community that he hasn't had a hand in shaping; there isn't a legislative accomplishment, if I'm being honest, that I've had, that he hasn't been a part of helping make happen. The reality is you make me look good. You've made me look good to the people back home, and I know it but you're quiet about it. You've been a mentor to me in more ways than just in this process. Your family is my family and vice versa. One of the greatest honors of my life was getting to officiate your namesake's wedding—Wilton Earl, Jr., right over there, and Caroline Storch Simpson—one of the brightest, greatest, most amazing moments. I retired after that because it's not going to get any better than that. I did one wedding; that was it. But I remember in the wedding, I sought advice from the two marriage experts in this room—Pastor Ben Albritton and Pastor Aaron Bean there. I asked them, "You know, what would you do? When you marry folks off, like what do you like to say, and what do you like to do?" I think it was you, Senator Albritton, who said, "Ask them to give you ten things that they like about the other person." That was a fun little game, and we had a lot of fun in that. But the one thing Caroline said about Wilton, Jr., that stuck out the most to me was selflessness. He's not selfish, he's selfless. I can tell you that's not a surprise. Obviously, the egg doesn't roll that far from the coop. It's very clever. You're right. You come by it honestly. There's somebody in this room that would give you the shirt off their back. It's pretty incredible that each and every one of us know that. You know, back home, your son-in-law over there, yeah Kevin, I'm going to mention you—he and my brother, Nick, are thick as thieves. They have been forever, since way back in baseball, and you know, they're "Smoking Bros Barbecue." They do barbecue competitions back home. If you haven't had their barbecue, you don't know barbecue. Sonny's is good, and we got that in the back right now. But you haven't had "Smoking Bros." You know, and then there's Luran, his daughter, and my wife, Courtney, and my sister-in-law, Cassidy. They're besties; they're thick as thieves. Then of course, there's the Addys—Addy squared, right? So your Addy and my Addy, they're going to rule the world one day. There's no question. Then there's Baby Danny and Emy. I mean, I think that wedding is already in the works so Baby Danny's got to take her on the second date when they get back home. So then there's Nora, and since Baby Danny stole Emy, my challenge now goes to Wilton, Jr. and Caroline. Can you hurry up already? No pressure, but Nora needs a friend. So bottom line is, Mrs. Kathy, we love you so much, and thank you for sharing the brilliance, the wit, the wisdom, the incredible nature, and selfless behavior of a man that I believe is the most effective legislator of our lifetime. And somebody that I cherish and couldn't love more. You've been an egg-cellent Senator, sir. But I know the best and greatest egg-venture is yet to come. We'll always be your biggest fans, and we'll always be your biggest cheerleaders. Your only fault—and one and only fault—you know where I'm going with this—is you're a Pasco Pirate. Now Josie may have something to say about that—Representative Tomkow—she'll come to your defense, but other than that, you're flawless, and we love you. Thank you for all you've done. Thank you for always being my biggest fan. I appreciate you.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Senator Bean recognized Representative Josie Tomkow and Speaker of the House of Representatives Chris Sprowls, who were present in the chamber.

Senator Brodeur: Senator Simpson and I got to work together his first year in the Senate. We were doing the Pension Reform bill together. That went so well that Senator Boyd got to do it the following year. When I was lining up to go run for office, and I knew that Senator Simpson was the President Designate and would be helping folks run for office, I thought this would probably be a good time. I knew that I was going to run, unlike some other people—to remind him that we did a little bit better job than Senator Boyd did. Maybe it was, you know, we were a good team together. And as we have heard, Senator Simpson and I shared that there were times in our lives when our futures were a little bit uncertain, and we didn't know what the outcome was going to be. When I started running, he said, "I'm with you." I've heard that before, you're my fifth presiding officer. I've heard "I'm with you," but he meant it. I got to learn what his family already knows—that he's a man of his word and character. That means everything. The anxiety goes away—any of the uncertainty that you had about the decision you made. That carried on all the way through service under your presidency, sir. My wife had a pretty serious medical issue a little over a year ago, and he called all the time to check, just to make sure. It was about the family; it was about the principle; and it was about the character. I can't tell you, toward the end of this year having now known—I've seen it. I've seen it in the election process. I've seen it in the policy process. I've seen it in the budget process. When he says "I got you" or "I'm with you" or "We're going to make it happen," that's it. It's everything, and it's everything in this process. That example has been everything. So from one scrappy kid with an uncertain future to another, thank you so much. I'm certain we'll be working together in the future, my friend.

Senator Rodrigues: I'm gonna echo a few comments that have been made here but with a different experience. President Simpson and I had the opportunity to work together when I was in the House. During the term I served as Majority Leader, President Simpson was the Majority Leader of the Senate. In that first session, one of the most controversial things that was occurring was the implementing of the medical marijuana constitutional amendment. Those of you that were around will remember that 2017 Session ended without an implementing bill being passed. The Senate and the House just couldn't come to an agreement. Then, because of the other controversy that was going on, the Governor vetoed a portion of the budget, which necessitated a special session. Before that special session, the Speaker contacted me and said, "Hey, I've been speaking with the President. We want the two majority leaders to get together and see if we can work something out on this medical marijuana implementing bill. If we can work this out, we're going to stick it in the call and pass it during the special session." So, I was in Plant City visiting in-laws. I called Leader Simpson and said, "Hey, I'm here in Plant City. Do you want to get together?" We ended up meeting at Beef O'Brady's and in two hours, we had hammered out the medical marijuana implementing bill. What I'll remember is that when we finished, he said, "Don't tell anybody we did this. I don't want to Bigfoot the Senate bill sponsor." So I took it back to the Speaker and said, "Here's what we agreed on." He took it back to the President. The special session came, the bill came up, passed both chambers with no controversy, and I never read in a single blog how that deal came together. You never took the credit that you could have, and that's what is unusual about President Simpson. I can name literally dozens of former Representatives, some current Representatives, former Senators, maybe some current Senators who will claim credit for things they had nothing to do with. But to name a Senator or Representative who has major accomplishments and he says, "Don't give me the credit" is extremely rare. But that's President Simpson. I'm going to also echo a little bit of what Senator Pizzo said. You called me in and said "I'm interested in having you chair reapportionment. Here's the charge I'm going to give the committee. Do you want to do it?" From the very beginning, you were clear. "We're going to play this down the middle. We're going to follow the law. If that's a charge you can accept, then I'd like you to lead the committee." The only thing he asked was, "Tell me what you need to be successful." Because he's such a visionary, before we ever got here, he'd already hired the top staff, had already retained the top counsel, and at every step, we went to him and said, "This is what we need." We got it. That's why we were able to pass the maps, we were able to pass them together. That's why those maps—at least from the Senate and the House—haven't been challenged and don't look like they will be challenged. It would have been very tempting to not play it down the middle. But you are a man of integrity, and because you're a man of integrity, Florida is all the better. Thank you for your humility and your integrity. We are a better institution because you were President.

Senator Gainer: It is a real pleasure for me to say anything good about Wilton Simpson. I was in Panama City and had no idea that I ever wanted to be a State Senator. But we had one of the biggest oil spills ever in the world. Nothing was happening. We couldn't get any help, we couldn't get any understanding. I said, "Hell with this—I'm going to run for the Senate." So I had two years left on the County Commission. I forfeited that, and then I found out that Senate leadership and some other folks had their own ideas about the Senate in the 2nd District. So I talked to my good friend, Allan Bense. He said, "What you need to do is call this chicken farmer in Trilby, and he probably knows more about what's going on than they do." I called the chicken farmer, and Wilton answered the phone. I explained to him what I was calling him about, and he said, "Well, gosh, I don't know. Those people don't usually change their minds." I said, "Well, I don't care who they get, I'll beat 'em." He said, "Well, you probably need to call whoever's making the decision," and he mentioned the name, which I won't mention. He said, "You need to tell him you're going to put up all the money that you're going to need to run in your account and if they still decide they want somebody else, you're going to put that money against him in his next election." That made sense to me so that's what I did. I didn't have opposition. So anyway, that was the start of our friendship. He helped me through an oil spill and probably one of the worst hurricanes that ever hit this part of the world. Now we got a wildfire going on over there, so the work's not completely finished. I'll tell you right now, if Wilton Simpson is your friend, you've got a friend. He may seem like the nicest little guy you ever met, but if you ever see him and a wildcat in a fight, help the wildcat. Wilton will be all right.

Senator Diaz: President Simpson, I want to thank you for your leadership. I think it's a testament from the comments you've heard, regardless of party from the Senators in this chamber. Whether it comes to personal issues or working on issues in this chamber, you have been helpful to everyone in here. Even if it's a priority of yours and something that you think is important, when we come as Senators to you with ideas or concerns about something, you've had nothing but an open door. So I want to thank you for that. I want to highlight something because it hasn't been mentioned. You prepared to be leader of this chamber and never took into account having to deal with COVID. I think it's important. I think all 39 Senators would share my comments on this. As we entered that last session not knowing what was going to happen, not knowing how it was going to be handled, your steady and calm leadership, your decisionmaking, and your ability to contact all of us and work through that was so we could have a successful session, be in here, and do the peoples' work. I think that's going to go down in the history of Florida, and we'll be remembered. At the top of that, in this chamber, is your leadership. I want to thank you for your leadership and your openness. Look forward and Godspeed to you and your family on what comes next. Thank you.

Senator Taddeo: That is Senator "Tad-ee-oh" to President Simpson. I want everyone to know, and I don't know if I've ever told President Simpson, but there were a lot of people that kept coming up to me and saying, "He is so rude. Why is he mispronouncing your name? That is so wrong." So that everybody knows, he found out about my brother who is the big Republican in my family and I love him very much—my brother pronounces it the Anglicized way which is "Tad-ee-oh," so he started calling me "Tad-ee-oh." Now we have this whole thing where every time he stands up and recognizes me, if he says Taddeo then he's good. If he says "Tad-ee-oh," then it means he's not happy that I am getting up to debate or ask a question. We got that little thing going between the two of us. I also want to thank you. You have been an amazing leader. I had that surprise when I found out that you had made me Vice Chair of Ethics and Elections and lo and behold, look at it. Look at the fact that we've been able to work and find ways—even when I hate the bills—to put things in the bills that will help everyone in a democracy and what the things are that are wrong going on. And I just can't thank you enough for giving me that opportunity. I'm sure a lot of people were shocked about that. I'm very excited about the fact that I'm sure you have a bright future ahead of you. You are a wonderful servant to all Floridians. You have done a really good job under difficult circumstances, and you've gotten some heat for it. I just want you to know that we have noticed. Like Senator Bean, I am somebody that has always been underestimated. So you never know, I might just get to serve with you again. Thank you.

Senator Rodriguez: I want to take this opportunity to publicly thank President Simpson for believing in me. I was just a lowly freshman House member. I'm just kidding, no offense to my freshman House members or sophomore House members now. I was very happy when I was elected in 2018 to the Florida House. I made very good bonds with all the folks. Some of them are sitting here in the chamber with us. I had a lot of apprehension about leaving the House to come to the Senate. When I spoke with Senator Simpson personally the day he came to Miami to talk to me, I knew at that moment that this is where I needed to be. I just want to thank him for not only believing in me as a candidate when I ran, but after I got elected—all of the support that you've given me as a Senator and also to my district. District 39 has been blessed with all the support that you've given it. I know we're all better people and the state is a better place because of your leadership. Thank you.

Senator Baxley: Mr. President, I love you. That's what you're able to generate from people because that's who you are. From the day I met you, when you were a new Senator, I knew you were going to be the leader here one day. Matter of fact, when I went to visit him to talk about what I was attempting to do, about coming to the Senate, we sat down in his office and I said, "Do you have a pledge card? I don't know when or if it'll mean anything, but you need to be President of this Senate." I will never forget how he wasn't used to anybody talking about him. He's always about others. He's a selfless person. Selfless people don't put others first and themselves last. They don't really think of themselves at all. They're always on mission and it's always the other. You're the kind of man I could follow. I know when people care about core things—faith, family, freedom, opportunity, life itself. For people that don't need anything, I look at you, Mr. President, and say, "What does he need that's here?" Nothing. He came to give something away because America was great to him. This goes all the way back to he's an adopted child, and I'm an adoptive father. Every child deserves a family. Family means everything, and it can open up the future. Thank you for being that kind of person. The other one, I need somebody that'll be direct. I said, "Look, you don't have to figure out how to send me a message. Just tell me." Because I know, I've got some strong convictions. At the same time, it's so important when you can look at his life and see that being a team player and a team builder is the real pathway forward for the Senate. You've provided that. I embrace you and your entire family for what you've given to Florida and will give to Florida's future. I'm on that train. God bless you.

Senator Garcia: Mucho gracias, President Simpson. Forgive me. I'm very under the weather and very sentimental. It would take a couple of lifetimes to thank you for what you've done for me and my family. For always being encouraging. Very few people nourish your strengths versus your weaknesses. You knew how scared I was. And you, like Senator Bean, were always like, "You've got this." Thank you for allowing me to be Number 24, the Rooster! Thank you, sir.

Senator Passidomo: I actually sat down in the break, and I typed this up because if I didn't type it up I'd be here for hours. We've been here for a long time. I first met Wilton Simpson in the spring of 2016 when I was contemplating running for the Senate. I didn't know many people in the Senate, other than Senator Richter, and he said go and talk to Wilton Simpson. So, we had lunch. Do you remember this? We had lunch in the Governor's Club and in one hour—one hour—I knew with complete certainty that he was one special man—a man of conviction, honor, and integrity. I joined his team then and there. I said, "Where's your card." I didn't even know about the pledge card thing. "Give me your card," and I signed it. It was only later that I came to know his wit, his wisdom, and his unerring sense of what is right. What is the right thing to do and how to get there. As we all know, President Simpson is a betting man, and he doesn't like to lose. Frankly, I don't think he ever has lost—but he does it with humility, spice, with his "aw shucks" brand of humor. I remember one night, we were sitting around the table having dinner, and someone asked me to describe Wilton Simpson. It came to me immediately, in one word: inscrutable. Under the "I know nothing," Cheshire Cat smile, his mind is moving at 100 miles per hour calculating the odds, comparing the alternatives, searching for loopholes, and developing a solution that no one else could have thought of and no one saw coming. In the end, it is always the right thing to do. President Simpson will always do the right thing—for his family, for his constituents, for his colleagues in the Senate, and for the State of Florida. On a personal level, hanging out with Wilton Simpson and his family is such a pleasure. It's never a dull moment in the Simpson household. I honestly feel that I'm part of the family, and I will treasure all of the time I have spent with them. Lastly, Wilton, thank you so much for the hours and hours of conversations we've had about governance and how I can do what I need to do after you leave. You have given me so much time and effort. And you know what? I bet every single person in this chamber can talk about the hours of conversations they've had with Wilton and what he has shared with them on things that he believes. Lastly, and perhaps this never happens, you gave me a seat at the table. Maybe at the end of the table and with, as always, "Zip it." For the past two years you have let me see into how it is that the Senate runs, and for that I'll be eternally grateful because then, I think, I'll be able to hit the ground running next fall. But you're not going yet. You've got to stay until next fall. Your office is going to be right there. I'm not going to move your furniture out or whatever. Thank you, Wilton Simpson, I love you.

Senator Bean: Senators, a leader gets more by seeing what can be in others than sometimes they can see in themselves. Such as Aaron Bean, who did not know what a Pro Tempore could be until President Simpson told me, "Bean, the role is made for you. I need a wingman. I need you." Of course you say, "Yes" to Wilton Simpson. I will always be grateful for that honor, my friend, of being your wingman. Many of you know that President Simpson and I have been session roommates for ten years. I'm grateful he bought a condo ten years ago. He was open to having a roommate, and I was the man for the job. I've updated the numbers and you've heard the Bean numbers. Now I want to give you the 'living the Simpson life in Tallahassee for the last ten years' numbers. When we moved in he said, "Bean, I've got big plans. I've got this newly-expanded, renovated patio. The parties we could have here are just going to be great. I've got this new jumbo TV. We can watch some ball games and have people over. I've got a whole refrigerator filled with beer. It's great." So let's go over those numbers for the past ten years: number of times we've had a party on that patio: zero; times we have watched ball games on the jumbotron in Simpson Manor: zero; number of beers consumed in ten years on the premises: four—it's only because Senator Rob Bradley came over for a visit—it's all him; times he has slept past 6:00 a.m. in Tallahassee: zero; times he gave the Pro Tempore advance notice he was leaving the rostrum: zero; times he has said, "No" to a child or our most vulnerable: zero. Leader Book has often told of when the Parkland kids came to our Capitol. It was Wilton Simpson, personally, who paid for their meals. When the Pace Girls were here, it was Senate President Wilton Simpson who took out his own checkbook to make sure they were covered. When the domestic violence shelter needed supplies or a church needed a new roof, you didn't know about it but his leadership team did because he took out his own money to make those things happen. Every cause, every time, Wilton is here and has been here. The funny thing about Wilton Simpson is he's happiest when his work is behind the scenes, and somebody else gets the credit. It's not just in his private life, it's right here in Tallahassee too. We can't put a number on the impact that you have made on this body and our state. President Simpson, I've already called you a cheerleader today, but it's not just for me, it's for all of us. Because in your decade of service, you have supported and uplifted each of us to bring our goals across the finish line.

If I could ask the Sergeant and his team to bring out a very special gift that this body would like to present to you—President Simpson, we all know that while your name has been on very few pieces of legislation, your fingerprints are on many. We had a hard time just getting it down to 15. What you see before you is a montage of 15 bills that your leadership team thought your fingerprints were pretty heavy on. They include making Florida's environment forever cleaner. Because of you, education has been made stronger. No one will make less than $15 an hour working for our state. Florida's business climate will be more robust. Florida's prison system will be transforming. Now there's a compact between Florida and the Seminole Tribe. Maps for redrawing Florida's Senate districts were completed in a fair and transparent process. Going forward, Florida's foster care system will give every kid a chance to thrive because of you. In spite of coming into your presidential role during the pandemic, you have left Florida better than when you began. Mr. President, on behalf of the Senate, it is our honor to present you this montage that bears your fingerprints—fingerprints and the bills that have made Florida strong now and for generations to come. Congratulations, Wilton Earl Simpson, President of the Florida Senate.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

On behalf of the Senate, Senator Bean presented President Simpson with a framed montage of 15 ceremonial pieces of legislation passed by the President during his years of service in the legislature.

RETIRING OF PORTRAIT

Senator Bean: Senators, as is Senate tradition, the portrait on the west side of the chamber will be retired to the Historic Capitol. This is the time Senators, and for our new freshmen, that we pay tribute to the President who will be retired. Senate President Theodore Tiffany Turnbull, or as many called him, President “TT” Turnbull, served as Senate President during the 1923 Legislative Session. President Turnbull was born in Monticello, Florida, in 1881. He practiced law in Monticello and was elected to the Florida House in 1912, where he served two terms—one of which was as the Speaker Pro Tempore. I took note of that. He was elected to the Florida Senate in 1918 and, four years later, he became Senate President. He served until leaving in 1929. Now, in 1923, Senators, Florida had just crossed one million residents in total population. The largest city was Jacksonville with 91,000 residents. President Turnbull became known as “Father of University Extension” by pushing our universities to offer correspondence courses by mail. This initiative led to the creation of the state’s junior college or community college systems in the mid-1920s. President Turnbull continued to serve in a public role as attorney for the Florida Railroad Commission until his death of the flu in 1944 at the age of 62. Later today, President “TT” Turnbull will be escorted by Sergeant Kelly and his team to the Old Capitol for display. Florida Senators, please join me in waving goodbye to President “TT” Turnbull.

UNVEILING OF PORTRAIT

Senator Bean invited President Simpson and his wife, Kathy; their son, Wilton, and his wife, Caroline; and daughter, Lauran, and her husband, Kenton, to the front of the chamber where the President’s portrait was unveiled by Sergeant at Arms Damien Kelly. The portrait was created by artist Steve Davis of Leon Loard Commissioned Portraits.

President Simpson: Crazy town. I’ve got to go get something out of my car. So yeah, I like that. Thank you everybody. This morning, I decided I might better write a few things that I may say today at this point in time because I was trying to avoid it, because I assumed I might avoid the whole thing, right? So that would have been best. Anyway, I’m glad my family is here today. They’ve been recognized—my wife, Kathy, son, daughter, and their spouses. Thank y’all for being here. Addy and Emy—I think they’re asleep now somewhere upstairs?

You know it’s been a real honor to serve District 10 in the Florida Senate. Think about this. Senator Bean earlier today said, “There’s no way someone from Nassau County, in whatever city he’s from, with three percent of the population, could ever run for the Florida Senate and win.” And someone mentioned here today, think about that challenge and overcoming the quarter of one percent that lives in Trilby, Florida. So anybody that gets elected from Trilby, Florida, you know something’s going on in that district. Anyway, it’s been a real honor to serve in that area. I’ve got a lot of people to thank—this has been ten years. Back when I got started, talking about planning and doing—Patty Harrison is here somewhere I assume—Miss Patty comes, and I was introduced to her right in the beginning and I said, “Miss Patty, I don’t know why you would come to work in District 10 because you have options closer to home.” I said, “But if you’re willing to put up with me and all the trouble”—of course she probably didn’t know what she was getting into at the time—“I’m prepared to say yes. But if you say yes, you have to stay ten years. There’s none of this, ‘Oh, I’m getting older; I don’t know if I can stay ten more years. I’ve retired a couple of times already.’” I’m like, “Yeah, it’s a ten-year situation.” Here she is. So for ten years, Miss Patty has been here. Thank you. She knows what everybody’s got in the budget too, by the way.

Judy Parker could not be here today so y’all have not really met Judy Parker. I think she’s been here once or twice in the ten years. I was serving on the Pasco-Hernando County State Board of Colleges with her, and I said “Judy, hey, I’m running for the Senate. You know if I win, you should come run the office, and you can do whatever you want.” She’s lived in Florida most of her life and has very successful businesses, things that she’s done, and works very hard. She said, “Yeah, that might be interesting. I might do that.” I said, “Guess what? This is a ten-year deal if we do this.” She reminds me that, you know—I don’t want to say what age she is—but she’s probably retirement age. But guess what? She’s still with us today, and she would be here today except I know she had a little issue, and she couldn’t be here today.

She’s been wonderful because my constituents in District 10 have gotten all they deserve from our office. Anything they’ve gotten has been from Judy Parker. She’s done a great job for us.

Where’s Brooks Timmons? I know Brooks is here somewhere. If y’all don’t know Brooks, you can go on to Apple iTunes, whatever you do, and y’all can look him up. He’s got stuff out there, and he’s going to have more stuff out there soon with Cowboy Troy. Brooks has driven me around for the last eight years, and he’s served in my Senate office. He does everything that nobody else wants to do, right? Brooks is the last knot on the rope. It’s been an honor because sometimes we’ll be driving somewhere, and someone will say something that happened three or four years ago. They’ll say, “Oh you went here, you went here, and what did you do?” I can’t say the adjectives I normally think, but Brooks knows. He’ll say, “Senator Simpson, I’ve seen all this and done all this.” Now here’s the good part for Brooks—he’s been in all the rooms we’ve been in for the last six or eight years so you know, Brooks has got a lot of valuable information. He’s been a rock star for me. Thank you, Brooks.

Secretary Brown, we’re leaving together. When we started here, I didn’t know that at the time, but she had a ten-year commitment too, apparently. These are her last two years. We really appreciate your steadfastness that you bring to the Senate and the professionalism that you bring to the Senate. Thank you for staying with us.

Ronnie Whitaker—me and Ronnie got hooked together during Majority Leader Galvano’s tenure. He had hired Ronnie, I believe, and was with him in the Majority Office. I came behind President Galvano and really, he brings a lot of professionalism. I don’t know other adjectives that are more meaningful to me, but the professionalism that you’ve brought to the Majority Office, the way you’ve run that office, the way you handle our business, has been really extraordinary. I really appreciate all your support. You’ve been extraordinary—right on through with Leader Mayfield. I always say Leader Mayfield is the best Majority Leader we’ve had in a decade or so—at least a decade. Y’all do a tremendous job. Thank you.

Sergeant Kelly was a great find for the Florida Senate. You came to us two years ago, I think now. It was the beginning of my term, and you’ve done a tremendous job, Sergeant. Not only with the professionalism but the way you handle each individual Senator, the way you take care of our concerns and needs. Thank you for what you do for the entire Senate, Sergeant. It’s been an honor to see your work.

I’ve had several staff directors since I’ve been in the Senate. Tom Yeatman is here somewhere. Can you imagine my first year I get to the Florida Senate—think about this for a second—I get elected without opposition my first go-round. I go to my closet—I don’t have a suit in the closet that will fit. I mean, I have some from the 90s, but they’re not going to fit anymore. You can’t even take those out enough to put them on, and so I rush and get suits and come up and I meet Tom. You know I’ve never done this before, and we got all these books and procedures and things that you have to do to make it. Tom is a genius at that stuff, because he took an egg farmer and, in a matter of a few weeks, schooled me up enough to get me through my first committee meeting—and then continued to do so for the next four years. I served as the chair of Community Affairs my first four years, and Tom did an extraordinary job for me getting me through that time.

Jennifer Hrdlicka—I had one year with her. I was the Transportation Committee Chair that year—same for her. I was a little more on my toes then, so she didn’t probably get it as easy as Tom did, but she did a tremendous job. Then Booter Imhof, when I was Designate, he was my staff director and did a really good job and is just a professional.

All of our staff has done a tremendous job, and it’s been a real pleasure and honor to serve with such professionals. It’s something that’s really extraordinary for the things we’ve been able to accomplish. In the President’s office, Sam Williams? Has everybody met Sam? Sam’s the first person you see when you come in the door, right? Sam does a tremendous job for us in the Senate. He greets everyone coming in. I haven’t heard any complaints, so I assume that he’s really done a good job. I always tell him to you know, if he has a concealed carry, when people come in there rowdy, they know that. Just joking, just joking. Not really. But anyway, he hasn’t had to demonstrate those skills, but he’s done a good job for us. He’s been a welcome member of the team.

Christie Letarte has handled insurance and tort reform for us for the last two years. We have bills that have been passed off this Senate floor that have never gotten to the Senate floor, multiple bills. She's worked on those bills with our teams and done a tremendous job.

Kathy Mizereck has handled all our education in the President's Office—again, a real professional and understands this a lot better than I do. She will bring out granny law if necessary as she calls it, but she's done a great job. What we did last year—you know, our expansion of school choice—was extraordinary. When you talk about raising people out of poverty and giving parents choices, I think that's a big part of the puzzle. Thank you, Kathy, for all the things you've done for the Florida Senate.

Allie Cleary—same thing on our health care. We've done tremendous work in the health care policy the last two years. No one knows on our staff what I'm going to drag in next, right? Because any time a Senator says, "Hey, we should work on this policy," we drag it in. Curt Yan, my CPA, used to say, "Well, you'll drag in this 1,000-pound carcass, and you expect us to take it all apart in a matter of hours. It may take a few weeks." Unfortunately for our staff, that's sort of the same process, right? We bring in these big ideas, and they do a tremendous job. Allie, you've done a tremendous job for us.

Reynold Meyer—again Reynold, you've been just a professional. Reynold has done a tremendous job for the Florida Senate. He's the guy that—I think President Gardiner said, or the Chief of Staff—he's the guy that makes all the trains run on time. He's the conductor. He makes sure we're doing the things; he's looking at the clock right now thinking, I wish this could end. I was thinking that an hour and a half ago, but whatever. Again I mention Tom Yeatman who has been awesome in the President's office.

Jeremiah Hawkes, our general counsel, we always ask him, "Is anyone going to jail? Are we doing okay?" I remember President Galvano said, "I got my name put on 12 lawsuits when I first got to be President of the Florida Senate." I don't know if I have. If I have, he's done a good job of not letting me know that I have. Since I'm not a lawyer, it's kind of like I'm oblivious. Thank you, Jeremiah, for the work you've done for the Florida Senate.

If you've come to my office, you've met Megan Ramba. Megan has done a great job for us. She's sort of the conductor and either lets people in the door or not. She's very good at saying "no." It's kind of amazing. I'll add those two together—India was there my first year. I think Rob Bradley had a name for her, "the Death Star," where all good dreams go to die because you can't get into the President's Office. Megan has been a "Death Star" also when she needs to be, and I think that's probably the highest compliment for that area. You've both done it with such grace and understanding for what it takes for us to do our jobs. Thank you for what you've done there.

Jacqui Peters has been training our staff for the last two years and working with all of our staff and teams. If your staff has any problems or any issues, Jacqui Peters is our first line of defense for that. Thank you for the work you've done. Katie Betta—or I call her "Katie Red" all the time—she's really tremendous. So if you ever thought, man, Wilton did okay in that press avail. That's not always true, right? I may say anything as you know. But if I've done anything right, it's because Katie said, "No, don't say that!" She'll brief me on all these issues and it's kind of like, "Yeah, I don't think we should say it that way. I think we should go this route." She's very professional, timely, and considerate of all my crazy stuff. So the more considerate someone is to me, generally the harder I get on them, right—the more I keep amping it up until finally they say, "No, you can't do that." So a few times, I've probably gotten to Katie Betta that way, but you've done a tremendous job for me. If she can do this with an egg farmer, just think what she could do with a lawyer, right?

Andrew Mackintosh is the architect of a lot of these big ideas that we've had, and he's done a tremendous job. I always tell people on the compact, "Andrew did the compact." Andrew did many things. He's been a real steady leader for the Florida Senate. He's one of those folks that you have to have when one of those big ideas come in. How do you dissect this thing and make sure that you have all of the tools you need to do the job? That's Andrew. Thank you, Andrew, for the work you do.

I think last but not least is Kathy Mears. I was only going to describe her in a few words because I didn't want to mess around—mess myself up here. Loyal, confident, and caring; the work she does with kids here is just tremendous in this office. I know every one of you have engaged her 5,000 hours, and then me 1,000 hours, because she took the 5,000 hours. We couldn't operate the Senate without Kathy Mears. Thank you.

Speaker Sprowls, thank you for being such a great partner. Everything we've talked about, everything that we're proud of that we've done the last two years—it takes at least two to tango. Then we have to go back to the Governor. You've been a great partner and a great friend, and we've done great work—long-lasting legacy type work. What we didn't mention is future Speaker Danny Perez is here. Lawrence McClure, Anthony, and Josie Tomkow are here. I call her my niece because she grew up being my niece, but we love you. Thank y'all for coming over.

Now I'm going to wrap it up very quickly. We have made a difference. We've made a difference in the last nine years. I'm counting, and this is year number ten. We've made it in our environment. I could go on and on and on about these issues: Everglades' restoration, wildlife corridors, the EAA reservoirs, the C43 and 44 were done last year and this year. The springs' funding that we've done is tremendous. Everywhere there's not Everglades, there are springs. We talk about Everglades a lot but that's only a third of the State—or half. The other half of the state has springs. We've had tremendous leaders in the last nine years that have helped bolster these policies. I've been here for nine years and we're in pretty good shape. We've had historic funding. The Governor made it a priority of his when he first ran four years ago, and he wanted historic funding for our environment. And it has been historic. If you think about what we've done, where we've come from, and where we are now, it's been tremendous, and it's something that we should be very proud of. I got a call—I was in the National Geographic—and they said, "President Simpson, I want you to give me a few quotes. First, I want to know, how did you get Republicans to vote for these environmental policies?" I said, "I'm not sure what you're talking about. I've served now nine years. I think they're all unanimous when we do them here in the Florida Senate." They said, "But that's not normal in other states." And I said, "Well Florida is not actually a very normal state." Thank God we weren't in the middle of the pandemic. He said, "Yeah, I know you aren't a normal state." But the reality is, he was just in awe of the attention that all 40 of us gave the environment. They were very interested in the wildlife corridor, and it was just a great honor for them to recognize that and the bipartisanship with which we do these things.

I would also say this is the year of the blue collar worker. When you go back home, you're not going to read the newspaper that says the bus driver makes $12 an hour, or our cafeteria workers, and that we don't value these folks. The budget I hope we pass here in a few days values those folks. It may not value them enough, but it certainly gets them to $15 an hour. The people who take care of our nursing homes, the worst positions, people taking care of the people—what President Negron always talked about—are going to get $15 an hour now. They're now making $11-$12 an hour in most cases. Those things are very important, and it's something that we can be very proud of.

Foster and adoption kids are CBCs. The House has proposed very large expansion of resources for the CBCs. All of those things tied together are going to be meaningful in the lives of our children—the most vulnerable children in the state. So when you add all this up, it's going to be tremendous. Families are going to rise up, maybe the families that come out of poverty because they're getting paid better. The CBC work, the fostering and adoption work that we're doing—to tie it all together. The school choice we did last year where parents can choose any school they want—how to educate their children. Think about that for a second. A lot of us in this chamber can do that ourselves today. We can take our children anywhere we want to go because we can afford it. Not so much to the people we serve—now they can. That was something we were very proud of last year. I believe it's transformative because I believe it will drive competition into that K-12 system. We've had the best university and college system in the last five years. In two to three years from now, we'll have the best K-12 system in the country. It's because of competition and because of parental choice that's going to drive excellence in that system. It's something we should be very proud of. I can go on and on.

I should mention Moffitt. I think Moffitt Cancer Center is going to be transformative in the next ten years. It's already transformative, but what's going to happen there now, because of the funding that this legislation has provided, is really going to be transformative. It's going to be the best center in the world. When people from any place in this country say, "I have cancer. Where should I go?" It's going to be Moffitt Cancer Center in Florida. Think about how proud of that we're going to be. I don't want to miss it because we're going to save tens of thousands of lives, more, in a few years because of the work that we're doing on that. I'm not going to go on and on, but I will leave you with something you've already heard today. If you don't care who gets credit, amazing what we can accomplish, right? It's true. It's always been true. It's been a real honor to serve with you, and the gifts that we put by your desks, y'all can open those later. It's been a real honor to serve as your President. We've got three maybe four, five, six days to go and, I don't know, maybe special session for the budget. We do have our proposal, Speaker, if you'll just say, "yes" right now. Sergeant, secure the chamber. Now I think we're going to be fine. Thank you. It's been a real honor to serve, and thank you for all those nice compliments.

Time for comments having closed, Senator Stewart submitted the following remarks to be published in the Senate Journal:

Senator Stewart: President Simpson, I did not have the chance to wish you farewell on the Senate floor, so I wanted to write and share with you a memory of my first visitation to your office. Having come from the House, I was not accustomed to seeing the President in a one-on-one setting. I was very nervous to meet with you and had a long list of appropriations that Central Florida was in dire need of. You took the time to listen to my concerns and even eventually worked with me to help secure funding for my projects. To this day, I have no idea why I was so worried when I left your office. You have always been such a compassionate and understanding individual and always willing to do whatever you could to help my constituents. I now regularly visit your office and always appreciate the time you make to listen. Thank you for being such a wonderful President! Happy trails to you!

Excused: Senator Stargel periodically for the purpose of working on Appropriations

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Reverend Margaret Fox, First Presbyterian Church, Tallahassee:

Mighty and merciful God, we praise you for this day, which you have made. We thank you for the great trust of our democracy, and we pray for the members of the Florida Senate—for the people you have called to serve and for the work you have called them to do. Equip these Senators with the skill and virtue to fulfill this calling. Help them to listen with openness, to speak with clarity, and to lead as servants of the public good. Almighty God, we lift before you the people of Florida in all aspects of their life and work that will come before this body today. We pray especially today, O God, for teachers. We thank you for their service to our children and for their role shaping citizens for public life. We thank you for their sacrifice and for their sensitivity. We pray for them as they guide our children through an increasingly divided world.

We pray especially today, O God, for parents. We thank you for the gift of family life, its joys and possibilities. We acknowledge and lift before you the ways in which family can also be a place of brokenness and a source of pain. We pray for parents whose kids don't fit the mold and who fear for the safety of their children. And we pray for parents who fear that the mold has been abandoned and that the order of things is under threat. God, we pray for everyone whose job it is to love and nurture in a world so full of fear.

Finally, O God, we pray for our children. Help them to grow in stature, intellect, and spirit. Provide for their nurture and their flourishing. Challenge them as they learn about the world they live in, and keep them safe from harm. Uphold them in the curiosity and playfulness of childhood. Guide them through the discovery and the turbulence of adolescence. Grow them into people of commitment, creativity, and hope. You know them each by name and the number of their days. Hold them as they discover who they are and who you have called them to be. Teach us, O God, to live in a world that is broken and divided. Teach us to love in a world that's full of fear. Guide us as we fulfill our common calling. Guide us as we seek to serve the people of this state. Grow us as citizens of this state and as your beloved children. Grow us in faith, in hope, and in love. God bless this body, and bless the State of Florida. God bless and keep the people of Ukraine. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Axiom McGlockton of Bristol; Ashlyn Riley of Wesley Chapel; and Adrianna Suggs of Hosford, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

WHEREAS, TD can develop months, years, or decades after a person starts taking DRBAs, even after he or she has discontinued use of those medications, and is often permanent, and

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

(c) "Covered policy" means any insurance policy covering residential property in this state, including, but not limited to, any homeowner, mobile home owner, farm owner, condominium association, condominium unit owner, tenant, or apartment building policy, or any other policy covering a residential structure or its contents issued by any authorized insurer, including a commercial self-insurance fund holding a certificate of authority issued by the Office of Insurance Regulation under s. 624.462, the Citizens Property Insurance Corporation, and any joint underwriting association or similar entity created under law. The term "covered policy" includes any collateral protection insurance policy covering personal residences which protects both the borrower's and the lender's financial interests, in an amount at least equal to the coverage amount for the dwelling in place under the lapsed homeowner's policy, the coverage amount that the homeowner has been notified of by the collateral protection insurer, or the coverage amount that the homeowner requests from the collateral protection insurer, if such collateral protection insurance policy can be accurately reported as required in subsection (5). Additionally, covered policies include policies covering the peril of wind removed from the Florida Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association or from the Citizens Property Insurance Corporation, created under s. 627.351(6), or from the Florida Windstorm Underwriting Association, created under s. 627.351(2), by an authorized insurer under the terms and conditions of an executed assumption agreement between the authorized insurer and such association or Citizens Property Insurance Corporation. Each assumption agreement between the association and such authorized insurer or Citizens Property Insurance Corporation must be approved by the Office of Insurance Regulation before the effective date of the assumption, and the Office of Insurance Regulation must provide written notification to the board within 15 working days after such approval. "Covered policy" does not include any policy that excludes wind coverage or hurricane coverage or any reinsurance agreement and does not include any policy otherwise meeting this definition which is issued by a surplus lines insurer or a reinsurer. All commercial residential excess policies and all deductible buy-back policies that, based on sound actuarial principles, require individual ratemaking shall be excluded by rule if the actuarial soundness of the fund is not jeopardized. For this purpose, the term "excess policy" means a policy that provides insurance protection for large commercial property risks and that provides a layer of coverage above a primary layer insured by another insurer.

Section 3. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, this act shall take effect July 1, 2022.

And the title is amended as follows:

Remove line 8 and insert: construction; amending s. 215.555, F.S.; revising the definition of the term "covered policy"; providing effective dates.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Tom Holdcraft, St. Stephen Lutheran Church, Tallahassee:

God of all creation, we come to you in prayer today for we need guidance. We seek your guidance for we are a lost and broken people, a lost community in the wilderness trials and sufferings of temptations that lead us into disputes with one another and make us loyal to false gods. Yet, you walk with us and teach us to see you in one another and to experience you in nature. Lead us to work together in ways that build bridges and repair relationships. I call upon you to touch my lips with holy and purifying embers of coal. Create in me a clean heart, and do the same for each person in this room. Purify their tongues and create clean hearts in them.

Instill in us the same preferences for the poor that you have. Light up our hearts so that we are not bound by false things like money, power, safety, and security, especially when it is at the expense of others. Deliver creativity in our government to work together to find common ground between sides and to promote, legislate, and pass laws for the common good—a common good which recognizes that you, O God, do not make distinctions between people. For your guidance and the will of your spirit reveals that when we make distinctions in our politics, we pit one against the other, and we hinder you, O God. In that case, we might even be found fighting against you, O God. Let it not be so.

We thank you, Creator of heaven and earth, for the heartbeat and breath you give us. We thank you for not giving up on us, for walking in the valley of the shadow of death with us, and for the awesome responsibility you have given to these in this room to pass healthy and just policy. Open us to offer the hand up to those who are hurting, keeping us mindful of the homeless and uninsured, those who seek meaningful work and livable wages, those hurt by gun violence and addiction, and mindful of those who live amid war.

Come, Lord God, have mercy on us and give blessing and strength to these in this room who can make positive differences right now and in the days that remain. Grant us courage to live according to your commandment to love God and love one another. May goodness, mercy, and love flow from you to us, in all we say and do. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Jacqueline Fake of Palm Beach; Davis Hattaway of Cocoa Beach; and Gregory Wareham of Tallahassee, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Before line 76 insert:

Section 1. Subsection (12) is added to section 30.49, Florida Statutes, to read:

30.49 Budgets.—

(12)(a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, after the approval of the sheriff's budget by the board of county commissioners or budget commission, if a county has established a budget commission, the sheriff may transfer funds between the functional categories described in paragraph (2)(a) or between the itemized categories described in paragraph (2)(c).

(b) The board of county commissioners or budget commission, as applicable, may by ordinance or resolution establish a mutually agreeable policy prescribing the manner in which a sheriff may transfer funds between functional categories described in paragraph (2)(a) or the itemized functional categories described in paragraph (2)(c). If the board or commission establishes such a policy, the policy must include an actual threshold amount, or percentage threshold, of funds the sheriff may transfer between functional categories or itemized categories without the approval of the board or commission. The policy must include evidence of agreement between the board or commission, as applicable, and the sheriff. The policy adopted by the board or commission, as applicable, under this paragraph may not authorize the sheriff to commingle recurring or nonrecurring funds, or otherwise transfer recurring funds into any nonrecurring categories, or nonrecurring funds into recurring categories, irrespective of whether the transfer of funds occurs within the functional categories in paragraph (2)(a) or the itemized categories in paragraph (2)(c). The sheriff must, within 14 days after the end of each fiscal quarter, submit a report to the board or commission, as applicable, of all fund transfers made in such quarter which did not require the board's or commission's approval pursuant to the policy established under this paragraph. The report must contain a sworn certificate stating the transfers of funds undertaken during the completed quarter were reasonable and necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the office, county jail, or provision of court services.

(c) If the board of county commissioners or budget commission, as applicable, does not adopt a policy under paragraph (b), the sheriff may transfer funds between the functional categories described in paragraph (2)(a) or itemized categories in paragraph (2)(c) without the approval of the board or commission, except the sheriff may not commingle recurring or nonrecurring funds, or otherwise transfer recurring funds into any nonrecurring categories or nonrecurring funds into recurring categories, irrespective of whether transfer of funds occurs within the functional categories in paragraph (2)(a) or the itemized categories in paragraph (2)(c). Within 14 days after the end of each fiscal quarter, the sheriff must provide a report to the board or commission, as applicable, of all fund transfers made in such completed quarter. The report must contain a sworn certificate stating the transfers of funds undertaken during the completed quarter were reasonable and necessary for the proper and efficient operation of the office, county jail, or provision of court services.

(d) If a transfer of funds under this subsection requires the approval of the board of county commissioners or budget commission, as applicable, the sheriff may apply to the board or commission for a transfer of funds as necessary. The sheriff's request must contain all relevant information and justification supporting the sheriff's need for the transfer of funds. The board or commission, as applicable, must place the transfer request on its consent agenda at the next scheduled meeting of the board or commission that occurs not more than 15 days after the date the sheriff submits the request to transfer funds. The transfer request may not be removed from the consent agenda, except upon a majority vote of the board or commission, as applicable. The board or commission may not deny the sheriff's request to transfer funds between the functional categories in paragraph (2)(a) or between the itemized categories in paragraph (2)(c) except upon a supermajority vote of the entire membership of the board or commission, as applicable.

(e) After the board of county commissioners or budget commission, as applicable, approves the sheriff's budget under this section, the sheriff may transfer funds between expenditures at the subobject code level without approval of the board or commission. As provided in subsection (3), the board or commission may not amend, modify, increase, or reduce any expenditure at the subobject code level.

129.06 Execution and amendment of budget.—

(3) Except as authorized in s. 30.49(12), only the following transfers may be made between funds:

(a) Transfers to correct errors in handling receipts and disbursements.

(b) Budgeted transfers.

(c) Transfers to properly account for unanticipated revenue or increased receipts.

Present subsections (4) through (8) of section 1000.05, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (5) through (9), respectively, subsections (2) and (3), present subsection (4), and paragraph (d) of present subsection (6) are amended, and a new subsection (4) is added to that section, to read:

1000.05 Discrimination against students and employees in the Florida K-20 public education system prohibited; equality of access required.—

(2)(a) Discrimination on the basis of race, ~~color~~ ~~ethnicity~~, national origin, ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, disability, religion, or marital status against a student or an employee in the state system of public K-20 education is prohibited. No person in this state shall, on the basis of race, ~~color~~ ~~ethnicity~~, national origin, ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, disability, religion, or marital status, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any public K-20 education program or activity, or in any employment conditions or practices, conducted by a public educational institution that receives or benefits from federal or state financial assistance.

(b) The criteria for admission to a program or course shall not have the effect of restricting access by persons of a particular race, ~~color~~ ~~ethnicity~~, national origin, ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, disability, religion, or marital status.

(c) All public K-20 education classes shall be available to all students without regard to race, ~~color~~ ~~ethnicity~~, national origin, ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, disability, religion, or marital status; however, this is not intended to eliminate the provision of programs designed to meet the needs of students with limited proficiency in English, gifted students, or students with disabilities or programs tailored to students with specialized talents or skills.

(d) Students may be separated by ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ for a single-gender program as provided under s. 1002.311, for any portion of a class that deals with human reproduction, or during participation in bodily contact sports. For the purpose of this section, bodily contact sports include wrestling, boxing, rugby, ice hockey, football, basketball, and other sports in which the purpose or major activity involves bodily contact.

(e) Guidance services, counseling services, and financial assistance services in the state public K-20 education system shall be available to students equally. Guidance and counseling services, materials, and promotional events shall stress access to academic and career opportunities for students without regard to race, ~~color~~ ~~ethnicity~~, national origin, ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, disability, religion, or marital status.

(3)(a) No person shall, on the basis of ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, be excluded from participating in, be denied the benefits of, or be treated differently from another person or otherwise be discriminated against in any interscholastic, intercollegiate, club, or intramural athletics offered by a public K-20 educational institution; and no public K-20 educational institution shall provide athletics separately on such basis.

(b) Notwithstanding the requirements of paragraph (a), a public K-20 educational institution may operate or sponsor separate teams for members of each ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ if the selection for such teams is based upon competitive skill or the activity involved is a bodily contact sport. However, when a public K-20 educational institution operates or sponsors a team in a particular sport for members of one ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ but does not operate or sponsor such a team for members of the other ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, and athletic opportunities for that ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ have previously been limited, members of the excluded ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ must be allowed to try out for the team offered.

(c) This subsection does not prohibit the grouping of students in physical education classes and activities by ability as assessed by objective standards of individual performance developed and applied without regard to ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~. However, when use of a single standard of measuring skill or progress in a physical education class has an adverse effect on members of one ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~, the educational institution shall use appropriate standards which do not have such effect.

(d) A public K-20 educational institution which operates or sponsors interscholastic, intercollegiate, club, or intramural athletics shall provide equal athletic opportunity for members of both ~~sexes~~ ~~genders~~.

1. The Board of Governors shall determine whether equal opportunities are available at state universities.

2. The Commissioner of Education shall determine whether equal opportunities are available in school districts and Florida College System institutions. In determining whether equal opportunities are available in school districts and Florida College System institutions, the Commissioner of Education shall consider, among other factors:

b. The provision of equipment and supplies.

c. Scheduling of games and practice times.

d. Travel and per diem allowances.

e. Opportunities to receive coaching and academic tutoring.

f. Assignment and compensation of coaches and tutors.

g. Provision of locker room, practice, and competitive facilities.

h. Provision of medical and training facilities and services.

i. Provision of housing and dining facilities and services.

j. Publicity.

Unequal aggregate expenditures for members of each ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ or unequal expenditures for male and female teams if a public school or Florida College System institution operates or sponsors separate teams do not constitute nonimplementation of this subsection, but the Commissioner of Education shall consider the failure to provide necessary funds for teams for one ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~ in assessing equality of opportunity for members of each ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~.

(e) A public school or Florida College System institution may provide separate toilet, locker room, and shower facilities on the basis of gender, but such facilities shall be comparable to such facilities provided for students of the other ~~sex~~ ~~gender~~.

(4)(a) It shall constitute discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, or sex under this section to subject any student to training or instruction that espouses, promotes, advances, inculcates, or compels such student to believe any of the following concepts:

House Amendment 1 (031891) (with title amendment)—Remove lines 73-255 and insert:

259.105 The Florida Forever Act.—

(2)(a) The Legislature finds and declares that:

1. Land acquisition programs have provided tremendous financial resources for purchasing environmentally significant lands to protect those lands from imminent development or alteration, thereby ensuring present and future generations' access to important waterways, open spaces, and recreation and conservation lands.

2. The continued alteration and development of the state's natural and rural areas to accommodate the state's growing population have contributed to the degradation of water resources, the fragmentation and destruction of wildlife habitats, the loss of outdoor recreation space, and the diminishment of wetlands, forests, working landscapes, and coastal open space.

3. The potential development of the state's remaining natural areas and escalation of land values require government efforts to restore, bring under public protection, or acquire lands and water areas to preserve the state's essential ecological functions and invaluable quality of life.

4. It is essential to protect the state's ecosystems by promoting a more efficient use of land, to ensure opportunities for viable agricultural activities on working lands, and to promote vital rural and urban communities that support and produce development patterns consistent with natural resource protection.

5. The state's groundwater, surface waters, and springs are under tremendous pressure due to population growth and economic expansion and require special protection and restoration efforts, including the protection of uplands and springsheds that provide vital recharge to aquifer systems and are critical to the protection of water quality and water quantity of the aquifers and springs. To ensure that sufficient quantities of water are available to meet the current and future needs of the natural systems and citizens of the state, and assist in achieving the planning goals of the department and the water management districts, water resource development projects on public lands, if compatible with the resource values of and management objectives for the lands, are appropriate.

6. The needs of urban, suburban, and small communities in the state for high-quality outdoor recreational opportunities, greenways, trails, and open space have not been fully met by previous acquisition programs. Through such programs as the Florida Communities Trust and the Florida Recreation Development Assistance Program, the state shall place additional emphasis on acquiring, protecting, preserving, and restoring open space, ecological greenways, and recreation properties within urban, suburban, and rural areas where pristine natural communities or water bodies no longer exist because of the proximity of developed property.

7. Many of the state's unique ecosystems, such as the Florida Everglades, are facing ecological collapse due to the state's burgeoning population growth and other economic activities. To preserve these valuable ecosystems for future generations, essential parcels of land must be acquired to facilitate ecosystem restoration.

8. Access to public lands to support a broad range of outdoor recreational opportunities and the development of necessary infrastructure, if compatible with the resource values of and management objectives for such lands, promotes an appreciation for the state's natural assets and improves the quality of life.

9. Acquisition of lands, in fee simple, less than fee interest, or other techniques shall be based on a comprehensive science-based assessment of the state's natural resources which targets essential conservation lands by prioritizing all current and future acquisitions based on a uniform set of data and planned so as to protect the integrity and function of ecological systems and working landscapes, and provide multiple benefits, including preservation of fish and wildlife habitat, recreation space for urban and rural areas, and the restoration of natural water storage, flow, and recharge.

10. The state has embraced performance-based program budgeting as a tool to evaluate the achievements of publicly funded agencies, build in accountability, and reward those agencies which are able to consistently achieve quantifiable goals. While previous and existing state environmental programs have achieved varying degrees of success, few of these programs can be evaluated as to the extent of their achievements, primarily because performance measures, standards, outcomes, and goals were not established at the outset. Therefore, the Florida Forever program shall be developed and implemented in the context of measurable state goals and objectives.

11.a. The state must play a major role in the recovery and management of its imperiled species through the acquisition, restoration, enhancement, and management of ecosystems that can support the major life functions of such species. It is the intent of the Legislature to support local, state, and federal programs that result in net benefit to imperiled species habitat by providing public and private land owners meaningful incentives for acquiring, restoring, managing, and repopulating habitats for imperiled species. It is the further intent of the Legislature that public lands, both existing and to be acquired, identified by the lead land managing agency, in consultation with the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission for animals or the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services for plants, as habitat or potentially restorable habitat for imperiled species, be restored, enhanced, managed, and repopulated as habitat for such species to advance the goals and objectives of imperiled species management for conservation, recreation, or both, consistent with the land management plan without restricting other uses identified in the management plan. It is also the intent of the Legislature that of the proceeds distributed pursuant to subsection (3), additional consideration be given to acquisitions that achieve a combination of conservation goals, including the restoration, enhancement, management, or repopulation of habitat for imperiled species. The council, in addition to the criteria in subsection (9), shall give weight to projects that include acquisition, restoration, management, or repopulation of habitat for imperiled species. The term "imperiled species" as used in this chapter and chapter 253, means plants and animals that are federally listed under the Endangered Species Act, or state-listed by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission or the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services. As part of the state's role, all state lands that have imperiled species habitat shall include as a consideration in management plan development the restoration, enhancement, management, and repopulation of such habitats. In addition, the lead land managing agency of such state lands may use fees received from public or private entities for projects to offset adverse impacts to imperiled species or their habitat in order to restore, enhance, manage, repopulate, or acquire land and to implement land management plans developed under s. 253.034 or a land management prospectus developed and implemented under this chapter. Such fees shall be deposited into a foundation or fund created by each land management agency under s. 379.223, s. 589.012, or s. 259.032(9)(c), to be used solely to restore, manage, enhance, repopulate, or acquire imperiled species habitat.

b. The Legislature recognizes that there have been geographical and capacity constraints on available gopher tortoise recipient sites that have coincided with increased demands for such sites. The Legislature also recognizes that the success of gopher tortoise conservation depends on participation by privately owned lands and the use of appropriate public lands for gopher tortoise and other imperiled species management and recovery. To encourage adequate capacity for relocating gopher tortoises, each lead land managing agency, in consultation with the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, shall consider the feasibility of using a portion of state lands as a gopher tortoise recipient site in management plans for all state lands under the management of the agency that are greater than 40 contiguous acres. If the lead land managing agency, in consultation with the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, determines that gopher tortoise recipient site management does not conflict with the primary management objectives of the lands, the management plan must contain a component prepared by the agency or cooperatively with a Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission wildlife biologist that assesses the feasibility of managing the lands as a recipient site for gopher tortoises consistent with rules of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission. The feasibility assessment by the lead land managing agency must also evaluate the economic feasibility of establishing a gopher tortoise recipient site, including the initial cost and recurring management costs of operating the gopher tortoise recipient site consistent with the rules of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission and the revenue projections necessary to ensure the initial and recurring costs of establishing and perpetually maintaining the gopher tortoise recipient site do not create an increased recurring expense for the agency.

12. There is a need to change the focus and direction of the state’s major land acquisition programs and to extend funding and bonding capabilities, so that future generations may enjoy the natural resources of this state.

(b) The Legislature recognizes that acquisition of lands in fee simple is only one way to achieve the aforementioned goals and encourages the use of less-than-fee interests, other techniques, and the development of creative partnerships between governmental agencies and private landowners. Such partnerships may include those that advance the restoration, enhancement, management, or repopulation of imperiled species habitat on state lands as provided for in subparagraph (a)11. Easements acquired pursuant to s. 570.71(2)(a) and (b), land protection agreements, and nonstate funded tools such as rural land stewardship areas, sector planning, gopher tortoise recipient sites, and mitigation should be used, where appropriate, to bring environmentally sensitive tracts under an acceptable level of protection at a lower financial cost to the public, and to provide private landowners with the opportunity to enjoy and benefit from their property. The owner of lands where a conservation easement or other less-than-fee interest has been acquired by the board or another state agency or a regional or local government may establish a recipient site or conservation bank on the lands to advance the restoration, enhancement, management, or repopulation of imperiled species habitat so long as the recipient site or operation and maintenance of the conservation bank does not interfere with the management plan for the conservation easement and the landowner complies with all state and federal permitting requirements for the recipient site or conservation bank.

Section 2. (1) By December 31, 2022, the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission shall streamline and improve the review of applications for public and private gopher tortoise recipient sites. Requests for additional information must be received by the applicant within 45 days after receipt of an application and the commission shall approve or deny a complete application within 45 days after receipt of such application.

(2) By October 31, 2022, the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission shall:

(a) Establish an ongoing effort to encourage the establishment of new gopher tortoise recipient sites on private lands throughout the state; and

(b) Update its permitting systems to create an online dashboard to show permitted and available capacity for reservations in permitted gopher tortoise recipient sites to assist with the efficient relocation of gopher tortoises.

(3) By February 1, 2023, the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission shall submit a report to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives that includes the following information:

(a) The progress made in establishing new private and public gopher tortoise recipient sites;

(b) The average time it takes to approve or deny a recipient site application once a complete application is received;

(c) Any federal action taken to modify the listing of the gopher tortoise under the Endangered Species Act; and

(d) Any other information relevant to the gopher tortoise conservation program.

And the title is amended as follows:

Remove lines 3-15 and insert: Commission; amending s. 259.105, F.S.; providing legislative findings; requiring lead land managing agencies, in consultation with the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, to consider the use of state lands as gopher tortoise recipient sites in certain management plans; requiring certain management plans to include feasibility assessments for managing gopher tortoise recipient sites; authorizing owners of certain lands to establish gopher tortoise recipient sites or conservation banks on the lands under certain conditions; requiring the commission to streamline and improve the review of gopher tortoise recipient site applications and approve or deny such applications within a specified timeframe; requiring the commission to encourage the establishment of gopher tortoise recipient sites on private lands and to create an online dashboard for certain gopher tortoise recipient site information; requiring the commission to submit a report on gopher tortoise recipient sites to the Legislature by a specified date; providing report requirements; amending ss. 327.352 and 327.35215,

And the title is amended as follows:

1006.28 Duties of district school board, district school superintendent; and school principal regarding K-12 instructional materials.—

(2) DISTRICT SCHOOL BOARD.—The district school board has the constitutional duty and responsibility to select and provide adequate instructional materials for all students in accordance with the requirements of this part. The district school board also has the following specific duties and responsibilities:

(a) Courses of study; adoption.—Adopt courses of study, including instructional materials, for use in the schools of the district.

1. Each district school board is responsible for the content of all instructional materials and any other materials used in a classroom, made available in a school library, or included on a reading list, whether adopted and purchased from the state-adopted instructional materials list, adopted and purchased through a district instructional materials program under s. 1006.283, or otherwise purchased or made available. ~~Each district school board shall maintain on its website a current list of instructional materials, by grade level, purchased by the district.~~

2. Each district school board must adopt a policy regarding an objection by a parent or a resident of the county to the use of a specific instructional material, which clearly describes a process to handle all objections and provides for resolution. The process must provide the parent or resident the opportunity to proffer evidence to the district school board that:

a. An instructional material does not meet the criteria of s. 1006.31(2) or s. 1006.40(3)(d) if it was selected for use in a course or otherwise made available to students in the school district but was not subject to the public notice, review, comment, and hearing procedures under s. 1006.283(2)(b)8., 9., and 11.

b. Any material used in a classroom, made available in a school library, or included on a reading list contains content that is pornographic or prohibited under s. 847.012, is not suited to student needs and their ability to comprehend the material presented, or is inappropriate for the grade level and age group for which the material is used.

If the district school board finds that an instructional material does not meet the criteria under sub-subparagraph a. or that any other material contains prohibited content under sub-subparagraph b., the school district shall discontinue use of the material for any grade level or age group for which such use is inappropriate or unsuitable.

3. Each district school board must establish a process by which the parent of a public school student or a resident of the county may contest the district school board's adoption of a specific instructional material. The parent or resident must file a petition, on a form provided by the school board, within 30 calendar days after the adoption of the instructional material by the school board. The school board must make the form available to the public and publish the form on the school district's website. The form must be signed by the parent or resident, include the required contact information, and state the objection to the instructional material based on the criteria of s. 1006.31(2) or s. 1006.40(3)(d). Within 30 days after the 30-day period has expired, the school board must, for all petitions timely received, conduct at least one open public hearing before an unbiased and qualified hearing officer. The hearing officer may not be an employee or agent of the school district. The hearing is not subject to the provisions of chapter 120; however, the hearing must provide sufficient procedural protections to allow each petitioner an adequate and fair opportunity to be heard and present evidence to the hearing officer. The school board's decision after convening a hearing is final and not subject to further petition or review.

4. Meetings of committees convened for the purpose of ranking, eliminating, or selecting instructional materials for recommendation to the district school board must be noticed and open to the public in accordance with s. 286.011. Any committees convened for such purposes must include parents of district students.

2. Each district school board shall adopt procedures for developing library media center collections and post the procedures on the website for each school within the district. The procedures must:

A publisher or manufacturer providing instructional materials as a single bundle shall also make the instructional materials available as separate and unbundled items, each priced individually. A publisher may also offer sections of state-adopted instructional materials in digital or electronic versions at reduced rates to districts, schools, and teachers.

(6) The department shall develop an online training program for school librarians, media specialists, and other personnel involved in the selection and maintenance of library media and collections or materials maintained on a reading list. This training must assist reviewers in complying with the requirements of s. 1006.31(2). The department shall make this training available no later than January 1, 2023. No later than July 1, 2023, and annually thereafter, each superintendent must certify to the department that all school librarians and media specialists employed by the district have completed the online training program.

Such instructional materials, as evaluated and identified pursuant to s. 1001.215(4), may be purchased by the school district with funds under this section without undergoing the adoption procedures under s. 1006.40(4)(b). The certification must identify any material that received an objection pursuant to s. 1006.28 for the school year and the specific objections thereto, each material that was removed or discontinued as a result of an objection, and the grade level and course for which a removed or discontinued material was used, as applicable. PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Rabbi Schneur Z. Oirechman, Chabad Lubavitch of the Panhandle, Tallahassee:

Almighty G-d, King of the Universe, as we gather here today to serve the people of our state, we pray that you bless the servants of our people. Bestow your bounty upon our honorable Senate President and our State Senators that they may all meet with success. Recognize the great sacrifice they and their families make for our great state, and bless and protect them all. At this time of peril abroad and uncertainty at home, we pray that you visit your blessings of peace and prosperity upon our state, our country, and the world.

Almighty G-d, we ask that you restore the world unto its true basis, under the guidance of kings and rulers who shall reign with justice and righteousness, without discrimination between nation and nation, race and race. As the Jewish people celebrate the holiday of Purim next Thursday, let us internalize its message today of faith prompting joy and trust firing happiness. Let us draw inspiration from the Jews of ancient Persia, who escaped annihilation through total trust in G-d. Let us reconnect to you when it is dark with acts of goodness and kindness, and may we find our own Purim salvation today.

Almighty G-d, let us also draw inspiration from this date on the Hebrew calendar, the Seventh of Adar, the birthday of Moses, whose birth filled the world with light. Let us draw inspiration from the Moses and leader of our generation, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, Rabbi Menachem M. Schneersohn, of righteous memory. Next month we will be marking the 120th birthday of the Rebbe. The Rebbe's message to the world is that our generation is the generation of redemption and all it takes is one more act of goodness to bring the redemption.

May we all be empowered in doing that one more good deed, that one more act of light to dispel the darkness, to bring the redemption, and may your loving presence be felt in our lives for good, with the coming of the true redemption, speedily in our days. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Abby Andrasik of St. Petersburg; James Mauch of Green Coves Springs; and Maya Tang of Tallahassee, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Senator Bradley moved the following amendment which was adopted:

Amendment 1 (826750) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

468.4334 Professional practice standards; liability.—

(1)(a) A community association manager or a community association management firm is deemed to act as agent on behalf of a community association as principal within the scope of authority authorized by a written contract or under this chapter. A community association manager and a community association management firm shall discharge duties performed on behalf of the association as authorized by this chapter loyally, skillfully, and diligently; dealing honestly and fairly; in good faith; with care and full disclosure to the community association; accounting for all funds; and not charging unreasonable or excessive fees.

(b) If a community association manager or a community association management firm has a contract with a community association that has a building on the association's property that is subject to s. 553.899, the community association manager or the community association management firm must comply with that section as directed by the board.

Section 2. Section 553.899, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

553.899 Mandatory structural inspections for condominium and cooperative buildings.—

(1) The Legislature finds that maintaining the structural integrity of a building throughout its service life is of paramount importance in order to ensure that buildings are structurally sound so as to not pose a threat to the public health, safety, or welfare. As such, the Legislature finds that the imposition of a statewide structural inspection program for aging condominium and cooperative buildings in this state is necessary to ensure that such buildings are safe for continued use.

(2) As used in this section, the terms:

(a) “Milestone inspection” means a structural inspection of a building, including an inspection of load-bearing walls and the primary structural members and primary structural systems as those terms are defined in s. 627.706, by a licensed architect or engineer authorized to practice in this state for the purposes of attesting to the life safety and adequacy of the structural components of the building and, to the extent reasonably possible, determining the general structural condition of the building as it affects the safety of such building, including a determination of any necessary maintenance, repair, or replacement of any structural component of the building. The purpose of such inspection is not to determine if the condition of an existing building is in compliance with the Florida Building Code or the firesafety code.

(b) “Substantial structural deterioration” means substantial structural distress that negatively affects a building's general structural condition and integrity. The term does not include surface imperfections such as cracks, distortion, sagging, deflections, misalignment, signs of leakage, or peeling of finishes unless the licensed engineer or architect performing the phase one or phase two inspection determines that such surface imperfections are a sign of substantial structural deterioration.

(3) A condominium association under chapter 718 and a cooperative association under chapter 719 must have a milestone inspection performed for each building that is three stories or more in height by December 31 of the year in which the building reaches 30 years of age, based on the date the certificate of occupancy for the building was issued, and every 10 years thereafter. If the building is located within 3 miles of a coastline as defined in s. 376.031, the condominium association or cooperative association must have a milestone inspection performed by December 31 of the year in which the building reaches 25 years of age, based on the date the certificate of occupancy for the building was issued, and every 10 years thereafter. The condominium association or cooperative association must arrange for the milestone inspection to be performed and is responsible for ensuring compliance with the requirements of this section. The condominium association or cooperative association is responsible for all costs associated with the inspection. This subsection does not apply to a two-family or three-family dwelling with three or fewer habitable stories above ground.

(4) If a milestone inspection is required under this section and the building's certificate of occupancy was issued on or before July 1, 1992, the building's initial milestone inspection must be performed before December 31, 2024. If the date of issuance for the certificate of occupancy is not available, the date of issuance of the building's certificate of oc- cupancy shall be the date of occupancy evidenced in any record of the local building official.

(5) Upon determining that a building must have a milestone inspection, the local enforcement agency must provide written notice of such required inspection to the condominium association or cooperative association by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(6) Within 180 days after receiving the written notice under subsection (5), the condominium association or cooperative association must complete phase one of the milestone inspection. For purposes of this section, completion of phase one of the milestone inspection means the licensed engineer or architect who performed the phase one inspection submitted the inspection report by e-mail, United States Postal Service, or commercial delivery service to the local enforcement agency.

(7) A milestone inspection consists of two phases:

(a) For phase one of the milestone inspection, a licensed architect or engineer authorized to practice in this state shall perform a visual examination of habitable and nonhabitable areas of a building, including the major structural components of a building, and provide a qualitative assessment of the structural conditions of the building. If the architect or engineer finds no signs of substantial structural deterioration to any building components under visual examination, phase two of the inspection, as provided in paragraph (b), is not required. An architect or engineer who completes a phase one milestone inspection shall prepare and submit an inspection report pursuant to subsection (8).

(b) A phase two of the milestone inspection must be performed if any substantial structural deterioration is identified during phase one. A phase two inspection may involve destructive or nondestructive testing at the inspector's direction. The inspection may be as extensive or as limited as necessary to fully assess areas of structural distress in order to confirm that the building is structurally sound and safe for its intended use and to recommend a program for fully assessing and repairing distressed and damaged portions of the building. When determining testing locations, the inspector must give preference to locations that are the least disruptive and most easily repairable while still being representative of the structure. An inspector who completes a phase two milestone inspection shall prepare and submit an inspection report pursuant to subsection (8).

(8) Upon completion of a phase one or phase two milestone inspection, the architect or engineer who performed the inspection must submit a sealed copy of the inspection report with a separate summary of, at minimum, the material findings and recommendations in the inspection report to the condominium association or cooperative association, and to the building official of the local government which has jurisdiction. The inspection report must, at a minimum, meet all of the following criteria:

(a) Bear the seal and signature, or the electronic signature, of the licensed engineer or architect who performed the inspection.

(b) Indicate the manner and type of inspection forming the basis for the inspection report.

(c) Identify any substantial structural deterioration, within a reasonable professional probability based on the scope of the inspection, describe the extent of such deterioration, and identify any recommended repairs for such deterioration.

(d) State whether unsafe or dangerous conditions, as those terms are defined in the Florida Building Code, were observed.

(e) Recommend any remedial or preventive repair for any items that are damaged but are not substantial structural deterioration.

(f) Identify and describe any items requiring further inspection.

(9) The association must distribute a copy of the inspector-prepared summary of the inspection report to each condominium unit owner or cooperative unit owner, regardless of the findings or recommendations in the report, by United States mail or personal delivery and by electronic transmission to unit owners who previously consented to received notice by electronic transmission; must post a copy of the inspector-prepared summary in a conspicuous place on the condominium or cooperative property; and must publish the full report and inspector-prepared summary on the association's website, if the association is required to have a website.

(10) A local enforcement agency may prescribe timelines and penalties with respect to compliance with this section.

(11) A board of county commissioners may adopt an ordinance requiring that a condominium or cooperative association schedule or commence repairs for substantial structural deterioration within a specified timeframe after the local enforcement agency receives a phase two inspection report; however, such repairs must be commenced within 365 days after receiving such report. If an association fails to submit proof to the local enforcement agency that repairs have been scheduled or have commenced for substantial structural deterioration identified in a phase two inspection report within the required timeframe, the local enforcement agency must review and determine if the building is unsafe for human occupancy.

(12) The Florida Building Commission shall review the milestone inspection requirements under this section and make recommendations, if any, to the Legislature to ensure inspections are sufficient to determine the structural integrity of a building. The commission must provide a written report of any recommendations to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 31, 2022.

(13) The Florida Building Commission shall consult with the State Fire Marshal to provide recommendations to the Legislature for the adoption of comprehensive structural and life safety standards for maintaining and inspecting all types of buildings and structures in this state that are three stories or more in height. The commission shall provide a written report of its recommendations to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 31, 2023.

Section 3. Paragraphs (a), (c), and (g) of subsection (12) of section 718.111, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

718.111 The association.—

(c)1. The official records of the association are open to inspection by any association member or the authorized representative of such member at all reasonable times. The right to inspect the records includes the right to make or obtain copies, at the reasonable expense, if any, of the member or authorized representative of such member. A renter of a unit has a right to inspect and copy only the declaration of condominium, ~~and~~ the association's bylaws and rules, ~~and the inspection reports described in ss. 553.899 and 718.301(4)(p)~~. The association may adopt reasonable rules regarding the frequency, time, location, notice, and manner of record inspections and copying but may not require a member to demonstrate any purpose or state any reason for the inspection. The failure of an association to provide the records within 10 working days after receipt of a written request creates a rebuttable presumption that the association willfully failed to comply with this paragraph. A unit owner who is denied access to official records is entitled to the actual damages or minimum damages for the association's willful failure to comply. Minimum damages are $50 per calendar day for up to 10 days, beginning on the 11th working day after receipt of the written request. The failure to permit inspection entitles any person prevailing in an enforcement action to recover reasonable attorney fees from the person in control of the records who, directly or indirectly, knowingly denied access to the records.

2. Any person who knowingly or intentionally defaces or destroys accounting records that are required by this chapter to be maintained during the period for which such records are required to be maintained, or who knowingly or intentionally fails to create or maintain accounting records that are required to be created or maintained, with the intent of causing harm to the association or one or more of its members, is personally subject to a civil penalty pursuant to s. 718.501(1)(d).

3. The association shall maintain an adequate number of copies of the declaration, articles of incorporation, bylaws, and rules, and all amendments to each of the foregoing, as well as the question and answer sheet as described in s. 718.504 and year-end financial information required under this section, on the condominium property to ensure their availability to unit owners and prospective purchasers, and may charge its actual costs for preparing and furnishing these documents to those requesting the documents. An association shall allow a member or his or her authorized representative to use a portable device, including a smartphone, tablet, portable scanner, or any other technology capable of scanning or taking photographs, to make an electronic copy of the official records in lieu of the association's providing the member or his or her authorized representative with a copy of such records. The association may not charge a member or his or her authorized representative for the use of a portable device. Notwithstanding this paragraph, the following records are not accessible to unit owners:

a. Any record protected by the lawyer-client privilege as described in s. 90.502 and any record protected by the work-product privilege, including a record prepared by an association attorney or prepared at the attorney's express direction, which reflects a mental impression, conclusion, litigation strategy, or legal theory of the attorney or the association, and which was prepared exclusively for civil or criminal litigation or for adversarial administrative proceedings, or which was prepared in anticipation of such litigation or proceedings until the conclusion of the litigation or proceedings.

b. Information obtained by an association in connection with the approval of the lease, sale, or other transfer of a unit.

c. Personnel records of association or management company employees, including, but not limited to, disciplinary, payroll, health, and insurance records. For purposes of this sub-subparagraph, the term "personnel records" does not include written employment agreements with an association employee or management company, or budgetary or financial records that indicate the compensation paid to an association employee.

d. Medical records of unit owners.

e. Social security numbers, driver license numbers, credit card numbers, e-mail addresses, telephone numbers, facsimile numbers, emergency contact information, addresses of a unit owner other than as provided to fulfill the association's notice requirements, and other personal identifying information of any person, excluding the person's name, unit designation, mailing address, property address, and any address, e-mail address, or facsimile number provided to the association to fulfill the association's notice requirements. Notwithstanding the restrictions in this sub-subparagraph, an association may print and distribute to unit owners a directory containing the name, unit address, and all telephone numbers of each unit owner. However, an owner may exclude his or her telephone numbers from the directory by so requesting in writing to the association. An owner may consent in writing to the disclosure of other contact information described in this sub-subparagraph. The association is not liable for the inadvertent disclosure of information that is protected under this sub-subparagraph if the information is included in an official record of the association and is voluntarily provided by an owner and not requested by the association.

f. Electronic security measures that are used by the association to safeguard data, including passwords.

g. The software and operating system used by the association which allow the manipulation of data, even if the owner owns a copy of the same software used by the association. The data is part of the official records of the association.

h. All affirmative acknowledgments made pursuant to s. 718.121(4)(c).

(g)1. By January 1, 2019, an association managing a condominium with 150 or more units which does not contain timeshare units shall post digital copies of the documents specified in subparagraph 2. on its website or make such documents available through an application that can be downloaded on a mobile device.

a. The association's website or application must be:

(I) An independent website, application, or web portal wholly owned and operated by the association; or

(II) A website, application, or web portal operated by a third-party provider with whom the association owns, leases, rents, or otherwise obtains the right to operate a web page, subpage, web portal, collection of subpages or web portals, or an application which is dedicated to the association's activities and on which required notices, records, and documents may be posted or made available by the association.

b. The association's website or application must be accessible through the Internet and must contain a subpage, web portal, or other protected electronic location that is inaccessible to the general public and accessible only to unit owners and employees of the association.

c. Upon a unit owner's written request, the association must provide the unit owner with a username and password and access to the protected sections of the association's website or application which contain any notices, records, or documents that must be electronically provided.

2. A current copy of the following documents must be posted in digital format on the association's website or application:

a. The recorded declaration of condominium of each condominium operated by the association and each amendment to each declaration.

b. The recorded bylaws of the association and each amendment to the bylaws.

c. The articles of incorporation of the association, or other documents creating the association, and each amendment to the articles of incorporation or other documents. The copy posted pursuant to this subparagraph must be a copy of the articles of incorporation filed with the Department of State.

d. The rules of the association.

e. A list of all executory contracts or documents to which the association is a party or under which the association or the unit owners have an obligation or responsibility and, after bidding for the related materials, equipment, or services has closed, a list of bids received by the association within the past year. Summaries of bids for materials, equipment, or services which exceed $500 must be maintained on the website or application for 1 year. In lieu of summaries, complete copies of the bids may be posted.

f. The annual budget required by s. 718.112(2)(f) and any proposed budget to be considered at the annual meeting.

g. The financial report required by subsection (13) and any monthly income or expense statement to be considered at a meeting.

h. The certification of each director required by s. 718.112(2)(d)4.b.

i. All contracts or transactions between the association and any director, officer, corporation, firm, or association that is not an affiliated condominium association or any other entity in which an association director is also a director or officer and financially interested.

j. Any contract or document regarding a conflict of interest or possible conflict of interest as provided in ss. 468.436(2)(b)6. and 718.3027(3).

k. The notice of any unit owner meeting and the agenda for the meeting, as required by s. 718.112(2)(d)3., no later than 14 days before the meeting. The notice must be posted in plain view on the front page of the website or application, or on a separate subpage of the website or application labeled "Notices" which is conspicuously visible and linked from the front page. The association must also post on its website or application any document to be considered and voted on by the owners during the meeting or any document listed on the agenda at least 7 days before the meeting at which the document or the information within the document will be considered.

1. Notice of any board meeting, the agenda, and any other document required for the meeting as required by s. 718.112(2)(c), which must be posted no later than the date required for notice under s. 718.112(2)(c).

m. The inspection reports described in ss. 553.899 and 718.301(4)(p) and any other inspection report relating to a structural or life safety inspection of condominium property.

3. The association shall ensure that the information and records described in paragraph (c), which are not allowed to be accessible to unit owners, are not posted on the association's website or application. If protected information or information restricted from being accessible to unit owners is included in documents that are required to be posted on the association's website or application, the association shall ensure the information is redacted before posting the documents. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the association or its agent is not liable for disclosing information that is protected or restricted under this paragraph unless such disclosure was made with a knowing or intentional disregard of the protected or restricted nature of such information.

4. The failure of the association to post information required under subparagraph 2. is not in and of itself sufficient to invalidate any action or decision of the association's board or its committees.

Section 4. Paragraph (p) is added to subsection (2) of section 718.112, Florida Statutes, to read:

718.112 Bylaws.—

(2) REQUIRED PROVISIONS.—The bylaws shall provide for the following and, if they do not do so, shall be deemed to include the following:

(p) Mandatory milestone inspections.—If an association is required to have a milestone inspection performed pursuant to s. 553.899, the association must arrange for the milestone inspection to be performed and is responsible for ensuring compliance with the requirements of s. 553.899. The association is responsible for all costs associated with the inspection. If the officers or directors of an association willfully and knowingly fail to have a milestone inspection performed pursuant to s. 553.899, such failure is a breach of the officers' and directors' fiduciary relationship to the unit owners under s. 718.111(1)(a). Upon completion of a phase one or phase two milestone inspection and receipt of the inspector-prepared summary of the inspection report from the architect or engineer who performed the inspection, the association must distribute a copy of the inspector-prepared summary of the inspection report to each unit owner, regardless of the findings or recommendations in the report, by United States mail or personal delivery and by electronic transmission to unit owners who previously consented to receive notice by electronic transmission; must post a copy of the inspector-prepared summary in a conspicuous place on the condominium property; and must publish the full report and inspector-prepared summary on the association's website, if the association is required to have a website.

Section 5. Paragraph (p) of subsection (4) of section 718.301, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

718.301 Transfer of association control; claims of defect by association.—

(4) At the time that unit owners other than the developer elect a majority of the members of the board of administration of an association, the developer shall relinquish control of the association, and the unit owners shall accept control. Simultaneously, or for the purposes of paragraph (c) not more than 90 days thereafter, the developer shall deliver to the association, at the developer's expense, all property of the unit owners and of the association which is held or controlled by the developer, including, but not limited to, the following items, if applicable, as to each condominium operated by the association:

(p) Notwithstanding when the certificate of occupancy was issued or the height of the building, a milestone inspection report in compliance with s. 553.899 included in the official records, under seal of an architect or engineer authorized to practice in this state, and attesting to required maintenance, condition, useful life, and replacement costs of the following applicable condominium property common elements comprising a turnover inspection report:

1. Roof.
2. Structure, including load-bearing walls and primary structural members and primary structural systems as those terms are defined in s. 627.706.
3. Fireproofing and fire protection systems.
4. Elevators.
5. Heating and cooling systems.
6. Plumbing.
7. Electrical systems.
8. Swimming pool or spa and equipment.
9. Seawalls.
10. Pavement and parking areas.
11. Drainage systems.
12. Painting.
13. Irrigation systems.
14. Waterproofing.

Section 6. Subsection (1) of section 718.501, Florida Statutes, is amended, and subsection (3) is added to that section, to read:

718.501 Authority, responsibility, and duties of Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes.—

(1) The division may enforce and ensure compliance with this chapter and rules relating to the development, construction, sale, lease, ownership, operation, and management of residential condominium units and complaints related to the procedural completion of milestone inspections under s. 553.899. In performing its duties, the division has complete jurisdiction to investigate complaints and enforce compliance with respect to associations that are still under developer control or the control of a bulk assignee or bulk buyer pursuant to part VII of this chapter and complaints against developers, bulk assignees, or bulk buyers involving improper turnover or failure to turnover, pursuant to s. 718.301. However, after turnover has occurred, the division has jurisdiction to investigate complaints related only to financial issues, elections, and the maintenance of and unit owner access to association records under s. 718.111(12).

(a)1. The division may make necessary public or private investigations within or outside this state to determine whether any person has violated this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, to aid in the enforcement of this chapter, or to aid in the adoption of rules or forms.

2. The division may submit any official written report, worksheet, or other related paper, or a duly certified copy thereof, compiled, prepared, drafted, or otherwise made by and duly authenticated by a financial examiner or analyst to be admitted as competent evidence in any hearing in which the financial examiner or analyst is available for cross-examination and attests under oath that such documents were prepared as a result of an examination or inspection conducted pursuant to this chapter.

(b) The division may require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise, as the division determines, as to the facts and circumstances concerning a matter to be investigated.

(c) For the purpose of any investigation under this chapter, the division director or any officer or employee designated by the division director may administer oaths or affirmations, subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any matter which is relevant to the investigation, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of relevant facts or any other matter reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of material evidence. Upon the failure by a person to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigating officer and upon reasonable notice to all affected persons, the division may apply to the circuit court for an order compelling compliance.

(d) Notwithstanding any remedies available to unit owners and associations, if the division has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of any provision of this chapter or related rule has occurred, the division may institute enforcement proceedings in its own name against any developer, bulk assignee, bulk buyer, association, officer, or member of the board of administration, or its assignees or agents, as follows:

1. The division may permit a person whose conduct or actions may be under investigation to waive formal proceedings and enter into a consent proceeding whereby orders, rules, or letters of censure or warning, whether formal or informal, may be entered against the person.

2. The division may issue an order requiring the developer, bulk assignee, bulk buyer, association, developer-designated officer, or developer-designated member of the board of administration, developer-designated assignees or agents, bulk assignee-designated assignees or agents, bulk buyer-designated assignees or agents, community association manager, or community association management firm to cease and desist from the unlawful practice and take such affirmative action as in the judgment of the division carry out the purposes of this chapter. If the division finds that a developer, bulk assignee, bulk buyer, association, officer, or member of the board of administration, or its assignees or agents, is violating or is about to violate any provision of this chapter, any rule adopted or order issued by the division, or any written agreement entered into with the division, and presents an immediate danger to the public requiring an immediate final order, it may issue an emergency cease and desist order reciting with particularity the facts underlying such findings. The emergency cease and desist order is effective for 90 days. If the division begins nonemergency cease and desist proceedings, the emergency cease and desist order remains effective until the conclusion of the proceedings under ss. 120.569 and 120.57.

3. If a developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer fails to pay any restitution determined by the division to be owed, plus any accrued interest at the highest rate permitted by law, within 30 days after expiration of any appellate time period of a final order requiring payment of restitution or the conclusion of any appeal thereof, whichever is later, the division must bring an action in circuit or county court on behalf of any association, class of unit owners, lessees, or purchasers for restitution, declaratory relief, injunctive relief, or any other available remedy. The division may also temporarily revoke its acceptance of the filing for the developer to which the restitution relates until payment of restitution is made.

4. The division may petition the court for appointment of a receiver or conservator. If appointed, the receiver or conservator may take action to implement the court order to ensure the performance of the order and to remedy any breach thereof. In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of an injunction or temporary restraining order, the circuit court may impound or sequester the property of a party defendant, including books, papers, documents, and related records, and allow the examination and use of the property by the division and a court-appointed receiver or conservator.

5. The division may apply to the circuit court for an order of restitution whereby the defendant in an action brought under subparagraph 4. is ordered to make restitution of those sums shown by the division to have been obtained by the defendant in violation of this chapter. At the option of the court, such restitution is payable to the conservator or receiver appointed under subparagraph 4. or directly to the persons whose funds or assets were obtained in violation of this chapter.

6. The division may impose a civil penalty against a developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer, or association, or its assignee or agent, for any violation of this chapter or related rule. The division may impose a civil penalty individually against an officer or board member who willfully and knowingly violates this chapter, an adopted rule, or a final order of the division; may order the removal of such individual as an officer or from the board of administration or as an officer of the association; and may prohibit such individual from serving as an officer or on the board of a community association for a period of time. The term “willfully and knowingly” means that the division informed the officer or board member that his or her action or intended action violates this chapter, a rule adopted under this chapter, or a final order of the division and that the officer or board member refused to comply with the requirements of this chapter, a rule adopted under this chapter, or a final order of the division. The division, before initiating formal agency action under chapter 120, must afford the officer or board member an opportunity to voluntarily comply, and an officer or board member who complies within 10 days is not subject to a civil penalty. A penalty may be imposed on the basis of each day of continuing violation, but the penalty for any offense may not exceed $5,000. The division shall adopt, by rule, penalty guidelines applicable to possible violations or to categories of violations of this chapter or rules adopted by the division. The guidelines must specify a meaningful range of civil penalties for each such violation of the statute and rules and must be based upon the harm caused by the violation, the repetition of the violation, and upon such other factors deemed relevant by the division. For example, the division may consider whether the violations were committed by a developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer, or owner-controlled association, the size of the association, and other factors. The guidelines must designate the possible mitigating or aggravating circumstances that justify a departure from the range of penalties provided by the rules. It is the legislative intent that minor violations be distinguished from those which endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the condominium residents or other persons and that such guidelines provide reasonable and meaningful notice to the public of likely penalties that may be imposed for proscribed conduct. This subsection does not limit the ability of the division to informally dispose of administrative actions or complaints by stipulation, agreed settlement, or consent order. All amounts collected shall be deposited with the Chief Financial Officer to the credit of the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes Trust Fund. If a developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer fails to pay the civil penalty and the amount deemed to be owed to the association, the division shall issue an order directing that such developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer cease and desist from further operation until such time as the civil penalty is paid or may pursue enforcement of the penalty in a court of competent jurisdiction. If an association fails to pay the civil penalty, the division shall pursue enforcement in a court of competent jurisdiction, and the order imposing the civil penalty or the cease and desist order is not effective until 20 days after the date of such order. Any action commenced by the division shall be brought in the county in which the division has its executive offices or in the county where the violation occurred.

7. If a unit owner presents the division with proof that the unit owner has requested access to official records in writing by certified mail, and that after 10 days the unit owner again made the same request for access to official records in writing by certified mail, and that more than 10 days has elapsed since the second request and the association has still failed or refused to provide access to official records as required by this chapter, the division shall issue a subpoena requiring production of the requested records where the records are kept pursuant to s. 718.112.

8. In addition to subparagraph 6., the division may seek the imposition of a civil penalty through the circuit court for any violation for which the division may issue a notice to show cause under paragraph (r). The civil penalty shall be at least $500 but no more than $5,000 for each violation. The court may also award to the prevailing party court costs and reasonable attorney fees and, if the division prevails, may also award reasonable costs of investigation.

(e) The division may prepare and disseminate a prospectus and other information to assist prospective owners, purchasers, lessees, and developers of residential condominiums in assessing the rights, privileges, and duties pertaining thereto.

(f) The division may adopt rules to administer and enforce this chapter.

(g) The division shall establish procedures for providing notice to an association and the developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer during the period in which the developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer controls the association if the division is considering the issuance of a declaratory statement with respect to the declaration of condominium or any related document governing such condominium community.

(h) The division shall furnish each association that pays the fees required by paragraph (2)(a) a copy of this chapter, as amended, and the rules adopted thereto on an annual basis.

(i) The division shall annually provide each association with a summary of declaratory statements and formal legal opinions relating to the operations of condominiums which were rendered by the division during the previous year.

(j) The division shall provide training and educational programs for condominium association board members and unit owners. The training may, in the division’s discretion, include web-based electronic media, and live training and seminars in various locations throughout the state. The division may review and approve education and training programs for board members and unit owners offered by providers and shall maintain a current list of approved programs and providers and make such list available to board members and unit owners in a reasonable and cost-effective manner.

(k) The division shall maintain a toll-free telephone number accessible to condominium unit owners.

(l) The division shall develop a program to certify both volunteer and paid mediators to provide mediation of condominium disputes. The division shall provide, upon request, a list of such mediators to any association, unit owner, or other participant in alternative dispute resolution proceedings under s. 718.1255 requesting a copy of the list. The division shall include on the list of volunteer mediators only the names of persons who have received at least 20 hours of training in mediation techniques or who have mediated at least 20 disputes. In order to become initially certified by the division, paid mediators must be certified by the Supreme Court to mediate court cases in county or circuit courts. However, the division may adopt, by rule, additional factors for the certification of paid mediators, which must be related to experience, education, or background. Any person initially certified as a paid mediator by the division must, in order to continue to be certified, comply with the factors or requirements adopted by rule.

(m) If a complaint is made, the division must conduct its inquiry with due regard for the interests of the affected parties. Within 30 days after receipt of a complaint, the division shall acknowledge the complaint in writing and notify the complainant whether the complaint is within the jurisdiction of the division and whether additional information is needed by the division from the complainant. The division shall conduct its investigation and, within 90 days after receipt of the original complaint or of timely requested additional information, take action upon the complaint. However, the failure to complete the investigation within 90 days does not prevent the division from continuing the investigation, accepting or considering evidence obtained or received after 90 days, or taking administrative action if reasonable cause exists to believe that a violation of this chapter or a rule has occurred. If an investigation is not completed within the time limits established in this paragraph, the division shall, on a monthly basis, notify the complainant in writing of the status of the investigation. When reporting its action to the complainant, the division shall inform the complainant of any right to a hearing under ss. 120.569 and 120.57. The division may adopt rules regarding the submission of a complaint against an association.

(n) Condominium association directors, officers, and employees; condominium developers; bulk assignees, bulk buyers, and community association managers; and community association management firms have an ongoing duty to reasonably cooperate with the division in any investigation under this section. The division shall refer to local law enforcement authorities any person whom the division believes has altered, destroyed, concealed, or removed any record, document, or thing required to be kept or maintained by this chapter with the purpose to impair its verity or availability in the department’s investigation.

(o) The division may:

1. Contract with agencies in this state or other jurisdictions to perform investigative functions; or
2. Accept grants-in-aid from any source.

(p) The division shall cooperate with similar agencies in other jurisdictions to establish uniform filing procedures and forms, public offering statements, advertising standards, and rules and common administrative practices.

(q) The division shall consider notice to a developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer to be complete when it is delivered to the address of the developer, bulk assignee, or bulk buyer currently on file with the division.

(r) In addition to its enforcement authority, the division may issue a notice to show cause, which must provide for a hearing, upon written request, in accordance with chapter 120.

(s) The division shall submit to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees an annual report that includes, but need not be limited to, the number of training programs provided for condominium association board members and unit owners, the number of complaints received by type, the number and percent of complaints acknowledged in writing within 30 days and the number and percent of investigations acted upon within 90 days in accordance with paragraph (m), and the number of investigations exceeding the 90-day requirement. The annual report must also include an evaluation of the division's core business processes and make recommendations for improvements, including statutory changes. The report shall be submitted by September 30 following the end of the fiscal year.

(3)(a) On or before January 1, 2023, condominium associations existing on or before July 1, 2022, must provide the following information to the division in writing, by e-mail, United States Postal Service, commercial delivery service, or hand delivery, at a physical address or e-mail address provided by the division and on a form posted on the division's website:

1. The number of buildings on the condominium property that are three stories or higher in height.
2. The total number of units in all such buildings.
3. The addresses of all such buildings.
4. The counties in which all such buildings are located.

(b) The division must compile a list of the number of buildings on condominium property that are three stories or higher in height, which is searchable by county, and must post the list on the division's website. This list must include all of the following information:

1. The name of each association with buildings on the condominium property that are three stories or higher in height.
2. The number of such buildings on each association's property.
3. The addresses of all such buildings.
4. The counties in which all such buildings are located.

(c) An association must provide an update in writing to the division if there are any changes to the information in the list under paragraph (b) within 6 months after the change.

Section 7. Present paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (2) of section 718.503, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as paragraphs (c) and (d), respectively, a new paragraph (b) is added to that subsection, and paragraph (b) of subsection (1) and paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of that section are amended, to read:

Section 8. Paragraph (q) is added to subsection (24) of section 718.504, Florida Statutes, to read:

718.504 Prospectus or offering circular.—Every developer of a residential condominium which contains more than 20 residential units, or which is part of a group of residential condominiums which will be served by property to be used in common by unit owners of more than 20 residential units, shall prepare a prospectus or offering circular and file it with the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes prior to entering into an enforceable contract of purchase and sale of any unit or lease of a unit for more than 5 years and shall furnish a copy of the prospectus or offering circular to each buyer. In addition to the prospectus or offering circular, each buyer shall be furnished a separate page entitled "Frequently Asked Questions and Answers," which shall be in accordance with a format approved by the division and a copy of the financial information required by s. 718.111. This page shall, in readable language, inform prospective purchasers regarding their voting rights and unit use restrictions, including restrictions on the leasing of a unit; shall indicate whether and in what amount the unit owners or the association is obligated to pay rent or land use fees for recreational or other commonly used facilities; shall contain a statement identifying that amount of assessment which, pursuant to the budget, would be levied upon each unit type, exclusive of any special assessments, and which shall further identify the basis upon which assessments are levied, whether monthly, quarterly, or otherwise; shall state and identify any court cases in which the association is currently a party of record in which the association may face liability in excess of $100,000; and which shall further state whether membership in a recreational facilities association is mandatory, and if so, shall identify the fees currently charged per unit type. The division shall by rule require such other disclosure as in its judgment will assist prospective purchasers. The prospectus or offering circular may include more than one condominium, although not all such units are being offered for sale as of the date of the prospectus or offering circular. The prospectus or offering circular must contain the following information:

(24) Copies of the following, to the extent they are applicable, shall be included as exhibits:

(q) A copy of the inspector-prepared summary of the milestone inspection report as described in ss. 553.899 and 718.301(4)(p), as applicable.

Section 9. Paragraphs (a) and (c) of subsection (2) of section 719.104, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

(2) OFFICIAL RECORDS.—

(a) From the inception of the association, the association shall maintain a copy of each of the following, where applicable, which shall constitute the official records of the association:

1. The plans, permits, warranties, and other items provided by the developer pursuant to s. 719.301(4).
2. A photocopy of the cooperative documents.
3. A copy of the current rules of the association.
4. A book or books containing the minutes of all meetings of the association, of the board of directors, and of the unit owners.
5. A current roster of all unit owners and their mailing addresses, unit identifications, voting certifications, and, if known, telephone numbers. The association shall also maintain the e-mail addresses and the numbers designated by unit owners for receiving notice sent by electronic transmission of those unit owners consenting to receive notice by electronic transmission. The e-mail addresses and numbers provided by unit owners to receive notice by electronic transmission shall be removed from association records when consent to receive notice by electronic transmission is revoked. However, the association is not liable for an erroneous disclosure of the e-mail address or the number for receiving electronic transmission of notices.
6. All current insurance policies of the association.
7. A current copy of any management agreement, lease, or other contract to which the association is a party or under which the association or the unit owners have an obligation or responsibility.

8. Bills of sale or transfer for all property owned by the association.
9. Accounting records for the association and separate accounting records for each unit it operates, according to good accounting practices. The accounting records shall include, but not be limited to:
 - a. Accurate, itemized, and detailed records of all receipts and expenditures.
 - b. A current account and a monthly, bimonthly, or quarterly statement of the account for each unit designating the name of the unit owner, the due date and amount of each assessment, the amount paid upon the account, and the balance due.
 - c. All audits, reviews, accounting statements, and financial reports of the association.
 - d. All contracts for work to be performed. Bids for work to be performed shall also be considered official records and shall be maintained for a period of 1 year.
10. Ballots, sign-in sheets, voting proxies, and all other papers and electronic records relating to voting by unit owners, which shall be maintained for a period of 1 year after the date of the election, vote, or meeting to which the document relates.
11. All rental records where the association is acting as agent for the rental of units.
12. A copy of the current question and answer sheet as described in s. 719.504.
13. All affirmative acknowledgments made pursuant to s. 719.108(3)(b)3.
14. A copy of the inspection reports described in s. 553.899 and 719.301(4)(p) and any other inspection report relating to a structural or life safety inspection of the cooperative property. Such record must be maintained by the association for 15 years after receipt of the report.
15. All other written records of the association not specifically included in the foregoing which are related to the operation of the association.

(c) The official records of the association are open to inspection by any association member or the authorized representative of such member at all reasonable times. The right to inspect the records includes the right to make or obtain copies, at the reasonable expense, if any, of the association member. A renter of a unit has a right to inspect and copy only the association's bylaws and rules and the inspection reports described in ss. 553.899 and 719.301(4)(p). The association may adopt reasonable rules regarding the frequency, time, location, notice, and manner of record inspections and copying, but may not require a member to demonstrate any purpose or state any reason for the inspection. The failure of an association to provide the records within 10 working days after receipt of a written request creates a rebuttable presumption that the association willfully failed to comply with this paragraph. A member who is denied access to official records is entitled to the actual damages or minimum damages for the association's willful failure to comply. The minimum damages are $50 per calendar day for up to 10 days, beginning on the 11th working day after receipt of the written request. The failure to permit inspection entitles any person prevailing in an enforcement action to recover reasonable attorney fees from the person in control of the records who, directly or indirectly, knowingly denied access to the records. Any person who knowingly or intentionally defaces or destroys accounting records that are required by this chapter to be maintained during the period for which such records are required to be maintained, or who knowingly or intentionally fails to create or maintain accounting records that are required to be created or maintained, with the intent of causing harm to the association or one or more of its members, is personally subject to a civil penalty under s. 719.501(1)(d). The association shall maintain an adequate number of copies of the declaration, articles of incorporation, bylaws, and rules, and all amendments to each of the foregoing, as well as the question and answer sheet as described in s. 719.504 and year-end financial information required by the department, on the cooperative property to ensure their availability to members and prospective purchasers, and may charge its actual costs for preparing and furnishing these documents to those requesting the same. An association shall allow a member or his or her authorized representative to use a portable device, including a smartphone, tablet, portable scanner, or any other technology capable of scanning or taking photographs, to make an electronic copy of the official records in lieu of the association providing the member or his or her authorized representative with a copy of such records. The association may not charge a member or his or her authorized representative for the use of a portable device. Notwithstanding this paragraph, the following records shall not be accessible to members:

1. Any record protected by the lawyer-client privilege as described in s. 90.502 and any record protected by the work-product privilege, including any record prepared by an association attorney or prepared at the attorney's express direction which reflects a mental impression, conclusion, litigation strategy, or legal theory of the attorney or the association, and which was prepared exclusively for civil or criminal litigation or for adversarial administrative proceedings, or which was prepared in anticipation of such litigation or proceedings until the conclusion of the litigation or proceedings.
2. Information obtained by an association in connection with the approval of the lease, sale, or other transfer of a unit.
3. Personnel records of association or management company employees, including, but not limited to, disciplinary, payroll, health, and insurance records. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "personnel records" does not include written employment agreements with an association employee or management company, or budgetary or financial records that indicate the compensation paid to an association employee.
4. Medical records of unit owners.
5. Social security numbers, driver license numbers, credit card numbers, e-mail addresses, telephone numbers, facsimile numbers, emergency contact information, addresses of a unit owner other than as provided to fulfill the association's notice requirements, and other personal identifying information of any person, excluding the person's name, unit designation, mailing address, property address, and any address, e-mail address, or facsimile number provided to the association to fulfill the association's notice requirements. Notwithstanding the restrictions in this subparagraph, an association may print and distribute to unit owners a directory containing the name, unit address, and all telephone numbers of each unit owner. However, an owner may exclude his or her telephone numbers from the directory by so requesting in writing to the association. An owner may consent in writing to the disclosure of other contact information described in this subparagraph. The association is not liable for the inadvertent disclosure of information that is protected under this subparagraph if the information is included in an official record of the association and is voluntarily provided by an owner and not requested by the association.
6. Electronic security measures that are used by the association to safeguard data, including passwords.
7. The software and operating system used by the association which allow the manipulation of data, even if the owner owns a copy of the same software used by the association. The data is part of the official records of the association.

8. All affirmative acknowledgments made pursuant to s. 719.108(3)(b)3.

Section 10. Paragraph (n) is added to subsection (1) of section 719.106, Florida Statutes, to read:

719.106 Bylaws; cooperative ownership.—

(1) MANDATORY PROVISIONS.—The bylaws or other cooperative documents shall provide for the following, and if they do not, they shall be deemed to include the following:

(n) Mandatory milestone inspections.—If an association is required to have a milestone inspection performed pursuant to s. 553.899, the association must arrange for the milestone inspection to be performed and is responsible for ensuring compliance with the requirements of s. 553.899. The association is responsible for all costs associated with the inspection. If the officers or directors of an association willfully and knowingly fail to have a milestone inspection performed pursuant to s.

553.899, such failure is a breach of the officers' and directors' fiduciary relationship to the unit owners under s. 719.104(8)(a). Upon completion of a phase one or phase two milestone inspection and receipt of the inspector-prepared summary of the inspection report from the architect or engineer who performed the inspection, the association must distribute a copy of the inspector-prepared summary of the inspection report to each unit owner, regardless of the findings or recommendations in the report, by United States mail or personal delivery and by electronic transmission to unit owners who previously consented to receive notice by electronic transmission; must post a copy of the inspector-prepared summary in a conspicuous place on the cooperative property; and must publish the full report and inspector-prepared summary on the association's website, if the association is required to have a website.

Section 11. Paragraph (p) is added to subsection (4) of section 719.301, Florida Statutes, to read:

719.301 Transfer of association control.—

(4) When unit owners other than the developer elect a majority of the members of the board of administration of an association, the developer shall relinquish control of the association, and the unit owners shall accept control. Simultaneously, or for the purpose of paragraph (c) not more than 90 days thereafter, the developer shall deliver to the association, at the developer's expense, all property of the unit owners and of the association held or controlled by the developer, including, but not limited to, the following items, if applicable, as to each cooperative operated by the association:

(p) Notwithstanding when the certificate of occupancy was issued or the height of the building, a milestone inspection report in compliance with s. 553.899 included in the official records, under seal of an architect or engineer authorized to practice in this state, attesting to required maintenance, condition, useful life, and replacement costs of the following applicable cooperative property comprising a turnover inspection report:

2. Structure, including load-bearing walls and primary structural members and primary structural systems as those terms are defined in s. 627.706.
3. Fireproofing and fire protection systems.
4. Elevators.
5. Heating and cooling systems.
6. Plumbing.
7. Electrical systems.
8. Swimming pool or spa and equipment.
9. Seawalls.
10. Pavement and parking areas.
12. Painting.
13. Irrigation systems.
14. Waterproofing.

Section 12. Subsection (1) of section 719.501, Florida Statutes, is amended, and subsection (3) is added to that section, to read:

719.501 Powers and duties of Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes.—

(1) The Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes of the Department of Business and Professional Regulation, referred to as the "division" in this part, in addition to other powers and duties prescribed by chapter 718, has the power to enforce and ensure compliance with this chapter and adopted rules relating to the development, construction, sale, lease, ownership, operation, and management of residential cooperative units and complaints related to the procedural completion of milestone inspections under s. 553.899. In performing its duties, the division shall have the following powers and duties:

(a) The division may make necessary public or private investigations within or outside this state to determine whether any person has violated this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, to aid in the enforcement of this chapter, or to aid in the adoption of rules or forms hereunder.

(b) The division may require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise, as the division determines, as to the facts and circumstances concerning a matter to be investigated.

(c) For the purpose of any investigation under this chapter, the division director or any officer or employee designated by the division director may administer oaths or affirmations, subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any matter which is relevant to the investigation, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition, and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of relevant facts or any other matter reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of material evidence. Upon failure by a person to obey a subpoena or to answer questions propounded by the investigating officer and upon reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, the division may apply to the circuit court for an order compelling compliance.

(d) Notwithstanding any remedies available to unit owners and associations, if the division has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of any provision of this chapter or related rule has occurred, the division may institute enforcement proceedings in its own name against a developer, association, officer, or member of the board, or its assignees or agents, as follows:

1. The division may permit a person whose conduct or actions may be under investigation to waive formal proceedings and enter into a consent proceeding whereby orders, rules, or letters of censure or warning, whether formal or informal, may be entered against the person.

2. The division may issue an order requiring the developer, association, officer, or member of the board, or its assignees or agents, to cease and desist from the unlawful practice and take such affirmative action as in the judgment of the division will carry out the purposes of this chapter. Such affirmative action may include, but is not limited to, an order requiring a developer to pay moneys determined to be owed to a condominium association.

3. The division may bring an action in circuit court on behalf of a class of unit owners, lessees, or purchasers for declaratory relief, injunctive relief, or restitution.

4. The division may impose a civil penalty against a developer or association, or its assignees or agents, for any violation of this chapter or related rule. The division may impose a civil penalty individually against any officer or board member who willfully and knowingly violates a provision of this chapter, a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter, or a final order of the division. The term "willfully and knowingly" means that the division informed the officer or board member that his or her action or intended action violates this chapter, a rule adopted under this chapter, or a final order of the division, and that the officer or board member refused to comply with the requirements of this chapter, a rule adopted under this chapter, or a final order of the division. The division, prior to initiating formal agency action under chapter 120, shall afford the officer or board member an opportunity to voluntarily comply with this chapter, a rule adopted under this chapter, or a final order of the division. An officer or board member who complies within 10 days is not subject to a civil penalty. A penalty may be imposed on the basis of each day of continuing violation, but in no event shall the penalty for any offense exceed $5,000. By January 1, 1998, the division shall adopt, by rule, penalty guidelines applicable to possible violations or to categories of violations of this chapter or rules adopted by the division. The guidelines must specify a meaningful range of civil penalties for each such violation of the statute and rules and must be based upon the harm caused by the violation, the repetition of the violation, and upon such other factors deemed relevant by the division. For example, the division may consider whether the violations were committed by a developer or owner-controlled association, the size of the association, and other factors. The guidelines must designate the possible mitigating or aggravating circumstances that justify a departure from the range of penalties provided by the rules. It is the legislative intent that minor violations be distinguished from those which endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the cooperative residents or other persons and that such guidelines provide reasonable and meaningful notice to the public of likely penalties that may be imposed for proscribed conduct. This subsection does not limit the ability of the division to informally dispose of administrative actions or complaints by stipulation, agreed settlement, or consent order. All amounts collected shall be deposited with the Chief Financial Officer to the credit of the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes Trust Fund. If a developer fails to pay the civil penalty, the division shall thereupon issue an order directing that such developer cease and desist from further operation until such time as the civil penalty is paid or may pursue enforcement of the penalty in a court of competent jurisdiction. If an association fails to pay the civil penalty, the division shall thereupon pursue enforcement in a court of competent jurisdiction, and the order imposing the civil penalty or the cease and desist order shall not become effective until 20 days after the date of such order. Any action commenced by the division shall be brought in the county in which the division has its executive offices or in the county where the violation occurred.

(e) The division may prepare and disseminate a prospectus and other information to assist prospective owners, purchasers, lessees, and developers of residential cooperatives in assessing the rights, privileges, and duties pertaining thereto.

(f) The division has authority to adopt rules pursuant to ss. 120.536(1) and 120.54 to implement and enforce the provisions of this chapter.

(g) The division shall establish procedures for providing notice to an association when the division is considering the issuance of a declaratory statement with respect to the cooperative documents governing such cooperative community.

(h) The division shall furnish each association which pays the fees required by paragraph (2)(a) a copy of this act, subsequent changes to this act on an annual basis, an amended version of this act as it becomes available from the Secretary of State's office on a biennial basis, and the rules adopted thereto on an annual basis.

(i) The division shall annually provide each association with a summary of declaratory statements and formal legal opinions relating to the operations of cooperatives which were rendered by the division during the previous year.

(j) The division shall adopt uniform accounting principles, policies, and standards to be used by all associations in the preparation and presentation of all financial statements required by this chapter. The principles, policies, and standards shall take into consideration the size of the association and the total revenue collected by the association.

(k) The division shall provide training and educational programs for cooperative association board members and unit owners. The training may, in the division's discretion, include web-based electronic media, and live training and seminars in various locations throughout the state. The division may review and approve education and training programs for board members and unit owners offered by providers and shall maintain a current list of approved programs and providers and make such list available to board members and unit owners in a reasonable and cost-effective manner.

(l) The division shall maintain a toll-free telephone number accessible to cooperative unit owners.

(m) When a complaint is made to the division, the division shall conduct its inquiry with reasonable dispatch and with due regard to the interests of the affected parties. Within 30 days after receipt of a complaint, the division shall acknowledge the complaint in writing and notify the complainant whether the complaint is within the jurisdiction of the division and whether additional information is needed by the division from the complainant. The division shall conduct its investigation and shall, within 90 days after receipt of the original complaint or timely requested additional information, take action upon the complaint. However, the failure to complete the investigation within 90 days does not prevent the division from continuing the investigation, accepting or considering evidence obtained or received after 90 days, or taking administrative action if reasonable cause exists to believe that a violation of this chapter or a rule of the division has occurred. If an investigation is not completed within the time limits established in this paragraph, the division shall, on a monthly basis, notify the complainant in writing of the status of the investigation. When reporting its action to the complainant, the division shall inform the complainant of any right to a hearing pursuant to ss. 120.569 and 120.57.

(n) The division shall develop a program to certify both volunteer and paid mediators to provide mediation of cooperative disputes. The division shall provide, upon request, a list of such mediators to any association, unit owner, or other participant in arbitration proceedings under s. 718.1255 requesting a copy of the list. The division shall include on the list of voluntary mediators only persons who have received at least 20 hours of training in mediation techniques or have mediated at least 20 disputes. In order to become initially certified by the division, paid mediators must be certified by the Supreme Court to mediate court cases in county or circuit courts. However, the division may adopt, by rule, additional factors for the certification of paid mediators, which factors must be related to experience, education, or background. Any person initially certified as a paid mediator by the division must, in order to continue to be certified, comply with the factors or requirements imposed by rules adopted by the division.

(3)(a) On or before January 1, 2023, cooperative associations existing on or before July 1, 2022, must provide the following information to the division in writing, by e-mail, United States Postal Service, commercial delivery service, or hand delivery, at a physical address or e-mail address provided by the division and on a form posted on the division's website:

2. The total number of units in all such buildings.
3. The addresses of all such buildings.
4. The counties in which all such buildings are located.

1. The name of each association with buildings on the cooperative property that are three stories or higher in height.
2. The number of such buildings on each association's property.
3. The addresses of all such buildings.
4. The counties in which all such buildings are located.

(c) An association must provide an update in writing to the division if there are any changes to the information in the list under paragraph (b) within 6 months after the change.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

CS for CS for HJR 1—A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 6 of Article VII and the creation of a new section in Article XII of the State Constitution to authorize the legislature, by general law, for all levies other than school district levies, to grant an additional homestead property tax exemption on $50,000 of the assessed value of homestead property owned by classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, correctional officers, firefighters, emergency medical technicians, paramedics, child welfare services professionals, active duty members of the United States Armed Forces, and Florida National Guard members.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following amendment to Section 6 of Article VII and the creation of a new section in Article XII of the State Constitution are agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized by law for that purpose:

ARTICLE VII

FINANCE AND TAXATION

SECTION 6. Homestead exemptions.—

(a) Every person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent residence of the owner, or another legally or naturally dependent upon the owner, shall be exempt from taxation thereon, except assessments for special benefits, up to the assessed valuation of twenty-five thousand dollars and, for all levies other than school district levies, on the assessed valuation greater than fifty thousand dollars and up to seventy-five thousand dollars, upon establishment of right thereto in the manner prescribed by law. The real estate may be held by legal or equitable title, by the entirety, jointly, in common, as a condominium, or indirectly by stock ownership or membership representing the owner's or member's proprietary interest in a corporation owning a fee or a leasehold initially in excess of ninety-eight years. The exemption shall not apply with respect to any assessment roll until such roll is first determined to be in compliance with the provisions of section 4 by a state agency designated by general law. This exemption is repealed on the effective date of any amendment to this Article which provides for the assessment of homestead property at less than just value.

(b) Not more than one exemption shall be allowed any individual or family unit or with respect to any residential unit. No exemption shall exceed the value of the real estate assessable to the owner or, in case of ownership through stock or membership in a corporation, the value of the proportion which the interest in the corporation bears to the assessed value of the property.

(c) By general law and subject to conditions specified therein, the Legislature may provide to renters, who are permanent residents, ad valorem tax relief on all ad valorem tax levies. Such ad valorem tax relief shall be in the form and amount established by general law.

(d) The legislature may, by general law, allow counties or municipalities, for the purpose of their respective tax levies and subject to the provisions of general law, to grant either or both of the following additional homestead tax exemptions:

(1) An exemption not exceeding fifty thousand dollars to a person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent residence of the owner, who has attained age sixty-five, and whose household income, as defined by general law, does not exceed twenty thousand dollars; or

(2) An exemption equal to the assessed value of the property to a person who has the legal or equitable title to real estate with a just value less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, as determined in the first tax year that the owner applies and is eligible for the exemption, and who has maintained thereon the permanent residence of the owner for not less than twenty-five years, who has attained age sixty-five, and whose household income does not exceed the income limitation prescribed in paragraph (1).

The general law must allow counties and municipalities to grant these additional exemptions, within the limits prescribed in this subsection, by ordinance adopted in the manner prescribed by general law, and must provide for the periodic adjustment of the income limitation prescribed in this subsection for changes in the cost of living.

(e)(1) Each veteran who is age 65 or older who is partially or totally permanently disabled shall receive a discount from the amount of the ad valorem tax otherwise owed on homestead property the veteran owns and resides in if the disability was combat related and the veteran was honorably discharged upon separation from military service. The discount shall be in a percentage equal to the percentage of the veteran's permanent, service-connected disability as determined by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs. To qualify for the discount granted by this paragraph, an applicant must submit to the county property appraiser, by March 1, an official letter from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs stating the percentage of the veteran's service-connected disability and such evidence that reasonably identifies the disability as combat related and a copy of the veteran's honorable discharge. If the property appraiser denies the request for a discount, the appraiser must notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for the denial, and the veteran may reapply. The Legislature may, by general law, waive the annual application requirement in subsequent years.

(2) If a veteran who receives the discount described in paragraph (1) predeceases his or her spouse, and if, upon the death of the veteran, the surviving spouse holds the legal or beneficial title to the homestead property and permanently resides thereon, the discount carries over to the surviving spouse until he or she remarries or sells or otherwise disposes of the homestead property. If the surviving spouse sells or otherwise disposes of the property, a discount not to exceed the dollar amount granted from the most recent ad valorem tax roll may be transferred to the surviving spouse's new homestead property, if used as his or her permanent residence and he or she has not remarried.

(3) This subsection is self-executing and does not require implementing legislation.

(f) By general law and subject to conditions and limitations specified therein, the Legislature may provide ad valorem tax relief equal to the total amount or a portion of the ad valorem tax otherwise owed on homestead property to:

(1) The surviving spouse of a veteran who died from service-connected causes while on active duty as a member of the United States Armed Forces.

(2) The surviving spouse of a first responder who died in the line of duty.

(3) A first responder who is totally and permanently disabled as a result of an injury or injuries sustained in the line of duty. Causal connection between a disability and service in the line of duty shall not be presumed but must be determined as provided by general law. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "disability" does not include a chronic condition or chronic disease, unless the injury sustained in the line of duty was the sole cause of the chronic condition or chronic disease.

As used in this subsection and as further defined by general law, the term "first responder" means a law enforcement officer, a correctional officer, a firefighter, an emergency medical technician, or a paramedic, and the term "in the line of duty" means arising out of and in the actual performance of duty required by employment as a first responder.

(g) By general law and subject to conditions and limitations specified therein, for all levies other than school district levies, the legislature may provide an additional homestead exemption on the assessed valuation of greater than one hundred thousand dollars and up to one hundred fifty thousand dollars to a classroom teacher, a law enforcement officer, a correctional officer, a firefighter, an emergency medical technician, a paramedic, a child welfare services professional, an active duty member of the United States Armed Forces, or a member of the Florida National Guard who has the legal or equitable title to real estate and maintains thereon the permanent residence of the owner, or another legally or naturally dependent upon the owner.

ARTICLE XII

f. The sponsor shall ensure that the charter school participates in the state's education accountability system. If a charter school falls short of performance measures included in the approved charter, the sponsor shall report such shortcomings to the Department of Education.

g. The sponsor ~~is shall~~ not be liable for civil damages under state law for personal injury, property damage, or death resulting from an act or omission of an officer, employee, agent, or governing body of the charter school.

h. The sponsor ~~is shall~~ not be liable for civil damages under state law for any employment actions taken by an officer, employee, agent, or governing body of the charter school.

i. The sponsor's duties to monitor the charter school ~~do shall~~ not constitute the basis for a private cause of action.

j. The sponsor ~~may shall~~ not impose additional reporting requirements on a charter school ~~as long as the charter school has not been identified as having a deteriorating financial condition or financial emergency pursuant to s. 1002.345 without providing reasonable and specific justification in writing to the charter school.~~

k. The sponsor shall submit an annual report to the Department of Education in a web-based format to be determined by the department.

(I) The report shall include the following information:

(A) The number of applications received during the school year and up to August 1 and each applicant's contact information.

(B) The date each application was approved, denied, or withdrawn.

(C) The date each final contract was executed.

(II) Annually, by November 1, the sponsor shall submit to the department the information for the applications submitted the previous year.

(III) The department shall compile an annual report, by sponsor, and post the report on its website by January 15 of each year.

2. Immunity for the sponsor of a charter school under subparagraph 1. applies only with respect to acts or omissions not under the sponsor's direct authority as described in this section.

3. This paragraph does not waive a sponsor's sovereign immunity.

4. A Florida College System institution may work with the school district or school districts in its designated service area to develop charter schools that offer secondary education. These charter schools must include an option for students to receive an associate degree upon high school graduation. If a Florida College System institution operates an approved teacher preparation program under s. 1004.04 or s. 1004.85, the institution may operate charter schools that serve students in kindergarten through grade 12 in any school district within the service area of the institution. District school boards shall cooperate with and assist the Florida College System institution on the charter application. Florida College System institution applications for charter schools are not subject to the time deadlines outlined in subsection (6) and may be approved by the district school board at any time during the year. Florida College System institutions may not report FTE for any students participating under this subparagraph who receive FTE funding through the Florida Education Finance Program.

5. For purposes of assisting the development of a charter school, a school district may enter into nonexclusive interlocal agreements with federal and state agencies, counties, municipalities, and other governmental entities that operate within the geographical borders of the school district to act on behalf of such governmental entities in the inspection, issuance, and other necessary activities for all necessary permits, licenses, and other permissions that a charter school needs in order for development, construction, or operation. A charter school may use, but may not be required to use, a school district for these services. The interlocal agreement must include, but need not be limited to, the identification of fees that charter schools will be charged for such services. The fees must consist of the governmental entity's fees plus a fee for the school district to recover no more than actual costs for providing such services. These services and fees are not included within the services to be provided pursuant to subsection (20). Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an interlocal agreement or ordinance that imposes a greater regulatory burden on charter schools than school districts or that ~~between a school district and a federal or state agency, county, municipality, or other governmental entity which prohibits or limits the creation of a charter school within the geographic borders of the school district is void and unenforceable. An interlocal agreement entered into by a school district for the development of only its own schools, including provisions relating to the extension of infrastructure, may be used by charter schools.~~

6. The board of trustees of a sponsoring state university or Florida College System institution under paragraph (a) is the local educational agency for all charter schools it sponsors for purposes of receiving federal funds and accepts full responsibility for all local educational agency requirements and the schools for which it will perform local educational agency responsibilities. A student enrolled in a charter school that is sponsored by a state university or Florida College System institution may not be included in the calculation of the school district's grade under s. 1008.34(5) for the school district in which he or she resides.

(7) CHARTER.—The terms and conditions for the operation of a charter school shall be set forth by the sponsor and the applicant in a written contractual agreement, called a charter. The sponsor and the governing board of the charter school shall use the standard charter contract pursuant to subsection (21), which shall incorporate the approved application and any addenda approved with the application. Any term or condition of a proposed charter contract that differs from the standard charter contract adopted by rule of the State Board of Education shall be presumed a limitation on charter school flexibility. The sponsor may not impose unreasonable rules or regulations that violate the intent of giving charter schools greater flexibility to meet educational goals. The charter shall be signed by the governing board of the charter school and the sponsor, following a public hearing to ensure community input.

(c)1. A charter may be renewed provided that a program review demonstrates that the criteria in paragraph (a) have been successfully accomplished and that none of the grounds for nonrenewal established by paragraph (8)(a) ~~have has~~ been expressly found. The charter of a charter school that meets these requirements and has received a school grade lower than a "B" pursuant to s. 1008.34 in the most recently graded school year must be renewed for no less than a 5-year term except as provided in paragraph (9)(n) documented. In order to facilitate long-term financing for charter school construction, charter schools operating for a minimum of 3 years and demonstrating exemplary academic programming and fiscal management are eligible for a 15-year charter renewal. Such long-term charter is subject to annual review and may be terminated during the term of the charter.

2. The 15-year charter renewal that may be granted pursuant to subparagraph 1. ~~must shall~~ be granted to a charter school that has received a school grade of "A" or "B" pursuant to s. 1008.34 in the most recently graded school year ~~3 of the past 4 years~~ and that is not in a state of financial emergency or deficit position as defined by this section. Such long-term charter is subject to annual review and may be terminated during the term of the charter pursuant to subsection (8).

(8) CAUSES FOR NONRENEWAL OR TERMINATION OF CHARTER.—

(a) The sponsor shall make student academic achievement for all students the most important factor when determining whether to renew or terminate the charter. The sponsor may ~~also~~ choose not to renew or may terminate the charter only if the sponsor expressly finds that one of the grounds set forth below exists by clear and convincing evidence:

1. Failure to participate in the state's education accountability system created in s. 1008.31, as required in this section, or failure to meet the requirements for student performance stated in the charter.

2. Failure to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management due to deteriorating financial conditions or financial emergencies determined pursuant to s. 1002.345.

3. Material violation of law.

4. ~~Other good cause shown.~~

(9) CHARTER SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS.—

(p)1. Each charter school shall maintain a website that enables the public to obtain information regarding the school; the school's academic performance; the names of the governing board members; the programs at the school; any management companies, service providers, or education management corporations associated with the school; the school's annual budget and its annual independent fiscal audit; the school's grade pursuant to s. 1008.34; and, on a quarterly basis, the minutes of governing board meetings.

2. Each charter school's governing board must appoint a representative to facilitate parental involvement, provide access to information, assist parents and others with questions and concerns, and resolve disputes. The representative must reside in the school district in which the charter school is located and may be a governing board member, a charter school employee, or an individual contracted to represent the governing board. If the governing board oversees multiple charter schools in the same school district, the governing board must appoint a separate representative for each charter school in the district. The representative's contact information must be provided annually in writing to parents and posted prominently on the charter school's website. The sponsor may not require governing board members to reside in the school district in which the charter school is located if the charter school complies with this subparagraph.

3. Each charter school's governing board must hold at least two public meetings per school year in the school district where the charter school is located. The meetings must be noticed, open, and accessible to the public, and attendees must be provided an opportunity to receive information and provide input regarding the charter school's operations. The appointed representative and charter school principal or director, or his or her designee, must be physically present at each meeting. Members of the governing board or any member of a committee formed or designated by the governing board may attend in person or by means of communications media technology used in accordance with rules adopted by the Administration Commission under s. 120.54(5).

(18) FACILITIES.—

(a) A startup charter school shall utilize facilities which comply with the Florida Building Code pursuant to chapter 553 except for the State Requirements for Educational Facilities. Conversion charter schools shall utilize facilities that comply with the State Requirements for Educational Facilities provided that the school district and the charter school have entered into a mutual management plan for the reasonable maintenance of such facilities. The mutual management plan shall contain a provision by which the district school board agrees to maintain charter school facilities in the same manner as its other public schools within the district. Charter schools, with the exception of conversion charter schools, are not required to comply, but may choose to comply, with the State Requirements for Educational Facilities of the Florida Building Code adopted pursuant to s. 1013.37. The local governing authority shall not adopt or impose any local building requirements or site-development restrictions, such as parking and site-size criteria, student enrollment, and occupant load, that are addressed by and more stringent than those found in the State Requirements for Educational Facilities of the Florida Building Code. A local governing authority must treat charter schools equitably in comparison to similar requirements, restrictions, and site planning processes imposed upon public schools that are not charter schools, including such provisions that are established by interlocal agreement. An interlocal agreement entered into by a school district for the development of only its own schools, including provisions relating to the extension of infrastructure, may be used by charter schools. A charter school may not be subject to any land use regulation requiring a change to a local government comprehensive plan or requiring a development order or development permit, as those terms are defined in s. 163.3164, that would not be required for a public school in the same location. The agency having jurisdiction for inspection of a facility and issuance of a certificate of occupancy or use shall be the local municipality or, if in an unincorporated area, the county governing authority. If an official or employee of the local governing authority refuses to comply with this paragraph, the aggrieved school or entity has an immediate right to bring an action in circuit court to enforce its rights by injunction. An aggrieved party that receives injunctive relief may be awarded attorney fees and court costs.

(c) Any facility, or portion thereof, used to house a charter school whose charter has been approved by the sponsor and the governing board, pursuant to subsection (7), ~~is shall be~~ exempt from ad valorem taxes pursuant to s. 196.1983. Any library, community service, museum, performing arts, theatre, cinema, or church facility; any facility or land owned by a Florida College System institution or college, and university; any similar public institutional facilities; and any facility recently used to house a school or child care facility licensed under s. 402.305 may provide space to charter schools within their facilities under their preexisting zoning and land use designations without obtaining a special exception, rezoning, or a land use change.

(f) To the extent that charter school facilities are specifically created to mitigate the educational impact created by the development of new residential dwelling units, pursuant to subparagraph (2)(c)4., a proportionate share of costs per student station some of or all of the educational impact fees required to be paid in connection with the new residential dwelling units must may be designated instead for the construction of the charter school facilities that will mitigate the student station impact, including charter school facilities described in subparagraph (10)(e)7. Such facilities shall be built to the State Requirements for Educational Facilities and shall be owned by a public or nonprofit entity. The local school district retains the right to monitor and inspect such facilities to ensure compliance with the State Requirements for Educational Facilities. If a facility ceases to be used for public educational purposes, either the facility shall revert to the school district subject to any debt owed on the facility, or the owner of the facility shall have the option to refund all educational impact fees utilized for the facility to the school district. The district and the owner of the facility may contractually agree to another arrangement for the facilities if the facilities cease to be used for educational purposes. The owner of property planned or approved for new residential dwelling units and the entity levying educational impact fees shall enter into an agreement that designates the educational impact fees that will be allocated for the charter school student stations and that ensures the timely construction of the charter school student stations concurrent with the expected occupancy of the residential units. The application for use of educational impact fees shall include an approved charter school application. To assist the school district in forecasting student station needs, the entity levying the impact fees shall notify the affected district of any agreements it has approved for the purpose of mitigating student station impact from the new residential dwelling units. Any entity contributing toward the construction of such facilities shall receive a credit toward any impact fees or exactions imposed for public educational facilities to the extent that the entity has not received a credit for such contribution pursuant to s. 163.3180(6)(h)2.

(20) SERVICES.—

(a)1. A sponsor shall provide certain administrative and educational services to charter schools. These services shall include contract management services; full-time equivalent and data reporting services; exceptional student education administration services; services related to eligibility and reporting duties required to ensure that school lunch services under the National School Lunch Program, consistent with the needs of the charter school, are provided by the sponsor at the request of the charter school, that any funds due to the charter school under the National School Lunch Program be paid to the charter school as soon as the charter school begins serving food under the National School Lunch Program, and that the charter school is paid at the same time and in the same manner under the National School Lunch Program as other public schools serviced by the sponsor or the school district; test administration services, including payment of the costs of state-required or district-required student assessments; processing of teacher certificate data services; and information services, including equal access to the sponsor's student information systems that are used by public schools in the district in which the charter school is located or by schools in the sponsor's portfolio of charter schools if the sponsor is not a school district. Student performance data for each student in a charter school, including, but not limited to, FCAT scores, standardized test scores, previous public school student report cards, and student performance measures, shall be provided by the sponsor to a charter school in the same manner provided to other public schools in the district or by schools in the sponsor's portfolio of charter schools if the sponsor is not a school district.

2. A sponsor may withhold an administrative fee for the provision of such services which shall be a percentage of the available funds defined in paragraph (17)(b) calculated based on weighted full-time equivalent students. If the charter school serves 75 percent or more exceptional education students as defined in s. 1003.01(3), the percentage shall be calculated based on unweighted full-time equivalent students. The administrative fee shall be calculated as follows:

a. Up to 5 percent for:

(I) Enrollment of up to and including 250 students in a charter school as defined in this section.

(II) Enrollment of up to and including 500 students within a charter school system which meets all of the following:

A sponsor may not charge charter schools any additional fees or surcharges for administrative and educational services in addition to the maximum percentage of administrative fees withheld pursuant to this paragraph. A sponsor may not charge or withhold any administrative fee against a charter school for any funds specifically allocated by the Legislature for teacher compensation.

4. A sponsor shall provide to the department by September 15 of each year the total amount of funding withheld from charter schools pursuant to this subsection for the prior fiscal year. The department must include the information in the report required under sub-subparagraph (5)(b)1.k.(III).

Each school district shall provide each charter school within its district its proportionate share calculated pursuant to s. 1002.33(17)(b). If a district school board has not received its allocation due to its failure to submit an approved district salary distribution plan, the district school board must still provide each charter school that has submitted a salary distribution plan within its district its proportionate share of the allocation.

Subject to the requirements in subparagraphs (a)2.-4., the department shall issue a license to an applicant if the applicant meets the requirements of this section and pays the initial application fee. The department shall renew the licensure of a medical marijuana treatment center biennially if the licensee meets the requirements of this section and pays the biennial renewal fee. However, the department may not renew the license of a medical marijuana treatment center that has not begun to cultivate, process, and dispense marijuana by the date that the medical marijuana treatment center is required to renew its license. An individual may not be an applicant, owner, officer, board member, or manager on more than one application for licensure as a medical marijuana treatment center. Upon request, the department may grant a medical marijuana treatment center a variance from the representations made in the initial application. Consideration of such a request shall be based upon the individual facts and circumstances surrounding the request. A variance may not be granted unless the requesting medical marijuana treatment center can demonstrate to the department that it has a proposed alternative to the specific representation made in its application which fulfills the same or a similar purpose as the specific representation in a way that the department can reasonably determine will not be a lower standard than the specific representation in the application. A variance may not be granted from the requirements in subparagraph 2. and subparagraphs (b)1. and 2.

Edibles may not be attractive to children; be manufactured in the shape of humans, cartoons, or animals; be manufactured in a form that bears any reasonable resemblance to products available for consumption as commercially available candy; or contain any color additives. To discourage consumption of edibles by children, the department shall determine by rule any shapes, forms, and ingredients allowed and prohibited for edibles. A medical marijuana treatment center shall reserve two processed samples from each batch and retain such samples for at least 9 months for the purpose of such audits. The Honorable Wilton Simpson, President

I am directed to inform the Senate that the House of Representatives has passed CS/SB 196, with 1 amendment, and requests the concurrence of the Senate.

Jeff Takacs, Clerk

CS for SB 196—A bill to be entitled An act relating to the Florida Housing Finance Corporation; amending s. 420.503, F.S.; defining the terms "bona fide contract" and "qualified contract" for purposes of the Florida Housing Finance Corporation Act; amending s. 420.5087, F.S.; deleting certain limitations and restrictions on, and requirements for, loans made by the corporation to sponsors of housing for the elderly under the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program; deleting the authority of the corporation to forgive certain indebtedness; deleting provisions relating to loan applications; amending s. 420.509, F.S.; designating the corporation, rather than the State Board of Administration, as the state fiscal agency to make determinations in connection with specified bonds; authorizing the corporation's board of directors, rather than the State Board of Administration, to delegate to its executive director the authority and power to perform that function; requiring the executive director to annually report specified information to the board of directors, rather than the State Board of Administration; revising applicable interest rate limitations on bonds of the corporation; amending s. 420.5099, F.S.; providing construction relating to low-income tax credit developments if a qualified contract does not close for specified reasons; providing requirements for the corporation and an owner if a qualified contract does not close for any other reason; providing construction if no other qualified contract is presented to the owner within a certain period; amending s. 420.5092, F.S.; conforming a provision to changes made by the act; amending s. 420.628, F.S.; conforming a cross-reference; providing an effective date.

House Amendment 1 (796083) (with title amendment)—Remove everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (3) of section 420.5087, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

420.5087 State Apartment Incentive Loan Program.—There is hereby created the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.

(3) During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, program funds shall be made available for use by sponsors who provide the housing set-aside required in subsection (2) for the tenant groups designated in this subsection. The funds made available to each of these groups shall be determined using the most recent statewide very-low-income rental housing market study available at the time of publication of each notice of fund availability required by paragraph (6)(b). The funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant groups in paragraphs (b)-(e) may not be less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time. Any increase in funding required to reach the required minimum must be taken from the tenant group that would receive the largest percentage of available funds in accordance with the study. The funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (a) may not be less than 5 percent of the funds available at that time. The tenant groups are:

- (a) Commercial fishing workers and farmworkers;
- (b) Families;
- (c) Persons who are homeless;
- (d) Persons with special needs; and
- (e) Elderly persons. Ten percent of the amount made available for the elderly shall provide loans to sponsors of housing for the elderly for the purpose of making building preservation, health, or sanitation repairs or improvements which are required by federal, state, or local regulation or code, or lifesafety or security-related repairs or improvements to such housing. ~~Such a loan may not exceed $750,000 per housing community for the elderly. In order to receive the loan, the sponsor of the housing community must make a commitment to match~~

~~at least 5 percent of the loan amount to pay the cost of such repair or improvement. The corporation shall establish the rate of interest on the loan, which may not exceed 3 percent, and the term of the loan, which may not exceed 15 years; however, if the lien of the corporation's encumbrance is subordinate to the lien of another mortgagee, then the term may be made coterminous with the longest term of the superior lien. The term of the loan shall be based on a credit analysis of the applicant. The corporation may forgive indebtedness for a share of the loan attributable to the units in a project reserved for extremely low-income elderly by nonprofit organizations, as defined in s. 420.0004(6), where the project has provided affordable housing to the elderly for 15 years or more. The corporation shall establish, by rule, the procedure and criteria for receiving, evaluating, and competitively ranking all applications for loans under this paragraph. A loan application must include evidence of the first mortgagee's having reviewed and approved the sponsor's intent to apply for a loan. A nonprofit organization or sponsor may not use the proceeds of the loan to pay for administrative costs, routine maintenance, or new construction.~~

Section 2. Subsections (2) and (4) of section 420.509, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.509 Revenue bonds.—

(2) ~~The corporation~~ ~~State Board of Administration~~ is designated as the state fiscal agency to make the determinations required by s. 16, Art. VII of the State Constitution in connection with the issuance of such bonds that in no state fiscal year will the debt service requirements of the bonds proposed to be issued and all other bonds secured by the same pledged revenues exceed the pledged revenues available for such debt service requirements. ~~The corporation's board of directors~~ ~~State Board of Administration~~ may delegate to its executive director the authority and power to perform that function ~~without further review of the agency.~~ The determinations pursuant to this ~~subsection~~ ~~paragraph~~ are limited to a review of the matters essential to making the determinations required by s. 16, Art. VII of the State Constitution. The executive director shall report annually to the ~~board~~ ~~State Board of Administration~~ and the Legislature regarding the number of bond issues considered and the determination with respect thereto.

(4) Bonds of the corporation may:

- (a) Bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the interest rate limitation set forth in ~~s. 159.825 or s. 215.84, as applicable~~ ~~s. 215.84(3), unless the State Board of Administration authorizes an interest rate in excess of such maximum;~~
- (b) Have such provisions for payment at maturity and redemption before maturity at such time or times and at such price or prices; and
- (c) Be payable at such place or places within or without the state as the board determines by resolution.

(b) If the claims payment obligations under affordable housing guarantees from amounts on deposit in the guarantee fund would cause the claims paying rating assigned to the guarantee fund to be less than the third-highest rating classification of any nationally recognized rating service, which classifications being consistent with s. 215.84(3) ~~and rules adopted thereto by the State Board of Administration,~~ the corporation shall certify to the Chief Financial Officer the amount of such claims payment obligations. Upon receipt of such certification, the Chief Financial Officer shall transfer to the guarantee fund, from the first available taxes distributed to the State Housing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 201.15(4)(c) and (d) during the ensuing state fiscal year, the amount certified as necessary to meet such obligations, such transfer to be subordinate to any transfer referenced in paragraph (a) and not to exceed 50 percent of the amounts distributed to the State Housing Trust Fund pursuant to s. 201.15(4)(c) and (d) during the preceding state fiscal year.

And the title is amended as follows:

Remove everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to the Florida Housing Finance Corporation; amending s. 420.5087, F.S.; deleting certain limitations and restrictions on, and requirements for, loans made by the corporation to sponsors of housing for the elderly under the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program; deleting the authority of the corporation to forgive certain indebtedness; deleting provisions relating to loan applications; amending s. 420.509, F.S.; designating the corporation, rather than the State Board of Administration, as the state fiscal agency to make determinations in connection with specified bonds; authorizing the corporation's board of directors, rather than the State Board of Administration, to delegate to its executive director the authority and power to perform that function; requiring the executive director to annually report specified information to the board of directors, rather than the State Board of Administration; revising applicable interest rate limitations on bonds of the corporation; amending s. 420.5092, F.S.; conforming a provision to changes made by the act; providing an effective date.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Senator Bean:

Heavenly God, this is the day that you have made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. We ask a blessing on the House and Senate, their families, the travels of this weekend, and coming back here Monday. We ask a blessing on our health because without health we don't have anything. Bless our staff and their families. Let us be mindful of the soldiers that have defended our liberties and have given their lives—like the one that Senator Burgess introduced, Carl Enis, his family, and know the pain that they have is forever. Just be with them and comfort them. We ask a blessing on our budget and the mission of our budget, and be mindful that every line on our budget there are people, families, children, at the end of that line. We ask the blessing on the budget that it goes to where it's intended to go and that it has a mission to lift those people up and to protect. We ask a blessing on those that have been affected by our fires in the Panhandle. Just comfort those that have lost. We ask a blessing on those in Ukraine. It's horrible the suffering that we see. Just bless those in Ukraine. We ask for a quick, peaceful resolution. All this we ask in your name, and everybody says together, Amen.

PLEDGE

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Rouson—

By Senator Rouson—

SR 2000—A resolution honoring La Gaceta, one of the oldest minority-owned and -focused newspapers, and the only trilingual newspaper in the United States, for 100 years of continued service to Florida's Latino community.

WHEREAS, La Gaceta, the Spanish-language daily newspaper, was founded by Victoriano Manteiga, who immigrated in 1913 from Cuba to West Tampa to accept a job in the Morgan Cigar Factory reading books and newspapers aloud to the torcedores, or cigar rollers, while they worked, and

WHEREAS, in 1922, Victoriano Manteiga discussed his idea of publishing a Spanish-language newspaper with Dr. Jose Avellanal, an admired doctor and humanitarian, who contacted the Mascunana Printers, and their combined efforts yielded the first issue of La Gaceta, published on May 22, 1922, which went on to be published 6 days per week in Ybor City, with wire service from Cuba and Spain, and

WHEREAS, La Gaceta was born from the need to educate, inform, and entertain the Latino community living and working in Ybor City and West Tampa, filling a void created by the Anglo-owned press which, at the time, mostly ignored immigrants or reported negatively about their activities, and

WHEREAS, the newspaper championed causes important to Florida's Latino community, such as the rights of laborers, access to education and recreation, gaining a voice in politics, supporting the Republic in the Spanish Civil War, and an independent Cuba free from corruption, and

WHEREAS, the newspaper survived the Great Depression and the rationing of lead and newsprint in World War II by the perseverance of the Manteiga family and support of the community, and

WHEREAS, at the outbreak of World War II, Victoriano Manteiga's son, Roland, who worked at La Gaceta, volunteered to serve in the United States Army and was shipped out with many Tampa Latinos to the Pacific Theatre, leaving Victoriano Manteiga to struggle with publishing the newspaper in his son's absence, and

WHEREAS, after the war, La Gaceta's readership and advertising suffered due to the collapse of the cigar industry in Tampa and the migration of the Latino community to the suburbs, with opportunities for Latinos and the descendants of the original immigrants from Spain, Cuba, and Italy more dependent on the English language than Spanish, and

WHEREAS, to adjust to these changes, La Gaceta became a weekly paper in 1953, and in 1954, English-language and Italian-language articles began to appear in its pages, making it a trilingual publication, and

WHEREAS, on June 11, 1954, Roland Manteiga began writing his weekly political gossip column, "As We Heard It," which became a must-read for inside information in government and politics and served as a voice for Tampa's Hispanic community for more than 40 years, and

WHEREAS, in the 1960s, Ybor City hit a low point due to the destruction of the community by urban renewal and the construction of the interstates in Tampa, leaving the Latin Quarter a shadow of itself, although La Gaceta remained, documenting the area's history and demise and fighting for its future, and

WHEREAS, with Roland Manteiga at the helm, La Gaceta was instrumental in bringing Hillsborough Community College, the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office, and the Environmental Protection Commission to Ybor City, all of which help keep it alive, and

WHEREAS, Roland Manteiga became an influencer for those seeking to be elected to office, with many national, state, and local leaders paying him visits, and with son Patrick Manteiga by his side starting in 1983, he used this and La Gaceta's influence to promote Ybor City's renaissance and to help save historic buildings that housed the mutual aid societies, Circulo Cubano, Centro Asturiano, and L'Unione Italiana, and

WHEREAS, after Roland Manteiga's passing on September 25, 1998, his son, Patrick Manteiga, took over as publisher and today continues the tradition of his father's "As We Heard It" column and of the newspaper as a voice of the Latino community while keeping an eye on the powers that be, and

WHEREAS, now for more than a century, La Gaceta, one of the oldest minority-owned and -focused newspapers, and the only trilingual newspaper, in the United States, continues to serve Citrus, Hillsborough, Hernando, Manatee, Orange, Osceola, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, and Sarasota Counties, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the Florida Senate honors La Gaceta newspaper for 100 years of continued service to Florida's Latino community.

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

Section 1. Subsection (26) of section 409.908, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.908 Reimbursement of Medicaid providers.—Subject to specific appropriations, the agency shall reimburse Medicaid providers, in accordance with state and federal law, according to methodologies set forth in the rules of the agency and in policy manuals and handbooks incorporated by reference therein. These methodologies may include fee schedules, reimbursement methods based on cost reporting, negotiated fees, competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, and other mechanisms the agency considers efficient and effective for purchasing services or goods on behalf of recipients. If a provider is reimbursed based on cost reporting and submits a cost report late and that cost report would have been used to set a lower reimbursement rate for a rate semester, then the provider's rate for that semester shall be retroactively calculated using the new cost report, and full payment at the recalculated rate shall be effected retroactively. Medicare-granted extensions for filing cost reports, if applicable, shall also apply to Medicaid cost reports. Payment for Medicaid compensable services made on behalf of Medicaid-eligible persons is subject to the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act or chapter 216. Further, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent or limit the agency from adjusting fees, reimbursement rates, lengths of stay, number of visits, or number of services, or making any other adjustments necessary to comply with the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act, provided the adjustment is consistent with legislative intent.

(26) The agency may receive funds from state entities, including, but not limited to, the Department of Health, local governments, and other local political subdivisions, for the purpose of making special exception payments and Low Income Pool Program payments, including federal matching funds. Funds received for this purpose shall be separately accounted for and may not be commingled with other state or local funds in any manner. The agency may certify all local governmental funds used as state match under Title XIX of the Social Security Act to the extent and in the manner authorized under the General Appropriations Act and pursuant to an agreement between the agency and the local governmental entity. In order for the agency to certify such local governmental funds, a local governmental entity must submit a final, executed letter of agreement to the agency, which must be received by October 1 of each fiscal year and provide the total amount of local governmental funds authorized by the entity for that fiscal year under the General Appropriations Act. The local governmental entity shall use a certification form prescribed by the agency. At a minimum, the certification form must identify the amount being certified and describe the relationship between the certifying local governmental entity and the local health care provider. Local governmental funds outlined in the letters of agreement must be received by the agency no later than October 31 of each fiscal year in which such funds are pledged, unless an alternative plan is specifically approved by the agency. To be eligible for low-income pool funding or other forms of supplemental payments funded by intergovernmental transfers, and in addition to any other applicable requirements, essential providers identified in s. 409.975(1)(a) ~~s. 409.975(1)(a)2.~~ must have a network offer to contract with each managed care plan in their region and essential providers identified in s. 409.975(1)(b) ~~s. 409.975(1)(b)1. and 3.~~ must have a network offer to contract with each managed care plan in the state. Before releasing such supplemental payments, ~~in the event the parties have not executed network contracts,~~ the agency shall determine whether such contracts are in place and evaluate the parties' efforts to complete negotiations. ~~If such efforts continue to fail, the agency must withhold such supplemental payments beginning no later than January 1 of each fiscal year for essential providers without such contracts in place. By the end of each fiscal year, the agency shall identify essential providers who have not executed required network contracts with the applicable managed care plans for the next fiscal year. By July 30, such providers and plans must enter into mediation and jointly notify the agency of mediation commencement. Selection of a mediator must be by mutual agreement of the plan and provider, or, if they cannot agree, by the agency from a list of at least four mediators submitted by the parties. The costs of the mediation shall be borne equally by the parties. The mediation must be completed before September 30. On or before October 1, the mediator must submit a written postmediation report to the agency, including the outcome of the mediation and, if mediation resulted in an impasse, conclusions and recommendations as to the cause of the impasse, the party most responsible for the impasse, and whether the mediator believes that either party negotiated in bad faith. If the mediator recommends to the agency that a party or both parties negotiated in bad faith, the postmediation report must state the basis for such recommendation, cite all relevant information forming the basis of the recommendation, and attach any relevant documentation. The agency must promptly publish all postmediation reports on its website in the third quarter of the fiscal year if it determines that, based upon the totality of the circumstances, the essential provider has negotiated with the managed care plan in bad faith. If the agency determines that an essential provider has negotiated in bad faith, it must notify the essential provider at least 90 days in advance of the start of the third quarter of the fiscal year and afford the essential provider hearing rights in accordance with chapter 120.~~

Section 2. Subsection (1) of section 409.912, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.912 Cost-effective purchasing of health care.—The agency shall purchase goods and services for Medicaid recipients in the most cost-effective manner consistent with the delivery of quality medical care. To ensure that medical services are effectively utilized, the agency may, in any case, require a confirmation or second physician's opinion of the correct diagnosis for purposes of authorizing future services under the Medicaid program. This section does not restrict access to emergency services or poststabilization care services as defined in 42 C.F.R. s. 438.114. Such confirmation or second opinion shall be rendered in a manner approved by the agency. The agency shall maximize the use of prepaid per capita and prepaid aggregate fixed-sum basis services when appropriate and other alternative service delivery and reimbursement methodologies, including competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, designed to facilitate the cost-effective purchase of a case-managed continuum of care. The agency shall also require providers to minimize the exposure of recipients to the need for acute inpatient, custodial, and other institutional care and the inappropriate or unnecessary use of high-cost services. The agency shall contract with a vendor to monitor and evaluate the clinical practice patterns of providers in order to identify trends that are outside the normal practice patterns of a provider's professional peers or the national guidelines of a provider's professional association. The vendor must be able to provide information and counseling to a provider whose practice patterns are outside the norms, in consultation with the agency, to improve patient care and reduce inappropriate utilization. The agency may mandate prior authorization, drug therapy management, or disease management participation for certain populations of Medicaid beneficiaries, certain drug classes, or particular drugs to prevent fraud, abuse, overuse, and possible dangerous drug interactions. The Pharmaceutical and Therapeutics Committee shall make recommendations to the agency on drugs for which prior authorization is required. The agency shall inform the Pharmaceutical and Therapeutics Committee of its decisions regarding drugs subject to prior authorization. The agency is authorized to limit the entities it contracts with or enrolls as Medicaid providers by developing a provider network through provider credentialing. The agency may competitively bid single-source-provider contracts if procurement of goods or services results in demonstrated cost savings to the state without limiting access to care. The agency may limit its network based on the assessment of beneficiary access to care, provider availability, provider quality standards, time and distance standards for access to care, the cultural competence of the provider network, demographic characteristics of Medicaid beneficiaries, practice and provider-to-beneficiary standards, appointment wait times, beneficiary use of services, provider turnover, provider profiling, provider licensure history, previous program integrity investigations and findings, peer review, provider Medicaid policy and billing compliance records, clinical and medical record audits, and other factors. Providers are not entitled to enrollment in the Medicaid provider network. The agency shall determine instances in which allowing Medicaid beneficiaries to purchase durable medical equipment and other goods is less expensive to the Medicaid program than long-term rental of the equipment or goods. The agency may establish rules to facilitate purchases in lieu of long-term rentals in order to protect against fraud and abuse in the Medicaid program as defined in s. 409.913. The agency may seek federal waivers necessary to administer these policies.

(1) The agency may contract with a provider service network, which ~~must~~ may be reimbursed on a fee for service or prepaid basis. ~~Prepaid~~ Provider service networks shall receive per-member, per-month payments. ~~A provider service network that does not choose to be a prepaid plan shall receive fee for service rates with a shared savings settlement. The fee for service option shall be available to a provider service network only for the first 2 years of the plan's operation or until the contract year beginning September 1, 2014, whichever is later. The agency shall annually conduct cost reconciliations to determine the amount of cost savings achieved by fee for service provider service networks for the dates of service in the period being reconciled. Only payments for covered services for dates of service within the reconciliation period and paid within 6 months after the last date of service in the reconciliation period shall be included. The agency shall perform the necessary adjustments for the inclusion of claims incurred but not reported within the reconciliation for claims that could be received and paid by the agency after the 6 month claims processing time lag. The agency shall provide the results of the reconciliations to the fee for service provider service networks within 45 days after the end of the reconciliation period. The fee for service provider service networks shall review and provide written comments or a letter of concurrence to the agency within 45 days after receipt of the reconciliation results. This reconciliation shall be considered final.~~

(a) A provider service network which is reimbursed by the agency on a prepaid basis shall be exempt from parts I and III of chapter 641 but must comply with the solvency requirements in s. 641.2261(2) and meet appropriate financial reserve, quality assurance, and patient rights requirements as established by the agency.

(b) A provider service network is a network established or organized and operated by a health care provider, or group of affiliated health care providers, which provides a substantial proportion of the health care items and services under a contract directly through the provider or affiliated group of providers and may make arrangements with physicians or other health care professionals, health care institutions, or any combination of such individuals or institutions to assume all or part of the financial risk on a prospective basis for the provision of basic health services by the physicians, by other health professionals, or through the institutions. The health care providers must have a controlling interest in the governing body of the provider service network organization.

(c) This subsection does not authorize the agency to contract with a provider service network outside of the procurement process described in s. 409.966.

The agency shall apply for and implement state plan amendments or waivers of applicable federal laws and regulations necessary to implement the program. ~~Before seeking a waiver, the agency shall provide public notice and the opportunity for public comment and include public feedback in the waiver application. The agency shall hold one public meeting in each of the regions described in s. 409.966(2), and the time period for public comment for each region shall end no sooner than 30 days after the completion of the public meeting in that region.~~

Section 5. Paragraph (f) of subsection (3) of section 409.966, Florida Statutes, is redesignated as paragraph (d), and subsection (2), present paragraphs (a), (d), and (e) of subsection (3), and subsection (4) of that section are amended to read:

(3) QUALITY SELECTION CRITERIA.—

(a) The invitation to negotiate must specify the criteria and the relative weight of the criteria that will be used for determining the acceptability of the reply and guiding the selection of the organizations with which the agency negotiates. In addition to criteria established by the agency, the agency shall consider the following factors in the selection of eligible plans:

1. Accreditation by the National Committee for Quality Assurance, the Joint Commission, or another nationally recognized accrediting body.

2. Experience serving similar populations, including the organization's record in achieving specific quality standards with similar populations.

3. Availability and accessibility of primary care and specialty physicians in the provider network.

4. Establishment of community partnerships with providers that create opportunities for reinvestment in community-based services.

5. Organization commitment to quality improvement and documentation of achievements in specific quality improvement projects, including active involvement by organization leadership.

6. Provision of additional benefits, particularly dental care and disease management, and other initiatives that improve health outcomes.

7. Evidence that an eligible plan has obtained signed contracts or written agreements or signed contracts or has made substantial progress in establishing relationships with providers before the plan ~~submitting~~ submitting a response.

8. Comments submitted in writing by any enrolled Medicaid provider relating to a specifically identified plan participating in the procurement in the same region as the submitting provider.

9. Documentation of policies and procedures for preventing fraud and abuse.

10. The business relationship an eligible plan has with any other eligible plan that responds to the invitation to negotiate.

~~(d) For the first year of the first contract term, the agency shall negotiate capitation rates or fee for service payments with each plan in order to guarantee aggregate savings of at least 5 percent.~~

~~1. For prepaid plans, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates that the agency paid managed care plans for similar populations in the same areas in the prior year. In regions containing no prepaid plans in the prior year, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates established and certified for those regions in the prior year.~~

~~2. For provider service networks operating on a fee for service basis, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates that the agency paid on a fee for service basis for the same services in the prior year.~~

~~(e) To ensure managed care plan participation in Regions 1 and 2, the agency shall award an additional contract to each plan with a contract award in Region 1 or Region 2. Such contract shall be in any other region in which the plan submitted a responsive bid and negotiates a rate acceptable to the agency. If a plan that is awarded an additional contract pursuant to this paragraph is subject to penalties pursuant to s. 409.967(2)(i) for activities in Region 1 or Region 2, the additional contract is automatically terminated 180 days after the imposition of the penalties. the plan must reimburse the agency for the cost of enrollment changes and other transition activities.~~

(4) ADMINISTRATIVE CHALLENGE.—Any eligible plan that participates in an invitation to negotiate in more than one region and is selected in at least one region may not begin serving Medicaid recipients in any region for which it was selected until all administrative challenges to procurements required by this section to which the eligible plan is a party have been finalized. If the number of plans selected is less than the maximum amount of plans permitted in the region, the agency may contract with other selected plans in the region not participating in the administrative challenge before resolution of the administrative challenge. For purposes of this subsection, an administrative challenge is finalized if an order granting voluntary dismissal with prejudice has been entered by any court established under Article V of the State Constitution or by the Division of Administrative Hearings, a final order has been entered into by the agency and the deadline for appeal has expired, a final order has been entered by the First District Court of Appeal and the time to seek any available review by the Florida Supreme Court has expired, or a final order has been entered by the Florida Supreme Court and a warrant has been issued.

Section 6. Paragraphs (c) and (f) of subsection (2) and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 409.967, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (k) is added to subsection (3) of that section, to read:

409.967 Managed care plan accountability.—

(2) The agency shall establish such contract requirements as are necessary for the operation of the statewide managed care program. In addition to any other provisions the agency may deem necessary, the contract must require:

(c) Access.—

1. The agency shall establish specific standards for the number, type, and regional distribution of providers in managed care plan networks to ensure access to care for both adults and children. Each plan must maintain a regionwide network of providers in sufficient numbers to meet the access standards for specific medical services for all recipients enrolled in the plan. The exclusive use of mail-order pharmacies may not be sufficient to meet network access standards. Consistent with the standards established by the agency, provider networks may include providers located outside the region. ~~A plan may contract with a new hospital facility before the date the hospital becomes operational if the hospital has commenced construction, will be licensed and operational by January 1, 2013, and a final order has issued in any civil or administrative challenge.~~ Each plan shall establish and maintain an accurate and complete electronic database of contracted providers, including information about licensure or registration, locations and hours of operation, specialty credentials and other certifications, specific performance indicators, and such other information as the agency deems necessary. The database must be available online to both the agency and the public and have the capability to compare the availability of providers to network adequacy standards and to accept and display feedback from each provider's patients. Each plan shall submit quarterly reports to the agency identifying the number of enrollees assigned to each primary care provider. The agency shall conduct, or contract for, systematic and continuous testing of the provider network databases maintained by each plan to confirm accuracy, confirm that behavioral health providers are accepting enrollees, and confirm that enrollees have timely access to all covered benefits behavioral health services.

2. Each managed care plan must publish any prescribed drug formulary or preferred drug list on the plan's website in a manner that is accessible to and searchable by enrollees and providers. The plan must update the list within 24 hours after making a change. Each plan must ensure that the prior authorization process for prescribed drugs is readily accessible to health care providers, including posting appropriate contact information on its website and providing timely responses to providers. For Medicaid recipients diagnosed with hemophilia who have been prescribed anti-hemophilic-factor replacement products, the agency shall provide for those products and hemophilia overlay services through the agency's hemophilia disease management program.

3. Managed care plans, and their fiscal agents or intermediaries, must accept prior authorization requests for any service electronically.

4. Managed care plans serving children in the care and custody of the Department of Children and Families must maintain complete medical, dental, and behavioral health encounter information and participate in making such information available to the department or the applicable contracted community-based care lead agency for use in providing comprehensive and coordinated case management. The agency and the department shall establish an interagency agreement to provide guidance for the format, confidentiality, recipient, scope, and method of information to be made available and the deadlines for submission of the data. The scope of information available to the department shall be the data that managed care plans are required to submit to the agency. The agency shall determine the plan's compliance with standards for access to medical, dental, and behavioral health services; the use of medications; and followup on all medically necessary services recommended as a result of early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment.

(f) Continuous improvement.—The agency shall establish specific performance standards and expected milestones or timelines for improving performance over the term of the contract.

1. Each managed care plan shall establish an internal health care quality improvement system, including enrollee satisfaction and disenrollment surveys. The quality improvement system must include incentives and disincentives for network providers.

2. Each plan must collect and report the Health Plan Employer Data and Information Set (HEDIS) measures, as specified by the agency. These measures must be published on the plan's website in a manner that allows recipients to reliably compare the performance of plans. The agency shall use the HEDIS measures as a tool to monitor plan performance.

3. Each managed care plan must be accredited by the National Committee for Quality Assurance, the Joint Commission, or another nationally recognized accrediting body, or have initiated the accreditation process, within 1 year after the contract is executed. For any plan not accredited within 18 months after executing the contract, the agency shall suspend automatic assignment under s. 409.977 and 409.984.

~~4. By the end of the fourth year of the first contract term, the agency shall issue a request for information to determine whether cost savings could be achieved by contracting for plan oversight and monitoring, including analysis of encounter data, assessment of performance measures, and compliance with other contractual requirements.~~

(3) ACHIEVED SAVINGS REBATE.—

(k) Plans that contribute funds pursuant to paragraph (4)(b) or paragraph (4)(c) may reduce the rebate owed by an amount equal to the amount of the contribution.

(4) MEDICAL LOSS RATIO.—If required as a condition of a waiver, the agency may calculate a medical loss ratio for managed care plans. The calculation shall use uniform financial data collected from all plans and shall be computed for each plan on a statewide basis. The method for calculating the medical loss ratio shall meet the following criteria:

(b) Funds provided by plans to ~~graduate medical~~ education institutions to underwrite the costs of residency positions in graduate medical education programs, undergraduate and graduate student positions in nursing education programs, or student positions in any degree or technical program deemed a critical shortage area by the agency shall be classified as medical expenditures, provided that the funding is sufficient to sustain the positions for the number of years necessary to complete the ~~program residency~~ requirements and the residency or student positions funded by the plans are actively involved in the institution's provision of care to Medicaid and uninsured patients.

Section 7. Subsection (2) of section 409.968, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.968 Managed care plan payments.—

(2) Provider service networks ~~must may~~ be prepaid plans and receive per-member, per-month payments negotiated pursuant to the procurement process described in s. 409.966. ~~Provider service networks that choose not to be prepaid plans shall receive fee for service rates with a shared savings settlement. The fee for service option shall be available to a provider service network only for the first 2 years of its operation. The agency shall annually conduct cost reconciliations to determine the amount of cost savings achieved by fee for service provider service networks for the dates of service within the period being reconciled. Only payments for covered services for dates of service within the reconciliation period and paid within 6 months after the last date of service in the reconciliation period must be included. The agency shall perform the necessary adjustments for the inclusion of claims incurred but not reported within the reconciliation period for claims that could be received and paid by the agency after the 6-month claims processing time lag. The agency shall provide the results of the reconciliations to the fee for service provider service networks within 45 days after the end of the reconciliation period. The fee for service provider service networks shall review and provide written comments or a letter of concurrence to the agency within 45 days after receipt of the reconciliation results. This reconciliation is considered final.~~

Section 8. Subsection (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection (4) of section 409.973, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraphs (c) through (g) are added to subsection (5) of that section, to read:

409.973 Benefits.—

(3) HEALTHY BEHAVIORS.—Each plan operating in the managed medical assistance program shall establish a program to encourage and reward healthy behaviors. At a minimum, each plan must establish a medically approved ~~tobacco use smoking~~ cessation program, a medically directed weight loss program, and a medically approved alcohol or substance abuse recovery program, which shall include, at a minimum, a focus on opioid abuse recovery. Each plan must identify enrollees who ~~use tobacco smoke~~, are morbidly obese, or are diagnosed with alcohol or substance abuse in order to establish written agreements to secure the enrollees' commitment to participation in these programs.

(4) PRIMARY CARE INITIATIVE.—Each plan operating in the managed medical assistance program shall establish a program to encourage enrollees to establish a relationship with their primary care provider. Each plan shall:

(b) If the enrollee was not a Medicaid recipient before enrollment in the plan, assist the enrollee in scheduling an appointment with the primary care provider. If possible the appointment should be made within 30 days after enrollment in the plan. ~~For enrollees who become eligible for Medicaid between January 1, 2014, and December 31, 2015, the appointment should be scheduled within 6 months after enrollment in the plan.~~

(5) PROVISION OF DENTAL SERVICES.—

(c) Given the effect of oral health on overall health, each prepaid dental plan shall establish a program to improve dental health outcomes and increase utilization of preventive dental services. The agency shall establish performance and outcome measures, regularly assess plan performance, and publish data on such measures. Program components shall, at a minimum, include:

1. An education program to inform enrollees of the connection between oral health and overall health and preventive steps to improve dental health.

2. An enrollee incentive program designed to increase utilization of preventive dental services.

(d) The agency shall annually review encounter data and claims expenditures in the Statewide Medicaid Managed Care program for emergency department visits relating to nontraumatic and ambulatory sensitive dental conditions and reconcile service expenditures for these visits against capitation payments made to the prepaid dental plans.

(e) By October 1, 2022, each prepaid dental plan and each nondental managed care plan shall enter into a mutual coordination of benefits agreement that includes data sharing requirements and coordination protocols to support the provision of dental services and reduction of potentially preventable events.

(f) Beginning July 2022, each prepaid dental plan and each nondental managed care plan must meet quarterly to collaborate on specific goals to improve quality of care and enrollee health. Plans shall mutually establish, in writing, shared goals, specific and measurable objectives, and complementary strategies pertinent to state Medicaid priorities. The goals, objectives, and strategies must address improving access and appropriate utilization, maximizing efficiency by integrating health and dental care, improving patient experiences, attending to unmet social needs that affect preventive care utilization and early disease detection, and identifying and reducing disparities.

(g) The agency shall establish provider network requirements for dental plans. In addition, the agency must establish provider network requirements sufficient to ensure access to medically necessary sedation services, including, but not limited to, network participation by dentists credentialed to provide services in inpatient and outpatient settings and by inpatient and outpatient facilities and anesthesia service providers. The agency shall assess plan compliance with network adequacy requirements at least quarterly and shall enforce such requirements in a timely manner.

Section 9. Subsections (1) and (2) of section 409.974, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

~~(b) The agency shall procure two plans for Region 2. At least one plan shall be a provider service network if any provider service networks submit a responsive bid.~~

~~(c) The agency shall procure at least three plans and up to five plans for Region 3. At least one plan must be a provider service network if any provider service networks submit a responsive bid.~~

~~(d) The agency shall procure at least three plans and up to five plans for Region 4. At least one plan must be a provider service network if any provider service networks submit a responsive bid.~~

~~(f) The agency shall procure at least four plans and up to seven plans for Region 6. At least one plan must be a provider service network if any provider service networks submit a responsive bid.~~

~~(g) The agency shall procure at least three plans and up to six plans for Region 7. At least one plan must be a provider service network if any provider service networks submit a responsive bid.~~

If no provider service network submits a responsive bid, the agency shall procure no more than one fewer less than the maximum number of eligible plans permitted in that region. Within 12 months after the initial invitation to negotiate, the agency shall attempt to procure a provider service network. The agency shall notice another invitation to negotiate only with provider service networks in those regions where no provider service network has been selected.

(2) QUALITY SELECTION CRITERIA.—In addition to the criteria established in s. 409.966, the agency shall consider evidence that an eligible plan has obtained signed contracts or written agreements or signed contracts or has made substantial progress in establishing relationships with providers before the plan submits ~~submitting~~ a response. The agency shall evaluate and give special weight to evidence of signed contracts with essential providers as defined by the agency pursuant to s. 409.975(1). ~~The agency shall exercise a preference for plans with a provider network in which over 10 percent of the providers use electronic health records, as defined in s. 408.051.~~ When all other factors are equal, the agency shall consider whether the organization has a contract to provide managed long-term care services in the same region and shall exercise a preference for such plans.

Section 10. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) of section 409.975, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

409.975 Managed care plan accountability.—In addition to the requirements of s. 409.967, plans and providers participating in the managed medical assistance program shall comply with the requirements of this section.

(1) PROVIDER NETWORKS.—Managed care plans must develop and maintain provider networks that meet the medical needs of their enrollees in accordance with standards established pursuant to s. 409.967(2)(c). Except as provided in this section, managed care plans may limit the providers in their networks based on credentials, quality indicators, and price.

(a) Plans must include all providers in the region that are classified by the agency as essential Medicaid providers, unless the agency approves, in writing, an alternative arrangement for securing the types of services offered by the essential providers. Providers are essential for serving Medicaid enrollees if they offer services that are not available from any other provider within a reasonable access standard, or if they provided a substantial share of the total units of a particular service used by Medicaid patients within the region during the last 3 years and the combined capacity of other service providers in the region is insufficient to meet the total needs of the Medicaid patients. The agency may not classify physicians and other practitioners as essential providers.

1. The agency, at a minimum, shall determine which providers in the following categories are essential Medicaid providers:

~~a.1.~~ Federally qualified health centers.

~~b.2.~~ Statutory teaching hospitals as defined in s. 408.07(46).

~~c.3.~~ Hospitals that are trauma centers as defined in s. 395.4001(15).

~~d.4.~~ Hospitals located at least 25 miles from any other hospital with similar services.

2. Regional perinatal intensive care centers as defined in s. 383.16(2) are regional resources and essential providers for all managed care plans in the applicable region. All managed care plans in a region must have a network contract with each regional perinatal intensive care center in the region.

3. Managed care plans that have not contracted with all essential providers in the region as of the first date of recipient enrollment, or with whom an essential provider has terminated its contract, must negotiate in good faith with such essential providers for 1 year or until an agreement is reached, whichever is first. Payments for services rendered by a nonparticipating essential provider shall be made at the applicable Medicaid rate as of the first day of the contract between the agency and the plan. A rate schedule for all essential providers shall be attached to the contract between the agency and the plan. After 1 year, managed care plans that are unable to contract with essential providers shall notify the agency and propose an alternative arrangement for securing the essential services for Medicaid enrollees. The arrangement must rely on contracts with other participating providers, regardless of whether those providers are located within the same region as the nonparticipating essential service provider. If the alternative arrangement is approved by the agency, payments to nonparticipating essential providers after the date of the agency's approval shall equal 90 percent of the applicable Medicaid rate. Except for payment for emergency services, if the alternative arrangement is not approved by the agency, payment to nonparticipating essential providers shall equal 110 percent of the applicable Medicaid rate.

The agency shall assess plan compliance with this paragraph at least quarterly. No later than January 1 of each year, the agency must impose contract enforcement financial sanctions on, or assess contract damages against, a plan without a network contract as required by this subsection with an essential provider subject to the requirements of s. 409.908(26).

(b) Certain providers are statewide resources and essential providers for all managed care plans in all regions. All managed care plans must include these essential providers in their networks.

1. Statewide essential providers include:

~~a.1.~~ Faculty plans of Florida medical schools.

~~2. Regional perinatal intensive care centers as defined in s. 383.16(2).~~

~~b.3.~~ Hospitals licensed as specialty children's hospitals as defined in s. 395.002(28).

~~c. Florida cancer hospitals that meet the criteria in 42 U.S.C. s. 1395ww(d)(1)(B)(v).~~

~~4. Accredited and integrated systems serving medically complex children which comprise separately licensed, but commonly owned, health care providers delivering at least the following services: medical group home, in home and outpatient nursing care and therapies, pharmacy services, durable medical equipment, and Prescribed Pediatric Extended Care.~~

2. Managed care plans that have not contracted with all statewide essential providers in all regions as of the first date of recipient enrollment must continue to negotiate in good faith. Payments to physicians on the faculty of nonparticipating Florida medical schools shall be made at the applicable Medicaid rate. Payments for services rendered by regional perinatal intensive care centers shall be made at the applicable Medicaid rate as of the first day of the contract between the agency and the plan. Except for payments for emergency services, payments to nonparticipating specialty children's hospitals and payments to nonparticipating Florida cancer hospitals that meet the criteria in 42 U.S.C. s. 1395ww(d)(1)(B)(v) shall equal the highest rate established by contract between that provider and any other Medicaid managed care plan.

The agency shall assess plan compliance with this paragraph at least quarterly. No later than January 1 of each year, the agency must impose contract enforcement financial sanctions on, or assess contract damages against, a plan without a network contract as required by this subsection with an essential provider subject to the requirements of s. 409.908(26).

Section 11. Subsections (1), (4), and (5) of section 409.977, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

409.977 Enrollment.—

(1) The agency shall automatically enroll into a managed care plan those Medicaid recipients who do not voluntarily choose a plan pursuant to s. 409.969. The agency shall automatically enroll recipients in plans that meet or exceed the performance or quality standards established pursuant to s. 409.967 and may not automatically enroll recipients in a plan that is deficient in those performance or quality standards. When a specialty plan is available to accommodate a specific condition or diagnosis of a recipient, the agency shall assign the recipient to that plan. The agency may not automatically enroll recipients in a managed medical assistance plan that has more than 50 percent of the enrollees in the region. In the first year of the first contract term only, if a recipient was previously enrolled in a plan that is still available in the region, the agency shall automatically enroll the recipient in that plan unless an applicable specialty plan is available. Except as otherwise provided in this part, the agency may not engage in practices that are designed to favor one managed care plan over another.

(4) The agency shall develop a process to enable a recipient with access to employer-sponsored health care coverage to opt out of all managed care plans and to use Medicaid financial assistance to pay for the recipient's share of the cost in such employer-sponsored coverage. ~~Contingent upon federal approval,~~ The agency shall also enable recipients with access to other insurance or related products providing access to health care services created pursuant to state law, including any product available under the Florida Health Choices Program, or any health exchange, to opt out. The amount of financial assistance provided for each recipient may not exceed the amount of the Medicaid premium that would have been paid to a managed care plan for that recipient. The agency shall ~~seek federal approval to~~ require Medicaid recipients with access to employer-sponsored health care coverage to enroll in that coverage and use Medicaid financial assistance to pay for the recipient's share of the cost for such coverage. The amount of financial assistance provided for each recipient may not exceed the amount of the Medicaid premium that would have been paid to a managed care plan for that recipient.

(5) Specialty plans serving children in the care and custody of the department may serve such children as long as they remain in care, including those remaining in extended foster care pursuant to s. 39.6251, or are in subsidized adoption and continue to be eligible for Medicaid pursuant to s. 409.903, or are receiving guardianship assistance payments and continue to be eligible for Medicaid pursuant to s. 409.903.

Any optional service that is provided shall be provided only when medically necessary and in accordance with state and federal law. Optional services rendered by providers in mobile units to Medicaid recipients may be restricted or prohibited by the agency. If necessary to safeguard the state's systems of providing services to elderly and disabled persons and subject to the notice and review provisions of s. 216.177, the Governor may direct the Agency for Health Care Administration to amend the Medicaid state plan to delete the optional Medicaid service known as "Intermediate Care Facilities for the Developmentally Disabled." Senate Amendment 1 (967698) (with title amendment) to House Amendment 1 (739505)—Delete lines 5-986 and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 409.912, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.912 Cost-effective purchasing of health care.—The agency shall purchase goods and services for Medicaid recipients in the most cost-effective manner consistent with the delivery of quality medical care. To ensure that medical services are effectively utilized, the agency may, in any case, require a confirmation or second physician's opinion of the correct diagnosis for purposes of authorizing future services under the Medicaid program. This section does not restrict access to emergency services or poststabilization care services as defined in 42 C.F.R. s. 438.114. Such confirmation or second opinion shall be rendered in a manner approved by the agency. The agency shall maximize the use of prepaid per capita and prepaid aggregate fixed-sum basis services when appropriate and other alternative service delivery and reimbursement methodologies, including competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, designed to facilitate the cost-effective purchase of a case-managed continuum of care. The agency shall also require providers to minimize the exposure of recipients to the need for acute inpatient, custodial, and other institutional care and the inappropriate or unnecessary use of high-cost services. The agency shall contract with a vendor to monitor and evaluate the clinical practice patterns of providers in order to identify trends that are outside the normal practice patterns of a provider's professional peers or the national guidelines of a provider's professional association. The vendor must be able to provide information and counseling to a provider whose practice patterns are outside the norms, in consultation with the agency, to improve patient care and reduce inappropriate utilization. The agency may mandate prior authorization, drug therapy management, or disease management participation for certain populations of Medicaid beneficiaries, certain drug classes, or particular drugs to prevent fraud, abuse, overuse, and possible dangerous drug interactions. The Pharmaceutical and Therapeutics Committee shall make recommendations to the agency on drugs for which prior authorization is required. The agency shall inform the Pharmaceutical and Therapeutics Committee of its decisions regarding drugs subject to prior authorization. The agency is authorized to limit the entities it contracts with or enrolls as Medicaid providers by developing a provider network through provider credentialing. The agency may competitively bid single-source-provider contracts if procurement of goods or services results in demonstrated cost savings to the state without limiting access to care. The agency may limit its network based on the assessment of beneficiary access to care, provider availability, provider quality standards, time and distance standards for access to care, the cultural competence of the provider network, demographic characteristics of Medicaid beneficiaries, practice and provider-to-beneficiary standards, appointment wait times, beneficiary use of services, provider turnover, provider profiling, provider licensure history, previous program integrity investigations and findings, peer review, provider Medicaid policy and billing compliance records, clinical and medical record audits, and other factors. Providers are not entitled to enrollment in the Medicaid provider network. The agency shall determine instances in which allowing Medicaid beneficiaries to purchase durable medical equipment and other goods is less expensive to the Medicaid program than long-term rental of the equipment or goods. The agency may establish rules to facilitate purchases in lieu of long-term rentals in order to protect against fraud and abuse in the Medicaid program as defined in s. 409.913. The agency may seek federal waivers necessary to administer these policies.

(1) The agency may contract with a provider service network, which ~~must be reimbursed on a fee-for-service or prepaid basis. Prepaid Provider service networks shall receive per-member, per-month payments. A provider service network that does not choose to be a prepaid plan shall receive fee for service rates with a shared savings settlement. The fee for service option shall be available to a provider service network only for the first 2 years of the plan's operation or until the contract year beginning September 1, 2014, whichever is later. The agency shall annually conduct cost reconciliations to determine the amount of cost savings achieved by fee for service provider service networks for the dates of service in the period being reconciled. Only payments for covered services for dates of service within the reconciliation period and paid within 6 months after the last date of service in the reconciliation period shall be included. The agency shall perform the necessary adjustments for the inclusion of claims incurred but not reported within the reconciliation for claims that could be received and paid by the agency after the 6 month claims processing time lag. The agency shall provide the results of the reconciliations to the fee for service provider service networks within 45 days after the end of the reconciliation period. The fee for service provider service networks shall review and provide written comments or a letter of concurrence to the agency within 45 days after receipt of the reconciliation results. This reconciliation shall be considered final.~~ services by the physicians, by other health professionals, or through the institutions. The health care providers must have a controlling interest in the governing body of the provider service network organization.

~~(a) A provider service network which is reimbursed by the agency on a prepaid basis shall be exempt from parts I and III of chapter 641 but must comply with the solvency requirements in s. 641.2261(2) and meet appropriate financial reserve, quality assurance, and patient rights requirements as established by the agency.~~

~~(b) A provider service network is a network established or organized and operated by a health care provider, or group of affiliated health care providers, which provides a substantial proportion of the health care items and services under a contract directly through the provider or affiliated group of providers and may make arrangements with physicians or other health care professionals, health care institutions, or any combination of such individuals or institutions to assume all or part of the financial risk on a prospective basis for the provision of basic health~~

~~(a) A provider service network is exempt from parts I and III of chapter 641 but must comply with the solvency requirements in s. 641.2261(2) and meet appropriate financial reserve, quality assurance, and patient rights requirements as established by the agency.~~

~~(b) This subsection does not authorize the agency to contract with a provider service network outside of the procurement process described in s. 409.966.~~

Section 2. ~~Section 409.9124, Florida Statutes, is repealed.~~

Section 3. Section 409.964, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.964 Managed care program; state plan; waivers.—The Medicaid program is established as a statewide, integrated managed care program for all covered services, including long-term care services. The agency shall apply for and implement state plan amendments or waivers of applicable federal laws and regulations necessary to implement the program. ~~Before seeking a waiver, the agency shall provide public notice and the opportunity for public comment and include public feedback in the waiver application. The agency shall hold one public meeting in each of the regions described in s. 409.966(2), and the time period for public comment for each region shall end no sooner than 30 days after the completion of the public meeting in that region.~~

Section 4. Subsections (2), (3), and (4) of section 409.966, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

409.966 Eligible plans; selection.—

(2) ELIGIBLE PLAN SELECTION.—The agency shall select a limited number of eligible plans to participate in the Medicaid program using invitations to negotiate in accordance with s. 287.057(1)(c). At least 90 days before issuing an invitation to negotiate, the agency shall compile and publish a databook consisting of a comprehensive set of utilization and spending data ~~consistent with actuarial rate-setting practices and standards for the 3 most recent contract years consistent with the rate setting periods for all Medicaid recipients by region or county.~~ The source of the data in the ~~databook report~~ must include, ~~at a minimum, the 24 most recent months of both historic fee for service claims and~~ validated data from the Medicaid Encounter Data System, ~~and the databook must. The report must be available in electronic form and delineate utilization use by age, gender, eligibility group, geographic area, and aggregate clinical risk score. The statewide managed care program includes~~ Separate and simultaneous procurements shall be conducted in each of the following regions:

~~(a) Region A 1, which consists of Bay, Calhoun, Escambia, Okaloosa, Santa Rosa, and Walton Counties.~~

~~(b) Region 2, which consists of Bay, Calhoun, Franklin, Gadsden, Gulf, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty, Madison, Okaloosa, Santa Rosa, Taylor, Wakulla, Walton, and Washington Counties.~~

~~(b)(c) Region B 3, which consists of Alachua, Baker, Bradford, Citrus, Clay, Columbia, Dixie, Duval, Flagler, Gilchrist, Hamilton, Hernando, Lafayette, Lake, Levy, Marion, Nassau, Putnam, St. Johns, Sumter, Suwannee, and Union Counties.~~

~~(d) Region 4, which consists of Baker, Clay, Duval, Flagler, Nassau, St. Johns, and Volusia Counties.~~

~~(c)(e) Region C 5, which consists of Pasco and Pinellas Counties.~~

~~(d)(f) Region D 6, which consists of Hardee, Highlands, Hillsborough, Manatee, and Polk Counties.~~

~~(e)(g) Region E 7, which consists of Brevard, Orange, Osceola, and Seminole Counties.~~

~~(f)(h) Region F 8, which consists of Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto, Glades, Hendry, Lee, and Sarasota Counties.~~

~~(g)(i) Region G 9, which consists of Indian River, Martin, Okeechobee, Palm Beach, and St. Lucie Counties.~~

(h)(j) Region H 10, which consists of Broward County.

(i)(k) Region I 11, which consists of Miami-Dade and Monroe Counties.

(3) QUALITY SELECTION CRITERIA.—

(a) The invitation to negotiate must specify the criteria and the relative weight of the criteria that will be used for determining the acceptability of the reply and guiding the selection of the organizations with which the agency negotiates. In addition to criteria established by the agency, the agency shall consider the following factors in the selection of eligible plans:

1. Accreditation by the National Committee for Quality Assurance, the Joint Commission, or another nationally recognized accrediting body.
2. Experience serving similar populations, including the organization's record in achieving specific quality standards with similar populations.
3. Availability and accessibility of primary care and specialty physicians in the provider network.
4. Establishment of community partnerships with providers that create opportunities for reinvestment in community-based services.
5. Organization commitment to quality improvement and documentation of achievements in specific quality improvement projects, including active involvement by organization leadership.
6. Provision of additional benefits, particularly dental care and disease management, and other initiatives that improve health outcomes.
7. Evidence that an eligible plan has obtained signed contracts or written agreements or signed contracts or has made substantial progress in establishing relationships with providers before the plan submitting a response.
8. Comments submitted in writing by any enrolled Medicaid provider relating to a specifically identified plan participating in the procurement in the same region as the submitting provider.
9. Documentation of policies and procedures for preventing fraud and abuse.
10. The business relationship an eligible plan has with any other eligible plan that responds to the invitation to negotiate.

(b) An eligible plan must disclose any business relationship it has with any other eligible plan that responds to the invitation to negotiate. The agency may not select plans in the same region for the same managed care program that have a business relationship with each other. Failure to disclose any business relationship shall result in disqualification from participation in any region for the first full contract period after the discovery of the business relationship by the agency. For the purpose of this section, "business relationship" means an ownership or controlling interest, an affiliate or subsidiary relationship, a common parent, or any mutual interest in any limited partnership, limited liability partnership, limited liability company, or other entity or business association, including all wholly or partially owned subsidiaries, majority-owned subsidiaries, parent companies, or affiliates of such entities, business associations, or other enterprises, that exists for the purpose of making a profit.

(c) After negotiations are conducted, the agency shall select the eligible plans that are determined to be responsive and provide the best value to the state. Preference shall be given to plans that:

1. Have signed contracts with primary and specialty physicians in sufficient numbers to meet the specific standards established pursuant to s. 409.967(2)(c).
2. Have well-defined programs for recognizing patient-centered medical homes and providing for increased compensation for recognized medical homes, as defined by the plan.

3. Are organizations that are based in and perform operational functions in this state, in-house or through contractual arrangements, by staff located in this state. Using a tiered approach, the highest number of points shall be awarded to a plan that has all or substantially all of its operational functions performed in the state. The second highest number of points shall be awarded to a plan that has a majority of its operational functions performed in the state. The agency may establish a third tier; however, preference points may not be awarded to plans that perform only community outreach, medical director functions, and state administrative functions in the state. For purposes of this subparagraph, operational functions include corporate headquarters, claims processing, member services, provider relations, utilization and prior authorization, case management, disease and quality functions, and finance and administration. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "corporate headquarters" means the principal office of the organization, which may not be a subsidiary, directly or indirectly through one or more subsidiaries of, or a joint venture with, any other entity whose principal office is not located in the state.

4. Have contracts or other arrangements for cancer disease management programs that have a proven record of clinical efficiencies and cost savings.
5. Have contracts or other arrangements for diabetes disease management programs that have a proven record of clinical efficiencies and cost savings.
6. Have a claims payment process that ensures that claims that are not contested or denied will be promptly paid pursuant to s. 641.3155.

~~(d) For the first year of the first contract term, the agency shall negotiate capitation rates or fee for service payments with each plan in order to guarantee aggregate savings of at least 5 percent.~~

~~1. For prepaid plans, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates that the agency paid managed care plans for similar populations in the same areas in the prior year. In regions containing no prepaid plans in the prior year, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates established and certified for those regions in the prior year.~~

~~2. For provider service networks operating on a fee for service basis, determination of the amount of savings shall be calculated by comparison to the Medicaid rates that the agency paid on a fee for service basis for the same services in the prior year.~~

~~(e) To ensure managed care plan participation in Regions 1 and 2, the agency shall award an additional contract to each plan with a contract award in Region 1 or Region 2. Such contract shall be in any other region in which the plan submitted a responsive bid and negotiates a rate acceptable to the agency. If a plan that is awarded an additional contract pursuant to this paragraph is subject to penalties pursuant to s. 409.967(2)(i) for activities in Region 1 or Region 2, the additional contract is automatically terminated 180 days after the imposition of the penalties. The plan must reimburse the agency for the cost of enrollment changes and other transition activities.~~

~~(d)(f) The agency may not execute contracts with managed care plans at payment rates not supported by the General Appropriations Act.~~

(4) ADMINISTRATIVE CHALLENGE.—Any eligible plan that participates in an invitation to negotiate ~~in more than one region and is selected in at least one region~~ may not begin serving Medicaid recipients in any region for which it was selected until all administrative challenges to procurements required by this section to which the eligible plan is a party have been finalized. If the number of plans selected is less than the maximum amount of plans permitted in the region, the agency may contract with other selected plans in the region not participating in the administrative challenge before resolution of the administrative challenge. For purposes of this subsection, an administrative challenge is finalized if an order granting voluntary dismissal with prejudice has been entered by any court established under Article V of the State Constitution or by the Division of Administrative Hearings, a final order has been entered into by the agency and the deadline for appeal has expired, a final order has been entered by the First District Court of Appeal and the time to seek any available review by the Florida Supreme Court has expired, or a final order has been entered by the Florida Supreme Court and a warrant has been issued.

Section 5. Paragraphs (c) and (f) of subsection (2) of section 409.967, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

409.967 Managed care plan accountability.—

(2) The agency shall establish such contract requirements as are necessary for the operation of the statewide managed care program. In addition to any other provisions the agency may deem necessary, the contract must require:

(c) Access.—

1. The agency shall establish specific standards for the number, type, and regional distribution of providers in managed care plan networks to ensure access to care for both adults and children. Each plan must maintain a regionwide network of providers in sufficient numbers to meet the access standards for specific medical services for all recipients enrolled in the plan. The exclusive use of mail-order pharmacies may not be sufficient to meet network access standards. Consistent with the standards established by the agency, provider networks may include providers located outside the region. ~~A plan may contract with a new hospital facility before the date the hospital becomes operational if the hospital has commenced construction, will be licensed and operational by January 1, 2013, and a final order has issued in any civil or administrative challenge.~~ Each plan shall establish and maintain an accurate and complete electronic database of contracted providers, including information about licensure or registration, locations and hours of operation, specialty credentials and other certifications, specific performance indicators, and such other information as the agency deems necessary. The database must be available online to both the agency and the public and have the capability to compare the availability of providers to network adequacy standards and to accept and display feedback from each provider's patients. Each plan shall submit quarterly reports to the agency identifying the number of enrollees assigned to each primary care provider. The agency shall conduct, or contract for, systematic and continuous testing of the provider network databases maintained by each plan to confirm accuracy, confirm that behavioral health providers are accepting enrollees, and confirm that enrollees have access to behavioral health services.

2. Each managed care plan must publish any prescribed drug formulary or preferred drug list on the plan's website in a manner that is accessible to and searchable by enrollees and providers. The plan must update the list within 24 hours after making a change. Each plan must ensure that the prior authorization process for prescribed drugs is readily accessible to health care providers, including posting appropriate contact information on its website and providing timely responses to providers. For Medicaid recipients diagnosed with hemophilia who have been prescribed anti-hemophilic-factor replacement products, the agency shall provide for those products and hemophilia overlay services through the agency's hemophilia disease management program.

3. Managed care plans, and their fiscal agents or intermediaries, must accept prior authorization requests for any service electronically.

4. Managed care plans serving children in the care and custody of the Department of Children and Families must maintain complete medical, dental, and behavioral health encounter information and participate in making such information available to the department or the applicable contracted community-based care lead agency for use in providing comprehensive and coordinated case management. The agency and the department shall establish an interagency agreement to provide guidance for the format, confidentiality, recipient, scope, and method of information to be made available and the deadlines for submission of the data. The scope of information available to the department shall be the data that managed care plans are required to submit to the agency. The agency shall determine the plan's compliance with standards for access to medical, dental, and behavioral health services; the use of medications; and followup on all medically necessary services recommended as a result of early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment.

(f) Continuous improvement.—The agency shall establish specific performance standards and expected milestones or timelines for improving performance over the term of the contract.

1. Each managed care plan shall establish an internal health care quality improvement system, including enrollee satisfaction and disenrollment surveys. The quality improvement system must include incentives and disincentives for network providers.

2. Each plan must collect and report the Health Plan Employer Data and Information Set (HEDIS) measures, as specified by the agency. These measures must be published on the plan's website in a manner that allows recipients to reliably compare the performance of plans. The agency shall use the HEDIS measures as a tool to monitor plan performance.

3. Each managed care plan must be accredited by the National Committee for Quality Assurance, the Joint Commission, or another nationally recognized accrediting body, or have initiated the accreditation process, within 1 year after the contract is executed. For any plan not accredited within 18 months after executing the contract, the agency shall suspend automatic assignment under s. 409.977 and 409.984.

~~4. By the end of the fourth year of the first contract term, the agency shall issue a request for information to determine whether cost savings could be achieved by contracting for plan oversight and monitoring, including analysis of encounter data, assessment of performance measures, and compliance with other contractual requirements.~~

Section 6. Subsection (2) of section 409.968, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

Section 9. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 409.975, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.975 Managed care plan accountability.—In addition to the requirements of s. 409.967, plans and providers participating in the managed medical assistance program shall comply with the requirements of this section.

(1) PROVIDER NETWORKS.—Managed care plans must develop and maintain provider networks that meet the medical needs of their enrollees in accordance with standards established pursuant to s. 409.967(2)(c). Except as provided in this section, managed care plans may limit the providers in their networks based on credentials, quality indicators, and price.

(b) Certain providers are statewide resources and essential providers for all managed care plans in all regions. All managed care plans must include these essential providers in their networks. Statewide essential providers include:

1. Faculty plans of Florida medical schools.

3. Hospitals licensed as specialty children's hospitals as defined in s. 395.002(28).

Payments to physicians on the faculty of nonparticipating Florida medical schools shall be made at the applicable Medicaid rate. Payments for services rendered by regional perinatal intensive care centers shall be made at the applicable Medicaid rate as of the first day of the contract between the agency and the plan. Except for payments for emergency services, payments to nonparticipating specialty children's hospitals, and payments to nonparticipating Florida cancer hospitals that meet the criteria in 42 U.S.C. s. 1395ww(d)(1)(B)(v), shall equal the highest rate established by contract between that provider and any other Medicaid managed care plan.

The agency shall automatically enroll recipients in plans that meet or exceed the performance or quality standards established pursuant to s. 409.967 and may not automatically enroll recipients in a plan that is deficient in those performance or quality standards. When a specialty plan is available to accommodate a specific condition or diagnosis of a recipient, the agency shall assign the recipient to that plan. ~~In the first year of the first contract term only, if a recipient was previously enrolled in a plan that is still available in the region, the agency shall automatically enroll the recipient in that plan unless an applicable specialty plan is available.~~ Except as otherwise provided in this part, the agency may not engage in practices that are designed to favor one managed care plan over another.

(2) When automatically enrolling recipients in managed care plans, the agency shall automatically enroll based on the following criteria:

(a) Whether the plan has sufficient network capacity to meet the needs of the recipients.

(b) Whether the recipient has previously received services from one of the plan's primary care providers.

(c) Whether primary care providers in one plan are more geographically accessible to the recipient's residence than those in other plans.

(4) The agency shall develop a process to enable a recipient with access to employer-sponsored health care coverage to opt out of all managed care plans and to use Medicaid financial assistance to pay for the recipient's share of the cost in such employer-sponsored coverage. ~~Contingent upon federal approval,~~ The agency shall also enable recipients with access to other insurance or related products providing access to health care services created pursuant to state law, including any product available under the Florida Health Choices Program, or any health exchange, to opt out. The amount of financial assistance provided for each recipient may not exceed the amount of the Medicaid premium that would have been paid to a managed care plan for that recipient. The agency shall ~~seek federal approval to~~ require Medicaid recipients with access to employer-sponsored health care coverage to enroll in that coverage and use Medicaid financial assistance to pay for the recipient's share of the cost for such coverage. The amount of financial assistance provided for each recipient may not exceed the amount of the Medicaid premium that would have been paid to a managed care plan for that recipient.

(5) Specialty plans serving children in the care and custody of the department may serve such children as long as they remain in care, including those remaining in extended foster care pursuant to s. 39.6251, or are in subsidized adoption and continue to be eligible for Medicaid pursuant to s. 409.903, or are receiving guardianship assistance payments and continue to be eligible for Medicaid pursuant to s. 409.903.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Gary Austin, Faith Fellowship Church, Crawfordville, an employee of the Office of the Senate Sergeant at Arms:

Our Heavenly Father, we want to thank you for another session coming to a close today. Thank you for your protection over the course of the five months of long hours and many trips that were made to get us to today. May all that was done in the committees and the two chambers fulfill their intended purposes and goals, to help the people of Florida. May you continue to bless the proceedings today, as the final vote for this year's budget is made and the tying up of the loose ends is completed.

We want to lift up the people of Ukraine as they continue to defend their country. Many lives have gone into eternity in the last few weeks. May we lift up those families in prayer throughout this tragic situation. May we also reflect on the frailty of life and put our own lives in order before we take our last breath. Father, we ask that you bring this conflict to an abrupt end so there can be peace again in Ukraine. We pray that the humanitarian aid will continue to pour in and that the rebuilding process will ensue quickly upon the end of the war.

Thank you for our country, our leaders, and our people, who make this the best country in the world. We are not a perfect people, which is why we need you and your divine leadership daily. As we close the business of the Senate today, I ask that you put your hedge of protection again over all who will be traveling home to their loved ones or to other destinations. May we enjoy the time with our family and friends during the long break, before we come back again at the end of the year.

God, I ask that you bless each and every one of us as we go our separate ways today. In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senator Burgess led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2508, relating to Environmental Resources, conforms statutes to funding decisions relating to environmental resources in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023. Specifically, the amendment:

- Expands the Rural and Family Lands Protection Program within the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS) to authorize the DACS to purchase fee interests in land, in addition to less-than-fee interests in land, such as conservation easements.
- Authorizes the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to enter into agreements with public entities to expedite evaluation of environmental resource permits and Section 404 permits related to a project or activity that serves a public purpose.
- Requires the South Florida Water Management District (district) to annually certify before the release of state funds that its recommendations to the United States Army Corps of Engineers (corps) are consistent with its district programs and plans.
- Requires water shortages within the Lake Okeechobee Region to be managed pursuant to Rules 40E-21 and 40E-22 and provides that any changes to such rules may not take effect until ratified by the Legislature and presented to the Governor, or if the Legislature fails to act and present to the Governor during the next regular legislative session, such rules shall take effect after the next regular legislative session.
- Reenacts section 570.93, Florida Statutes, relating to a cost-share program for agricultural irrigation systems.
- Transfers, through a type II transfer, the William J. (Billy Joe) Rish State Park from the Agency for Persons with Disabilities to the DEP.

The amendment takes effect July 1, 2022, except as otherwise expressly provided.

Conference Committee Amendment (760174) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Effective upon this act becoming a law, paragraph (b) of subsection (8) of section 373.026, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

373.026 General powers and duties of the department.—The department, or its successor agency, shall be responsible for the administration of this chapter at the state level. However, it is the policy of the state that, to the greatest extent possible, the department may enter into interagency or interlocal agreements with any other state agency, any water management district, or any local government conducting programs related to or materially affecting the water resources of the state. All such agreements shall be subject to the provisions of s. 373.046. In addition to its other powers and duties, the department shall, to the greatest extent possible:

(b) To ensure to the greatest extent possible that project components will go forward as planned, the department shall collaborate with the South Florida Water Management District in implementing the comprehensive plan as defined in s. 373.470(2)(b), the Lake Okeechobee Watershed Protection Plan as defined in s. 373.4595(2), and the River Watershed Protection Plans as defined in s. 373.4595(2). Before any project component is submitted to Congress for authorization or receives an appropriation of state funds, the department must approve, or approve with amendments, each project component within 60 days following formal submittal of the project component to the department. Prior to the release of state funds for the implementation of the comprehensive plan, department approval shall be based upon a determination of the South Florida Water Management District’s compliance with s. 373.1501(5) and (7). Additionally, each budget amendment requesting the release of state funds for the implementation of a project component or a water control plan or regulation schedule required for the operation of the project shall be contingent on the submission of the certification required in s. 373.1501(7). Nothing in this paragraph shall constitute a final agency action challengeable under chapter 120. Once a project component is approved, the South Florida Water Management District shall provide to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives a schedule for implementing the project component, the estimated total cost of the project component, any existing federal or nonfederal credits, the estimated remaining federal and nonfederal share of costs, and an estimate of the amount of state funds that will be needed to implement the project component. All requests for an appropriation of state funds needed to implement the project component shall be submitted to the department, and such requests shall be included in the department’s annual request to the Governor. Prior to the release of state funds for the implementation of the Lake Okeechobee Watershed Protection Plan or the River Watershed Protection Plans, on an annual basis, the South Florida Water Management District shall prepare an annual work plan as part of the consolidated annual report required in s. 373.036(7). Upon a determination by the secretary of the annual work plan’s consistency with the goals and objectives of ss. 373.1501(7) and 373.4595 ~~373.4595~~, the secretary may approve the release of state funds. Any modifications to the annual work plan shall be submitted to the secretary for review and approval. Notwithstanding the requirements of this paragraph, the release of state funds for the Everglades Agricultural Area reservoir project, the Lake Okeechobee Watershed project, the C-43 West Basin Reservoir Storage project, and the Indian River Lagoon-South project is authorized.

Section 2. Effective upon becoming a law, paragraph (a) of subsection (7) of section 373.036, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(7) CONSOLIDATED WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT ANNUAL REPORT.—

(a) By March 1, annually, each water management district shall prepare and submit to the Office of Economic and Demographic Research, the department, the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives a consolidated water management district annual report on the management of water resources. In addition, copies must be provided by the water management districts to the chairs of all legislative committees having substantive or fiscal jurisdiction over the districts and the governing board of each county in the district having jurisdiction or deriving any funds for operations of the district. Copies of the consolidated annual report must be made available to the public, either in printed or electronic format. Any modifications to the annual work plan shall be submitted to the secretary for review and approval. Such approval does not constitute a final agency action challengeable under chapter 120.

Section 3. Effective upon this act becoming a law, subsection (7) of section 373.1501, Florida Statutes, is amended, subsections (10) and (11) are added to that section, and subsection (4) of that section is reenacted, to read:

373.1501 South Florida Water Management District as local sponsor.—

(4) The district is authorized to act as local sponsor of the project for those project features within the district as provided in this subsection and subject to the oversight of the department as further provided in s. 373.026. The district shall exercise the authority of the state to allocate quantities of water within its jurisdiction, including the water supply in relation to the project, and be responsible for allocating water and assigning priorities among the other water uses served by the project pursuant to state law. The district may:

(a) Act as local sponsor for all project features previously authorized by Congress.

(b) Continue data gathering, analysis, research, and design of project components, participate in preconstruction engineering and design documents for project components, and further refine the Comprehensive Plan of the restudy as a guide and framework for identifying other project components.

(c) Construct pilot projects that will assist in determining the feasibility of technology included in the Comprehensive Plan of the restudy.

(d) Act as local sponsor for project components.

(7) When developing or implementing water control plans or regulation schedules required for the operation of the project, the district shall provide recommendations to the United States Army Corps of Engineers which are consistent with all district programs and plans. The district shall certify to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, with a copy to the department, in the annual report pursuant to s. 373.036(7), that its recommendations made pursuant to this subsection during the previous 12 months are consistent with all district programs and plans. Nothing in this subsection shall constitute a final agency action challengeable under chapter 120.

(10) The Legislature finds that the Lake Okeechobee Regulation Schedule and any operating manual must balance the different interests across the system, including, but not limited to, safeguarding the water supply to society and the environment, reducing high-volume discharges to coastal estuaries, and providing for flood control.

(11) Water shortages within the Lake Okeechobee Region must be managed in accordance with Chapters 40E-21 and 40E-22, Florida Administrative Code, as such region is set forth therein. Any change to such rules may not take effect until ratified by the Legislature and presented to the Governor, or if the Legislature fails to act and present to the Governor during the next regular legislative session, such rules shall take effect after the next regular legislative session and shall otherwise comply with s. 120.541.

Section 4. Effective upon this act becoming a law, section 373.4141, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(1) GENERAL PROCESSING; TIME LIMITATIONS.—

(a) Within 30 days after receipt of an application for a permit under this part, the department or the water management district shall review the application and shall request submittal of all additional information the department or the water management district is permitted by law to require. If the applicant believes any request for additional information is not authorized by law or rule, the applicant may request a hearing pursuant to s. 120.57. Within 30 days after receipt of such additional information, the department or water management district shall review it and may request only that information needed to clarify such additional information or to answer new questions raised by or directly related to such additional information. If the applicant believes the request of the department or water management district for such additional information is not authorized by law or rule, the department or water management district, at the applicant's request, ~~must~~ proceed to process the permit application.

(b)~~(2)~~ A permit ~~must~~ ~~shall~~ be approved, denied, or subject to a notice of proposed agency action within 60 days after receipt of the original application, the last item of timely requested additional material, or the applicant's written request to begin processing the permit application.

(c)~~(3)~~ Processing of applications for permits for affordable housing projects ~~must~~ ~~shall~~ be expedited to a greater degree than other projects.

(d)~~(4)~~ A state agency or an agency of the state may not require as a condition of approval for a permit or as an item to complete a pending permit application that an applicant obtain a permit or approval from any other local, state, or federal agency without explicit statutory authority to require such permit or approval.

(2) AGREEMENTS TO PROCESS PERMITS.—

(a) The department may enter into an agreement or a contract with a public entity, which includes a utility regulated under chapter 366, to expedite the evaluation of environmental resource permits or section 404 permits related to a project or an activity that serves a public purpose. Any agreement or contract entered into pursuant to this subsection must be effective for at least 3 years.

(b) The department must ensure that any agreement or contract entered into by the department does not affect impartial decisionmaking, either substantively or procedurally. The department must use the same procedures for decisions that would otherwise be required for the evaluation of permits for similar projects or activities not carried out under an agreement or contract authorized under this subsection.

(c) The department must make all active agreements or contracts entered into under this subsection available on its website.

(d) The department may receive funds pursuant to an agreement or contract entered into under this subsection. Any funds received pursuant to this subsection must be deposited into the Grants and Donations Trust Fund and used in accordance with the agreement or contract.

Section 5. Effective January 1, 2023, section 570.71, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

570.71 Land acquisition; conservation easements and agreements.—

(1) The department, on behalf of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund, may allocate moneys to acquire land or related interests in land, such as perpetual, less-than-fee acquisitions interest in land, to enter into agricultural protection agreements, and to enter into resource conservation agreements for any of the following public purposes:

(a) Promotion and improvement of wildlife habitat.;

(b) Protection and enhancement of water bodies, aquifer recharge areas, wetlands, and watersheds.;

(c) Perpetuation of open space on lands with significant natural areas. ~~;~~

(d) Protection of agricultural lands threatened by conversion to other uses.

(e) Preservation and protection of natural and working landscapes.

(f) Preservation, protection, and enhancement of wildlife corridors and linkages.

(2) To achieve the purposes of this section, the department may accept applications for project proposals that:

(b) Purchase rural-lands-protection easements pursuant to this section.

(c) Fund resource conservation agreements pursuant to this section.

(d) Fund agricultural protection agreements pursuant to this section.

(3) Rural-lands-protection easements ~~are shall be~~ a perpetual right or interest in agricultural land which is appropriate to retain such land in predominantly its current state and to prevent the subdivision and conversion of such land into other uses. This right or interest in property shall prohibit only the following:

(a) Construction or placing of buildings, roads, billboards or other advertising, utilities, or structures, except those structures and unpaved roads necessary for the agricultural operations on the land or structures necessary for other activities allowed under the easement, and except for linear facilities described in s. 704.06(11);

(b) Subdivision of the property;

(c) Dumping or placing of trash, waste, or offensive materials; ~~and~~

(d) Activities that detrimentally affect the natural hydrology of the land or that detrimentally affect water conservation, erosion control, soil conservation, or fish or wildlife habitat, except those required for environmental restoration; federal, state, or local government regulatory programs; or best management practices.

(4) Resource conservation agreements will be contracts for services which provide annual payments to landowners for services that actively improve habitat and water restoration or conservation on their lands over and above that which is already required by law or which provide recreational opportunities. They will be for a term of not less than 5 years and not more than 10 years. Property owners will become eligible to enter into a resource conservation agreement only upon entering into a conservation easement or rural lands protection easement.

(5) Agricultural protection agreements shall be for terms of 30 years and will provide payments to landowners having significant natural areas on their land. Public access and public recreational opportunities may be negotiated at the request of the landowner.

(a) For the length of the agreement, the landowner shall agree to prohibit:

If the landowner tenders the easement for the purchase and the state does not timely exercise its right to buy the easement, the landowner shall be released from the agricultural agreement. The purchase price of the easement shall be established in the agreement and shall be based on the value of the easement at the time the agreement is entered into, plus a reasonable escalator multiplied by the number of full calendar years following the date of the commencement of the agreement. The landowner may transfer or sell the property before the expiration of the 30-year term, but only if the property is sold subject to the agreement and the buyer becomes the successor in interest to the agricultural protection agreement. Upon mutual consent of the parties, a landowner may enter into a perpetual easement at any time during the term of an agricultural protection agreement.

(6) Payment for conservation easements and rural land protection easements shall be a lump-sum payment at the time the easement is entered into.

(7) Landowners entering into an agricultural protection agreement may receive up to 50 percent of the purchase price at the time the agreement is entered into, and remaining payments on the balance shall be equal annual payments over the term of the agreement.

(8) Payments for the resource conservation agreements shall be equal annual payments over the term of the agreement.

(9) Easements purchased pursuant to this act may not:

(a) Prevent landowners from transferring the remaining fee value with the easement; or

(b) At the request of the landowner, restrict a landowner's ability to use, or authorize the use of by third parties, specific parcels of land within a conservation easement for conservation banking or recipient sites for imperiled species as defined in s. 259.105(2)(a)11. or wetlands mitigation banking pursuant to chapter 373, provided the specific parcels of land include wetland or upland areas that may be enhanced, restored, or created under the conditions of a wetlands mitigation bank permit.

(10) The department, in consultation with the Department of Environmental Protection, the water management districts, the Department of Economic Opportunity, and the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, shall adopt rules that establish an application process, a process and criteria for setting priorities for use of funds consistent with the purposes specified in subsection (1) and giving preference to ~~ranch and timber~~ lands managed using sustainable practices, an appraisal process, and a process for title review and compliance and approval of the rules by the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund.

(11) If a landowner objects to having his or her property included in any lists or maps developed to implement this act, the department ~~shall~~ remove the property from any such lists or maps upon receipt of the landowner's written request to do so.

(12) The department may use appropriated funds from the following sources to implement this section:

(a) State funds;

(b) Federal funds;

(c) Other governmental entities;

(d) Nongovernmental organizations; or

(e) Private individuals.

Any such funds provided, other than from the Land Acquisition Trust Fund, shall be deposited into the Incidental Trust Fund within the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and used for the purposes of this section, including administrative and operating expenses related to appraisals, mapping, title process, personnel, and other real estate expenses.

(13) No more than 10 percent of any funds made available to implement this act ~~may shall~~ be expended for resource conservation agreements and agricultural protection agreements.

Section 6. Effective January 1, 2023, section 570.715, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(1) For land acquisitions, including less than fee simple acquisitions, pursuant to s. 570.71, the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services shall comply with the following acquisition procedures:

(a) Before conveyance of title by the department, evidence of marketable title in the form of a commitment for title insurance or an abstract of title with a title opinion ~~must shall~~ be obtained.

(b) Before approval by the board of trustees of an agreement to purchase ~~less than fee simple title to~~ land pursuant to s. 570.71, an appraisal of the parcel ~~is shall~~ be required as follows:

1. Each parcel to be acquired ~~must shall~~ have at least one appraisal. Two appraisals are required when the estimated value of the parcel exceeds $1 million. However, when both appraisals exceed $1 million and differ significantly, a third appraisal may be obtained.

2. Appraisal fees and associated costs ~~must shall~~ be paid by the department. All appraisals used for the acquisition of ~~less than fee simple interest in~~ lands pursuant to this section ~~must shall~~ be prepared by a state-certified appraiser who meets the standards and criteria established by rule of the board of trustees. Each appraiser selected to appraise a particular parcel shall, before contracting with the department or a participant in a multiparty agreement, submit to the department or participant an affidavit substantiating that he or she has no vested or fiduciary interest in such parcel.

(c) A certified survey must be made that meets the minimum requirements for upland parcels established in the Standards of Practice for Land Surveying in Florida published by the department and that accurately portrays, to the greatest extent practicable, the condition of the parcel as it currently exists. The requirement for a certified survey may, in whole or in part, be waived by the board of trustees any time before the land acquisition of the ~~less than fee simple interest~~. If an existing boundary map and description of a parcel are determined by the department to be sufficient for appraisal purposes, the department may temporarily waive the requirement for a survey until any time before conveyance of title to the parcel.

(d) On behalf of the board of trustees and before the appraisal of parcels approved for purchase under ss. 259.105(3)(i) and 570.71, the department may enter into option contracts to buy ~~less than fee simple interest in~~ such parcels. Any such option contract ~~must shall~~ state that the final purchase price is subject to approval by the board of trustees and that the final purchase price may not exceed the maximum offer authorized by law. Any such option contract presented to the board of trustees for final purchase price approval ~~must shall~~ explicitly state that payment of the final purchase price is subject to an appropriation by the Legislature. The consideration for any such option contract may not exceed $1,000 or 0.01 percent of the estimate by the department of the value of the parcel, whichever amount is greater.

(e) A final offer ~~must shall~~ be in the form of an option contract or agreement for purchase of the ~~land less than fee simple interest~~ and ~~must shall~~ be signed and attested to by the owner and the department. Before the department signs the agreement for purchase of the ~~land less than fee simple interest~~ or exercises the option contract, the requirements of s. 286.23 ~~must shall~~ be complied with.

(f) The procedures provided in s. 253.025(9)(a)-(d) and (10) ~~must shall~~ be followed.

(2) If the public's interest is reasonably protected, the board of trustees may:

- (a) Waive any requirement of this section.
- (b) Waive any rules adopted pursuant to s. 570.71, notwithstanding chapter 120.
- (c) Substitute any other reasonably prudent procedures, including federally mandated acquisition procedures, for the procedures in this section, if federal funds are available and will be used for the purchase of ~~land a less than fee simple interest in lands~~, title to which will vest in the board of trustees, and qualification for such federal funds requires compliance with federally mandated acquisition procedures.
- (3) The ~~less than fee simple~~ land acquisition procedures provided in this section are for voluntary, negotiated acquisitions.

(4) For purposes of this section, the term "negotiations" does not include preliminary contacts with the property owner to determine availability or eligibility of the property, existing appraisal data, existing abstracts, and surveys.

(5) Appraisal reports are confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), for use by the department and the board of trustees, until an option contract is executed or, if an option contract is not executed, until 2 weeks before a contract or agreement for purchase is considered for approval by the board of trustees. However, the department has the authority, at its discretion, to disclose appraisal reports to private landowners during negotiations for acquisitions using alternatives to fee simple techniques, if the department determines that disclosure of such reports will bring the proposed acquisition to closure. The department may also disclose appraisal information to public agencies or nonprofit organizations that agree to maintain the confidentiality of the reports or information when joint acquisition of property is contemplated, or when a public agency or nonprofit organization enters into a written multiparty agreement with the department. For purposes of this subsection, the term "nonprofit organization" means an organization whose purposes include the preservation of natural resources, and which is exempt from federal income tax under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The department may release an appraisal report when the passage of time has rendered the conclusions of value in the report invalid or when the department has terminated negotiations.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2510, relating to Florida Gaming Control Commission, conforms statutes to funding decisions related to the Florida Gaming Control Commission (commission) in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023. Specifically, the amendment:

- Deletes a requirement that each member of the commission be appointed from each one of the five appellate court districts in light of the Supreme Court's request to create a new Sixth Appellate District.
- Allows a person who has lobbied for a state agency to be appointed as a commissioner or employed as a commission employee.
- Moves the hearing and notice requirements exemption in ch. 120, F.S., for pari-mutuel stewards, judges, and boards of judges from the Division of Pari-mutuel Wagering (division) to the commission.
- Deletes the Pari-mutuel Wagering Trust Fund (PMW) from the Department of Business and Professional Regulation and, instead authorizes the commission to administer the PMW Trust Fund.
- Provides that the daily license fees for pari-mutuel wagering are to be used to fund the operating cost of the commission rather than the division and the proportionate share of the office of the secretary and administration. Provides that slot machine fees shall be used to fund the operating expenses of the commission rather than the division for slot machine regulation operations.

- Deletes the transfer of funds from the PMW Trust Fund to the General Revenue Fund.
- Deletes the transfer of excess funds from the slot machine regulation operations to the General Revenue Fund.
- Requires the commission to evaluate the license fee for slot machine regulatory requirements and make recommendations to the President and Speaker on the level of slot machine license fees by January 1, 2026.
- Provides that the game promotion statute (s. 849.094, F.S.) does not apply to actions regulated by the Florida Gaming Control Commission.

The amendment takes effect July 1, 2022.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2512, relating to Aircraft, conforms statutes to the funding decisions in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023, which appropriates $25 million from the General Revenue Fund and $5.8 million in recurring funds from the Department of Management Services' (department) Operating Trust Fund for the purpose of implementing and administering the executive aircraft pool.

The amendment creates an executive aircraft pool within the department for the purpose of furnishing executive air travel.

The amendment designates and assigns each aircraft in the executive aircraft pool to a tier of traveler and a priority ranking is assigned for both aircrafts. Trip requests must be scheduled on a first-call, first-served basis, except in the event of a scheduling conflict, when the priority order applies.

The amendment provides the executive aircraft pool be operated on a full cost recovery basis, less available funds. The department must charge all users established rates for travel. The department's Operating Trust Fund is to be used as the depository for fee collections for persons traveling on an executive aircraft and for expenditures associated with the costs incurred to operate aircraft management activities of the department.

The amendment revises provisions, relating to the list of approved manufacturers from which governmental agencies may purchase drones, to prohibit manufacturers located in or substantially owned, controlled, sponsored, commanded, managed, or dominated by a foreign country of concern. In addition, the amendment authorizes the department to update the list of approved manufacturers annually and to provide waivers to governmental agencies overseeing the Florida Forest Service.

The amendment takes effect July 1, 2022.

Conference Committee Amendment (168820) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 287.1611, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

287.1611 Executive aircraft pool; assignment of aircraft; charge for transportation.—

(1) The executive aircraft pool is created within the Department of Management Services for the purpose of providing state-owned aircraft for executive air travel. The pool must consist of at least two aircraft.

(2) It shall be the responsibility of the state official requesting the use of, or requesting travel in, an aircraft of the executive aircraft pool to ensure that all such use or travel is in compliance with s. 112.061. Each agency, legislative entity, and the Supreme Court must maintain records demonstrating evidence of such compliance.

(3) Each plane in the aircraft pool shall be designated and assigned to a tier of traveler, and the priority order for scheduling each of the aircraft is as follows:

(a) Aircraft one is designated for and may be used in the following order of priority:

1. Lieutenant Governor.
2. Cabinet officers.
3. Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.
4. Justices of the Supreme Court.

(b) Aircraft two is designated for and may be used in the following order of priority:

1. President of the Senate or Speaker of the House of Representatives.
2. Chairs of standing committees of the Legislature.
3. Appointed secretaries and executive directors of departments in the executive branch.
4. Chairs of the Florida Gaming Control Commission, Public Service Commission, and the Florida Commission on Offender Review.

(c) Trip requests for aircraft one and aircraft two must be scheduled on a first-call, first-served basis, except in the event of a scheduling conflict the priority order must apply.

(4) It is the intent of the Legislature that the executive aircraft pool be operated on a full-cost-recovery basis, less available funds. The Department of Management Services shall charge state officials traveling on, or requesting the use of, aircraft from the executive aircraft pool a rate not less than the mileage allowance fixed by the Legislature for the use of privately owned vehicles. Payments collected for persons traveling by aircraft in the executive aircraft pool must be deposited into the department's Operating Trust Fund and must be expended for costs incurred to operate the aircraft management activities of the department.

Section 2. Subsection (7) of section 934.50, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

934.50 Searches and seizure using a drone.—

(7) SECURITY STANDARDS FOR GOVERNMENTAL AGENCY DRONE USE.—

(a) As used in this subsection, the term:

1. "Department" means the Department of Management Services.
2. "Governmental agency" means any state, county, local, or municipal governmental entity or any unit of government created or established by law that uses a drone for any purpose.
3. "Foreign country of concern" means the People's Republic of China, the Russian Federation, the Islamic Republic of Iran, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, the Republic of Cuba, the Venezuelan regime of Nicolás Maduro, or the Syrian Arab Republic, including any agency of or any other entity under significant control of such foreign country of concern.

(b) By July ~~January~~ 1, 2022, and each July 1 thereafter, the department, in consultation with the state chief information officer, shall publish on the department's website a list of approved manufacturers and related model numbers whose drones may be purchased or otherwise acquired and used by a governmental agency under this section. An approved manufacturer shall not be located in, substantially owned, controlled, sponsored, commanded, managed, or dominated by a foreign country of concern, and must provide appropriate safeguards to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of data collected, transmitted, or stored by a drone. The department may consult state and federal agencies and any relevant federal guidance in developing the list of approved manufacturers required under this paragraph. The department may update the list of approved manufacturers and model numbers, as needed, based on the emergence of new manufacturers and models that meet the security requirements of this section or if new information about an approved manufacturer or model obtained by the department would require that manufacturer or model to be removed from the approved list.

(c) Beginning July 1, 2022 ~~on the date the department publishes the list of approved drone manufacturers under paragraph (b)~~, a governmental agency may only purchase or otherwise acquire a drone from the ~~an~~ approved manufacturer and model list developed pursuant to paragraph (b) in effect at the time of the acquisition or purchase.

(d) By July 1, 2022, and each July 1 thereafter, when a drone not produced by an approved manufacturer or model remains in use, a governmental agency that uses such a ~~any~~ drone ~~not produced by an approved manufacturer~~ shall submit to the department a comprehensive plan for discontinuing the use of that ~~such a~~ drone. The department shall adopt rules identifying the requirements for the comprehensive plan ~~of the comprehensive plan required under this paragraph~~.

(e) By July ~~January~~ 1, 2023, all governmental agencies must discontinue the use of drones that are not on the approved list of manufacturers and models ~~not produced by an approved manufacturer~~. The department shall establish by rule, consistent with any federal guidance on drone security, minimum security requirements for governmental agency drone use to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of data collected, transmitted, or stored by a drone. The department may consult federal agencies in establishing the minimum security requirements required under this paragraph.

(f) An agency that oversees the Florida Forest Service may request the department to grant a waiver for the acquisition or use of a drone from a manufacturer not on an approved list so long as the manufacturer is not located in, substantially owned, controlled, sponsored, commanded, managed, or dominated by a foreign country of concern. The department shall grant waivers to governmental agencies so long as the public's interest is protected. The department shall establish the process for waivers by rule in accordance with this paragraph.

287.17 Limitation on use of motor vehicles and aircraft.—

(5) A person who is not otherwise authorized in this section may accompany a state official identified in s. 287.1611 ~~the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, a member of the Cabinet, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court~~ when such official is traveling on state aircraft for official state business and the aircraft is traveling with seats available. Transportation of a person accompanying any official specified in this subsection ~~must~~ ~~shall~~ be approved by the official, who shall ~~also~~ guarantee payment of the transportation charges. When the person accompanying such official is not traveling on official state business as provided in this section, the transportation charge ~~is~~ ~~shall~~ be a prorated share of all fixed and variable expenses related to the ownership, operation, and use of such state aircraft. The spouse or immediate family members of any official identified in s. 287.1611 ~~specified in this subsection~~ may, with payment of transportation charges, accompany the official when such official is traveling for official state business and the aircraft has seats available.

And the title is amended as follows:

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2514, relating to Electronic Filing of Taxes, conforms statutes to the funding decisions in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023.

The amendment authorizes the Executive Director of the Department of Revenue to reduce the electronic filing threshold for taxpayers remitting and filing taxes, from $20,000 to $5,000. Lowering the electronic filing and payment threshold will result in efficiencies in the department's General Tax Administration Program of $329,572 in recurring general revenue.

The amendment takes effect on January 1, 2023.

Conference Committee Amendment (896280) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

202.30 Payment of taxes by electronic funds transfer; filing of returns by electronic data interchange.—

(1) A dealer of communications services is required to remit taxes by electronic funds transfer, in the manner prescribed by the department, when the amount of tax paid by the dealer under this chapter, chapter 203, or chapter 212 in the previous state fiscal year was greater than or equal to the amount provided in s. 213.755(1) $20,000 or more.

213.755 Filing of returns and payment of taxes by electronic means.—

(1) The executive director of the Department of Revenue shall have authority to require a taxpayer to file returns and remit payments by electronic means where the taxpayer is subject to tax and has paid that tax in the prior state fiscal year in an amount greater than or equal to $5,000 of $20,000 or more. Any taxpayer who operates two or more places of business for which returns are required to be filed with the department shall combine the tax payments for all such locations in order to determine whether they are obligated under this section. This subsection does not override additional requirements in any provision of a revenue law which the department has the responsibility for regulating, controlling, and administering.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to electronic filing of taxes; amending s. 202.30, F.S.; conforming a provision to changes made by the act; amending s. 213.755, F.S.; reducing the threshold at which the executive director of the Department of Revenue may require a taxpayer to electronically file returns and remit payments; providing an effective date.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2516, relating to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims (OJCC), conforms statutes to the funding decisions in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023, which reduces $0.3 million in funding to consolidate and align office locations of the OJCC based on workload cases and realize technological efficiencies.

The amendment removes the requirement that the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims must maintain 17 district offices, 31 judges of compensation claims, and 31 mediators as they existed on June 30, 2001. Removing specified district offices, judges of compensation claims, and mediators allows the OJCC flexibility to consolidate and align district offices based on case workloads and realize technological efficiencies to the adjudication processes. The amendment takes effect upon becoming a law.

Conference Committee Amendment (125900) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

440.44 Workers' compensation; staff organization.—

(5) OFFICE.—The department, the agency, and the Deputy Chief Judge shall maintain and keep open during reasonable business hours an office, which shall be provided in the Capitol or some other suitable building in the City of Tallahassee, for the transaction of business under this chapter, at which office the official records and papers shall be kept. The office shall be furnished and equipped. The department, the agency, any judge of compensation claims, or the Deputy Chief Judge may hold sessions and conduct hearings at any place within the state. ~~The Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims shall maintain the 17 district offices, 31 judges of compensation claims, and 31 mediators as they exist on June 30, 2001.~~

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to the Office of the Judges of Compensation Claims; amending s. 440.44, F.S.; deleting a requirement for the office to maintain district offices and personnel at a certain level; providing an effective date.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2518, relating to Information Technology, conforms statutes to the funding decisions in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2022-2023.

The amendment separates the State Data Center from the Florida Digital Service within the Department of Management Services. All Florida Digital Service duties and responsibilities related to the State Data Center are removed and assigned directly to the State Data Center.

The amendment designates the Northwest Regional Data Center as an official State Data Center and transfers all current State Data Center resources, contracts, and assets to the Northwest Regional Data Center. By July 1, 2022, the secretary of the Department of Management Services is required to contract with the Northwest Regional Data Center to manage the State Data Center operations and provide data center services to state agencies.

The amendment maintains existing exemptions for data center consolidation and allows for the Northwest Regional Data Center to provide services from the Department of Management Services State Data Center facility.

The amendment takes effect July 1, 2022.

Conference Committee Amendment (375046) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. All functions, records, personnel, contracts, interagency agreements, and assets of the current Department of Management Services State Data Center are transferred to the Northwest Regional Data Center.

282.0041 Definitions.—As used in this chapter, the term:

(30) “Service-level agreement” means a written contract between the Department of Management Services or a provider of data center services and a customer entity which specifies the scope of services provided, service level, the duration of the agreement, the responsible parties, and service costs. A service-level agreement is not a rule pursuant to chapter 120.

Section 3. Paragraphs (j) and (q) of subsection (1) and paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) of section 282.0051, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

282.0051 Department of Management Services; Florida Digital Service; powers, duties, and functions.—

(1) The Florida Digital Service has been created within the department to propose innovative solutions that securely modernize state government, including technology and information services, to achieve value through digital transformation and interoperability, and to fully support the cloud-first policy as specified in s. 282.206. The department, through the Florida Digital Service, shall have the following powers, duties, and functions:

~~(j) Provide operational management and oversight of the state data center established pursuant to s. 282.201, which includes:~~

~~1. Implementing industry standards and best practices for the state data center’s facilities, operations, maintenance, planning, and management processes.~~

~~2. Developing and implementing cost recovery mechanisms that recover the full direct and indirect cost of services through charges to applicable customer entities. Such cost recovery mechanisms must comply with applicable state and federal regulations concerning distribution and use of funds and must ensure that, for any fiscal year, no service or customer entity subsidizes another service or customer entity. The Florida Digital Service may recommend other payment mechanisms to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Such me-~~ chanism may be implemented only if specifically authorized by the Legislature.

~~3. Developing and implementing appropriate operating guidelines and procedures necessary for the state data center to perform its duties pursuant to s. 282.201. The guidelines and procedures must comply with applicable state and federal laws, regulations, and policies and conform to generally accepted governmental accounting and auditing standards. The guidelines and procedures must include, but need not be limited to:~~

~~a. Implementing a consolidated administrative support structure responsible for providing financial management, procurement, transactions involving real or personal property, human resources, and operational support.~~

~~b. Implementing an annual reconciliation process to ensure that each customer entity is paying for the full direct and indirect cost of each service as determined by the customer entity's use of each service.~~

~~c. Providing rebates that may be credited against future billings to customer entities when revenues exceed costs.~~

~~d. Requiring customer entities to validate that sufficient funds exist in the appropriate data processing appropriation category or will be transferred into the appropriate data processing appropriation category before implementation of a customer entity's request for a change in the type or level of service provided, if such change results in a net increase to the customer entity's cost for that fiscal year.~~

~~e. By November 15 of each year, providing to the Office of Policy and Budget in the Executive Office of the Governor and to the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees the projected costs of providing data center services for the following fiscal year.~~

~~f. Providing a plan for consideration by the Legislative Budget Commission if the cost of a service is increased for a reason other than a customer entity's request made pursuant to sub-subparagraph d. Such a plan is required only if the service cost increase results in a net increase to a customer entity for that fiscal year.~~

~~g. Standardizing and consolidating procurement and contracting practices.~~

~~4. In collaboration with the Department of Law Enforcement, developing and implementing a process for detecting, reporting, and responding to cybersecurity incidents, breaches, and threats.~~

~~5. Adopting rules relating to the operation of the state data center, including, but not limited to, budgeting and accounting procedures, cost recovery methodologies, and operating procedures.~~

~~(p)1.(q)1. Establish an information technology policy for all information technology-related state contracts, including state term contracts for information technology commodities, consultant services, and staff augmentation services. The information technology policy must include:~~

~~a. Identification of the information technology product and service categories to be included in state term contracts.~~

~~b. Requirements to be included in solicitations for state term contracts.~~

~~c. Evaluation criteria for the award of information technology-related state term contracts.~~

~~d. The term of each information technology-related state term contract.~~

~~e. The maximum number of vendors authorized on each state term contract.~~

~~f. At a minimum, a requirement that any contract for information technology commodities or services meet the National Institute of Standards and Technology Cybersecurity Framework.~~

~~g. For an information technology project wherein project oversight is required pursuant to paragraph (d) or paragraph (m) (n), a requirement~~ that independent verification and validation be employed throughout the project life cycle with the primary objective of independent verification and validation being to provide an objective assessment of products and processes throughout the project life cycle. An entity providing independent verification and validation may not have technical, managerial, or financial interest in the project and may not have responsibility for, or participate in, any other aspect of the project.

2. Evaluate vendor responses for information technology-related state term contract solicitations and invitations to negotiate.

3. Answer vendor questions on information technology-related state term contract solicitations.

4. Ensure that the information technology policy established pursuant to subparagraph 1. is included in all solicitations and contracts that are administratively executed by the department.

(3) The department, acting through the Florida Digital Service and from funds appropriated to the Florida Digital Service, shall:

(a) Create, not later than ~~December 1, 2022~~ ~~October 1, 2021~~, and maintain a comprehensive indexed data catalog in collaboration with the enterprise that lists the data elements housed within the enterprise and the legacy system or application in which these data elements are located. The data catalog must, at a minimum, specifically identify all data that is restricted from public disclosure based on federal or state laws and regulations and require that all such information be protected in accordance with s. 282.318.

(b) Develop and publish, not later than ~~December 1, 2022~~ ~~October 1, 2021~~, in collaboration with the enterprise, a data dictionary for each agency that reflects the nomenclature in the comprehensive indexed data catalog.

Section 4. Section 282.201, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

282.201 State data center.—The state data center is established within the department. The provision of data center services must comply with applicable state and federal laws, regulations, and policies, including all applicable security, privacy, and auditing requirements. The department shall appoint a director of the state data center, ~~preferably an individual~~ who has experience in leading data center facilities and has expertise in cloud-computing management.

(1) STATE DATA CENTER DUTIES.—The state data center shall:

(a) Offer, develop, and support the services and applications defined in service-level agreements executed with its customer entities.

(b) Maintain performance of the state data center by ensuring proper data backup, data backup recovery, disaster recovery, and appropriate security, power, cooling, fire suppression, and capacity.

(c) Develop and implement business continuity and disaster recovery plans, and annually conduct a live exercise of each plan.

(d) Enter into a service-level agreement with each customer entity to provide the required type and level of service or services. If a customer entity fails to execute an agreement within 60 days after commencement of a service, the state data center may cease service. A service-level agreement may not have a term exceeding 3 years and at a minimum must:

1. Identify the parties and their roles, duties, and responsibilities under the agreement.

2. State the duration of the contract term and specify the conditions for renewal.

3. Identify the scope of work.

4. Identify the products or services to be delivered with sufficient specificity to permit an external financial or performance audit.

5. Establish the services to be provided, the business standards that must be met for each service, the cost of each service by agency application, and the metrics and processes by which the business standards for each service are to be objectively measured and reported.

6. Provide a timely billing methodology to recover the costs of services provided to the customer entity pursuant to s. 215.422.

7. Provide a procedure for modifying the service-level agreement based on changes in the type, level, and cost of a service.

8. Include a right-to-audit clause to ensure that the parties to the agreement have access to records for audit purposes during the term of the service-level agreement.

9. Provide that a service-level agreement may be terminated by either party for cause only after giving the other party and the department notice in writing of the cause for termination and an opportunity for the other party to resolve the identified cause within a reasonable period.

10. Provide for mediation of disputes by the Division of Administrative Hearings pursuant to s. 120.573.

(e) For purposes of chapter 273, be the custodian of resources and equipment located in and operated, supported, and managed by the state data center.

1. Upon consolidation, a state agency shall relinquish administrative rights to consolidated resources and equipment. State agencies required to comply with federal and state criminal justice information security rules and policies shall retain administrative access rights sufficient to comply with the management control provisions of those rules and policies; however, the state data center shall have the appropriate type or level of rights to allow the center to comply with its duties pursuant to this section. The Department of Law Enforcement shall serve as the arbiter of disputes pertaining to the appropriate type and level of administrative access rights pertaining to the provision of management control in accordance with the federal criminal justice information guidelines.

2. The state data center shall provide customer entities with access to applications, servers, network components, and other devices necessary for entities to perform business activities and functions, and as defined and documented in a service-level agreement.

(2) USE OF THE STATE DATA CENTER.—The following are exempt from the use of the state data center: the Department of Law Enforcement, the Department of the Lottery's Gaming System, Systems Design and Development in the Office of Policy and Budget, the regional traffic management centers as described in s. 335.14(2) and the Office of Toll Operations of the Department of Transportation, the State Board of Administration, state attorneys, public defenders, criminal conflict and civil regional counsel, capital collateral regional counsel, and the Florida Housing Finance Corporation.

(3) AGENCY LIMITATIONS.—Unless exempt from the use of the state data center pursuant to this section or authorized by the Legislature, a state agency may not:

(a) Create a new agency computing facility or data center, or expand the capability to support additional computer equipment in an existing agency computing facility or data center; or

(b) Terminate services with the state data center without giving written notice of intent to terminate services 180 days before such termination.

(4) DEPARTMENT RESPONSIBILITIES.—The department shall provide operational management and oversight of the state data center, which includes:

(a) Implementing industry standards and best practices for the state data center's facilities, operations, maintenance, planning, and management processes.

(b) Developing and implementing cost-recovery mechanisms that recover the full direct and indirect cost of services through charges to applicable customer entities. Such cost-recovery mechanisms must comply with applicable state and federal regulations concerning distribution and use of funds and must ensure that, for any fiscal year, no service or customer entity subsidizes another service or customer entity. The department may recommend other payment mechanisms to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. Such mechanism may be implemented only if specifically authorized by the Legislature.

(c) *Developing and implementing appropriate operating guidelines and procedures necessary for the state data center to perform its duties pursuant to subsection (1). The guidelines and procedures must comply with applicable state and federal laws, regulations, and policies and conform to generally accepted governmental accounting and auditing standards. (b) Maintain an appropriate cost-allocation methodology that accurately bills state agency customers based solely on the actual direct and indirect costs of the services provided to state agency customers, and ensures that for any fiscal year, state agency customers are not subsidizing other customers of the data center. Such cost-allocation methodology must comply with applicable state and federal regulations concerning the distribution and use of state and federal funds.

(c) Enter into a service-level agreement with each state agency customer to provide services as defined and approved by the governing board of the center. At a minimum, such service-level agreements must:

(c) Exceed 30 days from receipt of approved invoices to remit payment for state data center services provided by the Northwest Regional Data Center.

(3)(~~2~~) The Northwest Regional Data Center's authority to provide data center services to its state agency customers may be terminated if:

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for SB 2524, relating to education funding, provides for the following:

Section 1 amends s. 435.02, F.S., to include in the definition of 'specified agency' in the chapter of law related to employment screening school districts, lab schools, the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind, the Florida Virtual School, virtual instruction providers, charter schools, hope operators, and private schools participating in an educational scholarship program.

Section 2 modifies s. 435.12, F.S., to require school districts, lab schools, the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind, the Florida Virtual School, virtual instruction providers, charter schools, hope operators, and private schools participating in an educational scholarship program to conduct background screenings using the Clearinghouse beginning January 1, 2023. These entities must be fully implemented into the Clearinghouse by January 1, 2024, or by a date determined by Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA).

The AHCA must follow a staggered schedule when conducting re-screening for education entities entering the Clearinghouse:

- Employees last screened on or before June 30, 2019, must be re-screened by June 30, 2024;
- Employees last screened between July 1, 2019, and June 30, 2021, must be rescreened by June 30, 2025; and
- Employees last screened between July 1, 2021, through December 31, 2021, must be rescreened by June 30, 2026.

Section 3 amends s. 464.0195, F.S., to revise the goals of the Florida Center for Nursing. The Florida Center for Nursing must conduct a statistically valid biennial data-driven gap analysis of the healthcare workforce. The gap analysis must include the Florida Center for Nursing's current law responsibilities to establish and maintain a database on nursing supply and demand in the state and how supply and demand impact the state's participation in the Nurse Licensure Compact.

Section 4 amends 800.101, F.S., to provide criminal penalties for certain individuals for failing to report certain offenses against students by authority figures. A person commits a first degree misdemeanor if the person knowingly or willingly:

- Fails to make a report regarding an incident of an authority figure engaging in or soliciting sexual, romantic, or lewd conduct with a student;
- Submits false, inaccurate, or incomplete information while reporting an authority figure engaging in or soliciting sexual, romantic, or lewd conduct with a student; or
- Coerces or threatens another person with the intent to alter his or her testimony or written report regarding an incident of an authority figure engaging in or soliciting sexual, romantic, or lewd conduct with a student.

Section 5 amends s. 943.0585, F.S., to prohibit individuals seeking employment in school districts, lab schools, the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind, the Florida Virtual School, virtual instruction providers, charter schools, hope operators, and private schools participating in an educational scholarship program from denying or failing to acknowledge arrests covered by an expunged record.

Section 6 amends s. 943.059, F.S., to prohibit individuals seeking employment in school districts, lab schools, the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind, the Florida Virtual School, virtual instruction providers, charter schools, hope operators, and private schools participating in an educational scholarship program from denying or failing to acknowledge arrests covered by a sealed record.

Section 7 modifies s. 1001.51, F.S., to require school district superintendents to maintain records of any determination to withhold from a parent information regarding the provision of any services to support the mental, physical, or emotional well-being of the parent's minor child. Any determination must be child-specific and must be annually reviewed.

Sections 8 and 9 amend s. 1001.92, F.S., to modify the criteria for awards under the State University System Performance-Based Incentive. The graduation rate for associate in arts transfer students is changed, for the 2022-2023 fiscal year, from a 2-year rate to a 3-year graduation rate. In addition, a new criterion is added to specify that any institution that has been found to have a substantiated violation of the anti-discrimination principles of individual freedom specified in s. 1000.05(4)(a), F.S., (contingent upon CS/HB 7 becoming law) is ineligible to receive performance funding during the next fiscal year following the year in which the violation is substantiated. Substantiated findings are those as determined by a court of law, a standing committee of the Legislature, or the Board of Governors.

Section 10 amends s. 1002.31, F.S., which modifies provisions related to controlled open enrollment and requires school districts and charter schools to identify and disclose on their websites the capacity for its schools, by grade level, and to update such data every 12 weeks. Each virtual charter school and each school district with a contract with an approved virtual instruction provider must determine capacity based upon specified enrollment requirements. In addition, each district school board must adopt by rule and post on its website the process required to participate in controlled open enrollment. School districts must maintain a wait list of students who are denied access due to capacity and notify parents and accept students when capacity becomes available.

Section 11 amends s. 1002.33, F.S., which modifies provisions related to charter schools and requires the Department of Education to develop a standard virtual charter school contract and renewal contract for use by the school district and the virtual charter school. A virtual charter school must comply with applicable controlled open enrollment requirements.

Section 12 amends s. 1002.394, F.S., which modifies provisions related to the Family Empowerment Scholarship program and increases the base eligibility from 20,000 to 26,500 beginning in the 2022-2023 school year for the unique ability scholarship option. The act maintains the current annual growth rate, however the growth rate goes into effect in the 2023-2024 school year rather than the 2022-2023 school year. The act maintains the requirement that the Department of Education (DOE) complete a cross check of the list of participating students to verify eligibility, but removes the requirement that the cross-check be completed before to the distribution of each quarterly scholarship payment. The act adds a provision requiring the DOE to adjust scholarship payments to eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organizations and recalculate the Florida Education Finance Program allocation for school districts upon completion of the cross-check. The act also modifies conditions for a student to be eligible for a scholarship outside of the maximum number of students authorized to participate in the program and increases the transportation scholarship option from $750 to the per student amount expended by the school district on students riding a bus, whichever is greater.

Section 13 amends s. 1002.395, F.S., which modifies provisions related to the Florida Tax Credit Scholarship program and maintains the requirement that the Department of Education (DOE) complete a cross check of the list of participating students to verify eligibility, but removes the requirement that the cross-check be completed before to the distribution of each quarterly scholarship payment and adds a provision requiring the DOE to adjust scholarship payments to eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organizations upon completion of the cross-check. The act increases the transportation scholarship option from $750 to the per student amount expended by the school district on students riding a bus, whichever is greater. The act also authorizes administrative expenses to include specified transportation programs.

Section 14 amends s. 1002.40, F.S., which modifies provisions related to the Hope Scholarship program and maintains the requirement that the Department of Education (DOE) complete a cross check of the list of participating students to verify eligibility, but removes the requirement that the cross-check be completed before to the distribution of each quarterly scholarship payment and adds a provision requiring the DOE to adjust scholarship payments to eligible nonprofit scholarship-funding organizations upon completion of the cross-check.

Section 15 modifies s. 1002.411, F.S., to align the eligibility for Reading Scholarship Accounts to that of the New Worlds Reading Initiative to now apply to students enrolled in a public school in kindergarten through grade 5, rather than students in grades 3 through 5, who have a substantial reading deficiency identified under s. 1008.25(5)(a), F.S., or who scored below a level 3 on the statewide, standardized English Language Arts assessment in the prior school year.

The act allows instructional personnel to provide services to students receiving a Reading Scholarship Account on the school campus outside of regular work hours.

Section 16 amends s. 1002.421, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 17 amends s. 1002.45, F.S., which modifies provisions related to virtual instruction programs (VIP) and authorizes an approved VIP provider to enroll students residing in the school district executing the contract with the provider as well as students in other school districts throughout the state pursuant to the controlled open enrollment requirements. The act requires all VIPs to operate under its own Master School Identification Number as prescribed by the Department of Education, and requires approval of a VIP provider by the State Board of Education. In addition, the act modifies specified accountability and compliance requirements that an approved provider must meet to maintain approval.

The act also aligns the calculation methodology for determining the amount of funds that district virtual full time equivalent (FTE) students receive in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) with the FEFP calculation methodology for students enrolled and reported by the Florida Virtual School, and specifies that only state FEFP funds can be used for out-of-district virtual FTE students enrolled in a school district VIP.

Section 18 amends s. 1002.455, F.S., which modifies provisions related to eligibility for K-12 virtual instruction and clarifies that school districts must comply with specified enrollment requirements established in law.

Section 19 amends s. 1002.81, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 20 amends s. 1002.82, F.S., requiring the Department of Education to establish procedures for the calculation of the prevailing market rate and the annual collection of data; conforming cross-references to changes made by the act.

Section 21 amends s. 1002.84, F.S., establishing the distribution methodology that early learning coalitions must use to distribute school readiness program funds to eligible providers; providing requirements for early learning coalitions.

Section 22 amends s. 1002.85, F.S., revising the requirements for the school readiness program plan submitted to the Department of Education by early learning coalitions.

Section 23 amends s. 1002.87, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 24 amends s. 1002.89, F.S., providing for the determination of the school readiness program funding for early learning coalitions; providing requirements for such funding calculations.

Section 25 amends s. 1002.895, F.S., providing for the determination of the market rate schedule; requiring the Department of Education to establish procedures for the annual collection of specified data; requiring the Department of Education to provide certain data to the Early Learning Programs Estimating Conference.

Section 26 creates s. 1002.90, F.S., requiring the principals of the Early Learning Programs Conference to develop the official cost of care information; providing requirements for conference principals; requiring the Department of Education to provide conference principals with specified data; requiring the conference to annually provide the official cost-of-care information to the Legislature by a specified date.

Section 27 amends s. 1002.92, F.S., requiring certain child care facilities to annually provide specified data to the statewide child care and resource and referral network.

Section 28 amends s. 1002.995, F.S., to require, subject to an appropriation, the Department of Education to provide incentives to school readiness personnel and Voluntary Prekindergarten Education Program (VPK program) instructors who possess a reading certification or endorsement or a literacy micro-credential and teach students in the school readiness program or the VPK education program.

Section 29 modifies s. 1003.485, F.S., to add to the purposes of the New Worlds Reading Initiative and responsibilities for the administrator. In addition to current law which requires students to be provided options for book topics or genres at the beginning of each school year, the act requires students to be provided the options upon enrollment. The act also:

- Defines “micro-credential” as evidence-based professional development activities that are competency-based, personalized, and on-demand.
- Requires educators to demonstrate their competence via evidence submitted and reviewed by trained evaluators.
- Maintains the purpose of the New Worlds Reading Initiative to improve literacy skills and instill a love of reading by providing high quality books to students in kindergarten through grade 5 who are reading below grade level and redefines the New Worlds Reading Initiative to also include:
 - Improving the literacy skills of students kindergarten through grade 12.
 - The provision of high-quality, free books to students.
 - New World Reading Scholarship Accounts.
 - The New Worlds Scholar program, which rewards high school students who instill a love of reading and improve the literacy skills of students in kindergarten through grade 3
 - The micro-credential program which emphasizes strong core instruction and a tiered model of reading interventions for struggling readers.
 - Incentives to reward educators who earn a micro-credential or reading endorsement and provide intensive interventions to students who struggle with reading.
- Adds to existing responsibilities of the administrator of the New Worlds Reading Initiative that the administrator must:
 - Provide to teachers professional development and resources that correlate with the books provided through the initiative.
 - Develop micro-credentials that require teachers to demonstrate competency to diagnose literacy difficulties and determine the appropriate range of literacy interventions, use evidence-based instructional and intervention practices, including evidence-based reading strategies identified by the Just Read, Florida! Office, and effectively use progress monitoring and intervention materials.

Section 30 modifies s. 1003.498, F.S., which specifies that funding for virtual courses must shall be as provided pursuant to the methodology established in the amendment.

Section 31 modifies s. 1003.52, F.S., to require that eligible students enrolled in a juvenile justice education program be funded the same as students enrolled in a traditional public school funded in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) and as specified in the General Appropriations Act.

Section 32 amends s. 1003.621, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 33 amends s. 1004.015, F.S., to revise the duties of the Florida Talent Development Council (FTDC). The act adds additional data that must be collected as part of the 10-year trend information on nursing education programs, including the outcomes of the Linking Industry to Nursing Education (LINE) Fund under s. 1009.896, F.S., or the Prepping Institutions, Programs, Employers, and Learners through Incentives for Nursing Education (PIPELINE) Fund under s. 1009.897, F.S., and the outcomes of graduates who received nursing student loan forgiveness.

Section 34 amends s. 1004.04, F.S., to revise program evaluation criteria for teacher preparation programs to remove subgroup performance on statewide, standardized assessments and teacher retention and replace it with candidate readiness based on Florida Teacher Certification Examination (FTCE) passage rates and provide additional weight for placement in teacher shortage areas.

Section 35 creates s. 1004.6496, F.S., to authorize the Board of Trustees of the University of Florida to use funds provided in the General Appropriations Act to establish the Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education as an academic unit within the University of Florida. The purpose of the center is to support teaching and research concerning the ideas, traditions, and texts that form the foundations of western and American civilization.

Section 36 amends s. 1004.85, F.S., to revise the uniform core curricula for teacher preparation programs to include strategies that support evidence-based, standards-aligned content and grading practices. It authorizes the State Board of Education (SBE) to weight certain evaluation criteria and approve programs based on national accreditation. The act requires the SBE to adopt criteria for streamlining evaluations for small programs. The act requires that, beginning with candidates entering a program in the 2023-2024 school year, candidates in a traditional preparation program complete 60 hours of field experience before participating in a culminating field experience and candidates in an educator preparation institute complete a period of field experience as determined by SBE rule before becoming the teacher of record.

Section 37 amends s. 1006.12, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 38 amends s. 1006.22, F.S., which modifies provisions related to the safety and health of students being transported and expands flexibility for use of motor vehicles other than school buses.

Section 39 amends s. 1006.27, F.S., which modifies provisions related to pooling of school buses and related purchases by district school boards and establishes the Driving Choice Grant Program with the Department of Education to improve access to reliable and safe transportation for students participating in public educational school choice and to support innovative solutions that increase the efficiency of public school transportation.

Section 40 amends s. 1006.73, F.S., by requiring the Florida College System (FCS), State University System (SUS), and Florida Postsecondary Academic Library Network to provide specified support for certain open education resources (OER). The section requires the chancellors of the FCS and SUS to collaborate and take the lead in identifying and developing processes to coordinate and support the adaptation or development of OER. The section establishes the Student Open Access Resources (SOAR) Repository, a statewide, searchable database of open education resources. Additionally, the section establishes the SOAR Grant Program providing funding support to FCS and SUS institutions for the development and curation of open education resources and for migrating existing content to the SOAR Repository.

Section 41 amends s. 1007.271, F.S., to specify that instructional materials for use in dual enrollment courses must be made available to all participating students free of charge, rather than only to public school students. This is consistent with the provisions in s. 1009.30, F.S., relating to reimbursements for instructional materials under the Dual Enrollment Scholarship Program.

Section 42 creates s. 1007.36, F.S., to establish the Inclusive Transition and Employment Management (ITEM) Program and authorize financial support for the program that provides services to young adults with disabilities with transitional skills, education, and on-the-job experience to allow them to gain and retain employment.

Section 43 amends s. 1008.33, F.S., to codify current practice that requires a school that initially receives a grade of “D” to begin implementing intervention and support strategies authorized in State Board of Education rule. Any school receiving an initial grade of “F” or two consecutive grades of “D” must continue to initiate the school improvement turnaround process, but may submit a turnaround plan prior to earning a second consecutive grade of “D.” Additionally, the act provides school districts flexibility in implementing an external operator turnaround option by specifying services that may be contracted, including the option to contract with a charter school network as the external turnaround contractor. A school district and an outside entity that enter in a performance-based contract must establish the contract for a minimum of 2 years.

Section 44 amends s. 1008.34, F.S., to require the State Board of Education to annually review the school grading scale and to adjust the grading scale when more than 75 percent of schools of a school type (i.e. elementary, middle, high, or combination schools) receive a grade of “A” or “B.” The adjustment must raise the minimum number of percentage points required for each grade to the next closest number ending in 5 or

0. The annual adjustments must be suspended upon the achievement upon a grading scale for each school type as specified in the act.

Section 45 creates an unnumbered section of law requiring the Department of Education (DOE) to collect from each school district the range and median number of minutes, per school year, of time spent testing on district-required assessments and state-required assessments for students in grade PreK-5. The DOE must submit a report, annually, beginning January 1, 2023 through January 1, 2025, of the information collected from school districts and provide recommendations to minimize duplicative testing.

Section 46 amends s. 1009.26, F.S., to increase the number of waiver-eligible Programs of Strategic Emphasis (PSE) from eight to 10. Beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year, students will be eligible to receive the tuition and fee waiver in two additional PSE, specifically in the critical workforce gap analysis category, as adopted by the Board of Governors.

Section 47 amends s. 1009.30, F.S., to modify reimbursements under the Dual Enrollment Scholarship Program. The act modifies the timeline for reporting dual enrollment students and for reimbursements to specify that a postsecondary institution must report students within 30 days after the end of regular registration, and reimbursements must be distributed no later than 30 days after the end of the term.

Section 48 modifies s. 1009.89, F.S., to require each institution eligible to receive funds under the Effective Access to Student Education Grant Program to post prominently on its website, by October 1 of each year, its performance on the metrics specified in law, as reported to the department.

Section 49 modifies s. 1009.895, F.S., to expand the list of institutions eligible for the Open Door Grant Program to include school districts with eligible integrated education and training programs. Additionally, the act removes the requirement that students must complete a yearly Free Application for Federal Student Aid to be considered eligible for the Open Door Grant Program. Lastly, the act provides that an institution may cover the student's one-third of the cost of the program, based on student need, as determined by the institution.

Section 50 creates s. 1009.896, F.S., to establish the Linking Industry to Nursing Education (LINE) Fund, a competitive grant program that provides matching funds, on a dollar-to-dollar basis, to participating institutions that partner with a healthcare provider to recruit faculty and clinical preceptors, increase capacity of high-quality nursing education programs, and increase the number of nursing education program graduates who are prepared to enter the workforce. The act also specifies institution eligibility and participation requirements, including reporting requirements. Additionally, the sections requires the Board of Governors and the State Board of Education to adopt regulations and rules, respectively, to administer the LINE Fund.

Section 51 creates s. 1009.897, F.S., to establish the Prepping Institutions, Programs, Employers, and Learners through Incentives for Nursing Education (PIPELINE) Fund to reward school districts, Florida College System (FCS) institutions, and State University System (SUS) institutions that meet nursing education program performance metrics.

Section 52 modifies s. 1010.20, F.S., to increase the percent of funds that a school district must spend for juvenile justice programs, from 90 to 95 percent of the funds generated by such programs.

Section 53 amends s. 1011.48, F.S., to specify that the fees for a university educational research center for child development are determined by the university board of trustees, and are not required to be approved by the Board of Governors.

Section 54 modifies s. 1011.62, F.S., to include the district cost differential in the formula on determining the basic amount for current operation to be included in the Florida Education Finance Program. The act also increases from 24,000 to 30,000 the upper limit of school district full-time equivalent membership for that district to be eligible for the sparsity supplement. The act also provides schools flexibility in using funds from the evidence-based reading instruction allocation. The act:

- Removes the specific requirement for the 300 lowest performing schools to use the allocation to provide an additional hour of intensive reading instruction. The act provides flexibility for all schools to provide additional time per day in intensive reading instruction.

- Clarifies that reading coaches must be certified or endorsed in reading.
- Provides flexibility for professional development options by authorizing school boards to use funds from the allocation to help instructional personnel and certified prekindergarten teachers funded in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) earn a certification, a credential, an endorsement, or advanced degree in scientifically researched and evidence-based instruction.
- Authorizes teachers or other district personnel who possess an early literacy micro-credential to teach summer camps for students in kindergarten through grade 5. The act does not modify the requirement that a retained grade 3 student in a summer reading camp be provided instruction by a teacher who is certified or endorsed in reading.
- Removes the requirement that scientifically researched and evidence-based supplemental instructional materials purchased with allocation funds must be identified by the Just Read, Florida! Office.
- Authorizes allocation funds to be used for incentives for instructional personnel and certified prekindergarten teachers funded in the FEFP who possess a reading certification or endorsement or a literacy micro-credential and provide educational support to improve student literacy.
- Authorizes allocation funds to be used to provide tutoring in reading.
- Authorizes intensive reading interventions to be provided by instructional personnel who possess a literacy micro-credential.

The act removes the requirement for the Department of Education to prescribe the format for and approve district comprehensive reading plans. The act requires school districts to submit a comprehensive reading plan, approved by the applicable district school board, charter school governing board, or lab school board of trustees, in consultation with the State Regional Literacy Director, for the specific use of the evidence-based reading instruction allocation.

The act provides that instructional personnel who possess a literacy micro-credential and are delivering intensive reading interventions must be supervised by an individual who is certified or endorsed in reading. The act specifies that "supervision" means the ability to communicate by way of telecommunication with or physical presence of the certified or endorsed personnel for consultation and direction of the actions of the personnel with the micro-credential.

Section 55 amends s. 1011.68, F.S., to expand the use of transportation funds to specify that student transportation funds may be used to pay for specified alternative vehicles when a school bus is impractical, or to support parents or carpools.

Section 56 amends s. 1011.71, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 57 amends s. 1012.22, F.S., to require that any compensation for longevity of service awarded to instructional personnel who are not on a performance pay salary schedule must be used in the calculation of salary adjustments for highly effective or effective teachers.

Section 58 amends s. 1012.315, F.S., to clarify that a person is prohibited from becoming certified as a teacher if he or she is ineligible for an exemption from a disqualifying offense under s. 435.07, F.S., which enumerates eligibility for exemptions.

Section 59 modifies s. 1012.32, F.S., to revise the procedure for background screenings, remove the right to appeal certain terminations, and revise provisions specifying financial responsibility and reimbursement for background screenings. Because charter schools will conduct background screenings using the Clearinghouse, the requirement that a district school board reimburse a charter school for the cost of background screening if the district school board fails to notify the charter school of eligible personnel or board members within a specified number of days is repealed.

Section 60 requires that the changes to s. 1012.315, F.S., apply to individuals who are screened after January 1, 2024.

Section 61 amends s. 1012.34, F.S., to clarify that the procedures established by the district school superintendent to evaluate the performance of instructional, administrative, and supervisory personnel are the standards of service to be offered to the public and are not subject to collective bargaining.

Section 62 modifies s. 1012.465, F.S., which modifies background screening requirements for noninstructional personnel to conform to screening provisions established in this act.

Section 64 amends 1012.56, F.S.; to prohibit certain persons from having specified responsibilities before the results of a background screening are available.

Section 65 specifies that the changes to ss. 1012.32 and 1012.56, F.S., must be implemented by January 1, 2024, or by a date set by the Agency for Health Care Administration.

Section 66 amends s. 1012.584, F.S., to conform provisions to changes made by the act.

Section 67 creates s. 1003.4204, F.S., to establish the Safer, Smarter Schools Program (program), which is intended to implement the revised Health Education standards established in the required instruction specified in law. The program curriculum is a comprehensive personal safety curriculum that helps support students in the attainment of learning protective principles to help keep them safe from abuse and exploitation.

Section 68 amends s. 1013.40, F.S., to increase the number of beds from 300 to 340 that may be constructed for dormitories at a Florida College System (FCS) institution within a municipality designated as an area of critical state concern. It also allows the FCS institution to construct an additional 25 beds for employees, educators and first responders.

(1) AUTHORIZATION.—All charter schools in Florida are public schools and shall be part of the state’s program of public education. A charter school may be formed by creating a new school or converting an existing public school to charter status. A charter school may operate a virtual charter school pursuant to s. 1002.45(1)(d) to provide online instruction to students, pursuant to s. 1002.455, in kindergarten through grade 12. The school district in which the student enrolls in the virtual charter school shall report the student for funding pursuant to s. 1011.61(1)(c)1.b.(VI), and the home school district shall not report the student for funding. An existing charter school that is seeking to become a virtual charter school must amend its charter or submit a new application pursuant to subsection (6) to become a virtual charter school. A virtual charter school is subject to the requirements of this section; however, a virtual charter school is exempt from subparagraph (7)(a) 13., subsections (18) and (19), paragraph (20)(c), and s. 1003.03. A public school may not use the term charter in its name unless it has been approved under this section.

(7) CHARTER.—The terms and conditions for the operation of a charter school, including a virtual charter school, shall be set forth by the sponsor and the applicant in a written contractual agreement, called a charter. The sponsor and the governing board of the charter school or virtual charter school shall use the standard charter contract or standard virtual charter contract, respectively, pursuant to subsection (21), which shall incorporate the approved application and any addenda approved with the application. Any term or condition of a proposed charter contract or proposed virtual charter contract that differs from the standard charter or virtual charter contract adopted by rule of the State Board of Education shall be presumed a limitation on charter school flexibility. The sponsor may not impose unreasonable rules or regulations that violate the intent of giving charter schools greater flexibility to meet educational goals. The charter shall be signed by the governing board of the charter school and the sponsor, following a public hearing to ensure community input.

(a) The charter shall address and criteria for approval of the charter shall be based on:

1. The school’s mission, the types of students to be served, and, for a virtual charter school, the types of students the school intends to serve who reside outside of the sponsoring school district, and the ages and grades to be included.

2. The focus of the curriculum, the instructional methods to be used, any distinctive instructional techniques to be employed, and identification and acquisition of appropriate technologies needed to improve educational and administrative performance which include a means for promoting safe, ethical, and appropriate uses of technology which comply with legal and professional standards.

a. The charter shall ensure that reading is a primary focus of the curriculum and that resources are provided to identify and provide specialized instruction for students who are reading below grade level. The curriculum and instructional strategies for reading must be consistent with the Next Generation Sunshine State Standards and grounded in scientifically based reading research.

b. In order to provide students with access to diverse instructional delivery models, to facilitate the integration of technology within traditional classroom instruction, and to provide students with the skills they need to compete in the 21st century economy, the Legislature encourages instructional methods for blended learning courses consisting of both traditional classroom and online instructional techniques. Charter schools may implement blended learning courses which combine traditional classroom instruction and virtual instruction. Students in a blended learning course must be full-time students of the charter school pursuant to s. 1011.61(1)(a)1. Instructional personnel certified pursuant to s. 1012.55 who provide virtual instruction for blended learning courses may be employees of the charter school or may be under contract to provide instructional services to charter school students. At a minimum, such instructional personnel must hold an active state or school district adjunct certification under s. 1012.57 for the subject area of the blended learning course. The funding and performance accountability requirements for blended learning courses are the same as those for traditional courses.

3. The current incoming baseline standard of student academic achievement, the outcomes to be achieved, and the method of measurement that will be used. The criteria listed in this subparagraph shall include a detailed description of:

a. How the baseline student academic achievement levels and prior rates of academic progress will be established.

b. How these baseline rates will be compared to rates of academic progress achieved by these same students while attending the charter school.

c. To the extent possible, how these rates of progress will be evaluated and compared with rates of progress of other closely comparable student populations.

A district school board is required to provide academic student performance data to charter schools for each of their students coming from the district school system, as well as rates of academic progress of comparable student populations in the district school system.

4. The methods used to identify the educational strengths and needs of students and how well educational goals and performance standards are met by students attending the charter school. The methods shall provide a means for the charter school to ensure accountability to its constituents by analyzing student performance data and by evaluating the effectiveness and efficiency of its major educational programs. Students in charter schools shall, at a minimum, participate in the statewide assessment program created under s. 1008.22.

b. The General Appropriations Act shall direct the computation of the statewide adjusted aggregate amount for required local effort for all school districts collectively from ad valorem taxes to ensure that no school district's revenue from required local effort millage will produce more than 90 percent of the district's total Florida Education Finance Program calculation as calculated and adopted by the Legislature, and the adjustment of the required local effort millage rate of each district that produces more than 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement to a level that will produce only 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement in the July calculation.

2. On the same date as the certification in sub-subparagraph 1.a., the Department of Revenue shall certify to the Commissioner of Education for each district:

a. Each year for which the property appraiser has certified the taxable value pursuant to s. 193.122(2) or (3), if applicable, since the prior certification under sub-subparagraph 1.a.

~~(a) The Florida digital classrooms allocation is created to support the efforts of school districts and schools, including charter schools, to integrate technology in classroom teaching and learning to ensure students have access to high quality electronic and digital instructional materials and resources, and empower classroom teachers to help their students succeed. Each school district shall receive a minimum digital classrooms allocation in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. The remaining balance of the digital classrooms allocation shall be allocated based on each school district's proportionate share of the state's total unweighted full time equivalent student enrollment.~~

~~1. Acquiring and maintaining the items on the eligible services list authorized by the Universal Service Administrative Company for the Schools and Libraries Program, more commonly referred to as the federal E rate program.~~

~~2. Acquiring computer and device hardware and associated operating system software that comply with the requirements of s. 1001.20(4)(a)1.b.~~

~~3. Providing professional development, including in state conference attendance or online coursework, to enhance the use of technology for digital instructional strategies.~~

~~(11)(12) QUALITY ASSURANCE GUARANTEE.—~~The Legislature may annually in the General Appropriations Act determine a percentage increase in funds per K-12 unweighted FTE as a minimum guarantee to each school district. The guarantee shall be calculated from prior year base funding per unweighted FTE student which shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (15) (17), quality guarantee funds, and actual nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. From the base funding per unweighted FTE, the increase shall be calculated for the current year. The current year funds from which the guarantee shall be determined shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (15) (17) and potential nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. A comparison of current year funds per unweighted FTE to prior year funds per unweighted FTE shall be computed. The allocation is created to provide additional funding to school districts if the school district's total funds per FTE in the prior year were less than the statewide average or if the school district's district cost differential in the current year is less than the prior year. The total allocation shall be distributed to eligible school districts as follows:

~~(a) Using the most recent prior year FEFP calculation for each eligible school district, subtract the total school district funds per FTE from the state average funds per FTE, not including any adjustments made pursuant to paragraph (17)(b). The resulting funds per FTE difference, or a portion thereof, as designated in the General Appropriations Act, shall then be multiplied by the school district's total unweighted FTE.~~

~~(b) Multiply the absolute value of the difference between the eligible school district's current year district cost differential and the prior year district cost differential by a hold harmless factor as designated in the General Appropriations Act. The result is the district cost differential hold harmless index. Multiply the index by the eligible school district's weighted FTE and by the base student allocation as designated in the General Appropriations Act.~~

~~(c) For each district, select the greater of the amounts calculated in paragraphs (a) and (b) and upon summation, if the total amount is~~

~~greater than the amount included in the General Appropriations Act, the allocation shall be prorated to the appropriation amount based on each participating school district's share.~~

~~This subsection expires July 1, 2022.~~

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2022.

Conference Committee Amendment (106720) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

17.41 Department of Financial Services Tobacco Settlement Clearing Trust Fund.—

(1) The Department of Financial Services Tobacco Settlement Clearing Trust Fund, which shall be referred to as the "Lawton Chiles Trust Fund," is created within that department.

Section 2. Section 210.201, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

210.201 H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute facilities; establishment; funding.—

(1) The Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute shall construct, furnish, and equip, and shall covenant to complete, the cancer research and clinical and related facilities of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute funded with proceeds from the Cigarette Tax Collection Trust Fund pursuant to s. 210.20. Moneys transferred to the Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute pursuant to s. 210.20 may be used to secure financing to pay costs related to constructing, furnishing, equipping, operating, and maintaining cancer research and clinical and related facilities; furnishing, equipping, operating, and maintaining other leased or owned properties; and paying costs incurred in connection with purchasing, financing, operating, and maintaining such equipment, facilities, and properties as provided in s. 210.20. Such financing may include the issuance of tax-exempt bonds or other forms of indebtedness by a local authority, municipality, or county pursuant to parts II and III of chapter 159. Such bonds shall not constitute state bonds for purposes of s. 11, Art. VII of the State Constitution, but shall constitute bonds of a "local agency," as defined in s. 159.27(4). The cigarette tax dollars pledged to facilities pursuant to s. 210.20 may be replaced annually by the Legislature from tobacco litigation settlement proceeds.

(2) Beginning in the 2022-2023 fiscal year, and annually through the 2052-2053 fiscal year, the sum of $20 million is appropriated and shall be transferred to the Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute for construction and development of Moffitt's Pasco County life sciences park. Moneys transferred to the Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute pursuant to this subsection may be used to secure financing to pay costs related to the construction and development of Moffitt's Pasco County life sciences park. Such financing may include the issuance of tax-exempt bonds or other forms of indebtedness by a local authority, municipality, or county pursuant to parts II and III of chapter 159. Such bonds shall not constitute state bonds for purposes of s. 11, Art. VII of the State Constitution, but shall constitute bonds of a local agency as defined in s. 159.27(4).

Section 3. Paragraph (f) is added to subsection (7) of section 381.02035, Florida Statutes, to read:

381.02035 Canadian Prescription Drug Importation Program.—

(7) ELIGIBLE IMPORTERS.—The following entities may import prescription drugs from an eligible Canadian supplier under the program:

(f) A pharmacist or wholesaler employed by or under contract with a forensic facility, as defined in s. 916.106, that is managed by the Agency for Persons with Disabilities, for dispensing to clients treated in such facility.

Section 4. Section 381.915, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

381.915 ~~Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers Program.~~—

(1) This section may be cited as the "~~Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida NCI Cancer Centers Act.~~"

(2) ~~The Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers Program~~ is established to enhance the quality and competitiveness of cancer care in this state, further a statewide biomedical research strategy directly responsive to the health needs of Florida's citizens, and capitalize on the potential educational opportunities available to its students. The department shall make payments to Florida-based cancer centers recognized by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) at the National Institutes of Health as NCI-designated cancer centers or NCI-designated comprehensive cancer centers, and cancer centers working toward achieving NCI designation. The department shall distribute funds to participating cancer centers on a quarterly basis during each fiscal year for which an appropriation is made.

(3) On or before September 15 of each year, the department shall calculate an allocation fraction to be used for distributing funds to participating cancer centers. On or before the final business day of each quarter of the state fiscal year, the department shall distribute to each participating cancer center one-fourth of that cancer center's annual allocation calculated under subsection (6). The allocation fraction for each participating cancer center is based on the cancer center's tier-designated weight under subsection (4) multiplied by each of the following allocation factors: number of reportable cases, peer-review costs, and biomedical education and training. As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Biomedical education and training" means instruction that is offered to a student who is enrolled in a biomedical research program at an affiliated university as a medical student or a student in a master's or doctoral degree program, or who is a resident physician trainee or postdoctoral trainee in such program. An affiliated university biomedical research program must be accredited or approved by a nationally recognized agency and offered through an institution accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Full-time equivalency for trainees shall be prorated for training received in oncologic sciences and oncologic medicine.

(b) "Cancer center" means a freestanding center, a center situated within an academic institution, or a formal research-based consortium under centralized leadership that has achieved NCI designation or is prepared to achieve NCI designation by July 1, 2019.

(c) "Florida-based" means that a cancer center's actual or sought designated status is or would be recognized by the NCI as primarily located in Florida and not in another state.

(d) "Peer-review costs" means the total annual direct costs for peer-reviewed cancer-related research projects, consistent with reporting guidelines provided by the NCI, for the most recent annual reporting period available.

(e) "Reportable cases" means cases of cancer in which a cancer center is involved in the diagnosis, evaluation of the diagnosis, evaluation of the extent of cancer spread at the time of diagnosis, or administration of all or any part of the first course of therapy for the most recent annual reporting period available. Cases relating to patients enrolled in institutional or investigator-initiated interventional clinical trials shall be weighted at 1.2 relative to other cases weighted at 1.0. Determination of institutional or investigator-initiated interventional clinical trials must be consistent with reporting guidelines provided by the NCI.

(4) Tier designations and corresponding weights within the ~~Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers Program~~ are as follows:

(a) Tier 1: Florida-based NCI-designated comprehensive cancer centers, which shall be weighted at 1.5.

(b) Tier 2: Florida-based NCI-designated cancer centers, which shall be weighted at 1.25.

(c) Tier 3: Florida-based cancer centers seeking designation as either a NCI-designated cancer center or NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center, which shall be weighted at 1.0.

1. A cancer center shall meet the following minimum criteria to be considered eligible for Tier 3 designation in any given fiscal year:

a. Conducting cancer-related basic scientific research and cancer-related population scientific research;

b. Offering and providing the full range of diagnostic and treatment services on site, as determined by the Commission on Cancer of the American College of Surgeons;

c. Hosting or conducting cancer-related interventional clinical trials that are registered with the NCI's Clinical Trials Reporting Program;

d. Offering degree-granting programs or affiliating with universities through degree-granting programs accredited or approved by a nationally recognized agency and offered through the center or through the center in conjunction with another institution accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools;

e. Providing training to clinical trainees, medical trainees accredited by the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education or the American Osteopathic Association, and postdoctoral fellows recently awarded a doctorate degree; and

f. Having more than $5 million in annual direct costs associated with their total NCI peer-reviewed grant funding.

2. The General Appropriations Act or accompanying legislation may limit the number of cancer centers which shall receive Tier 3 designations or provide additional criteria for such designation.

3. A cancer center's participation in Tier 3 may not extend beyond June 30, 2024.

4. A cancer center that qualifies as a designated Tier 3 center under the criteria provided in subparagraph 1. by July 1, 2014, is authorized to pursue NCI designation as a cancer center or a comprehensive cancer center until June 30, 2024.

(5) The department shall use the following formula to calculate a participating cancer center's allocation fraction:

Where:

CAF=A cancer center's allocation fraction.

CRC=A cancer center's tier-weighted reportable cases.

TCRC=The total tier-weighted reportable cases for all cancer centers.

CPC=A cancer center's tier-weighted peer-review costs.

TCPC=The total tier-weighted peer-review costs for all cancer centers.

CBE=A cancer center's tier-weighted biomedical education and training.

TCBE=The total tier-weighted biomedical education and training for all cancer centers.

(6) A cancer center's annual allocation shall be calculated by multiplying the funds appropriated for the Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers Program in the General Appropriations Act by that cancer center's allocation fraction. If the calculation results in an annual allocation that is less than $16 million, that cancer center's annual allocation shall be increased to a sum equaling $16 million, with the additional funds being provided proportionally from the annual allocations calculated for the other participating cancer centers.

(7) Beginning July 1, 2017, and every 3 years thereafter, the department, in conjunction with participating cancer centers, shall submit a report to the Cancer Control and Research Advisory Council on specific metrics relating to cancer mortality and external funding for cancer-related research in the state. If a cancer center does not endorse this report or produce an equivalent independent report, the cancer center shall be suspended from the program for 1 year. The report must include:

(a) An analysis of trending age-adjusted cancer mortality rates in the state, which must include, at a minimum, overall age-adjusted mortality rates for cancer statewide and age-adjusted mortality rates by age group, geographic region, and type of cancer, which must include, at a minimum:

1. Lung cancer.
2. Pancreatic cancer.
3. Sarcoma.
4. Melanoma.
5. Leukemia and myelodysplastic syndromes.
6. Brain cancer.

(b) Identification of trends in overall federal funding, broken down by institutional source, for cancer-related research in the state.

(c) A list and narrative description of collaborative grants and interinstitutional collaboration among participating cancer centers, a comparison of collaborative grants in proportion to the grant totals for each cancer center, a catalogue of retreats and progress seed grants using state funds, and targets for collaboration in the future and reports on progress regarding such targets where appropriate.

(8) This section is subject to annual appropriation by the Legislature.

(9) The department may adopt rules to administer this section.

Section 5. Paragraph (i) of subsection (5) of section 394.9082, Florida Statutes, is amended, and paragraphs (k) and (l) are added to subsection (4) of that section, to read:

394.9082 Behavioral health managing entities.—

(4) CONTRACT WITH MANAGING ENTITIES.—

(k) The department's contracts with managing entities must be made available in a publicly accessible format on the department's website.

(l) Every 2 years, the department shall conduct a comprehensive, multiyear review of the revenues, expenditures, and financial positions of managing entities covering the most recent 2 consecutive fiscal years. The review must include a comprehensive system-of-care analysis. The department shall submit the review to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by November 1 of every other year, beginning in 2023.

(5) MANAGING ENTITY DUTIES.—A managing entity shall:

(i) Develop a comprehensive provider network of qualified providers to deliver behavioral health services. The managing entity is not required to competitively procure network providers but shall publicize opportunities to join the provider network and evaluate providers in the network to determine if they may remain in the network. A managing entity must provide notice to a provider before the provider is removed from the network. The managing entity shall publish these processes on its website. The managing entity shall ensure continuity of care for clients if a provider ceases to provide a service or leaves the network.

Section 6. Present subsections (4) through (11) of section 409.814, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (5) through (12), respectively, a new subsection (4) is added to that section, and present subsections (5), (6), and (10) are amended, to read:

409.814 Eligibility.—A child who has not reached 19 years of age whose family income is equal to or below 200 percent of the federal poverty level is eligible for the Florida Kidcare program as provided in this section. If an enrolled individual is determined to be ineligible for coverage, he or she must be immediately disenrolled from the respective Florida Kidcare program component.

(4) A Title XXI-funded child who reaches 19 years of age is eligible for continued Title XXI-funded coverage for the duration of a pregnancy and the postpartum period consisting of the 12-month period beginning on the last day of a pregnancy, if such pregnancy or postpartum period begins prior to the child reaching 19 years of age, and if the child is ineligible for Medicaid.

(6)(5) A child who is otherwise eligible for the Florida Kidcare program and who has a preexisting condition that prevents coverage under another insurance plan as described in paragraph (5)(a)(4)(a) which would have disqualified the child for the Florida Kidcare program if the child were able to enroll in the plan is eligible for Florida Kidcare coverage when enrollment is possible.

(7)(6) A child whose family income is above 200 percent of the federal poverty level or a child who is excluded under the provisions of subsection (5)(4) may participate in the Florida Kidcare program as provided in s. 409.8132 or, if the child is ineligible for Medikids by reason of age, in the Florida Healthy Kids program, subject to the following:

(a) The family is not eligible for premium assistance payments and must pay the full cost of the premium, including any administrative costs.

(b) The board of directors of the Florida Healthy Kids Corporation may offer a reduced benefit package to these children in order to limit program costs for such families.

(11)(10) Subject to paragraph (5)(a)(4)(a), the Florida Kidcare program shall withhold benefits from an enrollee if the program obtains evidence that the enrollee is no longer eligible, submitted incorrect or fraudulent information in order to establish eligibility, or failed to provide verification of eligibility. The applicant or enrollee shall be notified that because of such evidence program benefits will be withheld unless the applicant or enrollee contacts a designated representative of the program by a specified date, which must be within 10 working days after the date of notice, to discuss and resolve the matter. The program shall make every effort to resolve the matter within a timeframe that will not cause benefits to be withheld from an eligible enrollee.

Section 7. Subsection (2) of section 409.908, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.908 Reimbursement of Medicaid providers.—Subject to specific appropriations, the agency shall reimburse Medicaid providers, in accordance with state and federal law, according to methodologies set forth in the rules of the agency and in policy manuals and handbooks incorporated by reference therein. These methodologies may include fee schedules, reimbursement methods based on cost reporting, negotiated fees, competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, and other mechanisms the agency considers efficient and effective for purchasing services or goods on behalf of recipients. If a provider is reimbursed based on cost reporting and submits a cost report late and that cost report would have been used to set a lower reimbursement rate for a rate semester, then the provider's rate for that semester shall be retroactively calculated using the new cost report, and full payment at the recalculated rate shall be effected retroactively. Medicare-granted extensions for filing cost reports, if applicable, shall also apply to Medicaid cost reports. Payment for Medicaid compensable services made on behalf of Medicaid-eligible persons is subject to the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act or chapter 216. Further, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent or limit the agency from adjusting fees, reimbursement rates, lengths of stay, number of visits, or number of services, or making any other adjustments necessary to comply with the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act, provided the adjustment is consistent with legislative intent.

(2)(a)1. Reimbursement to nursing homes licensed under part II of chapter 400 and state-owned-and-operated intermediate care facilities for the developmentally disabled licensed under part VIII of chapter 400 must be made prospectively.

2. Unless otherwise limited or directed in the General Appropriations Act, reimbursement to hospitals licensed under part I of chapter 395 for the provision of swing-bed nursing home services must be made on the basis of the average statewide nursing home payment, and reimbursement to a hospital licensed under part I of chapter 395 for the provision of skilled nursing services must be made on the basis of the average nursing home payment for those services in the county in which the hospital is located. When a hospital is located in a county that does not have any community nursing homes, reimbursement shall be determined by averaging the nursing home payments in counties that surround the county in which the hospital is located. Reimbursement to hospitals, including Medicaid payment of Medicare copayments, for skilled nursing services shall be limited to 30 days, unless a prior authorization has been obtained from the agency. Medicaid reimbursement may be extended by the agency beyond 30 days, and approval must be based upon verification by the patient's physician that the patient requires short-term rehabilitative and recuperative services only, in which case an extension of no more than 15 days may be approved. Reimbursement to a hospital licensed under part I of chapter 395 for the temporary provision of skilled nursing services to nursing home residents who have been displaced as the result of a natural disaster or other emergency may not exceed the average county nursing home payment for those services in the county in which the hospital is located and is limited to the period of time which the agency considers necessary for continued placement of the nursing home residents in the hospital.

(b) Subject to any limitations or directions in the General Appropriations Act, the agency shall establish and implement a state Title XIX Long-Term Care Reimbursement Plan for nursing home care in order to provide care and services in conformance with the applicable state and federal laws, rules, regulations, and quality and safety standards and to ensure that individuals eligible for medical assistance have reasonable geographic access to such care.

1. The agency shall amend the long-term care reimbursement plan and cost reporting system to create direct care and indirect care sub-components of the patient care component of the per diem rate. These two subcomponents together shall equal the patient care component of the per diem rate. Separate prices shall be calculated for each patient care subcomponent, initially based on the September 2016 rate setting cost reports and subsequently based on the most recently audited cost report used during a rebasing year. The direct care subcomponent of the per diem rate for any providers still being reimbursed on a cost basis shall be limited by the cost-based class ceiling, and the indirect care subcomponent may be limited by the lower of the cost-based class ceiling, the target rate class ceiling, or the individual provider target. The ceilings and targets apply only to providers being reimbursed on a cost-based system. Effective October 1, 2018, a prospective payment methodology shall be implemented for rate setting purposes with the following parameters:

a. Peer Groups, including:

(I) North-SMMC Regions 1-9, less Palm Beach and Okeechobee Counties; and

(II) South-SMMC Regions 10-11, plus Palm Beach and Okeechobee Counties.

b. Percentage of Median Costs based on the cost reports used for September 2016 rate setting:

(I) Direct Care Costs 100 percent.

(II) Indirect Care Costs 92 percent.

(III) Operating Costs 86 percent.

c. Floors:

- (I) Direct Care Component 95 percent.
 - (II) Indirect Care Component 92.5 percent.
 - (III) Operating Component None.
- d. Pass-through Payments Real Estate and Personal Property Taxes and Property Insurance.
- e. Quality Incentive Program Payment Pool 6 percent of September 2016 non-property related payments of included facilities.
- f. Quality Score Threshold to Quality for Quality Incentive Payment 20th percentile of included facilities.
- g. Fair Rental Value System Payment Parameters:
- (I) Building Value per Square Foot based on 2018 RS Means.
 - (II) Land Valuation 10 percent of Gross Building value.
 - (III) Facility Square Footage Actual Square Footage.
 - (IV) Moveable Equipment Allowance $8,000 per bed.
 - (V) Obsolescence Factor 1.5 percent.
 - (VI) Fair Rental Rate of Return 8 percent.
 - (VII) Minimum Occupancy 90 percent.
 - (VIII) Maximum Facility Age 40 years.
 - (IX) Minimum Square Footage per Bed 350.
 - (X) Maximum Square Footage for Bed 500.
 - (XI) Minimum Cost of a renovation/replacements . . . $500 per bed.
- h. Ventilator Supplemental payment of $200 per Medicaid day of 40,000 ventilator Medicaid days per fiscal year.
2. The direct care subcomponent shall include salaries and benefits of direct care staff providing nursing services including registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, and certified nursing assistants who deliver care directly to residents in the nursing home facility, allowable therapy costs, and dietary costs. This excludes nursing administration, staff development, the staffing coordinator, and the administrative portion of the minimum data set and care plan coordinators. The direct care subcomponent also includes medically necessary dental care, vision care, hearing care, and podiatric care.
3. All other patient care costs shall be included in the indirect care cost subcomponent of the patient care per diem rate, including complex medical equipment, medical supplies, and other allowable ancillary costs. Costs may not be allocated directly or indirectly to the direct care subcomponent from a home office or management company.
4. On July 1 of each year, the agency shall report to the Legislature direct and indirect care costs, including average direct and indirect care costs per resident per facility and direct care and indirect care salaries and benefits per category of staff member per facility.
5. Every fourth year, the agency shall rebase nursing home prospective payment rates to reflect changes in cost based on the most recently audited cost report for each participating provider.
6. A direct care supplemental payment may be made to providers whose direct care hours per patient day are above the 80th percentile and who provide Medicaid services to a larger percentage of Medicaid patients than the state average.
7. For the period beginning on October 1, 2018, and ending on September 30, 2021, the agency shall reimburse providers the greater of their September 2016 cost-based rate or their prospective payment rate. Effective October 1, 2021, the agency shall reimburse providers the greater of 95 percent of their cost-based rate or their rebased prospective payment rate, using the most recently audited cost report for each facility. This subparagraph shall expire September 30, 2023.

8. Pediatric, Florida Department of Veterans Affairs, and government-owned facilities are exempt from the pricing model established in this subsection and shall remain on a cost-based prospective payment system. Effective October 1, 2018, the agency shall set rates for all facilities remaining on a cost-based prospective payment system using each facility's most recently audited cost report, eliminating retroactive settlements.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the reimbursement plan achieve the goal of providing access to health care for nursing home residents who require large amounts of care while encouraging diversion services as an alternative to nursing home care for residents who can be served within the community. The agency shall base the establishment of any maximum rate of payment, whether overall or component, on the available moneys as provided for in the General Appropriations Act. The agency may base the maximum rate of payment on the results of scientifically valid analysis and conclusions derived from objective statistical data pertinent to the particular maximum rate of payment. The agency shall base the rates of payments in accordance with the minimum wage requirements as provided in the General Appropriations Act.

20.435 Department of Health; trust funds.—The following trust funds shall be administered by the Department of Health:

- (7) Biomedical Research Trust Fund.

(a) Funds to be credited to the trust fund shall consist of funds appropriated by the Legislature. Funds shall be used for the purposes of the James and Esther King Biomedical Research Program, the ~~Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers~~ Program, and the William G. "Bill" Bankhead, Jr., and David Coley Cancer Research Program as specified in ss. 215.5602, 288.955, 381.915, and 381.922. The trust fund is exempt from the service charges imposed by s. 215.20.

210.20 Employees and assistants; distribution of funds.—

(2) As collections are received by the division from such cigarette taxes, it shall pay the same into a trust fund in the State Treasury designated "Cigarette Tax Collection Trust Fund" which shall be paid and distributed as follows:

(c) Beginning July 1, 2017, and continuing through June 30, 2033, the division shall from month to month certify to the Chief Financial Officer the amount derived from the cigarette tax imposed by s. 210.02, less the service charges provided for in s. 215.20 and less 0.9 percent of the amount derived from the cigarette tax imposed by s. 210.02, which shall be deposited into the Alcoholic Beverage and Tobacco Trust Fund, specifying an amount equal to 1 percent of the net collections, not to exceed $3 million annually, and that amount shall be deposited into the Biomedical Research Trust Fund in the Department of Health. These funds are appropriated annually from the Biomedical Research Trust Fund for the advancement of cures for cancers afflicting pediatric populations through basic or applied research, including, but not limited to, clinical trials and nontoxic drug discovery. These funds are not included in the calculation for the distribution of funds pursuant to s. 381.915; however, these funds shall be distributed to cancer centers participating in the ~~Casey DeSantis Cancer Research Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers~~ Program in the same proportion as is allocated to each cancer center in accordance with s. 381.915 and are in addition to any funds distributed pursuant to that section.

SUMMARY OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ACTION

The Conference Committee Amendment for CS/HB 7071, relating to Taxation, provides for a number of tax reductions and other tax-related modifications designed to directly impact both families and businesses.

Several provisions related to sales tax are included in the amendment:

- A 14-day “back-to-school” tax holiday in July and August 2022 for certain clothing, school supplies, learning aids and puzzles, and personal computers; a 14-day “disaster preparedness” holiday in May and June of 2022 for specified disaster preparedness supplies for families and their pets; a seven-day “Freedom Week” tax holiday in July for specified recreational items and activities; and a seven-day “Tool Time” tax holiday in September for tools and equipment needed in skilled trades.

- A two-year exemption for impact-resistant windows, doors, and garage doors for residential properties; a one-year exemption for babies’ and children’s clothing, shoes, and diapers; a one-year exemption for certain ENERGY STAR certified refrigerators, refrigerator-freezer combinations, water heaters, and clothes washers and dryers; and a three-month exemption for children’s books.
- A reduction in the sales tax on new mobile homes from six percent to three percent.
- An exemption from the sales tax on admissions to Formula One Grand Prix races, World Cup matches, and Daytona 500 events.
- An exemption for machinery and equipment used in the production of green hydrogen.
- An exemption for trailers and fencing used on farms.
- Authorization to use school capital outlay surtax for the purchase, lease, and maintenance of school buses.

For property taxes, the amendment:

- Provides property tax relief for homestead property rendered uninhabitable for 30 days or more due to a catastrophic event in 2023 or thereafter, and provides relief from all assessments to owners affected by the sudden and unforeseen collapse of a residential improvement.
- Clarifies the start date for calculating the 15-year waiting period for an affordable housing exemption.
- Increases the value of property exempt from ad valorem taxation for residents who are widows, widowers, blind, or totally and permanently disabled from $500 to $5,000.
- Modifies the assessment methodology for land used in the production of aquaculture products.
- Updates the qualifying operations for the deployed servicemember tax exemption.
- Clarifies the calculation of the homestead exemption for classified use properties that contain a homestead.
- Increases the amount of discretionary school tax that can be used for certain vehicles and property and casualty insurance expenses.

For corporate income tax, the amendment:

- Adopts the Internal Revenue Code in effect on January 1, 2022, to maintain conformity with federal provisions;
- Adds flexibility in the timing of the New Worlds Reading Initiative and Strong Families Tax Credit programs; increases the annual cap of the Strong Families Tax Credit to $10 million; and, beginning in Fiscal Year 2023-2024, increases the annual cap on the New Worlds Reading Initiative Tax Credit to $60 million;
- Provides an additional $5 million annually for the Community Contribution Tax Credit program; and
- Creates a tax credit for investment in short line railroads.

The amendment also:

- Exempts certain loans related to emergencies from documentary stamp taxes.
- Limits restrictions on citizens’ access to family housing funds to requirements imposed by lenders.
- Creates a one-month motor fuel tax holiday to reduce motor fuel taxes in October 2022.

The Revenue Estimating Conference met on February 18, 2022, to consider the potential revenue impacts of the amendment; however, official estimates are pending for several provisions. Staff estimates the amendment will have significant negative indeterminate impacts on General Revenue (positive indeterminate recurring), state trust (negative indeterminate recurring), and local government revenues (negative indeterminate recurring) in Fiscal Year 2022-2023.

This amendment may be a county or municipality mandate requiring a two-thirds vote of the membership of the Legislature.

Conference Committee Amendment (876451) (with title amendment)—Remove everything after the enacting clause and insert:

125.0167 Discretionary surtax on documents; adoption; application of revenue.—

(5)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (3), of the discretionary surtax revenues collected by the Department of Revenue remaining after any deduction for administrative costs as provided in subsection (4), no less than 35 percent shall be used to provide homeownership assistance for low-income and moderate-income families, and no less than 35 percent shall be used for construction, rehabilitation, and purchase of rental housing units. The remaining amount may be allocated to provide for homeownership assistance or rental housing units, at the discretion of the county. Any funds allocated for homeownership assistance or rental housing units that are not committed at the end of the fiscal year shall be reallocated in subsequent years consistent with the provisions of this subsection, in that no less than 35 percent shall be reallocated to provide homeownership assistance for low-income and moderate-income families, and no less than 35 percent shall be reallocated for construction, rehabilitation, and purchase of rental housing units. The remaining amount of uncommitted funds may be reallocated at the discretion of the county within any of the categories established in this subsection.

(b) For purposes of this subsection, the term “homeownership assistance” means assisting low-income and moderate-income families in purchasing a home as their primary residence, including, but not limited to, reducing the cost of the home with below-market construction financing, the amount of down payment and closing costs paid by the borrower, or the mortgage payment to an affordable amount for the purchaser or using any other financial assistance measure set forth in s. 420.5088.

(c) A county may not impose any requirement as a condition to receiving any financial assistance on a borrower other than requiring proof that the borrower’s income does not exceed 140 percent of the area median income. In addition to the income eligibility requirement, borrowers may only be subject to loan qualifications of lenders licensed to provide mortgage financing as to the amount of the loan. A county may not create requirements that restrict participation by eligible borrowers.

193.4613 Agricultural lands used in production of aquaculture; assessment.—

(1) For purposes of this section, the terms “aquaculture” and “aquaculture products” have the same meanings as in s. 597.0015.

(2)(a) When proper application for agricultural assessment has been made and granted pursuant to s. 193.461, and the property owner requests assessment pursuant to this section, the assessment of land used in the production of aquaculture products shall be based solely on its agricultural use, consistent with the use factors specified in s. 193.461(6)(a), and assessed pursuant to paragraph (c).

(b) Notwithstanding any provision relating to annual assessments found in s. 192.042, the property appraiser shall rely on 5-year moving average data when utilizing the income methodology approach in an assessment of property used for agricultural purposes.

(c) For purposes of the income methodology approach to the assessment of land used in the production of aquaculture products, structures and equipment located on the property used for producing aquaculture products are considered a part of the average yield per acre and have no separately assessable contributory value.

(d) If a request for assessment under this section is granted, the property must be assessed as provided in this section for 10 years unless the ownership or use of the property changes. The property appraiser may not require annual application. The property appraiser may require the property owner to annually submit audited financial statements.

(e) In years in which proper application for agricultural assessment has not been made, the land shall be assessed under the provisions of s. 193.011.

Section 3. Section 193.4613, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, first applies to the 2023 ad valorem tax roll and applies to assessments made on or after January 1, 2023.

Section 4. Effective upon this act becoming a law, paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section 194.032, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a), the value adjustment board may meet prior to the approval of the assessment rolls by the Department of Revenue, but not earlier than July 1, to hear appeals pertaining to the denial by the property appraiser of exemptions, tax abatements under s. 197.318 and s. 197.3195, tax refunds under s. 197.319, agricultural and high-water recharge classifications, classifications as historic property used for commercial or certain non-profit purposes, and deferrals under subparagraphs (a)2., 3., and 4. In such event, however, the board may not certify any assessments under s. 193.122 until the Department of Revenue has approved the assessments in accordance with s. 193.1142 and all hearings have been held with respect to the particular parcel under appeal.

Section 5. Subsections (5), (6), and (7) of section 196.031, Florida Statutes, are renumbered as subsections (6), (7), and (8), respectively, and a new subsection (5) is added to that section to read:

(5) For the purpose of applying the exemptions in this section, the real property includes portions of the real property and contiguous real property assessed solely on the basis of character or use pursuant to s. 193.461 or s. 193.501, or assessed pursuant to s. 193.505.

Section 6. The amendments made by this act to s. 196.031, Florida Statutes, are intended to be remedial and clarifying in nature and apply retroactively, but do not provide a basis for an assessment of any tax or create a right to a refund of any tax paid before the effective date of this act. The amendments do not affect the provisions set forth in s. 193.155, Florida Statutes, limiting the application of that section only to the residence and curtilage.

Section 7. Paragraphs (k) through (q) of subsection (2) of section 196.173, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as paragraphs (j) through (p), respectively, present paragraph (j) of that subsection is amended, and new paragraphs (q) and (r) are added to that subsection, to read:

(2) The exemption is available to servicemembers who were deployed during the preceding calendar year on active duty outside the continental United States, Alaska, or Hawaii in support of any of the following military operations:

~~(j) Operation Observant Compass, which began in October 2011.~~

(q) Operation Enduring Freedom – Horn of Africa, which began in January 2015.

(r) European Reassurance Initiative/European Deterrence Initiative, which began in 2014.

The Department of Revenue shall notify all property appraisers and tax collectors in this state of the designated military operations.

Section 9. Application deadline for additional ad valorem tax exemption for specified deployments.—

(1) Notwithstanding the filing deadline specified in s. 196.173(6), Florida Statutes, for the 2022 ad valorem tax roll, the deadline for an applicant to file an application with the property appraiser for an additional ad valorem tax exemption under s. 196.173, Florida Statutes, is June 1, 2022.

(2) If an application is not timely filed under subsection (1), a property appraiser may grant the exemption if:

(a) The applicant files an application for the exemption on or before the 25th day after the property appraiser mails the notice required under s. 194.011(1), Florida Statutes;

(b) The applicant is qualified for the exemption; and

(c) The applicant produces sufficient evidence, as determined by the property appraiser, which demonstrates that the applicant was unable to apply for the exemption in a timely manner or otherwise demonstrates extenuating circumstances that warrant granting the exemption.

(3) If the property appraiser denies an application under subsection (2), the applicant may file, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), Florida Statutes, a petition with the value adjustment board which requests that the exemption be granted. Such petition must be filed on or before the 25th day after the property appraiser mails the notice required under s. 194.011(1), Florida Statutes. Notwithstanding s. 194.013, Florida Statutes, the eligible servicemember is not required to pay a filing fee for such petition. Upon reviewing the petition, the value adjustment board may grant the exemption if the applicant is qualified for the exemption and demonstrates extenuating circumstances, as determined by the board, which warrant granting the exemption.

(4) This section shall take effect upon this act becoming a law and applies to the 2022 ad valorem tax roll.

Section 10. Subsection (2) of section 196.1978, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

The date the property received a certificate of occupancy or a certificate of substantial completion, as applicable, allowing the property to be used as an affordable housing property that provides housing to natural persons or families meeting the extremely-low-income, very-low-income, or low-income limits specified in s. 420.0004.

Section 11. The amendments made by this act to s. 196.1978(2), Florida Statutes, first apply to the 2023 ad valorem tax roll.

196.202 Property of widows, widowers, blind persons, and persons totally and permanently disabled.—

(1) Property to the value of $5,000 ~~$500~~ of every widow, widower, blind person, or totally and permanently disabled person who is a bona fide resident of this state is exempt from taxation. As used in this section, the term “totally and permanently disabled person” means a person who is currently certified by a physician licensed in this state, by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs or its predecessor, or by the Social Security Administration to be totally and permanently disabled.

Section 13. The amendment made by this act to s. 196.202(1), Florida Statutes, first applies to the 2023 ad valorem tax roll.

(1) As used in this section, the term:

(a) “Catastrophic event” means an event of misfortune or calamity that renders one or more residential improvements uninhabitable. It does not include an event caused, directly or indirectly, by the property owner with the intent to damage or destroy the residential improvement.

(b) “Catastrophic event refund” means the product arrived at by multiplying the damage differential by the amount of timely paid taxes that were initially levied in the year in which the catastrophic event occurred.

(c) “Damage differential” means the product arrived at by multiplying the percent change in value by a ratio, the numerator of which is the number of days the residential improvement was rendered uninhabitable in the year in which the catastrophic event occurred, and the denominator of which is 365.

(d) “Percent change in value” means the difference between a residential parcel’s just value as of January 1 of the year in which the catastrophic event occurred and its postcatastrophic event just value expressed as a percentage of the parcel’s just value as of January 1 of the year in which the catastrophic event occurred.

(e) “Postcatastrophic event just value” means the just value of the residential parcel on January 1 of the year in which a catastrophic event occurred, reduced to reflect the just value of the residential parcel after the catastrophic event that rendered the residential improvement thereon uninhabitable and before any subsequent repairs. For purposes of this paragraph, a residential improvement that is uninhabitable has no value attached to it. The catastrophic event refund is determined only for purposes of calculating tax refunds for the year or years in which the residential improvement is uninhabitable as a result of the catastrophic event and does not determine a parcel’s just value as of January 1 each year.

(f) “Residential improvement” means real estate used and owned as a homestead as defined in s. 196.012(13) or nonhomestead residential property as defined in s. 193.1554(1). A residential improvement does not include a structure that is not essential to the use and occupancy of the residential dwelling or house, including, but not limited to, a detached utility building, detached carport, detached garage, bulkhead, fence, or swimming pool, and does not include land.

(g) “Uninhabitable” means the loss of use and occupancy of a residential improvement for the purpose for which it was constructed, as evidenced by documentation, including, but not limited to, utility bills, insurance information, contractors’ statements, building permit applications, or building inspection certificates of occupancy.

(2) If a residential improvement is rendered uninhabitable for at least 30 days due to a catastrophic event, taxes originally levied and paid for the year in which the catastrophic event occurred may be refunded in the following manner:

(a) The property owner must file an application for refund with the property appraiser:

1. If the residential improvement is restored to a habitable condition before December 1 of the year in which the catastrophic event occurred, no sooner than 30 days after the residential improvement that was rendered uninhabitable has been restored to a habitable condition; or

2. No later than March 1 of the year immediately following the catastrophic event.

The application for refund must be made on a form prescribed by the department and furnished by the property appraiser. The property appraiser may request supporting documentation be submitted along with the application, including, but not limited to, utility bills, insurance information, contractors’ statements, building permit applications, or building inspection certificates of occupancy, for purposes of determining conditions of uninhabitability and subsequent habitability following any repairs.

(b) The application for refund must identify the residential parcel upon which the residential improvement was rendered uninhabitable by a catastrophic event, the date on which the catastrophic event occurred, and the number of days the residential improvement was uninhabitable during the calendar year in which the catastrophic event occurred.

(c) The application for refund must be verified under oath and is subject to penalty of perjury.

(d) Upon receipt of an application for refund, the property appraiser must investigate the statements contained in the application to determine if the applicant is entitled to a refund of taxes. If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is not entitled to a refund, the applicant may file a petition with the value adjustment board, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), requesting that the refund be granted.

(e) If the property appraiser determines that the applicant is entitled to a refund, the property appraiser must issue an official written statement to the tax collector within 30 days after the determination, but no later than by April 1 of the year following the date on which the catastrophic event occurred, that provides:

1. The just value of the residential improvement as determined by the property appraiser on January 1 of the year in which the catastrophic event for which the applicant is claiming a refund occurred.

2. The number of days during the calendar year during which the residential improvement was uninhabitable.

3. The postcatastrophic event just value of the residential parcel as determined by the property appraiser.

4. The percent change in value applicable to the residential parcel.

(3) Upon receipt of the written statement from the property appraiser, the tax collector shall calculate the damage differential pursuant to this section and process a refund in an amount equal to the catastrophic event refund.

(4) Any person who is qualified to have his or her property taxes refunded under subsection (2) but fails to file an application by March 1 of the year immediately following the year in which the catastrophic event occurred may file an application for refund under this subsection and may file a petition with the value adjustment board, pursuant to s. 194.011(3), requesting that a refund under this subsection be granted. Such petition may be filed at any time during the taxable year on or before the 25th day following the mailing of the notice of proposed property taxes and non-ad valorem assessments by the property appraiser as provided in s. 194.011(1). Upon reviewing the petition, if the person is qualified to receive the refund under this subsection and demonstrates particular extenuating circumstances determined by the property appraiser or the value adjustment board to warrant granting a late application for refund, the property appraiser or the value adjustment board may grant a refund.

(5) By September 1 of each year, the tax collector shall notify:

(a) The department of the total reduction in taxes for all properties that qualified for a refund pursuant to this section for the year.

(b) The governing board of each affected local government of the reduction in such local government's taxes that occurred pursuant to this section.

(6) This section does not affect the requirements of s. 197.333.

Section 15. Section 197.319, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, first applies to the 2023 ad valorem tax roll.

(1) As used in this section, the term “residential improvement” means a multistory residential building that consists of at least 50 dwelling units.

(2) Each parcel owned and assessed as homestead property under s. 193.155 or as nonhomestead residential property under s. 193.1554 which is within a residential improvement that is destroyed due to a sudden and unforeseen collapse of the residential improvement or due to the subsequent demolition of the residential improvement after such collapse is eligible for an abatement of all taxes and non-ad valorem assessments for the year in which the destruction occurred if the property appraiser determines that the condition of the residential improvement on the January 1 immediately preceding the collapse was such that the residential improvement had no value due to a latent defect of the property not readily discernable by inspection.

(a) The property appraiser shall provide to the tax collector an official written statement that provides the information necessary for the tax collector to abate the taxes and non-ad valorem assessments for each parcel owner.

(b) For parcels meeting the requirements of this subsection, a parcel owner is not required to remit a payment, the property appraiser may not issue a notice of proposed property taxes pursuant to s. 200.069, and the tax collector may not issue a tax notice pursuant to s. 197.322. In lieu of the notice of proposed property taxes, the property appraiser must notify the taxpayer that all taxes and non-ad valorem assessments have been abated for the year in which the property was destroyed. If a parcel owner files a petition to the value adjustment board concerning the value of the parcel for the year of the destruction, the value adjustment board must dismiss the petition.

(3) For purposes of determining the assessed value under s. 193.155(8) of a new homestead established by an owner of a parcel within the destroyed residential improvement, the just value and assessed value of the destroyed parcel on the January 1 of the year preceding the year of the destruction must be used.

(4) Tax payments received by the tax collector for taxes and non-ad valorem assessments levied in the year of destruction on parcels meeting the requirements of subsection (2) are eligible for a refund upon application made to the tax collector. For purposes of this subsection, the parcel owner or the parcel owner's legal representative may apply for a refund.

(5) Section 197.319 does not apply to any parcel for which an abatement of taxes and non-ad valorem assessments is provided to a parcel owner pursuant to this section.

(6) This section is repealed December 31, 2023, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 17. Section 197.3195, Florida Statutes, as created by this act, applies retroactively to January 1, 2021. This section shall take effect upon this act becoming a law.

Section 18. Subsection (2) of section 201.25, Florida Statutes, is renumbered as subsection (3), and a new subsection (2) is added to that section to read:

201.25 Tax exemptions for certain loans.—There shall be exempt from all taxes imposed by this chapter:

(2) Any federal loan that is related to a state of emergency declared by executive order or proclamation of the Governor pursuant to s. 252.36.

Section 19. Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 212.04, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(2)(a) A tax may not be levied on:

1. Admissions to athletic or other events sponsored by elementary schools, junior high schools, middle schools, high schools, community colleges, public or private colleges and universities, deaf and blind schools, facilities of the youth services programs of the Department of Children and Families, and state correctional institutions if only student, faculty, or inmate talent is used. However, this exemption does not apply to admission to athletic events sponsored by a state university, and the proceeds of the tax collected on such admissions shall be retained and used by each institution to support women's athletics as provided in s. 1006.71(2)(c).

2. Dues, membership fees, and admission charges imposed by not-for-profit sponsoring organizations. To receive this exemption, the sponsoring organization must qualify as a not-for-profit entity under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

3. Admission charges to an event sponsored by a governmental entity, sports authority, or sports commission if held in a convention hall, exhibition hall, auditorium, stadium, theater, arena, civic center, performing arts center, or publicly owned recreational facility and if 100 percent of the risk of success or failure lies with the sponsor of the event and 100 percent of the funds at risk for the event belong to the sponsor, and student or faculty talent is not exclusively used. As used in this subparagraph, the terms “sports authority” and “sports commission” mean a nonprofit organization that is exempt from federal income tax under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and that contracts with a county or municipal government for the purpose of promoting and attracting sports-tourism events to the community with which it contracts.

4. An admission paid by a student, or on the student's behalf, to any required place of sport or recreation if the student's participation in the sport or recreational activity is required as a part of a program or activity sponsored by, and under the jurisdiction of, the student's educational institution if his or her attendance is as a participant and not as a spectator.

5. Admissions to the National Football League championship game or Pro Bowl; admissions to any semifinal game or championship game of a national collegiate tournament; admissions to a Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer, National Basketball Association, or National Hockey League all-star game; admissions to the Major League Baseball Home Run Derby held before the Major League Baseball All-Star Game; admissions to any FIFA World Cup match sanctioned by the Fédération Internationale de Football Association (FIFA), including any qualifying match held up to 12 months before the FIFA World Cup matches; admissions to any Formula One Grand Prix race sanctioned by Fédération Internationale de l'Automobile, including any qualifying or support races held at the circuit up to 72 hours before the grand prix race; admissions to the Daytona 500 sanctioned by the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, including any qualifying or support races held at the same track up to 72 hours before the race; or admissions to National Basketball Association all-star events produced by the National Basketball Association and held at a facility such as an arena, convention center, or municipal facility.

6. A participation fee or sponsorship fee imposed by a governmental entity as described in s. 212.08(6) for an athletic or recreational program if the governmental entity by itself, or in conjunction with an organization exempt under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, sponsors, administers, plans, supervises, directs, and controls the athletic or recreational program.

7. Admissions to live theater, live opera, or live ballet productions in this state which are sponsored by an organization that has received a determination from the Internal Revenue Service that the organization is exempt from federal income tax under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, if the organization actively parti- cipates in planning and conducting the event, is responsible for the safety and success of the event, is organized for the purpose of sponsoring live theater, live opera, or live ballet productions in this state, has more than 10,000 subscribing members and has among the stated purposes in its charter the promotion of arts education in the communities it serves, and will receive at least 20 percent of the net profits, if any, of the events the organization sponsors and will bear the risk of at least 20 percent of the losses, if any, from the events it sponsors if the organization employs other persons as agents to provide services in connection with a sponsored event. Before March 1 of each year, such organization may apply to the department for a certificate of exemption for admissions to such events sponsored in this state by the organization during the immediately following state fiscal year. The application must state the total dollar amount of admissions receipts collected by the organization or its agents from such events in this state sponsored by the organization or its agents in the year immediately preceding the year in which the organization applies for the exemption. Such organization shall receive the exemption only to the extent of $1.5 million multiplied by the ratio that such receipts bear to the total of such receipts of all organizations applying for the exemption in such year; however, such exemption granted to any organization may not exceed 6 percent of such admissions receipts collected by the organization or its agents in the year immediately preceding the year in which the organization applies for the exemption. Each organization receiving the exemption shall report each month to the department the total admissions receipts collected from such events sponsored by the organization during the preceding month and shall remit to the department an amount equal to 6 percent of such receipts reduced by any amount remaining under the exemption. Tickets for such events sold by such organizations may not reflect the tax otherwise imposed under this section.

8. Entry fees for participation in freshwater fishing tournaments.
9. Participation or entry fees charged to participants in a game, race, or other sport or recreational event if spectators are charged a taxable admission to such event.
10. Admissions to any postseason collegiate football game sanctioned by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.
11. Admissions to and membership fees for gun clubs. For purposes of this subparagraph, the term "gun club" means an organization whose primary purpose is to offer its members access to one or more shooting ranges for target or skeet shooting.

Section 20. Paragraph (n) is added to subsection (1) of section 212.05, Florida Statutes, to read:

212.05 Sales, storage, use tax.—It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that every person is exercising a taxable privilege who engages in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail in this state, including the business of making or facilitating remote sales; who rents or furnishes any of the things or services taxable under this chapter; or who stores for use or consumption in this state any item or article of tangible personal property as defined herein and who leases or rents such property within the state.

(1) For the exercise of such privilege, a tax is levied on each taxable transaction or incident, which tax is due and payable as follows:

(n) At the rate of 3 percent of the sales price on the retail sale of a new mobile home. As used in this paragraph, the term "new mobile home" has the same meaning as in s. 319.001.

Section 21. Paragraph (c) of subsection (6) of section 212.055, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

212.055 Discretionary sales surtaxes; legislative intent; authorization and use of proceeds.—It is the legislative intent that any authorization for imposition of a discretionary sales surtax shall be published in the Florida Statutes as a subsection of this section, irrespective of the duration of the levy. Each enactment shall specify the types of counties authorized to levy; the rate or rates which may be imposed; the maximum length of time the surtax may be imposed, if any; the procedure which must be followed to secure voter approval, if required; the purpose for which the proceeds may be expended; and such other requirements as the Legislature may provide. Taxable transactions and administrative procedures shall be as provided in s. 212.054.

(6) SCHOOL CAPITAL OUTLAY SURTAX.—

(c) The resolution providing for the imposition of the surtax must set forth a plan for use of the surtax proceeds for fixed capital expenditures or fixed capital costs associated with the construction, reconstruction, or improvement of school facilities and campuses which have a useful life expectancy of 5 or more years, and any land acquisition, land improvement, design, and engineering costs related thereto, or any purchase, lease-purchase, lease, or maintenance of school buses, as defined in s. 1006.25, which have a life expectancy of 5 years or more. Additionally, the plan shall include the costs of retrofitting and providing for technology implementation, including hardware and software, for the various sites within the school district. Surtax revenues may be used to service bond indebtedness to finance projects authorized by this subsection, and any interest accrued thereto may be held in trust to finance such projects. Neither the proceeds of the surtax nor any interest accrued thereto shall be used for operational expenses. Surtax revenues shared with charter schools shall be expended by the charter school in a manner consistent with the allowable uses set forth in s. 1013.62(4). All revenues and expenditures shall be accounted for in a charter school's monthly or quarterly financial statement pursuant to s. 1002.33(9). The eligibility of a charter school to receive funds under this subsection shall be determined in accordance with s. 1013.62(1). If a school's charter is not renewed or is terminated and the school is dissolved under the provisions of law under which the school was organized, any unencumbered funds received under this subsection shall revert to the sponsor.

Section 22. The additional uses of surtax proceeds authorized by the amendments made by this act to s. 212.055(6)(c), Florida Statutes, may apply to a surtax in effect on the date this act becomes a law only to the extent such use was authorized in the original referendum adopting the surtax or is authorized pursuant to a subsequent resolution conditioned to take effect only upon approval of a majority vote of the electors of the county voting in a referendum.

Section 23. Paragraph (b) of subsection (3), paragraphs (a), (c), and (p) of subsection (5), and paragraph (b) of subsection (7) of section 212.08, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (ppp) is added to subsection (7) of that section, to read:

212.08 Sales, rental, use, consumption, distribution, and storage tax; specified exemptions.—The sale at retail, the rental, the use, the consumption, the distribution, and the storage to be used or consumed in this state of the following are hereby specifically exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter.

(3) EXEMPTIONS; CERTAIN FARM EQUIPMENT.—

(b) The tax may not be imposed on ~~that portion of the sales price below $20,000 for a trailer weighing 12,000 pounds or less and~~ purchased by a farmer for exclusive use in agricultural production or to transport farm products from his or her farm to the place where the farmer transfers ownership of the farm products to another. This exemption is not forfeited by using a trailer to transport the farmer's farm equipment. The exemption provided under this paragraph does not apply to the lease or rental of a trailer.

(5) EXEMPTIONS; ACCOUNT OF USE.—

(a) Items in agricultural use and certain nets.—There are exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter nets designed and used exclusively by commercial fisheries; disinfectants, fertilizers, insecticides, pesticides, herbicides, fungicides, and weed killers used for application on crops or groves, including commercial nurseries and home vegetable gardens, used in dairy barns or on poultry farms for the purpose of protecting poultry or livestock, or used directly on poultry or livestock; animal health products that are administered to, applied to, or consumed by livestock or poultry to alleviate pain or cure or prevent sickness, disease, or suffering, including, but not limited to, antiseptics, absorbent cotton, gauze for bandages, lotions, vaccines, vitamins, and worm remedies; aquaculture health products that are used by aquaculture producers, as defined in s. 597.0015, to prevent or treat fungi, bacteria, and parasitic diseases; portable containers or movable receptacles in which portable containers are placed, used for processing farm products; field and garden seeds, including flower seeds; nursery stock, seedlings, cuttings, or other propagative material purchased for growing stock; seeds, seedlings, cuttings, and plants used to produce food for human consumption; cloth, plastic, and other similar materials used for shade, mulch, or protection from frost or insects on a farm; hog wire and barbed wire fencing, including gates and materials used to construct or repair such fencing, used in agricultural production on lands classified as agricultural lands under s. 193.461; stakes used by a farmer to support plants during agricultural production; generators used on poultry farms; and liquefied petroleum gas or other fuel used to heat a structure in which started pullets or broilers are raised; however, such exemption is not allowed unless the purchaser or lessee signs a certificate stating that the item to be exempted is for the exclusive use designated herein. Also exempt are cellophane wrappers, glue for tin and glass (apiarists), mailing cases for honey, shipping cases, window cartons, and baling wire and twine used for baling hay, when used by a farmer to contain, produce, or process an agricultural commodity.

(c) Machinery and equipment used in production of electrical or steam energy.—

1. The purchase of machinery and equipment for use at a fixed location which machinery and equipment are necessary in the production of electrical or steam energy resulting from the burning of hydrogen or boiler fuels other than residual oil is exempt from the tax imposed by this chapter. Such electrical or steam energy must be primarily for use in manufacturing, processing, compounding, or producing for sale items of tangible personal property in this state. Use of a de minimis amount of residual fuel to facilitate the burning of nonresidual fuel shall not reduce the exemption otherwise available under this paragraph.

2. In facilities where machinery and equipment are necessary to burn hydrogen, or both residual and nonresidual fuels, the exemption shall be prorated. Such proration shall be based upon the production of electrical or steam energy from nonresidual fuels and hydrogen as a percentage of electrical or steam energy from all fuels. If it is determined that 15 percent or less of all electrical or steam energy generated was produced by burning residual fuel, the full exemption shall apply. Purchasers claiming a partial exemption shall obtain such exemption by refund of taxes paid, or as otherwise provided in the department's rules.

3. The department may adopt rules that provide for implementation of this exemption. Purchasers of machinery and equipment qualifying for the exemption provided in this paragraph shall furnish the vendor with an affidavit stating that the item or items to be exempted are for the use designated herein. Any person furnishing a false affidavit to the vendor for the purpose of evading payment of any tax imposed under this chapter shall be subject to the penalty set forth in s. 212.085 and as otherwise provided by law. Purchasers with self-accrual authority shall maintain all documentation necessary to prove the exempt status of purchases.

(p) Community contribution tax credit for donations.—

1. Authorization.—Persons who are registered with the department under s. 212.18 to collect or remit sales or use tax and who make donations to eligible sponsors are eligible for tax credits against their state sales and use tax liabilities as provided in this paragraph:

a. The credit shall be computed as 50 percent of the person's approved annual community contribution.

b. The credit shall be granted as a refund against state sales and use taxes reported on returns and remitted in the 12 months preceding the date of application to the department for the credit as required in sub-subparagraph 3.c. If the annual credit is not fully used through such refund because of insufficient tax payments during the applicable 12-month period, the unused amount may be included in an application for a refund made pursuant to sub-subparagraph 3.c. in subsequent years against the total tax payments made for such year. Carryover credits may be applied for a 3-year period without regard to any time limitation that would otherwise apply under s. 215.26.

c. A person may not receive more than $200,000 in annual tax credits for all approved community contributions made in any one year.

d. All proposals for the granting of the tax credit require the prior approval of the Department of Economic Opportunity.

e. The total amount of tax credits which may be granted for all programs approved under this paragraph and ss. 220.183 and 624.5105 is ~~$14.5 million in the 2022-2023 fiscal year and $12.5 million in the 2018-2019 fiscal year, $13.5 million in the 2019-2020 fiscal year, and $10.5 million~~ in each fiscal year thereafter for projects that provide housing opportunities for persons with special needs or homeownership opportunities for low-income households or very-low-income households and ~~$4.5~~ ~~$2.5~~ million in the 2022-2023 fiscal year and in each fiscal year thereafter for all other projects. As used in this paragraph, the term "person with special needs" has the same meaning as in s. 420.0004 and the terms "low-income person," "low-income household," "very-low-income person," and "very-low-income household" have the same meanings as in s. 420.9071.

f. A person who is eligible to receive the credit provided in this paragraph, s. 220.183, or s. 624.5105 may receive the credit only under one section of the person's choice.

2. Eligibility requirements.—

a. A community contribution by a person must be in the following form:

(I) Cash or other liquid assets;

(II) Real property, including 100 percent ownership of a real property holding company;

(III) Goods or inventory; or

(IV) Other physical resources identified by the Department of Economic Opportunity.

For purposes of this sub-subparagraph, the term "real property holding company" means a Florida entity, such as a Florida limited liability company, that is wholly owned by the person; is the sole owner of real property, as defined in s. 192.001(12), located in the state; is disregarded as an entity for federal income tax purposes pursuant to 26 C.F.R. s. 301.7701-3(b)(1)(ii); and at the time of contribution to an eligible sponsor, has no material assets other than the real property and any other property that qualifies as a community contribution.

b. All community contributions must be reserved exclusively for use in a project. As used in this sub-subparagraph, the term "project" means activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing that is affordable to low-income households or very-low-income households; designed to provide housing opportunities for persons with special needs; designed to provide commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities; or designed to improve entrepreneurial and job-development opportunities for low-income persons. A project may be the investment necessary to increase access to high-speed broadband capability in a rural community that had an enterprise zone designated pursuant to chapter 290 as of May 1, 2015, including projects that result in improvements to communications assets that are owned by a business. A project may include the provision of museum educational programs and materials that are directly related to a project approved between January 1, 1996, and December 31, 1999, and located in an area which was in an enterprise zone designated pursuant to s. 290.0065 as of May 1, 2015. This paragraph does not preclude projects that propose to construct or rehabilitate housing for low-income households or very-low-income households on scattered sites or housing opportunities for persons with special needs. With respect to housing, contributions may be used to pay the following eligible special needs, low-income, and very-low-income housing-related activities:

c. The project must be undertaken by an “eligible sponsor,” which includes:

- (XI) Units of local government;
- (XII) Units of state government; or
- (XIII) Any other agency that the Department of Economic Opportunity designates by rule.

A contributing person may not have a financial interest in the eligible sponsor.

d. The project must be located in an area which was in an enterprise zone designated pursuant to chapter 290 as of May 1, 2015, or a Front Porch Florida Community, unless the project increases access to high-speed broadband capability in a rural community that had an enterprise zone designated pursuant to chapter 290 as of May 1, 2015, but is physically located outside the designated rural zone boundaries. (II) If, during the first 10 business days of the state fiscal year, eligible tax credit applications for projects other than those that provide housing opportunities for persons with special needs or homeownership opportunities for low-income households or very-low-income households are received for less than the annual tax credits available for those projects, the Department of Economic Opportunity shall grant tax credits for those applications and shall grant remaining tax credits on a first-come, first-served basis for subsequent eligible applications received before the end of the state fiscal year. If, during the first 10 business days of the state fiscal year, eligible tax credit applications for projects other than those that provide housing opportunities for persons with special needs or homeownership opportunities for low-income households or very-low-income households are received for more than the annual tax credits available for those projects, the Department of Economic Opportunity shall grant the tax credits for those applications on a pro rata basis.
