PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Gerard Duncan, Prayers by Faith Outreach Ministries, Gainesville:

Let us pray. Most sovereign and wonderful Creator, O God, how wonderful and excellent is your name in all of the earth. We appreciate this day, as you have shown us, you have set us on a right path. We petition you with prayers and supplications to make our requests made known unto you. You give life to everyone, and may we always be grateful, O God of excellence, that you always and forever have, and always will be faithful and true; and we shall always depend on you in all ways. We are hoping, as you can hear, this council provides wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of your holy presence. We pray, O God, as we continue to gather, as they will discuss and agree on ways to love our neighbors, and do the work that pleases you. May their hearts be filled with compassion forever.

O Mighty God, wonderful Creator, may your name only be invoked to inspire and unite our great leaders to become the beacon of light in our state, and a model in this great nation and in the world. We ask for your blessings of life, health, and strength for our Senators, their families and staff, and everyone else involved in this government institution.

May they lead with wisdom and civility every day, working together for the common good.

O God, stay with us now. Strengthen us all for your purposes. Help us discover and spread the truth, as we cannot win without you. O God, that you will bless the light of love and unity amongst us. In the ancient and sacred chamber in which we stand today, may the radiant light of hope continue to shine. We are believing and hoping our Senators will have a blessed day. Using their divine light and the gift that you've given to them, may they chase away any means of darkness. May they resolve to contribute in this day by assessing life honestly and acquiring the skills to confront life, and evaluate any obstacles, as brave and empathetic leaders. In your name, O God, we pray that your favor may be with us all in these things—peace and love for all. Amen.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Gary Austin, Faith Fellowship Church, Crawfordville, an employee of the Office of the Sergeant at Arms:

Our most gracious Heavenly Father, we come before you this morning to ask you for your blessings upon all who are in this chamber representing the people of Florida. May we lean on your wisdom and direction as the business of the Senate is conducted and the votes are ultimately cast. Much work has been done by individuals, teams, and committees before the final presentation is brought before this chamber. Be with the many people who have given their time, effort, long hours and, yes, the giving up of precious family time to get the bills and resolutions to this point.

May you pour out your comfort and protection on our families—many who are miles away—as we navigate the difficulties of separation and our desire to be with them. Sacrifice is a hard thing, especially when it involves our family. Give each of us the strength to move forward and to complete the task set before us.

We want to remember our fallen heroes who have given their lives to defend our freedoms and ask for continued protection for those still serving abroad in harm’s way.

Thank you for all you have done and will do in our lives. May we never become complacent with our lives that you have given us, but instead, we ask that you direct us in your ways so that we may run the race of life and do it well. We ask all these things in your precious and holy name. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Lauren Baldwin of Davie; Conolly Forehand of Panama City; and Whitton Musgrove of Live Oak, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Boyd—

By Senator Boyd—

SR 1812—A resolution encouraging higher education institutions in Florida to recognize an annual “Sunshine Day” focused on the mental and physical well-being of their students.

WHEREAS, mental and physical health problems impact all aspects of society, including this state’s educational system, and

WHEREAS, as a vulnerable population, college students are susceptible to an increased risk of anxiety, depression, suicide, and distress, and the development of other mental health-related issues, and

WHEREAS, such mental health challenges on the part of college students predate the COVID-19 pandemic, with observed rates of anxiety and depression increasing for this population throughout the 2010s, and

WHEREAS, college students continue to face significant psychological impacts from the lingering effects of measures taken during the COVID-19 pandemic, such as lockdowns and the transition to online courses, and

WHEREAS, in a study published in 2020 by the National Institutes of Health, 138 of the 195 college students surveyed said that the COVID-19 pandemic had increased their stress and anxiety levels, and

WHEREAS, navigating the stressors of college can be overwhelming, and a student’s success is often determined by his or her mental and physical well-being, and

WHEREAS, setting aside a day for students to reflect on their well-being and to participate in campus activities emphasizing the importance of mental health may improve student success and enhance their quality of life as they enter young adulthood, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That higher education institutions in Florida are encouraged to recognize an annual “Sunshine Day” focused on the mental and physical well-being of their students.

The notice must specify with particularity the factual reasons for the denial and include a citation to the applicable portions of the ordinance, rule, statute, or other legal authority for the denial of the registration. A local government may not prohibit an applicant from reapplying if the applicant cures the identified deficiencies.*

(e)1. Upon acceptance of a vacation rental registration, a local government shall assign a unique registration number to the vacation rental unit and provide the registration number or other indicia of registration to the vacation rental operator in writing or electronically.

2. A local government shall, within 5 days after acceptance of a vacation rental registration, provide the registration number to the division.

(f)1. A local government may fine a vacation rental operator up to $500 if he or she:

a. Fails to continue to meet the registration requirements in paragraph (b);

b. Is operating a vacation rental without registering it with the local government as a vacation rental; or

c. Fails to provide the division with the unique registration number as required in paragraph (e).

2. Before issuing a fine, the local government shall issue written notice of such violation and provide a vacation rental operator 15 days to cure the violation. If the vacation rental operator has not cured the violation within the 15 days, the local government may issue a fine.

(g) A certified copy of an order imposing a fine may be recorded in the public records and thereafter constitutes a lien against the real property on which the violation exists and upon any other real or personal property owned by the violator. Upon petition to the circuit court, such order is enforceable in the same manner as a court judgment by the sheriffs of this state, including execution and levy against the personal property of the violator, but such order may not be deemed to be a court judgment except for enforcement purposes. A fine imposed pursuant to this subsection will continue to accrue until the violator comes into compliance or until judgment is rendered in a suit filed pursuant to this section, whichever occurs first. A lien arising from a fine imposed pursuant to this subsection runs in favor of the local government, and the local government shall execute a satisfaction or release of lien upon full payment. If such lien remains unpaid 3 months or more after the filing of the lien, the local government may foreclose on the lien against the real property on which the violation exists or sue to recover a money judgment for the amount of the lien, plus accrued interest. A lien created pursuant to this part may not be foreclosed on real property that is a homestead under s. 4, Art. X of the State Constitution. The money judgment provisions of this section do not apply to real property or personal property that is covered under s. 4(a), Art. X of the State Constitution.

(h)1. If a code violation related to the vacation rental is found by the code enforcement board or special magistrate to be a material violation of a local law, ordinance, or regulation that does not solely apply to vacation rentals, and the violation is directly related to the vacation rental premises, the local government must issue a written notice of such violation.

2. If a code violation related to the vacation rental is found to be a material violation of a local law, ordinance, or regulation as described in subparagraph 1., the code enforcement board or special magistrate must make a recommendation to the local government as to whether a vacation rental registration should be suspended.

3. The code enforcement board or special magistrate must recommend the suspension of the vacation rental registration if there are:

- a. One or more violations on 5 separate days during a 60-day period;
- b. One or more violations on 5 separate days during a 30-day period; or
- c. One or more violations after two prior suspensions of the vacation rental registration.

4. If the code enforcement board or special magistrate recommends suspension of a vacation rental registration, a local government may suspend such registration for a period of:

- a. Up to 30 days for one or more violations on 5 separate days during a 60-day period;
- b. Up to 60 days for one or more violations on 5 separate days during a 30-day period; or
- c. Up to 90 days for one or more violations after two prior suspensions of a vacation rental registration.

5. A local government may not suspend a vacation rental registration for violations of a local law, ordinance, or regulation which are not directly related to the vacation rental premises.

6. A local government shall provide notice of the suspension of a vacation rental registration to the vacation rental operator and the division within 5 days after the suspension. The notice must include the start date of the suspension, which must be at least 21 days after the suspension notice is sent to the vacation rental operator and the division. Effective January 1, 2026, a local government shall use the vacation rental information system described in s. 509.244 to provide notice of the suspension of a vacation rental registration to the division.

(i)1. A local government may revoke or refuse to renew a vacation rental registration if:

- a. A vacation rental registration has been suspended three times pursuant to paragraph (h);
- b. There is an unsatisfied, recorded municipal lien or county lien on the real property of the vacation rental. However, the local government shall allow the vacation rental operator at least 60 days before the revocation of a registration to satisfy the recorded municipal lien or county lien; or

c. The vacation rental premises and its owner are the subject of a final order or judgment by a court of competent jurisdiction lawfully directing the termination of the premises' use as a vacation rental.

2. A local government shall provide notice within 5 days after the revocation of, or refusal to renew, a vacation rental registration to the vacation rental operator and the division. The notice must include the date of revocation or nonrenewal, which must be at least 21 days after the date such notice is sent to the vacation rental operator and the division. Effective January 1, 2026, a local government shall use the vacation rental information system described in s. 509.244 to provide notice of the revocation of or refusal to renew a vacation rental registration to the division.

(j) A vacation rental operator may appeal a denial, suspension, or revocation of a vacation rental registration, or a refusal to renew such registration, to the circuit court. An appeal must be filed within 30 days after the issuance of the denial, suspension, or revocation of, or refusal to renew, the vacation rental registration. The court may assess and award reasonable attorney fees and costs and damages to the prevailing party.

This subsection does not prohibit a local government from establishing a local law, ordinance, or regulation if it is uniformly applied without regard to whether the residential property is used as a vacation rental.

Section 4. Effective January 1, 2025, subsections (2) and (3) of section 509.241, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (5) is added to that section, to read:

Upon receiving an application for a vacation rental license, the division may grant a temporary license that authorizes the vacation rental to begin operation while the application is pending. The temporary license automatically expires upon final agency action regarding the license application.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Josh Hall, First Baptist Church, Tallahassee:

Let us pray. Almighty God, before we begin the business of this day, we pause to thank you for this day you have given us and the many blessings that come with it. From the breath in our lungs to the work of our hands, may we use every good gift to honor you, and promote the welfare of others.

In your providence and your grace, you have given us governing authorities to pursue justice and the flourishing of our society. So we pray now, especially for the members and staff of the Florida Senate. We ask that you would honor the sacrifices these men and women have each made as they seek to faithfully serve our state. We ask that you would give them compassion for every need, and grant them wisdom for every challenge. We ask that you would fill them with the courage to do what is right rather than what may seem easy or popular. And even in the midst of sharp disagreements borne of deep convictions, we ask that these discussions and debates would be marked by civility that honors your image in each other. We ask that, above all, we would find common ground across any battle lines, and display a unity of purpose that is strengthened by our diversity.

Lord God, we thank you for the blessing of living in the great State of Florida and the privilege we each have to steward that blessing for the next generation. May we each be found faithful today and always. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Berkley Barnes of Fort Pierce; Luke Shaeffer of Jacksonville; and Olivia Trefelner of Fort Pierce, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

(5) READING DEFICIENCY AND PARENTAL NOTIFICATION.—

(d) The parent of any student who exhibits a substantial deficiency in reading, as described in paragraph (a), must be notified in writing of the following:

1. That his or her child has been identified as having a substantial deficiency in reading, including a description and explanation, in terms understandable to the parent, of the exact nature of the student's difficulty in learning and lack of achievement in reading.

2. A description of the current services that are provided to the child.

3. A description of the proposed intensive interventions and supports that will be provided to the child that are designed to remediate the identified area of reading deficiency.

6. That the statewide, standardized English Language Arts assessment is not the sole determiner of promotion and that additional evaluations, portfolio reviews, and assessments are available to the child to assist parents and the school district in knowing when a child is reading at or above grade level and ready for grade promotion.

7. The district's specific criteria and policies for a portfolio as provided in subparagraph (7)(b)4. and the evidence required for a student to demonstrate mastery of Florida's academic standards for English Language Arts. 3. A description of the proposed intensive interventions and supports that will be provided to the child that are designed to remediate the identified area of mathematics deficiency.

4. Strategies, including multisensory strategies and programming, through a home-based plan the parent can use in helping his or her child succeed in mathematics. The home-based plan must provide access to the resources identified in paragraph (d) (e).

After the initial notification, the school shall apprise the parent at least monthly of the student's progress in response to the intensive interventions and supports. Such communications must be in writing and must explain any additional interventions or supports that will be implemented to accelerate the student's progress if the interventions and supports already being implemented have not resulted in improvement.

Each school district shall provide a parent secure access to his or her child's individual student reports through a web-based portal as part of its student information system. Each early learning coalition shall provide parents the individual student report in a format determined by state board rule.

2. In addition to the information under subparagraph (a)5., the report must also include parent resources that explain the purpose of progress monitoring, assist the parent in interpreting progress monitoring results, and support informed parent involvement. Parent resources may include personalized video formats.

3. The department shall annually update school districts and early learning coalitions on new system features and functionality and collaboratively identify with school districts and early learning coalitions strategies for meaningfully reporting to parents results from the coordinated screening and progress monitoring system. The department shall develop ways to increase the utilization, by instructional staff and parents, of student assessment data and resources.

4. An individual student report must be provided in a printed format upon a parent's request.

(d)1.(e) A county may not restrict the height of a proposed development authorized under this subsection below the highest currently allowed height for a commercial or residential building development located in its jurisdiction within 1 mile of the proposed development or 3 stories, whichever is higher. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "highest currently allowed height" does not include the height of any building that met the requirements of this subsection or the height of any building that has received any bonus, variance, or other special exception for height provided in the county's land development regulations as an incentive for development.

2. If the proposed development is adjacent to, on two or more sides, a parcel zoned for single-family residential use which is within a single-family residential development with at least 25 contiguous single-family homes, the county may restrict the height of the proposed development to 150 percent of the tallest building on any property adjacent to the proposed development, the highest currently allowed height for the property provided in the county's land development regulations, or 3 stories, whichever is higher. For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "adjacent to" means those properties sharing more than one point of a property line, but does not include properties separated by a public road.

(e)(d) A proposed development authorized under this subsection must be administratively approved and no further action by the board of county commissioners is required if the development satisfies the county's land development regulations for multifamily developments in areas zoned for such use and is otherwise consistent with the comprehensive plan, with the exception of provisions establishing allowable densities, floor area ratios, height, and land use. Such land development regulations include, but are not limited to, regulations relating to setbacks and parking requirements. A proposed development located within one-quarter mile of a military installation identified in s. 163.3175(2) may not be administratively approved. Each county shall maintain on its website a policy containing procedures and expectations for administrative approval pursuant to this subsection.

(f)1.(e) A county must consider reducing parking requirements for a proposed development authorized under this subsection if the development is located within one-quarter one-half mile of a major transit stop, as defined in the county's land development code, and the major transit stop is accessible from the development.

2. A county must reduce parking requirements by at least 20 percent for a proposed development authorized under this subsection if the development:

a. Is located within one-half mile of a major transportation hub that is accessible from the proposed development by safe, pedestrian-friendly means, such as sidewalks, crosswalks, elevated pedestrian or bike paths, or other multimodal design features; and

b. Has available parking within 600 feet of the proposed development which may consist of options such as on-street parking, parking lots, or parking garages available for use by residents of the proposed development. However, a county may not require that the available parking compensate for the reduction in parking requirements.

3. A county must eliminate parking requirements for a proposed mixed-use residential development authorized under this subsection within an area recognized by the county as a transit-oriented development or area, as provided in paragraph (h).

4. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "major transportation hub" means any transit station, whether bus, train, or light rail, which is served by public transit with a mix of other transportation options.

(g)(f) For proposed multifamily developments in an unincorporated area zoned for commercial or industrial use which is within the boundaries of a multicounty independent special district that was created to provide municipal services and is not authorized to levy ad valorem taxes, and less than 20 percent of the land area within such district is designated for commercial or industrial use, a county must authorize, as provided in this subsection, such development only if the development is mixed-use residential.

(h) A proposed development authorized under this subsection which is located within a transit-oriented development or area, as recognized by the county, must be mixed-use residential and otherwise comply with requirements of the county's regulations applicable to the transit-oriented development or area except for use, height, density, floor area ratio, and parking as provided in this subsection or as otherwise agreed to by the county and the applicant for the development.

(i)(g) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, a development authorized under this subsection must comply with all applicable state and local laws and regulations.

(j)1. Nothing in this subsection precludes a county from granting a bonus, variance, conditional use, or other special exception for height, density, or floor area ratio in addition to the height, density, and floor area ratio requirements in this subsection.

2. Nothing in this subsection precludes a proposed development authorized under this subsection from receiving a bonus for density, height, or floor area ratio pursuant to an ordinance or regulation of the jurisdiction where the proposed development is located if the proposed development satisfies the conditions to receive the bonus except for any condition which conflicts with this subsection. If a proposed development qualifies for such bonus, the bonus must be administratively approved by the county and no further action by the board of county commissioners is required.

(k)(h) This subsection does not apply to:

1. Airport-impacted areas as provided in s. 333.03.

2. Property defined as recreational and commercial working waterfront in s. 342.201(2)(b) in any area zoned as industrial.

(8) Any development authorized under paragraph (7)(a) must be treated as a conforming use even after the expiration of subsection (7) and the development's affordability period as provided in paragraph (7)(a), notwithstanding the county's comprehensive plan, future land use designation, or zoning. If at any point during the development's affordability period the development violates the affordability period requirement provided in paragraph (7)(a), the development must be allowed a reasonable time to cure such violation. If the violation is not cured within a reasonable time, the development must be treated as a nonconforming use.

Section 2. Subsection (7) of section 166.04151, Florida Statutes, is amended, and subsection (8) is added to that section, to read:

(7) “Third-party administrator” means an entity under contract with a program administrator pursuant to s. 163.084.

Section 2. Section 163.081, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.081 Financing qualifying improvements to residential property.—

(1) RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY PROGRAM AUTHORIZATION.—

(a) A program administrator may only offer a program for financing qualifying improvements to residential property within the jurisdiction of a county or municipality if the county or municipality has authorized by ordinance or resolution the program administrator to administer the program for financing qualifying improvements to residential property. The authorized program must, at a minimum, meet the requirements of this section.

(b) Pursuant to this section or as otherwise provided by law or pursuant to a county’s or municipality’s home rule power, a county or municipality may enter into an interlocal agreement providing for a partnership between one or more counties or municipalities for the purpose of facilitating a program to finance qualifying improvements to residential property located within the jurisdiction of the counties or municipalities that are party to the agreement.

(c) A county or municipality may deauthorize a program administrator through repeal of the ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to paragraph (a) or other action. Any recorded financing agreements at the time of deauthorization shall continue, except any financing agreement for which the provisions of s. 163.086 apply.

(d) An authorized program administrator may contract with one or more third-party administrators to implement the program as provided in s. 163.084.

(e) An authorized program administrator may levy non-ad valorem assessments to facilitate repayment of financing qualifying improvements. Costs incurred by the program administrator for such purpose may be collected as a non-ad valorem assessment. A non-ad valorem assessment shall be collected pursuant to s. 197.3632 and, notwithstanding s. 197.3632(8)(a), shall not be subject to discount for early payment. However, the notice and adoption requirements of s. 197.3632(4) do not apply if this section is used and complied with, and the intent resolution, publication of notice, and mailed notices to the property appraiser, tax collector, and Department of Revenue required by s. 197.3632(3)(a) may be provided on or before August 15 of each year in conjunction with any non-ad valorem assessment authorized by this section, if the property appraiser, tax collector, and program administrator agree. The program administrator shall only compensate the tax collector for the actual cost of collecting non-ad valorem assessments, not to exceed 2 percent of the amount collected and remitted.

(f) A program administrator may incur debt for the purpose of providing financing for qualifying improvements, which debt is payable from revenues received from the improved property or any other available revenue source authorized by law.

(2) APPLICATION.—The owner of record of the residential property within the jurisdiction of an authorized program may apply to the authorized program administrator to finance a qualifying improvement. The program administrator may only enter into a financing agreement with the property owner.

(3) FINANCING AGREEMENTS.—

(a) Before entering into a financing agreement, the program administrator must make each of the following findings based on a review of public records derived from a commercially accepted source and the property owner’s statements, records, and credit reports:

1. There are sufficient resources to complete the project.
2. The total amount of any non-ad valorem assessment for a residential property under this section does not exceed 20 percent of the just value of the property as determined by the property appraiser. The total amount may exceed this limitation upon written consent of the holders or loan servicers of any mortgage encumbering or otherwise secured by the residential property.

3. The combined mortgage-related debt and total amount of any non-ad valorem assessments under the program for the residential property does not exceed 97 percent of the just value of the property as determined by the property appraiser.

4. The financing agreement does not utilize a negative amortization schedule, a balloon payment, or prepayment fees or fines other than nominal administrative costs. Capitalized interest included in the original balance of the assessment financing agreement does not constitute negative amortization.

5. All property taxes and any other assessments, including non-ad valorem assessments, levied on the same bill as the property taxes are current and have not been delinquent for the preceding 3 years, or the property owner’s period of ownership, whichever is less.

6. There are no outstanding fines or fees related to zoning or code enforcement violations issued by a county or municipality, unless the qualifying improvement will remedy the zoning or code violation.

7. There are no involuntary liens, including, but not limited to, construction liens on the residential property.

8. No notices of default or other evidence of property-based debt delinquency have been recorded and not released during the preceding 3 years or the property owner’s period of ownership, whichever is less.

9. The property owner is current on all mortgage debt on the residential property.

10. The property owner has not been subject to a bankruptcy proceeding within the last 5 years unless it was discharged or dismissed more than 2 years before the date on which the property owner applied for financing.

11. The residential property is not subject to an existing home equity conversion mortgage or reverse mortgage product.

12. The term of the financing agreement does not exceed the weighted average useful life of the qualified improvements to which the greatest portion of funds disbursed under the assessment contract is attributable, not to exceed 20 years. The program administrator shall determine the useful life of a qualifying improvement using established standards, including certification criteria from government agencies or nationally recognized standards and testing organizations.

13. The total estimated annual payment amount for all financing agreements entered into under this section on the residential property does not exceed 10 percent of the property owner’s annual household income. Income must be confirmed using reasonable evidence and not solely by a property owner’s statement.

14. If the qualifying improvement is for the conversion of an onsite sewage treatment and disposal system to a central sewerage system, the property owner has utilized all available local government funding for such conversions and is unable to obtain financing for the improvement on more favorable terms through a local government program designed to support such conversions.

(b) Before entering into a financing agreement, the program administrator must determine if there are any current financing agreements on the residential property and if the property owner has obtained or sought to obtain additional qualifying improvements on the same property which have not yet been recorded. The existence of a prior qualifying improvement non-ad valorem assessment or a prior financing agreement is not evidence that the financing agreement under consideration is affordable or meets other program requirements.

(c) Findings satisfying paragraphs (a) and (b) must be documented, including supporting evidence relied upon, and provided to the property owner prior to a financing agreement being approved and recorded. The program administrator must retain the documentation for the duration of the financing agreement.

(d) If the qualifying improvement is estimated to cost $10,000 or more, before entering into a financing agreement the program administrator must advise the property owner in writing that the best practice is to obtain estimates from more than one unaffiliated, registered qualifying improvement contractor for the qualifying improvement and notify the property owner in writing of the advertising and solicitation requirements of s. 163.085.

(e) A property owner and the program administrator may agree to include in the financing agreement provisions for allowing change orders necessary to complete the qualifying improvement. Any financing agreement or contract for qualifying improvements which includes such provisions must meet the requirements of this paragraph. If a proposed change order on a qualifying improvement will increase the original cost of the qualifying improvement by 20 percent or more or will expand the scope of the qualifying improvement by more than 20 percent, before the change order may be executed which would result in an increase in the amount financed through the program administrator for the qualifying improvement, the program administrator must notify the property owner, provide an updated written disclosure form as described in subsection (4) to the property owner, and obtain written approval of the change from the property owner.

(f) A financing agreement may not be entered into if the total cost of the qualifying improvement, including program fees and interest, is less than $2,500.

(g) A financing agreement may not be entered into for qualifying improvements in buildings or facilities under new construction or construction for which a certificate of occupancy or similar evidence of substantial completion of new construction or improvement has not been issued.

(4) DISCLOSURES.—

(a) In addition to the requirements imposed in subsection (3), a financing agreement may not be executed unless the program administrator first provides, including via electronic means, a written financing estimate and disclosure to the property owner which includes all of the following, each of which must be individually acknowledged in writing by the property owner:

1. The estimated total amount to be financed, including the total and itemized cost of the qualifying improvement, program fees, and capitalized interest;
2. The estimated annual non-ad valorem assessment;
3. The term of the financing agreement and the schedule for the non-ad valorem assessments;
4. The interest charged and estimated annual percentage rate;
5. A description of the qualifying improvement;
6. The total estimated annual costs that will be required to be paid under the assessment contract, including program fees;
7. The total estimated average monthly equivalent amount of funds that would need to be saved in order to pay the annual costs of the non-ad valorem assessment, including program fees;
8. The estimated due date of the first payment that includes the non-ad valorem assessment;
9. A disclosure that the financing agreement may be canceled within 3 business days after signing the financing agreement without any financial penalty for doing so;
10. A disclosure that the property owner may repay any remaining amount owed, at any time, without penalty or imposition of additional prepayment fees or fines other than nominal administrative costs;
11. A disclosure that if the property owner sells or refinances the residential property, the property owner may be required by a mortgage lender to pay off the full amount owed under each financing agreement under this section;

12. A disclosure that the assessment will be collected along with the property owner's property taxes, and will result in a lien on the property from the date the financing agreement is recorded;

13. A disclosure that potential utility or insurance savings are not guaranteed, and will not reduce the assessment amount; and

14. A disclosure that failure to pay the assessment may result in penalties, fees, including attorney fees, court costs, and the issuance of a tax certificate that could result in the property owner losing the property and a judgment against the property owner, and may affect the property owner's credit rating.

(b) Prior to the financing agreement being approved, the program administrator must conduct an oral, recorded telephone call with the property owner during which the program administrator must confirm each finding or disclosure required in subsection (3) and this section.

(5) NOTICE TO LIENHOLDERS AND SERVICERS.—At least 5 business days before entering into a financing agreement, the property owner must provide to the holders or loan servicers of any existing mortgages encumbering or otherwise secured by the residential property a written notice of the owner's intent to enter into a financing agreement together with the maximum amount to be financed, including the amount of any fees and interest, and the maximum annual assessment necessary to repay the total. A verified copy or other proof of such notice must be provided to the program administrator. A provision in any agreement between a mortgagor or other lienholder and a property owner, or otherwise now or hereafter binding upon a property owner, which allows for acceleration of payment of the mortgage, note, or lien or other unilateral modification solely as a result of entering into a financing agreement as provided for in this section is unenforceable. This subsection does not limit the authority of the holder or loan servicer to increase the required monthly escrow by an amount necessary to pay the annual assessment.

(6) CANCELLATION.—A property owner may cancel a financing agreement on a form established by the program administrator within 3 business days after signing the financing agreement without any financial penalty for doing so.

(7) RECORDING.—Any financing agreement executed pursuant to this section, or a summary memorandum of such agreement, shall be submitted for recording in the public records of the county within which the residential property is located by the program administrator within 10 business days after execution of the agreement and the 3-day cancellation period. The recorded agreement must provide constructive notice that the non-ad valorem assessment to be levied on the property constitutes a lien of equal dignity to county taxes and assessments from the date of recordation. A notice of lien for the full amount of the financing may be recorded in the public records of the county where the property is located. Such lien is not enforceable in a manner that results in the acceleration of the remaining nondelinquent unpaid balance under the assessment financing agreement.

(8) SALE OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY.—At or before the time a seller executes a contract for the sale of any residential property for which a non-ad valorem assessment has been levied under this section and has an unpaid balance due, the seller shall give the prospective purchaser a written disclosure statement in the following form, which must be set forth in the contract or in a separate writing:

QUALIFYING IMPROVEMENTS.—The property being purchased is subject to an assessment on the property pursuant to s. 163.081, Florida Statutes. The assessment is for a qualifying improvement to the property and is not based on the value of the property. You are encouraged to contact the property appraiser's office to learn more about this and other assessments that may be provided by law.

(9) DISBURSEMENTS.—Before disbursing final funds to a qualifying improvement contractor for a qualifying improvement on residential property, the program administrator shall confirm that the applicable work or service has been completed or, as applicable, that the final permit for the qualifying improvement has been closed with all permit requirements satisfied or a certificate of occupancy or similar evidence of substantial completion of construction or improvement has been issued.

(10) CONSTRUCTION.—This section is additional and supplemental to county and municipal home rule authority and not in derogation of such authority or a limitation upon such authority.

Section 3. Section 163.082, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.082 Financing qualifying improvements to commercial property.—

(1) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY PROGRAM AUTHORIZATION.—

(a) A program administrator may only offer a program for financing qualifying improvements to commercial property within the jurisdiction of a county or municipality if the county or municipality has authorized by ordinance or resolution the program administrator to administer the program for financing qualifying improvements to commercial property. The authorized program must, at a minimum, meet the requirements of this section.

(b) Pursuant to this section or as otherwise provided by law or pursuant to a county's or municipality's home rule power, a county or municipality may enter into an interlocal agreement providing for a partnership between one or more counties or municipalities for the purpose of facilitating a program for financing qualifying improvements to commercial property located within the jurisdiction of the counties or municipalities that are party to the agreement.

(c) A county or municipality may deauthorize a program administrator through repeal of the ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to paragraph (a) or other action. Any recorded financing agreements at the time of deauthorization shall continue, except any financing agreement for which the provisions of s. 163.086 apply.

(d) A program administrator may contract with one or more third-party administrators to implement the program as provided in s. 163.084.

(e) An authorized program administrator may levy non-ad valorem assessments to facilitate repayment of financing or refinancing qualifying improvements. Costs incurred by the program administrator for such purpose may be collected as a non-ad valorem assessment. A non-ad valorem assessment shall be collected pursuant to s. 197.3632 and, notwithstanding s. 197.3632(8)(a), is not subject to discount for early payment. However, the notice and adoption requirements of s. 197.3632(4) do not apply if this section is used and complied with, and the intent resolution, publication of notice, and mailed notices to the property appraiser, tax collector, and Department of Revenue required by s. 197.3632(3)(a) may be provided on or before August 15 of each year in conjunction with any non-ad valorem assessment authorized by this section, if the property appraiser, tax collector, and program administrator agree. The program administrator shall only compensate the tax collector for the actual cost of collecting non-ad valorem assessments, not to exceed 2 percent of the amount collected and remitted.

(f) A program administrator may incur debt for the purpose of providing financing for qualifying improvements, which debt is payable from revenues received from the improved property or any other available revenue source authorized by law.

(2) APPLICATION.—The owner of record of the commercial property within the jurisdiction of the authorized program may apply to the program administrator to finance a qualifying improvement and enter into a financing agreement with the program administrator to make such improvement. The program administrator may only enter into a financing agreement with a property owner.

(3) CONSENT OF LIENHOLDERS AND SERVICERS.—The program administrator must receive the written consent of the current holders or loan servicers of any mortgage that encumbers or is otherwise secured by the commercial property or that will otherwise be secured by the property before a financing agreement may be executed.

(4) FINANCING AGREEMENTS.—

(a) A program administrator offering a program for financing qualifying improvements to commercial property must maintain underwriting criteria sufficient to determine the financial feasibility of entering into a financing agreement. To enter into a financing agreement, the program administrator must, at a minimum, make each of the following findings based on a review of public records derived from a commercially accepted source and the statements, records, and credit reports of the commercial property owner:

1. There are sufficient resources to complete the project.
2. The combined mortgage-related debt and total amount of any non-ad valorem assessments under the program for the commercial property does not exceed 97 percent of the just value of the property as determined by the property appraiser.
3. All property taxes and any other assessments, including non-ad valorem assessments, levied on the same bill as the property taxes are current.
4. There are no involuntary liens greater than $5,000, including, but not limited to, construction liens on the commercial property.
5. No notices of default or other evidence of property-based debt delinquency have been recorded and not been released during the preceding 3 years or the property owner's period of ownership, whichever is less.
6. The property owner is current on all mortgage debt on the commercial property.
7. The term of the financing agreement does not exceed the weighted average useful life of the qualified improvements to which the greatest portion of funds disbursed under the assessment contract is attributable, not to exceed 30 years. The program administrator shall determine the useful life of a qualifying improvement using established standards, including certification criteria from government agencies or nationally recognized standards and testing organizations.
8. The property owner is not currently the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

(b) Before entering into a financing agreement, the program administrator shall determine if there are any current financing agreements on the commercial property and whether the property owner has obtained or sought to obtain additional qualifying improvements on the same property which have not yet been recorded. The existence of a prior qualifying improvement non-ad valorem assessment or a prior financing agreement is not evidence that the financing agreement under consideration is affordable or meets other program requirements.

(c) The program administrator shall document and retain findings satisfying paragraphs (a) and (b), including supporting evidence relied upon, which were made prior to the financing agreement being approved and recorded, for the duration of the financing agreement.

(d) A property owner and the program administrator may agree to include in the financing agreement provisions for allowing change orders necessary to complete the qualifying improvement. Any financing agreement or contract for qualifying improvements which includes such provisions must meet the requirements of this paragraph. If a proposed change order on a qualifying improvement will increase the original cost of the qualifying improvement by 20 percent or more or will expand the scope of the qualifying improvement by 20 percent or more, before the change order may be executed which would result in an increase in the amount financed through the program administrator for the qualifying improvement, the program administrator must notify the property owner, provide an updated written disclosure form as described in subsection (5) to the property owner, and obtain written approval of the change from the property owner.

(e) A financing agreement may not be entered into if the total cost of the qualifying improvement, including program fees and interest, is less than $2,500.

(5) DISCLOSURES.—In addition to the requirements imposed in subsection (4), a financing agreement may not be executed unless the program administrator provides, whether on a separate document or included with other disclosures or forms, a financing estimate and disclosure to the property owner which includes all of the following:

(a) The estimated total amount to be financed, including the total and itemized cost of the qualifying improvement, program fees, and capitalized interest;

- (b) The estimated annual non-ad valorem assessment;
- (c) The term of the financing agreement and the schedule for the non-ad valorem assessments;
- (d) The interest charged and estimated annual percentage rate;
- (e) A description of the qualifying improvement;
- (f) The total estimated annual costs that will be required to be paid under the assessment contract, including program fees;
- (g) The estimated due date of the first payment that includes the non-ad valorem assessment; and
- (h) A disclosure of any prepayment penalties, fees, or fines as set forth in the financing agreement.

(6) RECORDING.—Any financing agreement executed pursuant to this section or a summary memorandum of such agreement must be submitted for recording in the public records of the county within which the commercial property is located by the program administrator within 10 business days after execution of the agreement. The recorded agreement must provide constructive notice that the non-ad valorem assessment to be levied on the property constitutes a lien of equal dignity to county taxes and assessments from the date of recordation. A notice of lien for the full amount of the financing may be recorded in the public records of the county where the property is located. Such lien is not enforceable in a manner that results in the acceleration of the remaining nondelinquent unpaid balance under the assessment financing agreement.

(7) SALE OF COMMERCIAL PROPERTY.—At or before the time a seller executes a contract for the sale of any commercial property for which a non-ad valorem assessment has been levied under this section and has an unpaid balance due, the seller shall give the prospective purchaser a written disclosure statement in the following form, which must be set forth in the contract or in a separate writing:

QUALIFYING IMPROVEMENTS.—The property being purchased is subject to an assessment on the property pursuant to s. 163.082, Florida Statutes. The assessment is for a qualifying improvement to the property and is not based on the value of the property. You are encouraged to contact the property appraiser's office to learn more about this and other assessments that may be provided for by law.

(8) COMPLETION CERTIFICATE.—Upon disbursement of all financing and completion of installation of qualifying improvements financed, the program administrator shall retain a certificate that the qualifying improvements have been installed and are in good working order.

(9) CONSTRUCTION.—This section is additional and supplemental to county and municipal home rule authority and not in derogation of such authority or a limitation upon such authority.

Section 4. Section 163.083, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.083 Qualifying improvement contractors.—

(1) A county or municipality shall establish a process, or approve a process established by a program administrator, to register contractors for participation in a program authorized by a county or municipality pursuant to s. 163.081. A qualifying improvement contractor may only perform such work that the contractor is appropriately licensed, registered, and permitted to conduct. At the time of application to participate and during participation in the program, contractors must:

(a) Hold all necessary licenses or registrations for the work to be performed which are in good standing. Good standing includes no outstanding complaints with the state or local government which issues such licenses or registrations.

(b) Comply with all applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations, including obtaining and maintaining any other permits, licenses, or registrations required for engaging in business in the jurisdiction in which it operates and maintaining all state-required bond and insurance coverage.

(c) File with the program administrator a written statement in a form approved by the county or municipality that the contractor will comply with applicable laws and rules and qualifying improvement program policies and procedures, including those on advertising and marketing.

(2) A third-party administrator or a program administrator, either directly or through an affiliate, may not be registered as a qualifying improvement contractor.

(3) A program administrator shall establish and maintain:

(a) A process to monitor qualifying improvement contractors for performance and compliance with requirements of the program and must conduct regular reviews of qualifying improvement contractors to confirm that each qualifying improvement contractor is in good standing.

(b) Procedures for notice and imposition of penalties upon a finding of violation, which may consist of placement of the qualifying improvement contractor in a probationary status that places conditions for continued participation, suspension, or termination from participation in the program.

(c) An easily accessible page on its website that provides information on the status of registered qualifying improvement contractors, including any imposed penalties, and the names of any qualifying improvement contractors currently on probationary status or that are suspended or terminated from participation in the program.

Section 5. Section 163.084, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.084 Third-party administrator for financing qualifying improvements programs.—

(1)(a) A program administrator may contract with one or more third-party administrators to administer a program authorized by a county or municipality pursuant to s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 on behalf of and at the discretion of the program administrator.

(b) The third-party administrator must be independent of the program administrator and have no conflicts of interest between managers or owners of the third-party administrator and program administrator managers, owners, officials, or employees with oversight over the contract. A program administrator, either directly or through an affiliate, may not act as a third-party administrator for itself or for another program administrator. However, this paragraph does not apply to a third-party administrator created by an entity authorized in law pursuant to s. 288.9604.

(c) The contract must provide for the entity to administer the program according to the requirements of s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 and the ordinance or resolution adopted by the county or municipality authorizing the program. However, only the program administrator may levy or administer non-ad valorem assessments.

(2) A program administrator may not contract with a third-party administrator that, within the last 3 years, has been:

(a) Prohibited, after notice and a hearing, from serving as a third-party administrator for another program administrator for program or contract violations in this state; or

(b) Found by a court of competent jurisdiction to have substantially violated state or federal laws related to the administration of ss. 163.081-163.086 or a similar program in another jurisdiction.

(3) The program administrator must include in any contract with the third-party administrator the right to perform annual reviews of the administrator to confirm compliance with ss. 163.081-163.086, the ordinance or resolution adopted by the county or municipality, and the contract with the program administrator. If the program administrator finds that the third-party administrator has committed a violation of ss. 163.081-163.086, the adopted ordinance or resolution, or the contract with the program administrator, the program administrator shall provide the third-party administrator with notice of the violation and may, as set forth in the adopted ordinance or resolution or the contract with the third-party administrator:

(a) Place the third-party administrator in a probationary status that places conditions for continued operations.

(b) Impose any fines or sanctions.

(c) Suspend the activity of the third-party administrator for a period of time.

(d) Terminate the agreement with the third-party administrator.

(4) A program administrator may terminate the agreement with a third-party administrator, as set forth by the county or municipality in its adopted ordinance or resolution or the contract with the third-party administrator, if the program administrator makes a finding that:

(a) The third-party administrator has violated the contract with the program administrator. The contract may set forth substantial violations that may result in contract termination and other violations that may provide for a period of time for correction before the contract may be terminated.

(b) The third-party administrator, or an officer, a director, a manager or a managing member, or a control person of the third-party administrator, has been found by a court of competent jurisdiction to have violated state or federal laws related to the administration of a program authorized of the provisions of ss. 163.081-163.086 or a similar program in another jurisdiction within the last 5 years.

(c) Any officer, director, manager or managing member, or control person of the third-party administrator has been convicted of, or has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, regardless of whether adjudication has been withheld, a crime related to administration of a program authorized of the provisions of ss. 163.081-163.086 or a similar program in another jurisdiction within the last 10 years.

(d) An annual performance review reveals a substantial violation or a pattern of violations by the third-party administrator.

(5) Any recorded financing agreements at the time of termination or suspension by the program administrator shall continue, except any financing agreement for which the provisions of s. 163.086 apply.

Section 6. Section 163.085, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.085 Advertisement and solicitation for financing qualifying improvements programs under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082.—

(1) When communicating with a property owner, a program administrator, qualifying improvement contractor, or third-party administrator may not:

(a) Suggest or imply:

1. That a non-ad valorem assessment authorized under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 is a government assistance program;

2. That qualifying improvements are free or provided at no cost, or that the financing related to a non-ad valorem assessment authorized under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 is free or provided at no cost; or

3. That the financing of a qualifying improvement using the program authorized pursuant to s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 does not require repayment of the financial obligation.

(b) Make any representation as to the tax deductibility of a non-ad valorem assessment. A program administrator, qualifying improvement contractor, or third-party administrator may encourage a property owner to seek the advice of a tax professional regarding tax matters related to assessments.

(2) A program administrator or third-party administrator may not provide to a qualifying improvement contractor any information that discloses the amount of financing for which a property owner is eligible for qualifying improvements or the amount of equity in a residential property or commercial property.

(3) A qualifying improvement contractor may not advertise the availability of financing agreements for, or solicit program participation on behalf of, the program administrator unless the contractor is registered by the program administrator to participate in the program and is in good standing with the program administrator.

(4) A program administrator or third-party administrator may not provide any payment, fee, or kickback to a qualifying improvement contractor for referring property owners to the program administrator or third-party administrator. However, a program administrator or third-party administrator may provide information to a qualifying improvement contractor to facilitate the installation of a qualifying improvement for a property owner.

(5) A program administrator or third-party administrator may not reimburse a qualifying improvement contractor for its expenses in advertising and marketing campaigns and materials.

(6) A qualifying improvement contractor may not provide a different price for a qualifying improvement financed under s. 163.081 than the price that the qualifying improvement contractor would otherwise provide if the qualifying improvement was not being financed through a financing agreement. Any contract between a property owner and a qualifying improvement contractor must clearly state all pricing and cost provisions, including any process for change orders which meet the requirements of s. 163.081(3)(d).

(7) A program administrator, qualifying improvement contractor, or third-party administrator may not provide any direct cash payment or other thing of material value to a property owner which is explicitly conditioned upon the property owner entering into a financing agreement. However, a program administrator or third-party administrator may offer programs or promotions on a non-discriminatory basis that provide reduced fees or interest rates if the reduced fees or interest rates are reflected in the financing agreements and are not provided to the property owner as cash consideration.

Section 7. Section 163.086, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.086 Unenforceable financing agreements for qualifying improvements programs under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082; attachment; fraud.—

(1) A recorded financing agreement may not be removed from attachment to a residential property or commercial property if the property owner fraudulently obtained funding pursuant to s. 163.081 or s. 163.082.

(2) A financing agreement may not be enforced, and a recorded financing agreement may be removed from attachment to a residential property or commercial property and deemed null and void, if:

(a) The property owner applied for, accepted, and canceled a financing agreement within the 3-business-day period pursuant to s. 163.081(6). A qualifying improvement contractor may not begin work under a canceled contract.

(b) A person other than the property owner obtained the recorded financing agreement. The court may enter an order which holds that person or persons personally liable for the debt.

(c) The program administrator, third-party administrator, or qualifying improvement contractor approved or obtained funding through fraudulent means and in violation of ss. 163.081-163.085, or this section for qualifying improvements on the residential property or commercial property.

(3) If a qualifying improvement contractor has initiated work on residential property or commercial property under a contract deemed unenforceable under this section, the qualifying improvement contractor:

(a) May not receive compensation for that work under the financing agreement.

(b) Must restore the residential property or commercial property to its original condition at no cost to the property owner.

(c) Must immediately return any funds, property, and other consideration given by the property owner. If the property owner provided any property and the qualifying improvement contractor does not or cannot return it, the qualifying improvement contractor must immediately return the fair market value of the property or its value as designated in the contract, whichever is greater.

(4) If the qualifying improvement contractor has delivered chattel or fixtures to residential property or commercial property pursuant to a contract deemed unenforceable under this section, the qualifying improvement contractor has 90 days after the date on which the contract was executed to retrieve the chattel or fixtures, provided that:

(a) The qualifying improvement contractor has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (3)(a) and (b).

(b) The chattel and fixtures can be removed at the qualifying improvement contractor's expense without damaging the residential property or commercial property.

(5) If a qualifying improvement contractor fails to comply with this section, the property owner may retain any chattel or fixtures provided pursuant to a contract deemed unenforceable under this section.

(6) A contract that is otherwise unenforceable under this section remains enforceable if the property owner waives his or her right to cancel the contract or cancels the financing agreement pursuant to s. 163.081(6) or s. 163.082(6) but allows the qualifying improvement contractor to proceed with the installation of the qualifying improvement.

Section 8. Section 163.087, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

163.087 Reporting for financing qualifying improvements programs under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082.—

(1) Each program administrator that is authorized to administer a program for financing qualifying improvements to residential property or commercial property under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082 shall post on its website an annual report within 45 days after the end of its fiscal year containing the following information from the previous year for each program authorized under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082:

(2) The Auditor General must conduct an operational audit of each program administrator authorized under s. 163.081 or s. 163.082, including any third-party administrators, for compliance with the provisions of ss. 163.08-163.086 and any adopted ordinance at least once every 3 years. The Auditor General may stagger evaluations; however, every program must be evaluated at least once by September 1, 2028. The Auditor General shall adopt rules pursuant to s. 218.39 requiring each program administrator to report whether it offers a program authorized pursuant to s. 163.081 or s. 163.082, and other pertinent information. Each program administrator and, if applicable, third-party administrator, must post the most recent report on its website.

Section 9. A current contract, agreement, authorization, or interlocal agreement between a county or municipality and a program administrator entered into before July 1, 2024, shall continue without additional action by the county or municipality. However, the program administrator must comply with this act, and any contract, agreement, authorization, or interlocal agreement must be amended to comply with this act.

Section 10. This act shall take effect July 1, 2024.

And the title is amended as follows:

Excused: Senator Gruters

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Bishop William Wack, Catholic Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee:

O God of all creation, before all else, we give you thanks for the enormity of your goodness. Everything belongs to you, and yet you wonderfully entrust the world in all its wonder to us.

Your beloved children gather in this chamber to discern, debate, and decide. As you are attentive to the needs of all, turn our hearts to those who look to us for assistance. Open our hearts and our ears to hear and receive the cries of the needy. May we look beyond our own interests and wants so that all may be lifted up.

Be with our Senators today and every day. Inspire them to be good stewards and lawmakers, so that we may all enjoy the blessings you wish to bestow upon us. Unite us with the virtues of compassion, goodness, and love. Give us an abundance of wisdom so that we may know what to do and have the courage to carry it out.

We praise you, we bless you, and we thank you, for you live and reign forever and ever. Amen.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Brodeur—

By Senator Brodeur—

SR 1818—A resolution reaffirming the importance of the Florida Wildlife Corridor and its significant environmental, cultural, economic, and tourism value as a unique natural resource, and recognizing February 12, 2024, as “Florida Wildlife Corridor Day.”

WHEREAS, the Florida Wildlife Corridor, recognized in the Florida Wildlife Corridor Act of 2021, establishes a geographic area of more than 18 million acres of land, 10 million acres of which are current public conservation lands that could be permanently disconnected from each other without additional conservation of the nearly 8 million acres of opportunity areas connecting them, and

WHEREAS, the purpose of defining the Florida Wildlife Corridor is to create incentives for conservation and sustainable development while preserving the green infrastructure that is the foundation of this state’s economy and quality of life, and

WHEREAS, the nearly 8 million acres of opportunity areas still needing protection consist largely of working ranches, farms, and forests, and the majority of this acreage can be protected through conservation easements with willing landowners, thereby supporting the state’s agricultural economy and enhancing the tourism value of Florida’s heartland, and

WHEREAS, since July 2021, more than 160,000 acres of land in the Florida Wildlife Corridor have been approved for protection by Governor Ron DeSantis and the Florida Cabinet, including Commissioner of Agriculture Wilton Simpson, who made the corridor a priority during his term as Senate President, with funding appropriated by the Legislature from the Department of Environmental Protection’s Florida Forever Program and the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services’s Rural and Family Lands Protection Program, and

WHEREAS, a number of federal and local programs have increased their investment in Florida conservation, following the leadership of the state in prioritizing the framework of the Florida Wildlife Corridor, and

WHEREAS, these programs share the state’s goal of protecting an additional 800,000 acres in the Florida Wildlife Corridor by 2030, balancing this commitment to conservation with the need for development to accommodate the more than 2 million new residents projected to move to this state during the next 6 years, and

WHEREAS, public access to the Florida Wildlife Corridor was greatly expanded in 2023 with the Legislature passing, and Governor DeSantis signing, legislation that connects the corridor to the Florida Greenways and Trails System and the Florida Shared-Use Nonmotorized (SUN) Trail Network, as well as additional pathways to heritage small towns throughout this state, and

WHEREAS, with the state's funding commitment in recent years to such projects, the Department of Environmental Protection and the Department of Transportation have coordinated the establishment of multiuse trails, including the investment in the planning, design, and construction of the SUN Trail Network and the campaign to recognize various communities as "Trail Towns," in conjunction with Visit Florida's promotion of trail-based tourism, and

WHEREAS, this connecting of trails with the Florida Wildlife Corridor creates a means not only to preserve many natural areas, but also to provide expanded access for Floridians and visitors to hike, run, and bike between trail destinations and see firsthand this state's unique natural habitat and picturesque small towns, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the Senate reaffirms the importance of the Florida Wildlife Corridor and its significant environmental, cultural, economic, and tourism value as a unique natural resource, and recognizes February 12, 2024, as "Florida Wildlife Corridor Day."

—was introduced, read, and adopted by publication.

WHEREAS, New College recently announced plans to establish a Freedom Institute to foster free speech and the sharing of ideas and to combat cancel culture by promoting tolerance of opposing views and engaging such views in civil discourse, and

DuBois, Malcolm X, Dr. King, Fannie Lou Hamer, Thurgood Marshall, Barbara Jordan, Shirley Chisholm, Dorothy Height, and President Barack Obama, and

WHEREAS, we honor, particularly, the African Americans who are currently serving in this body and those who served before them: those who served from 1868-1887, during the Reconstruction era; and 95 years later, in 1982, when Senator Carrie P. Meek and Senator Arnett E. Girardeau became the first two post-Reconstruction African Americans elected, serving with distinction for 10 years when, in 1992, James T. Hargrett, Jr., Betty S. Holzendorf, Daryl L. Jones, Matthew Meadows, and William H. Turner were also elected, and

(f) Implement a data governance structure for the project to coordinate data sharing and interoperability across state health care entities.

(g) Establish a continuing oversight team for each contract as required in s. 287.057(26). The teams must provide quarterly reports to the executive steering committee summarizing the status of the contract, the pace of deliverables, the quality of deliverables, contractor responsiveness, and contractor performance.

(3) The Secretary of Health Care Administration or the executive sponsor of the project shall serve as chair of the executive steering committee, and the committee shall take action by a vote of at least 10 affirmative votes with the chair voting on the prevailing side. A quorum of the executive steering committee consists of at least 11 members.

(4) The executive steering committee has the overall responsibility for ensuring that the project to replace FMMIS and the Medicaid fiscal agent meets its primary business objectives and shall:

(a) Identify and recommend to the Executive Office of the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives any statutory changes needed to implement the modular replacement to standardize, to the fullest extent possible, the state's health care data and business processes.

(b) Review and approve any changes to the project's scope, schedule, and budget which do not conflict with the requirements of subsections (1) and (2).

Section 27. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 215, 216, 270, 282, 342, 495, and 522 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, the Agency for Health Care Administration, in consultation with the Department of Health, the Agency for Persons with Disabilities, the Department of Children and Families, and the Department of Corrections, shall competitively procure a contract with a vendor to negotiate, for these agencies, prices for prescribed drugs and biological products excluded from the programs established under s. 381.02035, Florida Statutes, and ineligible under 21 U.S.C. s. 384, including, but not limited to, insulin and epinephrine. The contract may allow the vendor to directly purchase these products for participating agencies when feasible and advantageous. The contracted vendor will be compensated on a contingency basis, paid from a portion of the savings achieved by its price negotiation or purchase of the prescription drugs and products. This section expires July 1, 2025.

Section 28. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 262, 268, 269, 280, and 281 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, and notwithstanding ss. 216.181 and 216.292, Florida Statutes, the Agency for Persons with Disabilities may submit budget amendments, subject to the notice, review, and objection procedures of s. 216.177, Florida Statutes, to transfer funding from the Salaries and Benefits appropriation categories to categories used for contractual services in order to support additional staff augmentation resources needed at the Developmental Disability Centers. This section expires July 1, 2025.

Section 29. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 579 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, and notwithstanding chapter 216, Florida Statutes, the Department of Veterans' Affairs may submit a budget amendment, subject to Legislative Budget Commission approval, requesting the authority to establish positions in excess of the number authorized by the Legislature, increase appropriations from the Operations and Maintenance Trust Fund, or provide necessary salary rate sufficient to provide for essential staff for veterans' nursing homes, if the department projects that additional direct care staff are needed to meet its established staffing ratio. This section expires July 1, 2025.

Section 30. In order to implement Specific Appropriation 215 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, subsection (1) of section 409.915, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.915 County contributions to Medicaid.—Although the state is responsible for the full portion of the state share of the matching funds required for the Medicaid program, the state shall charge the counties an annual contribution in order to acquire a certain portion of these funds.

(1)(a) As used in this section, the term "state Medicaid expenditures" means those expenditures used as matching funds for the federal Medicaid program.

(b) The term does not include funds specially assessed by any local governmental entity and used as the nonfederal share for the hospital directed payment program after July 1, 2021. This paragraph expires July 1, 2025 ~~2024~~.

Section 31. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 608 through 719 and 733 through 768 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, subsection (4) of section 216.262, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

216.262 Authorized positions.—

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter relating to increasing the number of authorized positions, and for the 2024-2025 ~~2023-2024~~ fiscal year only, if the actual inmate population of the Department of Corrections exceeds the inmate population projections of the December 15 ~~February 13~~, 2023, Criminal Justice Estimating Conference by 1 percent for 2 consecutive months or 2 percent for any month, the Executive Office of the Governor, with the approval of the Legislative Budget Commission, shall immediately notify the Criminal Justice Estimating Conference, which shall convene as soon as possible to revise the estimates. The Department of Corrections may then submit a budget amendment requesting the establishment of positions in excess of the number authorized by the Legislature and additional appropriations from unallocated general revenue sufficient to provide for essential staff, fixed capital improvements, and other resources to provide classification, security, food services, health services, and other variable expenses within the institutions to accommodate the estimated increase in the inmate population. All actions taken pursuant to this subsection are subject to review and approval by the Legislative Budget Commission. This subsection expires July 1, 2025 ~~2024~~.

Section 32. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 3267 through 3334 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, subsection (2) of section 215.18, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

215.18 Transfers between funds; limitation.—

(2) The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court may receive one or more trust fund loans to ensure that the state court system has funds sufficient to meet its appropriations in the 2024-2025 ~~2023-2024~~ General Appropriations Act. If the Chief Justice accesses the loan, he or she must notify the Governor and the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees in writing. The loan must come from other funds in the State Treasury which are for the time being or otherwise in excess of the amounts necessary to meet the just requirements of such last-mentioned funds. The Governor shall order the transfer of funds within 5 days after the written notification from the Chief Justice. If the Governor does not order the transfer, the Chief Financial Officer shall transfer the requested funds. The loan of funds from which any money is temporarily transferred must be repaid by the end of the 2024-2025 2023-2024 fiscal year. This subsection expires July 1, 2025 2024.

Section 33. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 1150 through 1161 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act:

(1) The Department of Juvenile Justice is required to review county juvenile detention payments to ensure that counties fulfill their financial responsibilities required in s. 985.6865, Florida Statutes. If the Department of Juvenile Justice determines that a county has not met its obligations, the department shall direct the Department of Revenue to deduct the amount owed to the Department of Juvenile Justice from the funds provided to the county under s. 218.23, Florida Statutes. The Department of Revenue shall transfer the funds withheld to the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.

(2) As an assurance to holders of bonds issued by counties before July 1, 2024, for which distributions made pursuant to s. 218.23, Florida Statutes, are pledged, or bonds issued to refund such bonds which mature no later than the bonds they refunded and which result in a reduction of debt service payable in each fiscal year, the amount available for distribution to a county shall remain as provided by law and continue to be subject to any lien or claim on behalf of the bondholders. The Department of Revenue must ensure, based on information provided by an affected county, that any reduction in amounts distributed pursuant to subsection (1) does not reduce the amount of distribution to a county below the amount necessary for the timely payment of principal and interest when due on the bonds and the amount necessary to comply with any covenant under the bond resolution or other documents relating to the issuance of the bonds. If a reduction to a county's monthly distribution must be decreased in order to comply with this section, the Department of Revenue must notify the Department of Juvenile Justice of the amount of the decrease, and the Department of Juvenile Justice must send a bill for payment of such amount to the affected county.

(3) This section expires July 1, 2025.

Section 34. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 779 through 801, 950 through 1093, and 1114 through 1149 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, and notwithstanding the expiration date in section 32 of chapter 2023-240, Laws of Florida, subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (2), paragraph (a) of subsection (3), and subsections (5), (6), and (7) of section 27.40, Florida Statutes, are reenacted to read:

27.40 Court-appointed counsel; circuit registries; minimum requirements; appointment by court.—

(1) Counsel shall be appointed to represent any individual in a criminal or civil proceeding entitled to court-appointed counsel under the Federal or State Constitution or as authorized by general law. The court shall appoint a public defender to represent indigent persons as authorized in s. 27.51. The office of criminal conflict and civil regional counsel shall be appointed to represent persons in those cases in which provision is made for court-appointed counsel, but only after the public defender has certified to the court in writing that the public defender is unable to provide representation due to a conflict of interest or is not authorized to provide representation. The public defender shall report, in the aggregate, the specific basis of all conflicts of interest certified to the court. On a quarterly basis, the public defender shall submit this information to the Justice Administrative Commission.

(2)(a) Private counsel shall be appointed to represent persons in those cases in which provision is made for court-appointed counsel but only after the office of criminal conflict and civil regional counsel has been appointed and has certified to the court in writing that the criminal conflict and civil regional counsel is unable to provide representation due to a conflict of interest. The criminal conflict and civil regional counsel shall report, in the aggregate, the specific basis of all conflicts of interest certified to the court. On a quarterly basis, the criminal conflict and civil regional counsel shall submit this information to the Justice Administrative Commission.

(3) In using a registry:

(a) The chief judge of the circuit shall compile a list of attorneys in private practice, by county and by category of cases, and provide the list to the clerk of court in each county. The chief judge of the circuit may restrict the number of attorneys on the general registry list. To be included on a registry, an attorney must certify that he or she:

1. Meets any minimum requirements established by the chief judge and by general law for court appointment;

2. Is available to represent indigent defendants in cases requiring court appointment of private counsel; and

3. Is willing to abide by the terms of the contract for services, s. 27.5304, and this section.

To be included on a registry, an attorney must enter into a contract for services with the Justice Administrative Commission. Failure to comply with the terms of the contract for services may result in termination of the contract and removal from the registry. Each attorney on the registry is responsible for notifying the clerk of the court and the Justice Administrative Commission of any change in his or her status. Failure to comply with this requirement is cause for termination of the contract for services and removal from the registry until the requirement is fulfilled.

(5) The Justice Administrative Commission shall approve uniform contract forms for use in procuring the services of private court-appointed counsel and uniform procedures and forms for use by a court-appointed attorney in support of billing for attorney's fees, costs, and related expenses to demonstrate the attorney's completion of specified duties. Such uniform contracts and forms for use in billing must be consistent with s. 27.5304, s. 216.311, and the General Appropriations Act and must contain the following statement: "The State of Florida's performance and obligation to pay under this contract is contingent upon an annual appropriation by the Legislature."

(6) After court appointment, the attorney must immediately file a notice of appearance with the court indicating acceptance of the appointment to represent the defendant and of the terms of the uniform contract as specified in subsection (5).

(7)(a) A private attorney appointed by the court from the registry to represent a client is entitled to payment as provided in s. 27.5304 so long as the requirements of subsection (1) and paragraph (2)(a) are met. An attorney appointed by the court who is not on the registry list may be compensated under s. 27.5304 only if the court finds in the order of appointment that there were no registry attorneys available for representation for that case and only if the requirements of subsection (1) and paragraph (2)(a) are met.

(b1). The flat fee established in s. 27.5304 and the General Appropriations Act shall be presumed by the court to be sufficient compensation. The attorney shall maintain appropriate documentation, including contemporaneous and detailed hourly accounting of time spent representing the client. If the attorney fails to maintain such contemporaneous and detailed hourly records, the attorney waives the right to seek compensation in excess of the flat fee established in s. 27.5304 and the General Appropriations Act. These records and documents are subject to review by the Justice Administrative Commission and audit by the Auditor General, subject to the attorney-client privilege and work-product privilege. The attorney shall maintain the records and documents in a manner that enables the attorney to redact any information subject to a privilege in order to facilitate the commission's review of the records and documents and not to impede such review. The attorney may redact information from the records and documents only to the extent necessary to comply with the privilege. The Justice Administrative Commission shall review such records and shall contemporaneously document such review before authorizing payment to an attorney. Objections by or on behalf of the Justice Administrative Commission to records or documents or to claims for payment by the attorney shall be presumed correct by the court unless the court determines, in writing, that competent and substantial evidence exists to justify overcoming the presumption.

2. If an attorney fails, refuses, or declines to permit the commission or the Auditor General to review documentation for a case as provided in this paragraph, the attorney waives the right to seek, and the commission may not pay, compensation in excess of the flat fee established in s. 27.5304 and the General Appropriations Act for that case.

3. A finding by the commission that an attorney has waived the right to seek compensation in excess of the flat fee established in s. 27.5304 and the General Appropriations Act, as provided in this paragraph, shall be presumed to be correct, unless the court determines, in writing, that competent and substantial evidence exists to justify overcoming the presumption.

Section 35. The text of s. 27.40(1), (2)(a), (3)(a), (5), (6), and (7), Florida Statutes, as carried forward from chapter 2019-116, Laws of Florida, by this act, expires July 1, 2025, and the text of those subsections and paragraphs, as applicable, shall revert to that in existence on June 30, 2019, except that any amendments to such text enacted other than by this act shall be preserved and continue to operate to the extent that such amendments are not dependent upon the portions of text which expire pursuant to this section.

Section 36. In order to implement Specific Appropriations 779 through 801, 950 through 1093, and 1114 through 1149 of the 2024-2025 General Appropriations Act, and notwithstanding the expiration date in section 34 of chapter 2023-240, Laws of Florida, subsection (13) of section 27.5304, Florida Statutes, is reenacted and amended, and subsections (1), (3), (6), (7), and (11) and paragraphs (a) through (e) of subsection (12) of that section are reenacted, to read:

27.5304 Private court-appointed counsel; compensation; notice.—

(1) Private court-appointed counsel appointed in the manner prescribed in s. 27.40(1) and (2)(a) shall be compensated by the Justice Administrative Commission only as provided in this section and the General Appropriations Act. The flat fees prescribed in this section are limitations on compensation. The specific flat fee amounts for compensation shall be established annually in the General Appropriations Act. The attorney also shall be reimbursed for reasonable and necessary expenses in accordance with s. 29.007. If the attorney is representing a defendant charged with more than one offense in the same case, the attorney shall be compensated at the rate provided for the most serious offense for which he or she represented the defendant. This section does not allow stacking of the fee limits established by this section.

(3) The court retains primary authority and responsibility for determining the reasonableness of all billings for attorney fees, costs, and related expenses, subject to statutory limitations and the requirements of s. 27.40(7). Private court-appointed counsel is entitled to compensation upon final disposition of a case.

(6) For compensation for representation pursuant to a court appointment in a proceeding under chapter 39:

(a) At the trial level, compensation for representation for dependency proceedings shall not exceed $1,450 for the first year following the date of appointment and shall not exceed $700 each year thereafter. Compensation shall be paid based upon representation of a parent irrespective of the number of case numbers that may be assigned or the number of children involved, including any children born during the pendency of the proceeding. Any appeal, except for an appeal from an adjudication of dependency, shall be completed by the trial attorney and is considered compensated by the flat fee for dependency proceedings.

1. Counsel may bill the flat fee not exceeding $1,450 following disposition or upon dismissal of the petition.

2. Counsel may bill the annual flat fee not exceeding $700 following the first judicial review in the second year following the date of appointment and each year thereafter as long as the case remains under protective supervision.

3. If the court grants a motion to reactivate protective supervision, the attorney shall receive the annual flat fee not exceeding $700 following the first judicial review and up to an additional $700 each year thereafter.

4. If, during the course of dependency proceedings, a proceeding to terminate parental rights is initiated, compensation shall be as set forth in paragraph (b). If counsel handling the dependency proceeding is not authorized to handle proceedings to terminate parental rights, the counsel must withdraw and new counsel must be appointed.

(b) At the trial level, compensation for representation in termination of parental rights proceedings shall not exceed $1,800 for the first year following the date of appointment and shall not exceed $700 each year thereafter. Compensation shall be paid based upon representation of a parent irrespective of the number of case numbers that may be assigned or the number of children involved, including any children born during the pendency of the proceeding. Any appeal, except for an appeal from an order granting or denying termination of parental rights, shall be completed by trial counsel and is considered compensated by the flat fee for termination of parental rights proceedings. If the individual has dependency proceedings ongoing as to other children, those proceedings are considered part of the termination of parental rights proceedings as long as that termination of parental rights proceeding is ongoing.

1. Counsel may bill the flat fee not exceeding $1,800 30 days after rendition of the final order. Each request for payment submitted to the Justice Administrative Commission must include the trial counsel's certification that:

a. Counsel discussed grounds for appeal with the parent or that counsel attempted and was unable to contact the parent; and

b. No appeal will be filed or that a notice of appeal and a motion for appointment of appellate counsel, containing the signature of the parent, have been filed.

2. Counsel may bill the annual flat fee not exceeding $700 following the first judicial review in the second year after the date of appointment and each year thereafter as long as the termination of parental rights proceedings are still ongoing.

(c) For appeals from an adjudication of dependency, compensation may not exceed $1,800.

1. Counsel may bill a flat fee not exceeding $1,200 upon filing the initial brief or the granting of a motion to withdraw.

2. If a brief is filed, counsel may bill an additional flat fee not exceeding $600 upon rendition of the mandate.

(d) For an appeal from an adjudication of termination of parental rights, compensation may not exceed $3,500.

1. Counsel may bill a flat fee not exceeding $1,750 upon filing the initial brief or the granting of a motion to withdraw.

2. If a brief is filed, counsel may bill an additional flat fee not exceeding $1,750 upon rendition of the mandate.

(7) Counsel eligible to receive compensation from the state for representation pursuant to court appointment made in accordance with the requirements of s. 27.40(1) and (2)(a) in a proceeding under chapter 384, chapter 390, chapter 392, chapter 393, chapter 394, chapter 397, chapter 415, chapter 743, chapter 744, or chapter 984 shall receive compensation not to exceed the limits prescribed in the General Appropriations Act. Any such compensation must be determined as provided in s. 27.40(7).

(11) It is the intent of the Legislature that the flat fees prescribed under this section and the General Appropriations Act comprise the full and complete compensation for private court-appointed counsel. It is further the intent of the Legislature that the fees in this section are prescribed for the purpose of providing counsel with notice of the limit on the amount of compensation for representation in particular proceedings and the sole procedure and requirements for obtaining payment for the same.

(a) If court-appointed counsel moves to withdraw prior to the full performance of his or her duties through the completion of the case, the court shall presume that the attorney is not entitled to the payment of the full flat fee established under this section and the General Appropriations Act.

(b) If court-appointed counsel is allowed to withdraw from representation prior to the full performance of his or her duties through the completion of the case and the court appoints a subsequent attorney, the total compensation for the initial and any and all subsequent attorneys may not exceed the flat fee established under this section and the General Appropriations Act, except as provided in subsection (12).

This subsection constitutes notice to any subsequently appointed attorney that he or she will not be compensated the full flat fee.

(12) The Legislature recognizes that on rare occasions an attorney may receive a case that requires extraordinary and unusual effort.

(a) If counsel seeks compensation that exceeds the limits prescribed by law, he or she must file a motion with the chief judge for an order approving payment of attorney fees in excess of these limits.

1. Before filing the motion, the counsel shall deliver a copy of the intended billing, together with supporting affidavits and all other necessary documentation, to the Justice Administrative Commission.

2. The Justice Administrative Commission shall review the billings, affidavit, and documentation for completeness and compliance with contractual and statutory requirements and shall contemporaneously document such review before authorizing payment to an attorney. If the Justice Administrative Commission objects to any portion of the proposed billing, the objection and supporting reasons must be communicated in writing to the private court-appointed counsel. The counsel may thereafter file his or her motion, which must specify whether the commission objects to any portion of the billing or the sufficiency of documentation, and shall attach the commission's letter stating its objection.

(b) Following receipt of the motion to exceed the fee limits, the chief judge or a single designee shall hold an evidentiary hearing. The chief judge may select only one judge per circuit to hear and determine motions pursuant to this subsection, except multicounty circuits and the eleventh circuit may have up to two designees.

1. At the hearing, the attorney seeking compensation must prove by competent and substantial evidence that the case required extraordinary and unusual efforts. The chief judge or single designee shall consider criteria such as the number of witnesses, the complexity of the factual and legal issues, and the length of trial. The fact that a trial was conducted in a case does not, by itself, constitute competent substantial evidence of an extraordinary and unusual effort. In a criminal case, relief under this section may not be granted if the number of work hours does not exceed 75 or the number of the state's witnesses deposed does not exceed 20.

2. Objections by or on behalf of the Justice Administrative Commission to records or documents or to claims for payment by the attorney shall be presumed correct by the court unless the court determines, in writing, that competent and substantial evidence exists to justify overcoming the presumption. The chief judge or single designee shall enter a written order detailing his or her findings and identifying the extraordinary nature of the time and efforts of the attorney in the case which warrant exceeding the flat fee established by this section and the General Appropriations Act.

(c) A copy of the motion and attachments shall be served on the Justice Administrative Commission at least 20 business days before the date of a hearing. The Justice Administrative Commission has standing to appear before the court, and may appear in person or telephonically, including at the hearing under paragraph (b), to contest any motion for an order approving payment of attorney fees, costs, or related expenses and may participate in a hearing on the motion by use of telephonic or other communication equipment. The Justice Administrative Commission may contract with other public or private entities or individuals to appear before the court for the purpose of contesting any motion for an order approving payment of attorney fees, costs, or related expenses. The fact that the Justice Administrative Commission has not objected to any portion of the billing or to the sufficiency of the documentation is not binding on the court.

(d) If the chief judge or a single designee finds that counsel has proved by competent and substantial evidence that the case required extraordinary and unusual efforts, the chief judge or single designee shall order the compensation to be paid to the attorney at a percentage above the flat fee rate, depending on the extent of the unusual and extraordinary effort required. The percentage must be only the rate necessary to ensure that the fees paid are not confiscatory under common law. The percentage may not exceed 200 percent of the established flat fee, absent a specific finding that 200 percent of the flat fee in the case would be confiscatory. If the chief judge or single designee determines that 200 percent of the flat fee would be confiscatory, he or she shall order the amount of compensation using an hourly rate not to exceed $75 per hour for a noncapital case and $100 per hour for a capital case. However, the compensation calculated by using the hourly rate shall be only that amount necessary to ensure that the total fees paid are not confiscatory, subject to the requirements of s. 27.40(7).

(e) Any order granting relief under this subsection must be attached to the final request for a payment submitted to the Justice Administrative Commission and must satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (b)2.

(13) Notwithstanding the limitation set forth in subsection (5) and for the 2024-2025 ~~2023-2024~~ fiscal year only, the compensation for representation in a criminal proceeding may not exceed the following:

(a) For misdemeanors and juveniles represented at the trial level: $1,000.

(b) For noncapital, nonlife felonies represented at the trial level: $15,000.

(c) For life felonies represented at the trial level: $15,000.

(d) For capital cases represented at the trial level: $25,000. For purposes of this paragraph, a "capital case" is any offense for which the potential sentence is death and the state has not waived seeking the death penalty.

(e) For representation on appeal: $9,000.

(f) This subsection expires July 1, 2025 ~~2024~~.

If a high school student is dually enrolled in a Florida College System institution program, including a program conducted at a high school, the Florida College System institution earns the funds generated for workforce education funding, and the school district earns the proportional share of full-time equivalent funding from the Florida Education Finance Program. If a student is dually enrolled in a career center operated by the same district as the district in which the student attends high school, that district earns the funds generated for workforce education funding and also earns the proportional share of full-time equivalent funding from the Florida Education Finance Program. If a student is dually enrolled in a workforce education program provided by a career center operated by a different school district, the funds must be divided between the two school districts proportionally from the two funding sources. A student may not be reported for funding in a dual enrollment workforce education program unless the student has completed the basic skills assessment pursuant to s. 1004.91. (3) Subject to legislative appropriation, each participating institution must receive an allocation based on the performance of students in its GATE Program according to the following metrics:

(a) The number of students obtaining a standard high school diploma or high school equivalency diploma while participating in the program.

(b) The number of postsecondary industry certifications or other program completion credentials earned by students participating in the program. Eligible industry certifications must be identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List approved by the State Board of Education under s. 1008.44.

(c) Unless otherwise specified in the General Appropriations Act, each institution must be provided $750 per student described in paragraph (a) and $1,000 per student earning certificates or credentials as provided in paragraph (b). PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Darrick McGhee, Sr., Bible Based Church, Tallahassee:

O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth. On this day, as we consider our friends in Parkland, Florida, we thank you for the memory of their lives. We pray blessings upon their families. Father, today we also pray for the Florida Senate—from its leadership to its great work it is going to do. Thank you for the blessing that is today—for the great work they are going to do. Pray that you will bless their families and keep them safe.

O Lord, our Lord, how excellent is thy name. I pray that you would allow them to do great work today during these 2024 Legislative Session days. Pray that whatever they are focusing on today, they'll give it their all. They'll be committed to the work, committed to their constituency, and be committed to the betterment of our state, the great State of Florida. I pray that you will continue to be glorified in all things, and I also pray that all that we do will be pleasing. Bless now, keep now is our earnest prayer. This is my invocation unto you. We thank you now. Amen.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

At the request of Senator Perry—

By Senator Perry—

SR 360—A resolution recognizing June 2024, and each June thereafter, as “Scoliosis Awareness Month” in Florida.

WHEREAS, scoliosis is an abnormal curvature of the spine which can lead to lifelong health issues and affects an estimated 7 million people in the United States and almost 550,000 people in this state, and

WHEREAS, left untreated, scoliosis can worsen and may cause chronic back pain, impact heart and lung function, limit mobility, damage self-esteem, and diminish the overall quality of life, and

WHEREAS, most are diagnosed with scoliosis between the ages of 10 and 15, but the condition also affects infants and adults, regardless of race, class, or gender, with curve acceleration occurring, on average, just before age 12, and

WHEREAS, increasing public awareness is important for health care professionals, teachers, parents, and children to understand and recognize the early signs of scoliosis and to help those affected to seek professional treatment, avoiding what could become a complex spinal deformity, and

WHEREAS, health care screening for the condition is noninvasive and takes about 30 seconds, allowing for early detection and treatment, which can lessen the long-term effects of scoliosis, and

WHEREAS, the Department of Education, in cooperation with the Department of Health, through the school health services program, screens for scoliosis and monitors growth and development to help minimize health barriers for students in grades pre-K through 12, and

WHEREAS, Governor Ron DeSantis and State Surgeon General Dr. Joseph Ladapo are working together to protect, promote, and improve the health of all Floridians by making public health resources available through state, county, and community efforts, and

WHEREAS, Scoliosis Awareness Month is an opportunity to renew our commitment to increasing awareness of scoliosis and bettering our understanding of this condition through research and innovation, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That June 2024, and each June thereafter, is recognized as “Scoliosis Awareness Month” in Florida.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Mike Toluba, Killearn Methodist Church, Tallahassee:

Almighty God, we gather here today with a spirit of gratitude. We are so grateful to live here in Florida. Help us to remember not everyone has the opportunity to enjoy the natural beauty of our state. We are so grateful for the people of Florida. It is an honor to serve all the people throughout our state. We are grateful for the wonderful diversity of our people—for those native to Florida, for those who come from around the country, and for those who come from across the world.

I am grateful for the men and women who have heard the call to serve in the state Senate. I ask that you would give them wisdom to make the best decisions for the people they represent and serve. We are so grateful for everyone who serves in our state government. We are so thankful for all of those who serve alongside us as staff and grateful for their dedication and commitment.

We pray your blessings on our work here today. Help us to come together and unite around the current and future needs of the people throughout our state. Whenever we find ourselves divided on particular issues, help us to work together. Help us to listen to each other and find common ground. Help us to be grateful for people with different stories and experiences than our own.

Thank you, God, for hearing our prayers today. Amen.

REMARKS

On motion by Senator Mayfield, by two-thirds vote, the following remarks by Senator Powell were ordered spread upon the Journal.

Senator Powell: I’ve got some notes jotted down. I’ll start with God, all right? By the grace of God, I get to serve in this Senate Chamber. By the grace of God, I got a chance to be a State Representative. By the grace of God, I got a chance to be a track and field athlete at Florida A&M University. I walked onto the track team and learned how to pole vault, of all things. I once was at a show, Tracie. I met a guy and his name was B. Brian Blair. B. Brian Blair ran against Jamie Grant, a former State Representative. B. Brian Blair was going to be the first professional wrestler to become a legislator. Surprise, surprise, I actually did it first. And being here, it is, by the grace of God. I learned a lot in this process. I will tell you that a life of service is definitely a life that counts. We've talked about levity, we've talked about compassion, and we've talked about humor. I will tell you that the first thing I want to tell you all is that in life, there are these boxes that people try to put you inside of. If you are a legislator, of course, you cannot do certain things. You cannot have a sense of humor, everything has to be strict, and this is the Senate—we are the upper chamber. There are actually changes when you come from the House to the Senate, but I want to make sure that everybody remembers not to lose yourself in the process. Be who you are.

I want to thank my family. My mother, Clara Powell—I want post-humously. I mean she passed away already—thanks to her for giving me the tenacity and the ability to understand that no matter what obstacles are in front of you, you can still move forward. My mom, at the end of her life, was disabled. She had gone through a lot. She had kidney failure, she had two hip replacements, and she had a lot of health complications. Every day that we are here on this earth, and we can talk and walk and do our business, we should celebrate. I don't wake up sad at all. There are things we can complain about, but I watched every day this woman who would wake up, go to dialysis, come home, throw up in a bucket, and then cook a meal for three boys. If she can do that, we can do amazing things here. My dad worked construction, and they were married until she passed in 2001. My dad worked construction, a hard job. I used to dig holes in the yard because I wanted to be like my daddy, putting a construction hat on. It was hot. He said, "I don't want you to do that. I don't want you to work hard like me." My dad is 77 today. One of the hardest things to do is watch the strongest people you've ever seen get old. My sister, Michelle, passed. My sister, Jackie, who is one of the most amazing people I've ever met, and we talk frequently—she is 14 years older than I am. I'm offended when people see us and they think we're the same age. Or they say, "Which one of you is older?" I've got some words for those people. If my in-laws—oh, my God—were not who they are, we would not be here now. There's no way we can manage Chandler without having them. They step up—Marion and Karen Baldwin. My daughter, Chandler, who is five—y'all think twos are terrible; twos were not terrible. Three was hectic and inquisitive. Five is amazing. My mom died in 2001 and, amazingly, I have a five-year-old mother. "Put on your seat belt now, Daddy." "Be careful when you go outside. Be really careful; the last time you left, you had an accident." Thank you, Chandler. And my wife, Whitney—you know you are everything to me. You know, I always tell you to be tough. She is an attorney, and what I see sometimes in people—they don't realize—and that's some of us even in here—how strong you are, what you can do. Never be afraid. Face everything. Don't back down. Stay courageous, stay strong.

My team is here. I've had a lot of people who worked in my office. The greatest investment that you can ever have is the investment in people—the people whose lives you've touched, the books that you've read, and the people you've come in contact with. I would tell you that what separates me from anybody else is that I've tried to impact every single person who I've come in contact with. Every Senator—all 39 of you—I've tried to have a separate relationship with and something we can agree on to bring us together—every single one of us. My people who have worked in my office—my staff, my team—what I learned from Mack Bernard a long time ago was, I never try to hire anybody that I thought was less capable than I am. I want to hire the smartest people because they will bring me up. In that team, the first person that I ever hired was Tradrick McCoy, who's now a Riviera Beach City Councilman. Tradrick taught me that we need to push. If we don't take "no" for an answer, we can get amazing things accomplished. When Tradrick was my legislative aide in the House, sometimes I didn't even have to read the bill. There were ten thousand questions already lined up for me and, when we were debating, I would get text messages—"Ask this question, ask this question." We stayed really prepared, and we're very close to this day—as he's a councilman in Riviera Beach. My team has consisted of Delano Allen, Marian Dozier, Ben Durgan, Bea Coleman, Nazbi Chowdhury, and Kersti Myles. Nazbi is with the United Way. Attorney Kersti Myles is with Broward County's Urban League, and she's gone on to become very, very successful. She also brought personality to the office. I talked about Councilman McCoy. What about State Representative Jervonte Edmonds? We were doing a newsletter with one of my interns one time, and she goes, "Jervonte Edmonds' name is staff?" I said, "Yes, he used to work for me." To see the people you come in contact with and to elevate them because somebody named Mack Bernard told you to bring people up.

The staff here—I've had separate relationships with so many people—the people in Appropriations—Gino Betta, Noah McKinnon, Jennifer Hrdlicka—I saw her somewhere—she's in the President's Office now, Robin Jackson—my baby calls her TT Robin. If you want to get to my heart, take care of my baby, right? That's her auntie—she takes care of my baby. Sherese Gainous, who always made sure I had the right food to eat—cause if I don't eat the right food, I'm like the Snickers commercial. Miss Judy Mount, over in the House, has kept me grounded. My mentors—Ann Wead Kimbrough from FAMU, who's now in DeKalb County, and my former colleague, State Representative Al Jacquet, and he was an aide for Mack Bernard as well. Mack Bernard is the only person I know who both of his aides at the time—and his other aide—all of us got elected. So I don't know what he's doing, but that might be a record. Representative, County Commissioner Mack Bernard has always held me accountable and showed me that when I say anything is possible, I'm a believer.

Things that I didn't think we could get done, Senator Rouson—I mean I was literally an aide one year and the next year I was a State Representative. I got in the elevator and one of the other aides said, "So, who are you working for this year?" And I go, "I'm working for me." I really said that. And he laughed. He thought I was joking. We went into the House, and I sat where the Representatives sit. And he started apologizing. "Oh, Representative, I'm so sorry. I didn't realize." "Hey, buddy, I'm still the same person."

Senator Passidomo, you and I were seatmates—we might have been right here. Y'all don't know it, but Senator Passidomo and I—we're kinda like Snoop Dogg and Martha Stewart. Like legit. You know, she cooked a mean pasta meal, Italian meal. Of course, I ate it—not any more because I had to get snatched. The abs are on the way back. We would sit here while you all were having very serious debates, and we passed jokes back and forth between each other. You know people say, "We're not laughing at you, we're laughing with you." If you caught us laughing, we were laughing at you. We really were. So, you know, I love you, and I thank you for everything—your passion. Senator Passidomo called me when Whitney was pregnant, in labor, like the baby was on the way. I picked up the phone—because when people I love call me, I pick up the phone, I don't care where I'm at. She says, "What's that noise?" Whitney was in labor. I go, "That's my wife. She's having the baby." And she goes, "What?" and I say, "Yes, she's having the baby right now." She's like, "Well, get off the phone, you yahoo." She immediately sent flowers, and I'll never forget that. Senator Rouson came to the hospital after we had the baby. And so many of you sent text messages and notes and just, those things don't go forgotten. They live with me forever.

In this chamber and outside as the chairman of the Florida Legislative Black Caucus, I was known as the voice of reason. What this means is I will respect everybody. I love each and every one of y'all. Senator Rouson, I learned from you. There might be days I don't like you, but I still love you. I will love you until I learn to like you again because this body is better than that. It is the issue, not the individual. It is the policy and not the person. If I vote "no" on a legislation, I am not voting "no" against the person. It's a small mind to say, "Well, he voted against my bill." I will tell people anytime, I did not vote against you. I voted against a policy I disagree with. Some of us have gone to prayer together. Senator Baxley, I don't know anyone else who is more passionate. Sometimes people would think that Dennis and I would be going at each other, but I love Dennis. We are the best of friends. We may not agree on an issue, but we'll come together after the issue and just chat and talk about something completely different. It's because of the issue and not the individual. Senator Hooper, you were right, I did come to the TED Appropriations Committee because I wanted to be on TED. What I've learned about life is whatever you want, if you go after it, you can get it. And eventually, I did become a member of the TED Committee here in the Senate—and the vice chair. If you look, guys, anything you go after you can get it. Today, I was even the Senate President, for a small amount of time. My picture will go on the wall in the summer.

I like to talk about my mentors. I have to talk about those people who came before me. The people like Arthenia Joyner, who taught us that this body is a sacred body. The first time Arthenia was here, she was sitting in the back. I came from the House to the Senate, and she was telling me how to be a Senator. I stretched one day. She said, "Come here." I said, "Yes ma'am." And she said, "This is the Senate. Don't you ever raise your hands like that. You've got to go in the back." I said, "Go in the back to stretch? Well this is different." But the control of what she thought the body was. Oscar Braynon taught me to be bold, to stand up, to have an opinion. I believe that sometimes people ask a question of the 40 of us. Well, what is it like to be 12 Democrats, and there are 28 Republicans? I don't know because I operate as an individual. I am not worried about what anybody else thinks. I am completely fine with being the only person to say "yes," or the only person to say "no." I don't make my decisions based on what everybody else thinks. I make my decisions based on the history that I have, and what I bring into this chamber that I believe is unique, which I believe every single one of us should do. I don't practice or participate in group think. I don't care how many people are drinking alcohol or doing drugs or whatever they've done in life as I've grown up. That has never impacted what I am going to do. I ask y'all to continue to be bold. When I was here, Travis, you remember this, they would say, "There's the House Democrats, the House Republicans. Then there's us, the Senate. We're different. The Senate is where the bills went to die." Y'all, we've got to bring that back.

My current staff does amazing work. Malcolm Sommons II does an amazing job. I am the only Senator who has a weekly video TV show. It's called the Powell Press, and you can find us on YouTube. Malcolm helped put together the video. Thank you, Betsy Mitchell and thank you Darryl Jarmon for all your pictures and videos and the things. Paul Bass and Malcolm, in the middle of the night, were working to put the video together that we had gotten. I always make sure I know where Darryl and Betsy are, so that they can get the good angles for me. There is never a bad angle. I had to get snatched again. Snatched means you had to lose the weight—28 pounds since last year. The abs are almost back. Y'all never heard of this, but this is the Senate. I'll be the first one to mention 2024 hot boy summer, no shirts! My wife didn't like that. Michelle DeMarco, thank you for your help. If y'all don't know Michelle, when it comes to helping put together a debate, or arguments, Michelle can help me cut things up. Sometimes, I look at things Michelle has helped me prepare, and I go, "Ooh, even I've got to back down from this." Because it's tough. She's from New Jersey and spent a lot of time writing. She's a throwback to what journalists were. Then there's Mrs. Diane Andre, the Chief of Staff. She is also an attorney from New York. Diane is "on the hop." My speech might be too long for Diane. She's like, "We've got to go." She keeps me in order and makes sure that we get things done.

I used to sit next to Manny Diaz, and it was hard because we had to debate. I'd be like, "Manny, I mean, we got to figure out how our cheer is going to go." He is now the Secretary of Education. When it comes to Black history, I believe that sometimes we believe that history in its entirety could make people bitter. And I will tell you forever that I believe that history, told in its entirety, without any massaging, only makes us better. We get that understanding of the history on the clock that people use to get their historical time of day and tell the people who they are and what they are, who they had been, and what they had been. But the most important thing about history, is telling the people who they still must be, and where they still must go. It gives us the opportunity to look back. The greatest thing that I've ever had the opportunity to do—well, is to be a father—but the greatest thing I've ever had the opportunity to do prior to that was to go to Florida A&M University. While I was able to be engulfed in such a rich history, so much ancestry, and so much culture, I am who I am, because of what I learned there. I am who I am, because of the excellence that I saw and where I stand today. There is no backing down. I always tell you, "If I'm in a fight with a bear, help the bear because we're coming to fight." I quit school on the very first day because they had recess and I don't play.

I'm going to tell y'all this, and I'll close. I see some of my friends from the House. Representative Campbell, I am so proud of you. Representative Franklin, Representative Driskell is not here but I am proud of her. The CFO, Jimmy Patronis, is here. Jimmy and I always try to have a meal together. We started in the House, and just, the level of passion. People don't get a chance to see who you are. Sometimes they get to read the talking points, but you know, Jimmy, I love you. I am so glad you're here. I saw you when we were in the House; when you went to the PSC, and now at the CFO office, and I just wish the best for you. My friends in the gallery, Scott Dick, I love you. You know that. Elija Hooks, Sean Pittman is not here, Yolanda Cash Jackson, and so many others—I'm just happy. My interns, we'll call them Intern One and Intern Two—Baylin Warthen and Sabrina Vidaillet—I am proud of y'all. Y'all have brought something to the office that is unique and special, and I'm proud of where you're going. As you know, when you finish school, I have offered you jobs, and I am going to help you wherever you need to go. A life of service is indeed a life that counts. I'm hopeful that the impact that I have had on this chamber continues to make people smile, but also brings a level of seriousness to it. We are the Senate, and we have the ability to change people's lives—not just here, but all over the State of Florida. I thank you all for allowing me to serve. I am hopeful that I see our team, our staff, Maggie, and everybody else. I am thankful for y'all. I am hopeful that I haven't forgotten anybody, and if I have, charge it to my head and not my heart. Guess what, there is a song in the musical, Hamilton, that says, "Teach me how to say goodbye." I'll see y'all on the other side. With that, Madam President, I thank you, and I close.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Ron Camblin, Aloma Church, Winter Park:

Almighty God, I come before you giving thanks for this day which you have given to us. For this is the day which you have made, and we each rejoice in it. We are humbled by your presence and your gracious love for us. I would ask that you guide us as we steward the opportunities you graciously give us each day. I seek your blessings upon our Governor and the Senators as they lead us.

Today, Almighty God, I thank you for the individuals who stand with me in this chamber. It is our honor in this moment to invite you into the conversations and business of this day. I pray that our hearts will be open to your leading, and our thoughts and responses will be a reflection of you. Almighty God, I ask that you would give each Senator the eye of an eagle, wisdom; the heart of a lion, courage; and the hand of a lady, meekness; for these will guide them in their leadership in their communities and in our state.

Almighty God, there have been many days in centuries past which have been challenging and difficult, but when people looked to you, you showed them the way. So, today I ask that you help each of us to have the heart of the men of Issachar, for it was said, "They understood the times and they knew what to do." I pray today that you will do the same for each of us in this room. May we have a heart of understanding of the times which we face, and would you guide these leaders to know what to do for the benefit of our state, Florida. We thank you for the freedom which we enjoy and may we not relinquish it, but uphold it with dignity and honor.

For I ask this all in Jesus' name. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Maura Evans of Boca Raton; Hunter Hayes of Lake Nona; and Jack Senkarik of Viera, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

REMARKS

On motion by Senator Mayfield, by two-thirds vote, the following remarks by Senator Torres were ordered spread upon the Journal.

Senator Torres: You know, I'm so humbled to be here. It's a long road, and when you walk in these shoes, you get to appreciate where God has put you. Sometimes we say, "It's God's path where to put you." As a public servant, we've heard over and over again here—40 years as a public servant, serving the community, serving my country, serving my state, in New York, serving here in the State of Florida—you can't beat that. That will always stay with us because we never expected this. This was a path that was unknown to us, and it's due to her, my daughter. These are things that happen to us as we go along.

You know, Senator Albritton, I wish you the best—your incoming leadership. You're going to be an awesome leader. You're going to be busy—let's put it that way.

I notice that Senator Baxley is not here today; Senator Hooper is not here—my friends that I respect. And you know what—that's the whole thing of this. You respect each other.

Senator Berman, it was always an honor, even in the House. We were the Whips in the House, remember? "Hey, Vic, you've got to get up, whip them up." And I said, "Whip who up?" It was one of those things, you know. I was trying to get people to get involved, to pay attention, not to stray.

Senator Boyd, you are a gentleman. You have that aura—you do. When you say, "Vic, how is this bill?" I mean, many of you do it, but I know Jim does it as well.

Senator Brodeur, we worked Central Florida on many issues—we need to work on more.

Senator Broxson is the Chair of Appropriations. Well, sir, you're not only a true gentleman, but also you have the purse strings on our budget policies. Please make them happen for our Central Florida people.

Senator Harrell, Lady in Red, you are consistent. Senator Harrell, you have that tenacity. Watching you, I go, "Uh-oh, look out." I remember once presenting a bill in front of Senator Harrell, and I was like, "Oh, Lord." You know, she starts itching here, itching there, and asking you questions. You're like, "You better be prepared." I tell my staff, "Listen, I don't want to get caught because Senator Harrell's going to be questioning me on this bill." But, you're a great Senator. You do a lot. Gracias.

Senator Hutson, the Dean. He was in the House when I was in the House, and he got promoted to the Senate. Wish him a lot of luck.

My friend, Senator Shev Jones. You've got a career, my friend. You've got a career. This is just a stepping stone for you, man. You know, you're getting what's going on, but I see a future for you, a big future. You're a young man, you're powerful, articulate, and your words carry a lot of weight. I listen to you—you're going to go a long way.

Senator Powell, what can I say about you? I've heard Bobby singing in our Caucus Room—sometimes he comes in singing a tune, a hymn, or something—he's inspiring. He comes in and he's not singing—so I say, "Okay, Bobby, you're doing good today, right?" He says, "Yeah."

Then we have Senator Rouson. Senator Rouson—a man. You are undeniably well spoken. You get the attention of members when you speak even though you take your time while saying it. Perfect because I listen to you, and I'm inspired. When I hear you talk, I'm like, "He's right, man. You know?" You just touch on the things that sometimes you wish you could say, and you say it.

Senator Thompson, I forgot about that bill when I was a driver for LYNX and they would say, "You're the political corrector for ATU 1596 for Central Florida. Go talk to the Senator, and see if she can get a bill for us drivers." It was a relief bill, you know, driving a bus—six hours, five hours, and you need a break. I was there. I went through the same thing. Yes, you did have procedures but she was instrumental in getting us a law that they had to implement—for the whole state by the way—because you have bus drivers, school bus drivers throughout the State of Florida. So, her bill helped a lot of us.

Linda Stewart, we worked together in Central Florida on many occasions, even when she was a county commissioner. You're going to go a long way.

What can I say about my friend, Tom Wright? As a chair several times—a man who wasn't a veteran, but his dedication for veterans is enormous—I mean, folks, that man there—if you are talking about looking out for veterans, we're veterans, the four of us. That man pushes the button. That man, Tom Wright, stands up for every veteran—1.4 million veterans in the State of Florida. There's the man that stands up all the time for veterans, fighting for them. I'm proud to be called his friend because he's really a great guy.

I want to say to my veteran colleagues—Avila, Collins, Danny—I remember when you honored me on the 50th anniversary, Veterans of Vietnam. Oh, man, you guys caught me off guard. My staff knew about it, but I didn't know. I just broke down over here. You guys are the true advocates of veterans—you fight for veterans every day, and I'm proud to call you my friend as well.

I know the FDV—Bob Asztolas, from the FDV up there. "The Hammer," General James Hartsell, is in Washington. The Colonel's up there with him. That organization, folks, does a hell of a lot in the State of Florida. You're talking to a guy that uses the FDV in Lake Nona at the hospital. My case worker, Bob Asztolas, I can call him on a Sunday, and tell him, “Bob, I’ve got a constituent, and her husband is going through a problem. We need to put him in a nursing home. He’s 6’5” over 200 pounds. The wife can’t deal with him.” He makes it happen. I got a call from a friend from another state, about somebody here in Florida. He took care of it for that family.

I want to say to Senator Pizzo, “You’re one of a kind, brother.” There’s no other—you have tenacity and you have that ability. If people stop to listen to you, they realize where you’re coming from, where your heart is. Because you told them about my public service, but you have that ambition to help in different locations, in different areas. You did it during the time we had COVID, we had unemployment, and we had families struggling. When Surfside collapsed, you were there—not to showboat. You wanted to make sure those families were taken care of, the ones who were suffering at that time. You have a big heart, my man, and you have two beautiful sons. They have a great dad to follow. God bless you, man.

Senator Book, I want to thank you personally for when you passed that bill for PTSD for the veterans. That was big. I had tried to do it the session before—it didn’t work out. Senator Book made sure that was passed, and I thank you for it because a lot of military need to know that this is in the books for them.

President Passidomo, I appreciate how you keep this chamber, under your presidency, with dignity, fairness and, above all, kindness. I remember in my freshman year, you were the chair for the Ethics and Elections Committee. So, they said to me, “You know, Vic, if you don’t like a nominee, you can request to ask them questions, and have them call you.” I said, “Okay.” So I said, “Senator, I want this candidate to call me so I can ask some questions.” Well, the candidate wasn’t happy because I asked some questions. They were upset. They said, “You can’t ask me these questions—you have no right.” Then Senator Passidomo said to the person, “He has every right. You’re a nominee. He sits on the committee, and he has a right to ask you questions that pertain to your candidacy. If there’s something you have to answer, the Senator has the right.” She had my back. Senator Passidomo had my back. Senator Passidomo hung up, called me back, and said, “Senator Torres, I apologize.” I said, “No, no, it wasn’t you, Madam Chair—this person just didn’t believe that I had the right to ask any questions.”

I want to thank Secretary Tracy Cantella for all the work that you and your staff do. I’ve always watched how dedicated you all are with the work that you do. All of you, in case you’re not here—make sure that Senator Victor Torres looks behind the scenes because, behind the scenes is not happening here without your input, without your help, and without your expertise. Everything that you do here exemplifies to every Senator here your dedication to a job well done. I thank you for the job you do here—all of you.

Sergeant Kelly, Zane, Dustin, Antonio, Maurice, Morgan, and all the others who are always watching our backs and watching where we go in and out of this building. During Christmas, I had my son come down from New York. My son, grandkids, and I called the Sergeant up. I said, “Sergeant, can I come in here with my grandkids? They came from New York for Christmas. Can I get them to see the chamber and my office?” So, we did a road trip—we came up from Orlando. Everything was shut down, but the Sergeant opened the doors for me and my grandkids. I don’t know if you guys have been here for Christmas, but there’s a huge Christmas tree. So my grandkids went, “Oh, well, look at that.” I said, “Yeah, no gifts under there, don’t worry about that.” He was so cordial. He met my son who is a sergeant at NYPD, New York. He is a veteran. He served in the Air Force and is still in the reserves. The Sergeant went out of his way for my family. We’ve known each other now going on eight years. This man has always shown dignity and respect in the job that he does. You should continue your job as long as God gives you the health for you to do the job. The men and women that work under you exemplify what you are all about. I thank you, Sergeant Kelly, for what you do.

I want to get over here to my staff. Debra Booth is the Chief of Staff in Orlando. She is what we call “the queen of Orange County politics.” She has worked for every elected official from Congress members to mayor to city and county commissioners for more than four decades. That lady right there is a true worker and a true friend. God bless you. Thank you, Debra.

I also have Cecilia Figueroa. She worked for Senator and, now, Congressman Darren Soto. I was fortunate enough to coax her back into the Senate last year. She has been an awesome worker. She has gone beyond the call of duty, and she is a veteran as well, by the way. She served in the Army. Thank you, Cecilia.

I have Julian Cintron. Julian grew up in Puerto Rico, worked with State Representatives Joy Goff-Marcil and Carlos Guillermo Smith before joining my staff last session. He has adapted really well in Appropriations and getting my appropriations money drafted. Julian, thank you for everything you do.

Last but not least, the Chief of Staff—the go-to guy. I don’t know what I would do without him. Sometimes I feel he’s got too much power, man. He is a wealth of knowledge. He is somebody that keeps me in line. He says, “Don’t be rough, Senator, stay straight. You’ve got to do this and you’ve got to work on this.” He has close to 20 years or more in the legislative process, from counties to here in the Legislature. I think he was here when they built the building, too, because he has been around that long. I think he is a tremendous asset, not only to me. He has the ability to communicate with a lot of you and communicate with my family as well. So, he’s a man that you can call on a Saturday or Sunday night and say, “Hey, I got this, or something came in.” Many of you know, sometimes, we have constituents with issues. That is my go-to guy, right there. I love you, Al. Thank you for everything you do. I appreciate your loyalty and your service to us in the community. Thank you, again.

I want to thank my constituents most of all, for the last 12 years in Osceola and Orange Counties. Living in Senate District 25, I am truly grateful for your trust in me, and the opportunity to serve you. I can’t say enough of my heart and my loyalty to you as constituents. When I say my background is my experience, I say that because when I drove the school bus, I saw kids who were suffering, who weren’t dressed properly, who were hungry, and who needed health care. When I drove the city bus, I noticed the elderly and veterans going to their appointments, trying to get a ride on the bus because they didn’t have the money. That’s what I bring to the table. I may not be an expert on your bill, but I try to get the information—because I know the people out there who are going to be affected by it. They come back to me. The Senate passed Senate Bill 102, affordable housing, with lots of fighting. I say, “Never give up.” We want to make sure we get a piece of that pie. I want a piece of that pie for Central Florida. I know all of you want a piece of pie for your constituents—affordable housing. We all know we are in dire need of affordability. Affordability for who? Teachers, firefighters, police, health care workers, and veterans. How many veterans are out there homeless? We have to dedicate ourselves to do this. I am honored to serve the community and the people of Osceola and Orange Counties—the long part of Orange County.

Before I close, there is a speech I would like to give from somebody I admire, John F. Kennedy, on what makes a great leader:

“First, were we truly men of courage—with the courage to stand up to one’s enemies—and the courage to stand up, when necessary, to one’s associates—the courage to resist public pressure, as well as private greed?

Secondly, were we truly men of judgment—with perceptive judgment of the future as well as the past—of our own mistakes as well as the mistakes of others—with enough wisdom to know that we did not know, and enough candor to admit it?

Third—were we truly men of integrity—men who never ran out on either the principles in which they believed or the people who believed in them—men who believed in us—men whom neither financial gain nor political ambition could ever divert from the fulfillment of our sacred trust?

Finally, were we truly men of dedication—with an honor mortgaged to no single individual or group, and compromised by no private obligation or aim, but devoted solely to serving the public good and the national interest.”

These words have guided me over and over again, and if you come to my office, you will see the portrait of JFK. It is in a cloth-type material made decades ago. When I saw it, it was in Representative Batchelor’s office—he had it in a box, and I said, “You want that?” He said, “No, you can take it.” I had it put in a frame.

Now, I want to talk about my family, who is here with me today. Without whom, none of this would be possible. Please join me in welcoming my granddaughter, Rebekah, and my great-grandchild, Jayden—he’s over there by Amy. I have Carin, my granddaughter, her husband, Justin Rae, who is a firefighter in Seminole County, and finished probation. Holding the baby is Mimi—former Representative, Amy Mercado, Orange County Property Appraiser. Then, to my right here, for 34 years, a staunch supporter. You know how you get home, and your wife asks you, “How did it go today?” All I hear is, “Why did you vote on that bill—how come you didn’t say this?” Or, “How did you forget that?” And I say, “Give me a break.” She is 110 percent. She follows what goes on for years—not from last year or two years ago—for years. My wife has been active, she has been watching, and she wanted to make sure the community that we represent knows what we stand for. You can’t ask for a better companion for years, to continue the fight.

Many of my constituents at home asked me, “Hey Senator Torres, or Vic, you’re going to be sitting at home and taking time.” I said, “No. You know that movie that came out with Morgan Freeman, Driving Miss Daisy? Well, I am going to be ‘Driving Miss Carmen.’” Because we do have ladies who are seated here and, they do a bang-up job, too. They are good, and they do what needs to be taken care of.

I thank you, Madam President. I know it was a long day, and I’m sorry I am taking such a long time, but this doesn’t just come every day. We’ve still got a week or two to go. I want to call to everybody here—I care for all of you because I don’t wish you ill will. That’s just not me. I feel that we get along, we have a life to live, and all I can wish you is the best in your future for all of you. We all need to work together. On this video, I have some songs, man. I tell you, I had a whole list of songs I could play, but they told me I had Alabama. I don’t know anyone from Alabama. You know why, because it brought back memories of being in the service, thinking of back home.

Before I forget, Madam President, I have some friends from the House up here. Representatives Susan Valdés, Johanna López, Rita Harris, and newly elected, Tom Keen. Stand up. Anyway, thank you, Madam President, for the opportunity. You are really gracious, and you really have demonstrated to me your personality and your integrity. I thank you, again, for the opportunity.

SPECIAL PRESENTATION

—was read the second time by title.

The Committee on Fiscal Policy recommended the following amendment which was moved by Senator Grall and adopted:

Amendment 1 (698496) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Present subsection (9) of section 501.1736, Florida Statutes, as created by HB 1 or similar legislation, 2024 Regular Session, is redesignated as subsection (10), and a new subsection (9) is added to that section, to read:

501.1736 Social media use for minors.—

(9)(a) All information held by the department pursuant to a notification of a violation under this section or an investigation of a violation of this section is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, until such time as the investigation is completed or ceases to be active. This exemption shall be construed in conformity with s. 119.071(2)(c).

(b) During an active investigation, information made confidential and exempt pursuant to paragraph (a) may be disclosed by the department:

1. In the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities;

2. For print, publication, or broadcast if the department determines that such release would assist in notifying the public or locating or identifying a person that the department believes to be a victim of an improper use or disposal of customer records, except that information made confidential and exempt by paragraph (c) may not be released pursuant to this subparagraph; or

3. To another governmental entity in the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities.

(c) Upon completion of an investigation or once an investigation ceases to be active, the following information held by the department shall remain confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution:

1. Information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution.

2. Personal identifying information.

3. A computer forensic report.

4. Information that would otherwise reveal weaknesses in the data security of a social media platform.

5. Information that would disclose the proprietary information of a social media platform.

(d) For purposes of this section, the term “proprietary information” means information that:

1. Is owned or controlled by the social media platform.

2. Is intended to be private and is treated by the social media platform as private because disclosure would harm the social media platform or its business operations.

3. Has not been disclosed except as required by law or a private agreement that provides that the information will not be released to the public.

4. Is not publicly available or otherwise readily ascertainable through proper means from another source in the same configuration as received by the department.

5. Reveals competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive advantage of the social media platform that is the subject of the information.

(e) This subsection is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that all information held by the Department of Legal Affairs pursuant to a notification of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, or an investigation of a violation of that section, be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution for the following reasons:

(1) A notification of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, may result in an investigation of such violation. The premature release of such information could frustrate or thwart the investigation and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation.

(2) Release of information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from public records requirements once an investigation is completed or ceases to be active would undo the specific statutory exemption protecting that information, thus clarifying that any protections currently afforded to such information are not removed.

(3) An investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, is likely to result in the gathering of sensitive personal identifying information, which could include identification numbers, unique identifiers, professional or employment-related information, and personal financial information. Such information could be used for the purpose of identity theft. The release of such information could subject families to possible privacy violations, as it would reveal information of a sensitive personal nature.

(4) Notices received by the department and information generated during an investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, are likely to contain proprietary information. Such information derives independent, economic value, actual or potential, from being generally unknown to, and not readily ascertainable by, other persons who might obtain economic value from its disclosure or use. Allowing public access to proprietary information through a public records request could destroy the value of the proprietary information and cause a financial loss to the social media platform. Release of such information could give business competitors an unfair advantage.

(5) Information held by the department may contain a computer forensic report or information that could reveal weaknesses in the data security of a social media platform. The release of this information could result in the identification of vulnerabilities in the cybersecurity system of the social media platform and be used to harm the social media platform and its clients.

(6) The harm that may result from the release of information held by the department pursuant to a notification or investigation of a violation of s. 501.1736, Florida Statutes, could impair the effective and efficient administration of the investigation and thus outweighs the public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

Section 3. Present subsection (8) of section 501.1737, Florida Statutes, as created by HB 1 or similar legislation, 2024 Regular Session, is redesignated as subsection (9), and a new subsection (8) is added to that section, to read:

501.1737 Age verification for online access to materials harmful to minors.—

(8)(a) All information held by the department pursuant to a notification of a violation under this section or an investigation of a violation of this section is confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, until such time as the investigation is completed or ceases to be active. This exemption shall be construed in conformity with s. 119.071(2)(c).

(b) During an active investigation, information made confidential and exempt pursuant to paragraph (a) may be disclosed by the department:

1. In the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities;
2. For print, publication, or broadcast if the department determines that such release would assist in notifying the public or locating or identifying a person whom the department believes to be a victim of an improper use or disposal of customer records, except that information made confidential and exempt by paragraph (c) may not be released pursuant to this subparagraph; or

3. To another governmental entity in the furtherance of its official duties and responsibilities.

(c) Upon completion of an investigation or once an investigation ceases to be active, the following information held by the department shall remain confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution:

1. Information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from s. 119.07(1) or s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution.

2. Personal identifying information.

3. A computer forensic report.

4. Information that would otherwise reveal weaknesses in the data security of the commercial entity.

5. Information that would disclose the proprietary information of the commercial entity.

(d) For purposes of this subsection, the term “proprietary information” means information that:

1. Is owned or controlled by the commercial entity.

2. Is intended to be private and is treated by the commercial entity as private because disclosure would harm the commercial entity or its business operations.

3. Has not been disclosed except as required by law or a private agreement that provides that the information will not be released to the public.

4. Is not publicly available or otherwise readily ascertainable through proper means from another source in the same configuration as received by the department.

5. Reveals competitive interests, the disclosure of which would impair the competitive advantage of the commercial entity that is the subject of the information.

(e) This subsection is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 4. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that all information held by the Department of Legal Affairs pursuant to a notification of a violation of s. 501.1737, Florida Statutes, or an investigation of a violation of that section, be made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution for the following reasons:

(1) A notification of a violation of s. 501.1737, Florida Statutes, may result in an investigation of such violation. The premature release of such information could frustrate or thwart the investigation and impair the ability of the department to effectively and efficiently administer s. 501.1737, Florida Statutes. In addition, release of such information before completion of an active investigation could jeopardize the ongoing investigation.

(2) Release of information that is otherwise confidential or exempt from public records requirements once an investigation is completed or ceases to be active would undo the specific statutory exemption protecting that information, thus clarifying that any protections currently afforded to that information are not removed.

(3) *An investigation of a violation of s. 501.1737, Florida Statutes, is likely to result in the gathering of sensitive personal identifying information, which could include identification numbers, unique identifiers, professional or employment-related information, and personal financial information. THE PRESIDENT PRESIDING

SB 7030—A bill to be entitled An act relating to a review under the Open Government Sunset Review Act; amending s. 119.071, F.S., which provides public records exemptions for certain personal identifying and location information of specified agency personnel, and the spouses and children thereof; abrogating the scheduled repeal of the exemptions; providing an effective date.

—was read the second time by title.

Senator Avila moved the following amendment which was adopted:

Amendment 1 (814038) (with title amendment)—Delete lines 298-381 and insert:

w. The home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and photographs of current or former personnel of the Agency for Health Care Administration whose duties include the investigation of complaints filed against health care facilities or the inspection of health care facilities licensed or certified by the agency; the names, home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and places of employment of the spouses and children of such personnel; and the names and locations of schools and day care facilities attended by the children of such personnel are exempt from s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution. This sub-subparagraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2029, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

3. An agency that is the custodian of the information specified in subparagraph 2. and that is not the employer of the officer, employee, justice, judge, or other person specified in subparagraph 2. must maintain the exempt status of that information only if the officer, employee, justice, judge, other person, or employing agency of the designated employee submits a written and notarized request for maintenance of the exemption to the custodial agency. The request must state under oath the statutory basis for the individual’s exemption request and confirm the individual’s status as a party eligible for exempt status.

4.a. A county property appraiser, as defined in s. 192.001(3), or a county tax collector, as defined in s. 192.001(4), who receives a written and notarized request for maintenance of the exemption pursuant to subparagraph 3. must comply by removing the name of the individual with exempt status and the instrument number or Official Records book and page number identifying the property with the exempt status from all publicly available records maintained by the property appraiser or tax collector. For written requests received on or before July 1, 2021, a county property appraiser or county tax collector must comply with this sub-paragraph by October 1, 2021. A county property appraiser or county tax collector may not remove the street address, legal description, or other information identifying real property within the agency's records so long as a name or personal information otherwise exempt from inspection and copying pursuant to this section is not associated with the property or otherwise displayed in the public records of the agency.

b. Any information restricted from public display, inspection, or copying under sub-paragraph a. must be provided to the individual whose information was removed.

5. An officer, an employee, a justice, a judge, or other person specified in subparagraph 2. may submit a written request for the release of his or her exempt information to the custodial agency. The written request must be notarized and must specify the information to be released and the party authorized to receive the information. Upon receipt of the written request, the custodial agency must release the specified information to the party authorized to receive such information.

6. The exemptions in this paragraph apply to information held by an agency before, on, or after the effective date of the exemption.

7. Information made exempt under this paragraph may be disclosed pursuant to s. 28.2221 to a title insurer authorized pursuant to s. 624.401 and its affiliates as defined in s. 624.10; a title insurance agent or title insurance agency as defined in s. 626.841(1) or (2), respectively; or an attorney duly admitted to practice law in this state and in good standing with The Florida Bar.

8. The exempt status of a home address contained in the Official Records is maintained only during the period when a protected party resides at the dwelling location. Upon conveyance of real property after October 1, 2021, and when such real property no longer constitutes a protected party's home address as defined in sub-subparagraph 1.a., the protected party must submit a written request to release the removed information to the county recorder. The written request to release the removed information must be notarized, must confirm that a protected party's request for release is pursuant to a conveyance of his or her dwelling location, and must specify the Official Records book and page, instrument number, or clerk's file number for each document containing the information to be released.

9. Upon the death of a protected party as verified by a certified copy of a death certificate or court order, any party can request the county recorder to release a protected decedent's removed information unless there is a related request on file with the county recorder for continued removal of the decedent's information or unless such removal is otherwise prohibited by statute or by court order. The written request to release the removed information upon the death of a protected party must attach the certified copy of a death certificate or court order and must be notarized, must confirm the request for release is due to the death of a protected party, and must specify the Official Records book and page number, instrument number, or clerk's file number for each document containing the information to be released. A fee may not be charged for the release of any document pursuant to such request.

~~10. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this paragraph, this paragraph is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act in accordance with s. 119.15 and shall stand repealed on October 2, 2024, unless reviewed and saved from repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.~~

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that the home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and photographs of current or former personnel of the Agency for Health Care Administration whose duties include the investigation of complaints filed against health care facilities or the inspection of health care facilities licensed or certified by the Agency for Health Care Administration; the names, home addresses, telephone numbers, dates of birth, and places of employment of the spouses and children of such personnel; and the names and lo- cations of schools and day care facilities attended by the children of such personnel be made exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. The Legislature finds that the release of such personal identifying and location information might place the agency's current or former personnel and their family members in danger of physical and emotional harm from disgruntled individuals who have contentious reactions to actions carried out by such personnel or whose business or professional practices have come under scrutiny as a result of such investigations and agency actions. The Legislature further finds that the harm that may result from the release of such personal identifying and location information outweighs any public benefit that may be derived from the disclosure of the information.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete lines 2-8 and insert: An act relating to public records; amending s. 119.071, F.S.; providing an exemption from public records requirements for the personal identifying and location information of certain current or former personnel of the Agency for Health Care Administration and their spouses and children; providing for future legislative review and repeal of the exemption; providing for retroactive application; abrogating the scheduled repeal of exemptions for certain personal identifying and location information of specified agency personnel, and the spouses and children thereof; providing a statement of public necessity; providing an effective date.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Earl Glisson, Anchor Faith Church, St. Augustine:

Dear Heavenly Father, according to your word, we make entreaties and prayers, petitions and thanksgivings on behalf of all men who are in authority so that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and dignity. That is why, this morning, I thank you for these men and women of the Florida Senate who serve this great state and desire to make it better, stronger, and more vibrant. I pray that they have wisdom as they make decisions on the items of today's agenda and that those decisions will reflect your will. May they model the role of an ambassador for conveying the purpose of the district to which he or she is assigned. For you said you would direct our steps and light our path. As they trust in you, I believe this state will continue to see positive growth.

Father, I ask for continued protection and safety for them, their families, and staff, as well as all the provisions necessary for them to accomplish their assignments. Lord, strengthen them in their call to public service by empowering them by your spirit. We ask all these things in the name of Jesus. Amen.

—was read the second time by title.

THE PRESIDENT PRESIDING

Senator Harrell moved the following amendment which was adopted:

Amendment 1 (841004) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. (1) The following rule is ratified for the sole and exclusive purpose of satisfying any condition on effectiveness imposed under s. 120.541(3), Florida Statutes: rule 62-330, Florida Administrative Code, titled “Environmental Resource Permitting,” as filed for adoption with the Department of State pursuant to the certification package dated April 28, 2023.

(2) Except for the changes set forth in section 2 as to rule 62-330.010, Florida Administrative Code, this section serves no other purpose and may not be codified in the Florida Statutes. After this act becomes a law, its enactment and effective dates must be noted in the Florida Administrative Code, the Florida Administrative Register, or both, as appropriate. This section does not alter rulemaking authority delegated by prior law, does not constitute legislative preemption of or exception to any provision of law governing adoption or enforcement of the rule cited, and is intended to preserve the status of any cited rule as a rule under chapter 120, Florida Statutes. This section does not cure any rulemaking defect or preempt any challenge based on a lack of authority or a violation of the legal requirements governing adoption of any rule cited.

Section 2. Subsection (7) is added to section 373.4131, Florida Statutes, to read:

373.4131 Statewide environmental resource permitting rules.—

(7) The Legislature ratifies rule 62-330.010, Florida Administrative Code, titled “Purpose and Implementation,” as filed for adoption with the Department of State pursuant to the certification package dated April 28, 2023, with the following changes:

(a) Section 3.1.2(e)3. of the Applicant’s Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to add, after the last sentence, the following: “Nothing in Section 3.1.2(e)3. shall eliminate any grandfather provisions in Section 1.4.2 and other grandfather provisions of Section 3.1.2 in existence prior to [effective date]. Projects listed in Section 3.1.2(e)3. shall use all forms in effect at the time the permit was originally issued, except for those subsequent permits to construct and operate the future phases consistent with an unexpired conceptual approval permit which shall use the following forms effective [effective date]: Form 62-330.301(26) Financial Capability Certification; Form 62-330.301(25) Dam System Information; Form 62-330.311(1) Operation and Maintenance Certification; and Form 62-330.311(3) Inspection Checklists, as applicable.”

(b) Section 8.3.4(a)3. of the Applicant’s Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: “the post-development condition average annual loading, of those pollutants not meeting water quality standards, that is less than that of the predevelopment condition.”

(c) Section 8.3.4(b)2. of the Applicant’s Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: “the post-development condition average annual loading, of those pollutants not meeting water quality standards, that is less than that of the predevelopment condition.”

(d) Section 8.3.5 of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: "Stormwater treatment systems serving redevelopment activities shall either meet the requirements of Sections 8.3.2 through 8.3.4 or provide an alternate level of treatment sufficient to accomplish:

(a) an 80 percent reduction of the post-development average annual loading of TP and a 45 percent reduction of the post-development average annual loading of TN from the project area; and

(b) for stormwater systems located within a HUC 12 sub-watershed containing an OFW and located upstream of that OFW, a 90 percent reduction of the post-development average annual loading of TP and a 60 percent reduction of the post-development average annual loading of TN from the project area; and

(c) for stormwater treatment systems located within a HUC 12 sub-watershed which contains an impaired water and located upstream of that impaired water, a level of treatment sufficient to accomplish a post-development condition average annual loading, of those pollutants not meeting water quality standards, that is less than that of the pre-development condition."

(e) The first sentence of Section 12.5(a) of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: "All operation and maintenance entities, other than MS4 Entities, shall conduct and report inspections in accordance with this section; except that those specific activities and best management practices regulated by the South Florida Water Management District pursuant to Chapter 40E-63, F.A.C., or by the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services pursuant to Title 5M, F.A.C., and Section 403.067(7)(c)2., F.S., shall be inspected in accordance with such applicable rules and laws."

(f) Section 8.2.2 of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to add, after the last sentence, the following: "When an applicant demonstrates that its designs and plans, including any supporting information, meet the performance standards of Sections 8.2.3 and 8.3 by performing the analysis specified in Section 9 and, if applicable, in Volume II or Appendix O of Volume I, employing the structural best management practices specified therein as needed, and provides the information required by such sections, the applicant shall have satisfied the conditions for issuance of rule 62-330.301(1)(e), F.A.C., and rule 62-330.301(3), F.A.C., if applicable, and is entitled to the presumption of Section 373.4131(3)(b), F.S."

(g) Section 8.3.1 of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: "Each applicant shall demonstrate, through modeling or calculations as described in Section 9, that their proposed stormwater management system is designed to discharge to the required treatment level based on the performance standards described in Sections 8.3.2 through 8.3.5 below. For the purposes of this section, annual loading from the proposed project refers to post-development loads before treatment, as calculated in Section 9 of this volume. Stormwater treatment systems shall be designed to achieve at least an 80 percent reduction of the average annual post-development total suspended solids (TSS) load, or 95 percent of the average annual post-development TSS load for those proposed projects located within a HUC 12 sub-watershed containing an Outstanding Florida Water (OFW) and located upstream of that OFW. There is a rebuttable presumption that this standard is met when structural stormwater best management practices (BMPs) are designed to meet the applicable design standards in Sections 8.3.2 through 8.3.5 below."

(h) Section 9.1 of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: "Applicants are required to provide nutrient load reduction calculations in their application. To calculate the required stormwater nutrient load reduction for a project, the applicant should:

1. Determine whether the site falls within the same HUC 12 sub-watershed as, and is upstream of, an OFW or impaired water, and select the corresponding performance standard from Section 8.3 of this volume;

2. Determine the pre-development average annual average mass loading of the project area for both total nitrogen (TN) and total phosphorus (TP) through modeling or as described in Section 9.2;

3. Calculate the project area's post-development annual average mass loading before treatment for both TN and TP through modeling or as described in Section 9.2;

4. Determine the percent TN and TP reduction needed as defined within Sections 8.3 and 9.3 of this volume. The greater percent load reduction will be the requirement for the project; and

5. Determine which BMPs, or other treatment and reduction options, will be used to meet the required TN and TP load reductions that are equivalent to, or which exceed, the applicable performance standards in Sections 8.2.3 through 8.3.6. Information on how to calculate nutrient load reduction for BMP Treatment Train is found in Section 9.5 of this volume.

When an applicant provides reasonable assurance that its modeling, calculations, and applicable supporting documentation satisfy the provisions described above, the applicant shall have demonstrated that it meets the performance standards specified under Sections 8.2.3 through 8.3.6 of this volume.

(i) Section 3.1.2(e)4. of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, is changed to read: "Projects or activities that are the subject of a general or individual permit application that is deemed complete on or before [effective date + 18 months] shall be exempt from the amendments to Chapter 62-330, F.A.C., and Volume I adopted on [effective date], and the corresponding amendments to the applicable Volume II."

(j) Section 3.1.2(f) shall be added to the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, and shall read: "Development or other construction projects for which stormwater management and design plans were submitted to a local or other government agency before January 1, 2024, shall be exempt from the amendments to Chapter 62-330, F.A.C., and Volume I adopted on [effective date], and the corresponding amendments to the applicable Volume II, for any of the following:

1. A project that was submitted as part of a local building permit or as part of an application for a site plan or subdivision plat approval.

2. An approved regional stormwater management system designed and permitted pursuant to an effective permit under part IV of chapter 373, F.S.

(k) Section 3.1.2(g) shall be added to the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, and shall read: "Stormwater management systems constructed in accordance with a binding ecosystem management agreement executed by the department pursuant to Section 403.0752, F.S., before January 1, 2024, are exempt from the amendments to chapter 62-330, Florida Administrative Code, the Applicant's Handbook Volume I adopted on [effective date], and corresponding amendments to the Applicant's Handbook Volume II."

(l) Section 3.1.2(h) shall be added to the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, and shall read: "Stormwater management and design plans for a valid development of regional impact, as defined in Section 380.06, F.S., with a development order, as defined pursuant to Section 380.031, F.S., issued before January 1, 2024, are exempt, until October 1, 2044, from the amendments to chapter 62-330, Florida Administrative Code, the Applicant's Handbook Volume I adopted on [effective date], and corresponding amendments to the Applicant's Handbook Volume II, except where there has been an official determination or classification that an approved development of regional impact was essentially built out, as discussed in Section 380.06(4), F.S., after [effective date]."

(m) Section 3.1.2(i) shall be added to the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, and shall read: "Stormwater management and design plans for a planned unit development final development plan approved pursuant to a local ordinance, resolution, or other final action by a local governing body before January 1, 2024, are exempt, until October 1, 2034, from the amendments to chapter 62-330, Florida Administrative Code, the Applicant's Handbook Volume I adopted on [effective date], and corresponding amendments to the Applicant's Handbook Volume II."

Any future amendments to those portions of the Applicant's Handbook Volume I, incorporated in rule 62-330.010(4)(a), Florida Administrative Code, included in this subsection must be submitted in bill form to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the President of the Senate for their consideration and referral to the appropriate committees. Such amendments shall become effective only upon approval by act of the Legislature.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

And the title is amended as follows:

Delete everything before the enacting clause and insert: A bill to be entitled An act relating to the ratification of the Department of Environmental Protection's rules relating to stormwater; ratifying a specified rule relating to environmental resource permitting for the sole and exclusive purpose of satisfying any condition on effectiveness pursuant to s. 120.541(3), F.S., which requires ratification of any rule exceeding the specified thresholds for likely adverse impact or increase in regulatory costs; providing construction; amending s. 373.4131, F.S.; ratifying rule 62-330.010, Florida Administrative Code, with specified changes; requiring that specified future amendments to such rule be submitted in bill form to, and approved by, the Legislature; providing an effective date.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Shawn York, Highpoint Church, Gulf Breeze:

I want to thank Senator Broxson for inviting me to be with you today for his farewell address. Yesterday afternoon, I returned home from an extensive tour of both the northern and southern borders of Israel, along Lebanon, Syria, and the Gaza Envelope. I proudly displayed my state flag on my hat as I traveled throughout the region. I want you to know that people would stop and ask, "What does that symbol represent?" I would say with honor, "Florida." Almost everyone would reply, "We know Florida. It's a great state with great people." They thanked us for visiting.

I want each of you to know that your work here has a greater reach than you realize. The entire world is watching your resolve to lead this state and our nation forward. Before I pray, join me for a brief moment of silence for the hostages held in Gaza and all those afflicted by evil of every form in our world.

Almighty God, we gather in this place in humble gratitude for the dedicated service of the Florida State Senate, recognizing their tireless efforts. We invite your divine presence to fill this chamber, guiding our leaders as they navigate the challenges and adversities that we face throughout this world and in our nation. We thank you for every individual in this chamber who has committed to representing the people of Florida. I pray you grant them wisdom, compassion, and a spirit of unity as they work toward advancing Florida as a beacon of prosperity and opportunity for all.

Lord, I want to express gratitude for Senator Broxson and his years of sacrificial service to his district and the people of Florida. As he embarks on retirement, we pray abundant blessings upon him, his wife Mary, his children, and his extended family. May his integrity and dedication to serve join the others in this room and resonate in this chamber for generations to come.

We pray for the citizens of Florida, our nation, and our allies worldwide. Keep our world in your hands and be with us and all those oppressed by evil. I pray in your presence today, Almighty God, affirming that all things are possible with you. May your guidance inspire our leaders here, creating a shared vision for Florida's continued growth, and making it not just the Sunshine State, but a state that shines in you for the entire world to see.

May the Lord bless each of you and keep you. May the Lord make his face shine upon your work today and be gracious to you. May the Lord lift up his countenance upon you and give you peace. In the power of the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, I pray. Amen.

By Senator Yarborough—

SR 816—A resolution recognizing the fourth Wednesday in February as "Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day" in Florida and encouraging efforts to educate people about hypertrophic cardiomyopathy.

WHEREAS, hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM) is a chronic cardiac disease involving the thickening of the heart muscle which can potentially lead to debilitating symptoms and serious complications, including heart failure, atrial fibrillation, stroke, and, in rare cases, sudden cardiac death, and

WHEREAS, HCM is the most common inheritable heart disease and can affect anyone regardless of age, gender, or ethnicity, with a reported prevalence ranging from 1 in 500 to 1 in 200 in the general population, and

WHEREAS, an estimated 700,000 to 1,650,000 people in the United States have HCM, yet 85 percent of them are projected to remain undiagnosed, and

WHEREAS, HCM shares symptoms with other common cardiovascular and pulmonary diseases, such as shortness of breath, chest pain, fatigue, palpitations, and fainting, making it difficult to distinguish HCM from these other diseases, and

WHEREAS, left untreated, all-cause mortality risk is three to four times higher in patients with HCM than that of the general population, and

WHEREAS, an important first step in receiving an accurate diagnosis of HCM is knowing one's medical history and any signs and symptoms of HCM, and

WHEREAS, to help identify a risk of cardiac disorders, both genetic and congenital, a health care provider must first conduct a thorough screening with cardiac health questions, and

WHEREAS, after such screening, the health care provider may also conduct several tests, including an echocardiogram, a cardiac MRI, or genetic testing, to confirm a family history of HCM, but must examine the heart to diagnose HCM in a patient, and

WHEREAS, following a diagnosis of HCM, it is important for patients to work with their health care provider to learn more about their disease and understand different management options, including prescription medicines and surgical treatment options that may help, and

WHEREAS, HCM awareness is critically important in improving Floridians' cardiovascular health, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That the fourth Wednesday in February of each year is recognized as "Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day" in Florida.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Florida Senate supports raising awareness of the consequences of undiagnosed and untreated hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM) as a serious public health issue and of the need for individuals to seek appropriate care for HCM.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Florida Senate shall annually issue a proclamation recognizing the fourth Wednesday in February as "Hypertrophic Cardiomyopathy Awareness Day" in Florida and calls upon the people of Florida to observe the day with appropriate programs and activities.
